

PRESIDENT SENDS GREETINGS TO FACULTY AND STUDENTS

President Fryklund

It is a privilege of the president of The Stout Institute to welcome to the campus not only those of you who have been with us in the past but also those who are coming to Stout for the first time.

As this is written it appears that our enrollment will reach, or even surpass, the seven hundred mark. Although we prefer that our enrollment would be as high as that of previous years, we are indeed pleased that so many of you have decided to take advantage of The Stout Institute's excellent facilities for the training of teachers of home economics and industrial education.

A serious shortage of teachers of home economics still exists. Only three weeks ago an official of the Wisconsin state department of education stated that there is a good chance that a dozen or more schools in Wisconsin will not be able to run planned home economics courses this year because they just cannot find trained teachers.

It is true that the uneasy international situation has unsettled the plans of many of the men in this country. However, should the threat of international war be removed those of you who are enrolled at Stout will find that the training received here will have prepared you for a desirable peacetime teaching or industrial position. Should the situation remain acute, the knowledge and skills attained at Stout will have better prepared you for any eventuality that may arise.

In the opening of this message I mentioned that it is a privilege to welcome you to Stout. You as students have the privilege of studying under a well-trained and experienced faculty and in the most modern laboratories. But with privileges should go responsibilities—the responsibilities of taking utmost advantage of the many opportunities offered to you as student at The Stout Institute. To the degree to which you take such advantage will depend your success in the coming year.

BURTON NELSON PRESENTS GIFT TO LIBRARY

Burton E. Nelson, president of the Stout Institute from 1923 to 1945, has presented to the Stout library a major portion of his private library. This contribution given by President Nelson includes over four hundred books on many subjects, a valuable collection of literature concerning The Stout Institute and the complete volumes for several years of some of the more important contemporary periodicals.

Included in the gift are the 19-volume set, "Library of the World's Best Books," and the 39-volume set, "The World's Great Classics." In the field of history are several sets: Macaulay's "History of England" (5 vols.); Hume's "History of England" (5 vols.); Harper's Encyclopaedia of United States History (10 vols.); and the "History of All Nations" (24 vols.). Collections by individuals include the works of Mark Twain (21 vols.), Guy DeMaupassant (12 vols.), Rafael Sabatini (20 vols.), Honore de Balzac (19 vols.), R.L. Stevenson (8 vols.), Plutarch (10 vols.), and Ralph Waldo Emerson (14 vols.).

A valuable history of The Stout Institute may be obtained from the many bulletins, annuals, and other publications; several of these go as far back as the beginning years of the present century. Back copies for several years of contemporary periodicals including "Newsweek" and "U. S. News and World Report" are also a part of President Nelson's gift.

Concerning this addition to the Stout library, President Fryklund has stated: "We are indeed happy about President Nelson's splendid gift. These books will be given a special place in our library with appropriate book plates for each. The books will be available to students and faculty as Burton Nelson intended."

GERHARDT AND HANSEN PRESENT FIRST CONVO

Stout students are in for a treat at convocation on Wednesday, September 19. At this time the popular duo of Romona Gerhardt and Bert Hanson will present a musical program. Miss Gerhardt is an accomplished pianist and organist and Mr. Hanson is a powerful tenor. As a preview of what you are going to hear, tune to WCCO at 4:30 every afternoon to Melody Matinee. This program features those two excellent entertainers. This is one convocation that you won't want to cut.

STOUT ENROLLMENT OFF 14 PERCENT TO 717

Seven hundred and seventeen students have enrolled for The Stout Institute fall semester, according to Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, registrar. Of the total enrollment, 297 are women and 420 men. This year's enrollment is 14 percent below that of 1950.

Mr. Raymond Cornwell

Dr. Keith Rinehardt Accept Stout Faculty Position

Appointment of Raymond L. Cornwell to fill the vacancy in the printing department of The Stout Institute has been announced by President Verne C. Fryklund. Mr. Cornwell replaces Robert Blessing, who has resigned.

Mr. Cornwell received his Bachelor of Science degree from The Stout Institute in 1949 and has attended graduate schools of The Stout Institute and Colorado State College of Education. A veteran of World War II, Mr. Cornwell served as a USAAF Flight Instructor and completed 1500 air-hours pilot time. He has taught elementary school in Barron County and since his graduation from Stout has been an instructor in the printing department of Racine Park High School. His rank at Stout will be that of instructor.

Another new instructor, Keith Rinehardt, has also joined the teaching staff of Stout Institute this year. He

DR. FRYKLUND APPOINTED TO RESEARCH POST

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, has accepted an invitation to serve as a member of the Advisory Council for child research of the Mooseheart Laboratory for Child Research at Mooseheart, Ill. Dr. Fryklund will represent the field of vocational education and guidance, replacing Dr. C. A. Prosser of the Dunwoody Institute of Minneapolis, who has resigned.

The Mooseheart Laboratory for Child Research was established in 1930 to build up a national research station for the study of the development of the normal growing child. At present about 800 children of all ages are enrolled in the Mooseheart schools.

On the campus at Mooseheart are pre-nursery, nursery, kindergarten, primary, elementary, junior and senior high schools. Vocational studies begin at the seventh grades and continue through the twelfth. Mooseheart schools are accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

On the advisory council Dr. Fryklund will serve with well-known leaders in American education including Dr. Anton J. Carlson, Professor Emeritus, department of psychology, University of Chicago; Dr. John E. Anderson, director, Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota; and Dr. H. F. Helmholz, section of pediatrics, Mayo Clinic, Rochester.

MRS. FRYKLUND DIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Verne C. Fryklund, wife of the president of The Stout Institute, were held Tuesday morning at the First Congregational Church in Menomonie. Mrs. Fryklund died Saturday afternoon, September 8, 1951.

Mrs. Fryklund was born at Coatesburg, Illinois, on May 20, 1896, but spent most of her early life in Oklahoma and Arizona. She came to Menomonie in 1945 when Dr. Fryklund was appointed president of The Stout Institute.

Mrs. Fryklund is survived by her husband, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund; two sons, Verne, Jr., and John Richard; her mother, Mrs. Agnes Belle Smythe Campbell; one brother, Carl Smythe; a half-brother, John Howard Campbell; and two grandchildren, Karen and Kristan.

ALUMNAE PLAN PICNIC SEPT. 23 AT DETROIT

The Detroit Alumnae of the Stout Institute is planning an annual picnic at the Derby Hill River Rouge Park Sunday, Sept. 23, at 1 p.m.

Annually about 150 people attend this picnic. With heated shelter in case of rain or cool weather, the committee feels it can plan on a larger group.

According to Wilma Burge Blair, 1703 N. Blair, Royal Oak, Mich. Telephone Lincoln 1-4155.

STOUTONIA IN NEED OF MORE STAFF HELP

With the Stoutonia starting a new year under the management of Geraldine Erickson, editor-in-chief; Ed Prah, associate editor; and Mel Witts, business manager, a call for new members for the staff has been sent out.

There are positions open for reporters, copy readers, proof readers, and typists. Many of the staff have returned from last year, but there are openings for many more. A new wage scale has been adopted which will make working on the Stoutonia staff profitable monetarily as well as educationally. Working on a newspaper is excellent experience which will be used when teaching.

Gerry, a junior from Menomonee, has worked for school publications in both high school and Stout. For the first two years with the Stoutonia she was Alumni editor, a post which will be held by Jacqueline Friesbie this year.

Ed, who is a junior from Madison, is a printing major at Stout. He joined the staff last year. Mel, a senior, worked on the high school paper at Lincoln High, Wisconsin Rapids, and has been active on the Stoutonia for two years as a reporter.

All students interested in working with either the editorial staff or the production staff of the Stoutonia are invited to attend the meeting Tuesday Sept. 18, at 5 p.m. in room 122. Meetings are held every Tuesday at this time.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK...

This is the beginning of a school year at Stout and a new life for freshman and transfer students. To all, both new and returning students, the Stoutonia wishes to extend heartiest wishes for a successful school year.

To give you all an idea of what to expect these coming nine months, the college paper has formulated the following platform:

First and foremost, the paper is, as stated on the masthead, "more than just a newspaper—it is an educational experiment—written to inform, enlighten, and to give its staff members experience that conforms to good journalistic principles and practice. The Stoutonia hopes, during the year, to reflect the true spirit of the school and its activities and to print material of interest to both students and alumni of the Institute.

The Stoutonia will be working throughout the year in cooperation with the Stout Student Association on various projects including Homecoming, student elections, unification of the student body in social doings as well as school work.

This is the students paper, and it is hoped by the editorial staff that they will take a personal interest in it by keeping it informed of events to come during the school year.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The first meeting of the Student Governing Board was held Monday, September 10, at 6:30 in the basement of the Home Economics building.

Bob Berg reported on the Student Body president's conference and the National Student Association congress which he attended from August 17-23. He found that our Student Governing Board has excellent organization compared to other colleges both large and small. He also reported that the members of Stout's organization and school are more cooperative than other schools. He recommended that we drop our enrollment in N.S.A., but remain in contact and be cognizant of all student movements, both national and international affairs.

Charles Schiferl, president of the Student Governing Board, announced that the all school mixer, which was to be held last Saturday, will be held tonight, from 8:30 to 11:30. Schiferl also brought to the attention of the board that Stout is in need of a public address system, and that Mr. Phil Ruehl, electricity instructor at Stout, offered to build one for the school. It would cost $75 whereas the cost of one bought at retail would be $200. It was moved, seconded and carried that Mr. Ruehl be authorized to build a portable public address system with $75 allotted for this purpose.

Fred Hodges, junior class representative, who was drafted during the summer, will be replaced on the governing board by August Schultz. It was suggested that Mr. Schoepf call a meeting of the class treasurers and instruct them on the proper way of keeping the financial books.

It was moved, seconded and carried that the convocation committee remain in action for an indefinite period. Bill Banks gave a report bringing the board up to date as to what the committee had done thus far. He made a motion that required attendance for student assemblies be eliminated. The motion was carried. Bill also suggested that there be a definite seating arrangement made for convocations. He suggested that students be seated by classes. It was also suggested that slips be distributed in assembly for the students to voice their opinions on these suggestions. There will still be compulsory attendance for convocations with the penalty based on the cut system.

ELECT CLASS OFFICERS AT ASSEMBLY WED.

Stout students met for the important job of electing new class officers Wednesday, Sept. 12, in the second student assembly of the year. S.S.S. president, Charles Schiferl, outlined this important business to the incoming freshmen while old class presidents presided over the individual class elections.

With the four presidents fighting for order, the students quickly got to the job at hand with the following results:

Senior president, Van Cartwright; vice president, Gerda Ravenholt; secretary, Jean Van Liew; and treasurer, Gaylord Boyer.

Greetings Students!!

Welcome back to Stout all upper classmen (particularly the seniors) and a big cheery hello to the incoming frosh and transfer students.

For the benefit of you unsuspecting freshmen, don't be alarmed if you find some one peering through your "keyhole" for it is just us. If you haven't guessed by now, best we tell you that we are Stout's official and unofficial "Who's With Who" column.

Apparently Dan Cupid had a busy summer as evidenced by the many matrimonial vows said and to be said.

First to tie the nuptial knot Kay Thurston (a June grad) and Joe Beland.

Not to be foreseen were Leone Nagel and Marge Foreman Knitvill. Shirley Doner and Wayne Coleman also exchanged vows this summer. Both are back and looking very happy.

Also married were Gene Weigel and Jerry Jurwitz, Dick Johnson and Janis Oebser, Earl Wilmarth and Nancy Krohn, Dick Schwantes and his girl from home, Jerry LaBorde and Ruth Conjurake, Sig Warda and his girl from home, Percy Strommen and Wally Bondhus, Cliff Westphal and Priscilla from home.

That's enough about the married couples, now we'd like to mention a few of those lucky couples planning marriage in the future. Hat Homer became engaged this summer to her boy friend from home. Incidentally, the army has Jack in the far Pacific. Eleanor Ushijima and "Crash" Hirano became engaged this summer via air mail. "Crash" is teaching in Hawaii since his graduation last January.

Donna McDonough and Bill Keefer also became engaged this summer. They plan a November wedding. Rose Mary Beymer and Jim Zeussman started school with a "bang". Rosie received her ring one of the first nights of school.

Ruth Vinger and Joan Drake are both planning December weddings. Joan is working in Eau Claire.

"Charlie Abild is looking forward to saying her vows in October. Your Stoutonia editor, Gerry Erickson, received a diamond from Dave Bieniasz last month.

Audrey Goodell and Joe Randall and Sally Hauser and Dan Givney are also engaged. Lola Olson came back to school with a ring on her third finger left hand too. Carl Anderson, not to be outdone, presented his girl back home with a diamond last week end.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all of you very fortunate people who are engaged and those married. Gee do you think someone would pop the question to us? No not a chance promises, that's all we ever get.

Stout's "Ivied Hall" will miss Pete and Joan Schellinger who are living in Louisville, Ky. and Betty and Lory Layman who are living near Washington, D.C. Ole and Dan Jeanman are another couple who will be missed since Dan was called into service.

Peeking about this weekend we noticed Betty Worthington and Bob Cech, Muriel Roffers and John Jacobson, Amy Ritzinger and Don Zittleman, Bob Braun and Francis Soulek, John Christensen and Diane (a freshman from the Annex).

Also seen about the campus were Herb Pringle and Fern Naedler, Jack Loy and Joan Christensen, Joan Fairweather and Hank Tall (a June grad) and Char Winslow and Tom Williams. Other couples together were Mary Lou Boimstedt and Dave Randall, Jan Benedict and Ray Burkhalter and Pat Peterson and Bill Wensel.

Attention all males!! Jo Gritt would like to know how to catch a man at Stout. If you find out Jo, let us all in on the scoop. One of Stout's printing majors was helping his brother build a house this summer. Can't you tell the difference between a tack and your head Dan? (Mr. Foltman was hospitalized for three days).

That's all for this week folks. We remain faithfully yours,
Key and Hole

HOMECOMING COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Edwin Siefert has been named chairman of the alumni homecoming committee this year. He will be assisted by Ray Kranzsch, Ray Johnson, Mrs. J. E. Ray, and Robert Swanson.

An alumni dinner is included in the plans for the homecoming. This dinner will be held Saturday, Oct. 6 in the cafeteria. The price of this dinner is $1.60.

A special section has been reserved for the alumni at the football game to be held Saturday evening. The price for these seats will be the same as the general admission which is 85 cents.

Cards have been sent to the alumni requesting information as to whether or not they are coming to the dinner and game. If there is anyone who has not received a card and wishes to attend, please contact Robert Swanson, National Secretary of the Stout Institute Alumni Association.

DETROIT ALUMNI ELECT OFFICERS AT MEETING

Election of new officers highlighted the final meeting of the Detroit Stout Alumnae which was held last May at the home of Mrs. John Brandvald. The officers that were elected are as follows: president Audrey Pollock, 237 Troy, Ferndale, 20 Michigan; vice president, Frances Brandvald, 25194 W. Moreland Drive, Route 1, Farmington, Michigan; secretary, Louise Habart, 16835 Prist, Detroit 27, Michigan; treasurer, Clarice Campbell, 23329 Beec, Dearborn, Michigan; alumnae reporter, Orvetta Maltzau, 1422 Berkeshire, Grosse Point Park 30, Michigan.

REUNIONS PLANNED FOR HOMECOMING WEEK

Several reunions will be held during homecoming and committees have been appointed announced Robert Swanson, national alumni secretary.

The class of '41 will hold a reunion. John Rubebusch, class president in 1941 and Phillip Ruehl are co-chairman of the reunion. All members of the class of '41 who are planning to attend should contact Phillip Ruehl at the Stout Institute.

The championship football team of 1921 will also hold a reunion. Jack Joyce, a member of that and Coach Ray Johnson are acting as co-chairman for this reunion.

NEW LIBRARIAN

Miss Harriet Fardal

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, President of the Stout Institute, has announced the appointment of Harriet Fardal as assistant librarian. Miss Fardal succeeds Mrs. Elaine Straw, who has resigned.

Miss Fardal received her B. A. degree from the College of St. Olaf, Northfield, Minn., and will have completed the requirements for the degree of Master of Arts in Library Science this summer from the University of Michigan. In addition to teaching high school in Minnesota for two years, Miss Fardal has been a member of the staff of the Iowa State College Library at Ames, Iowa.

Mrs. Carl Haase is chairman of the reunion of the class 1936 which will also be held during the homecoming festivities.

ATTENTION ALUMNI !!

The Stoutonia will continue to be sent to the alumni until October 15. If, however, membership is not renewed by that time it will be discontinued. The rates for membership are two dollars per year or thirty dollars for a life membership.

BLUE DEVILS TRAVEL TO ST. OLAF FOR SEASON'S FOOTBALL OPENER

Forty-three Stout Institute Blue Devils will travel to Northfield Minnesota this Saturday where the Stout eleven will invade the gridiron of the St. Olaf college. Starting time for the game has been set for 2:00 p.m.

The Blue Devil traveling squad will leave Menomonie tomorrow morning at 8:30 a.m. and will return to the campus Saturday night.

This will be the season's opener for the Blue Devils. The past weeks have been spent in preparation for this game, with attention given to defensive as well as offensive drills. Final football drills held Thursday evening, were centered on down field blocking and offensive pass drill.

Sports Roundup

Although as yet nothing spectacular can be claimed for the 1951 edition of Coach Tony Storti's football team, there certainly have been no pre-season complaints about the potential possibilities of this year's Blue Devils.

When the Stout gridgers take the field tomorrow afternoon in the first of the season, a non-conference tilt against St. Olaf of the Minnesota State Teacher's College conference, it is expected that Coach Storti will send into action a team composed of a hard core of returning veterans, backed up by a large number of untired freshmen in the reserve spots.

The starting offensive backfield will almost undoubtedly show four veterans, Gale Woelffer, one of the two seniors on the squad, at quarterback, Bill Kieffer and George Krall at the half back spots, and Ron Walker in the full back slot. In a lengthy scrimmage session last Saturday these four men worked together to present an offensive that lacked only the polish that more practice can give it. Backed up by an offensive line that put the holes there at the right time, several quick opening plays were used with above average results.

Passing was one of the highlights of that intra-squad game, with Krall, Woelffer, and Kieffer all throwing successfully, and Wayne Weiler, a sophomore filling the reserve quarterback slot, showing a pass heaving form that should make him a valuable asset to this year's Blue Devil offense.

The defensive squad is made up mostly of returning veterans and a few freshmen. Lyle Pollock, line coach for the Blue Devils, played a five man line with two line backers, and went through many of the same plays which were used by last year's team.

Leaving the Blue Devils to their practice for a moment, we find a vacancy exist in the sports writing staff of the Stoutonia. This position is open to any Stout fellow, or girl, who wants to write and has the ability to spell Blue Devil.

"GULL MEAT THE DEVIL'S TREAT" CHOSEN

"Gull Meat, the Devil's Treat" is the theme for the 1951 Homecoming according to the results of the election held in convocation Wednesday morning. This theme, one of the nineteen submitted, was authored by August Schultz, Jim Cook, Dale Anderson, and John Christensen. These four will receive four theater tickets as a reward for their work.

Voting was close with so many original entries, but this theme will fit in well with decorations for floats, windows, and the streets of Menomonie. The theme is also representative of the nickname of Milwaukee State college which is "The Green Gulls".

With only two weeks before Homecoming week classes and organizations are busily engaged in planning floats, alumni breakfasts and dinners. The selection of the theme now will give these committees time to make plans for the festivities of the week end.

Election of Homecoming queen will be held next Wednesday at convocation as will election of cheer leaders. A good turn out of candidates for cheer leading has been experienced and students should be on hand to vote for their choice.

BLUE DEVILS TOP ST. OLAF 19-13, PASS OFFENSIVE, TIMELY DEFENSE WIN SEASON OPENER

Coach Tony Storti's Blue Devils opened their 1951 football season last Saturday afternoon with a hard fought win over the St. Olaf Vikings by a score of 19-13.

Although all the scoring was done in the first half of the game, a last minute goal line stand by the Blue Devils was required to preserve their win.

The opening touchdown came early in the first quarter when Bill Kieffer recovered a fumble deep in Viking territory and several plays later caught a pass from quarterback Gale Woolflier in the end zone for the first score of the game. St. Olaf, however, took possession of the ball and tallied minutes later on a line buck after a pass interference ruling gave them the ball on the Stout three yard line.

Shortly afterwards the Blue Devils, taking advantage of several breaks, scored again on a line buck by "Red" Walker whose brilliant ground game

LYNWOOD HALL HOLDS OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

All are welcome this Sunday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:30. Yes, the men of Lynwood want to urge all students, faculty, and friends to attend their annual open house. For those who have never been through the men's dorm it will surely be an interesting experience and for those who have seen the dorm in the past it is an experience worth repeating. Men will be on hand to greet you and guide you through the rooms of the dorm.

An added attraction of the afternoon will be refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, and cupcakes served in the dorm's lounge.

DUNN COUNTY AWARD PLAN IS ANNOUNCED

A new $100 annual scholarship award for a home economics student was announced this week by Dean Kirk. This award, to be known as the Dunn County Homemakers Scholarship, will be available for the first time in the Fall of 1952 and will be awarded to a Dunn County girl who registers at Stout Institute for training in the field of home economics.

The specific qualifications that must be met by candidates for this award have been outlined by the Council and sent to Dean Kirk by Mrs. Charles Kyle.

1. The Dunn County Home Demonstration Council awards $100 annually to a Dunn County girl who plans to study home economics at Stout Institute.

2. Any Dunn County girl who has average grades of "B" or above and who possesses qualities for satisfactory college work may submit an application for the award.

3. The application accompanied by the 200 word essay entitled "Why I want to Study Home Economics" and recommendations from three local people should be sent to the county home agent by the high school principal on or before April 15. A picture may be sent if one is available.

4. The Scholarship committee of the Dunn County Home Demonstration Council will select and announce who is to receive the award on or before May 15 of each year.

5. The $100 will be paid by the treasurer of the County Home Demonstration Council when she is notified that the recipient has completed her registration in a home economics course at Stout Institute.

NEW SLIP COVERS BRIGHTEN MEMORIAL

Two wing chairs in the Harvey Memorial received new slip covers during summer school. The drapery material used to cover the chairs is in a print similar to a Grandma Moses painting, with colors of red and shades of green predominating. Before they were recovered, the chairs were a gold and maroon freize.

FAMILY LIVING CONFERENCE TO BE HELD HERE

The Stout Institute has been selected as one of four centers in the state to sponsor a conference in Family Living on Saturday, September 29. The plans for these district conferences have been made by a state committee under the auspices of the Wisconsin Home Economics Association.

The local committee for the Menomonie meeting consists of Dean Alice J. Kirk, Vice President of the Wisconsin Home Economics Association; Mrs. Benita Smith, in charge of Child Development and the Nursery School at The Stout Institute; and Miss Gladys Trullinger, in charge of the general arrangements for the local conference.

Registration for the conference will be accepted until Wednesday, September 26. The registration fee for members of the Wisconsin Home Economics Association is $2.00; for non-members the fee is $3.00. Registration blanks may be obtained from Miss Trullinger.

Dr. Evelyn M. Duvall, Executive Secretary of the National Council on Family Relations, will be the guest speaker for the day's program. Mrs. Duvall, a mother of two daughters and a well-recognized authority in the field of family relations, is an enthusiastic, dynamic and inspiring speaker. Her publications, "Family Living," "When You Marry" and "Keeping Up With Teen Ageds" are well known.

A rich program devoted to the development of family life education is planned for those who participate in the conference. Parents and teachers alike will find the meetings valuable and enjoyable.

During the morning session, which begins at 9:30, Dr. Duvall will speak and also present a socio-drama in family relations. The afternoon session opens at 1:00 and will be used for discussions in small informal groups, each under the guidance of a leader and a family life consultant.

75 Training Course

SEVENTY-FIVE HERE FOR TRAINING COURSE

Seventy-five students, including 33 trainees, were registered for the two-week courses in Driver Education given at The Stout Institute, August 6-17. Opening day speakers included Ray A. Wigen, director of graduate studies, The Stout Institute; and R. C. Salisbury, director, safety division, Motor Vehicle Department of Wisconsin.

Ray F. Kransusch, associate professor of industrial education, The Stout Institute, was in charge of the program. Assisting him were Paul Bernd, safety division, American Automobile Association; and Benjamin Precourt, American Automobile Association Motor Vehicle Department.

HOMECOMING QUEEN TO BE CHOSEN WEDNESDAY

Homecoming activities will again, as in years past, be reigned over by a Homecoming Queen. The queen of Stout's 1951 Homecoming will be elected by the students at the student assembly, Wednesday, September 26, 1951. One of the five women up for the honor will have the privilege and duty of welcoming back alumni, reigning over the homecoming dance, and presiding over the bonfire and parade.

The queen will be crowned Friday night October 5, 1951 in the auditorium by Rose Grzadzilewski, last year's Homecoming queen. The queen and her attendants will then lead a torchlight parade to the bonfire.

The five candidates are as follows:

Rita Hack, a candidate from Rhinelander, Wis., is a member of the Philomathean Sorority, Intersorority council, Home Economics club, and the Stoutonia. Rita, now a junior, was a cheer leader her freshman year.

Pauline Jaeger, Belleville, Wis., is a senior at Stout. She is a member of the Home Economics club and president of the Hyperion Sorority.

Catherine Magee, Pulaski, Wis., is a member of W.A.A., Home Economics club, and the Wesley Student Fellowship. Catherine has held offices in these three groups and is now Junior class treasurer.

Gerda Ravenholt, Luck, Wis., a senior at Stout, is a member of the following organizations: Pallas Athene Sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and the Home Economics club. Gerda is vice president of the senior class and a member of the Assembly-Lyceum committee.

Betty Worthington, a junior from Manitowoc, Wis., is now secretary of the Symphonic Singers. Betty also belongs to the S.M.A. Sorority and the Home Economics club.

BUSINESSMEN TO BE HONORED AT STOUT GAME

Business and professional men of Menomonie who contributed to the development of Nelson Field will be honored in a special program to be presented between the halves of tomorrow night's football game against Northland college.

Funds for the development of The Stout Institute football field were obtained largely through the efforts of Menomonie residents. Through their efforts the present playing field, the bleachers, and lights were made possible. The administration, faculty, and students of Stout wish to express their gratitude to those individuals for their donations of time and money.

PHILO PHROLIX DANCE AFTER GAME SEPT. 22

Attention all Stout students and faculty! Where are you going after the football game Saturday night? Your problem is now solved! Philo Phrolix, the first big football dance of the season will be held at the Stout gym.

So come on everyone and dance to the dreamy music of George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks from 9:45 p.m. to 11:30 p.m!

GERHARDT AND HANSON DUO WELL RECEIVED

Romona Gerhardt at the organ, and Burt Hanson, tenor, kept their audience well entertained at convocation Wednesday morning with their organ selections and solos.

Dressed in a charming black gown, Romona held the audience's complete attention as she opened the program with "Malaguena". For this number and for others she used a combination of piano and organ. This was accomplished by having the piano next to the organ so she could reach it from the organ bench. This alone convinced the audience of her great accomplishment as a pianist and organist.

Burt Hanson delighted and thrilled the audience with his tenor voice. Even though he mentioned it, there was no indication of laryngitis while he sang such numbers as "Because", "Boys of Tangle", "I'll Still Love You", "Tenderly", and "Some Enchanted Evening" from "South Pacific".

Romona accompanied Burt besides playing "Tico Tico", "Rhapsody in Blue", "Claire de Lune", and many others including a lively South American number.

KPS TO HOLD ALUMNI BREAKFAST OCT. 7

The members of the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity have arranged a Homecoming breakfast for alumni members. This breakfast will be held at the Anchor Cafe on Sunday morning, October 7th, at 8:30.

Any alumni members who wish to attend this breakfast should notify Jack Luy, 314 Wilson Avenue, Menomonie, Wisconsin, as promptly as possible.

Because of the early Homecoming date this year, this announcement will replace the customary personal invitations.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Now that the homecoming theme is common knowledge we realize that homecoming is just around the corner. As the most important event of the fall season draws closer and closer you will probably hear one freshman say to another freshman, "How will we better the size of last year's class bonfire pile?" This is a natural question since the quality of this year's celebration will be balanced against past years by upperclassmen and alumni. And, as in the past, we feel sure that this year the festivities will not be found wanting.

As always, the biggest job— is to interest all the students in taking part in the production of the festivities. Remember, the success of homecoming depends upon the degree of participation of many persons, and not just that certain select few doing all the work.

Let us all pitch in and make the 1951 homecoming a grand success.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

A telephone in the SSA office, Future Teachers of America convention, fireworks for Homecoming, World Affairs conference, champion twirler for homecoming, and the homecoming schedule were on the agenda of the Student Governing Board's meeting last Monday evening.

Charles Schiferl announced that a telephone had been added to the SSA office.

The Future Teachers of America invited the Stout Institute to send two delegates to their convention November 1, 2, and 3. The board voted and accepted a motion to pay expenses for transportation, food lodging, and registration fees.

The Student Governing Board was also invited to attend a convention on World Affairs. This is sponsored by Wisconsin citizens who are interested in world problems. It is to be held at the University of Wisconsin September 28 and 29. This matter was tabled for the time being.

Next they took up the matter of ordering fireworks for homecoming. It was decided that they order $60 worth of fireworks if they could get them in time for Homecoming.

Students are now eligible for membership in the Wisconsin Education Association at a reduced fee of $1. The special membership was established to meet the desire of many future teachers to become acquainted first hand with the big organization which has promoted education and status of the profession for nearly a century.

The special membership entitles students to attend all sessions of the WEA convention and to the subscription to the Wisconsin Journal of Education, the official publication of the Association.

For an additional fee, students may become affiliated with the National Education Association. They will receive with this membership, the National Education Association Journal.

We are looking for a new name for our gossip column. Last year it was the "Key and Hole". If you have any suggestions, tell Ed Prah or Gerry Erickson or leave a note in the Stoutonia office.

Jo Gritt can't fool us. She said she wants to know how to catch a man at Stout. She seems to be doing pretty good for herself. She was seen at the mixer with Alex (a freshman) and has been kept quite busy by another freshman who is from Alaska. Keep up the good work, Jo.

Ann Ritzinger and Don Zittleman were seen at the all school mixer last Friday. Don is on leave from the army. Jim Covey, on leave from the navy, was seen doing some tricky dancing with Ardith Weber.

Mel Witte seemed to be giving Virginia Hoppe quite a rush this week end.

Other couples at the Friday night dance were Pat Peterson and Bill Wenzel, Phyllis Lumby and Warren Tiede, Gerda Ravenholt and Warren Barberg, Nancy Elam and Bill Banks, and Diane (a freshman) and John Christenson.

Some of our married couples also took advantage of George Soderberg's smooth music last Friday. Ken Dederig and the former Leone Nagle were there. Dick and Jan Johnson, John and Noreen Cook, and Bev. and Bud Ryder were also at the dance.

Harter Peterson certainly made the rounds at the dance. Out shopping, Harter? There's a nice catch for some lucky girl!

We'll be watching you this weekend, so please don't be good. Here's looking at you! We remain faithfully yours, Key and Hole.

STOUT GRADS TEACH AT WAYNE UNIVERSITY

Three graduates of The Stout Institute are members of the faculty of Wayne University in Detroit, according to news release from the Division of Community Relations of Wayne University. Alfred C. Lamb, who received his degree of Bachelor of Science from Stout in 1924, is at present Director of Buildings and Grounds; Gerald B. Baysinger, Assistant Professor in the Department of Industrial Education, received his degree from Stout in 1928; George Harold Silvius, Professor in the Department of Industrial Education, was a member of the Stout graduating class in 1930.

Professors Baysinger and Silvius are well known as authors of books on industrial arts. Included in their publications are Safe Work Practice in Woodworking, Safe Work Practice in Sheet Metal, Students Planning Book for Industrial Arts and Vocational Classes, and Woodworking Projects for Industrial Arts Students.

HUGHITT MOLTZAU HERE THIS SUMMER

Hughitt G. Moltzau, educational director for the Parke, Davis Co. of Detroit, toured the campus of The Stout Institute this summer. Moltzau, a graduate of Stout (B.S., 1936), supervises the personal activities of over 4,000 Parke, Davis employees including the organization of a teacher-training program and the handling of conferences.

Since graduating from Stout, Moltzau has also been educational supervisor at the Dodge plant of the Chrysler Motors Corporation and at the Willow Run plant of Kaiser-Frazer Corporation.

ST'S ORGANIZES AND APPOINTS COMMITTEES

President Don Sargent called the first meeting of the Stout Typographical Society Wednesday evening, Sept. 12, at 7 p.m. in the Stout printshop.

Production work, STS membership and STS activities were the major items brought up at the meeting. Members present at the meeting decided that it would be more convenient and functional to combine the jobs of production manager and estimator. Ed Prahel consented to accept the production manager's job along with his duties as estimator.

Mr. Ray Cornell was graciously accepted as the society's secondary advisor to replace Mr. Blasing.

Several committees were established to take care of much forthcoming society work and activities. Mel Witte, chairman, and Jim Miller comprise the homecoming float committee. Those on the banquet committee are Tom Juth, chairman, Dan Gordon, Ed McMahon and Guy Shramm.

Production work for this year was discussed and a work crew committee was established. Chairman of this committee is Bruce Arntson assisted by Art Scheldrup and Bill Wenzel. The committee decided to organize four work crews and place each of the members of the society upon one of the crews. Foreman and journeyman printers for the work crews are Bruce Arntson, Bill Banks, Mel Witte and Dan Foltman.

Looking forward to next January, it was decided to begin work now for the recognition of Printing Education Week. Dan Foltman, assisted by Jim Brown, and in cooperation with Mr. Whydowski is working on a program for that week.

The Stout Typographical Society again expects another busy and successful year. Many members are planning to advance in rank.

NEW STUDENTS TAKE FRESHMEN TESTS

September 6th was testing day for all new students entering The Stout Institute. When the papers were all in they tallied 203 sets of answer sheets for three different tests.

The three tests given each year include The American Council Psychological Examination, the cooperative reading test, and the Myers-Biggs high school Progress Test. The psychological test is given for the purpose of giving the faculty and the students insight into the native learning ability of each testee. One score of this test describes the ability of the student to interpret what he reads. A second score is a measure of his ability to do quantitative thinking. The reading test measures four different things; total reading ability, vocabulary, speed in reading and level of interpretation. The high school achievement test checks on the validity of high school marks.

A record of these examinations goes to the president's office, the student personnel director, the offices of the deans, the registrar and the psychology department. The results are used by the faculty in the interest of the students welfare only. Results are never used in a negative way, but rather to assist the student in personal adjustment and course selection.

Those who gave the tests were Dr. Guy Salzer, Dr. Ralph Iverson, Mr. Herman Arneson, and Dr. Dwight Agnew. Proctors were Miss Winifred Hinkley, Miss Jeanne Diefenbach, and Miss Ella Jane Meiller. Dr. E. R. Oetting was in charge of the testing.

BOWHUNTERS TO HOLD MEETING AT AUGUSTA

On September 20 a group of Stout Bowhunters shall meet in Menomonie at 5:00 a.m. and drive to Augusta to do some deer hunting.

For the past few weeks the fellows have been repairing and assembling equipment; so all things will be ready for the big day. According to president Jim Appleton, there will be 3 or 4 cars available to transport the 15 - 20 fellows to Augusta. At the first meeting held Wednesday night, September 12, the fellows had a good turnout for the practice shoot. Some fellows such as Al and Ed shoot-em-quick! Spanheimer has been practicing shooting at the outdoor archery range located near the golf course.

The bowhunters announced that they have plans for a formal shoot. These shoots would be held before the beginning of the deer hunting season. Definite dates have not yet been set.

run out in the half, Markley converted to bring the score to 19-13, where it was to remain.

Both teams came back from the halftime intermission with obvious instructions to improve on what had heretofore been rather spotty defensive play. This strategy proved to be the undoing of much of both teams' offensive games.

Neither team was able to do much in the last half, and even though a quick exchange of fumbles early in the third quarter gave Stout the ball deep in St. Olaf territory, the Blue Devils were unable to score.

The big St. Olaf drive came with only four minutes to go in the game. The Vikings took possession of the ball on their own 40 and, four plays later, had driven to the Stout three where it was first down and goal to go. It was then that the Stout line turned on a terrific goal line stand that, four plays later, showed the Vikings still on the Stout three.

Coach Storti's charges took possession of the ball and, two line plays later, ended the game with their first victory of the 1951 season.

A reader doesn't understand why goods sent by ship constitute a cargo while foods sent in a car are a shipment.

Sport Roundup

Never let it be said that school spirit is dead at Stout. The fifty odd Stout-ites who attended the St. Olaf game last Saturday afternoon proved that when they effectively made just as much and often more noise than the whole St. Olaf student body and seven cheerleaders.

The Blue Devil team gave their supporters something to yell about, too. Although coach Storti's charges certainly weren't up to mid season stride, they showed off the beginnings of what may well be championship form.

In fact, it was almost fortunate for the Blue Devils that St. Olaf was suffering from first-of-the-season difficulties also. Both teams displayed ragged passing attacks that were nothing short of terrific when they occasionally got clicking. The Blue Devils got two of their touchdowns on passes, and one as a direct result of a momentary low ebb of St. Olaf passing resulting in Kieffer's interception and thirty yard sprint.

At other times, however, the Blue Devils did poorly on both ends of the passes, failed to "hold that line" at the right moments, flubbed blocks, and missed up on their timing on offensive line blows.

Even though there were many obvious defects in their whole game last Saturday, the really encouraging part of the picture is that first, in patches, the team did click, and second, that all of the defects displayed were of the nature that another week or so of drills at Nelson field could easily eliminate.

St. Olaf never really showed what a formidable opponent she could really be until the closing minutes of the game when they turned bulldozer to gain approximately 57 yards in four plays.

FIRST HOME FOOTBALL GAME AGAINST NORTHLAND TOMORROW

The Stout gridders will open their home football season tomorrow evening at 8:00 in a non conference tilt at Nelson Field against Northland college. This will be the last non-conference game for the Blue Devils before they enter conference play against Eau Claire there on Sept. 29.

After winning their season opener last week at St. Olaf, Coach Tony Storti's Blue Devils have been concentrating mostly on downfield blocking and pass defense in the past week's intensive drills at Nelson Field.

Northland college is an independent college located at Ashland, Wisconsin, which has no conference affiliations. This will be the first intercollegiate game for that school, and the Stoutonia has very little information on them at this time. Northland has scheduled games this season with such schools as Northern college at Marquette, Carrol College at Waukesha, and several other schools approximately the same size as Stout.

Coach Storti is satisfied that the Stout offense and defense, which were ragged in their win against St. Olaf last weekend, have improved enough to show up well against Northland. Storti, employing his two platoon system, is at present in doubt regarding his starting lineup for Saturday's game. With Pophal and several others out of action due to injuries, opening positions for at least tomorrow's game are pretty well up for grabs.

Some probable starters will be Markley, Walker Woelfler, Kieffer, Stebly, Debruski, and others.

"Just a moment," said Satan to the new arrival. "You act as if you own this place."

"I do. My wife gave it to me."

PLANS MADE FOR THIS YEAR AT WAA MEETING

The officers of the W.A.A. met Monday at 5 p.m. in the gym to take care of business for the coming year.

It was decided that all W.A.A. meetings would be held the second Monday of every month at 7:30 in the club room of the Phy. Ed. building. A Scavenger Hunt was held Monday, September 17, at 7:15 p.m. in honor of Freshmen and Transfer Students who were interested in joining W.A.A. Ellen Russell was general chairman for the event and Catherine Magee was in charge of publicity.

The food committee was Eileen, Haskins, chairman; Mary Ellen Orme and Colleen Mitchell. Mary Ann Smith and Bev Peterson helped plan the recreation for the evening. Catherine Magee was chosen as the W.A.A. candidate for Homecoming Queen, with Colleen Mitchell as publicity chairman.

GRADUATE MEN'S CLUB ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The first meeting of the Graduate Men's club was held Wednesday, Sept. 26. The new officers who were elected at that time are: president, Dean Frey, Madison; vice-president, Fran Kishnow, Ishpeming, Mich.; and secretary-treasurer Art Clements, Peru, Nebraska.

Committee members named are Joe Brejcha, Antigo; Ed MacMahon, Chicago, Ill.; and Edmund Paul, Wauwatosa. Plans for the coming year were also discussed.

WMNE TO BROADCAST HOMECOMING EVENTS

Menomonic's local radio station will make a half-hour rebroadcast of some of the highlights of the Homecoming celebration at two o'clock on Sunday, October 7. Tape recordings of the various events will be made at the time of the events and combined for the program. Events to be included will be: the torchlight parade and bonfire, the alumni banquet, the half-time ceremonies at the game. Interviews will be held with various graduates and members of the 1921 football team. Doug Weikley and Jim Bailey of WMNE are making arrangements for the broadcast.

WSF GROUP ENJOY MEAL, HEAR TALKS

The W.S.F. met at the Methodist Church Sunday night for a 5:30 supper. Barbara Sherwood and her committee served a delicious meal consisting of toasted cheese sandwiches, vegetable salad, relishes, milk, and ice cream.

11 PLEDGED TO SIGMA TAU THIS SEMESTER

Eleven men who have indicated their desire to become members of Sigma Tau Gamma may be easily recognized by the blue and white helmets they wear and the shields and swords they carry. These pledges were selected to fill the shoes of June graduates and those brothers who were drafted. As a national social fraternity Sigma Tau Gamma's pledges are selected not only for above average scholarship but also for their social efficiency.

The pledging of these men started at 5:00 P. M. Thursday, October 4 and will continue until the following Thursday, October 11. Many of the pledge duties these men perform will be of the "service to others" type.

NO CLASSES SCHEDULED FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12

The Stout Institute will be closed Friday, Oct. 12. This three day vacation notice was announced by President Verne C. Fryklund Wednesday. Classes are not scheduled that day because of the Northwestern Teachers Association convention which is being held in Eau Claire October 11 and 12.

CANCEL PICTURES FOR TOWER MONDAY

Organization pictures for the Tower scheduled for Monday, Oct. 8, have been cancelled by the staff because Hell week will still be in progress. Check the main bulletin board for the time and date when the pictures will be taken.

ORAL EXAMS TAKEN BY EPT CANDIDATES

The Epsilon Pi Tau initiates started their initiation exercises on Wednesday, Oct. 3. Their activities end on Saturday, Oct. 6.

Last Wednesday, Oct. 3, the initiates drew their topics from the hat in Dr. Anderson's office. They then had a few hours to prepare their own 3-5 minute talk which they gave at 7:00 p.m. in Room 22, IE Building. Following each talk those being initiated were asked questions by the faculty and EPT members. It is a must for the initiates to submit a bibliography of references used before entering to give his talk. It is also possible that some initiates were called back for further questioning on their topic. The fellows were then taken to room 32, IE Building, for other initiation exercises.

Tomorrow at 10 a.m. Dean Bowman will address the group of initiates and members in Room 22 IE Building and in so doing give the results of the oral examinations.

The scene will then shift to the third floor in the Phy Ed Building where the formal initiation will conclude. Following that, the initiates, members, faculty, and E.P.T. alumni will go to the Hotel Marion for dinner.

HYPERIANS TO SELL BALLOONS AT HOMECOMING GAME

Blue and white balloons will be sold during the Homecoming parade and at the Homecoming game by the Hyperian Sorority.

Pat Pagel is chairman of the balloon sale. She would like to announce at this time that balloons will be ten cents each.

RALPH LAPP

RALPH LAPP TO SPEAK ON ATOMIC ENERGY

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, noted atomic scientist, author, and lecturer, will speak at convocation, Wednesday, Oct. 10, on the subject of atomic energy and civil defense. The title of his lecture is "Must We Hide?"

Dr. Lapp critically examines and provides stimulating answers to such questions as "What are your chances of survival in an atomic war?", "Can American cities be defended?", "Can our A-bomb stop Soviet aggression?", "How many A-bombs do the Soviets have?" Dr. Lapp is a serious and sober analyst of the situation and his explanations are easily understood by the layman. As Dr. Lapp puts it, "The layman does not have to know nuclear physics in order to appreciate the significance of atomic energy."

Associated with the development of the atomic bomb from its beginning, Dr. Lapp was first with the Manhattan Project and the Argonne National Laboratory, and in 1946 participated in the Bikini Bomb tests as Scientist Consultant on Radiation. He was Executive Director of the Research and Development Board under Dr. Vannevar Bush in 1948-49. He also served as head of nuclear physics for the Office of Naval Research and as adviser to the War Department General Staff.

BONFIRE, PARADE, BANQUETS TO HIGHLIGHT ONE OF THE BEST HOMECOMINGS HERE

A full week has been planned by the SSA and the school organizations for all alumni returning for this year's homecoming. These organizations have been busy all week working to make this year's festivities "best ever".

Beginning at 1:00 today alumni register at the alumni booth set up in the Home Economics building corridor. Registration of alumni is also scheduled all day Saturday. Tickets for the game and the Alumni dinner can be purchased at the booth when registering.

Friday evening will be highlighted by the crowning of Queen Betty Worthington in the Stout auditorium by Rose Gradzielewski, the '50 homecoming Queen. Immediately following the coronation, a torchlight parade, led by the queen and her court, will go to the fairgrounds where the bonfire, built by the freshmen, will be lighted by the co-captains of the game tomorrow night.

After the lighting of the bonfire, there will be numbers by the band, cheers, talks by alumni, former SSA presidents, the football captains, the coach, and the queen and her court. Fireworks will end the festivities at the fairgrounds after the singing of the Alma Mater.

Saturday is a full day for everyone with organization breakfasts, E.P.T. initiation, and last minute touches on the floats.

The dinner for the 1921 championship football team will be held at 12:30 at the Marion Hotel. Arrangements for this dinner have been made by Jack Joyce, a local member of the 1921 team.

The parade at 2 promises to be as great as any seen at Stout's homecomings. Prizes will be awarded to the most humorous, most beautiful, and most in keeping with the theme. The theme is "Gull Meat, the Devil's Treat."

Alumni will be especially anxious for the tours of the Home Economics and Industrial Arts buildings which begin at 3. Many of the rooms and laboratories have been remodeled and will be of interest to all.

At 5 the alumni dinner will be held in the cafeteria and at 7:30 the homecoming game with Milwaukee State college will begin.

The game is starting earlier this year to give time for the half-time festivities and the dance which will follow the game.

With dorm hours extended to 1 a.m. everyone can enjoy the dance which lasts until 12:30. It will be held in the high school gym with music by Bennet Greten.

More organization breakfasts are slated for Sunday morning and in the afternoon from 2 to 5 the girls dorms will hold open house with tea served at the Tainter Hall.

HOMECOMING NOTICE ON THEATER MARQUEE

Mr. Lee Thompson, manager of the State and Stout theaters, has contributed to the Homecoming activities by placing the dates and the title of the event in large letters on the marquee.

The marquee reads, "Stout Homecoming, October 6, Welcome Alumni". The students wish to express their thanks for the interest shown by Mr. Thompson.

The 1921 Championship football team which is to be honored at this year's Homecoming is pictured above. 13 of the members of that team will be here for the festivities this week end.

THIRTEEN 1921 TEAM MEMBERS TO BE FETED

Celebrate Anniversary of Winning First Football Championship For Stout

Thirteen members of the 1921 Stout Institute football team will gather in Menomonic on Saturday, October 6, to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of their winning the first football championship for The Stout Institute. The 1921 football team won the Wisconsin Normal Conference, the name under which the present Wisconsin College conference was known.

George Miller, coach of the 1921 team, and at the present time an osteopath in St. Paul, Minnesota, will be the honored guests of the "birthday-party".

Other members of the 1921 championship team who will be present for the reunion include Farrin Elsworth, East Orange, New Jersey; Elmer Sipple, Cleveland, Ohio; Art Anderson, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Vern Danberry, St. Paul, Minnesota; Arthur Schinke, Springfield, Wisconsin; Marcus Brince, Eveleth, Minnesota; Richard Chard, Iron Mountain, Michigan; Walter Johnson, Two Rivers, Wisconsin; Elmer Brochardt, Charleston, West Virginia; Jack Kenta, Austin, Minnesota; W. S S A MESSAGE

This is the beginning of the week-end we all look forward to, in the fall season of school. It's Homecoming! There is much activity and excitement for us all. But, we must remember that homecoming, as well as anything else, is what we make it. This means that cooperation and hard work on the part of everyone is the only way to make homecoming the success we hope for.

Tonight we will be looking for all of you at coronation of the queen and the lighting of the bonfire. Tomorrow is the biggest day of all which is climaxed with the big game and followed by a dance. Our coach, Tony Storti, said that last year's Milwaukee team gave our boy's the greatest physical beating of the year.

When Sunday evening finally comes, whether our float won or lost, whether our candidate for queen was elected or defeated, whether we won the game or lost it, we all agree that Homecoming is a great time and we wouldn't miss it for anything.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Welcome to all alumni, friends, and visitors to Stout's Homecoming. We are pleased to see those friendly faces from previous years back once again for a short visit. We hope that those of you who are visiting our campus for the first time will enjoy your stay here in Menomonie for this, the 1951 homecoming celebration.

Now that almost all the preparatory work has been completed let's all join in and enjoy the festivities. Get together with your friends, new and old, and have an enjoyable weekend.

After the decorations have been taken down, after the dust of the battle on Nelson Field has settled, and after the last strains of have died away we hope that you will have fond memories of the 1951 Stout homecoming that live in your heart. This is what we hope every alumnus, visitor and member of the school body will get when we say, "Welcome to homecoming at the Stout Institute in 1951."

NWTA CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN EAU CLAIRE

TWO DAY SESSION BEGINS THURSDAY; ALUMNI BANQUET FRIDAY NOON

The 1951 Northwest Wisconsin Teachers Association Convention will be held at Eau Claire, Wisconsin, October 11, 12, 1951.

President L. Heinsohn will preside at the General Sessions held at the American Legion Memorial Auditorium. O. E. Torgerson, vice-president, will preside at the General Sessions held at the Senior high school auditorium.

The Stout Alumni Banquet will be held in the dining room of the YWCA at 12:00 noon, Friday, October 12. Other banquets and reunions include River Falls State College at Grace Lutheran Church, Thursday, October 11 at 6:00 o'clock; the Delta Kappa Gamma Tea at the Vocational school cafeteria, Thursday, October 11 at 4:00 p.m.; Eau Claire State College Alumni reception in the Lounge of the American Legion Auditorium on Thursday, October 11 from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

The second feature of Thursday evening is the American Legion Memorial Auditorium with the invocation by Rev. W. J. Dauner of Eau Claire. Following the invocation the business session takes place after which Carl Taylor, Waukesha, Wis., one of the distinguished program speakers, will present his address "America Tomorrow." Following Mr. Taylor's address the Amery high school band will present a 15 minute musical program. At 10:45 Imre Kovacs, world traveler of international fame, will present "The Challenge of Being an American." Mr. Kovacs was born in Hungary, received formal education in Hungary, Germany and Serbia, and completed training at Yale, Lancaster Theological Seminary, and the Juilliard school of music here in America.

Thursday evening features a choice of two programs. The Apollo Club of Minneapolis, In. will present their program at 8:00 in the American Legion Memorial Auditorium. The Apollo Club is made up of approximately one hundred male voices and is a favorite male chorus for music lovers throughout the Midwest. Guest artist will feature Miss Bobbie Blake, soprano. Mr. Ralph E. Williams is conductor of the chorus.

The second feature of Thursday evening is a football game at Carson Park at 8:00. The game will be played by Eau Claire high school vs. Regis high school of Eau Claire.

Friday afternoon at 1:30 the Macalester Choral Readers, the first choral reading group in the Northwest, will present their program. The group does humorous and serious readings and accomplishes its main results by rapid changes of facial expression, voice changing, and gesturing. The Choral Readers are versatile and can accomplish any type of emotional effect.

The business session follows the choral readers, followed by another program speaker, Rol Bartle. Dr. Bartle is neither a professional dogooder nor a dreamy idealist. He is an experienced businessman who has made a success as a banker, as a lawyer, as a cattleman and farmer. His audiences accept him as a sincere realist and give weight to his words. His timely topic is "Humanics in Education."

UNIVERSITY GROUPS SEE STOUT HE FILM

Dean Alice Kirk reports that interest in the Home Economics film "Design Your Future" is continuing. This film has recently been shown at the following locations:

Cassville	Drummond
Hurley	Colfax
Fort Atkinson	Hilbert
Elk Mound	Manitowoc
Webster	Green Lake
Whitefish Bay	Whitehall
Marion	Gays Mills
Kaukauna	Cadott
Milwaukee	New Lisbon
Janesville	Brussels

In addition to the Wisconsin showings, the film has also journeyed to the University of Illinois and the University of Florida.

Alumni who wish to show this movie are welcome to borrow the film. Because of the number of requests that are being received, it is necessary to secure a booking in advance, however; it is also advisable to suggest one or two alternate dates. Three prints are available.

Alumni who arrange to show the film will not only enjoy seeing it but will also help their college to acquaint high school students with the professional opportunities in the field of Home Economics. All requests for "Design Our Future" should be sent directly to Dean Alice J. Kirk.

FOB PLEDGE WEEK TO BEGIN TODAY FOR FOUR

Today marks the beginning of pledge week for the first semester in the FOB fraternity. Eight pledges have been invited but up to the time this story was written, only four had acknowledged the invitation. They are: Wayne Weller, Gerry Henderson, Ronnie Johnson, and Bob Wong.

The pledges will participate in a numerous list of activities. They are as follows: Friday, bonfire; Saturday, work on float and cheer lead at the game; Sunday, rest day; Monday, informal initiation and athletic night; Tuesday, skit night and serenade the dormitories; Wednesday, scavenger hunt; and Thursday, formal initiation.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

Five definite rules for immediate enforcement pertaining to the guarding of the bonfire at the fair grounds. They are:

1. No fire arms.
2. Anyone under state of intoxication will be subject to go before the Governing Board.
3. No girls will be admitted after 10:30 except a special coffee committee.
4. No intoxicating liquor allowed within the area.
5. The offenders will be disciplined as the Governing Board sees fit.

"Get Acquainted Week" was also on the agenda. Students will talk to freshmen and others they do not know for the purpose of getting acquainted. This responsibility is up to all students and especially the upper classmen.

The students of Stout Institute have been invited to belong to AVA at a slight fee of 50c per student. They will receive 10 issues of the Professional Journal.

Bill Banks was nominated to fill the judgeship of the student court.

More details will be published in next weeks issue.

By this time we hope everyone has recovered from last Saturday's football game. Everyone we saw there, and we saw everyone there, seemed to be having a lot of fun. Stout and Menomonic were really well represented at the game and we're happy about the spirit displayed by our students.

A few of the couples we saw at the game include Don Plale and his girl, Don Landsverk and Donna Gardiner; Don didn't have that lost look he's had for two weeks while Donna was teaching off campus. "Queen" Betty Worthington and Bob Cseh, Clarice Zarling and Joe Brejcha, and Dorothy Gulbranson and Neil Palmer were all at the game. By the way, Dorothy had had Neil's car all last week. Lucky girl.

Ralph Hetzel was with Grace Laudon Saturday night, and Sunday night he was with Jo Gritt at the Newman club hayride.

Speaking of the hayride some other couples were Francis Oberpriller and Betty Kleist and Tom Bobinski and Ruth Felt.

Mimi MacLachlan's Stan was here for one weekend. Joe Hainault had his girl here. She is from Escanaba, Mich.

"Roundy" Asmund and "Boots" Subich, John DeBoch and Dorothy Gargulak, and Noel Lehner and Betty Kane were seen together Friday night.

Rose Grzadzilewski had Wally Christianson's car to the game with a load of girls. Dick and Jan Johnson were also at the game. Donna Krisik and Ed Prahl doubled with Katie Ziehm and Joe Luetkemeyer that night. Another couple there was Connie Anderson and Wayne Olson. There were many many more but unfortunately we couldn't see everyone.

The girls at the dorm have been wondering why Donna D. is anxiously awaiting Homecoming. Maybe that long distance phone call she got from "someone" back home could have something to do with it.

Mabel Sorida, our freshman from Hawaii, has certainly adapted herself to our way of living especially the social part of it. She has been seen quite often with Herbert.

The freshmen who were collecting material for the homecoming bonfire Saturday afternoon had a lot of fun. It should be good bonfire from all reports.

We'll see you tonight at the bonfire. This weekend should prove exciting with the bonfire, parade and dance. Until then,

We remain faithfully yours,
Key and Hold

Teacher: "Ann, you've left fingerprints on nearly every plate."

STS GROUP DISCUSSES HOMECOMING PLANS

On Sept. 26, at 7:00 p.m. the weekly meeting of the Stout Typographical Society was held in the print shop with Don Sargent presiding.

Reports were heard and discussed from the homecoming float committee, banquet committee and the Printing Education Week committee. Pledges for entrance into the STS were voted upon, and plans for the initiation were discussed.

HYPERIAN PARTY HELD IN HARVEY MEMORIAL

The Hyperian shipmates, all decked out in regulation dress blues and dress whites, greeted the twenty-one rushees as they entered Davey Jones' Locker, alias the Harvey Memorial, on Sunday, Sept. 30, at two in the afternoon.

Fish nets, bobbers, life preservers, anchors, sea shells, large and small fish (real and alive), and candlelight supplied the authentic atmosphere of Davey Jones' Locker.

Human Bingo and fortune telling comprised the entertainment.

Group pictures were also taken. Cooks Char Winslow and Mary Ann Moore served sea water, hard tacks, life savers, and ice cream in the galley of a sunken ship.

After group singing the Hyperian seamen sang their sorority song.

Then each rushee had to find a little goldfish which had her name on the bowl to take as a little remembrance of the party.

With the singing of "So Long" the rushees and their fishees ended a happy afternoon.

LSA INVITES STUDENTS TO JOIN ACTIVITIES

The L.S.A., Lutheran Student Association is an active church group around the Stout campus. Some of you may have noticed the posters they put up. They offer you fun, food, friendship, good, and worship.

It seems that the L.S.A. Sports Nite was rained out, but still everyone had loads of fun and spirits weren't dampened one bit. The get acquainted idea was a nice success too.

Why don't you stop and sign your name to the L.S.A. poster and see for yourself what a wonderful time you can have. By the way, the food is good too.

YWCA FALL FESTIVAL IS HELD IN HARVEY

The YWCA held their fall festival on Wednesday, Sept. 26 at 7:30 in the Harvey Memorial. The freshman girls who were the guests of the members were introduced to the officers, committee chairmen, and advisors.

The recreation program was headed by Julane Christenson who also led the girls in the playing of charades. Phyllis Horning accompanied group singing while a group of freshman girls prepared a pantomimed skit.

The freshmen appreciated the hospitality of the upper classmen and an enjoyable time was had by all.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

SMA COMIC REVUE IS HELD; PRIZES AWARDED

The S.M.A. "Comic Revue" was held Sept. 30, in the Harvey Memorial. The rushees wore clothing depicting comic strip characters. Games were played and the sorority prizes—one of them a complete wardrobe.

Food for the party included Dagwood sandwiches, jello, potato chips, and coffee.

"Did he take his misfortunes like a man?"

"Yes, he laid the blame on his wife."

Counsel was cross-questioning a witness in an important case. He asked: "And on the 11th of July you say you called upon Mrs. Murphy. Now what did she say?"

"I object your honor, to the question," interrupted the opposing lawyer. Then ensued an hour's fierce argument between counsel; and in the end the judge allowed the question.

"And as I was saying," continued the first lawyer, "What did Mrs. Murphy say?"

"Nothing," was the reply. "She was out."

"How was the picture," asked the mother.

"Terrible," said her young son. "It was all I could do to sit through it the second time."

Guide: "Did you ever hear the joke about the joke about the Egyptian guide who showed a group of tourists two skulls of King Tut, one when he was a boy, and the other when he was a man?"

Listener: "No what is it?"

Judge: "So you broke a bat over this man's head, did you? Well, what can you say for yourself?"

Prisoner: "Your honor, it was an accident."

Judge: "An accident? Impossible."

Prisoner: "I didn't mean to break the bat."

Hostess: "It looks like a storm. You had better stay dinner."

Caller: "Oh, thanks. but I don't think it's bad enough for . . .at."

"White man glad to see red man," a tourist said to an Indian. "White man hopes Big Chief is feeling tip top this morning."

"Hey, Jake," the Indian called, "come here and listen to this guy; he's great."

An anxious father, failing to hear from his son in college for a month, wrote the president: "I trust my son is not sick, but if he has been, I hope to hear he's improving."

Back came this answer: "Your son is not sick, neither is he improving."

The plumber rang the bell and, as it happened, both the master and mistress of the house came to the door. As they stood in the hall the husband said to the plumber: "I wish before we go upstairs to acquaint you with the trouble."

"I'm very pleased to meet you ma'am," said the plumber.

Judge: "And what is the verdict of the jury?"

Foreman: "We find the defendant is not guilty, your honor, but we recommend that you warn him not to do it again."

"You can't trust anybody, nowadays. Why, my own grocer gave me a phony quarter in change this morning."

"Let me see it."

"Oh, I haven't got it anymore. I gave it to the milkman."

SMA SOCIETY SELLING MUMS FOR HOMECOMING

The S.M.A.'s are again selling their mums for homecoming this week. They have them in two colors, white and yellow.

The mums are to be sold all week and are to be worn throughout the week and to the homecoming game. They cost a quarter apiece.

GERRY RAISLER WRITES ABOUT INTERNSHIP

Last year's alumni and senior students who expect to begin their hospital internship training in an army hospital after graduation will be interested in the following letter received by Dean Kirk from Gerry Raisler, who graduated from Stout last June.

Dear Dean Kirk:

There are three words that explain my attitude, I love it! The people, city social life, and education are all highly interesting.

At the present time I'm taking my basic at the Medical Field Service School. We're up every morning at 6:00, and then we're off to school at 7:45 until 5:00, Monday through Saturday noon. It is far from a snap course. During these four weeks every phase of military organization is covered — from drill work to the atomic bomb.

Graduation will take place October 6. October 8 we start our internship at Brooke. Brooke is indeed a beautiful hospital, and it has a 2,500 capacity.

Our class consists of nurses, dietitians, P.T.'s, and O.T.'s, out of which fifteen are dietitians.

Would love to be back for Homecoming but that is impossible. I know it will be a huge success — how could Stout fail?

Sincerely,
Gerry Raisler

W.A.A. MEETING HELD; FLOAT PLANS MADE

On September 19, a meeting of the W.A.A. was held at the gymnasium. It was announced that Catherine Magee was elected Homecoming Queen Candidate by the W.A.A. officers.

Margie Fitzgerald is chairman in charge of planning a homecoming float, and all the members of the W.A.A. are to help with the actual decorating.

Volley-ball teams were set up with Eileen Haskins appointed chairman. Teams one and two had first chance to battle it out, the evening of September 25.

KFS PLEDGE WEEK TO LAST TILL THURSDAY

Each year at Homecoming time the various fraternities on the campus take in new members. One week is usually devoted to pledging and, for the pledges, this week is one that will never be forgotten.

This semester the Kappa Phi Sigma social fraternity plans to admit ten new members to replace members lost through graduation and through entrance into the armed forces.

For the KFS pledges, the eventful week will start Thursday, October 4, at 7:30 p.m. The KFS pledges may be recognized by their sailor straw hats, canes, and blue letter sweaters.

Plans for the week include the usual scavenger hunt, the ever humorous skits, and the usual collection of humorous (quite often disastrous) little duties.

MAP BEGINS TO WORK ON FALL PRODUCTION

Practice has begun on the fall production of the Manual Arts Players chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega which will be "The Bishop Misbehaves" to be given November 8, 9, 10.

Those who will be enacting the parts are: Alex Pribish as Red Egan, Jerry Shemanski as Donald Meadows, Roberta Harris as Hester, Mikey White as Guy Walker, Gloria Voight as Mrs. Walker, Michal Pavlicin as the Bishop, Beverly Hedlund as Lady Emily, Eugene Sawyer as Collins, Corky Collette as Frenchy, and Dorothy Brownell as Miss Brooks.

In the play the Bishop, an elderly and quite saintly dignitary, stops by accident with his equally mild old sister in an ugly old "pub" taproom just after there has been a serious hold up and robbery. The Bishop has always had a secret love of the wickedness on display in detective stories, and here is his holiday. What happens when he gobbles up clues like an old black rooster among beetles and snatches the swag? This mystery will be unfolded before your eyes on the evening of November 8, 9, and 10.

DAUGHTER IS BORN TO MR. & MRS. EARL HERRING

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herring on Sunday, Sept. 30, at the Menomonie Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Herring is a secretary in the registrar's office; Mr. Herring is a senior at Stout.

The proud parents have named their daughter Pamela.

FACULTY PREPARES 67 PAGE CURRICULUM BOOK

New Book Stresses Problem

Approach: Consideration Of Interests And Ambitions

"Resource Units for Industrial Arts in Wisconsin Schools"—a 67-page curriculum publication prepared by members of the Stout Institute faculty, has recently been published by the state department of public instruction.

In charge of the publication were Ray A. Wigen and Stuart A. Anderson, members of the graduate faculty of Stout. Assisting them were Edwin Siefert, Howard Hoving and David Barnard, also of the faculty. Elmer E. Clausen, William J. Hornbeck, Robert S. Swanson, Kenneth M. Wold and James R. Payne, Jr. graduate students at Stout also helped in making up this study.

This bulletin is the second in a series of curriculum publications prepared by the statewide industrial arts committee of the Wisconsin cooperative educational development program.

This study of the resource unit idea stresses the problem approach in which educational experiences are centered around real life situations and issues. Thus the needs, interests and ambitions of youth are considered. The publication, as planned and organized should serve as a basis for further study and development of resource units in specific industrial arts areas, i.e., wood, metal, electrical, and graphic arts. The specific data which have been included should also aid teachers in solving curriculum problems in these areas of instruction.

This pamphlet may be obtained by writing to Gordon C. Boardman, Publication Supervisor, Madison, Wisconsin.

FORMER STS MEMBER TELLS OF POSITION

George M. Norton, who is now employed in the Graphic Arts Technical School in Minneapolis, Minnesota, recently sent the following letter.

At the present time I am in charge of the line casting department here. I have 5 machines (3 linotypes and 2 intertypes), a teletypewriter with perforator keyboard, and a Ludlow. The teletypewriter is attached to a battery of twelve different models eventually. I teach keyboard and mechanics and am responsible for the maintenance of the equipment.

School is in session from 8:30 till 3:30 five days a week. We are in operation twelve months a year with the last two weeks in August as a vacation. At this time I have seven students. The length of the Lino course is fifty-two weeks maximum, the minimum depends on the students ability. The school is devoted entirely to the teaching of printing. All students are placed upon completion of their training.

I saw by the paper that the boys beat St. Olaf. I hope they keep it up. I am planning on coming to Menomonie for Homecoming and am looking forward to seeing some of the members of the STS again.

COLOR GUARD MARCHES WITH BAND

HOMEcoming DECORATIONS ARE READIED

Attractive and noteworthy homecoming decorations around the city and at Nelson Field are the sophomore class's contribution to the 1951 Stout Homecoming. Several committees were appointed to decorate the windows of the following stores: Anshus Jewelry, Rexal Drug Store, Sorensons Ready to Wear, Lee's Drug Store, The Farmer's Store, St. Claire Billheus, and Sears and Roebuck.

Two large banners which read "Welcome Alumni" on one side and "Stout 1951 Homecoming" on the other are hung across Highway 12, and on Main and Broadway.

At Nelson Field the class has decorated the goal posts and broadcasting station with blue and white streamers, and across the field placed another "Welcome Alumni" banner.

Last but not least, the traditional "Blue Devil", which was created this year by Don Duxberry, is hung up on lamp posts around town. The "Blue Devil" carries out the theme of the homecoming by holding a fork with the supposedly "Gull Meat" on it.

The junior class is in charge of decorations for the high school gym for the annual homecoming dance. A false ceiling of green and white streamers on one half of the gym and blue and white on the other will be constructed. Numerous signs will be placed around on the walls and a large football will be the center of attraction in the middle of the gym.

The original picture of the 1921 Wisconsin Champion football team will be presented to the Stout Institute, Saturday evening between halves at the football game.

This picture first originated when "Dad" Huber cut out and mounted the individual pictures of the team members on manila board and then framed it. The frame was painted white with a blue edging.

The picture was then hung above the tobacco case on the south wall near the front of the building in Huber's Billiard Parlor. Since the picture was in such a prominent place everyone who entered the building could see it. The picture hung there for many years until shortly before Mr. Huber's death when he gave it to Richard Chard, fullback on the team, from Iron Mountain, Michigan.

ALUMNI URGED TO ATTEND HOMECOMING

Dear Alumnus:

Welcome back for Homecoming. Some of you will be reading this at Stout during Homecoming weekend; others will read it on Monday or Tuesday after it's over. Naturally we wish that all of you could be back. Those of you who are here we hope to greet personally; to the rest of you we hope it will be at Homecoming in spirit at least.

It is often said by returning graduates, "It seems as though I have never been away—but the college has changed quite a bit at that." The students somehow look younger than we imagined we looked as undergraduates. It is amazing though, how they have kept, yes, improved the Homecoming traditions. The freshman bonfire burns as brightly as ours did, though perhaps it is not topped off in such grand style. But then, modernization has come to the local countryside. The parade seems to get longer each year; the SSA says that we have ten bands in it this year. We have a new and spacious gymnasium for the post-game dance. The football team is tops; we even use a platoon system. There were years that you can remember that the total squad could not have provided two platoons.

We extend a special greeting to the organized groups back for reunions; 1936, and the class of 1941. To all of you—Happy Homecoming.

ALUMNI GROUP HOLDS PICNIC AT DETROIT

The Detroit Alumnae of The Stout Institute were hostesses at a picnic at the Derby Hill River Rouge Park for all the Detroit Alumni and their families on Sunday, September 23 at one o'clock. Wilma Bunge Blair was chairman of the affair. Others on the committee were Audrey Peterson Pollock, this year's Alumnae president, Ann Fuller Woodworth and Orvetta Braker Moltzau. Their better halves were exploited; Adrian Pollock into printing invitations and name tags, Fred Blair into host and rounding up the grads for an informal meeting, Huddy Woodworth to tacking up road signs to the picnic, and Hugh Moltzau into registration.

Forty-two couples came bringing forty-eight children from crib into college age. Including the single graduates the number present was 147. Robert Houghton, George Kenslie, Lloyd and Ruth (Tebeest) Mattson, new comers to the Detroit area, were welcomed. The earliest graduates present were Valary A. Elvers and A. C. Lamb both of the year 1924. John Weimer, Sam C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. H. Stevens were also among the earlier graduates.

Gloria Madded, aged ten, won the 1951 bubble gum certificate for blowing the biggest bubble. Other games provided for the children under the guidance of Pat Kinsler were dropping clothes pins in the bottle, peanut races and relay races.

To the couple who came the greatest distance the honor goes to George and Mernabell (Lobbs) Pease and their three children from Bay City. (App. 100 miles) This was the second rain or shine picnic to be held at the Derby Hill River Rouge Park, the very place where the famous Soap Box Derby races are held. Not only were the alumni able to ramble about the park, but also had the use of a one time huge Detroit home which is kept in a-1 condition for organizations such as the Stout Alumni by the Detroit Parks and Recreation Association.

ELLIS BIBB TELLS OF POST IN ALASKA

Ellis Bibb, who is now teaching in Alaska, recently sent the following letter telling of his experiences:

"I drove up from North Carolina to Juneau in about twelve days. I was in no hurry so the trip could be made in a better time. I was surprised to find that Canada is just like the States in practically every way except roads. They are twenty years behind in their roads.

"I was very disappointed in the scenery in Canada until I got to Dawson Creek. Then you passed into another world. The Alaskan road starts at Dawson Creek and it is much better than the approach road from Edmonton. The road up to Edmonton was fine. There is a lot of travel on the road now and it is no hardship at all. There are plenty of places to stay with only 30 or 40 miles separating them.

"My work is the main thing these days. It's the biggest job I ever tackled in my life. I am very lucky in getting a school like Juneau my first year. The principal and the rest of the teachers are the friendliest, most helpful lot. If I don't make it here I never will, because the people are for you 100%. I have a large, well equipped shop, but I am not organized. "I am the ski advisor for a strong club so I will have to put out. I met another young teacher from just north of Menomonie here, who also loves to ski."

1921 GRADUATES WRITES, TELLS OF POSITION

Mr. Frank Mudrak, B.S. '22 and M. S. '41, a member of the Stout championship football team of 1921 recently sent the following letter:

"Your most kind invitation to the Stout Homecoming is at hand; however, it is with deep regret that I must decline the invitation for two reasons: viz., I could not possibly get away to travel so great a distance with an aeroplane of my own, and secondly, I am at present assisting the Assistant superintendent in preparing a school facilities survey which seems to have a deadline for completion.

"This year I am teaching but one half day while the other half I am working on the survey. My work on this project is to draw a complete room plans of all the 82 schools in the city. It is a big undertaking and may lead to something worthwhile for me.

"How time flies. Thirty years does not seem long at all. However, I suppose some of the members of the Stout team of that time must be granddads by this time. Sure would be most happy to be present at the homecoming to talk over times and compare notes.

"Have been here in Oklahoma City now since 1929. Perhaps Ralph Berkeley, now an instructor at Stout, may recall some experiences connected with me. I am teaching mechanical drawing at Capitol Hill junior high school here. For the past four years I have had at least two boys place in the Interscholastic Magazine and Ford Motor Co. Industrial Arts award contest. Last year and this year there were honorable mentions. Two years ago two boys won a first and third place in drawing.

"Two or three years ago at our state convention we had the pleasure of hearing the present Stout president, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund address us at the vocational banquet. Since then our vocational department in the city has grown to over 60 members. Of that number only two of us are from Stout.

"In closing, expect me to be with you at least in spirit, and I sincerely hope the Homecoming will be a huge success as well as the present football season which I notice is off to a grand start."

Sincerely yours,
Frank Mudrak.

DELTA CO. TO BE HOST TO STOUT ALUMNI

The Milwaukee Chapter of the Stout Institute Alumni Association has just completed plans for the reunion meeting of the Stout Institute Alumni during the Wisconsin Education Association Convention on Thursday, November 1, 1951, at which the Delta Manufacturing Company will be host.

A complete evening of activities will include a buffet dinner and plenty of time to chat with old friends. For the men a plant tour is scheduled and an interesting program for the women is being developed. Brief after dinner talks will give alumni an opportunity to hear what is going on at Stout.

Reservations for this "get-together" of Stout Alumni are limited to 125, because of limited facilities. Write to Frank L. Dummann, 191 North Broadway, Milwaukee 2, Wisconsin, for your reservation. Reservations will be acknowledged in the order received. Tickets will be sent out by return mail with a letter giving complete information about the reunion.

Transportation to the Delta Company, 600 East Vienna Avenue, will be provided from the Schroeder Hotel for those not driving.

The Milwaukee Chapter is looking forward to seeing many alumni friends at this reunion.

SMA BREAKFAST TO BE AT METHODIST CHURCH

The S.M.A. sorority invites all of its alumnae to the homecoming breakfast Saturday, Oct. 6, at the Centenary Methodist church, corner of Wilson avenue and Sixth street. The breakfast will start at 9:30 a.m. Any S.M.A. alumnae wishing to attend should write to Clarice Zarling, 1202 Fourth avenue as soon as possible.

TURK, WIDMAR CAPTAIN HOMECOMING TILT

Karl Turk, Aurora, Minnesota, and John Widmar have been named co-captains for the annual Homecoming tilt between the Green Gulls of Milwaukee and the Blue Devils of the Stout Institute. The announcement was made today by Tony Storti, Head Football Coach for the Stout gridders.

Co-captain Turk, a junior, will lead the offensive squad from the guard position. John Widmar, sophomore, will captain the defensive squad from the tackle position.

The two co-captains are veterans on the Blue Devils squad. Co-captain Turk is playing his third season under Coach Storti, while defensive leader Widmar is in his second season.

BLUE DEVILS VS MILWAUKEE FOR HOMECOMING

Head coach Tony Storti's fighting Blue Devil footballers will meet Milwaukee State college in the annual Stout homecoming game tomorrow night, Oct. 6, at Nelson Field, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This second meeting of these two powerful teams will give Stout its first opportunity to meet the Green Gulls on home ground, and should provide the Blue Devils with their biggest challenge so far this season.

With Milwaukee, Stout, and La-Crosse the only three apparent conference championship contenders at this time, tomorrow's clash can spell success or failure for the two teams. Both schools will be trying hard to preserve their perfect conference records for this year.

Largely the same tough and experienced squad that fought Stout to a 6-6 tie last year is expected to return for this homecoming game. Nineteen lettermen are back from the Milwaukee 1950 team, including nine first stringers from last year.

The Green Gulls record for this year, which shows one won; one lost, is not as promising as it sounds. In a vicious battle with Carrol College two weeks ago, Milwaukee out-ran, out-passed, and generally outplayed a tough Carrol team to come out behind only in the final score column, which read 7-6. Last week the Green Gulls met the strong Oshkosh Titans and scored a decisive 19-6 victory.

Even with Stout riding the crest of three impressive wins in as many weeks, Coach Storti is less concerned with over confidence than with the general performance of his team. Extensive drills on all phases of offensive and defensive play have highlighted the past week's drill sessions for the Blue Devils at Nelson Field. Some emphasis on pass defense and defensive line work has been noticed.

OUTSTANDING BLUE DEVIL GRIDDER PREPARING FOR MILW. HOMECOMING GAME

STORTI GROOMS WHOLE TEAM AS SEASON'S 2nd BIGGEST TILT LOOMS

Three football players, all of whom have the first name of Richard, and hail from the city of Hastings, Minn., are regular members of the Blue Devils of The Stout Institute. The three Richards are: Richard Hamilton, Richard McNamara, and Richard Kassel.

Bill Kieffer, a junior at The Stout Institute is also a graduate of the Hastings high school, and rounds out the foursome for the Stout gridders.

The three Richards are freshmen and are in their first season under Tony Storti, head football coach. The four grads of Hastings high school will be in action when the Stout Blue Devils meet the Milwaukee Green Gulls in the annual Homecoming game at Nelson Field, Saturday, Oct. 6 at 7:30.

Kieffer, the oldest of the Hastings foursome played an important part in the defeat of Eau Claire last Saturday. Bill sparked a touchdown drive in the third quarter with brilliant runs and deadly pass plays.

In Saturday's game, Dick McNamara, playing defensive halfback, intercepted an Eau Claire pass on his own ten yard line and sprinted down the side line to score the fifth and final six pointer for the Blue Devils. McNamara's ninety yards were described as the fastest the Eau Claire fans have witnessed for a long time.

The other two Richards saw limited action in the Eau Claire game, but in the Northland game the week before, they proved themselves potential football material.

Joe Stebly, a graduate of Milwaukee Boy's Tech., will be wearing the blue and white in the annual homecoming game tomorrow night also. Joe graduated from the Boys Tech in June of 1950 and enrolled at The Stout Institute in September of that year. He is starting his second year as a member of the Stout eleven. During his second year under Coach Storti, Joe has been defensive guard, and is one of the mainstays of the defensive line.

The Wausau three, Al Hoppe, Robert Roloff and Richard Pophal, graduates of Wausau high school, will see action this coming Saturday in the annual Homecoming football game.

Hoppe, a sophomore at The Stout Institute, is in his second year as a member of the Blue Devil squad. Al holds down the defensive tackle spot and is playing a tight game at this position.

Robert Roloff is starting his first season as a member of the Stout gridders. Robert has been working at the offensive end position during the three games which the Blue Devils have played so far this season.

Two other members of the Blue Devil squad are Bob Nessler and Myron Sheben, graduates of Cudahy high school, Cudahy, Wis.

Nessler graduated from high school in June of 1950. In September of the same year he enrolled at Stout and reported for the first day of practice. During the 1950 season he played in the defensive backfield. In the final game of the 1950 season against Upper Iowa University, Bob, playing defensive right half intercepted a pass and sprinted 40 yards for a touchdown. This season Bob is again at the defensive backfield and plays the majority of each game. In last Saturday's conference opener with Eau Claire, Bob was again playing in the defensive backfield and intercepted an Eau Claire pass for thirty yards.

Myron Sheben, also a graduate of Cudahy high school is starting his first season as a member of the Stout Blue Devils. Myron plays one of the defensive end positions.

Bob and Myron are majoring in Industrial Education at The Stout Institute. Bob is in the last semester of his freshman year, and Myron is in his first semester.

BLUE DEVILS DEFEAT EAU CLAIRE 34-7 IN CONFERENCE OPENER, SATURDAY

After allowing their opponents seven points in the first three minutes of play, and in spite of 90 yards of penalties and three fumbles that twice gave Eau Claire the ball within Stout's 30-yard line, Coach Tony Storti's Blue Devils went into high gear midway in the second quarter and trounced Eau Claire state college 34 to 7 in the conference opener for both teams.

In view of the first quarter's play, it was a surprising turn of events. First of all, two out-of-bounds kick-offs gave Eau Claire the ball in mid-field, and then the Eau Claire backs reeled off one first down after another until Bill Wagner scored from the 11-yard line and Don Galusha kicked the extra point.

Only 3 minutes, 15 seconds had passed and Stout was behind 7 to 0, with Eau Claire showing a powerful running attack around and inside the ends. But as it turned out, that was Eau Claire's best showing. The Stout defense tightened up, the ends played wider and refused to get sucked in. And that was quite a showing for the defensive team, for Stout fumbled three times in that first quarter, Eau Claire recovering each time, and twice within the Stout 30-yard line. Stout also scored in the third quarter when Bill Kieffer plunged over from his ten yard line. This climaxed a drive of 22 yards after taking over on their own 22 yard line.

Eau Claire took the kickoff on their own twenty but were forced to kick out of their own territory. The Blue Devils started their second march of the quarter when they took the punt on their 21-yard line and marched the rest of the way. Bill Kieffer connected with a 30-yard pass to Ed Fandry to hit pay dirt.

Gall Woelffer started the fourth quarter off with a 50 yard pass to Bill Kieffer for the touchdown. The final six pointer was scored by Richard McNamara on an intercepted pass. Richard caught an Eau Claire pass on his own ten yard line and sprinted along the side lines for a 90 yard run. Herb Markley did the extra point kicking for the Stout gridders.

of the team; and Jack Joyce, Menomonie, Wisconsin, chairman of the reunion.

The thirtieth reunion will begin with a luncheon at the Marion Hotel. The luncheon highlighted by the cutting of a three-tier "birthday-cake", will provide an opportunity for the reacquaintance of the 1921 team members.

This will be the first reunion of the group of men in thirty years. A majority of the team have not met their fellow team mates since their graduation from The Stout Institute.

Jack Joyce, chairman for the reunion, and a member of the team, has announced the program for the reunion day.

The program will include the luncheon and informal reunion, viewing of the Stout Homecoming parade, a tour of The Stout Institute, attendance at the Stout Alumni Banquet, the Homecoming game, and the Homecoming dance.

Thirty guests will be present at the luncheon. The thirty guests will include the thirteen members of the 1921 football team and their wives, Ray C. Johnson, present Athletic Director of The Stout Institute; and Anthony Storti, present Head Football Coach of the Stout Blue Devils.

Immediately following the luncheon the team of 1921 will gather for an informal reunion. This informal reunion will be devoted to discussion and talking over the "old-days" at Stout.

At 2:00 p.m., the group will take their places as spectators of the Stout Homecoming parade. Following the Homecoming parade, following the parade, the "birthday-party" will tour the shops of The Stout Institute, under the direction of the "S" Club. The Stout Institute Alumni Banquet will be attended by the champions of 1921 to round out the afternoon activities.

In the evening, the reunion party will attend the annual Homecoming game of The Stout Institute as honored guests of The Stout Institute Athletic Department. During the halftime festivities the group will be introduced to the crowd attending the game, and presented with a group picture both past and present. A print of the 1921 football team has been obtained and reprints have been made for each returning member. George Miller, coach of the champs of '21, will introduce the members of his 1921 football team. The Stout "S" Club will also present the champs with a life-time pass to all Stout

The Blue Devils scared the whole Stout rooting section for most of the first quarter last Saturday when they started off by looking the same as they did against St. Olaf two weeks before. The Blue Devils took the opening kickoff and fumbled and fouled their way to an Eau Claire touchdown within four minutes of the opening gun. Blue Devil fans began to wonder if this was to be the general line of performance for an experienced team to put on all season. But fortunately, it didn't take all season, but only one quarter for Coach Storti's footballers to find themselves against a competent opponent.

Actually, Eau Claire was the first good team that Stout has met all season, and they came up with a beautifully matched picture of timing and team play for the occasion. After dropping their first minute jitters, they turned on the heat and displayed a powerhouse that set Eau Claire on their heels and walked away with the game.

The first Stout touchdown, which came early in the second quarter, was set up by McNamara and Kieffer with thirty and twenty five yard runs, respectively, which opened the way for the Blue Devil touchdown play, a pass from Woelffer to Markley with a lateral to Turk. This play drew first blood for the hardfighting Stout team, and when Markley kicked the extra point, the score was evened up 7-7.

But now with three victories under their belt, the Blue Devils and coach Storti are turning their attentions to another and more important game. With homecoming only a day away, and an extra tough team to play for that game, Storti has had the boys working hard on the fine points that they slipped up on last week.

Athletic contests, and initiate them into the "S" Club as honorary members.

Following the Homecoming game between the Milwaukee Green Gulls, and the Stout Blue Devils, the visiting champions of 1921 will be guests of the school at the annual Homecoming dance.

For the early reunion arrivals, The Stout Student Association has extended an invitation to attend the "bon-fire" and "pep-fest". The "bon-fire" and "pep-fest" will be held at 8:45 p.m., on Friday, October 5, at the Dunn County Fair grounds.

OPEN HOUSE AT DORMS IS ATTENDED BY 200

Sunday afternoon, October 8, from 2:00 to 3:00 was Open House at the women's dorms. There was an estimated attendance of 200 friends, relatives, and faculty members. After being greeted at the door and registering, the guests were then conducted through the dorms. Very many interesting remarks were made about the rooms and door decorations.

To complete the afternoon many visitors enjoyed the refreshments which were served in the Tainter Hall lounge. The food consisted of a choice of either coffee or tea, open face sandwiches, frosted cakes, nuts and candy mints. A committee consisting of the president and vice-president from each of the dorms, Eichelberger Hall, Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall, took turns pouring the coffee and tea. Soft background music was furnished by Mary Lou Zemple and Betty Apple at the piano.

SHORT HISTORY OF PHI U IS PRESENTED

The Phi Upsilon Omicron, a national honorary home economics fraternity was founded February 10, 1908. The Tau Chapter at the Stout Institute was officially begun on April 29, 1933.

The organization has a program of activities throughout the year which includes a Phi U tea. Each year a scholarship is awarded to a deserving freshman girl. Junior and senior girls of high scholarship ranking and high professional interest are eligible to join.

The purpose of the Phi U is to carry out the program to further interest and knowledge in home economics and to strengthen the bonds of friendship within the group.

The following are the officers of the Phi U this year: president, Pat Krause; vice-president, Gerda Ravenholt; treasurer, Dorothy Knutson; recording secretary, Barbara Borgen; corresponding secretary, Liz Siefert; librarian, Beverly Hedlund; marshal, Pat Schreiner; chaplain, Shirley Coleman; editor, Dorothy Krushas; historian, Dorothy Hilton.

E. R. OETTING WRITES STORY FOR JOURNAL

Frustrating factors in the work and in the personal life of the teacher are the subject of an article prepared for the September 1951 issue of "The Clearing House" by Dr. E. R. Oetting, chairman of the Department of Psychology of The Stout Institute.

According to Dr. Oetting, over one-fifth of the teachers the country over are by nature of personality not entirely fit for teaching. Teachers, however, do not tend to be more subject to serious behavior disorders than other employed groups.

Problems which produce instability in teachers include overwork and worry, underpay, insecurity, bearing the burdens of others, puritanic restrictions on out-of-school activities, autocratic administrators, aloofness on the part of the general public, and constant association with immature minds.

Professor Oetting points out that there are three general ways in which teachers (or others) may react to frustration. They may ruthlessly attack, run away, or analyze themselves and make intelligent attacks on their problems, however, neither ruthless attack nor running away is effective. The one which aggravates worry, depression, temper and the like. The other may lead to withdrawal from reality.

Only by an intelligent analysis of the problem will the emotional teacher be able to conquer his difficulties. Such an individual must analyze his own difficulties and try to build a plan that is an intelligent attack on his problem. If this is done, the teacher will be mentally fit to teach.

140 ALUMNI ATTEND ANNUAL BANQUET HERE

The annual Homecoming banquet, held in the Stout cafeteria Saturday evening was attended by 140 returning alumni and friends. Carl Haase, national president, opened the meeting with a welcome message. Edwin Siefert, Homecoming chairman, acted as toastmaster for the program. The program was begun by each alumnus present standing and introducing himself. Spontaneous applause was given as the various alumni identified themselves with distant places and early graduating classes. Ralph Betterly and Charles Frailey led community singing to allow the crowd to stretch out and relax.

Dean Bowman welcomed the alumni for the college and pointed out that he was an early alumnus (1909). Returning grads found that the Dean has not lost his story-telling knack. Mary Lou Funk Stubbins, speaking for the fifteen-year reunion of the 1936 grads, told how the girls of the class have kept close contact for the past fifteen years through a series of "round robins." John Ruedebsch, president of the class of 1941, spoke for his group and was greeted with a round of applause. Richard Chard of the 1921 football team presented a picture of his team to the college, and Dean Bowman gave the acceptance talk.

Following the program, the annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held. The minutes of last year's meeting were distributed along with a report of the year's activities. President Haase announced several forthcoming meetings of the Association at various conventions.

A cake, decorated to resemble an open book was cut up and distributed at the close of the meeting. The meeting was closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

MAP REORGANIZES AND PAINTS BACKSTAGE

The Manual Arts Players have been reorganizing the backstage rooms. To brighten the rooms, they were painted yellow. The rooms are now arranged so that there are men's and women's dressing rooms, a scene shop and a property room. New cabinets have been added for storage of lighting equipment and properties.

The costume room has also been re-organized. Inventory of the costumes has been taken and the clothes have been sorted and put into moth-proof bags.

S. T. S. PLEDGES BEGAN "HELL WEEK" DUTIES

Stout Typographical Society pledges will conclude with the STS informal initiation October 17.

The STS pledges can be recognized by their unique hats made from the comic section of the Sunday newspaper. Newspaper hats are the traditional head-gear for all the STS members during STS meetings. A members rank in the society can be determined by the type of hat he wears. The new pledges and the apprentice printers wear the colored hats made from the comic section of the Sunday paper, the journeyman printers wear plain black and white newspaper hats, and the master printers wear plain or all white hats.

Part of the informal initiation for the STS pledges will consist of a written and oral printing proficiency test. Pledges chosen by the society members will receive their society key at the formal initiation which will be held October 24. The formal initiation will feature a speaker and a banquet dinner. This semester the banquet will be coeducational which will allow STS pledges and members to invite their wives or girl friends.

The students chosen as STS pledges for this semester are Ronald Blohm, Gary Gore, Francis Oberpriller, Jerry Shemanski, and Larry Smith.

B. M. FUNK

B. M. FUNK, FORMER BUSINESS MANAGER DIES

Bryard M. Funk, business manager of the Stout Institute from 1918 to 1949, died suddenly at 5 a.m. yesterday morning in Milwaukee following an operation and a six months' illness.

Mr. Funk is survived by his wife, Alma, two daughters, Margery Phelan Milwaukee; and Mary Lou Stubbins, Chicago; and grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

PUBLICATIONS CLASS TO GO ON FIELD TRIP

The publications class, which is now engaged in the study of year-books, and the Tower staff are planning a field trip to the American Yearbook Company, Owatonna, Minnesota, Tuesday, October 16. Those included on the Tower staff are the two co-editors Hazel Nelson and Bruce Arntson, Bill Wensel who is in charge of photography, Dan Foltman the business manager, and Lois Bredlow who is literary editor.

The American Yearbook Company produces many high school and college yearbooks. At the present time there are four Stout alumni employed there. They are Toby Hendrickson, supervisor of layout, Paul Axelson, head of Quality Control Co., Paul Brown, and Stan Fox who is plant engineer. This company is a division of Jostens, makers of class rings and pins etc. One of the highlights of the trip will be a general tour of the building in which the rings and pins are made.

On the way down to Owatonna the group will stop at Spring Valley to visit the Sun, the local newspaper.

HE DEPARTMENT BUSY DESIGNING NEW LABS

During the past several months the Home Economics staff has been called upon to help many Home Economics departments with plans for the remodeling of their departments. Superintendents and teachers from many states and Canada have requested advisory service. During the past week conferences were held with Ethel R. Gorham, Alice Blester, and Ethel Phelps, professors from the University of Minnesota; and with Mr. M.W. Thiede, principal of the Fall Creek high school, Fall Creek, Wisconsin, and Mrs. C. W. Voelching, a member of the Board of Education in Fall Creek.

FAMILY LIFE WORKSHOP IS HELD AT STOUT

Dr. Evelyn Millis Duvall, Executive Secretary on the National Council of Family Relations, directed a highly informative and inspirational workshop on Family Life Education for a group of 70 ministers, teachers, parents, and grandparents.

Dr. Duvall, sponsored by Wisconsin Home Economics Association, began the workshop by indicating some of the trends in study and education for family life. She first pointed out that there is a growing interest in the field brought on partly by the impact of war on the family with resultant instability and increased youthful marriages. A few of the facts she stated were: There is a very large increase in number of men marrying under 20 years of age as compared to "Grandpa's" day; we are undoubtedly the most married people in the world, for over 80% of our marriageable age population are married while other countries have a much lower percentage. Our women, contrary to popular belief, are more often married now than heretofore; that is, in 1890, 50% of our marriageable women were single but in 1949 only 20% were left unmarried. The age for these marriages has also dropped, for in 1890 most women tended to be about 22 years old, but now most of them are about 20 for their first marriage. Men too have shown a comparable drop in age for first marriage: 1890 — 26 years, 1950 — 24 years.

Dr. Duvall also stated that the increased moving of people, the crowding and shortages, and the separation of families because of work and war have not only increased our problems but increased interest in study of the family.

Many things are being done toward furthering this education at the present time. There is an increasing supply of good teaching materials, and a greater tendency to bring into the discussion problems that are comparable to ones the students are facing and will face, in order to help them not only at the present time but also in their future family living.

Mrs. Duvall, a mother of two girls, stressed the importance of giving help in family living at all ages. As a family grows and changes in actions, the parents are constantly called upon to make decisions in situations in which they would like to have some help.

At the conclusion of Dr. Duvall's talk, there was a period for bringing out group questions which were used as the basis for the afternoon discussion.

Following the discussion, tea was served for Dr. Duvall and the consultants from the University of Wisconsin by members of the Phi Upsilon Omicron sorority.

Famous Radio, Television Team To Appear At Lyceum Here October 19th

The Cavallaires male quartet of Chicago, of radio and television fame, will be featured at the opening lyceum Friday, Oct. 19, in the Stout auditorium at 8 p.m.

The quartet is composed of Roy Glahn, "top tenor"; Ralph Nielsen, tenor; Gerald Smith, baritone; and Robert Morton, bass. As a quartet they have appeared on the Harvest of Stars (CBS Network), Treasury of Music (WCFL), radio, and on the NBC Television show, Garroway-At-Large, the Norman Ross show and Hawkins Falls dramatic show.

Individually as soloists, they have appeared on practically every major network program which emanates from Chicago, including Mutual's Chicago Theater of the Air; Hymns of All Churches (ABC Network); Music from the Heart of America (NBC). They have also sung for practically all of Chicago's finest broadcasts.

One music critic recently wrote of their appearance in an open air concert with "press-agent" enthusiasm:

"To lovers of male quartet music, nothing quite can compare with the rich luscious harmony conjured up by four well-matched male voices. The Cavallaires are four highly skilled specialists, each a soloist of some distinction in his own right. They have accomplished much in the perfect blending of their voices."

ENGLISH PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY MAP GROUP

Practice for "The Bishop Misbehaves," the fall production of the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, is now underway. The play will be given Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 8, 9, and 10.

The story takes place in England and so as might be expected there is the added challenge of producing the correct British accent. There are several different British accents used in the play and the members of the staff can be heard experimenting with different types of voices to sound like those of Charles Laughtin, Ronald Coleman, or Herbert Marshall. The cockney accent is one that is also required in the play. This dialect is characteristic of those residing in the East end of London.

Building the set which consists of two complete sets has been undertaken by the play-production class. The first scene takes place in a pub, or as it is called by its proper name, a "public house." The other scene is in the room in the Bishop of Broadminsters' home. Building and painting the necessary properties, such as the bar, is also being done by the play-production class.

SSA MESSAGE

The SSA officers at this time all join in saying thank you to all of you who helped with the 1951 homecoming. Were it not for the excellent cooperation we received, the homecoming would have been a mess. CONGRATULATIONS TO THE PARADE WINNERS!

The governing board and the officers feel that the SSA activities are not reaching all of the students. Therefore, a committee is in the process of being organized to gain insight into the needs of students at Stout. If you have any suggestions, be sure to give them to a member of the board or an SSA officer. Also you should be prepared to write a questionnaire which may be used in the near future.

To alleviate the lack of tables, the SSA has purchased one dozen card tables. These tables are for the use of all groups. We would like to see more use of tables at dances. If the

During the first few weeks of school each year it is not an uncommon sight to see new students wearing their high school sweaters with letters and chevrons attached.

These sweaters are a mark of distinction, to be sure, but it is a policy at Stout that the only letter which can be worn is the blue "S". Now don't throw away your sweater or send it home; just remove your high school letter, that is all that is asked.

Both girls and boys can win an "S"; the girls by earning points in W.A.A., and the boys by participating in any of the athletic activities of which there are football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and golf. Also the rifle club which has its own letter design with two rifles through the letter.

These are the ways to win an "S", and of course not everyone can win one. This makes it a privilege and an honor to have one, therefore the S-Club asks that all high school letters be removed when on campus.

GAMMA DELTA GROUP DISCUSSES INITIATION

The Gamma Pi chapter of Gamma Delta held their regular meeting in the Parish Hall of St. Paul's Church last Sunday evening. Plans for attending the hay ride this Sunday evening were discussed. This hay ride will be sponsored by the Wesley Fellowship. It was decided that since so many of the students will be going home this weekend a slip will be posted on which members wishing to attend may sign.

The executive committee met this week to make plans for the initiation of new members which will be held on October 21 at 7:30 in the evening. Any one wishing to join may come to this meeting.

Bible discussion was led by Rev. Pankow and singing by Leslie Kehl, who is a parochial school teacher. The meeting then adjourned to the parish house where refreshments were served. Howie Knop took charge of the recreation.

TV SET IS RESULT OF SCHOOL COOPERATION

During the past summer the Mac-Garvy Coffee Company of Minnesota paid for the installation of our TV set in the Union. The amount of the installation was $202 and with the set itself this brings the total cost up to about $500. The set was paid for by the saving of the red stickers from the Flame Room coffee.

The securing of the set, which is highly enjoyed by the school, was a cooperative adventure of the school, city, faculty, and the coffee company. It should long remind us of the fine spirit on which all of the various groups that entered into this project and made it the huge success it is.

At this writing Christmas vacation dates have not yet been decided. However, as soon as we know we shall pass the information on to you. See you after the long weekend!!!

DR. ANDERSON SPEAKS AT WAUSAU MEET

Dr. Stuart Anderson, Associate Professor of Education, was a speaker at the industrial arts sectional meeting of the Central Wisconsin Teachers' Association which was held at the Wausau senior high school, Friday October 5.

Dr. Anderson's topic "Is This Industrial Arts?" concerns a study of extra work assignments received by shop teachers. The nature of the requests, who made them, when the work was done, who did the work, and benefits derived will be presented. Criteria for accepting extra work in the school shop also will be suggested.

HOMECOMING PARADE IS JUDGED A SUCCESS

The 1951 homecoming parade last Saturday was a big success. There was a large variety of interesting floats which were all very good. The S.T.S. took first place in the most keeping with the theme division. They did so by portraying a devil taking care of a giant drumstick. The S.M.A.'s lovely roses won them first place with the most beautiful float. The Sigma's, needless to say, had the most humorous float with their zany dog show. We're glad to see that everyone did such a bang-up job to make our parade a success.

SIGMA BREAKFAST IS HELD AT WAKANDA PARK

The Sigma Fraternity held its annual homecoming breakfast at 7:00 a.m. Saturday morning, October 6, in the pavilion at Wakanda Park. Dick Johnson, Harry Halvorson, and Wally Parsek were in charge of the food which consisted of tomato juice, pancakes, pork sausages, and coffee.

The fraternity's two advisors, Dr. Agnew and Dr. Oetting, and many of the alumni were present. After a few short talks the members adjourned to work on their float.

HYPERIAN BREAKFAST HELD AT MARION HOTEL

On Saturday, October 6, the Hyperian Sorority held their annual alumni homecoming breakfast at nine o'clock at the Hotel Marion.

Twenty-four members, with Miss Carrison Hyperian advisor, Dean Antrim, and eighteen alumni attended.

The pledges furnished the entertainment for the breakfast.

The menu for the occasion consisted of a fruit cup, scrambled eggs and ham, cranberries, muffins, coffee or milk.

What a terrific homecoming we had this year. Everyone seemed to be having such a wonderful time.

Many of the alumni were back to date their Stout "flames". Donna Jens came to see Joe Brejcha, and Jean Pickerign, who is teaching near Menomonie, came back to see Cornelius Mahoney. Joe Miglio was also here for the weekend. He took Ann Rossmiller to the homecoming dance.

Jean Bulmer was seen with Bob Miller, and Bob Morris who is teaching in Michigan was with Catherine Magee. This seems to be getting pretty serious.

Gordy Goessner came back for homecoming and made his visit more enjoyable by taking Elaine Blaser to the dance.

There were others who imported their "special" dates for the exciting weekend. Some of the lucky people were Donna Ebert and Louie Court.

The strictly Stout people seen at the dance were Jan Benedict with Paul Kokobun, June Higgins with Jim Tomita, and Carol Zuege with Alex (the enthusiastic drummer).

SECURE RESERVATIONS FOR ALUMNI DINNER

Word has been received that reservations are becoming scarce for the Alumni dinner being sponsored at the Delta Machinery Plant in Milwaukee, Thursday, November 1, during the Wisconsin Education Association convention. Because of the limited facilities of the plant cafeteria the number of reservations will be limited to 125. If you plan to attend secure your reservations soon from Frank Dummman, Allman-Chistensen Paper Co., 191 North Broadway, Milwaukee.

JACK BONGEY WRITES FROM GERMANY

Jack R. Bongey recently sent the following letter to say "Hello": "Just a short note to let all my friends at Stout know that I am now stationed in Germany. I would greatly appreciate hearing from 'you all', (I am in Southern Germany) and will answer any and all letters. I am still in an Ordnance company and am waiting assignment to an Ordnance battalion. In other words we are more or less just sitting around waiting for orders to begin operation. I understand that all draftees have been extended three months so that will end my expectations of teaching school next year.

H. A. TICE TELLS OF FIRST FOOTBALL TEAM

First Regularly Scheduled Games of the Blue and White Took Place in 1911

The following letter is from H.A. Tice, instructor at Technical high school, St. Cloud, Minn., who was a member of the first football team to play a regular schedule for Stout. It was written October 2, but did not arrive in time for the Homecoming issue. However, it will be of interest to all Stout alumni.

I notice that on October 5 the students and alumni are celebrating homecoming with all the many activities and fine spirit which have always prevailed at Stout.

I had hoped to be back for homecoming this year, not as a member of the championship team of 1921, but as a member of the first football team to play a regular schedule under the Blue and White.

I quote from page 103 of the 1912 Stout annual:

"... The Institute this year for the first time in its history was represented by a football team, which participated in representative games with other schools.

Several years ago a football team was organized in Stout, but in the first preliminary game a number of serious injuries took place, and it was deemed advisable to abolish it. The students this year, at the meeting of the Athletic Association, on October 14, 1911, decided to again take up the if the consent of the faculty could be obtained. A committee was appointed to consult President Harvey in regard to the matter, and his consent to play was finally obtained.

The team's showing was excellent, taking into account the fact that practice was not started until late in the season, and that no assistance was received from a regular coach.

The Athletic Association authorized the purchasing of suits and instructed Mr. Edick, our manager to arrange a schedule with other schools...

There are several members of that first team still teaching in this area: Weston Mitchell, Karl Patrick, and Walter Anderson, all of Minneapolis; Harry Nelson, Wausau; Walter Durbin, Gilbert, Minnesota; and myself. I do not know the location of the other members who are still alive.

I am sure that all of the members of that first football team would wish you the greatest success for your homecoming on this fortieth anniversary of Stout football.

Sincerely yours,
H. A. Tice

PHILO INITIATION IS HELD OCTOBER 4TH

On October 4, the Philomathean Sorority held its informal initiation of the new pledges at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McCollough. After the business meeting and work on the Philo homecoming float, coffee and chocolate fudge cake were served.

Pledges of the Philomathean Sorority are Phyllis Allman, Donna Anderson, Joyce Applegren, Sally Hauser, Jo Hosford, Betty Kane, Jeanette Oetting, Barbara Schabacker, Carolyn Schauf, and Phyllis Spaulding.

10 PLEDGES ACCEPTED BY SMA SORORITY

After the succession of rushing parties and the signing of preference lists, the SMA Sorority found itself richer by ten pledges. The SMA rushing party took place Sunday night and was followed by a forty-eight hour period of silence. During these hours until the final signing of preference lists, sorority members and rushees could not associate or speak.

On Wednesday letters of invitation were sent out post haste to the new pledges. The girls receiving the SMA invitations were Nancy Ceaglske, Ann Ritzinger, Joan Christensen, Joyce DeVries, Marilyn Eckstein, Janice Herzog, Grace Laudon, Jean Parsons, Fran Soulek, and Louise Zirbel. You can spot the SMA pledges by their black and white pledge ribbons which they wear at all times.

The pledging period will last until the formal initiation which will be held in the near future.

Grocer: "Now that I have given you a job I must tell you that early hours are the rule in this store."
New Boy: "That's good. You can't close too early for me."

PA PLEDGES ARE ACCEPTED AT INITIATION

The Pallas Athene sorority held its informal initiation Thursday, October 4. Ten girls were admitted to the sorority as pledges. The Pallas Athene pledges are: Jeanette Benedict, Lois Peterson, Iris Ruf, Carol Zuege, Virginia Jacobson, Doris Beyer, Roberta Harris, Dorothy Gargulak, Marietta Thomas and Mary Ann Smith.

HYPERIAN PARTY HELD AT ED TRINKO HOME

On Thursday evening, October 11, at the Ed Trinko residence, the Hyperian Sorority held an informal pledge party for their ten new pledges who are: Nancy Bunker, Lois Feggestad, Audrey Goodell, Mary Ann Helmerman, Dorothy Hilton, Elizabeth Kasson, Betty Kleist, Alice Kelly, Jeanette Smith, and Jane Shadewald.

During the pledge ceremony each prospective member was given a pledge pin to be worn until the formal initiation.

After the regular business meeting, refreshments consisting of devil's food cake and coffee were served by Donna Krisik and Katie Ziehm.

BLUE DEVILS IN ROAD TRIP TO PLATTEVILLE TO PLAY 3RD CONFERENCE GAME TOMORROW

Big Line Highlights

Tough Pioneer Squad

Football coach Tony Storti will take his red hot Stout eleven to night with an eye for a third conference win.

The Blue Devils, who have piled up an impressive 57 points to their opponents seven in league play this year for the best conference record in that column are in the midst of a four game winning streak and have no intention of dropping out of the championship race via a loss to Platteville. Beating Platteville, however, might prove to be more of a chore than the Blue Devils have come up against so far this season.

The Pioneers, in dropping an easy win to the powerful La Crosse Indians last weekend by a score of 32-14, limited the Indians to a meagre 58 yards through the air in that game to pose an obvious threat to the air minded Stout eleven who have been winning games regularly through their passing attack.

A line made up exclusively of lettermen that averages 200 pounds and features 280 pound letterman Chuck Abrahamson from Sturgeon Bay at tackle should also prove to be a slight deterrent to Blue Devil hopes for an easy victory.

Cosch Storti has been working his charges hard for the past week with emphasis mostly on pass defense and protection against end runs on the agenda at Nelson Field.

The thirteen lettermen that form the nucleus for a hard hitting Platteville eleven which sports a deceptive one lost, one tied record for the year, provide some of the best potential in the conference. Among these men are such men as Ronnie Holtan, 173 pound left half who was all state material last year, letterman Dale Marquardt, a fast nd shifty runner who has averaged nearly ten yards per try so far this year; Stan Zenz, 165 lb. quarterback who, in addition to being a crafty signal caller has averaged 45 yards in his punts so far this season and thereby possesses a talent that the Blue Devils have not met yet this season; and Tom Koch, one of the Pioneer's leading ground gainers from last year rom the fullback spot.

"S" CLUB REQUESTS HIGH SCHOOL LETTERS BE REMOVED

It has been customary in the past years to see only the Varsity "S" worn on letter sweaters on the campus, and it is the wishes of the "S" to continue this practice during the coming year, stated Eugene Weigel, President of the "S" club.

President Weigel also expressed his desire to see all strange letter jackets and sweaters that have been seen on the campus suddenly disappear. The Varsity "S" is won by being an active participant in athletics for Stout, and these winners of the "S" are proud of their achievement.

PA ALUMNI BREAKFAST HELD AT ANCHOR CAFE

The annual Pallas Athene homecoming alumni breakfast was held Saturday, October 6, at 9:00 a.m. at the Anchor Cafe. The theme of the breakfast was a family reunion.

The first year alumni attending were: Ann Banker, Jean Archie, Mary Lou Groom, Jean Bulmer, Jerri Plezinski, and Bernice Danzinger. Joan Brack and Bea Anderson who are working in Minneapolis were also present. Many other alumnae were also at the breakfast.

Short talks were given by each returning alumni, and original songs were sung by the pledges.

The menu consisted of fresh pears, ham souffle, assorted breakfast rolls, and coffee.

KFS BREAKFAST IS ENJOYED BY ALUMNI

The annual Kappa Phi Sigma Homecoming breakfast was held Sunday morning, October 7, at 8:30 a.m. As in previous years, the breakfast was again held at the Anchor Cafe.

After the delicious meal of wheat-cakes and sausages, a short informal meeting was held. President Sig Warda introduced the following pledges to the group: Howard Vetter, Noel Lehner, Lawrence Styer, Elmer Lemke, Wally Metling, Ed Prah, Joe Luetkemeyer, Francis Oberpriller, and Neil Hoepfner. Pledge Larry Temple was unable to attend.

The following alumni members were present and were called upon to introduce themselves to the group: Bill McKenna, Bill Albrecht, Vaughn Stai, Jim Bailey, Jerry Zelenka, Clancy Uranker, Jerry Larson, Ed Paul, Keith Moon, and Wesley Slough.

Dr. Stuart Anderson and Mr. Ralph Betterley, group advisors, were also called upon for short talks.

The group was well pleased with the large number of alumni who were able to attend. It is hoped that this fine turnout will be continued in the future.

DEVILS DEFEAT GULLS 19 - 0

Three perfectly executed plays gave Stout three touchdowns and their fourth straight win of the year, the second in college conference, as Coach Tony Storti's Blue Devils downed a hard charging line from Milwaukee 19 to 0 at Nelson field for the Saturday Homecoming treat..

Stout had a little edge all through the game, but as late as five minutes into the fourth quarter, they had a bare 6 to 0 lead. Then a bad pass by the Milwaukee center with Myron Sheben, of Stout recovering on the 31 yard line set up the second Stout score.

And just a little later in the fourth quarter Paul Christopherson intercepted a Milwaukee pass and ran it to the Green Gull 37 yard line. Stout scored again in three plays.

The first Stout score, which covered 73 yards, and came without warning with less than two minutes before the half when Milwaukee punted to Mc Namara on the Milwaukee 18. Red Walker made nine through tackle. Bill Kieffer threw a long pass to Herb Markley who went over for the first T.D.

Stouts second touchdown, after five minutes of the fourth quarter, came on the same play, only this time Fandry caught the ball in the end zone on a 25 yard heave.

The last touchdown was a 16 yard pitch from Gale Woelffer, quarterback to Markley, who could have lateraled and led interference, but he was in the clear himself and ran over.

EPT INITIATES 21 NEW MEMBERS

21 MEMBERS ADMITTED TO STOUT EPT CHAPTER

Formal Initiation Held Oct. 6

At Hotel Marion. Burton L. Nelson Speaks at Banquet

Twenty-one new members were initiated into Theta Chapter, Epsilon Pi Tau, at the formal initiation held Saturday morning, October 6. After the ceremony the new members and the initiation team lined up for a group picture, and then proceeded to the Marion Hotel for a banquet for all members.

The new members of Theta Chapter had been given a strenuous oral examination on Wednesday evening, October 3. Dean Clyde A. Bowman announced the results of the examination Saturday morning at 10, and at 10:30 the new members were initiated. The members of the initiation team were Earl R. Herring, Phillip Ruehl, George Stephenson, William Jokkel, Robert Swanson, H. Richard Smock, Robert J. Berg, and Dean Clyde A. Bowman.

The new members are James Anderson, DeForest Bergvall, Lawrence Bohn, Wayne Coleman, John Fryklund, Curtis Gehling, Marvin Krueger, Ken Lantto, Lorin Larson, Joe Luetkemeyer, Raymond Luhrs, Jack Luy, John Mahoney, Walter Parsek, Jack Rupert, Albert Spanheimer, Robert Spinti, Robert Vilmann, John Wenstadt, Cliff Westphal, and James Zeasman.

The new members were the guests of the chapter at the Marion Hotel. After the dinner, Earl Herring, president of Theta Chapter, welcomed the new members and visiting members. President Herring introduced Burton E. Nelson, former president of The Stout Institute. Mr. Nelson spoke briefly about the happiest years of his life which were spent in teaching.

Mr. Ray A. Wigen, Director of Graduate Studies, The Stout Institute, delivered an address to the group on "The Implications of the Graduate Program." Mr. Wigen stressed the fact that educational problems are becoming more complicated, and there lies the need for graduate study. He also mentioned the Prosser Resolution, whereby the 60% were being neglected.

DAD'S DAY TO BEGIN WITH BANQUET SAT.

Saturday, October 20, is Dad's Day on the Stout Campus and Nelson field. Over 50 dads and sponsors will attend the banquet tomorrow noon to begin the week end event.

The main speaker for the banquet will be President Rexford S. Mitchell of La Crosse. The team and their fathers or sponsors will be guests at this banquet sponsored by the Athletic department.

A regular program has been scheduled by the department and the "S" Club, and the Dads will be introduced at half time of the game.

The mothers will not be forgotten either. The Intersorority Council is planning an afternoon for them including a tea in the afternoon.

MANAGEMENT HOUSE CHANGES OCCUPANTS

Six weeks have passed and nine senior girls have left the Home Management House in order to make room for nine new occupants. The nine girls leaving the house are Doris Heil, Shirley Carlson, Marlys Larrabee, Pat Shriner, Ann Grutzik, Jane Martinson, Betty Holenweg, Joan Schwannemann, and Jean Pengilly.

The duties of the house are divided into the following: waitress, house repair, head cook, assistant cook, hostess, guest, laundress, housekeeper on 1st floor, and housekeeper on 2nd floor. Each girl spends approximately three days on each duty, depending on the number of occupants.

Faculty members Dean Kirk, Miss Carrison, Miss Amon, and Miss Cox were dinner guests of the residents on October 9th. The menu consisted of grilled ham slices with pineapple rings, caudied sweet potatoes, creamed green beans, cranberry mold salad, hot rolls, butter, ice cream, coconut macaroons, and coffee. General chairman of the event was Jean Pengilly assisted by Pat Shriner, Betty Holenweg, and Shirley Carlson.

The new inmates of the house since October 15th are Rose Grzadziewski, Dorothy Hardies, Gerda Ravnholt, Roberta Hutchinson, Lois Subitch, Ruth Larson, Pat Allard, Loree Woolen, and Eleanor Ushijima.

DR. TARBELL TO SPEAK AT CONVOCATION

"Dreams for Sale" is the title Dr. Harlen Tarbell, noted psychologist, has given the lecture he will deliver to the Stout students and faculty at convocation, Wednesday, October 24.

Dr. Tarbell will present his program in the form of a psychological lecture. As a magician and mentalist, teacher psychologist, and author, Dr. Tarbell is world famous; thrilling the millions of people hearing him as he will you Wednesday.

Dr. Tarbell was recently the national president of Society of American Magicians. He is also creator of over 200 magical mysteries, many of which are world famous. He has been associated with Dr. A.A. Low in the development of Recovery Associations for the adjustment of mental cases through group therapy and training. As an author he has written fifteen books. These are but a few of Dr. Tarbell's many accomplishments.

After you have seen his program you may be making statements such as this one of Lowell Thomas's: "I could sit at Dr. Tarbell's feet all night."

L.S.A. - WESLEY HAYRIDE IS ENJOYED BY ALL

Sunday night, October 14, L.S.A. and Wesley held a hayride. L.S.A. was in charge of the food which consisted of chili, molded vegetable salad, baked apples, and coffee. Supper was served in the Peace Lutheran Church.

Kappa Phi Sigma To Sponsor Dad's Day Dance; Prizes, Entertainment Features

A night of bargains is about to take place. This Saturday night the Kappa Phi Sigma, fraternity proudly presents their initial dance of the season. They have tried this year to present to the students of Stout a program of unequalled entertainment value.

Not only will The Stout Institute be the center of the football game of the week, but also the wraps will be removed from the first of a series of sensational entertainment programs which will be sponsored by Kappa Phi Sigma.

Immediately following the grueling battle of the gridiron, the doors will open to the evening's entertainment at Ye Olde Stout Gym.

At the entrance, the Dads will receive a super bargain. Parents attending the dance will be admitted under the policy of two for the price of one. Along with this, the Dads will be presented with a free cigar.

All persons attending are eligible to receive the door prize by the simple process of handing in their admission ticket with their name and address written on the back.

A scintillating variety of dance music will be furnished by "Pop" Soderberg and his Royal Blackhaws from immediately after the game until 12:00 p.m.

Along with this dance program, KFS will present intermission entertainment at 11. The featured guests at this intermission will be Mr. Paul Kokubun and his still-secret troupe.

The master of ceremonies for this eventful occasion will be Jack Luy. At the intermission Jack will present to the lucky winner a 72" by 84" Prudence Pepperell blanket.

SOPHS THANK BUSINESSMEN FOR HOMECOMING HELP

The sophomore class wishes to extend its appreciation to all the businessmen of Menomonie who donated space in their store windows and helped decorate the town for the 1951 Stout homecoming.

COOKERY CLASS ENJOYS TWO FIELD TRIPS

Last Friday, October 12, one half of the Quantity Cookery class made a field trip to St. Paul. The class has been making this trip annually now for the past five years. The first stop of the trip was at the St. Paul Hotel where the group made an inspection tour of the kitchens, banquet rooms, and butcher rooms. The next stop was at the Joesting and Schilling Company. Here the group looked at various equipment used for large scale cooking. Some of this equipment included steam tables, dish washing machines, hotel china and silverware, etc. The group lunched at the Rose Tea Room of the Emporium. After lunch the girls visited the Anchor Hospital. This visit was of special interest because four former Stout graduates are on the staff there. After being conducted thru the milk laboratories, the special diet kitchens, main kitchens, and ward kitchens, the girls were served supper. This was a very profitable as well as interesting trip.

Today, Friday, October 19, another group of girls from the Quantity Cookery class are making a trip to Minneapolis. Here they will visit the Minnesota University Hospital, the Curtis Hotel, and the Dayton Sky Room. The trip will be similar to the one last week in the respect that the girls will be inspecting the same sort of thing. This trip was made during the summer and is being repeated because it is so very interesting and educational.

BLOOD DONOR UNIT TO BE AT STOUT NOV. 9

Notice!! Two hundred and fifty applicants are needed to donate blood at the Red Cross Blood Donor's drive at The Stout Institute for Stout students only on Friday, November 9, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Everyone who can is asked to donate a half pint of blood. Now is your chance to show your appreciation to the fellows who are fighting and dying for us. The Red Cross states that more blood than ever before is needed now.

Charles Schiferl, SSA president is in charge of recruiting students and arranging for the Red Cross at Stout. Contact Charlie if you wish to donate blood.

DIETETICS CLUB TO HOLD FIELD TRIP

On October 26, the Dietetics Club will take a field trip to Rochester, Minn. At Rochester they will visit St. Mary's Hospital, The Mayo Clinic and The Mayo Foundation Museum of Hygiene and Medicine.

Also on the itinerary is a tour of the Pine Island Cheese Mart and supper at Grandma Anderson's in Wabasha. Miss Killian and Miss Meiller will accompany the group.

STATE MEET TO BE HELD BY WESLEY

The Methodist Student Movement of Wisconsin will hold its annual State Conference at Stout this weekend, October 19-21.

In attendance will be members of MSM, their counselors and pastors. There will be about 100 students from about 15 Wisconsin colleges.

The headline speaker will be Dr. Margon Williams. His talks will be in coordination with the theme of the conference, "A World Mission Challenges the Student."

Radio And TV Artists To Begin Lyceum Series At Auditorium Tonight

The Cavallaires male quartet will open the lyceum series for this year tonight at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium.

This quartet which has appeared on numerous radio programs as a unit is composed of four very talented members. Roy Glahn, the "top tenor" began his musical career as a violinist rather than a tenor. He has played violin with concert orchestras and several dance bands famous in the Chicago area. His lyric tenor voice will be heard in solos as well as blended with the quartet.

Ralph Nielsen, lyric tenor of the quartet, has been heard in more than 700 solo radio broadcasts over the NBC, Columbia, Mutual, and ABC networks. He was tenor soloist nine times in the oratorio "The Messiah" last December.

Baritone Gerald Smith was solo artist with the St. Louis Municipal Opera, and he is the regular baritone for the Chicago Sunday Evening Club in Orchestra Hall.

A "glamour personality" is attributed to Robert Morton, basso of the group. He was formerly vocal soloist with Xavier Cugat's band until he decided to stop traveling and established a home in Chicago.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

"What's the matter with the team? They're all right!" That is the way he yell goes. Why doesn't the student body also? Sure, we all stand up and "holler" when the Blue Devils score a touchdown, but how about when the boys are pushing the ball up the field or holding the opponent at bay? We haven't heard much to date. Even at the pep meetings over half the student body is missing. Are you afraid to let the team know you are behind them all the way?

Tommorrow night the Blue Devils play LaCrosse in what shapes up as the biggest tilt of the season. Lets hear the support all thru the game. Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar; All Stout students stand up and holler!

BOARD NEWS

The National Manufacturing Association has invited one college student from each state to attend their national congress in New York from December 5 to 7 with all expenses paid. The student selected will stay at the Waldorf Astoria during his visit there.

The Student Governing Board selected five candidates of which one will finally be picked to compete with the other colleges in the state for this trip. They are: Charles Schiferl, Bob Berg, Jim Cook, Bev Hedlund, and Charmaine Chopp. These students must be a resident of Wisconsin.

Next the Board discussed the football schedule for 1952-53 as was set up by the Athletic Department. As you know, the teams in Wisconsin were split into two divisions, the northern and southern with five teams per division. Two changes were recommended on the 1952 schedule and the 1953 was approved as stands.

Gaylord Boyer submitted a request for the Sig Tau to sell candy-coated apples and peanuts at the football games. This request was granted.

The Student Governing Board approved a proposal to grant courtesy cards to teachers and all employees of Stout Institute. These cards will admit the bearer to all-school activities at the same price which the students pay.

The board also appointed an assistant secretary ex-officio to aid the secretary of the Student Governing Board.

Judge: "Have you anything to offer the court before sentence is passed on you?"
Prisoner: "No, your honor, my lawyer took my last dollar."

Dear fellow students,

Like many of our Stout friends we "took off" from the campus for the long week end (not the lost week end) last week. We had a wonderful time at home so we hope that you will try to be a little understanding as to the size of this week's column. However, we did find out some of the antics carried out by the remaining student body.

It seems that there were only two or three girls at Tainter Annex but we understand that John Christensen and Francis Oberpriller took care of that situation.... 'enuf said....

Gay Roe left a very lonesome Betty in Menomonie when he went home for the week end. Betty now has Gay's class ring, lucky girl!

A group of senior girls went to Ashland to attend Northland's homecoming last week end. We could easily tell by the happy tired faces on Donna, Doris, and Isabel.

Chuck Vasis came up from Chicago to see Dorothy Gulbrandson. From here they journeyed to her home town of Cloquet, Minnesota.

Some of the newer couples on the campus have come to our attention. Dorothy Gargulak has been seen with Don Sargent, and Mary Betzel with Jerry Schemanski. Mary has Jerry's class ring.

Ann Rossmiller, Nadine Brown, Lois Bredlow, and Dorothy Messerschmidt are going to Madison for a convention this week end. Word has it that Ann has other reasons too.

ALUMNI MEET IS HELD AT EAU CLAIRE

Forty Alumni and Stout faculty held a dinner meeting at the YMCA dining room during the NWTCA convention in Eau Claire last Friday. Adrian Burmeister, president of the Chippewa Valley chapter of the Alumni Association, was general chairman for the event.

Following the dinner, Mr. Cartford of Eau Claire showed a series of slides of a bicycle trip taken in England, France, Belgium, and Germany last summer. Mr. Cartford studied music in Norway as a Fullbright scholar last year and made his bicycle trip following the completion of school.

TWIN CITY ALUMNI TO HOLD BREAKFAST

Word was recently received from Mr. and Mrs. Ted Teschke:

"Ted is teaching this year at Butternut. He has two classes of Industrial Arts and General Science and Physics. His shop classes consist largely of woodwork and drawing."

"We have a small boy age fourteen months. And like all toddlers of that age, he is into everything. In fact, he isn't still one second while he is awake."

SIGMA INITIATION FOR NEW MEMBERS

The Sigma Fraternity's initiation was held at the Hide-a-way Cafe, Oct. 11, at 6:30 p.m.

Present at the initiation were the four new pledges, Donald Leach, Thomas Williams, Claude Kline, Roy Willmarth, twenty regular members of Sigma, and the fraternity advisors.

An important feature of the initiation was the banquet supper. The main course consisted of a choice of steak or family-style chicken.

The Sigma formal initiation ceremony for the four new pledges took place immediately following the banquet supper.

Concluding the activities of the evening, all of the Sigma members present held a short business meeting immediately following the initiation ceremony.

11 PLEDGES ARE ADMITTED TO SIG TAU

Wednesday, October 10 saw eleven pledges formally initiated into the Alpha Kappa chapter of Stout's national social fraternity, Sigma Tau Gamma. A banquet which followed the initiation was a fitting climax to "Hell Week". The members were well pleased with the manner and spirit in which the pledges carried out their duties and are indeed happy to welcome the new members.

The new brothers are: Robert Adkins, William Anderson, Fred Bahr, David Bieniasz, Roland Blohm, Fred Kajihara, Kenneth Lantto, Jerry Schemansky, Norman Schultz, Bill Sherman, and Robert Spinti.

"Hell Week" for Stouts social fraternities started October 4 at 5:00 and the pledges for Sigma Tau Gamma were easily recognized with their blue and white helmets, shields, and swords. A few of the activities carried out by Sig Tau pledges were: a pledge faculty dinner in the cafeteria, door guard at the H E building, the sounding of the time of day, the gathering of "Rose Cards", carrying football bleachers, a box lunch in the cafeteria, etc.

The initiation banquet was held at the La Corte Cafe with steak, salad, baked potatoes, creamed corn, bread and butter, and ice cream being served. Each new member said a few words to the group after the banquet. President John Myers, advisor Mr. John Jarvis, and others welcomed the new members into Sigma Tau Gamma.

BLUE DEVILS TO FACE UNDEFEATED LA CROSSE

Conference Championship Possible For Winner Of Tomorrow Night's Tussle

Coach Tony Storti's enlivened Blue Devil eleven, fresh from a decisive 25-6 victory at Platteville last week end are preparing for what local opinion would call the biggest game of the season tomorrow night against La-Crosse State Teachers' College, last year's undefeated conference co-champs and Cigar Bowl victors. The game will take place at 8:00 p.m. at Nelson Field.

La Crosse, repeating a familiar performance from past years, is sport ing an undefeated record in conference play so far this season, and a-long with Whitewater and Stout, now holds one corner of a three-way tie for the conference top, with a 3-0 record.

Fans from Whitewater, which will not play either team this season, are looking for an underdog Stout squad to play La Crosse to a tie game and thus neck both strong teams from the running for conference championship.

The La Crosse Indians, who were hurt perceptibly at the beginning of the season by graduation, which took ten lettermen and dropped a close one to Gustavus Adolphus. Since that time, however, the Indians have shaped up to resemble the formidable team that racked up 391 points to their opponents 70 last year, and which crushed a weak Oshkosh squad last weekend by a murderous score..

Coach Storti will have a hard nut to crack when his eleven meets the Indians tomorrow night. With a crack at the conference championship at stake, Storti will have little or no knowledge of La Crosse trick plays. The powerful Indians have gotten almost all their yardage so far this right up the field; through, not a-round, their opponent's defensive line. In playing the bottom of the conference so far this season, they have hardly had to exert themselves much less show Stout spotters their big plays.

Stout will, in effect, be pitting an offense which depends on passing against a hard charging line that has torn apart every defense thrown a-against it this season.

With the Blue Devils fired up for their biggest game tomorrow night, anything could happen. The Blue Devil defensive line will have to be at peak performance to slow up the vicious Indian scoring game, but the precision part of the game will rest mainly on the shoulders of quarter back Gale Woelffer, half back Bill Kieffer, and ends Markley and Roloff who will be called upon to pass Stout to a victory.

Storti, who has been drilling the team hard all week in preparation for the big game will probably start Debrauske, Markley, Roloff, Wagner, Kieffer, Hein, Nessler, Schmidt, Turk, J. Krall, and Lausted.

PHILO BREAKFAST IS HELD ON OCTOBER 6

On Saturday, October 6, at 9:00 a. m. the Philomathean Sorority met at the Episcopal church for its annual alumni breakfast. The breakfast, which consisted of orange juice, scrambled eggs and ham, muffins, doughnuts, and coffee, was followed by talks by president, Lois Subitch, vice-president, Nancy Folkestad, and returning alumni members.

BLACK CAT DANCE TO BE HELD OCTOBER 26

Come on felines, grab your tom and head for the Black Cat Scramble next Saturday, Oct. 26, in the gym. The Home Economics Club is sponsoring this dance, and they feel that as long as the girls are the originators, they should have the privilege of asking the fellow of their choice. As a result, this is called a turn-about dance.

Dancing will last from 8 to 11 p.m. The admission charge is only twenty-five cents per couple, so girls, be sure you get your date early for this pre-halloween dance.

his Bachelor of Science degree in June.

Mr. Eugene Hein, father of Ted and grandfather of Mikie, will participate in the Dad's Day festivities as one of the 50 fathers from throughout the Northwest traveling to the Stout campus for the celebration. Mr. Hein is looking forward to the big day when he will again see his son, Ted, in action on the Stout gridiron.

Mr. Hein, a long time football fan, resides in Marshfield, Wisconsin. He is employed as a mill worker in the city. This will be the last time that Mr. Hein will be able to see one of his descendants play in a football game. It will be a number of years before his grandson will be playing the game.

Mikie is experiencing his first year of football. Mikie was born the evening following last year's Dad's Day game. Mikie lives with his parents at Stout Court, Veteran Housing Unit on the Stout Campus. He will not be in the stands Saturday night, but he can rest assured that he will hear of the game from his grandfather the morning after, or from his father for the years to come.

DR. ANDERSON GIVES REPORT ON SURVEY

Should pupils in industrial education shop courses pay for the materials they use? If they should pay, when should the money be collected? What is the average charge to students who pay for the materials used?

Writing in the October 1951 issue of the "American School Board Journal," Dr. Stuart Anderson, associate Professor of education division, The Stout Institute, reports the results of a survey made to determine existing practices in Wisconsin schools.

Dr Anderson reports that in all but one city, high school pupils taking industrial education subjects paid for materials used, while only 4.2 percent reported a flat course fee.

In 85 percent of the schools, the shop instructor collected the fees, while in 11.4 percent the payments were made to the school office.

Little agreement was found as to the time payments were made. In 43.6 percent of the schools, the money is collected when the project is complete, but in 12.7 percent it is collected at the beginning of the course.

The average charge to students, determined from charges listed for 138 shop courses, was $2 per semester. These charges ranged from 15 cents to $12. The most expensive shop for students was cabinetmaking with an average cost of $3.31. The remaining areas surveyed revealed the following costs per semester: Wood-working, $3.03; Machine shop, $2.19; Metalwork, $1.58; Electrical, $1.50; General shop, $1.26; Farm shop, $3.85; Drafting, $.63; and Printing, $.05.

BLUE DEVILS WIN 5TH STRAIGHT

The Stout Blue Devils won the fifth straight, third in the Wisconsin State College conference race, by rolling over the Platteville Pioneers 25-6, last Friday night, October 12, at the American Legion Athletic field in Platteville. Stout scored in all but the second period.

Platteville scored their six-pointer of the season when Walt Carroll, Platteville end, recovered a Stout fumble in Blue Devil's end zone. Carroll fell on Richard McNamara's fumble in the second quarter.

Stout's scoring was shared by six players. Bill Kieffer pitched a 58 yard pass to Bob Roloff for the Blue Devil's initial score in the first quarter. In the third quarter Ron Walker plunged over from the two yard line for the second touchdown. Gail Woelffer started the Stout scoring of the fourth period when he connected with a 26 yard pass to McNamara. Ron Walker followed with a five yard

BANQUET IS HIGHLIGHT OF '51 DAD'S DAY

Over 50 dads and sponsors were honored at the fifth annual Dad's Day Saturday afternoon. The event began at 12:30 p.m. in the Stout Cafeteria.

Ralph Betterley, once again a very fine master of ceremonies, entertained and introduced the program and speakers with amusing tales.

Dr. Ralph Iverson, Director of Student Personnel at the Stout Institute, gave the fathers and sons a fine welcome address on the subject of athletics substituting as Dad while in college.

The Menomonie quartette gave four songs of mellow harmony before the president of the "S" Club, Eugene J. Weigel, expressed his welcome on behalf of the sponsoring organization.

The main address was delivered by President Rexford S. Mitchell, La Crosse State College. President Mitchell did not commit himself by making any statements as to the outcome of the night's game, but did offer the banquet group a few ideas to carry with them as time passed on. He mentioned that attitudes, senses of value and good sportsmanship are by-products of athletic preparation. The relationship of teams is shown by the quality of football played in the league and the leagues are in general on an even par.

For the fathers present Mr. E. W. Woelfer expressed in their behalf that the fathers were always behind their sons at home or in the stadium.

Next on the program was the important captain's views; John Debrauske and Karl Turk spoke to the group on behalf of the rest of the team.

Line coach, Lyle Pollock and head coach Anthony W. Storti explained that La Crosse was a tough team, but that Stout was tough too. Coach Storti said the team was in as fine condition as it has ever been.

During the course of the banquet the fellows introduced themselves and their fathers and explained where each hailed from.

Dale Digerness, assistant line coach, and Tom Stilt, assistant backfield coach, had a few words to say in regards to the approaching game.

Miss Mary Killian and her staff did a splendid job of planning and serving the meal. A round of applause was given her and her staff.

Three of the quartette and Mr. Betterley led the entire group in the singing of the Alma Mater. This was the last event in the banquet program.

Pictures were taken of the Dads and "stand-ins" immediately after the banquet. This picture of the group was developed immediately and made ready for the half time program at Nelson Field.

The dads were also conducted on a tour of the shops where their sons are getting their training.

During half time the dads were presented by Robert Swanson.

MENOMONIE TEACHER PLACED ON COMMITTEE

Mrs. William H. Campbell was recently appointed by Governor Kohler as a member of the five-man Food Standards Advisory Committee. Mrs. Campbell, a graduate of The Stout Institute (B.S. 1939), is at present coordinator of the Menomonie Vocational School and instructor of the advanced clothing classes.

The purpose of this committee is to help the state department of agriculture set up food and drug standards. The standards set up are submitted to the state legislature for approval.

"400" TO STOP FOR CONVENTIONISTS

The east bound "400" will stop at Menomonie Junction on Wednesday, October 31st, and the west bound train will stop there on Saturday, November 3rd, to accommodate movement of teachers attending the State Teachers' Convention.

The first trip of buses to the Junction will leave the high school at 12:30 p.m.

The round trip fare to Milwaukee is $13.69. If possible, passengers should purchase their tickets at the Menomonie City Depot to avoid possible inability to purchase tickets at Menomonie Junction, due to lack of time.

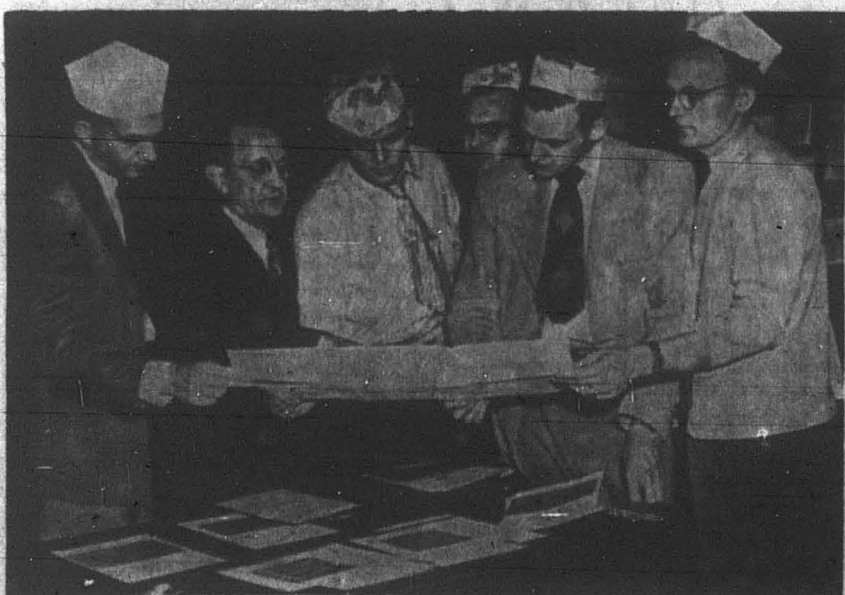

ATF SPEAKER FEATURED AT STS MEETING

Mr. Milford Hamlin, associated with the American Type Foundry Company, visited the Stout campus on Wednesday of last week at which time he spoke before the Stout Typographical Society at their weekly Wednesday night meeting.

Speaking before the group of printing majors along with their advisors, Mr. Whydowski and Mr. Cornwell, Mr. Hamlin spoke on shop planning and layout of graphic arts shops in junior high, senior high, and vocational schools. Passing out various layouts, which were designed by himself, to the men, Mr. Hamlin pointed out the difficulty in putting shop equipment in the most advantageous position in the various rooms which are being turned over into school shops. The lecture being presented in an informal manner, many of the men found it possible to clear up points unfamiliar to them, and points specifically of interest to them.

Mr. Hamlin is the associate manager in the Department of Education of the American Type Foundry. In this department all planning of shops for school and industries, having anything to do with Graphic Arts, is done. Mr. Hamlin has been with the company since 1916, with the majority of the years spent in this capacity.

MOTHERS ARE GUESTS AT '51 DAD'S DAY

Mothers of the Stout football players were also given a welcome last Saturday for Dad's Day by the Intersorority council.

While the "S" Club was entertaining the Dads, the Intersorority council conducted the mothers on a tour of the building and laboratories and entertained them at a tea.

At about 1:00 p.m. the mothers met in the Harvey Memorial where they became acquainted with one another. Here they were presented with baby orchid corsages.

At 1:30, the mothers were able to see the laboratories and redecorated rooms during the tours conducted through the building by the intersorority members. After the tour a group picture was taken at the east end of the HE Building.

After the picture a tea was given in the Tea Room. The serving table in the tea room. The serving table was decorated with bronze mums and the other tables with bronze and white mums. The guests were given a choice of tea, coffee, or orange punch. Along with this were served dainty open faced sandwiches and cake. The sugar cubes were decorated with minute flowers and the punch bowl was adorned with floating orange slices.

MAGICIAN IS FEATURED AT CONVOCATION

An unusual and very interesting convocation was held on October 24 when Dr. Tarbell gave his talk, "Dreams for Sale." Dr. Tarbell is, among other things, an accomplished magician. He illustrated his talk with disappearing canes, appearing and disappearing bottles, and vanishing eggs.

By the use of his magic he endeavored to prove that, "Tomorrow someone will do what man says is impossible today." He also made the point that "Love is the magnet of the universe" and that blessing and love can make most things come true.

The climax of the act was perhaps the most interesting and baffling. Assisted by Mr. Frailey and Mr. Olsen he demonstrated his ability to see although his eyes were sealed. Has anyone figured this one out yet?

GRADUATE MEN HOLD FIRST DINNER MEETING

The first dinner meeting of the Graduate Men's Club was held in the tearoom Thursday, October 18, at 6:30.

Barnhard Hagen, head of the Industrial Arts department at Manitowish spoke on "Industrial Arts in Our Lives."

The guests were members of the graduate faculty and members of the State Curriculum committee.

WEA CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN MILWAUKEE

1950 ISSUE OF TOWER RECEIVES HIGH RATING

The 1950 issue of The Tower, the yearbook of The Stout Institute, has been awarded a first class rating by the National Scholastic Press Association.

The Association judges complimented The Tower staff especially for the general design of the book, for the photography, and for the editing. Superior ratings, the highest rating offered, were given to the title page, the choice of theme, and organization.

APO ENLISTING DONORS FOR R.C. BLOOD BANK

Pledges for blood donations have been signed up by the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity the latter part of this week for the Red Cross Blood Donor unit which will be here at Stout November 9. It is hoped that they will be able to obtain 250 applicants.

Not everyone who signs will be able to give blood. Everyone's blood will be checked, and if everything is all right they will gladly accept a pint.

Charles Schiferl, SSA president, is general chairman of this Stout students day which will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. He has engaged the APO group to help in this endeavor.

If you have pledged a pint of your blood be sure to go at the time you signed for. This will facilitate the work of the unit.

COLLEGE TEST APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED NOW

Applications for the December 13, 1951 and the April 24, 1952 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to offer this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided. Applications for the December 13th test must be postmarked no later than midnight, November 5th, 1951.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

HE CLUB DANCE TO BE HELD IN GYM TONIGHT

Here's a chance for you girls to ask that shy fellow to the Home Ec. Club Dance.

Friday evening the Home Ec. Club will hold a turn-about dance. But, if you don't have a date—be sure to come anyway—there'll be lots to do. Music will be on records with Dick Duthler as disc jockey.

Caramel apples and popcorn balls will be sold at the concession stand. Charmaine Chopp and Betty Doyle are in charge of the concessions.

Lois Peterson and Ardis Mander-schied are in charge of the decorations which will follow the Halloween theme.

Joan Fritz and Ann Switzenberg are chairmen of the music committee. Gerry Erickson and Ginny Jacobson are in charge of publicity. Nadine Brown is general chairman.

The dance will last until 11 o'clock and we almost forgot—the price is quite reasonable too—2 for 25c.

3 Day Meeting To Feature Speakers, Alumni Banquets And Tours Of Delta Co.

The Wisconsin Education Association convention will be held in Milwaukee, Nov. 1, 2, and 3. Between 12,000 and 15,000 teachers and students are expected to attend this year's meet.

Many of the Stout faculty will be in attendance at the WEA convention. A Stout Alumni dinner is being sponsored at the Delta Machinery plant in Milwaukee, Thursday, Nov. 1.

To stimulate student interest in teaching as a career, a new feature of the convention this year is a social session for the Future Teachers of America. Two students together with a faculty sponsor from every teacher training institution in the state have been invited to be guests of the convention.

Admiral Zacharias, naval intelligence expert, will open the annual convention of the Wisconsin Education Association. Speaking on "Behind Closed Doors; Our Future Security" Zacharias will focus attention on international affairs. Other general session speakers announced by President Catherine Behrens of Kenosha include Rosita Forbes, Ernest Rosse, Hugh Bennett, and George Anderson.

Mornings of the convention will be devoted to the general sessions. In the afternoons the teachers can pursue their individual interests in 57 different sectional meetings. Assisting Wisconsin educators in the state will be such out-of-state authorities as Dr. Glenn Snow of the National Education Association; Lew Parmenter of the National School Service Institute, Chicago; and Dr. W. C. Menninger of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kansas.

On Thursday afternoon the representative assembly will conduct the business of the association. Highlighting the business meeting will be the election of seven new officers.

RESERVE PLACE AT MILWAUKEE EPT BREAKFAST

The annual Epsilon Pi Tau breakfast will again be held during the Wisconsin Education Association convention at the Hotel Wisconsin.

The time scheduled for the breakfast is November 2, 1951, at 7:00 a.m. Advance reservations may be secured upon sending $1.50 to either of the co-chairmen. They are: Mr. Harold A. Schulz, 3343 N. Gordon Place, Milwaukee 12, Wisconsin; or Mr. Ken Pederson, 3730 W. Hope Avenue, Milwaukee 16, Wisconsin. Reservations are to be in by October 31st.

Those of you that attended last year and/or previous years will remember it as a high light of the convention. Those of you who have never attended can look on it as a good place to catch up on who is doing what, when, and where.

To repeat—November 2, 1951, at the Hotel Wisconsin, you have a date to attend the annual Epsilon Pi Tau breakfast. Please get your reservation in by October 31, and you will be assured of a seat.

APO HALLOWEEN PARTY PLANNED FOR OCT. 30

The Alpha Phi Omega organization is inviting all of its active members to a Halloween party October 30 at the KP Hall above the local Gamble store.

It has been requested that old clothes replace your Sunday best for this occasion which begins promptly at 7 p.m.

The party will be co-educational so bring your gal, sweetheart, or wife along for sure.

The Eta Kappa chapter officers urge all APO members to attend this event because a swell time will be had by all. Remember, that means wear clothes that may get dirty during the evening.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Plans for the new Stout library have been completed but until the building is ready to use, the present library will continue to be overcrowded. The large enrollment of students, placing heavier demands for books on reserve, also adds to the congestion.

It has become increasingly difficult to study in the library. Distractions are varied and numerous, but talking causes the most disturbance.

Some students think that the library is the place to talk over their "dates" and plans for the coming weekend or to tell how much fun they had last night. Others suggest by their attitude that the library makes a good date bureau.

Still other students think the library is the logical place to discuss the impossibility of completing an assignment. They talk about the terrible test they have just finished writing and ask, "Did you get number four?"

Conscientious students talk about the noise that the next table is making or simply sit and close their ears with their fingers in a vain attempt to keep out the noise.

Only the cooperation of each student can clear up this situation. Next time you are in the library, don't complain about the noise. Remember, the fellow who is making the noise may be you.

S.S.A. MESSAGE

Tonight we hope to see most of you at the Black Cat Dance. There really isn't any excuse for not being at the dance, for the girls do have the privilege of asking the fellow of their choice. Don't feel you can't come if you don't have a date. You never can tell; you may meet someone at the dance that is of interest. However, it still isn't too late to get a date so look around a little.

Saturday our football team travels to River Falls, and even though many of us will be unable to attend we wish them all of the luck in the world.

On October 31 the Philo's are having a Halloween Tea in the Harvey. Let's all try and attend. A little social affair of that type is good for all of us.

Are you tired of the rabbit that occurred in student assembly? Well, if you are tired of it why not stop in the SSA Office and sign up to work on the Assembly Committee. Even if it did appeal to you a little come in and help us dream up some more. There are many other committees to work on and they all need your support, so stop in the office and leave your name.

KFS INITIATION IS HELD AT HIDE-A-WAY

Formal initiation for ten Kappa Phi Sigma pledges was held Thursday evening, October 18, at the Hide-A-Way.

After the delicious chicken dinner, President Sig Warda presided over the initiation ritual. The ten new members and their home towns are as follows: Joe Luetkemeyer, Maywood, Illinois; Elmer Lemke, Embarrass, Wisconsin; Noel Lehner, Kiel, Wisconsin; Howard Vetter, Kasota, Minnesota; Lawrence Temple, Appleton, Wisconsin; Wally Metling, Menomonie, Wisconsin; Edward Pahl, Madison, Wisconsin; Francis Oberpriller, Menomonie, Wisconsin; Neil Hoepfner, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Lawrence Styer, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

SMA INITIATION IS HELD AT SALYER HOME

The SMA initiation was held Sunday, October 21, at the home of Dr. Guy Salyer. The following pledges were initiated: Nancy Ceaglske, Joan Christensen, Joyce DeVries, Marilyn Eckstein, Janice Herzog, Jean Parsons, Grace Laudon, Ann Ritzinger, Fran Soulek, and Louise Zirbel. Following the initiation ceremony lunch was served and the girls looked at the clubs' scrapbooks.

HYPERIAN INITIATION HELD AT BAKER HOME

Amid the swish, swish of formals the ten Eta Sigma Omega pledges became members of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority at eight o'clock on Thursday, October twenty-fifth. The formal initiation ceremony took place at the Baker residence on Park Street.

The ten new members of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority are Nancy Bunker, Lois Feggestad, Audrey Goodell, Mary Ann Heimerman, Dorothy Hilton, Alice Kelly, Betty Kleist, Elizabeth Kasson, Jane Shadewald, and Jeanette Smith.

Following the initiation the girls enjoyed a lunch consisting of a lemon torte and coffee. Miss Carrison, Eta Sigma Omega advisor, poured for the occasion.

Group pictures were taken while the sorority sisters looked at their scrapbook.

Louise Neumann and Dot Knutson were in charge of the lunch.

TEXTILES CLASSES VISIT
CHIPPEWA WOOLEN MILLS

Tuesday, one half of the Textiles Class took their regular Semi Annual field trip to the Chippewa Woolen Mills at Chippewa Wisconsin. The other half of the class left this morning at 10:00 and are planning to return this afternoon at one.

LOUNGE

THRU THE KEYHOLE

Hello again!

Gee, half of the semester is nearly gone. So many couples have paired off this year which makes us very happy. How about you? Are you still looking around, or do you have a special someone somewhere else?

We noticed a lot of happy couples at the lyceum and football game last week end. Zoe Muehlhauser and her Bud were at the game. Also seen at the game were Jane Schadewald and Jim Bailing, and Joan Fairweather and Hank Tall.

There was quite a large crowd at the dance Saturday night after the game. Probably the luckiest fellow was Gary Bubeck, who won the blanket door prize. Some of the newer surprises enjoying the dance were Fern Naedler and Mel Witte, Donna Krisik with Bob Miller, Nadine Brown with Charlie Schiferl, and Audrey Porter with Herb Pringle.

Chuck Jorgenson came up to see Rowena Christen, and Bob Nelson came to see Barb Schabacker. Bob and Chuck are both in Milwaukee.

Some of the married couples at the dance were Sig Warda, Bruce Sorenson, Bob Ohm, Ray Stasieluk and their wives.

Other couples dancing to George Soderberg's dreamy music were Gerda Ravnhoit and Warren Barberg, June Higgins and Jim Tomita, Rita Hack and Bill Banks, and Joyce DeVries and Corky Collette.

Pat Pagel and Roman Weinzierl, Charmaine Chopp and Augie Schulz, Mary Ann Heimerman and Howie Knop, Mary Ann Smith and Sam Mikitarian, Jan Benedict and Paul Kokobun, Betty Kleist and Frances Oberpriller, and Marilyn Eckstein and Louie Precourt also were at the Dad's Day dance.

Lewie Lausted was also at the dance. Who was the girl you took home, Louie? Can this be the beginning of a new romance or have you been holding out on us?

Russ Gerber, former Stout student, was on campus last week end. He escorted Donna Heike to the lyceum Friday night. Others attending the lyceum were June Keefer and Curt Mommson, Dan Foltman and Bob Berg, whoops, what's the matter boys?

We'll see you at the dance tonight.

LSA REGIONAL BANQUET HELD BY GROUP HERE

The Stout LSA was host to River Falls, Eau Claire and the regional officers of the Land O' Lakes Region at a banquet held Sunday evening, October 21 at Our Savior's Lutheran Church. A dinner was served to 100 people by the Ladies Aid. A social mixer featuring competitive skits preceding the banquet was led by John Christenson. Warren Barberg lead the singing after which the Regional Officers promoted the Fall Conference which will be held at St. Olaf on November 15, 16, and 17 and urged all to come. The banquet speaker, Loren Halverson from Luther Seminary, spoke on "Personal Evangelism on the Campus". The closing friendship circle was led by Roger Rotvig from Gustavus Adolphus.

General chairman of the event was Dufer Peters. Table decorations were in charge of Ann Rossmiller, Charmain Chopp, Lois Peterson and Doris Beyer. Rose Dueber and Dorothy Messersmidt made the name cards and Carol Koch the place cards.

GAMMA DELTA HOLDS MEET, ENJOYS GAMES

Gamma Delta held a business and social meeting Sunday, October 21, at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Plans were made for initiation of new members.

A recreation period followed the business meeting. The games were conducted by Howie Knopp, the one man recreation committee. Following the recreation, a brunch was served by Edna Gaffron, chief coffee maker and dish-washer.

The most pertinent business of the evening was plans for initiation of new members to be held at 7:00 p.m. next Sunday, October 28. They will be initiated at a candlelight vesper service in the church. The service will be conducted by Reverend Pankow, Howie Knopp, and Bob Miller. After the service, Howie will entertain everyone with some more games. Everyone should go home contented and happy after a lunch served by Edna Gaffron and her good assistants.

NEWMAN CLUB PLANS FOR CLUB CONVENTION

The Newman Club held a business meeting after the 9:30 Mass Sunday, October 20th.

A delegation of five people from the club was selected to attend a Regional Newman Club Convention, which is to be held at Stevens Point October 27 and 28. Those representing our local Newman Club are Joe Luettkemeyer, Lawrence Styer, Donna Kriak, Carol Tickler, and Jo Gritt.

The club is also planning to have a Halloween Party on November 4th, which will consist of a dinner at 6:30 and a dance afterward.

WESLEY FALL CONFERENCE IS HELD HERE

Methodist Student Movement of the State of Wisconsin was held October 19 - 21 at The Stout Institute in Menomonie, Wisconsin.

There were about ninety students, counselors, and pastors present from eleven state colleges and the University of Wisconsin.

The theme of the conference was "A World Mission Challenges the Student." The keynote speaker was Dr. Morgan Williams from Kankakee, Illinois.

Betty Tennant, a J-3, and Dorothy Nyland, a worker with students at the national office, gave several interesting and inspiring talks throughout the conference.

PUBLICATIONS CLASS ENJOYS FIELD TRIP

On Tuesday, October 16, Fifteen Stout students "took off" with an interesting day of travel and sightseeing the objective. Members of the publications class, most of the Tower staff, and one lone Stoutonia representative comprised the three carloads.

Spring Valley was the first stop of the day's journey. Here the group was the guest of Mr. Gore, editor and publisher of The Sun, and also the father of a Stout student. He showed the students the Fairchild engraver which makes plastic cuts of photographs. The cuts from this engraver are used by The Stoutonia and many other newspapers.

The trip again got under way, destination -- Owatonna, home of the Jostyn Engraving Company. There another tour took place, this time showing a different phase of the publishing business. Mealtime afforded a pleasant break, especially so because the students were guests of the company and were served a delicious dinner.

BLUE DEVILS TO PLAY RIVER FALLS TOMORROW

Storti And Team To Try To Make Up For La Crosse Loss Against Falcons

After dropping a tough one to La Crosse last week end, thus tying for second place in the Wisconsin State Teachers College Conference with Whitewater, who lost 13-0 to Superior last week end, Coach Tony Storti's Blue Devils will travel to River Falls tomorrow to meet the Falcons in a night game on their opponents home field. The Falcons, whom Stout beat 44-13 last year, lost all but six lettermen from their 1950 team, and are winless so far this season.

After a really rough workout against La Crosse last Saturday, the Blue Devils are in top shape for the Falcons. Veteran halfback, George Krall, who saw limited action against La Crosse after being out of the line-up all season with an injured hand, will be back in the harness to round out a favored Stout eleven.

Coach Storti has been working his squad hard for the past week in an effort to rehabilitate his passing attack which seemingly fell apart last Saturday against La Crosse. Also on the agenda for the past week at Nelson field were extensive downfield blocking drills covering a phase of the game which was also lacking against La Crosse.

One of the mainstays of the River Falls forward line will be Dick Alexander, a Senior from Menomonie, who took all-conference honors for his good work at the tackle position last year.

INDIANS DEFEAT BLUE DEVILS SATURDAY 14-7

The La Crosse Indians Saturday night, with a final period touchdown, unknotted a deadlock score to blemish Stout's undefeated season record by handing them a 14-7 defeat in what was rightfully termed the top football attraction of the weekend in the Wisconsin State College conference.

The Indians drew first blood in the opening quarter when Kenneth Hollub tossed a neat second down pass from the Stout 33, complete to Ronnie Wangerin for a touchdown. Wangerin converted and La Crosse led 7-0.

The balance of the first quarter saw evenly matched teams carry on a punting duel. The period ended with Stout downing an Indian punt on their own 25-yard line.

In two plays Stout moved up to the 36 for a first down, but the La Crosse defense tightened and the Blue Devils were forced to punt from their 30 on fourth down.

The ball was downed on the La Crosse 28, but a 15-yard penalty put the Indians in the hole on their own 13. La Crosse started a hard running offense which netted them two first downs, before Stout's Christopherson intercepted an Indian pass and carried to the La Crosse 30. In two plays Ronald Walker carried to the Indian 19-yard line where it was first and 10 for Coach Tony Storti's charges. A five-yard penalty temporarily stalled the Blue Devil offense and Stout lost the ball on downs on the La Crosse 14.

The La Crosse offense started to roll, but was suddenly stopped when an alert and hard tackling Stout eleven recovered an Indian fumble on the 14. It was John Widmar who wrapped himself around the bobbling pigskin to set up the Blue Devil touchdown.

On the first play from scrimmage Walker romped the 14 yards to score. Herb Markely converted and the ball game was all tied up at 7-7, with five minutes to go before the half.

In the third quarter the victory-thirsty rivals played rough and tough football, but neither side was able to score.

In the final period, La Crosse, on a sustained drive marked by 18, 26 and 20-yard sprints, the Indians marched to the Stout 1-yard line, from where Brian Taugher punched over for the winning score. La Crosse converted and the Indians led 14-7.

STOUT BAND TO TRAVEL TO RIVER FALLS GAME

Six p.m. October 27, will be H Hour for the 54 members of the Stout band when they board buses for the football game between River Falls and Stout.

Manuevers honoring both schools are in the process of completion, and if Menomonie is blessed with fair weather, rehearsals will bring something new and interesting for the half time entertainment.

The band's own cheer leader, one Mr. Alex Pribisch will again be on hand to pound out the rhythm of Go Team Go. All drum heads are intact, it was announced (with the exception of the one used at the Eau Claire game).

Under the leadership of Mr. Frailey the band members are sure, along with the team, to do their best to outshine the students at River Falls.

LA CROSSE BAND VISITS STOUT FOR GAME SAT.

The blue and white uniforms of the Stout Band and the maroon and gray of LaCrosse joined forces under the direction of Mr. Frailey to play the "Star Spangled Banner" opening the La Crosse - Stout game Friday night. Later six girls in Indian dress and war bonnets led the LaCrosse State Band out on Nelson Field at the halftime ceremony. The traditional beat of a tom-tom set the pace for these "Indians" as the girls did a war dance to the center of the field, and the band formed a teepee facing the Stout bleachers. Appropriate music, was played as the girls formed a stamping, prancing circle in the center. The formation quickly changed to a large L while the band swung into the strains of "Maroon and Gray", the La Crosse alma mater.

SUPERIOR TOPS STOUT FOR SECOND PLACE

After last weeks heavy firing in the Wisconsin State College Conference, La Crosse by virtue of their 14 to 7 win over the Stout Blue Devils moved into undisputed first place in the standings. The Indian's hold on first place is none too secure however as they journey to Superior this Friday night to meet the unbeaten, once tied Yellowjackets. Last week the Yellowjackets secured second place in the conference and knocked the Whitewater eleven out of a tie for the lead when they whipped them in a rainstorm 12 to 0. Coach Van Galder's La Crosse gridders will be facing a team which has held their opponents scoreless in their last three games and the Yellowjackets will be out to avenge a 72 to 0 licking handed them last year by La Crosse.

Sports Roundup

So the Blue Devils lost! Well, all good things must come to an end, and from the general appearance of things, La Crosse was the end of the championship line for Stout.

Spectators at the game can say truthfully anyway, that Storti and his boys played one of their best games of the season against the Indians, and will hand a sportsmanlike word of congratulations to a professional La Crosse squad that made their own breaks, and certainly can not go home and credit Stout with any mistakes that donated the game to the visitors.

The Blue Devils had their troubles; their passing average for the week-end was fantastically low, and a soggy field detracted no end from the Stout ground game. However, we'll not be one to cry in our soda pop. It was a hard fight, and even though we know the team would like to try it again, and maybe win that one, we'll give credit to a terrific La Crosse team.

Credit for one of the best games in past years must go to the Stout defensive line that stymied the powerful La Crosse ground game, and made them pick up most of their yardage through the air. The Stout forward wall put on a performance that has been unequalled on the Nelson field gridiron for at least the last two years that this reporter has been watching Stout play. The forward wall; Joe Stebly, John Widmar, Al Hoppe, John Debrauske, Al Wegner, and big Ed Wilkie turned out their best job of the year in stunning the La Crosse backfield that came to Menomonie expecting to bull their way through the line as in past games.

TACKY DRAG TO BE RUSTIC DANCE EVENT

The Sigma Fraternity wishes to announce that the annual festive dance, the Tacky Drag, will be held on Saturday evening, November 3, after the Superior football game. Yes, folks, this is your one big chance to be comfortable at the game and stylish at the dance.

Those of you who have been exposed to this gala affair in the past years have a vague idea of the gayety which is in store for all who attend. As for those who are new on the campus -- you ain't seen nothin' yet!! So come on fellows, leave the cuff links and bow ties on the rack and see how far back into Grampa's wardrobe you can dig; if his britches are too big for you, let the gal friend wear 'em. Frills and fancies will be strictly taboo, with hobnailed boots replacing the silken slippers.

Enjoy the delightfully potent beverage from our age old still, a vivid reminder of the prohibition days. One thing we are sure of -- you will have a great evening, and who knows, you may be judged the tackiest of the very tacky lot; you may be a fortunate cash winner.

We'll be seeing you at the dance; you may not recognize us, but we'll be there.

AVA DISPLAY TO BE LARGEST IN HISTORY

The 1951 American Vocational Association Convention is being held this year at Minneapolis from November 26 to December 1.

Representatives of education, labor, industry, and government will confer with America's vocational teachers and administration on plans for the extension of the services of America's Vocational schools. Many general sessions will be held at which such topics as "Keeping Peace at Home" are to be discussed.

This year the largest amount of commercial exhibit space in AVA convention history has been made available for the many commercial and educational exhibits which will be on display. Fifteen local committees of Minneapolis have been working on plans for the welcome and entertainment of the large crowd of AVA delegates expected.

Student membership in the AVA will permit students from Stout to attend this convention. Many Stout faculty members and students are planning to attend.

DISTRIBUTION FIGURES FROM FEES RELEASED

The figures for the student organization collections for 1951-52 have been released. A total of $6,399.75 has been apportioned among the various organizations at Stout.

The 556 members of the SSA contributed a sum of $11.50 each, which made a total of $6,399.75. The money was distributed thus: Union, $834.75; Athletics, $1,891.25; Stoutonia, $166.95; SSA, $1,385.60; Assembly Lyceum, $1,113; Tower, $1,113; Music, $806.07; and MAP, $189.13.

DIETETICS CLUB TAKING FRUIT CAKE ORDERS

Orders are now being taken for fruit cakes by members of the Dietetics Club. The deadline for receiving orders will be November 20.

These gift-wrapped fruit cakes, which will make attractive Christmas presents, will sell for a dollar a pound and $1.80 for a 2 pound package.

This is the second year the Dietetics Club has sponsored a fruit cake sale. Last year's sale was a success; it is hoped that more people will take this opportunity of ordering their cakes, which will be made by club members.

SPEAKER TO PRESENT FTA ADVANTAGES HERE

The national secretary of the Future Teachers of America, Mrs. Wilda Faust, will speak Tuesday, November 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 22 of the Industrial Education building.

She will speak in regard to the objectives of the Future Teachers of America, with respect to the organization of a chapter on the Stout campus. This meeting is open to all students and faculty.

The aim of the F.T.A. is to lay the foundation for future teacher participation in the local, state, and national education associations by giving students the opportunity for active campus participation in those organizations with which they will be associated during their professional years.

C. L. RICH REPORTS ON CONFERENCE

Mr. Rich reports that there were a remarkable number of people attending not only the National Electronics Conference and exhibition which was held in the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, but also the American Institute of Physics conference which was held in the Sherman Hotel and the Civic Opera House in Chicago.

The American Institute of Physics comprises six national organizations in physics. They are the Acoustical Society of America, the American Physical Society, The American Society of Rheology, The Optical Society of America, The American Crystallographic Association, and the American Association of Physics Teachers.

The program put on by the American Institute of Physics lasted for the entire week, October 22 through October 27; that put on by the National Electronics Conference for three days, October 22 through October 24.

A few high points of the two conventions as given by Mr. Rich are:

1. Each attending member had the opportunity to hear the speaker of his choice and the topic of his choice.

2. Among the exhibits, a member could examine units, parts and assemblies just about at will.

3. A member could take part in the discussions among members on topics of his interest.

4. Scientists of world prominence such as Enrico Fermi and Dr. Condon could be heard by all.

Four very striking features mentioned by Mr. Rich are:

1. Practically every speaker used slides in illustration and explanation of various parts of his lecture.

2. Nearly every speaker used at least a few slides using electronic apparatus in explanation of some part or parts of his lecture. (In other words, physics today evidently depends more and more on electronics for clarification).

3. Space had been rented by many national industrial organizations to be used for registering and taking applications of prospective employees.

4. More explanations than ever before refer to action, forces and movements within the atom.

The topics and material investigated by Mr. Rich were in acoustics, nuclear radiation and measurement static precipitation, induction heating, and dielectric heating.

GOVERNING BOARD WILL HOLD MEETING IN ASSEMBLY

The Student Governing Board will hold its next meeting during Convocation Wednesday, November 7. For those of you who wonder what the board does and what its function is this is an excellent opportunity to acquaint yourself with that.

There have been complaints about student assemblies, and the governing board members decided to try to do something about them. They want each organization at Stout to help plan an assembly or part of an assembly, and they are starting the ball rolling by being the first.

This should prove to be a very interesting program so don't miss it.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ADMITTED TO THE CLUB

On Monday evening, October 22, the Home Economics Club held their formal candlelight initiation in the Stout cafeteria. Each initiate received a yellow chrysanthemum to wear. The club officers -- Bev Ryder, president; Nadine Brown, president elect; Kay McGee, vice-president; Katie Ziehm, secretary; Dorothy Hilton, treasurer; Joan Fairweather, social chairman; and Lois Bredlow, program chairman, -- all took part in the ceremony.

Before the initiation ceremony, Gerry Erickson, chairman, Valeria Bloom, Ardis Mandersheid, and Rosie Talzman participated in a panel discussion on "The History of the Home Economics Clubs" to enable the freshmen initiates to better understand the club objectives, activities, and history.

In order to acquaint the readers with this history, a brief summary will be presented. Montana State organized the first student Home Economics Club in 1895. The University of Wisconsin followed this move in 1910 with the organization of the University's Home Economics Club. High schools all over the United States formed their student Home Economics Clubs in the year of 1923.

In 1921, Mary Sweeney, President of the American Home Economics Association, suggested that the student clubs affiliate with the A.H.E.A. and in 1925 that affiliation took place. There has been a rapid growth and interest in Home Economics Clubs ever since, as shown by the following figures: In 1923-24, there were only thirty-nine clubs as contrasted with the four hundred and seven clubs in 1948-49.

An official Home Economics magazine, The Colhecon, was started in 1936. This semi-annual magazine contains activities of the university and college clubs plus feature articles on the various campuses. This year the Colhecon is combined or incorporated with The Journal of Home Economics, a monthly professional magazine. This Journal of Home Economics is sent free to the club officers, plus one copy for every twenty-five members in the club. These extra copies can be found in the Harvey Memorial and are for the enjoyment and interest of all Stout girls.

MANUAL ARTS PLAYERS PREPARE FOR PLAY

Bertie Harris, Jerry Schemanski, standing, and Mike Pavlicin and Beverly Hedlund, seated, are shown as they were snapped at rehearsal of the play, "The Bishop Misbehaves", which will be shown next week end.

MAP TO PRESENT FALL PRODUCTION OF PLAY

"The Bishop Misbehaves" To Be Given Next Week; Don't Forget To Reserve Seats

"The Bishop Misbehaves," the fall production of the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, will soon be presented in The Stout Institute Auditorium. On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 8, 9, and 10 at eight p.m. The play will be given under the direction of Mr. Norman C. Ziemann.

The play takes place in England. The Bishop, an elderly and saintly dignitary, stops by accident with his equally mild old sister in an ugly "pub" taproom just after there has been a serious hold-up and robbery. The Bishop has always had a secret love of the wickedness on display in detective stories, and here is his holiday. He gobbles up clues like an old black rooster among beetles. More than that, he snatches the swag. He leaves the evil place with the stolen jewels in his own pocket. He knows the highwayman will follow him to the Bishop's Palace. He hides the swag in the nearest humidor and awaits his fate. The fate consists of several ruffians, a masked hero, and a suitably attractive heroine. Sometimes these enemies have the Bishop at bay, sometimes he has them. It is a game of turning tables, turning out the lights, pistol-pointing, knife-brandishing, out-guessing and out-confessing, until the hero and heroine have won the Bishop's Amen and the rumpus is finally over.

Michael Pavlicin will portray the Bishop in "The Bishop Misbehaves." (Did you know that Mike's father is a detective. That may be why Mike knows just how to find the clues.) Red Eagan will be played by Alex Pribish, Donald Meadows by Gerald Schemanski, Hester Grantham by Roberta Harris, Mrs. Waller by Gloria Voigt, Guy Waller by Sheldon White, Lady Emily by Beverly Hedlund, Collins by Eugene Sawyer, Frenchy by Ernest Collette, and Miss Brooke by Dorothy Brownell.

The first scene takes place in a "pub" taproom, correctly known as a public house, at Tadworth in Surrey. Acts two and three take place in the hall of the Bishop's Palace at Broadminster.

It should be noticed that there is more to presenting a play than just the actors, actresses, and their acting. Careful planning, organization, and cooperation of everyone goes together to make a successful finished product. The set must be planned and designed so as to produce as nearly as possible an authentic "pub" and hall. The play production class is working with the MAP in the building of the set.

The production staff which consists of all those working with the play but are not actors or actresses. Those on the production staff are: producing director, Mr. Norman C. Ziemann; assistant director, Carol Zuege; stage manager, Sam Mikitarian; assistant stage manager, Robert Adkins; Business manager, Clarice Zarling; house manager, Ray Burkhalter; lighting technician, Richard Duthler; sound effects, Maryann Smith and George Stephenson; properties, Louise Wenger, chairman, Nancy Hanshus, Avis Reschenberg, Carol Tickler, Mary Betzel, Carol Koch, Marilyn Fredun; costumes, Jan Peters, Jan Wurtz, Vivian Barnhardt; make-up, Nadine Brown, Ann Rossmiller, Harriet Homer; stage crew, George Stolp, Elmer Lemke, Robert Brunswick, Herb Pringle, Allan Swan, George Stephenson, Maryann Smith, Joan Mitby; publicity, Jacqueline Frisbie, chairman, Joyce Callen, Carol Tickler, Verna Dunn, Miriam MacLachlan, Wanda Nelson; ushers, Mary Lou Bohrnsted, Mary Klaus, Janet Hardies, Phyllis Amacher, Rita Hack, Betty Kane, Donna Anderson, Carolyn Schauf, Joanne Hosford, Barbara Schabacker, Jeanette Oetting, Carol Bredlow, and Carol Koth.

All Stout students may attend the play free of charge by presenting their SSA cards at the table that will be in the HE corridor one week before the play and obtaining a reserved seat ticket. Friday and Saturday evenings, November 9 and 10, the seats will be reserved. On Thursday evening, November 8, however, the seats will not be reserved. Therefore, those wishing to see the play Thursday evening should present the SSA card at the door.

Remember those dates -- Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, November 8, 9, and 10 at 8:00 p.m. in the Stout Auditorium.

ROSE OF SIGMA TAU DANCE NOVEMBER 17

Keep November 17 open on your calendar; better yet close this date by getting your date for the Stout Institute's first all school semi-formal dance of the year, The Rose of Sigma Tau Dance. It's certainly hot too early to make your plans for attending this dance. In the year's past it has been an outstanding dance and with the band that has been signed and the work that is already underway this year's dance promises to be a success. The members of Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity cordially invite everyone to attend the Rose of Sigma Tau Dance. Watch the Stoutonia next week for more complete details.

"COLOR IN ROOMS" IS DISPLAY IN ART CLASS

The room-section display in the Art Room is attracting much attention. It is the culmination of the study of color schemes for rooms and how to develop them by using the color wheel, drapery material, and pictures and also how to change the colors.

The color schemes of these room sections were developed using the colors from pictures. Being abstract, they tend to show the importance of how colors are used in different amounts and intensities and do not place emphasis on the construction.

"PLAN YOUR FUTURE" IS SHOWN IN DETROIT

Plan Your Future, the film about the Stout Institute, will be shown at the November meeting of the Detroit Alumnae of the Stout Institute at 1 p.m., November 2 at the home of Elaine Thomas Charlick, 3238 Harding, Dearborn. Others on the committee for the November meeting are Jane Washburn Lewis, Elizabeth Storing Andrews, and Irene Christopher Soderberg.

FROM THE EDITORS DESK

Where are all those "red-blooded" Americans whom this nation claims to have? Or has this become a figure of speech like most of the old and cherished morals that this nation was founded on?

When you hear the excuses offered by those who are healthy and asked to give a pint of blood you are forced to admit that the answer is, unfortunately, yes.

We know that not all of us are physically fit to give blood, but then, "Am I my brother's keeper?" Those of us that have been blessed with the good health owe it to our fellow countrymen to donate blood. Not only for use in the "police action" in Korea but also in the United States hospitals for emergency use. Hardly a day goes by but that you pick up the paper and read of some disaster in which someone was seriously injured. The chances are that the injured person needed blood to save his life. If the blood isn't available, what then?

It seems to us that there are more than 60 students here at Stout who have the moral sense to be willing to help their fellowman. Let's see them sign up now at the SSA office to offer to give a pint of blood at the Red Cross Bloodmobile which will be at Stout next Friday, November 9th.

MESSAGE FROM SSA OFFICE

It is now the end of another quarter which will mean new classes will begin for many of us. Let's do our very best to get a fresh start because how you begin a class often means the difference between success or failure.

Don't forget to plan to attend the play, "The Bishop Misbehaves", on either of the three nights it is scheduled. We have been eavesdropping on rehearsals now and then and are convinced that it will be another excellent production.

Tomorrow night we play our last game so forget the cold and be at the field to cheer the fellows in the game against Superior. You may get a little cold but you can soon get warmed up at the "Tacky Drag" after the game.

The Student Governing Board is materializing another idea that has been floating around for some time. The basis of the plan is to have more student participation in our student assemblies by having the different organizations present a program or part of a program.

The Board is starting the ball rolling by holding one of their regular Student Governing Board meetings plus introductions, explanations, etc. There you will have the privilege of getting acquainted with the Board, learning how they operate, and you may also voice your opinions and suggestions, and ask questions. You really should know your Board so you cannot afford to miss the student assembly November 7.

Louie, Rowena,
John and Charlie

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The Student Governing Board is going to hold a regular meeting at the Student assembly Wednesday, November 7, to acquaint the students with some of their problems and to show how the board functions. Don't miss this as it is of importance and interest to all.

Also, the national secretary of the Future Teachers of America will be here Tuesday, November 6, and a meeting will be held in room 22 of the I.E. building at 7:30. All students are invited. Refreshments will be served.

In case it is still not clear, the cut system prevails for convocations only. There will be a check taken at all convocations. A student is allowed two cuts per semester. All those in excess will mean one negative grade point per cut.

Charles Schiferl and Bob Berg are in the process of making a pocket-size condensed form of Parliamentary Procedure. The cost of the booklet will be taken from the reserve fund. These booklets will be on sale a little later.

Dean Price brought to the attention of the board that the bowling alleys were in need of repair. They no longer can be sanded as there is nothing left to sand. He has reason to believe that we need new alleys.

The board discussed the idea of starting a Petty Loan at Stout. This would work as follows: the students who needed money to tide them over until their checks came from home or students who needed some money could borrow from the petty loan and pay it back within two weeks with an additional twenty-five cents.

"The last time I was in a play, the people could be heard laughing a mile away."
"Really, what was going on there?"

NORTH CENTRAL WORKSHOP IS HELD AT U. M.

The fourth annual North Central Association Workshop on Teacher's education was held for four weeks in August this past summer at the University of Minnesota. Thirty-six college faculty members who represented thirty-two different institutions attended the session. Specialists who directed the seminars were from the following colleges and universities: University of Ohio, University of Illinois, University of Texas, Emporia Kansas State College, and Iowa State College. Select faculty members from the University of Minnesota assisted.

The workshop was handled on a democratic procedure in which college teachers shared ideas and participated in group discussions. Considerable stress in the discussion was placed on college faculties studying the problems of their own college as they see them. Dr. Salyer, who represented Stout at the workshop this year, said that the training he received is particularly useful for the work he is assuming this year as Institutional Studies committee chairman at Stout. The other members of the faculty who will be working with him are: Dr. Dwight Agnew, Dr. Stuart Anderson, Herman Arneson, Majory Elliot, John Jarvis, E. E. Parmer, Dean Merle M. Price, and Hazel Van Ness.

The four major topics at the four week workshop were: Educational Evaluation, General Education, Improvement of Instruction, and Contents of Professional Education of Teachers. Among other things discussed under these topics the following things were emphasized: the importance of general education, application of psychological principles in teaching, reflective thinking, institutional objectives, and practice of group dynamics in instruction.

Dean Ernest Mahan of Pittsburg Kansas State Teachers College, who was the workshop's co-ordinator this year, plans a tentative visit of one or two days in January at Stout. He will strive to share with the faculty and students tested and accepted practices and techniques used in other institutions of higher learning.

ED BINSTOCK WRITES FROM RANTOUL, ILLINOIS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Binstock are now settled in their own little home in Rantoul, Illinois. Ed has seen several of the Stout fellows down there such as Chuck Finney, Dick Robertson, Ray Pittman, Bill Albrecht, John Yount. He said that Pittman and Robertson are both back in service for a two year tour of active duty. They were both called last May. The Robertsons have a pair of twins born about six weeks ago, a boy and a girl.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Hi!

We noticed that a lot of you Stout girls took advantage of the turn-about dance last Friday and asked your favorite dream men.

Some of the couples there were Nancy Hanahus and Larry Mosher, Audrey Porter and Herb Pringle, Jeanette Smith and Al Ochs, Rosemary Raymer and Jim Zeasman, Bev and Bud Ryder, Donna Heike and Curt Mommisen, Katie Ziehm and Bob Brunswick, and Jo Gritt and Jack Luy.

Oh yes, we can't forget Char Winslow and Tom Williams, Pat Peterson and Bill Wensel, and Nancy Elam and disk jockey, Dick Duthler. Jerry Schemanski and Mary Betzel, "Corky Collette and Joyce DeVries, and John Christianson and Diane Clemme were also there.

Warren Barberg and Gerda Ravnholt obliged with a dancing lesson for those uncertain on the dance floor. Warren had several girls "volunteer" to be his partner. Dean Antrim, who was one of his partners, could really cut a rug.

Bertie Hutchison was at the dance with Bill Hintethuer Friday night, but Bill was with Marna Larson at the River Falls game Saturday night. Marna went to Stout last year.

Another undecided male is Dean Cornwell. Dean has been dating Val Bloom quite a bit lately, but Lois Heike was in Menomonie last week end and Dean took her out Saturday night.

Some other couples at River Falls Saturday night were Mary Ellen Orme and Stub Carlson, Jeanette Oetting and Don Seaberg, and June Keefer and Ken Pietenpol.

Jean Moore had George's car over to the game. You mean he trusts you with it Jean?

It's interesting to know that one of Phyllis Horning's extra-curricular activities is keeping up the morale of the U.S. Air Corps—well, anyhow one of its members. It's also of interest to note that Dick is getting a furlough in the near future.

Don Sargent has been giving Avis Reschenberg the rush. He invited her to the STS formal initiation, and they were seen at the dance Friday night and the game Saturday. Is this a new romance on campus?

We saw a lot of the freshmen at the dance Friday night. They must have taken the initiative to get the fellows out on the dance floor. Some of them who we saw were Betty Appel and Mr. Gresh, Carol Banner and Charles Weber, Dorothy Danzinger and Robert Anderson, Marilyn Fredeen and Ray Steves, Donna Harvey and Floyd Jollop, Delores Sowle and Jerry Summers, Joanne Fritz and John DeBoch, and Margaret Ort and Harlan Neirson. Pretty good taste.

We'll see you at the game and don't miss the Tacky Drag after the game.

We remain faithfully yours,

DIETETICS TRIP TO ROCHESTER IS EVENTFUL

Thirty dietetics majors and other Stout girls boarded the bus last Friday morning on a trip to Rochester to tour various places of interest. The day was highlighted with a trip to St. Mary's hospital where they traced a meal from the store room shelf to the tray. Everyone was greatly impressed by the efficiency and quiet of the workers as they set up trays for various types of diets. All the many facets in a career in dietetics were shown, including education, meal planning and food buying. Parched throats were quenched by apple juice prepared by one of the nuns who has been spending much of her time in experimentation of apples. Aside from the dietary department the girls were taken through some of the other mechanisms of the institution. One of these very interesting departments was an operating room which Elinore Ushijima made sure was empty before she entered. Visits were also made to the chapel, little theater and the residence hall where the girls saw how dietetic interns and student nurses live. The shock of the morning came when Joan Mitby was captured by an empty elevator and taken down to the basement where she disappeared for a short time.

Next on the agenda was a trip through the Mayo Clinic where among points of interest were seen the Board of Governors room, the switch board call system, the museum, the library, and Plummer Hall.

The trip home was broken up twice, once to go through the Cheese Mart at Pine Island Minnesota, where they saw cheese being ripened and packaged. The second break came when the bus stopped at Grandma Anderson's Dutch Kitchen in Wabasha to conclude a very interesting day with dinner.

WSF HALLOWEEN PARTY HELD OCTOBER 28TH

Amid festive decorations, Wesley held their Halloween Party Sunday night, October 28.

A committee, headed by Nancy Kurath, served the supper. The menu was as follows: potato salad, cold meats and cheese, and pumpkin pie.

Rev. Reece had the worship service and continued the study of the Bible. He told the history of the many Bibles there has been.

Jan Benedict led the recreation which consisted of many new and interesting games.

The meeting ended with the Friendship Circle and the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Next week Rev. Friedman of Eau Claire will speak to us on "Methodism". Everyone is invited to attend.

BIRTHDAY DINNER IS HELD AT GIRL'S DORM

Jack-o-lanterns and black cats set the scene for the birthday dinner in the girl's dormitory dining room October 29. A delicious dinner consisting of baked ham, mashed potatoes, green string beans, lime jello with cottage cheese, ice cream, and birthday cake was served. The dinner celebrated birthdays of Betty Doyle, Joanne Fritz, Nan Carroll, Pat Manthel, Marilyn Kressin, Gloria Voitt, Verna Dunn, Charmaine Chopp, Caroline Solem, and Evelyn Rosentid whose birthdays are in July and Janet Pete, Dorothy Danzinger, Joan Dehn, and Ann Switzenberg who have October birthdays.

STOUT CONGO GROUP TO BE HOSTS FOR AREA MEETING

The members of Congo club met Sunday for the third discussion on Christianity in our every day lives. After a very delicious supper Albert Spanheimer gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on The Christian and His Job. Plans for the North-Western Wisconsin Congo planning meeting on Nov. 17 were discussed. At this time Congo students from Stout will play host to students from La Crosse, River Falls, and Eau Claire.

HE ADMINISTRATION CLASS TAKES TRIP

On Monday, November 5, the twenty senior girls of the Administration in Home Economics class with their instructor, Miss Ann Noble, will take a field trip to observe the different arrangements of the homemaking departments at Woodville, Baldwin, and Ellsworth, Wisconsin. While at Woodville, the girls will participate in the lunch program.

This field trip will culminate the units in the planning of homemaking departments and of the hot lunchroom kitchens for the class.

The Administration in Home Economics class is divided into committees in order to work on the different class projects. Donna Krisik, chairman, Katie Ziehm, and Marlys Larrabee comprised the committee on planning and arranging of class field trips.

STOUT GRAD RECEIVES HIS MASTERS DEGREE

Ernest Olaf Sandeen was awarded the degree of master of arts from the University of Minnesota on July 26, 1951 at commencement exercises at the University. Mr. Sandeen received the degree of Bachelor of Science from The Stout Institute in 1946.

COAST GUARD ACADEMY EXAM INFORMATION

The United States Coast Guard announces the 1952 competitive examination for appointment of cadets to the Coast Guard Academy. Examinations are to be held February 18-19, 1952, and all applications must be postmarked, not later than January 1, 1952. The examination is open to any young man, military or civilian, between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one who is unmarried. He must be a graduate from an accredited high school or preparatory school, with a minimum of fifteen credits, seven of required subjects and eight may be optional. Physically, he must be in perfect health, meet the height and weight requirements and must have 20-20 vision. The Academy prepares young men for careers as officers in the Coast Guard. After a 4 year course the cadet is eligible for commission as Ensign in the Coast Guard and a Bachelor of Science Degree in general engineering.

Anyone interested in the Academy can receive further information from Dr. Ralph Iverson.

SCF HALLOWEEN PARTY HELD AT YOUNG HOME

STS INITIATION HELD AT THE MARION HOTEL

Formal initiation for the Stout Typographical Society was held at Hotel Marion, Wednesday, October 24 at 7:00 p.m.

Many members of the STS brought their wives or girl friends to the banquet and initiation ceremony. A most satisfying and delicious banquet supper was served in the true Hotel Marion style. The menu consisted of pineapple juice, baked ham with horseradish whip, scalloped potatoes, peas and carrots, head lettuce salad with french dressing, cherry cobbler, hot rolls, and coffee or milk.

Dr. Stuart Anderson, associate professor of education in the graduate program, presented a most entertaining, enlightening, and interesting talk on "Community Responsibility and the New Teacher". The first two important items which the new teacher has to contend with are getting the job and dealing with the student discipline problem on the job. Next in line is the problem of getting along with the employer and other fellow instructors.

Of significant importance to the teacher, according to Dr. Anderson, are the extra-curricular activities in which the instructor should partake. Another thing that the new instructor should do is to become a member of one or more of the professional organizations of importance in connection with his profession. Also he should acquaint himself with the literature available. Many magazines and journals of importance and help to the new instructor are now being published.

Mr. Anderson stated that the teacher's wife can be a definite asset or a liability to him in his profession. He also mentioned that remuneration for teaching is not high, and a person entering the teaching field should decide if he can afford to be a teacher. The possibility of a part-time job should be considered by the teacher. Today 75% of those in Wisconsin have part-time jobs.

Dr. Anderson concluded his speech by saying that the teacher's job was a very important one in relation to educating the pupils and to the intellectual advancement of the United States as a whole, and therefore the person entering the teaching profession should apply himself to it to the best of his ability.

The formal initiation candlelight ceremony took place following the short address by Dr. Anderson. Bill Banks was the only STS member advancing in rank from journeyman to master printer this semester. Those advancing from apprentice to journeyman were Dan Gordon, Ed Prah, Art Scheldrup, Guy Shramm, and Bill Wensel. New apprentice printers were Ronald Blohn, Gary Gore, Frank Oberpriller, Larry Smith, and Gerald Schemansky.

FOB INITIATION IS HELD AT ANCHOR CAFE

On October 25 6:30 pm., the FOB fraternity held its formal initiation of new members. The affair, which was held at the Anchor Cafe, was preceded by a turkey dinner consisting of turkey, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, peas, combination salad, rolls and apple pie a la mode.

The initiates consisted of Ronald Johnson, Jim Miller, Lloyd Pickering, Gerald Henderson, Don Beran, Bob Spangler, Don Seaberg, and Bob Wong.

INITIATES ADMITTED TO GAMMA DELTA

The Gamma Pi chapter of Gamma Delta held their formal initiation ceremonies last Sunday evening. The initiation which was a candle light ritual took place in St. Paul's church. Rev. H. J. Pankow led the vesper services and initiation. He was assisted by President Robert Miller and vice-president Howard Knop.

BACKSTAGE AREA IS BUSY PLACE

Few people, unless they have taken part in the production of a play, realize the work that goes on behind the scenes. There are by far more people working backstage than the few people who are seen playing their parts when the curtain opens.

As the houselights dim, an x ray vision through the wall would reveal chief lighting man Dick Duthler slowly pulling down a lever with his right hand and counting to himself to make sure the right number of seconds elapse between the time the lever leaves its starting point until it finally clicks off. Then with his right hand he presses the right button for the foot lights, changes to the overheads and switches on who knows what first. Stage manager Sam Mikitarian rushes from one end of the stage to the other checking to be sure that every small property is in place on and off stage, whether the actors are ready, the checks with prompter Carol Zeuge and finally signals curtain puller Skip Lemke that everything is set and the curtain opens.

For those not versed in the art of dramatics there is a good chance to display other abilities, great or small. On Saturday mornings before the play is put on, one might find girls crawling around the stage floor painting scenery. Jeanette Oetting may be one such person and from the sight of her covered with a brownish paint used to create the illusion of shadows it is a wonder that any of the substance could have possibly found its proper place on the walls, but the end results are proof of a job well done. Entertainment may be provided by sound effects men Mary Ann Smith and George Stephenson, as they try to find a new sound for a telephone bell, a clock striking the hour or a bottle opening.

One would think that Lou Wenger and Nancy Hanshus were granddaughters to a mountain goat as they climb over boxes or up shelves in an effort to find objects in the property room or run all over town for a candle arbor, old clock or the right type of vase to hide the jewels in.

All of this plus publicity, make up, and world of other things and what comes out? See the bishop Mishaves and find out.

KFS DAD'S DAY DANCE IS TERMED A SUCCESS

"Success" is the term which best describes the Kappa Phi Sigma Dad's Day Dance held after the game Saturday night. This success was directly attributable to the fine attendance of the student body and a special "thank you" is extended to all who attended.

Decorated in a fall theme, Dad's Day was emphasized by placing a large sign spelling "Dad" on the south side, signs were placed spelling Father in many foreign languages.

George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks provided dance music for the event.

At the intermission, Jack Luy presided as master of ceremonies. He introduced Paul Kokubun and Jim Toms who provided the intermission entertainment. Gary Bubeck was the lucky winner of the Pepperell blanket which was awarded as a door prize.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

ALUMNI AWARD WINNERS FOR THIS YEAR

Robert Swanson, national alumni secretary and treasurer, is shown above with this year's two alumni award winners, Beverly Ruegg and Norbert Schieble.

ALUMNI AWARD WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED HERE

Beverly Ruegg and Norbert Schieble are chosen as 1951 Scholarship Winners

Norbert Schieble and Beverly Ruegg are this year's Alumni Scholarship winners.

Beverly's home is in West Bend, Wisconsin and she says that she likes the friendly attitude of the faculty and students here at Stout. Beverly chose Stout as the college that she would attend because it is one of the best colleges for home economics in the United States. Several of her home economics teachers who attended Stout helped Beverly in choosing Stout.

Norbert comes from Milwaukee, Wisconsin and attended Rufus King High School. Norbert also chose Stout on the recommendations of his teachers. Another contributing factor, according to Norbert, is that Stout is fairly near to his home town.

ALUMNI MEMBERS ANNOUNCE BIRTHS

A son, Douglas Robert Knutson, was born August 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Knutson, 221 2nd Street West, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Anderson of Chicago have a daughter, Lynn Ellen, born June 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wheeler announce the arrival of Nancy Eleanore, September 21.

Lellani Jay was born on May 6, to Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Janiak, '50 of Honolulu, Hawaii.

DETROIT GROUP HOLDS MEETING AND LUNCHEON

Twenty-three Detroit Alumnae of The Stout Institute met at the home of Gene McClurg Armstrong's for dessert and coffee. Audrey Peterson Pollach, president, conducted a short business meeting, during which she brought to the group's attention, article IV of the Detroit Alumnae of The Stout Institute's constitution: "Section I. Notices of meetings for October and November shall be sent to all Stout Alumnae in the Metropolitan area. Section II. Notices of all other meetings shall be sent to members indicating interest in receiving notices."

The surprise entertainment was colored slides taken and shown by Marion Arnston and Elaine Charlick. The slides were mostly taken near and around the Detroit Area.

Other members of the food committee were Alice McClurg Carlson, Marion Bull Stevens, and Gladys Kriesse Larsen.

SUPERIOR HERE FOR LAST GAME OF SEASON

Second Place In Conference
At Stake In Final Game
For Both Teams

The Stout Blue Devils will take to the field tomorrow night at 8:00 pm at Nelson field to close their 1951 football season against the Superior State Teacher's College "Yellow Jackets," one of the better elevens in the conference.

The Yellow Jackets, with a three won, one lost, one tied record so far this season, will be looking for a chance in this, their last game also, to drop Stout from second place in the conference and thus take over that spot in the final standings. The Superior team, after defeating White-water, bowed to La Crosse last weekend to drop their only game of the season.

After losing to Superior 33-28 last year in a snowstorm, Coach Tony Storti and his boys will be out for blood in this home encounter with one of their bitterest rivals, who despite conservative pre-season reports, show a record that places them second only to La Crosse in power unless Stout can stop their powerful running attack which has earned them a formidable reputation this year.

The Yellow Jackets have fourteen lettermen back from last year, and will only lose one through graduation this year, so they pose a powerful conference threat for next year, also.

With his offensive and defensive both up to top shape for this game, Coach Storti has been running his charges through light practice sessions this week to guard against last minute injuries or aggravations of small aches and pains.

Expected starters for this final game will be Debrauske, Sheben, McNamara, Wagner, Christopherson, Widmar, Hoppe, Nessler, Stobly, Wilke, Markely, Fandray, Woelffer, Walker, Krall, Kieffer, Reimers, Hein Turk, Lausted, Bogenhagen, J. Krall.

BLUE DEVILS TROUNCE RIVER FALLS 39 - 0

The Stout Institute Blue Devils swarmed over the River Falls Falcons, 39-0, last Saturday at River Falls to secure their fourth victory against one defeat in Wisconsin State College Conference play. The Falcons record, following last Saturday's fray, is one won, two lost, two tied record.

The encounter with River Falls was highlighted by brilliant passing and spectacular ground gains. Richard McNamara, a freshman halfback, led the ground attack with a total of 134 yards in six attempts at carrying the ball. Gale Woelffer, the Stout quarterback, carried the brunt of the passing attack with a total of 135 yards in five completions.

Stout scoring was shared by Ron Walker, Dick McNamara, Herb Markley, Bill Kieffer, and Milan Lohich. Stout scored in all periods, but piled up 20 points in the second quarter for their biggest period of the season. The Blue Devils piled up a total of 427 yards gained to River Falls' 98.

PHILO HALLOWEEN TEA IS HELD IN HARVEY

The traditional Philo Halloween Tea was held in the Harvey Memorial on October 31. In a Halloween atmosphere of golden pumpkins and colorful autumn foliage, Russian tea, coffee, assorted cookies, nuts, and Halloween candies were served.

"Shopping?"
"No, I haven't time today. I'm just buying a few things I need."

Sports Roundup

Well, the Blue Devils certainly were an improved lot for the River Falls game last Saturday. Although the fans, who travelled to that game are still talking about the "high prices," they got quite a show for their money watching Coach Storti and his boys roll up a 39-0 score to give the Falcons something to remember them by 'til next year.

As Stout's big offensive end, Herb Markely, increased his hold on first place in the conference scoring column. Several other Stout players turned in individual performances that were seemingly indications of very good things to come in the immediate grid future for Stout Institute, Gale Woelffer, quarter back, who has been rather hesitant since cracking a rib in a previous play, turned on the heat for several ground gains of his own, and seems to be completely recovered from his injury.

The man who turned in a really outstanding performance was big 6' 4", 205 pound defensive end Ed Wilke from Chippewa Falls. Ed was instrumental in stopping a surprisingly large number of River Falls plays.

Another freshman who really showed up well against the Falcons was offensive end, Ed Fandry, from Marshfield, Wis. Ed has just recently sneaked into the starting line-up for the Blue Devils and has shown himself of high calibre.

The really startling performer for last Saturday's game was George Krall, a junior from Iron Mountain who has been off action most of the season with a broken hand which he picked up in scrimmage the Saturday before the season opened. Lack of action this season cost him a fumble but when he carried the ball, Stout fans saw a prelude of things to come when George sees regular action next season.

For a defensive lineman who might well take all-conference honors, this columnist nominates tackle John Widmar, who stands an even 6' and weighs in at 225 pounds. John specializes in coming through the line and coming up behind the opposing ball carrier.

Tomorrow night the Blue Devils meet Superior in a battle for second place. Let's all be there to give them our support.

THREE STOUT SENIORS' LAST GAME SATURDAY

Debrauske, Hein, Woelffer,
End Successful Seasons
In Game With Superior

Tomorrow the Blue Devils play their last game of the 1951 football season, and at the end of the fray against Superior three mainstays of the Stout team will have ended their football careers as members of Tony Storti's Blue and White gridders.

Sheboygan, Wis. is the home town that is credited with developing 6' 3", 195 pound John Debrauske, who has played defensive end throughout most of his football days at Stout. John is one of the reasons end-run plays by Stout's opponents have met with little success this season and in years past.

Although the job of a defensive end receives little mention in news paper columns, it is one of the key positions on any team and is one of the most difficult to play. "Big John" as he is known, has done his job well and deserves the much earned credit that is due him.

When the Blue Devils take the offensive, everybody sees the man with the ball as he pounds through the line but few people stop to look at the man who mowed down the opposition and set up that run. The only 1952 grad from the offensive line is Ted Hein, a 5' 11", 200 pound senior tackle from Marshfield, Wis. Ted has done a remarkable job for three seasons at his tackle spot, and will be sorely missed by Stout supporters next year.

A married man, Ted is the father of a one year old boy, who, it is rumored, is also a football fan.

The "brains" of any football team is, of course, the quarterback, and Stout will lose one of the best to graduation after this season. Gale Woelffer, who has led the Blue Devils to an impressive string of victories through past years, will leave the game with an enviable record for passing and running. All conference quarterback in his junior year, Gale has perhaps done more for Stout on the gridiron than any other single man on the squad, and during past seasons he figured in many brilliant passing and running plays, and has done a superb job of ball handling.

Although coach Storti can be depended upon to come up with three good men to fill these vacancies next year, it is certain that he, and Blue Devil fans, will long remember the good jobs they have done for Stout, and that all concerned will always appreciate the hard work that these three fine men have done for the success of the Stout Institute throughout their careers.

CORAL TEAM WINS W.A.A. VOLLEY BALL

The W.A.A. has finished playing the October sport, volleyball, which is played in the form of a tournament. The four teams playing in the tournament were as follows: Swing Blue, Rio Red, Tropic Green, and Coral. The tournament was started on September 25 and the play-off was October 16 with the Coral team as champion. Members of the team are: Captain- Jean Moore, Mary Ann Smith, Betty Apptr, Marilyn Fredeen, Joane Rasmundreed, Carole Banner, Janet Krumbeir, and Pat Jensen. Congratulations kids!

At the present, the W.A.A. is sponsoring a Campus Tournament in volleyball. The women's organizations which wish to sponsor a team are participating in the tournament. The tournament was begun October 23 and will continue through November 5.

NOREEN COOK NAMED QUEEN OF SIGMA TAU

Wife of Sig Tau Member Chosen To Reign as Queen
Of Semi-Formal Dance

Chosen as this year's Rose of Sigma Tau is Noreen Cook. Noreen is a senior at Stout and was originally from Hillsdale, Wisconsin but now makes Menomonie, Wisconsin her home. Her life at Stout has been a busy one and an eventful one. Some of the many organizations and activities that she participates in are the Home Economics Club, the Pallas Athene, the Phi Upsilon Omicron, and the Symphonic Singers. In the past Noreen was Vice-president of the Pallas Athene Sorority.

Noreen will be officially crowned as Rose by Mr. Robert Swanson at an all-college semi-formal dance in her honor the evening of Saturday, November 17, and will lead the traditional grand march with John Cook, her escort and husband.

This is Sigma Tau Gamma's third annual Rose Dance. Crowned as Rose for the first dance was Beverly Brehmer who is now a senior and the wife of Bud Ryder. Sig Tau's second Rose was Rose Grzadzilewski, now a senior at Stout. Rosie was the first coed to be chosen both Homecoming Queen and Sig Tau Rose.

The fall formal is scheduled for Saturday, November 17 in the Stout Gym. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:30 to the sweet music of the Felix Brothers "Biggest Little Band" of Chippewa Falls. Past performances of this band have been gratifying and this one promises to be no exception. Tickets are now on sale in the HE corridor for $1.25 per couple. Ticket sales will continue through November 16.

DANCE TEAM TO PRESENT LYCEUM HERE

"Bamboula to Bop" is the scheduled lyceum program for Friday, November 16. Dances dating back 300 years in American Negro Folklore form part of this sparkling entertainment provided by The Katherine Flowers Dancers. There is an amazing variety of primitive dance rituals springing from the Voodoo Snake Worship and Black Magic of the Louisiana Creoles, the gay and delightful social dance that became the famous Cake Walk, the fast and furious Bamboula itself, theatrical source materials and street cries, to "Be-Bop."

These dances are staged by Katherine Flowers, a Northwestern University graduate and former teacher of Women's Physical Education in the Chicago city schools. There are also six dancers who play Congo drums.

Their portrayal of Negro folklore dances has won engagement with more than 20 leading state colleges, including the University of Kansas and University of Nebraska. They also have given more than 50 Chicago appearances this season.

H. HOVING TO LEAVE FOR PHILADELPHIA

After teaching at The Stout Institute during the past three years, Mr. Howard Hoving will soon be leaving to accept a position with the valve division of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company of Philadelphia, Penn. Here he will be in charge of all production controls, including complete responsibility for all scheduling and flow of materials.

During his years at Stout, Mr. Hoving served as assistant professor of English, and taught freshman English, expository writing, American literature, and fiction. He has been in charge of publicity, a member of the Assembly-Lyceum committee, and the Student Welfare committee. The fine editions of the Tower which we have had during the past three years have been partly due to Mr. Hoving, who was literary advisor to the organization. Students and faculty members will recall numerous convocations and student assemblies being opened with Mr. Hoving playing the organ.

Both faculty members and students regret to see Mr. Hoving leave. They join in wishing him success in his new position.

THREE FILMS TO BE SHOWN AT ASSEMBLY

Movies, movies, movies, yes, three movies will be shown at the assembly program next Wednesday, announces the Assembly-Lyceum committee.

The titles indicate that they may be pretty good. They are: "Coast of Curiousities," "Music in the Morgan Manner," and "Haunting We Will Go."

For an hour of relaxation and enjoyment why not attend these movies next Wednesday?

VOCATIONAL CLASS TO TRAVEL TO EAU CLAIRE

The thirty-five members of the Philosophy of Vocational Education class with their instructor, Miss Margery Elliot plan to take a field trip to visit the Eau Claire Vocational School on Monday, the nineteenth of November. The day selected is very appropriate as Eau Claire Vocational School is holding open house at that time.

The purpose of the field trip is for the class to see first hand a city vocational school, the classes, the instructors, and how the vocational school operates.

Wisconsin has fifty-eight city vocational schools as the Wisconsin law states that every city of 5,000 or more population must have a vocational school to offer the people opportunities for learning vocations and trades. Any person fourteen years of age or over may attend these vocational classes.

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Mr. John A. Jarvis, assistant professor of education, was recently appointed co-trustee of Theta Chapter, Epsilon Pi Tau.

This appointment was made to share the increasing local and national demands of Epsilon Pi Tau falling upon one trustee, Dean Clyde A. Bowman.

Mr. Jarvis was in charge of the recent oral examinations administered to the new fall members of Epsilon Pi Tau, in the absence of Dean Bowman.

YWCA MEETING IS HELD AT HAMLINE U.

The Idahapi district of YWCA and YMCA conference was held at Hamline University at St. Paul, on November 2, 3, and 4. Phyl Horning, Stout "Y" president, and Joyce Calum, Lois Feggestad, Virginia Jacobson, and Edna Gaffron attended the meetings. Miss Hain, one of the faculty advisors accompanied the group.

The program, which was held at Drew Hall, a men's dorm, began on Friday evening with recreation and a talk by Paul Homer, Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Homer discussed the topic "Christianity and the Struggle Within You." This was the first of the series of three talks given by him during the conference. Later, groups were formed to discuss the ideas he had put forth.

Vesper services were conducted for the first meeting by the Stout representatives.

In subsequent meetings the YW and YM groups met separately to discuss the objectives and plans for the future, then later combined to form workshops in Social and Political Action, Recreation, Committee Techniques, Worship and Singing. The purpose was to give the association members ideas to take back to their own organizations.

Representatives from River Falls, MacCallister College, Hamline University, Carleton College, Winona, University of Minnesota, including the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth campuses and Stout were at the conference.

STS TO TAKE ORDERS FOR XMAS STATIONERY

Stationery for Christmas gifts will again be sold this year by the Stout Typographical Society. Orders will be taken in the HE corridor three days before and three days after Thanksgiving vacation, November 19, 20, 21, 26, 27 and 28.

Delivery of stationary orders will be made before Christmas vacation.

Several styles of type and paper finish will be on display for personal inspection on the dates stated above.

For convenience during the Christmas shopping rush and choosing an all-around practical gift, STS stationery fills the bill.

WOELFFER, HEIN AND WALKER RECEIVE TEAM HONORS

Gale Woelffer and Ted Hein senior members of The Stout Institute football were chosen by their teammates at a meeting Wednesday night to be co-captains of the 1951 football team.

At the same meeting Ron Walker, a junior, was elected the most valuable player of the season.

Gale Woelffer hails from Stevens Point and Ted Hein is from Marshfield. Ron Walker who will be back with us next year is from Durand, Wisconsin.

President Fryklund, Dean Bowman In Attendance At Chicago IA Meet

President Verne C. Fryklund and Dean Clyde A. Bowman are attending the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the Industrial Arts Conference held at Hotel La Salle, Chicago, November 8-10.

Dr. Fryklund has been general chairman of the conference since 1941. This year Dr. Fryklund is serving as general chairman with Dean Bowman acting as chairman at the Thursday afternoon session.

Topics discussed during the conference include "Evaluation of Instruction in Industrial Arts," "Meeting the Needs of Industrial Arts Teachers in Graduate Programs," "Industrial Arts in the Elementary School," "Research in Industrial Arts," and "A National Professional Organization for Industrial Arts Teachers."

DeWitt T. Hunt, Oklahoma A & M College; F. J. Schmidt, Jr., State Teachers College, Muncie, Indiana; L. V. Newkirk, Board of Education, Chicago; Fred G. Strickler, Bradley University; and T. A. Hippaka, Iowa State College, are serving as chairmen of the panel groups.

DON'T FORGET THE MAP PLAY THIS WEEKEND

"The Bishop Misbehaves" was presented last night by the Manual Arts Players under the direction of Mr. Norman C. Zieman in the Stout auditorium. If you didn't get to see the play last night or haven't obtained your reserved seat ticket for tonight or tomorrow night be sure to get it today by presenting your SSA card at the reservation desk in the HE corridor. If it is impossible to get your ticket today you may get it at the door tonight or tomorrow night.

From the reports that have come in, the play was a big success last night. "The Bishop Misbehaves" was well received by the audience and Mike Pavlicin seemed to enjoy portraying the Bishop just as much or more than the audience enjoyed watching him.

Besides enjoying the actors and actresses the audience liked the realistic atmosphere brought about by the splendid sets. Speaking of being realistic, Alex (Red) certainly had nice "natural" red hair.

Don't forget! If you haven't already gotten a reserved seat ticket, do it now for an evening of fun as well as a treat.

CLASS VISITS TWIN CITIES ON FIELD TRIP

Miss Martha Amon and her class in House Furnishings enjoyed an interesting field trip to Minneapolis Wednesday, October 31.

The group left Menomonie by chartered bus at 7:30 a.m. and arrived at the cities at 9:30. Among some of the places the girls visited were Dayton's, the Modern Center, the Swedish shop, the Walker Art Center, and the Minneapolis Institute of Art.

While at Dayton's, the girls examined the various displays of drapery, dishes, furniture, floor coverings, different types of lighting treatment, kitchen ware, and model rooms. Most of the girls even found some time to shop.

The group lunched at the Curtis Hotel after which they visited the Walker Art Center and the Minneapolis Institute of Art.

Some of the things of special interest at the Walker Art Center were useful objects made of beautiful jade, the way clay becomes a bowl or dish, and the original Bruegel's painting. While at the Minneapolis Institute of Art, the group paid special attention to Van Gogh's paintings.

DANFORTH CONFERENCE TO BE AT U. W.

The Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, is beginning a series of Graduate Fellowships for college seniors and recent graduates who are prospective teachers, either at college or high school level, and who plan to enter graduate school in September, 1952, for their first year of graduate study.

Dr. Ralph Iverson has been named the liaison officer, and he will work with the Danforth Foundation on the selection of candidates. These fellowships will vary from $500 to $2400, depending upon the student's needs. Students who have no financial need are also invited to apply. If they are accepted, they will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation conference on teaching and the other activities of the program.

To be eligible for these fellowships, each candidate must have the following qualifications:

1. Superior intellectual ability in college record.
2. Good record of health and emotional stability.
3. Outgoing personality and the concern for other people, essential for successful teaching.
4. Choice of vocation of teaching as a form of christian service.
5. Deep religious convictions and growing religious perspectives.

STOUT STUDENTS SEE "CANADA" IN CITIES

Several students, Phyl Horning, Joyce Callen, Lois Feggestad, Virginia Jacobson, and Edna Gaffron, and Miss Juanita Hain, English instructor, attended George Bernard Shaw's play Candida at the Lyceum Theater in Minneapolis, Saturday, Nov. 3. Olivia de Havilland, famous stage and screen actress, played the leading role. Ron Randell, also stage and screen actor, played the Reverend James Mavor Marrell, husband of Candida.

Driving back from St. Paul the group was privileged to drive across the newly completed interstate bridge at Hudson, which was dedicated Sunday, Nov. 4.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

With mid-semester exams out of the way for most of us, Thanksgiving vacation looms in just a week and a half. And after that Christmas vacation seems to "sneak up" on us and before we know it the semester is over.

Perhaps some of you have been keeping up with your work and don't have to worry about last minute rushing to finish term papers, reports, and studies, but others of you are probably way behind as far as such things go. If such is the case, you had better start thinking and working right now because there are only eight weeks left of this semester. When you stop to think, that isn't a very long time.

The first quarter went so fast and the second will go just as swiftly. Now is a good time to begin reading those assignments and getting some of those reports out of the way so you won't be so rushed at the end of the semester.

Don't plan to do any work over vacation because you know you won't get any done. Good intentions often time don't materialize. Plan your time and budget it wisely now and you won't be frantic when semester time rolls around.

PRANKSTERS LEAVE CANNON ON CAMPUS

What's this? Do we dare believe our eyes? Yes, the goblins were out on the night of October 31st. This year they were exceptionally strong too! In case anyone doubts this they must have been away from the Stout campus last week.

Somehow the cannon that graces the green between the post office and the Tainter Memorial Library managed to find its way to the green between the I.E. building and the H.E. building. At the present time the exact cause(s) of this trip are unknown, but it is rumored that certain gendarmes of the local constabulary are in the process of tracking down the elusive "ghosts".

The cannon was returned to its proper place by members of The Stout Institute working staff last Saturday and so all is well that ends well.

RIFLE CLUB ANNOUNCES 1951-52 SCHEDULE

The Stout Institute Rifle Club has announced its 1951-52 schedule. Postal matches, matches where the Stout team fires on their range and mails the results to the challenged team on the same date that the challenged team fires on their ranges and mails their scores to Stout, have been scheduled with the following colleges: November 17, U of South Dakota; Dec. 1, U. of Connecticut; Dec. 8, Michigan Tech.; Jan. 12, Parks Air College; Jan. 19, Monmouth College; March 1, Coe College; and March 15, U. of Cincinnati.

Several shoulder to shoulder matches with nearby teams are being arranged on a home and home basis for the first part of next year.

TACKY DRAG ENJOYED BY MANY STUDENTS

The annual Tacky Drag provided one more example of the fine spirit which the Stout students have repeatedly shown in connection with the weekly social events. In spite of the extremely inclement weather, a fine crowd turned out to dance to the delightful music of Bobbie Bryan and his orchestra.

Nor did the blustery atmosphere dampen the spirits of those attending, as could be judged by the extremely large consumption of apple cider, and the gaily garbed characters.

A rather small, but gay band of non-conformists promenaded to the strains of popular march tunes with but one aim in mind—to impress the judges. When the music finally ended, four students were eleven dollars richer and everyone well satisfied with the course of the evenings events. The Sigma Fraternity wishes to thank all who made this occasion such a success.

KFS ESTABLISHES A PUBLICITY BUREAU

At their regular meeting, the members of the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity established a publicity bureau.

It will be the purpose of the new group to keep the alumni members posted on activities via the annual newsletter, answer all alumni correspondence, and report fraternity news to the Stoutonia.

STOUTONIA PARTY HELD AT CITY HALL

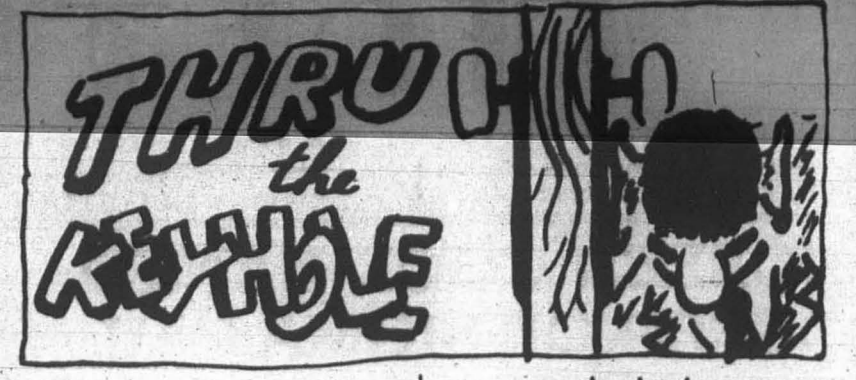

Screams of fright and glee, resounded throughout the city hall on Tuesday evening, October 30, as the Stoutonia staff members celebrated Halloween in the true spirit.

Many ghosts and witches seemed to be lurking about as eerie games along the Halloween theme were played by the group. The brave and fearless staff members enjoyed Halloween charades, pumpkin and black cat relays, and a spooky game of human leap frog.

After all the merriment and fun and to calm down all the enlivened spirits, the group partook of a lunch consisting of pop or "Halloween punch," piping hot "black cat" dogs, pumpkin and corn shaped candy, and crunchy potato chips.

Hi!

Although last Saturday's football game was postponed because of the weather, many couples braved the storm to come to the Tacky Drag. It was nice having the dance a little longer than just after a game, too.

Many of the Sigma's were there with their dates. Duane Freiberg was there with Marge Hedberg. Bob Braun and Mary Gehler really looked hilarious in their tacky garb; they won the prize for the tackiest couple. Gerald Jeffery in his long underwear was there with Jane Davies, Tom Williams was with Char Winslow, Marv Derocher and Louise Zibel, Louie Precourt and Marilyn Eckstein and Ralph Hetzel was with Grace Laudon. Where did you ever find that pair of overalls, Ralph?

Vern Christensen "Christy" was home on leave from the Navy and attended the dance with his girl.

Some other couples at the dance were Nan Carrol and Howie Knop, Colleen Ceminsky and Ray Steves, Marilyn Klusmayer and Jim Brown, and Val Bloom and Dean Cornwell.

Mary Jane Swanson came up to Menomonie to see Willis Bogenhagen and Faye Lehner came up to see her fiance, Dean Frey, and they were all at the dance Saturday night with stars in their eyes.

Mildred Pixley had her fellow down from the University of Minnesota for the week end.

Other couples attending the dance were Lewie Lausted and Joan Peterson, Herb Markley and Marlene Habeda, and Ken Pietsenpole and June Keefer.

Dick Duthler took Nancy Elam home to Freeport, Illinois last week end in spite of the snow. Reports have it that an enjoyable time was had by all.

Saturday night Jean Pengilly had a birthday party. Helping Jean celebrate were Bruce Arntson and Clarice Zarling, Dan Gordon and Pat Allard, Isabel Iverson, Jackie Kling, and Ruth Larson.

Sunday night Doris Heil and Howie Vetter were seen viewing a cinema.

JIM COVEY WRITES OF U.S. NAVY POST

Last year's senior class president, Jim Covey, recently sent the following letter.

"I arrived at Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay last Thursday morning after a five day ride on a troop train. They took us from Chicago to Kansas City, Mo., from there to El Paso, on to Los Angeles, on to San Francisco. So, Uncle Sam really gave us a free tour of the West."

"I thought that I would be going to San Diego but I ended up on Treasure Island. I plan on being here for some time."

"I really wish I could have made homecoming this year, but Uncle had other plans."

150 ALUMNI ATTEND MEET AT DELTA CO.

One hundred fifty Stout Alumni and friends enjoyed a supper meeting Thursday, November 1, at the Wisconsin Education Association convention in Milwaukee. The supper was sponsored by the Delta Machine Company and was held in their plant cafeteria at 600 East Vienna Street.

Activities began with a cocktail hour at 5:00. There was no lack of gaiety as old friends met and talked over past experiences. A delicious cafeteria supper began at six o'clock. Richard Brown, Advertising and Sales Promotion Manager for Delta, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening and introduced Earl Laatsch, past president of the Milwaukee Alumni Chapter. Mr. Laatsch introduced Dean C. A. Bowman who was at his usual best in his remarks to the group. Some of his "black book" stories were cleverly woven into the events of the evening. President Fryklund and Dean Alice Kirk were also presented to the group. Carl Haase, national alumni president, Bob Swanson, national secretary, and Frank Dummann, newly elected president of the Milwaukee Chapter were recognized. Earl Laatsch then turned the meeting back to Mr. Brown who presented the Delta program.

Before coming to The Stout Institute in September, 1948, Mr. Hoving worked for six years as set-up man and foreman in the miscellaneous aluminum department of the Wright Aeronautical Corp. He also taught for three years in the English department of the College of Engineering at the University of Michigan.

WILLARD BENSON TELLS OF COLLEGE POST

Willard A. Benson, who is teaching in the Industrial Education Department at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois, says that it's really the wide variety of work that makes his work so interesting at Southern Illinois University. In addition to three regular classes, Willard is faculty advisor for about sixty pre-engineering students. He was recently elected to the faculty council which is the policy board for the University, is one of five on the advisory committee for the College of Vocations and Professions, and is serving as consultant on ship building programs of three schools.

GERRY RAISLER WRITES ABOUT HER INTERNSHIP

2nd Lt. Geraldine M. Raisler, B.S. '51, is one of fifteen young college women who began a years dietetics internship at Brooke Army Hospital, Brooke Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, on October 8.

The classroom and practical training given the interns at Brooke Army Hospital prepares them to meet the responsibilities of an Army Dietitian. The course more than meets the requirements of the American Dietetic Association for approved internship.

Before reporting to Brooke Army Hospital, Lt. Raisler completed the eight weeks Womens Officers' Basic Course given by Medical Field Service School, another unit of Brooke Army Medical Center.

EAU CLAIRE PASTOR IS WESLEY SPEAKER

Wesley held their regular meeting Sunday, November 4, at 7:30 o'clock. The supper was served by Dick Duthler's committee. The menu was as follows: Tunafish hot dish, tossed lettuce salad, rolls and butter, and ice cream.

The worship service was conducted by Phyl Horning and her able committee.

Rev. Friedman of Eau Claire gave a splendid talk on "Methodism". He showed the tree of growth of the Christian Church and the many splits which occurred. He also showed some slides on the life, work, and teachings of John Wesley.

The meeting ended with the friendship circle and the singing of, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Next week Rev. Reece will speak on "Protestantism." Everyone is invited to attend. You will have fun--food--fellowship--if you come to Wesley.

LSA HOLDS LUNCHEON, DISCUSSION PERIOD

On Sunday evening, the L.S.A. held a meeting and luncheon at Our Savior's Lutheran Church with twenty-five members being in attendance. A short period of recreation was held after which a buffet style supper was served. The supper consisted of chili, carrot sticks, rolls, brownies, and ice cream. After supper, recreation was again held until seven o'clock when a discussion on the doctrine of the various Lutheran synods was led by Dr. Iverson.

APO HALLOWEEN PARTY IS ENJOYED BY ALL

The members of Alpha Phi Omega held one of their few social functions of the year on Tuesday night, October 30. The entertainment followed the theme of Halloween. After a series of games, everyone joined in a good round of square dancing.

ENTER THE SKI CLUB, ENJOY A SEASON OF FUN

The Ski Club at Stout has been organized for four years, and membership is open to all skiers and anyone else interested. Even if you do not know how to ski join anyway, because instructions are given to all those who wish to learn how to ski. Although equipment may be rented from the school anyone who has ski equipment of their own should be sure to bring it back with them after Thanksgiving vacation because some skiing may be done before Christmas.

The last two years buses have been chartered and ski trips were made to Mt. Telemark and also to Trollhagen at Dresser, Wisconsin. This year there are two new ski areas at Colfax and Rice Lake. Besides the many ski trips during the year, the club also sponsors a dance.

PHILO INITIATION IS HELD AT SALTER HOME

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Salter was the scene of the Philomathean Sorority's formal initiation on November 1. After the formal candle-light initiation ceremonies, a lunch of flaming steamed pudding with rum-butter sauce, nuts, candies, and coffee was served.

BLUE DEVILS BEAT SUPERIOR 53-0 TO END SUCCESSFUL GRID SEASON FOR STOUT INSTITUTE

Tony Storti's Blue Devils, at Nelson field Tuesday night, exploded with a powerful offense to smother the Superior Yellowjackets 53-0, and sewed up undisputed second place in the Wisconsin state college conference.

Only a handful of spectators braved the chilly night air to witness an amazing display of football know-how which included all the tricks of the game. Tackles and guards scored, McNamara ran 100 yards for a nullified score, and Paul Christopherson gave the Superior passers neurosis by intercepting four aeriels.

Though for a short time in the first period it looked like a nip and tuck battle with neither team able to sustain scoring drives, Coach Storti's Blue Devils ripped loose in the closing minutes of the first quarter.

The Blue Devils went touchdown mad for most of the remainder of the game and scored eight touchdowns and five points after to rack up the final score. The scoring column included McNamara, who got the first two for Stout, Red Walker, who also scored twice, Karl Turk, who hit pay dirt once, Bob Roloff, who scored twice, and John Widmar, who went across the line once. The touchdown by Turk was part of one of Stout's touchdown plays that makes him eligible for a lateral after a pass, but John Widmar's tally was the one that really sent the small crowd to their feet. From what looked like an inexorable pile-up on the Superior 20 yard line following a Yellowjacket running play, emerged the 225 pound defensive guard with the ball in his hands. John proved that you don't have to be a halfback to carry the ball, as he ran right through an amazed Superior backfield for the score.

The final gun sounded with Superior in control of the ball deep in their own territory with the Stout defense making things difficult for them.

'51 BASKETBALL PRACTICE IS NOW UNDERWAY

Basketball practice for hopeful members of the 1951-52 Stout squad has been in progress for several weeks, Ray C. Johnson, director of athletics and head basketball coach, announced today.

Although those who are on the football squad have been unable to attend these practices, the whole team will begin workouts next week with an eye toward the rapidly approaching season opener. The basketball schedule has been set up now and awaits only official approval before its release in next week's Stoutonia.

In the mean time, coach Johnson will be working his charges hard with an eye toward getting the Blue Devils out of the conference cellar which they occupied last year.

LACROSSE TAKES FIRST IN CONFERENCE FINALS

After beating Eau Claire by a score of 39-0 this Monday night, the La Crosse STC Indians have taken a final hold on the conference football championships for this year. The Indians were undefeated in conference play, and piled up a massive 159 points to their opponents 34.

PRESENT HISTORY OF FOOTBALL AT STOUT

The first football team to represent Stout was formed in 1911. That year they won the only two games they played. From 1911 to 1916 when Stout entered the Normal Conference, they played only high schools.

George F. Miller, hired in 1917, was the first coach. Before that time the coaching was done by student coaches. Stout discontinued football in 1918 because of the war. After the war Stout came back strong, winning their first championship in 1921. The champs were undefeated, winning five and tying two.

S. E. Paulus succeeded George F. Miller as coach in 1928. He was coach until 1931 when Earl Burbridge took over. During the time Burbridge and Paulus were coaching, Stout had a four year span when they did not win a single conference game.

Crawford became coach during 1935. In 1938 he was succeeded by Ray C. Johnson present Athletic director of the Stout Institute.

Mr. Johnson coached the 1941 team which shared the conference title with La Crosse.

On September 12, 1948 the St. Paul Pioneer Press read, "Wartime grid ace returns to old school as coach. This was Coach Storti who had played with the '41 champs, and was all-conference fullback and led the scorers. Since Storti has become head coach Stout has won 22, lost 8, and tied 2. In 1949 Storti's boys were co-champs with La Crosse. Also, a Storti-coached team claims the only win that Stout can claim in the 26 year series with La Crosse.

The following is a year-by-year record of Stout's football team from 1911 to the present time:

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Well, football season is now officially over, after a slight delay due to "Old Man Weather." If Stout had decided to wait any longer the players would all have needed a can of Sterno to keep warm with.

Coach Storti didn't look too cold, though—with all that "S" Club gum to chew, he kept himself nice and warm. It doesn't take a long look at the record, however, to see that Storti doesn't devote all his time to chewing gum. Since Tony Storti has come to Stout, he has produced some of the best teams that Stout has ever had. A quick look at the records next to this column will tell that story.

It has been through long hours and hard work that coach Storti has managed to accomplish this fine record; it has taken work beyond the call of duty. So, in speaking for the student body, the Stoutonia says "thanks" to coach Storti for the good work he has done, and wishes him all the luck in the world for future teams of Stout Institute.

Perhaps the forgotten men of Stout football are the assistant coaches, though. It is these men who have contributed large amounts of their time and energy to the production of a fine working grid machine. Head line coach Lyle Pollock is one of these men whose devotion has helped shape Stout football history. Also instrumental in the production of the Blue Devil team were assistant backfield coach Tom Stilp and Dale Digerness, assistant line coach. It is these men with their recent experience at actually playing the game, and their familiarity with the methods employed by Coach Storti and Pollock, that have made them invaluable assistants to these men.

But, the biggest cheer can go to the team itself; the guys who put out all they had all season to make their team click. They are the ones upon whom all football success or failure depends; they are the ones to whom we owe our greatest vote of thanks.

So, till next season, congratulations boys, you did a fine job.

JAPANESE EDUCATORS VISIT HERE

Educators from Japan and the Philippines are visiting The Stout Institute this week.

Miss Mino Uchida, educational researcher in the Research and Publication Bureau of the Japanese Ministry of Education, was in Menomonie from November 8 to November 16. Miss Uchida is visiting schools in the United States to study school finances and business administration.

Mr. Haruo Takechi, Principal, Tokyo Metropolitan Commercial Secondary School, and Mr. Yoshio Kobayashi, Supervisor of Vocational Guidance, Osaka Prefecture, arrived at The Stout Institute on November 5 and plan to remain on the campus until November 16.

Mr. Goro Jujishima, Superintendent of Education, Shimane Prefecture, and Mr. Itsuo Kagami, Supervisor of Agricultural Education, Yamagata Prefecture, were at Stout from November 12 to November 16. A prefecture in Japan corresponds to a state in the United States.

Mr. Pantaleon Regala, Superintendent of the Philippines School of Arts and Trades, Manila, is visiting the United States under the Educational Exchange Program. Mr. Regala arrived in Menomonie on November 13 and will be visiting The Stout Institute until November 17.

At the present time a number of leaders from many countries are being brought to the United States by the Department of State for short periods to exchange information with their colleagues and to become better acquainted with our country, our people, and the way in which our democratic institutions operate. The educators who visited Stout this week are in the United States under this Department of State Program.

Dr. Hilario G. Nudas has been attending The Stout Institute this semester. Dr. Nudas was sent to this school by the Philippine government to study industrial education.

FACULTY MEN TO SPEAK AT AVA MEETING

Three members of the Stout faculty will be represented on the program of the international convention of the American Vocational Association to be held in Minneapolis this November.

The 45th annual AVA convention will be held in Minneapolis, Minnesota from November 26 to December 1. This promises to be the largest and most significant convention in AVA history. Expert program planning, top flight guest speakers, and advance arrangement of Minnesota's 17 local committees will make a memorable week of pleasure and professional advancement for all delegates.

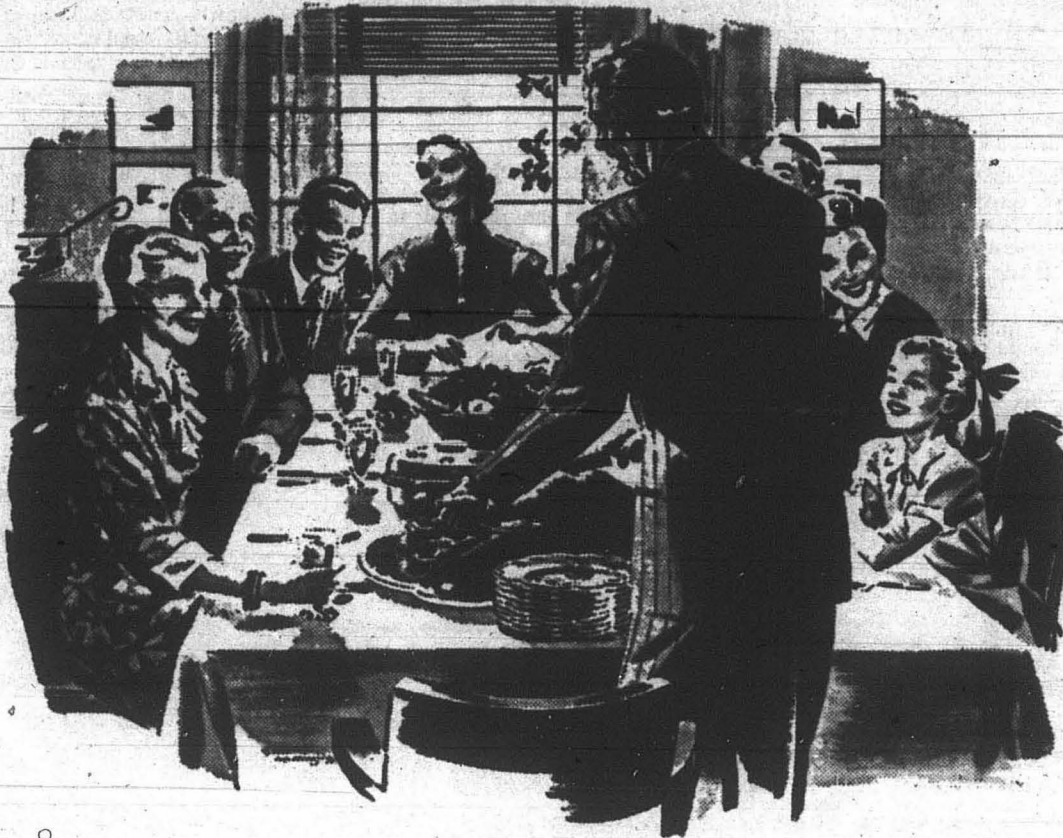

The program at this convention will cover all phases of education including Agriculture Education, Business Education, Distributive Education, Home Economics Education, Industrial Education, Industrial Arts Education, Vocational Guidance, and Vocational Rehabilitation.

Lloyd Whydetski, head of the Department of Graphic Arts here at Stout will speak to a Graphic Arts group on Friday, November 30th. He will speak on the subject of preparing and upgrading teachers to meet changing conditions in the printing occupations. This Graphic Arts section is sponsored by the National Graphic Arts Education Association.

Dean Clyde Bowman will be chairman of the section of the National Association of Industrial Teacher Trainers. This section will be included in the Industrial Education Division and the Industrial Arts Education on Monday November 26th. Dean Bowman will also be chairman of the section on Industrial Arts Teachers to be held Wednesday Nov. 28.

President Verne C. Fryklund will speak to the Industrial Arts Section on Tuesday, November 27. The subject of his talk will be Accreditation of Industrial Arts Teacher Education. The president will also speak on this subject to a group of Industrial Arts Supervisors and teacher trainers on Wednesday, November 28.

Thanksgiving

Next Thursday most of you will be gathered around a Thanksgiving table with your family. When you are seated around that table, stop and think a moment about all you have to be thankful for and offer a little prayer of thanksgiving.

The Stoutonia Staff joins in wishing all faculty and students a very joyous and blessed Thanksgiving.

"400" TO MAKE ANNUAL STOP FOR VACATIONERS

The "400" will make its annual stop at the Menomonie Junction for Stout students going home for Thanksgiving vacation Wednesday, November 21. The east bound "400" is due to leave Menomonie Junction at 1:30 pm November 21, and the west bound will arrive at 8:09 p.m. November 25.

The City Bus line will handle passengers to and from the Junction with the first bus leaving at 12:30 p.m.

Students who wish to ride on the "400" are urged to buy their tickets at the City Depot below the hill to avoid possibility of being unable to purchase them at the Junction due to the shortage of time.

ANNUAL BREAKFAST HELD IN MILWAUKEE

The Theta chapter of the Epsilon Pi Tau sponsored their eighteenth annual breakfast Friday morning, November 2, at the Hotel Wisconsin in Milwaukee. The event was held at the same time as the annual convention of the Wisconsin Education Association. Mr. Harold A. Schulz and Mr. Kenneth Pederson of Milwaukee were co-chairmen of the event.

During the course of the breakfast, records of achievement were discussed. An interesting array of door prizes was distributed, and reports on plans for the year were analyzed. The competition with the Kenosha delegation for the first place in arrival time was sharpened by setting the hour for the breakfast at 7:00 a.m.

DIETETICS FRUIT CAKE SALE IS UNDERWAY

The Dietetics Club is selling fruit cakes.

With the coming of the first snow, we know that Christmas is just around the corner. The Dietetics Club members are busily at work on their fruit cakes and are taking orders for them. The price is $1 for the medium size and $1.50 for the large size. When a member contacts you, remember the delicious fruit cakes of the past seasons and order the large size. Orders will be taken until November 20th, but if you are not contacted, see Eleanor Ushijima. The fruit cakes will be distributed on December 4.

WORLD TRAVELER AT CONVO NOVEMBER 28

On Nov. 28 Mrs. Julia Bock Harwood Miller will speak on her travels around the world. She will use about twenty of the Stout girls to model the interesting costumes which she has acquired on her "Shopping Around the World" tour. Mrs. Miller has spoken here before and was a very popular person with the student group.

SIXTEEN GIRLS INITIATED INTO PHI U GROUP

Sixteen girls were initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics honorary fraternity, Saturday, November 10, at 7:30 a.m. The initiation was held in the tearoom with the officers performing the rites of initiation.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was held at the Hotel Marion with the new members, old members, alumni, and advisors attending.

Mrs. Edna Moran, regional supervisor of Phi Upsilon Omicron, was the speaker after the breakfast. She brought out the history of the professional work aspect of Phi U. She explained what was being done by Phi U to help advance home economics professionally. Mrs. Moran was here for the national inspection of the Stout chapter of Phi U. She had conferences with all the officers while she was here to help them understand their duties to the local chapter and the national office.

Following Mrs. Moran's address, a business meeting was led by the president, Patricia Krause.

Those initiated into the fraternity were Shirley Bendixen, Nadine Brown, Charmaine Chopp, Sumie Doi, Mariys Eaton, Geraldine Erickson, Nancy Hauser, Donna Helke, Beverly Henderson, Betty Johanson, Joan Mitby, Hazel Nelson, Ardis Olsen, Ann Rossmiller, and Jean Van Liew.

These girls were selected on the basis of their scholarship, professional interest in home economics, extra-curricular interests, and leadership abilities.

NEW DIRECTORIES ARE RELEASED TODAY

The 1951-'52 Student Directories are ready for distribution Monday, November 19. Copies of the directory may be secured by all students at the president's office. Each student is asked to take only one copy as there are only a limited number available.

SIG TAU DANCE TO BE HELD IN STOUT GYM

The crowning of Noreen Cook as the "Rose of Sigma Tau" will highlight tomorrow night's all-college semi-formal dance. After the crowning, by Mr. Robert Swanson, Noreen will lead the traditional grand march with her husband John Cook.

Dancing will be from 8:30 to 11:30 to the strains of the Felix Brothers "Biggest Little Band" of Chippewa Falls. The Stout gym will take on quite a new look for this dance. Hundreds of roses, picket fences, soft lights, and a false ceiling will give the dancers the atmosphere they desire. The Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity again extends a warm invitation to everyone and hopes to see you all tomorrow night at the "Rose of Sigma Tau" dance.

USED BOOK SALE TO BE HELD FOR HOSPITAL BENEFIT FUND

The second annual Used Book Sale sponsored by the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will be held at the Goodrich Furniture store on November 16 and 17.

Used textbooks, classics, encyclopedias, dictionaries, children's books, novels, current digests and women's magazines will be on sale.

The proceeds will be added to the soundproofing fund of the Memorial Hospital.

DANCERS TO BE AT STOUT THIS EVENING

The Katherine Flowers Dancers of Chicago are presenting their program of historical Negro folklore dances at the Lyceum in the Stout Auditorium tonight at 8:00 p.m.

Dances dating back more than 300 years in American Negro folklore form part of this sparkling entertainment. Old dance-forms with all their traditions, humor, subtlety and color, have been brought back to life, and in them may be detected the historical antecedents of some of our seemingly most "modern" theatre.

There is an amazing variety - primitive dance rituals springing from the Voodoo Snake Worship and Black Magic of the Louisiana Creoles as imported from the French Martinique; the gay and delightful social dances that became the famous Cake Walk of the 1890-ies; and the Lucy Long of the 1840-ies; and the fast and furious African imported Bamboula itself, theatrical source-materials and street cries, down to modern-day Re-Bop.

These dances are staged by Katherine Flowers of Chicago, a Northwestern University graduate and former teacher of women's physical education.

Two of the dancers with the Katherine Flowers group.

location in The Chicago city schools. Her narrations briefly introduce historical situations and atmosphere. The Company includes six dancers, several of whom play the Conga drums, pianist, and Katherine Flowers.

Their portrayal of Negro folklore dances has won engagements with more than twenty-five leading state colleges, including the University of Kansas and University of Nebraska. They gave more than fifty Chicago appearances this past season.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Those who donated a pint of blood last Friday, all of them deserve a bouquet. There were more than that who volunteered but were refused because of physical reasons. We include them also, for at least the spirit was there. Not only do these donors have our thanks but also those of the recipient of each pint of blood.

Next Wednesday we start the trek homeward for turkey and all the trimmings. As we depart, no matter what the means of transportation, let us all bear in mind the 3 C's of safety: care, courtesy, and common sense. Up until now we have enjoyed your company for these eleven weeks and we hope to be able to enjoy this companionship for the remainder of the school year. Let's not let one moment's carelessness spoil the holiday weekend.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The Student Governing Board held their regular meeting at the student assembly last Wednesday, November 7, for the purpose of acquainting the students with the way that the Board functions.

First on the agenda was the reports of the various committees. John Christenson reported for the social committee and said that they are going to send out questionnaires to the students in hopes of bettering the social functions on the campus. Some of the questions that will be asked are:

1. Are we having too few or too many dances?
2. Could we make better use of the union? If so, how?

Also, John reported that his committee has been looking at many lamps in the past week to decide which kind would be most suitable for all around use on the campus. As you know, the Board has decided to buy lamps to be used at dances and the many other social functions at Stout. All social organizations would have access to these. John thought that a goose-necked lamp would best suit this purpose. It would cost $10.95, less a 10% discount. Dean Price agreed to go over with John and look at the lamps once more before the Board decided.

Charmaine Chopp, chairman of the Assembly Committee reported that the Freshmen would be in charge of the assembly program next Wednesday, Nov. 14. They will put on a skit for the student body. Charmaine announced that each organization should send a representative to a meeting held in room 122 of the HE Building next Tuesday, Nov. 13. It is hoped that each organization will put on a skit for the assembly periods.

Sam Mikitarian, chairman of the movie committee, reported that they have scheduled two movies and would like to schedule a third because of the increased price at the local theaters. One of the movies scheduled is an operetta and the other is a mystery. The operetta movie is "Macatto" and the mystery movie is "Phantom of the Opera".

Bill Banks brought up the discussion about the Contingent Fund and the Petty Loan. He stated that the Petty Loan would be designed for students through the SSA. It would allow the students to borrow money for a weekend with no questions asked. The money then would have to be paid back within two weeks. A

Hi.

The number of days until the beginning of Thanksgiving vacation is rapidly decreasing. In just five days we will be going home. To some this will mean a brief, sad parting, but to others it will mean just the opposite. It all depends on where your heart lies.

We were glad to see a lot of couples at the play last Saturday. Some of the couples seen there were Shirley Lepien and Lorn King, Donna McDonough and Bill Kieffer, Carol Banner and Chuck Weber, Joan Fritz and Gay Boyer, Nancy and Earl Willmarth, and DeWayne Nevin and his girl.

We're positively worn out trying to keep up with Francis Oberpriller; he was with Jan Wurtz last week end.

Connie Anderson is back from practice teaching and is back to Stout and to Wayne Olson.

Dot Krushas and John Dale, a local boy, were at the play. They really make an attractive couple.

Jean Pengilly was a happy girl this week end; her Carl was here on leave from the Navy. Carl graduated in 1950.

Barb Sherwood, who had been in the infirmary for quite some time, was at the play with Don Hiller.

Some other couples at the play were Milt Benner and his girl who was here last week end, Jim Brown and Marilyn Klusmeyer, Royce Meyers and his wife, Burt and Paulene Jaeger, Jack Myers and his fiancée, and Lola Olson and Don Thompson.

Mary Ann Moore is one girl who has been on a cloud all week. Don Rhead who is on leave from the Army has been occupying most of her waking hours.

Diamonds, diamonds! Liz Kasson came back to Stout last Monday with a sparkler on her third finger, left hand. It's so big we don't know how she can manage to lift that hand.

Fern Naedler, June Keefer, Ruth Kelly, and Carolann Hammersten had a good time last week end. After the play Friday night, the girls all went to Fern's home for the week end. Their drivers, Mel Witte and Ken Pietenpol, spent the week end at Mel's home in Wisconsin Rapids.

Deer hunting seems to be running the girls a little competition. Jo Fritz is bringing in reinforcements. Why not do that girls?

The two black eyes of the campus were Dorothy Brownell in the play and Jack Luy in real life. They make a charming couple.

Have a good time at the Sig Tau formal tomorrow night. We'll be seeing you.

We remain faithfully yours,
Key and Hole

slight fee might be charged to pay for the checking account. The Contingent Fund would be given to Dean Price and Dean Antrim for the purpose of giving money to students when unexpected occasions come up. Dean Price enlightened the students about these. He said that there have been cases where a student's father died and the student was going to hitch-hike home because he didn't have money to buy a bus-ticket.

Auggie Schultz gave a report on the purchasing of a whirlpool bath. He stated that this would be used to help the physical condition of the students and athletes. It would be available to all students. The cost of one would run about $400. There are funds left over from the last S-Club carnival that would be used for this purpose and with the aid of this year's carnival, the SSA, and the Student Governing Board, he thought that the purchase would be possible.

Christen reported for the Ed. Standards Committee. She said that a committee has begun the composing of a Parliamentary Procedure Booklet.

Roberta Hutchinson and others reported on the Future Teachers of America movement (FTA). Roberta pointed out six purposes of the FTA movement. They are:

1. To develop among young people preparing to be teachers an organization which should be an important part of state and national education associations.
2. To acquaint teachers in training with the history, ethics, and program of the organized teaching profession.
3. To give teachers in training practical experience in working together in a democratic way on the problems of the profession and community.
4. To interest the best young men and women in education as a lifelong career.
5. To encourage careful selection of persons admitted to schools which prepare teachers, with emphasis on both character and scholarship.
6. To seek through the dissemination of information and through higher standards of preparation to bring teacher supply and demand into a reasonable balance.

If anyone is interested and wants more information about FTA, contact Roberta Hutchinson.

Following the committee reports, the Board discussed the Student Leadership Conference, which is to be held at Mount Mary's from Nov. 30 to Dec. 2. This is the same week end of the AVA Convention in Minneapolis.

Then the Board discussed the issue concerning the Sigma Fraternity going National. They voted that the Sigma's be allowed to bi-pass the Governing Board with their petition in order that they may send in their acceptance to Delta Kappa in time for their installation on Nov. 30.

Dean Price brought up the topic about our bowling alleys at Stout. He stated that they were sanding them as best they could but hoped that we could have new alleys in three or four years. It was decided to start putting money away for this purpose. He stated that there isn't hardly anything to sand anymore.

Last on the agenda was the discussion of purchasing radio's for the infirmary. A committee was appointed to look into this matter.

WESLEY FELLOWSHIP HAS JAPANESE GUEST

Wesley Student Fellowship held their regular meeting Sunday, November 11. Preceding the meeting Phyl Horning's committee served a supper of creamed chipped beef molded fruit gelatin, chocolate chip cookies, and milk.

The worship service, conducted by Iris Ruf's committee, included an article from Motive Magazine, "A Shocking Enterprise". Rev. Reece's topic, "Protestantism", was followed by a short discussion period.

Mr. Kobayashi of Japan was guest. Fred Kajihara reported on the meeting of the Interreligious council.

The meeting closed with the Benediction.

Everyone is invited to Wesley, the one place where you are always welcome.

VOCATIONAL WORKSHOP IS HELD HERE

Thirty-one vocational teachers from 15 Wisconsin cities attended the first annual Workshop for Trade and Industrial Teachers held at The Stout Institute from July 30 to August 3. Sponsored by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, the one-week institute was planned to include general sessions, discussions, and laboratory workshops dealing with the selection and organization of subject matter in trade and industrial education.

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, spoke to the group on the opening day on "The Importance of Occupational Analysis in the Building of a Course of Study." Mr. C. L. Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education for Wisconsin, addressed the group on Tuesday. Included in the week's work were workshops on the evaluation of job analysis in terms of the criteria presented, course outline production, breakdown of course outline, materials of instruction and teaching aids, and teaching evaluation devices.

Mr. H. C. Thayer, supervisor of teacher training, was in charge of the work conference. Assisting him were R. L. Welch, supervisor of trade and industry; Roy Fairbrother, supervisor of distributive education; John A. Kubiak, supervisor of occupational information and guidance; and Martin Wesolowski, teacher trainer, trade and industry.

SIGMA WILD GAME DINNER IS A SUCCESS

The second annual Sigma Fraternity wild game feed was held on Sunday afternoon and evening, November 11, with a large number of the members present.

The scene of the event was the K.P. hall, and the menu, one of the tastiest ever. During the past weeks the big game hunters of the organization have spent a good deal of their free hours in search of the elusive little creatures which were to form the basis for this unusual feed. In addition to the squirrels and rabbits acquired in this manner, the larder was replenished considerably through two official fraternity hunts in which a large number participated.

Reports stemming from the occasion lead one to believe that a very delicious meal was served and that the enjoyable time which was had by all is sufficient assurance that this event shall be continued in the future.

ORDERS FOR CHRISTMAS CARDS TAKEN NOW

The Hyperian Sorority will be taking orders for Stout Christmas cards in the Home Economics corridor on the three days preceeding and the three days following Thanksgiving vacation.

This year's Christmas cards will feature the Home Economics building. The orders will be distributed the week before Christmas vacation.

Donna Kriak is general chairman for this annual Christmas card sale. She would like to see all of you loyal Stout supporters ordering your 1951 Stout Christmas cards from the Hyperian Sorority.

SSA MESSAGE

It was good to see that there were a few students interested in the Student Governing Board meeting held on the regular assembly period. This was a rather unusual meeting because it lasted only a short time. Right now we are in an extensive search for those goose-neck lamps with the torpedo shaped shade.

Remember if you have any suggestions or criticisms of anything pertaining to school life, see one of the governing board members that you met in the assembly. There is no excuse now as everyone has been introduced. The social committee will have an important meeting very shortly.

These coming two weeks will find a little change in the SSA office. Rowena is "off campus" teaching. Dorothy Messerschmidt is very kindly assisting in Rowena's absence.

We wish to thank all of those who donated blood to the Red Cross, and also to those who helped setting up and removing all the necessary equipment. From latest reports the total was about 95 pints, which isn't too bad, but with over 700 students we could have had more.

Next Wednesday is a mighty important date for many students. Especially those who will be going home for the first time this year. We hope everyone has a filling Thanksgiving and we hope to see everyone back safe and sound and pleasantly plump on Monday, November 26.

MAP GROUP COMPLETES ANOTHER BIG SUCCESS

The set, make-up, costumes, and properties are put away and "The Bishop Misbehaves," the fall production of the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, under the direction of Mr. Norman C. Ziemann, is over.

The Manual Arts Players should be congratulated on a splendid job well done. They worked hard on the play, designing and building the set, practicing at rehearsals, getting all the necessary properties, publicizing the play, and then at last presenting the final performances.

The Ohio State Lantern, slightly immersed in self-pity, recently printed the following editorial: "We note that a recent physicians survey indicated that college graduates have far more headaches than those with little education."

"This isn't difficult to fathom... consider the poor college senior like us. If he goes into the army, he's got to worry about what's going to happen to him there, with bullets and all. If he doesn't go into the army, he's called... a draft-dodger."

"...If he goes out with the boys at night for a beer, he's accused of being a drunk.... If he stays home and hits the books, he's accused of tearing down the party.... If he's single, he's got to worry about all his girls and which other guys they're dating. If he's married...."

"No wonder college men have headaches."

V.A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASES BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

The regulations concerning the pursuit of training subsequent to the veteran's delimiting date provide for the resumption of such training where his attendance was interrupted for reasons beyond his control. Where the veteran's course has been interrupted for a relatively short period of time, i.e., 3 days or less, his statement of a valid reason may be accepted without supporting evidence, unless there are reasons apparent in the record for requiring additional supporting evidence; however, where a period of interruption other than a normal vacation period is in excess of 3 days, the veteran will be required to submit acceptable supporting evidence establishing that his interruption was for a valid reason. It will be the responsibility of the veteran to secure and submit to the Veterans Administration such evidence as may be considered adequate to support his contention.

Where the interruption was caused by excessive consecutive days of absence, if the veteran wishes to resume his course, he must establish that the period of absence causing interruption was for valid reasons within the meaning of the regulations and, following the expiration of the period for which such valid reasons continued to obtain, he must resume his course at the first time his re-enrollment is permitted in his course by the school or by the State Approving Agency, whichever is applicable in his case.

Where such interruption was caused by an accumulation of intermittent absences, the veteran must establish that the absence on the day which completed such cumulative total was for a reason beyond his control, within the meaning of the regulations; and further, the veteran must resume the course at the first time his re-enrollment is permitted in his course by the school or by the State Approving Agency, whichever is applicable in his case.

Veterans Administration today reminded veterans training under the GI Bill of some basic rules and regulations that must be followed in order to stay in training at Government expense, now that the July 25 cut-off date for starting has passed.

The post-cut-off-date rulings apply to most, but not all, veterans now in training. Those few not affected include veteran-trainees who were discharged from service less than four years ago, and whose individual cut-off dates have not yet arrived.

Here are VA's "do's" and "don't's" of post-cut-off-date training:

A veteran continuing his training after the cut-off date must pursue his course continuously until it is completed—except for interruptions under conditions beyond his control. Such allowable interruptions include the normal summer vacation, as well as recall to active military service.

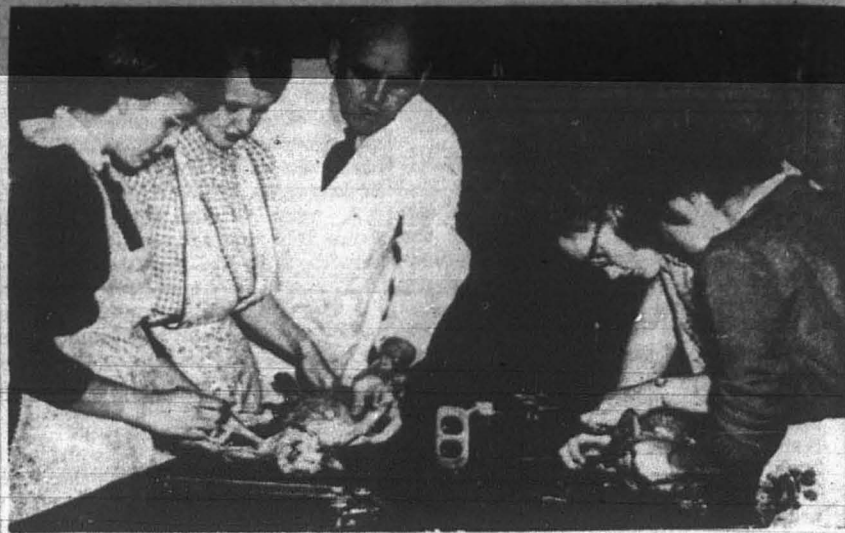

Once a veteran completes or discontinues his course after the cut-off-date he may not start another.

Satisfactory reasons for change are these:

1. When a veteran is not making satisfactory progress in his present course and the failure is not due to his own misconduct, neglect or lack of application.
2. When the course to which he desires to change is more in keeping with his aptitudes, previous education, training or other pertinent factors.
3. When the course to which he wants to change is a normal progression from his current course, and will help him attain his educational or vocational objective.

No additional changes of course will be approved, except for the most cogent reasons, VA said. VA explained that most veterans not actually in training on the July 25 cut-off date no longer are eligible for the GI Bill training benefit. But those who had enrolled before the deadline may continue until they complete their courses or run out of GI entitlement. For the great majority of veterans, the entire GI training program winds up on July 25, 1955.

"A traitor is a man who leaves one party and goes over to the other one."
"Well, then, what is a man who leaves his party and comes over to ours?"
"A convert, my boy."

"SWEET" AROMA ANNOUNCES ARRIVAL OF CATS FOR PHYSIOLOGY CLASS

Each semester the delicate perfume of formaldehyde announces the arrival of the physiology cats, as they are placed in their storage boxes in room 4. The thought of the poor pussies linger in the minds of the girls from one period to the next, and the town drug stores are invaded by a mad rush of girls trying to find the strongest smelling hand cream so they can forget. Meg Nelson and Judy Quilling spent the first few hours meticulously manicuring Calico Pussey in an attempt to get him ready for a day with his wife Priscilla who later in the week presented him with three kittens, two black and one white. Priscilla was combed for the occasion.

by partners Nancy Hanshus and Ann Sipple. Some of the girls were considering combining a number of cat coats to make a fur piece, but the idea was given up when Mr. Arneson announced that the fur would have to be put back on the animals.

Jan Waseen and Phil Spaulding were surprised at the patriotic spirit of their triply injected cat. Colors of every flag in the United Nations were represented, but what is the third injection? Many picturesque names were given to their pets by the girls in various sections. Jan Pahl and Avis Reschenberg named their feline Dagmar "for obvious reasons." Another lucky pussy received the name of Daisy Mae from her proud owners, Mary Lou Anderson and Jo Ann Lindeman.

One of the girls in the one o'clock section must have forgotten to eat lunch because she kept running all over the lab looking for a spatula. Later the same day she decided to cut the fat away from the stomach and fry it down for the foods lab. She was stopped only when her partner applied her English book for the first time in the semester.

As I work and play with my almost human cat specimen I wonder if Isaac Walton was right when he quoted, "When I play with my cat, who knows if she amuses herself with me more than I with her?"

INSTRUCTORS ATTEND ANNUAL CLOTHING MEET

Wednesday, October 24, Miss Lillian Jeter and Miss Jeanne Diefenbach, two of the clothing instructors, traveled to Chicago to attend the college clothing conference October 25-28. This conference, which is always held at the La Salle hotel, was the seventh annual meeting of college clothing teachers in the Central region of the United States.

This conference was under the direction of Dr. Johnnie Christen of the office of education. There were inspirational speakers from the fields of sociology and psychology who showed some of the interrelationships of their fields with the clothing field.

Much of the work of the conference is done through committees. These different groups work on problems in which they are particularly interested. Each committee has the help of an expert in its particular field as a consultant. These committees continue their work throughout the year, and at the next annual conference they report on what progress has been made.

Reports of these meetings are compiled and sent out to all the members, not only of the Central region, but to members of the Eastern and Western regions as well. They reciprocate with the reports of their meetings. This affords college clothing teachers an opportunity to survey their field over the entire nation.

Membership is limited to the larger Home Economics departments because it is essential to keep the group small enough so that it can be a working group.

EICHELBERGER GIRLS PARTY AFTER LYCEUM

Eichelberger Hall has the distinction of being the first of the girls dorms to hold a party. At present, the girls are planning to hold the social affair after the lyceum tonight.

Chairmen of the committees are: entertainment, Joan Peterson; decorations, Jan Wurts; and food, Ann Sipple.

GUY SALYER ATTENDS NORTH CENTRAL MEET

Dr. Guy Salyer, associate professor of psychology and education at The Stout Institute, represented the college at the 1951 Workshop of the North Central Association Sub-committee on Institutions for Teaching Education held from July 30 to August 24 at the Continuation Center on the campus of the University of Minnesota. Approximately forty colleges participated under the direction of Ernest Nahan, Dean of Instruction at Kansas State Teachers College, Pittsburg, Kansas. The purpose of the Workshop was to study four major areas of importance to educators: general education, professional preparations of teachers, improvements of instruction, and personnel services.

DWIGHT AGNEW WRITES REVIEW FOR MAGAZINE

Dr. Dwight L. Agnew, Associate Professor of History and Chairman of the Department of Social Sciences at The Stout Institute, is the author of a review which appeared in the June 1951 "Mississippi Valley Historical Review." The subject of Dr. Agnew's review, "Mileposts on the Prairie: The Story of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway," is a study by Frank P. Donovan, Jr., of one of the lesser known railroads whose development contributed essentially to the progress of the Upper Middle West.

According to Professor Agnew, the reader of Mr. Donovan's book "will be introduced to a good deal of railroad lore and will find himself looking at the railroad through the eyes of those who love railroads and the M&StL in particular. He will see railroading as it is seen from the president's office, from the agent's window, and from the cab of the locomotive."

Dr. Agnew was especially well qualified to write a review of this book since he made a detailed study of the development of mid-west railroads. One of the results of his research was a doctoral dissertation on "The Early History of the Chicago and Rock Island Railway."

HUMOROUS SIDE OF BLOOD DONING TOLD

After registration and a rugged examination on medical history, 95 inmates of Stout Institute walked into the House Furnishings lab to give blood for the boys in the Korean Scrimmage.

A very fascinating and capable nurse told one of your Stoutonia reporters that the donations would be in Texas in 48 hours and in Korea in 72. The Red Cross unit was accompanied by six nurses, one doctor, and a custodian who helped in the serving of coffee and donuts. Nurses from the city also helped in the project.

Al Swan took advantage of the lunch served after the donation by arriving just at the noon hour. Jim Leader, who was in at the same time, poured sugar and cream into his cup before he realized that the liquid it contained was beef broth instead of coffee. Meg Neisen sat calmly drinking her coffee and having a big time as Louis Lausted was carried to a cot in the crafts room. Charlie Schiferl who thought the whole thing was one big joke, ended up behind the dark curtain next to Louie. Later that afternoon he came up with the prize remark of the day, "He who talks smartest, gets hit hardest." Larry Mosher and Joe Luetkemeyer tried tactics to get a pass from the nurse for the rest of the day, but their methods were too energetic and four o'clock found them sitting in class as usual. Two glasses of liquid were ordered to be taken sometime in the next six hours, and from the sound of some of the parties that went on Friday night the orders were really taken to heart. Dean Antrim and Miss Elliot did their part to uphold the name of the faculty in donations.

DR. IVERSON ON COMMITTEE FOR MEETING

Dr. Ralph Iverson, director of personnel, is a member of the sponsoring committee of the Wisconsin Conference of Christianity and Scholarship which meets at the University of Wisconsin, November 23-24.

Canon Bernard Iddings Bell, noted author and director of Episcopal student work at the University of Chicago, will be one of the key speakers. He has written "The Church in Disrepute" and "Beyond Agnosticism," and many other works. He will discuss "Basic Christian Beliefs" at the first general session November 23.

Sponsored by a group of noted Wisconsin educators, the conference will bring to the campus, faculty and staff members from the state colleges and universities to ponder the relation of religion to higher education.

Pres. Arthur G. McGiffert of the Chicago Theological seminary and Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, director of the Danforth foundation, St. Louis, will be heard at the general sessions. Discussion groups will be led by members of the University of Wisconsin faculty.

Others on the sponsoring committee for the conference include Pres. Lewis H. Brumbaugh, Northland college; Pres. William R. Davies, Eau Claire State college; Dr. James F. Duncan, Oshkosh State college; Pres. William C. Hansen, Central State college; Pres. John Johnson, Milwaukee Downer college; and others.

MENOMONIE MAN DESIGNS BOOKMARK

If you're a patron of Tainter Memorial library here, you will receive a bookmark whose opening lines read:

"Once upon a time, a Library Book was overheard talking to a little boy who had just borrowed it. The words seemed worth recording and here they are."

And what's so unusual about a bookmark? Well, the friendly, chatty one used at Tainter library was an expression of a Menomonie man's love for books which has found its way into libraries throughout America and into the hearts of uncounted library patrons.

A Unitarian preacher whose church was in Menomonie, Henry Doty Maxson composed the bookmark for the then-new Mabel Tainter Memorial library in 1890. Libraries were more the exception than the rule back in the '90's, and preservation of the books on the shelves was a serious matter for the young Menomonie librarian, Miss Cora Farnham. To meet this problem, she made an appeal to the library board, in which Mr. Maxson was serving, for a bookmark which would carry the message of good book care to the patrons of the library.

"I'll write one," volunteered Mr. Maxson and he left the other members of the board for a few minutes while he went to his study in another part of the building. He was back in a few minutes with a rough draft of his bookmark. It met with the instant approval of the board and was immediately sent off to the printer. In a few days it appeared on a number of neatly printed slips which have been retained in their original composition and form for sixty years.

The marker was never copyrighted and no restrictions were ever placed on its reproduction or use. Many libraries have found it convenient to have slips printed in their home towns, while others buy them from library supply houses. It would be an almost impossible task to count all libraries which pass out Maxson bookmarks, but their number is known to be great.

The Reverend Maxson was born September 6, 1852, in Madison County, New York. He showed an interest in the ministry, and it was thought that he would be a Seventh Day Baptist preacher. He started toward this goal at the De Ruyter Institute and then at Alfred university. At the end of his first year at the latter school, however, he found himself a rationalist. He withdrew from the seminary and entered Amherst college, from which he graduated in 1897 as leader and valedictorian of a class of seventy-five.

He began his teaching career at Milton college in Wisconsin and remained in that position for a year and a half. He then taught four years in Markham academy in Milwaukee, ran an education column in a Milwaukee Sunday paper, and devoted time to his hobbies of the metric system, spelling reform, and woman suffrage.

Maxson spent the next five years as an instructor in the state normal school at Whitewater, Wisconsin. During this time he became interested in the work of the Universalist church. His paper in "The Religious Possibilities of Agnosticism," read at the Wisconsin Unitarian conference, led to an offer of the ministry of the Unitarian Society of Menomonie. He accepted the position and remained in Menomonie until his death in 1891, a few months after he had written the bookmark.

The Mabel Tainter Memorial building which houses the library from which the Maxson bookmark has spread was often described by Henry D. Maxson as a "Dream of an ideal community center of culture." This structure, still in everyday use, contains an auditorium and stage, library, reading room, and rooms for varied social and educational needs.

REMEMBER WHEN

Remember when Stouts band traveled to La Crosse and gave a very fine performance at the game. Dress styles for the last half century was the main feature.

A hayride was held by the LSA. The Home Ec. Club held their annual initiation. After the candlelight ceremony, Miss Pohren of Daytons spoke on interior decorating.

A "horn of plenty" was the theme of the annual Philo tea held in the Harvey Memorial.

The WSF sponsored a Halloween party at the Methodist Church. Paul Rauth was chairman of recreation.

Tower pictures were being taken for the 1951 Tower.

The Red Cross blood bank was in Menomonie. Many Stout students were willing to give blood to help reach the county's quota.

Mr. Mattison, local manager of the Wisconsin Telegraph Company, was featured at convocation. He gave a demonstration and a movie on television.

STOUT CENTER FOR TEACHERS EXAMINATIONS

The Stout Institute has been designated as a testing center for the 1952 nationwide administration of the National Teacher Examinations next February. E. R. Oetting Chairman, Department of Education announced today.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit their scores on the National Teacher Examinations along with their other credentials are eligible to take the tests. The examinations are prepared and administered annually by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

The designation of The Stout Institute as a testing center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examination with approximately 10,000 candidates throughout the country who will be participating in the nationwide administration on February 16, 1952 Dr. Oetting said. At the one-day testing session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Non-Verbal Reasoning. In addition, each candidate may take one or two of the nine Optional Examinations which are designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter in the fields in which he may be assigned to teach.

Applications for the examinations and a Bulletin of Information describing registration procedures and containing sample test questions may be obtained from Dr. Oetting at the College or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Prospective teachers planning to take the test should secure an Application Blank and a Bulletin of Information promptly.

DR. ANDERSON WRITES STORY FOR JOURNAL

"High School Work Experience Programs in Action" is the subject of an article prepared for the August 1951 School Board Journal by Dr. Stuart Anderson, associate professor of education, graduate division, The Stout Institute.

This study of public secondary school work experience programs in 38 cities in the United States in the spring of 1950 gives a candid picture of school and community cooperation. In addition to providing students the opportunity to earn wages (from 40 cents to $1.50 per hour) while working at occupations related to their high school studies, the program in most cities provided a number of services such as information on trends in employment; evaluation of work experience program; liaison between school, labor, and management; occupational information; school placement center; and guidance testing and individual analysis. In more than half of the cities, membership of the advisory committee included representatives from education, labor, and management.

Although pupils in Philadelphia and San Francisco may start as early as the ninth grade, in a majority of the cities reporting the work experience programs were available to high school juniors and seniors. Approximately 73 per cent found employment in semi-skilled occupations and more than 67 per cent worked at skilled occupations.

This survey of work experience programs indicates that the proportion of students benefiting seldom exceeds 10 per cent of the total enrollment. School administrators and board members will do well to investigate this much neglected area of the high school curriculum.

FORM NEW RELIGIOUS COUNCIL AT STOUT

"To promote religious activities on The Stout Campus" is to be the purpose of a new organization known as the inter-religious council. It is hoped that through this council more of the religious needs of Stout students will be served.

The inter-religious council was born at a meeting of some of the Stout faculty with some of the ministers in town. At this meeting some of the ground work was laid and plans began.

Soon some of the students were brought in to help to decide on some issues. A proposed constitution was then drawn up and sent to all of the local college youth groups in connection with a church. All of these religious organizations were invited to join and to send a delegate to the meetings.

The constitution as now approved presents these as the purposes of the council; first, to recommend policies to the Stout Institute for the stimulation of student religious development; second, to administer any religious activities that are officially approved by the Inter-Religious Council and by The Stout Institute; and third, to promote an understanding among clergymen, faculty members, students, and parents, of the relationship that should exist between higher education and religion in a democratic society.

At present there are eight organizations who have expressed a desire to be a part of the Inter-Religious Council. These are Stout Christian Fellowship, YWCA, Baptist Youth Fellowship, Newman Club, Congo, Wesley Student Fellowship, Canturbury Club, and the LSA. All of those who have joined by December 1st will be charter members of the Inter-Religious Council of The Stout Institute.

ARNOLD LIEN IS ALUMNI LIFE MEMBER

Arnold J. Lien, '42, former editor of the Stoutonia, has just become a life member of the Stout Alumni Association. He is at the present time teaching at Whitewater State College. While at Stout, Arnold was also a member of the KFS Fraternity, a member of the STS, and a member of the Arts and Crafts. He was also president of the junior class.

After graduating from Stout, Mr. Lien taught at the Navy Pier Naval Training Center and then served in the U.S. Navy.

In 1945 he took post graduate courses at Stout and then took graduate work at the University of Wisconsin where he received his Master's Degree. Since 1948, Mr. Lien has been at Whitewater State college where he is Dean of Men, director of Publicity, and Professor of Education.

Mrs. Lien, the former Harriet Stevens, graduated from Stout in 1946.

MARJORIE BROKKEN MARRIES VINCENT CASK OF ROCHESTER

Majorie Brokken, '42, recently became the bride of Mr. R. Vincent Cask of Rochester, New York. They are now living at New Britain, Connecticut where Mr. Cask is an assistant professor of chemistry at the Teachers College of Connecticut.

PETER SCHELLINGER NOW IN LOUISVILLE

Peter Schellinger recently wrote the following letter:

Joan and I came to Louisville, Kentucky, shortly after Labor Day, where I started teaching and Joan enrolled in the University of Louisville. She transferred from Stout to that school, where she will complete her education.

As for me, I am teaching printing in a Junior high school for the Louisville public school system. My shop is equipped to handle twenty-five students at one time. The production equipment in it is one 10 x 15 and one 12 x 18 press, and a 30 inch paper cutter. So the amount of productive work that I have to do is limited.

My teaching load isn't too heavy either. I have five classes a day, four of which are eighth grade classes in elementary printing, and one ninth grade class in advanced printing.

The shop that I have now is the same one in which Jack Bongey used to teach. He was here two years ago before he was drafted by the army.

Stout's name surely is well known around this part of the country. A man who teaches metals at the school where I teach, told me that he hasn't taught in a school system where there wasn't a Stout graduate. And he also told me that they were all better than average teachers.

There are several other Stout graduates teaching here in Louisville, but as yet, I haven't been able to get in contact with them.

ROBERT HENDRICKSON STATIONED AT FT. SILL

Pvt. Robert Hendrickson, now stationed in Oklahoma, recently wrote:

I started teaching in Jacksonville, Florida at Andrew Jackson Senior High School. Speaking of teaching, I enjoyed it very much and plan to go back to it as soon as I leave the military service. Also, there were approximately five or six Stout grads in the school set-up. In fact, the director of Industrial Arts in the county was a Stout grad, his name is Mr. Donald Cole.

After I finished teaching, I worked as a draftsman at the army base outside of Sparta, Wisconsin, Camp McCoy. Uncle Sam then decided that he wanted my services.

I have been stationed in Ft. Sheridan, Ill., in Arkansas, and now am stationed at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. We are in the process of basic training now.

WAA DECK TENNIS IS NOVEMBER SPORT

Deck tennis and shuffleboard will be the main interest of athletically minded women on campus during the month of November.

A deck tennis tournament is already underway under the leadership of Mariys Larrabee, who is the sports head for this activity. Games are in full swing every Monday and Tuesday evening.

Nancy Bunker is sports head for the shuffleboard activities which is also a November sport. This tournament is divided into singles and doubles.

Any WAA member may take part in these sports and earn more points toward their athletic letters. The teams are comprised of girls who know and love the sport, along with girls who know little about it but are eager to learn.

CALL FOR ALL INTRAMURAL TEAMS

All organizations, and also independents, who want a team entered in any of the intramural activities must do so before Wednesday, November 21. There will be teams participating in volleyball, badminton, bowling, and basketball.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB SELLING COOK BOOKS

The Home Economics club members have been selling the new United Nations cook books to raise funds for their organization. The recipes in the book represent favorite dishes from many countries. Delegates to the United Nations furnished the recipes from their respective countries. The price of the cook book is one dollar.

VOLLEYBALL TOURNEY ENDS WITH THRILLER

Volley ball season is over at Stout, but not without a great deal of excitement on the last games.

After completion of the WAA tournament other societies were invited to enter a campus women's volleyball tournament. There were teams entered from the girls dormitories and several of the social organizations on campus.

One of the more sensational games of the tournament was the first contest which was between the Independents and Tainter Hall. The Frosh were really going to town, piling up a score of 19-2 when a change came about. Never before has a team shown so much determination to win as the Independents did in this last minute spurt of energy. The margin became narrower although the strong Tainter team fought the on coming ball, they were swamped.

The game ended with a score of 22-20 with the Independents on top. After this game the Independents went on to take the tournament with the other teams close upon them all of the way.

Sports Roundup

What with the football season over and the basketball season not yet begun, the sports picture at Stout is rather slow. We've noticed Coach Johnson and his boys in the IE attic practicing hard for the first game which is a lot closer than most of us realize, but except for that, all is quiet.

Avid rooters are still talking about the big football season, and the terrific Stout scoring record. Too bad they don't figure champs by the scoring column! One amusing incident came while watching some of the freshmen football players reading the notice that they have to take Physical Ed. Don't take it so hard, boys, it's fun.

But just one week after we come back from Thanksgiving vacation is the beginning of basketball season. The conference cellar is not a very enviable position to end the season in, and Stout managed to do it last year. Now all hopes are looking up for a more successful season for '51-'52. At least we have a good looking crew of lettermen back; if not numerically, then qualitatively. All six of the boys back from last year were aces for Stout in '50-'51, and should contribute lots to a successful year ahead.

And the freshmen fellows are right in there, too. From watching practices, it seems that there are some boys in this up and coming crop that will give the old team members a run for their money for the top five berths.

And intramurals are starting! Come on, you fellows, get behind the intramural program and form teams; Support your fraternities and other organizations. This year the Dunn County News will be carrying Stout intramurals as a regular, so let's make it look good for the Menomonee people.

SHOP ENROLLMENT FIGURES RELEASED

The 1948-49 secondary-school enrollment in industrial education subjects was 1,434,302, 5.6 percent higher than that of 1933-34, a U.S. Office of Education survey just released indicates. Its figures show that 26.6 percent of public secondary-school pupils were enrolled in industrial-arts and vocational-education subjects combined in the 1948-49 school year. The increase in industrial-education subject enrollment was third largest of all secondary-school subjects. The greatest increase (7.5 percent) was in home economics.

The enrollment in industrial-arts in junior-high schools in 1949 amounted to 43.2 percent of all pupils enrolled, or practically all the boys attending.

The largest vocational enrollments in separate trade subjects were in machine shop (44,000), auto mechanics, electrical work, cabinet making, carpentry, and printing (13,000). The estimated number of pupils enrolled in preparatory trades and industrial courses was 250,000, subtracting the nearly one-fourth who were enrolled in shop mathematics, trade science, and other vocationally related subjects, and much of the one-fifth who were taking mechanical drafting.

BLUE DEVILS SCORE 177 POINTS TO LEAD W S C CONFERENCE FOR YEAR

The Stout Institute Blue Devils climaxed their 1951 grid season by defeating the Superior Yellowjackets 53 to 0. The victory, the fifth conference win for the Blue Devils for the '51 season gave Coach Tony Storti's gridmen undisputed possession of second place in the Wisconsin state college conference race.

Last Tuesday's decisive 53 to 0 victory also placed the Blue Devils on top of the conference in both offense and defensive standing in the Wisconsin State College Conference.

During conference play the Blue Devils scored 177 points while holding their opponents to 27 points. A more impressive offensive and defensive record was rolled up in their non-conference games. In two games Stout defeated St. Olaf College 19 to 13, and Northland College 64 to 6 to make a season total of 260 offensive points while holding their opponents to a season total of 45 points. Stout finished the season with a seven win and one loss record.

Stout's near-perfect season was marred by a 13 to 7 decision to the La Crosse Indians in the game of the year.

Herb Markley, Stout offensive left end, led his teammates in the season scoring with 45 points. Markley's 45 points were recorded with five touchdowns and 15 extra points. All extra points were made from placement.

Gale Woelffer, all-conference quarterback of the 1950 season, sparked the '51 Blue Devils with his brilliant play calling. Woelffer connected with four touchdown passes in Tuesday's game bringing his season total to nine.

1921 TEAM PICTURE PRESENTED TO SCHOOL

Richard Chard, fullback of the 1921 championship football team, presented a picture of his team to The Stout Institute at the Alumni banquet Saturday evening. The picture is a very old one and has an interesting history. Many of the college students in 1921 frequented a recreation center run by "Dad" Huber. He was a great team booster and at the conclusion of the 1921 season took individual pictures of the members of the team and placed them on a large background in their proper team positions. The large picture was hung in back of the counter in his establishment where it was a familiar sight to many local people.

Dick Chard often admired it and Mr. Huber told him he would like to give it to him when he was finished with it. Several years later Mr. Huber died and his son, Paul, a Stout grad, sent the picture to Dick. When the 1921 team reunion was organized, Dick offered to present the picture to the college. The Athletic Department eagerly accepted his offer and prepared a place for it in the physical education building. We hope it will be on display for many years in remembrance of Stout's first championship football team.

FINAL STANDINGS

Team	Won	Lost	Tied	Pts. O.	Pts.
La Crosse	6	0	0	159	34
Stout	5	1	0	177	27
Superior	3	2	1	45	95
Whitewater	3	2	0	55	32

Milwaukee	1	2	3	45	66
River Falls	1	3	2	48	105
Stevens Point	0	3	3	38	47
Oshkosh	0	4	1	12	80

By taking a glance at the final statistics one can see that Stout scored more points than La Crosse and also gave up fewer points. The sad fact remains that titles are not won on offensive or defensive records, but by games won and lost.

Big Herb Markley came in second in individual scoring. He led until the last game when he was unable to get around as he should have, because of an ankle injury received in the River Falls game. Had it not been for that, he more than likely would have retained the scoring lead. Richter of La Crosse gained the scoring lead by virtue of three touchdowns he scored against Eau Claire in their final game.

Stout also placed three others in the top ten. They were: McNamara with 36 points, Walker with 30, and Kieffer with 18.

DOROTHY DUNN APPOINTED TO FACULTY POST

On Wednesday, November 15, Miss Dorothy L. Dunn came to The Stout Institute to take the position of English instructor vacated by Mr. Howard Hoving.

Miss Dunn received her Bachelor's degree at Eau Claire State college and her Master's degree from the University of Minnesota. She has done additional graduate work at the U. of Wisconsin, Northwestern University, the University of Chicago, and Washington State College at Pullman, Washington.

Before coming to Stout, Miss Dunn taught at Washington State college, Iowa State college, and spent one year teaching for the U. S. Army Troop Information and Education Section in Tokyo, Japan. She also spent one year counseling in Hawaii.

DEMONSTRATION PRESENTED AT H E MEETING

On Monday evening, November 26, Bev Ryder called the monthly meeting of the Home Economics Club to order in the cafeteria.

Dorothy Messerschmidt gave an enthusiastic and interesting account of the State Home Economics Club Convention which she and a group of Stout junior girls had the privilege to attend at Madison several week ends ago.

The girls then practiced their Stout Home Economics Club song under the tutorage of Ann Rossmiller and Charmaine Chopp.

Mary Detlor, a Stout sophomore, introduced Miss Martha Ruth Amon, who demonstrated Christmas wrapping for the girls.

Miss Amon's agile fingers cleverly and quickly wrapped a rectangular box with a metal foil paper, a round package with shelf paper, and a handkerchief folder with a colored foil paper. She carried one of the boxes to completion by showing the proper method of wrapping a box for mailing.

She gave several rules of color and design for the girls to remember when they are deciding upon the type of paper, the type of ribbon or bow, and the type of name card for their Christmas packages.

There were many tricky ties which she illustrated step by step on cards so that the ties seemed simple to even the crudest beginner. There was a new way to make a beautiful full pompon bow on a package, a unique way of using the old paper doll chain to decorate a package, and the use of carpet warp or yarn to tie the packages with.

Miss Amon also demonstrated for the girls how to make their own name tags and Christmas seals using construction paper and colored ink, picking the idea from the Christmas wrapping. Several ideas for the type of Christmas wrapping that could be used which Miss Amon showed the girls included the use of block printing, the stencil, the use of splatter paint, finger painting, and the simplest method of all—that of pasting purchased seals or gold or silver stars on tissue paper.

F.O.B. PRESENTS DUFFY'S TAVERN DANCE SAT.

Duffy's Tavern will be open to all Stout students tomorrow night after the Stout-St. Mary's basketball game. For those of you have never been to Duffy's Tavern, a pleasant and enjoyable experience awaits you.

You see, the F.O.B. fraternity annually sponsors a dance with the theme of Duffy's Tavern with authentic decorations and beverages. This dance will be in the Stout gym. Bobby Bryan's orchestra will provide music for dancing which will last until 12 p.m. During intermission a group of the Hawaiians will entertain with songs from the Island. This will prove very good.

Willis Bogenhagen is in charge of refreshments, and Ernie Christiansen is chairman of the decoration committee. The price is 75c per couple and 40c per person.

Don't forget this dance which will be held in the Stout gym after the basketball game tomorrow night.

FIRST FORMAL DANCE HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Contrary to popular belief, not all men are attacked by "deer fever" come the opening of deer season, and the 80 couples who attended the Rose of Sigma Tau semi-formal dance Saturday, November 17, proved that men are anxious to pursue more than one species of "Deer". The music was provided by the Felix Brothers "Biggest Little Band" of Chippewa Falls and their danceable music assured everyone of an enjoyable evening. The dance was a gratifying success and Sigma Tau Gamma wishes to thank those who attended.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of Noreen Cook as "Rose of Sigma Tau". Mr. Robert Swanson placed a crown of rosetts on Noreen's head, signifying that she had been chosen as "Rose" for this year. Now a senior, Noreen participates in the following organizations: Home Ec. Club, Pallas Athene, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and the Symphonic Singers. After the coronation, Noreen and her husband, John, led the grand march.

The Stout gym was swathed in hundreds of roses, picket fences, and latices for the formal dance. At the south end of the gym the shield of Sigma Tau Gamma was centered upon a black curtain. Bob Adkins was chairman of the decorations.

Serving punch for the dance were Ruth Felot, Virginia Lathrope, Barbara Klenert, and Mary Andersen and a sincere thanks is extended to them.

John Poellinger acted as general chairman for the dance, while Sam Mikitarian was punch chairman, Bill Hinterthuer was in charge of ticket sales, Bill Banks was in charge of printing tickets, Jim Brown was floor manager, Bob Adkins was decorations chairman, Warren Barberg was in charge of corsages, Norm Schultz was in charge of collecting tickets at the door, and Jerry Schemanski was publicity chairman.

Chaperones and guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Arneson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cornwell, Dean and Mrs. Marie Price, Mr. Robert Swanson, and Dean Keturah Antrim.

MISS DIFENBACH IS SPEAKER AT PRESCOTT

Miss Jeanne Diefenbach, instructor in Clothing, was the main speaker at a Home Economics meeting held in Prescott, Wisconsin, November 7. More than 300 high school students from Baldwin, Ellsworth, Prescott, New Richmond, Glenwood City and Woodville attended the meeting. All of the representatives were members of the Future Homemakers of America.

The title of Miss Diefenbach's talk was "Wardrobe Planning." The Home Economics movie, "Design Your Future" was also shown to the large group of high school students.

SPECIAL PARTY PLANNED FOR CHRISTMAS

A good old-fashioned get-together is being arranged for Stout students, alumni, and friends. At the KFS Homecoming breakfast, it was proposed that a Christmas party be held in Milwaukee during the Christmas vacation. Two of the KFS alumni, Clary Uranker and Jerry Zelenka, volunteered to make arrangements for this party.

As promised, they have scheduled a party for December 29th, beginning at 8:00 p.m. The tentative plans include dancing to an orchestra, lunch, refreshments, and a good time for all.

The estimated cost will be $2.00 per person for 50 people. If over 100 sign the list, the cost can be cut to $1.50 per person. Money paid in advance is an assurance of reservation.

All students interested in attending this party are urged to affix their dainty little signature to the list on the HE bulletin board. Alumni planning to attend should write to: Jerry Zelenka, 2561 A North 15th Street, Milwaukee 6, Wisconsin.

Further information on this get-together will be placed in coming issues of the Stoutonia. Let's all get out and make this party a howling success.

MELODY IN MISTLETOE IS THEME OF DANCE

"Melody in Mistletoe" is the theme of the Intersorority Formal which will be held on December 8, from 9:00—12:00 p.m. Music will be furnished by Bobbie Bryan's orchestra.

The Intersorority Formal is an annual affair of the four sororities. The committee chairmen for the dance are: Hyps, general; Philo's, decorations; SMA, invitations and dance programs; and PA, clean-up.

The guests include Misses Antrim, Carrison, Diefenbach, Hinkley, Kirk, Marshall, Dr. Fryklund, and Dean and Mrs. Price.

CHRISTMAS MEAL IN TEA ROOM DEC. 17

There will be two more meals, based around universities, served in the tea room during the month of December.

On Monday, December 17, a Christmas Coffee Hour will be featured. Foods of all nations will be served with ala carte prices. The theme will be centered around Christmas. No reservations are needed, and everyone is invited to attend.

GIMBLE COLLECTION OF ART NOW AT STOUT

COSTUMES FROM MANY NATIONS SEEN AT CONVO

An interesting and entertaining convocation was presented Wednesday morning by Mrs. Julia Bock Harwood Miller, Mrs. Miller has been around the world many times since 1946, having been in Europe nine times.

She started her lecture by beginning in Hawaii, then to other parts of the Eastern hemisphere. She had with her many costumes from the lands she had visited. These were modeled by Stout girls. She ended her lecture with the European countries.

Models and the countries they represented were Michiko Okada, Hawaii; Mary Betzel, Japan, Wanda Staehli, Philippine Islands; Sumi Doi, Roberta Harris, Harriet Homer, and Nancy Hauser, China; Dot Krushas, India; Rita Hack, Arabia; Lois Bredlow, Egypt; Jeanette Oetting and Dorothy Gargulak, the East Indies; Zoe Muelhauser, Sweden; and Nadine Brown, Holland.

The costumes were all authentic, having been obtained by Mrs. Miller during her travels. She told of one instance where she obtained a sarong of "homely plaid" practically right off the person.

NEW OCCUPANTS MOVE TO MANAGE HOUSE

The Home Management house changed hands again on Monday, November 26, when the following ten girls moved in: Katie Ziehm, Phyllis Patch, Joan Mitby, Donna Krisik, Joanne Buboltz, Marlys Eaton, Barbara Bagen, Clarice Zarling, Isabel Iversen, and Marge Hedberg.

These girls, who will spend a busy six weeks at the house, will work on a rotation basis of the ten different jobs which are: cook, assistant cook, waitress, guest, hostess, laundering, upstairs housekeeper, first floor housekeeper, and repair I and II.

NINETY ALUMNI MEET FOR A V A BREAKFAST WED.

Ninety alumni and friends gathered for a breakfast during the convention of the American Vocational Association in Minneapolis Wednesday. Only sixty of the group had made advance reservations so an extra dining room had to be opened for the overflow crowd. No formal program was scheduled, but Mrs. Helen Diamond Wicher, President of the Twin Cities Chapter, introduced President Fryklund and those of his faculty present. Several of the officers of the local chapter were also present. Carl Haase, National Alumni President, and Bob Swanson, National Secretary, were also presented to the group. Mrs. Wicher urged all alumni in the Twin Cities Area to affiliate with the chapter and swell the present membership of 128.

Alumni who have never been present at such a reunion perhaps do not realize the warm feeling of friendliness which pervades the atmosphere at such get-togethers. Mrs. Wicher and Henry Howe, chapter treasurer, received the hearty thanks of all present for the very fine arrangements made for the event.

RUEHLS ARE PROUD PARENTS OF PHIL. Jr.

A son, Phillip William, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ruehl Friday, November 2, at the Memorial hospital. From the vital statistics obtained from Mrs. Ruehl, we find that he was eight pounds, 13 1/4 ounces at birth, and he was born at 11:15 a.m. The Ruehls plan to call their new family member Billy, and everything is coming along fine.

Mr. Ruehl is an instructor in electricity and radio.

"Wisconsin The Playground" Subject Of 1949 Group By Wisconsin Artists.

The Gimbel 1949 Art Collection which is dedicated to the people of Wisconsin is now on display on the second floor of the HE building. For the past four years the Gimbel Store of Milwaukee has sponsored several contests in which many paintings were entered. The paintings that were awarded prizes were later exhibited at the state fair in Milwaukee and are also sent to leading schools and museums throughout the state.

"Wisconsin The Playground," subject of the 1949 collection, has been interpreted by leading Wisconsin artists. Some very interesting paintings are Ice Fishing on Lake Mendota by Aaron Bohrad, Adventure at Wyalusing by Marshall Glasier and Back Stage by Dean Meeker.

The purpose of the Gimbel Art Collection is to establish a permanent memorial to the state of Wisconsin and its people, to make a permanent contribution to the cultural wealth and happiness of our citizens, to provide a stimulus to the development of Wisconsin art and to record Wisconsin life and culture for the generations to come.

The Sponsoring Committee and Gimbels hope you will enjoy seeing "Wisconsin The Playground" interpreted by artists of our state and that you will find real inspiration and enjoyment in these scenes. If you have not seen this display yet be sure to do so today, for it is well worth seeing.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR SIGMA INSTALLATION

Local campus committees have placed their final stamp of approval on the petition of the Sigma Fraternity asking that they be permitted to affiliate with the Delta Kappa, National Social Fraternity. President Fryklund has recently approved and signed the formal petition, thereby paving the way for final arrangements with the national office.

At the present time the groundwork is being laid for the formal installation of the "Sigma" chapter of Delta Kappa, the date of which has not been specifically determined. The ceremony will take place at the Hotel Marion with the tentative date set at November 30, in hopes that all necessary arrangements can be completed prior to that date.

YWCA TO SELL GIFTS IN CORRIDOR BOOTH

December 5th is the day for you Stout students to begin your Christmas shopping. The YWCA invites you to shop at their booth in the HE building corridor.

The members of YWCA have been working on Christmas gifts which they will donate to the Christmas corridor sale. They tell us you can buy anything from soup to nuts, so come and look over the situation next Wednesday.

Jean Van Liew is chairman of this YWCA Corridor Christmas sale.

FRESHMAN COMPLETE SEMESTER SELECTIONS

The pre-registration of the Freshman women for the second semester has progressed satisfactorily and is now completed. The plan of pre-registration counseling which has been in effect for four years, has proved gratifying to both students and faculty. It affords an excellent opportunity for students to have the help of counselors in making forward-looking plans for their college programs. The plan is also well liked because it simplifies and facilitates the final processes of registration at the opening of the new semester. A variety of elective courses are available to students in their second semester, among them are the following: Crafts, Art Appreciation, Family Health and Home Nursing and Speech II are courses from which each student has chosen an elective of interest to her.

We, the young people of today, ought to be the best drivers on the road. We're intelligent; our reactions are quicker than those of folks in their fifties and forties. Physically we're better off; we have better hearing and eyesight, greater resistance to fatigue, and longer endurance. Yes, we ought to be the best drivers. Then why aren't we?

In one of our classes we found out that the greatest cause of death among our age group is accidents. This is appalling. We should accept our responsibility to ourselves and to others by being better and more careful drivers.

With the coming of poor weather conditions, the need for care and safety is increased considerably. Slippery roads and snow which impairs clear vision, increases the danger of driving. This was proven at the end of the Thanksgiving vacation when it took ten hours to drive the distance usually covered in five or six.

This means that we must face the facts that careful driving is a must for everyone, but especially for the young people. Learn the safety rules for good driving and practice them. Be courteous, careful, and thoughtful when driving this winter and at all times. Let's try to cut down the number of accidents which occur each year.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

SSA MESSAGE

By now most of you should be rested from Thanksgiving and ready for a big week end in Menomonie. Many of us are at the AVA convention or have been at the meetings.

Just before Thanksgiving vacation, the governing board held a meeting. Besides blinking at the Tower photographer's flash bulbs, we also accomplished some important business.

John's goose-neck lamp project has come to a successful end with the purchase of six such lamps which will be kept in the union and will be available for the use of all students and organizations. The board also voted to order one bedside radio for the infirmary and to buy another on the condition that the first proves satisfactory.

The petty loan fund is close to being a reality. This plan will probably be put into operation as soon as the committee finishes the final regulations.

The suggestion was made at the meeting that a joint meeting be held with River Falls and Eau Claire sometime in the near future. This sounds like an approach to a closer degree of cooperation among the three schools.

Some of you in organizations have come in contact with a questionnaire on parliamentary needs. The purpose of this blank is to determine content for the booklet which the committee on Educational Standards is planning to publish soon.

We'll see you next week if we survive the week end in Minneapolis.

Your SSA Officers,
Charlie, Rowena,
John, and Louie

The Student Governing Board met Tuesday, Nov. 21 to discuss various things before Thanksgiving vacation.

John Christensen brought a lamp, a radio, and a card table to the meeting for the members to inspect. The board moved that they purchase six lamps at $11.95 and one radio at $24.95. The radio is to be used in the infirmary and has a removable speaking apparatus that may be used under a patients pillow or as a regular speaker within the radio. It is usable with either AC or DC current.

Dean Antrim suggested getting another ladle to serve punch with, preferable one that is unbreakable.

The movie committee reported that two movies have been ordered. The petty loan committee reported that several requests have already been made and that a committee meeting has been planned to discuss and organize petty loans.

The Stout Christian Fellowship asked permission to sell religious Christmas cards this year and the Board granted the permission.

The Deans are planning to distribute mimeographed sheets to all students regarding the cut system so that situation of all sorts may be clearly understood.

Mary Detlor represented the Y.W.C.A. in regard to a speaker for The World Student Organization. A special tour has been planned for him by the Wesley Student Organization, and he has been scheduled to come to Stout Nov. 29, Thursday. Dean Price suggested that we let the Y.W.C.A. take care of this whole matter, and also inform this speaker that Thursday is not our regular convocation day here and that it would perhaps be more beneficial for him to come another time.

The Board had a brief discussion regarding the Ski Clubs' wanting one over-night outing a year. Then the Ed Standards committee members discussed the relation of various committees of the Student Welfare Committee. It was agreed to call the Student Governing Board (one of these committees), Student Government, to distinguish it from our Board. This Student Government consists of 5 coordinating persons who are members of the Governing Board and of the Student Welfare Committee. Charles Schiferl is planning a further meeting regarding this matter.

Here we are again—back to Stout after a nice, restful vacation (who are they trying to kid?). Have you noticed the expressionless faces this week? It seems that a lot of people have come back to school to rest up.

At the lyceum on Friday before vacation, it seemed as though practically no one had dates. What was the matter with our Stout men? Or were they all out hunting—deer that is. We did see a few couples who managed to get together. Ellen Russell and George Stolp, and Barb Sherwood was with a good looking fellow. Who was he Barb?

Goodness, we had a busy time at the Sig Tau formal Saturday night trying to remember all who were there. It was an impossible task though but a few of the couples who were there enjoying the decorations and the music were the "Rose of Sig Tau", Noreen Cook and her husband, John, Larry Mosher and Nancy Han-shus, Margaret Ort and Harland Nerison, Joyce DeVries and Corky Collette, Nancy Elam and Dick Duthler, Jerry Schemansky and Mary Betzel, Sam Mikitarian and Avis Reschenberg, Bob Spinti and Bev Peterson, Ken Lanto and his girl from home, Gerry Erickson and David Bioniasz, Deanie Brown and Charlie Schiferl, Bertie Harris and Bill Hinterthuer, Marietta Thomas and her fellow from home, Joan Mitby and Bob Brunswick, Gerda Ravnholt and Warren Barberg, Bob Wong and Verna Dunn, Milan Huley and Susan Jurkovic, Paul Kokubun and Jeanette Benedict, Wayne Olson and Connie Anderson, James Berray and Pat Ackley, Val Bloom and Dean Cornwell, June Keefe and Ken Pietsenpol, and many, many others.

Marietta Thomas, a sophomore, received her diamond during Thanksgiving vacation. It's a beautiful ring Marietta and best wishes to both of you.

Deer season seems to have called many of the fellows. Some of those we heard had deer were Wally Christianson, Dave Bioniasz, Bud Ryder, Lloyd Anderson, Duane Burke, and Dick Hamilton.

The freshmen are to be congratulated for the presentation of "Pilgrim's Progress" in convocation the Wednesday before vacation. It was really funny, especially "Miss Plymouth Rock", and Alex, who "lost his suit". Another funny part was the serving of "soda beer" by Elinore Soetebeer. It looks like we have some clever freshmen.

Bill Kieffer and Donna McDonough became Mr. and Mrs. last Saturday. Another couple to "tie the knot" was Ken Arnetveit and his girl from home. Good luck kids!

Ruth Vinger will be getting her MRS. degree very soon—in fact she and her Dick will tie the knot tomorrow evening in Stanley. Good luck to you too Ruth.

We just found out a few other couples who were at the formal. Betty Doyle was with Tom Connell, Joan Dean, Joanne Fritz, and Jeanette Saulen imported dates from their home towns. Carole Tickler was with Herb Tamana, Ann Switzenberg attended with Bill Banks, Marilyn Klusmeyer with Jim Brown, Diane Klemme with John Christenson, Donna Harvey and Floyd Jolliffe, Janet Kumbier and Tom Tsuji, Colleen Ceminski and Ray Steves, Deloris Sauey and Jerry Sommer, Ann Sipple and Jim Leader, and Mary Ann Moore and Don Rhead.

Mary Ann has been starry-eyed ever since Don came home on furlough.

DETROIT GROUP PRAISES STOUT CAREER FILM

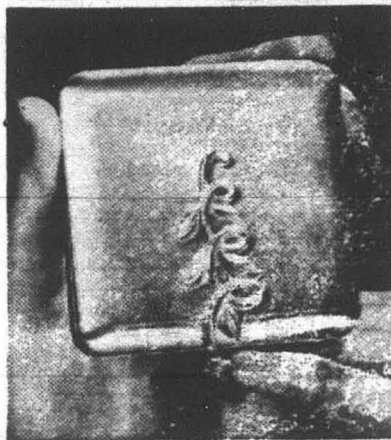

"Plan Your Future" a timely film in color about the student life of a girl at The Stout Institute was shown to the Detroit Alumnae group on November 10, at the home of Elaine Charlick in Dearborn. Others on the committee were Elizabeth Storing Andrews, Jane Washburn Lewis, and Irene Christopherson, also Dearbornites.

Favorable comments were issued; some of the women wanted the film for their home economics classes, and others thought it would be fine to show to the young people in their churches.

Perhaps re-living their own undergraduate days was the key to their nostalgia.

STOUT HE GRAD FEATURED IN MADEMOISELLE

Marjorie Moe, a graduate of The Stout Institute and at present a home economics instructor and assistant dietitian at the University of Hawaii, is featured in the November issue of the popular woman's magazine MADEMOISELLE. According to Dean Kirk, home economics students will thoroughly enjoy reading the story of Marjorie's success as related in the fascinating article entitled "Food Jobs." MADEMOISELLE begins their story with the following opening paragraph:

"Home-ec is getting flour up to your elbows four years before it's really necessary," say liberal arts devotees. "Home-ec's a mecca-major if you're planning for a career or a husband or both," contend other college women; many counselors, even a few college presidents, concerned about girl graduates' homemaking traumas and lack of job skills seem to agree."

Of special interest to Stout Alumni is the picture of Marjorie Powers Moe and the story which accompanies it. About Mrs. Moe the article says: "In a school it's not unusual to divide your time between cafeteria and classroom. Marjorie Moe teaches classes in quantity cooking and institution management at the University of Hawaii and proves she knows her professional onions as assistant dietitian. As an instructor in a Honolulu public high school and later as dietitian at Kamehameha Girl's School she learned to please international palates. Marjorie and her husband Kim were graduated from Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin."

LSA MEETS. VIEWS CHINA MISSION FILM

A meeting of the LSA was held at 6:30 o'clock Sunday, November 18, at Our Savior's Lutheran Church. Reports were given by the members who had attended the meeting at St. Olaf. Following the meeting the movie, "A Letter from China" was shown. This movie showed the missionary work that is being done in China.

After a short worship service a luncheon was served. The menu was in keeping with the movie and consisted of chop suey, dark bread and tea.

PARTY IS HELD AT EICHELBERGER HALL

"Winter Wonderland" was the theme of the party held in the Eichelberger Hall basement Friday, November 16.

The party, which was held after the lyceum, was well attended by both boys and girls.

Entertainment consisted of either playing cards or dancing 'neath snowflakes.

The girls served fruit punch, sandwiches, and cake as refreshments.

The party ended by group singing led by Alex, our favorite red-head.

HAWAIIAN SLIDES ARE SHOWN AT WESLEY

The highlight of the Wesley meeting Sunday night, November 18 was slides of the Hawaiian Islands shown by Fred Kajihara. The slides were of Fred's hometown and the scenery, flowers, and volcanoes in the Islands.

The supper was served by Iris Ruf's committee. The menu was: creamed potatoes and sausages, tossed salad, ice cream and milk.

Fred Kajihara led the Worship service. Rev. Reece continued the Bible study, discussing the differences between the Old and New Testaments.

December 2 there will be a Stunt Night. This is to include any talent, serious, humorous, or skits. Anyone interested or having any questions, contact Mary Detlor.

GAMMA DELTA HOLDS BIBLE DISCUSSION

Last Sunday evening, Gamma Delta held its first meeting since the initiation of the new members at St. Paul's Church. Rev. Pankow led the group in a discussion of Bible Doctrine. It was decided that at the next meeting which will be held on Dec. 2, all of the members should bring a friend to provide and opportunity to get acquainted. Let's see you all out. Recreation is planned and refreshments will be served.

INITIATE TEN MEMBERS INTO PALLAS ATHENES

The Pallas Athene Sorority initiated ten members into its group last night with formal initiation ceremonies at the home of Mrs. G.W. La-Pointe.

The girls in their festive formals enjoyed a lunch and relaxation after the formal initiation ceremony conducted by the officers.

The new members welcomed into the Pallas Athene sorority are Doris Beyer, Marietta Thomas, Dorothy Gargulak, Roberta Harris, Carol Zuege, Janet Benedict, Irus Ruf, Ginny Jacobson, Lois Peterson, and Mary Ann Smith.

GIRLS AT DORMS ENJOY THANKSGIVING DINNER

Where were you between the hours of 6 and 7:30 on the evening of November 16, 1951? If you are a resident of one of the girls dorms you will have no difficulty remembering. It was then that we feasted on that wonderful pre-Thanksgiving dinner. The tables were decorated with winter scenes and candles. The thing that we will remember most is that turkey with all of the trimmings, and the half-and-half pie. All of us that participated in this wonderful meal can look back with fond memories, but we can also anxiously await the birthday and Christmas dinners soon to come.

Last Year's Four Top Teams Strong In Lettermen, Pose Problem For Stout Five.

With an unusual abundance of veteran material available at the ten schools a wide open race is in prospect as Wisconsin State College Conference basketball teams prepare for the opening of the campaign. The La Crosse Indians won the crown last year with an 11-1 record but Coach Clark Van Gelder's career will be facing a tough fight in defending their crown. Eau Claire and Whitewater shared the runner-up position last year and are in a title contender position this year. Coach Bill Zorn of Eau Claire lost only two lettermen from last year's team while Coach Bob Weigandt counted nine lettermen, including his starting five from last year back at Whitewater. La Crosse has eight lettermen returning but several of them have not had too much varsity experience.

Superior State, the fourth place team in loop play last year lost only two lettermen and Coach Leo DiMarco has eight lettermen back including his high scoring forwards James Whittier and Fred Walker, whom Stout found almost unstopable last season. The Yellowjackets could very easily be the conference dark horse team.

One new coach will make his debut in the conference this year. Joe Hoy has taken over the coaching chores at River Falls replacing George Schagenhaut who resigned last spring to take a position with a publishing firm.

All ten teams have booked several non loop games before the regular conference schedule gets underway with Oshkosh at Stevens Point December 14th. The other eight teams swing into action the following night. STOUT INSTITUTE Season Opener St Marys at Menomonee Dec. 1st Coach Ray Johnson's Blue Devils won one conference game last year as they suffered heavy losses to the armed forces during the season. Johnson has five lettermen back this season but Russ Pollock, all conference guard last year has joined up with Uncle Sam. Lettermen returning: Forwards: Bill Kieffer, Hastings Minn. and Herb Markley, Bruce; Guards: John Debrunski, Sheboygan and Hilary Janikowski, Cadahy; Center: Robert Erickson, New Auburn.

BLUE DEVILS TO PLAY

ST. JOHN'S, BEMIDJI

Next week the Stout Blue Devils hit the road taking on St. John's University and the Bemidji Beavers.

Last year Stout lost to St. John's 59-48. It was a bad first half that caused Stout's downfall as they came back strong in the second half to out point St. John's. The Johnies went on to play Hamline to see who would represent Minnesota in the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament. St. John's pushed Hamline to the limit before losing by a slim margin. Bemidji, last year, beat Stout 76-67. Both these teams are tough and will provide good competition. Coach Johnson says that these games will aid in getting the team in top notch shape for the conference opener against La Crosse.

Sports Roundup

Basketball tomorrow night: Father Time has rolled along and brought us another basketball season and a chance for Coach Johnson's Blue Devils to improve on their record of last year. Stout fans' hopes are up a little, as six of last year's regulars are back, but a look around the conference shows the same story or better there. Most of the other teams in the Wisconsin State College Conference welcomed back a large percentage of their last year's players. So in general the whole conference should be a lot tougher this season than it has been for a long time, a prospect that isn't exactly encouraging for loyal Stout rooters.

However, there are several reasons for Blue Devil fans to expect a little better team for '51-'52. What these hopes actually amount to is avoiding a blow like the one that fell at the semesters last year, as most of you will remember, the Blue Devils were doing fairly well last year until the first semester ended and the majority of the team disappeared, either to the armed forces or as a result of scholastic difficulties.

Hopes are up that this year's semester change will have little effect on the Blue Devil lineup, except for dropping veteran guard Hilary Janikowski who will graduate at that time. An experienced squad that is used to playing together could improve tremendously during the second semester.

Stout will play only four games before its conference opener here against La Crosse on the fifteenth of December. However, those four games will pit the Blue Devils against three of the strongest teams it will meet all season. St. Marys, who are scheduled here on the first, and there on the seventh, is always tough; Bemidji, on the fourth, is one of Minnesota's best, and St. John's dropped out of the race for the National playoffs last year via a loss to Hamline by a very slim margin.

These four tough games, however, are designed to precede an eight day layoff so that the boys can discover their weak points and then work on them before meeting last year's conference champs on the 15th.

So let's all get out and support Coach Johnson and his Blue Devils tomorrow night. Remember, a good team gets better if it's backed by the students.

INTR. VOLLEYBALL

TOURNEY OPENED WED.

A six team league in volleyball opened the 1951-52 intramural program Wednesday November 28. A five game round robin schedule will be played to determine the volleyball championship.

The schedule is posted on the intramural bulletin board in the Phy Ed Building. All games must be played when scheduled.

The teams and their numbers are: I Sigma, II Sigma Tau, III F.O.B., No. 1, IV K.F.S., V Lynwood Hall, VI F.O.B. No. 2.

SHUFFLEBOARD TOURNAMENT

WINNERS DETERMINED

The November WAA sports tournament ended Tuesday night, November 27. Winners of the shuffleboard play-offs were: first, Donna Ebert and Mary Deloir; and second, Nan Carroll and Ann Switzenberg. Runners up were: Marilyn Fredson and Mary Feates; Margaret Ott and Alethea Zimmerman.

The December sport is basketball. Any WAA member who is interested in playing in the tournament is asked to sign up on the sheets provided on the bulletin boards.

BLUE DEVILS CAGE SEASON OPEN SAT.

Tomorrow night at 8:00 the Blue Devils will begin their 1951 basketball season when they play host to St. Mary's College Redmen in the Menomonee high school gymnasium. In their season opener Coach Johnson's charges will meet one of the strongest teams from the Minnesota area. This game will give Stout fans their first chance to see the new Blue Devil team which is composed mostly of freshmen. Coach Johnson's charges have been working hard in anticipation of a tough game and a tougher season in an improved conference, and hope to better their last year's record.

Back on the hard courts for the Blue Devils will be 6-4" Bob Erickson a senior, who will be playing his fourth year at center for Coach Johnson. Also back are sharpshooting Hilary Janikowski, who will graduate at semester's end, one of the big guns of the Stout offense last year, and John Debrunski, veteran forward who saw much action last year. Wayne Weller, a sophomore who was one of the few who lasted through the mid semester break will also be back on the hardwood. Returning after a half season's layoff are Bill Kieffer, a junior who played forward, and Herb Markley who starred at forward or center for the first semester last year.

The Redmen have four men back from their last season's traveling team, including their veteran guard Bill Shrake, who racked up 20 points as they defeated Stout 64-49 at Menomonee last year.

SYMPHONICS TO GIVE CONCERT DECEMBER 13

The Stout Symphonic Singers will present their annual Christmas concert on Thursday evening, December 13 at 8:15 in the Stout auditorium.

The group, sixty strong this year, will present a varied concert of religious and current Christmas music.

They will feature Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite," consisting of Overture, Dance of the Sugar Plums, Trepak, Dance of the Toy Flutes, and Waltz of the Flowers.

Other numbers to be presented by the Singers include: "Fanfare for Christmas Day" by M. Shaw, Christensen's "Hallelujah to the Lord," "How Far is it to Bethlehem?" by G. Shaw, "While Shepherds Watch Their Sheep" by Jungst, "Glory to God in the Highest," by J. C. Bach, and Sweelinck's "Hodie Christus Natus Est."

Completing the program are Torme's "Christmas Song" with Audrey Goodell as soloist, Bernard's "Winter Wonderland" featuring Jo Gritt as soloist, "White Christmas" by Berlin, and Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

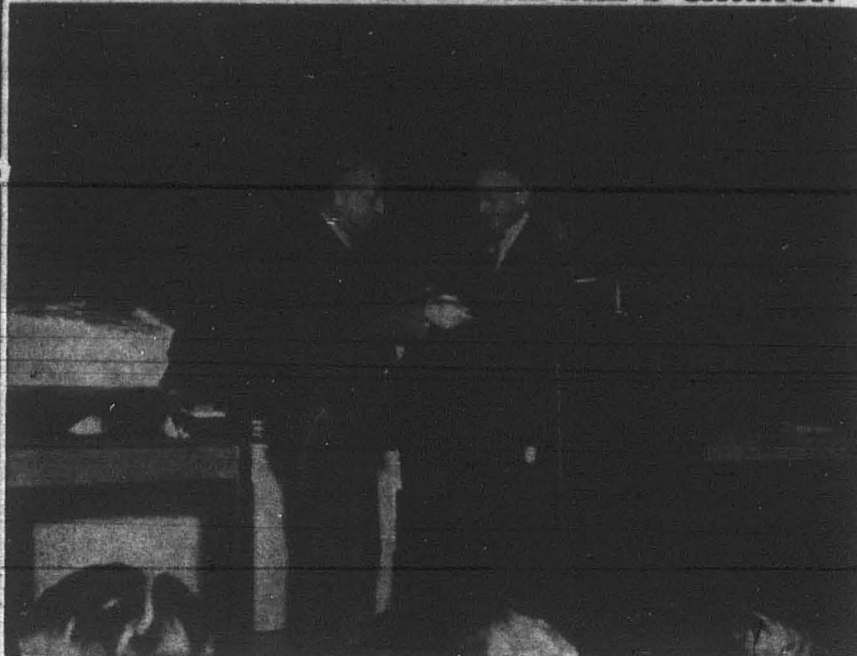

The Girls' Ensemble will complete the program by singing four numbers. These include Foster's "I Want an Old Fashioned Christmas," Ringwald's arrangement of "Rise up Shepherd and Follow," "Santa Claus is Coming to Town" by Coats, and "Glory in the Highest" by Davis.

This Christmas concert will be presented to the students in an assembly on Tuesday, December 18, at 11:00 a.m.

DEAN BOWMAN RECEIVES THE SHIP'S CITATION

Charles A. Roper, Chairman of the citation committee of The Ship, is shown presenting Dean Clyde A. Bowman with The Ship's citation Friday afternoon, November 30, at the A V A convention.

DEAN BOWMAN RECEIVES THE SHIP'S CITATION

3,500-4,000 MEMBERS AND GUESTS ATTEND LARGEST AVA CONVENTION

An estimated three thousand five hundred and four thousand members and guests attended the largest and most successful annual American Vocational Association convention held in Minneapolis from Monday, November 26 through Friday, November 30. Among those attending this annual affair were many prominent educators and business men from every state in the union along with representatives from many foreign countries.

Those attending from The Stout Institute included: President Fryklund, Dean Bowman, twenty-one faculty members, seven women faculty from the Home Economics division and sixty-five students.

Highpoint of the convention was the presentation of The Ship's Citation to Dean Bowman. Membership in The Ship is made up of representatives of reliable firms doing business in the school field. Presentation of the citation to Dean Bowman was made by Charles A. Roper, Chairman of the Citation Committee. Mr. Roper is affiliated with the McKnight & McKnight Publishing company. The award presented to Dean Bowman was a 21 jewel Bulova wrist watch with an inscription on the back from The Ship and the framed citation.

The convention was divided into several different areas. General sessions and divisional meetings were the main gatherings. Several members of the Stout faculty headed panels on various days of the convention.

President Fryklund acted as Chairman on one panel discussion of Industrial Arts Supervisors and Teacher Trainers on Wednesday at the Curtis Hotel. On Tuesday morning, President Fryklund spoke on Accreditation of Industrial Arts Teacher Trainers at the National Association of Industrial Arts Teacher Trainers meeting held also at the Curtis Hotel.

Dean Bowman acted as chairman of a panel of the National Association of Teacher Trainers on Monday morning at the Municipal Auditorium and on another panel on Industrial Arts Teachers which met on Wednesday at the Curtis Hotel.

On Friday morning at Dunwoody Institute, Mr. Whydotaki spoke before a group of men in the Graphic Arts field on Preparing and Upgrading Teachers to Meet Changing Conditions in Printing Occupations.

The largest gathering of Commercial and Educational Exhibits in the history of the American Vocational Association was a major part of the convention. From Monday until Friday noon a total of some one hundred and thirty exhibits were open to the members and guests of the AVA.

The Twin Cities Chapter of the Stout Alumni Association sponsored a breakfast for all alumni, faculty and students attending this convention on Wednesday morning at the 510 Grove-land Hotel.

INTERSORORITY DANCE TO BE HELD SAT.

"Melody in Mistletoe" is the theme of the annual Intersorority Ball which will be held December 8 from 9 to 12 p.m. Bobbie Bryan's orchestra will provide the music for the semi-formal event.

General chairmen are Jane Shadewald and Beverly Henderson. Other committee chairmen include decorations, Rita Hack; invitations and dance programs, Grace Laudon and Marilyn Eckstien; and clean up, Joan Staehli and Marietta Thomas.

The reception line composed of the presidents and advisors of each sorority and their escorts include Misses Marshall, Carrison, Hinkley, Diefenbach, Ann Rossmiller, Karen Anderson, Lois Subitch, and Mrs. Burt Jaeger.

MISS O'BRIEN IS RE-ELECTED TO STATE POST

Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, registrar of The Stout Institute, was re-elected secretary of the state college group of registrars of Wisconsin at their annual meeting at the University Union in Madison, November 30. Kenneth Little, registrar of the University of Wisconsin, was in charge of the meeting.

Leonard Haas of the Eau Claire State college was elected chairman of the group for next year.

Admission practices for freshmen and transfers were revived at the meeting. Information for evaluating credits of foreign students was distributed.

An officer from the State Board of Selective Service led a discussion of how Selective Service applies to the college student.

STOUT MEMBERS OF AVA WIN VALUED PRIZES

Among the many recipients of prizes at the American Vocational Association convention held in Minneapolis last week included several Stout students and faculty.

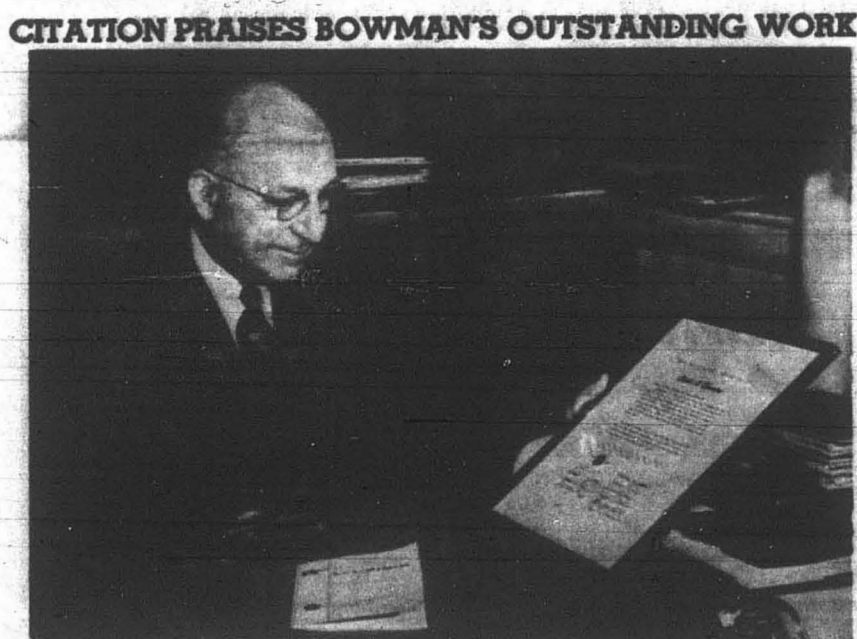

As each member of the AVA registered at the convention he or she was given a card which was to be punched at each of the booths that were on display at the convention. These booths, were sponsored by the various firms and educational institutions. Upon completion of the many booths and when the card was entirely punched, the card was put into a large box from which prizes would be awarded to the lucky card holders.

Many prizes were given out under the sponsorship of The Ship, an organization composed of reliable firms doing business in the school field.

Mr. Reneson is the proud owner of a new hand cross cut saw. Dan Foltman carried home a Sunbeam coffee maker which was sponsored by the Ford Motor company Industrial Arts Awards of Dearborn, Michigan. Charles Schiferl is the proud owner of four volumes of Deltagram projects and processes sponsored by the Warner Hardware Company.

ALL-SCHOOL CHRISTMAS PARTY DECEMBER 14

The all-school Christmas party will be held Friday, December 14. George Sodeberg and his Royal Blackhawks will provide the music for the dance which will be held in the Stout gym. This is sponsored by the SSA and is one of the free functions sponsored during the year. Plan now to attend.

Dean Bowman is shown in his office admiring The Ship's citation and 21 jewel Bulova wrist watch which was awarded him for his outstanding contribution in the field of vocational education.

The citation, as presented to Dean Bowman reads as follows:

THE SHIP PAYS TRIBUTE TO

Clyde A. Bowman

Clyde A. Bowman. Distinguished Son of Wisconsin:

In recognition of your loyal Military Service and your Inspiring Leadership in Education, we of THE SHIP salute you. Your untiring efforts for Greater Educational opportunities for all... for the advancement of Teacher Training... Your Willingness and Effectiveness in Serving and Leading your community, your state, and your Nation in Civic and Educational Enterprise... These and your rich contribution as Lecturer, Teacher, Soldier, Writer, and Consultant will serve as an inspiration to those who follow.

Mr. Clyde A. Bowman, Dean, Division of Industrial Education, The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin, we of THE SHIP are pleased and honored by this opportunity to pay tribute to you for your contributions to the advancement of the American Way of Life.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

New that the 1951 AVA convention is past history, and the students and faculty members have returned to the campus we feel that those of you who had a chance to attend, but didn't, really missed out on one of the rare opportunities of professional interest that occurs only once every ten or fifteen years. A nationwide convention, such as this, is rotated around the country so that sooner or later it is nearby to a relatively small geographic area. This is borne out in the fact that next year's convention is scheduled for Boston, Mass. and the 1953 convention is being bid for by New Orleans, La.

This was an unexcelled chance to get acquainted with tools, equipment, textbooks, and supplies that are used by industrial arts teachers. Perhaps many of us did not know that such a variety of equipment was available. It is the opinion of the writer that attendance at this convention should have been compulsory as the wealth of information that is made available to the teachers could not be duplicated in any college class or reference list that is handed out by the professor at the beginning of the course. Those who attended know what is referred to while those who did not attend can only know what is passed on by the more fortunate.

Last Friday night the Sigma Fraternity of The Stout Institute became the Sigma Chapter of Delta Kappa, a national social fraternity. We sincerely hope that the members of the Sigma Chapter have a prosperous future in this organization. Congratulations to you, the charter members, and to all your brothers in the Delta Kappa Fraternity.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The regular meeting of the Student Governing Board was held last Tuesday evening in the trustees room in the basement of the HE building. All elected members and the advisors were present. The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

Bill Banks reported from the finance committee that the Student Loan Fund regulations were tentatively agreed upon. After discussion from the floor it was moved, seconded and carried that a fund in the amount of $200.00 be set up for small "emergency" use by students. The final draft of the rules for the use of these monies will be submitted by the finance committee at the next meeting.

Roberta Harris and Nancy Hanshus reported on the cost of obtaining new trousers for the cheerleaders. The cost of the material for durable, yet smart appearing, trousers would be about $108.00. This figure included the cost of sewing of the fabric into trousers by a seamstress. It was suggested that these two, Roberta Harris and Nancy Hanshus, look into the possibility of getting ready-made trousers from a uniform supply house and to compare with the cost of buying material and sewing of these trousers here.

Ed Prahl brought up the possibility of purchasing a new flag for the marching band since the present one is almost unfit for public display. Since no definite data was available on the cost of a new flag it was suggested that Ed secure the necessary data and bring it to a later meeting. There were no reports from the social and movie committees.

INTERESTING BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Our library is constantly receiving new books that will be well worth your while to read. Besides reference books of all natures there are a great deal of interesting books for intelligent and easy reading. Three good autobiographies have just been put on the shelves.

Truth Will Out is a frank autobiography written by the former wife of the British scientist and avowed Communist, J.B.S. Haldane. As the wife of a Communist, Mrs. Haldane became a member of the British Communist party, but after a visit to Russia in 1941, she was convinced that Communism was not the final truth for mankind. After seeing Communism in its true light she finally broke with both the party and her husband. The book, having deep political significance is written without a trace of the bitterness usually attributed to ex-Communists, and suggests the process by which a cultivated woman could become entangled in the Communist network.

White Man Returns in a continuation of the Keith family's life story as begun in Land Below the Wind and Three Came Home. Mr. Keith returned to North Borneo in 1946 as a civil administrator for the British crown and was later joined there by his wife and their son, George. Mrs. Keith writes this book from actual experience, which gives it more spice and interest. She is an intelligent woman who uses mature judgement and humor in telling their personal reminiscences. This sunny narrative combines the Keith's story with the theme of the oneness of all people.

We Barrymores is the autobiography of Lionel Barrymore as told to Cameron Shipp. Here we meet also other great theatrical figures. Mr. Barrymore's humbleness and friendliness bring him close to the reader from the very beginning. The story is told with amazing zest in an impromptu and sometimes jaunty fashion. Mr. Shipp has done a fine job also in preserving the flavor of an "off-the-set" chat.

PHI U PARTICIPATES IN NATIONAL RATINGS

Members of the Phi U. will take their tests next week. These tests are taken by both old and new members. All chapters of Phi U. take these examinations. Scores are computed for all chapters, and each chapter will obtain its respective rating, which is based on these tests.

The examinations include the history and organization of Phi U.

MAP PRODUCES NEW PAINT JOB FOR TOWER "S"

"With tower high and brilliant 'S' is a line in our Alma Mater. For several years the 'S' had stayed without a new coat of paint and as a result it was faded and no longer brilliant. But one of the organizations on campus, the Manual Arts Players, came to the rescue and made the 'S' bright once again.

After obtaining the permission of Mr. Roen, Superintendent of Buildings, who also provided the paint for the undertaking, Gene Sawyer and Herb Pringle proceeded to the actual painting. Now, if you crane your neck a little, you will see a beautiful royal blue background for the white 'S' and be once again proud of that line in the Alma Mater.

In the future the MAP plans to paint the "STOUT" sign which is on the I.E. Building. However, due to the danger produced by the weather the painting of that sign will have to wait.

TOWER PROGRESSING: MAY 12 ISSUANCE

The 1951-52 Tower is progressing rapidly under the direction of the co-editors, Hazel Nelson and Bruce Arntsen. All of the art work has been completed by Milton Benner, and negotiations are underway for the cover design.

The dummy, or first layout, has been nearly completed. 87 pictures were sent to the engravers by November 15, at a discount of 40%. Approximately 25 more were sent December 1. All of the group pictures have been completed. The Tower will have approximately 124 pages and 201 engravings this year.

All of the stories will be assigned before Christmas. The entire production is approximately one month ahead of last year.

The business manager, Dan Foltman, sold nearly $400 worth of ads for the student directory, the proceeds of which will go to the Tower.

The staff has set May 12 as the approximate issuance date. Organization presidents who received questionnaires are urged to return them to the Tower office as soon as possible to hasten production.

Walgren Agency

Hello again,

Last Friday the Sigmas went national. In case you were wondering about all those strange young men on the campus, they were fraternity brothers from Eau Claire, Indiana, New York, and other areas of the country. These men acquired blind dates for the fraternity banquet that evening and everyone concerned had a good time. Some of the girls were Jan Shadewald, Dorie Beyer, Jeanette Smith, Jo Staehle, Mary Bohrnstadt, Bev Henderson, Louise Wenger, Louise Zirbel, Carol Zuege and Joyce Appelgren.

Don Sargent was at the banquet with June Keefer, and Ralph Hetzel was there with Grace Laudon.

Charmaine Chopp and Augie Schulz were at the cinema of Friday night.

Some of the couples at the game Saturday night included Mel Witte and Ginny Hoppe, Jerry Krall and Mary Ann Timmerman, George Krall and Luella Goodell, Jim Bailing and Phyllis Horning, and Jo Hosford and "Barney" Styer.

Most of these same couples were at the Duffy's Tavern after the game. Besides them, Don Beran and Maryann Heimerman, Ed Prah and Ann Ritzinger, Phyllis Amacher and "Inky" Mense, who was on leave from the army, and Betty Kleist and Fran Oberpriller were also at Duffy's.

The FOBs did a fine job serving everyone at their bar with the traditional mirror behind the bar and the hat rack as you came in the door.

Another Stout girl has a sparkle in her eye and a sparkler on her finger; Donna Heike became engaged to a boy from home last week end. Good luck to both of you. We'll be waiting to meet him tomorrow night at the intersorority ball.

Oh yes, most of the girls have been asking fellows to the intersorority ball which is to be held tomorrow night. Mary Lou Bohrnstadt is taking John Widmar, Mary Ann Moore has asked Cornelius Mahoney. We won't be able to tell the rest this issue but watch for next Friday. It will be interesting.

Others at the dance Saturday include Marlene Habada and Alex Pribish, Don Seaburg and Jeanette Oetting, June Higgins and Jim Tomita, Nancy Hanshus and Larry Mosher, Rose Grzadzinski and Wally Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kieffer, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Takasaki, and Howard Vetter and Doris Heil.

Also seen around town last week end were Boots Subitch and John Houle.

We heard that some of the Stout men have been wondering why so few Stout girls have dates here at school; yet these same men seldom take the initiative to ask a girl out. Need we mention that a man is a necessity on a date? Why not ask a girl out. The all-school Christmas mixer is just a week away; and it's free, so why not get your date for it now.

We have noticed a complete change in Joan Fritz since she started dating Bill Anderson. Swell guy-huh? Joan? Marlene Habada seemed to enjoy herself at the dance Saturday night. Could it have been Alex Pribish that made the evening so enjoyable?

It is swell to see Marilyn Fredeen back with Ray Steves. Its O.K. Marilyn though Fred Kneisler would call you a Social Butterfly.

See you next week.
Faithfully yours,
Key and Hole

LIBRARY HOURS AND RULES ARE ANNOUNCED

Each year questions arise about library hours and the loan periods. For the benefit of all new students and others not familiar with the library, the following general information is being printed.

Monday-Thursday; 7:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.
Friday; 7:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m.
Saturday; 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

The loan periods vary with the type of material. Reserved books, magazines, and pamphlets are to be loaned for two hours, with the privilege of renewals if the material is not in demand. A yellow call slip is used for reserved materials. These reserved books, magazines, and pamphlets may be drawn out for overnight at nine o'clock on Monday to Thursday evenings. They are then due at 8:30 the next morning. Friday they may be taken out at 4:30 p.m. and are due at 9:30 Saturday morning. Reserved material may be taken out for the week end on Saturday from 11 - 12 a.m. and must be returned before 8:30 a.m. Monday. A blue call slip is for overnight use.

Materials that are not on reserve may be kept for a longer period of time. A pink call slip is used for material in this category. Books may be drawn out for two weeks. Pamphlets and magazines, exclusive of current issues, may be drawn out for a week. However, all reference books and bound magazines are to be used only in the library. The current issues of magazines may be drawn out for overnight use but must be returned at 8:30 the next morning.

The fines on reserve books, magazines, and pamphlets that are kept overtime is five cents an hour, including Saturday but not Sunday, until the total reaches one dollar. Thereafter a fine of ten cents a day will be charged. When a person has a reserved book charged to him for day use only (on a yellow call slip) and keeps it overnight there will be a flat charge of ten cents in addition to the fine for the time beyond the two hours permitted by the loan. The fines on three day reserve books is ten cents a day. Overdue one day reserves, including theses, will have a fine of ten cents a day.

The charge on overdue magazines is one cent a day. The fine will be computed to the day the magazine is returned or paid for, unless the student is asked to wait until the end of the semester. And because the cost of a magazine is frequently a small part of the cost of replacing it, twenty-five cents will be added to the cost of each magazine that is lost or not returned. There is a fine of one cent a day on the two-week material when it is overdue. This fine will continue until the book is returned or paid for.

These overdues are listed on sheets, one list for men and one for women. The men's list is posted on the bulletin board in the I.E. Building and the women's list on the bulletin board near the entrance to the library. If material so posted is not returned in a week an individual notice is placed on one of the bulletin boards. If the material is still not returned a printed postal card will be sent out. If all these notices fail to get results a letter will be mailed. There will be a charge of ten cents for the first letter and fifteen cents for each succeeding letter.

It should be remembered that fines are charged for the benefit of the students. Miss Lillian Froggatt, head librarian, states, "fines are charged as an inducement to bring material back on time, not to bring in money. And libraries have not as yet, found any other effective method of getting people to return material." All the money from fines here at Stout goes to the Business office. No money is kept or handled in the library.

THE OPERATOR'S CORNER

Two Marines on leave from their base at San Diego, Calif., were traveling through Arizona by auto late one afternoon last summer. When their radiator boiled near an Indian mission station, they walked to the mission to get some water.

After the missionary in charge heard of their trouble he insisted that they stay for supper. "Kill a couple of chickens," he told his Indian cook, and soon appetizing odors were wafted through the rooms. Just as the host and his guests sat down to supper the telephone rang.

The chicken was delicious and the Marines couldn't resist. When the missionary returned only well-picked chicken bones were left.

After a makeshift supper for himself the missionary took his guests on a tour of the grounds. They inspected the little chapel and four-room school. Then they walked to the back of the mission to view the setting sun. When they passed the chicken house, a lone rooster began to crow loudly.

"What's wrong with that rooster?" asked one of the visitors. "Why's he crowing at this time of day?"

The missionary didn't answer for a moment. Then he said, "You'd crow too, if you had two sons in the Marines!"

For many years a mining company out west employed a Chinese cook, and one evening after an unusually good dinner the superintendent decided to raise his wages. The next pay day the Chinaman noted the extra money in his envelope.

"Why you pay me more?" he asked the superintendent.

"Because you have been such a good cook all these years," replied his boss.

After thinking it over for a while the Chinaman said, "You have been cheating me long time, eh?"

Judge: Were you ever arrested before for stealing a bicycle?

Prisoner: Never, your honor. I've always been arrested afterwards.

Judge: Three months for the joke and thirty days for the theft.

I've reached that "stage" in life When I enter a barber shop I still give instructions about the sides But NEVER mention the top.

Lukewarm, cold or hot— The choice of shower, I'm Convinced, depends on what Is running at the time.

The reason a man notices another woman's clothes more than his wife's is, when you know what's in a package you don't care how it's wrapped.

A native of a remote section of this country walked into a druggist's one morning with a huge black bottle and asked that it be filled with sulphur and whiskey.

"This is the way I always have it fixed up," he said to the druggist. "I have sulphur up to there." He put his finger about a half inch from the bottom of the bottle. "And then the rest I have all whiskey," he continued. "And this here is the way I use it. When I want a dose of sulphur, I just shake her up before I drink—and when I don't want no sulphur, I don't shake her. See!"

The train was about to pull out of the station when suddenly a man ran out on the platform, jumped on the train, threw several suitcases into a berth and then jumped off the train again and ran down the platform.

"Have I got time to say goodbye to my wife?" he yelled as he passed the conductor.

"I can't tell," replied the conductor. "That all depends on how long you've been married."

Little Harvey approached his mom who had just returned from a shopping trip.

"Hey, Mom," he said, you know that vase in the living room that's been handed down from generation to generation?"

"Yes," replied his mother. "What about it?"

"Well, I guess it won't be handed down any more, Mom," explained Harvey. "This generation just dropped it."

Too bad $2 bills are so scarce, we could use them to buy a dollar's worth today.

Russia is supposed to be noted for its caviar. I think it's baloney.

JIM TIMMERMAN WORKING IN HONOLULU

Jim "Timmy" Timmerman, '48, is now working in Honolulu, Hawaii. He has a job as traffic representative with the Transocean Air Lines. His duties include meeting all incoming planes and taking care of departures. Occasionally, Jim goes over to the large Hickam Air Field to dispatch the planes for the mainland with wounded from Korea.

Besides the work that Jim is doing there is still time for enjoyment of Honolulu, swimming, getting a tan, and having the temperature always between seventy and eighty degrees.

Jim wishes the Blue Devils the best of luck and to all best wishes and a big aloha. Roland Kickbush, '50, also sends his greetings.

If anyone is interested, Jim and Roland would like to hear from some of the alumni. Their address is:

JOHN KROCK TELLS OF FINE IA POSITION

John J. Krock is now teaching general metals in the vocational school in Kirkland, Washington. John, together with the rest of the shop men, helps in the shop planning of their respective shops. This school is a little different than the usual high school and the grounds and grass takes in 13 acres of land.

The carpentry classes in this school build complete houses which are then sold. One home is completed each spring.

LEO WALLNER NOW OPERATING WELDING

Leo Wallner now runs the Wallner Welding Supply Company in Duluth, Minnesota. In the October, 1951 issue of the "Electrified Industry" there was an article about types of work done by the Wallner Welding Supply Company.

STOUT GRADUATE IS NEW COMPANY MEDICAL DIRECTOR

Earl L. Burbidge, M.D., was recently appointed Medical Director of the Upjohn Company.

Mr. Burbidge now living in Parchment, Michigan, attended Stout from 1930 until 1935.

IS IT FLAMMABLE, INFLAMMABLE, OR NONINFLAMMABLE?

When the contents of a jar of cleaning fluid is marked FLAMMABLE, does this mean that the fluid will burn? What if the label says INFLAMMABLE? Or NONFLAMMABLE? Students in the welding classes of Ralph Betterley, assistant professor of industrial education at The Stout Institute, were constantly becoming confused over these various terms. As a safety measure, and to satisfy his own curiosity, Professor Betterley took time off to investigate the four words.

He found that both FLAMMABLE and INFLAMMABLE mean the same thing: "capable of being set on fire; combustible." NONFLAMMABLE is the same as NONINFLAMMABLE in meaning: "not capable of being set on fire; not combustible." INFLAMMABLE is the older form; the Oxford English Dictionary lists 1570 as the year of the earliest recorded example. The earliest citation for FLAMMABLE is 1813. Editors of present day books on welding, reports Professor Betterley are beginning to use the terms FLAMMABLE and NONFLAMMABLE rather than the older forms INFLAMMABLE and NONINFLAMMABLE. The editors of the sixth edition of Webster's "Collegiate Dictionary" also state that FLAMMABLE is the form preferred by many technical writers and publications because of possible misinterpretation of the prefix "in" as a negative.

Therefore, if the label says FLAMMABLE or INFLAMMABLE, watch where you put your cigaret.

WAA NOVEMBER SPORTS ARE PLAYED IN TWO SECTIONS

Deck tennis and shuffleboard games are now underway for the month of November. Due to the number of girls participating, they are divided into teams which play on either Monday or Tuesday nights. Shuffleboard and deck tennis are played at the same time to make full use of the gym.

Two grizzled "ridge runners" from the hills stopped on a street in town to exchange the time of day. "How's things at home?"—inquired one. "Wal," replied the other, "the ole woman ain't talkin' to me this mornin' and I ain't in a mood to interrupt her."

REPUBLICAN CAMPUS GROUP GETS CHARTER

They have done it. The Young Republican club at Stout Institute has now been formed and officially chartered. Last Wednesday the club met at the cafeteria, ate supper, and then were entertained by guest speakers Charles Zepp, state vice-chairman, and John Dale, district chairman, of the Young Republicans.

This club has been formed with the primary aim of acquainting its members with government and politics. It will hold one or two meetings a month to discuss and carry on an active participation in local, state, and national affairs.

There will be more news in the future, and in the meantime they ask that the students keep one eye open for notices of the next meeting. They cordially invite all those who are interested in joining the group to come to their next meeting.

ADMIN. CLASS TO BALDWIN AND WOODVILLE

On Monday, November 5, the class in Administration in Home Economics with their instructor, Miss Ann Noble took an interesting field trip to Woodville and Baldwin High Schools. The purpose of the trip was to see first hand the arrangement and equipment in the homemaking laboratories and in the school lunch kitchens and dining rooms.

The class went first to Woodville where Miss Jean Kelton, a 1949 Stout graduate and the homemaking teacher, showed the students her recently constructed department, discussing problems of planning and costs of construction. The homemaking department is still in the building process but three unit kitchens are almost completed. It was interesting to note that the girls in the home furnishings class were varnishing and painting the cupboards as a class project.

After inspecting the homemaking department, the Stout students watched the serving of the school lunch and then they were served.

At Baldwin, Miss Roberta Hanson, also a 1949 Stout graduate, took the class to a grade school building where the school lunch was served. The head cook gave the girls an informal but interesting talk on how she plans, prepares, and serves the hot lunch for pupils of different grade levels. She discussed the use of surplus commodities in menu planning and showed some new equipment which they had just purchased.

The group then went to the Baldwin Homemaking Department where the high school girls served hot apple cider, and assorted fruits. Following this they took the Stout girls on a conducted tour of the whole high school as well as of the Homemaking Department.

A group of F.H.A. girls presented the F.H.A. emblem ceremony for the Stout students. They were to present it that night at the initiation of the F.H.A. girls at Woodville.

DUFFY'S TAVERN DANCE HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

The annual F.O.B. Duffy's Tavern dance, held in the Stout gym, turned out to be a big success.

Approximately 200 students danced to the music of Bobby Bryans orchestra and drank Duffy's famous punch. Bartenders for Duffy's Tavern were Herb Markley, Willis Bogenhagen, and Bob Erickson. They were dressed in the traditional derby, bow tie, and black sleeve garters.

During intermission, Tom Tsuji, Bob Takasaki, and Bob Wong sang several Hawaiian songs, accompanied by Wong in the guitar. After that, the FOB quartet, Herb Markley, Bob Erickson, Lorin Larson, Milt Benner, Dan Glyney, and Willis Bogenhagen, rendered a few numbers.

The gym was decorated in black and white crepe paper, with many typical bar-room signs on the walls. The punch was served over a bar with a large painted mirror reflecting the images of the many typical Duffy's Tavern customers.

GAMMA DELTA MAKES PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS

Sunday evening, December 2, was the date of the Gamma Delta friend night. Each of the members who attended brought a friend along. Rev. Pankow led the Bible discussion after which entertainment and refreshments were enjoyed by everyone. Plans were made for a Christmas party.

WESLEY STUNT NIGHT IS SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Stunt Night was held at Wesley Sunday, December 2. A skit, "Crime Against Society", was given by a group; Mary Detlor presented a monologue; and Vivian Barnhardt gave a humorous declamation. Noreen Cook and Jan Benedict sang "Santa Claus is Coming to Town." The program ended with Paul Kokubun singing and playing Hawaiian songs.

Barb Sherwood's committee served a delicious supper of chili con carne, cherry pie and milk.

Rosemary Raymer's committee presented the worship service, and Rev. Reece continued the series of Bible study.

Next Sunday Wesley will have a joint Christmas party at the Congregational church. Everyone is invited to attend.

PANEL DISCUSSION IS HELD AT LSA MEETING

The weekly meeting of the L.S.A. was held at the parsonage of Our Savior's Lutheran church Sunday, December 2. A short worship service was held after which four of the members gave a panel discussion on "Christian Vocations." This was followed by a workshop meeting of the groups and refreshments.

TEA ROOM COFFEE HOUR TO BE DEC. 16

The last meal to be served in the Tea Room this year will be served Sunday, December 16. It will be a "coffee hour" featuring foods of all nationalities. A few examples of some of the foods to be served are German coffee cake, Scandinavian cookies, English muffins, and of course, American candy and cakes.

All the decorations will be carried out on a Christmas theme and will include a Christmas tree, Christmas logs and suitable candles.

The prices will be a la carte and no reservations are needed. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this "coffee hour".

HAVE YOU HEARD THE ORGAN MUSIC?

A junior from Dale, Wisconsin, Dorothy Messerschmidt, is the person who has been giving us all the wonderful organ music before convocations, assemblies, at last homecoming events and various other occasions. This Christmas Dorothy will furnish music for the Symphonic Singers' Christmas concert.

On the campus, Dorothy is active in the Y.W.C.A., Symphonic Singers, Home Ec. club, Tower staff, a member of the student assembly committee, and she is also junior class secretary. In addition to all these activities Dorothy played the organ for church services in her home town and was a member of the high school band.

Last year while attending the Wisconsin Home Economics convention at Green Lake she played the organ for the Simplicity style show and tea which was under the direction of Miss Alice Berry of New York.

LEON MARION VISITS CAMPUS AS YWCA GUEST

Leon Marion, national secretary of the World Student Service Fund, visited Stout last week under the sponsorship of the YWCA. Mr. Marion is a graduate of Occidental College at Los Angeles where he was active in YMCA work, DP Student Committee work, and in the WSSF.

Last summer he attended the International Conference of World University Service held at Oslo, Norway, and also the British Conference on Christian Youth at Bangor, North Wales. At the present time he is traveling throughout the United States visiting universities and colleges for the purpose of getting more students interested in international affairs.

While here, he was given a tour of the HE and IE buildings, and conferred with members of the YW as to possible plans for the WSSF here.

Plans are being formulated for the fund raising drive which will be held here next spring.

P A BUFFET DINNER IS HELD NOVEMBER 19

The Pallas Athene sorority held their annual Thanksgiving dinner on Monday, November 19, at 6 o'clock, in the club room above the union.

Jan Benedict led the short Thanksgiving devotions before the meal.

The room was lighted by candlelight, and the large buffet table, with its "horn of plenty" centerpiece held an array of traditional holiday foods.

The menu consisted of: hot spice cider, tuna casserole, cranberry-orange mold, assorted relishes and pickles, hot rolls, jams and jellies, pumpkin pie, and coffee.

The dinner was concluded with the singing of the P.A. Serenade.

Marlys Eaton and Virginia Jacobson were in charge of the event.

BIRTHDAY DINNER HELD IN DORM DINING ROOM

On November 29th the freshman girls had their November and August birthday dinner. The tables were gaily decorated with snowmen, made of cotton with black stove pipe hats, and evergreen boughs.

A delicious meal of ham, candied sweet potatoes, frozen peas, and cranberry salad was served by candlelight. The climax of the meal was when the lighted birthday cake and ice cream were brought in. Happy Birthday was sung to the girls at that time.

The girls celebrating their birthdays in August were Esther Rasmussen, Diane Klemme, Margaret Ort, Jody Bain, Marilyn Schwantes, and Dodie Van Keureh. The girls who had birthdays this month were Jo Ann Lindeneau, Ginny Lathrope, Betty Appel, Wanda Nelson, and Barbara Clemons.

SMA ADOPTS BLACK SWEATERS AS OFFICIAL

Black, far from denoting mourning, is the color of the SMA Sorority. It is natural then, that Thursdays find twenty girls wearing black sweaters with white monogram letters. The black sweater of the SMA's takes its place along with the Philo jacket and the PA sweat shirt as the official garb of a Stout sorority.

SIGMA'S RECEIVE NATIONAL CHARTER

DELTA KAPPA CHAPTER IS INSTALLED HERE

LOCAL SIGMA FRATERNITY RECEIVES CHARTER AT IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

The Sigma chapter of Delta Kappa, National Social fraternity, was officially installed as an organization on the Stout campus Friday, November 30. This organization was formerly the local Sigma fraternity.

The ceremony which was held at the Marion Hotel, was conducted by four delegates of the Kappa chapter of Terre Haute, Indiana, and was witnessed by ten members of Gamma chapter of Oswego, New York. Twenty members of the local chapter gained entrance into the national organization.

A banquet at which braised steak and fillet were served, greeted the large gathering of local and visiting chapter members and their guests. A guest delegation of the Eta Phi fraternity of the Eau Claire State college, guest speaker, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Iverson, and the fraternity advisor, Dr. Agnew, were also present. Dr. Oetting, another fraternity advisor was unable to attend because he was attending a conference in Madison.

The following poem appeared originally in the Daily Lobo, University of New Mexico:

He asked me: "When?"—
I could not tell.
He queried: "Who?"—
Again I fell.
He named a man
To me a stranger.
And I could see
Myself in danger.
What was this plight—
this mystery?
Oh! Just my course in history.

STOUT DROPS 3RD CAGE TILT TO BEMIDJI 78-45

After losing their three opening non-conference games, the Blue Devil basketball team Friday night treks to Winona, Minn., where they will play St. Mary's in a return game. This game will be the last Stout will play before meeting La Crosse in their first conference game of the season here Dec. 15.

Bemidji State Teachers college handed the Blue Devils a stinging 78-45 defeat Tuesday night in a game played there. The Bemidji cagers held a lead of 15 points at half-time and netted 43 points during the last half to chalk up their decisive win. Stout scored 20 points in the first half and 25 in the second stanza.

Lawrence, Bemidji forward, was high-point man of the game with 23 tallies. Erickson, Stout center, led the Blue Devils, scoring 14 points.

In a game played at St. Paul Monday night Coach Ray Johnson's quintet lost to St. John's 86-50. The Johnnies broke their scoring and field goal records for a single game. They dumped in 40 field goals.

Erickson netted six field goals and three charity tosses for Stout to emerge the game's high scorer with 15 points. Kieffer, a guard, was second high for the Blue Devils with 14 tallies.

In the opening game played here last Friday night, St. Mary's took the lead early in the first quarter and the Blue Devils were unable to overcome the margin and lost 75-56. Kieffer paced the scoring for the local team with 17 points. A St. Mary's guard, Pat Costello, garnered 13 field goals and two free throws to cop high-point honors with 28 tallies.

With Costello, a guard, netting 28 points St. Mary's proved to be more than a match for Stout Saturday night.

Although Stout got off to an early lead, St. Mary's forged ahead and held a 31-26 half-time lead. The lead increased as the second half progressed.

Stout's first game found many of the boys still playing football, or at least still having their football muscles.

Kieffer paced the Blue Devil attack with 17 points followed by Ed Wilke with 14.

Coach Johnson cleaned the bench giving all the boys a chance to show what they had under fire. Glen Tobias showed the fans some fine passing and Ed Wilke had his hook shot working.

MIDGET'S BASKETBALL TEAM WINS FIRST GAME

The Midgets, Stout's independent basketball team, exploded in the fourth quarter to take their initial win of the 1951-52 season from the Rangers of the Intramural league by a score of 48 to 34.

The Midgets are composed of a group of Stout athletes who like to play basketball. They play the intramural teams and some of the nearby civic teams during their schedule.

The roster of this year's Midget team is as follows: Red Walker, Tom Stipp, Walt Christensen, Karl Turk, Flip Fleming, Ken Arnetveit, Wayne Weiler, Fox Roloff, Will Bogenhagen, Joe Stebly, Mel Zemplinski, and coach, Augie Schultz.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

After the first week of intramural basketball we find both F.O.B. teams on top. F.O.B.'s No. 1 defeated the K.F.S. and Lynwood Hall while F.O.B.'s No. 2 beat the Sigma and the K.F.S. Sigma Tau is a half game behind having won their only game. They beat Lynwood Hall.

Other teams posting wins were Lynwood Hall and K.F.S. both beating the Sigmas.

Standings for the week ending December 4.

	Won	Lost
F.O.B. No. 1	2	0
F.O.B. No. 2	2	0

Returning lettermen: Forwards: Willis Hamilton, Patch Grove, Loren Rheineck, Fort Atkinson and Dale Schroeder, Reedsburg, Guards: Rudy Van Fleet, Viola, John Andrews, Mazomanie and Bob Borne, Prairie du Chien.

STEVENS POINT Season Opener At St. Norberts Dec. 1st

Heading the list of six lettermen returning to Coach Hale Quandt's Pointer quintet is Chet Polka who led the Pointers in scoring last year. Six lettermen departed via graduation and one other joined up with Uncle Sam. Returning lettermen: Forwards: Phil Jones, Elkhorn and Fred Schade-wald, Stevens Point. Guards: Ray Anderson, White Lake, Chet Polka, Mosinee and Walter Samelstat, Park Falls. Center: William Wagner, Marshfield.

The Girl Friend: "I hope you don't mind how I look. I was in such a hurry I just threw myself together."
The Boy Friend: "That's all right. Everything sure landed in the right places."

SIX BLUEDEVILS NAMED AS ALL-CONFERENCE

Markley, Krall, Widmar, Nessler, Christopherson, And Turk Are Selected

Six members of the 1951 Stout Institute Blue Devils football squad received all-conference honors at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin State colleges which was recently held in Minneapolis.

The Blue Devils who were named to the all-conference offensive team were Karl Turk, guard, and Herb Markley, end. Karl is a 175 pound junior from Aurora, Minnesota, who has played with the Blue Devils three years. Herb is also a junior hailing from Bruce, Wisconsin. He has held down the end position for three years. Herb received the honor of being the second highest scoring man in the conference this year.

Jerry Krall, guard; John Widmar, tackle; Bob Nessler, back; and Paul Christopherson, halfback, were named to the all-conference defensive team. Jerry Krall, 5'11", 180 pound guard, hails from Mt. Iron, Minnesota, and has been with the Stout team for two years. John Widmar, a six foot, 225 pound tackle, is a sophomore who comes from Crosby, Minnesota. John has been playing with the team for two years. He is 5'9" and weighs 159 pounds. Paul Christopherson, 5'10", 160 pound halfback from Marinette, donned the Blue and White for the second year this past season.

Gale Woelffer, offensive quarterback, and John Debrauske, defensive end, were named to the all-conference honorable mention squad. Gale is a senior this year and hails from Stevens Point. He has played four years in the offensive quarterback position. During the past seasons he has figured in many brilliant passing, as well as running, plays. Gale was injured early in the season and was forced to play less this year.

John Debrauske is also a senior and hails from Sheboygan. He is 6'3" in height and tips the scales at 195 lbs. He has played with the Blue Devils four seasons.

WAA DECEMBER SPORT TO BE BASKETBALL

Girls' basketball has begun at The Stout Institute this week. The WAA December sport is good old basketball and the girls are out to enjoy it.

The first games were played on Monday and Tuesday nights. Many of the girls are rusty in the sport at present but in a couple of weeks much improvement should be shown in the games.

Mary Ellen Orme is being kept busy with the job of sports head, referee, and general basketball promoter. She keeps the girls on their toes as far as the rules are concerned, too.

Just watch this paper for the results of some of these games.

LOCAL BARBER SAVES CLIPPINGS SINCE 1907

Have you wondered how Stout has fared in basketball? Do you know how many Championship teams Stout has had? Maybe you have wondered about the Coaches that have been here throughout the years.

If you watch the sports page during the basketball season maybe your questions will be answered.

From a local barber, C.W. Nesser who has clippings of all Stout Athletic events since 1907, we have dug up the history of Stout basketball which will be presented during the year.

"TONY STORTI SHOW" SLATED FOR WMNE

The latest developments and timely comment on happenings in the world of sports are provided each Sunday afternoon over WMNE on the "Tony Storti Show."

During the 15 minute program which starts at 3:45, the Stout football coach brings to sports fans in this area a hardhitting account of the current developments in both local and national sports events.

Though the program is strictly a one-man show, Storti will from time to time interview local coaches and other personalities in western Wisconsin sports.

A sustaining program, the "Tony Storti Show" opened last Sunday and will continue indefinitely.

HOWARD DAVIS LECTURES AT CONVOCATION

Dr. Howard Pierce Davis, in his lecture on The Political Alternative in convocation on Wednesday, December 12, stated that we are in an era of trying to be realistic. His definition of this is as follows: "A great many people trying to outdo each other in being realistic." A realist is a person who knows where he is, how he got there, if the place is healthy and if not, how to get away from it to some place where it is healthy to be.

The world is in a sad plight, especially when held against the picture of the situation at the turn of the century and when held against the picture of the high hopes everyone had at the end of the two world wars.

Dr. Davis stated that while all the world is covered with tension spots Korea must be talked about and some reason given for it, as people turn against the situation when it is going badly.

When, in 1931, Japan invaded Manchuria and nothing was done about it, it set a precedent for other acts of aggression. This act was followed by Italy and Ethiopia, and Germany and Poland, and we were plunged into World War II. Last June upon the invasion of Korea, it was decided by the United Nations to intervene. The United Nations then took over. It is a U.N. project, with soldiers of 17 nations and people of 28 nations co-operating. This is to stop a repeat of the 1931 Manchurian act.

Continuing, Dr. Davis said that we got into this period of tension and confusion in two ways; we stumbled into it and by violations of moral law. That the people of the world are no "reservoirs of good will but cesspools of suspicion" that a person does not break the moral law but breaks himself upon it.

SANTA CLAUS TO STOP '400' AT JUNCTION

The "400" will make its annual stop at the Menomonie Junction for Stout students who are going home for Christmas.

The east bound "400" will leave the Menomonie Junction at 1:31 p.m. on December 21, and the west bound "400" will arrive at 8:09 p.m. on January 6.

The City Bus Line will transport passengers to and from the Junction.

Students who plan to ride on the "400" are urged to buy their tickets at the City Depot to avoid possibility of being unable to purchase them at the Junction due to the shortage of time.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE AT WORK ON SSA PARTY

On Wednesday, December 5, at four p.m. John Christensen, SSA Vice President, called together a meeting of the Vice Presidents from all of the organizations on the Stout campus. The group met in Room 122 of the home economics building.

The main item on the agenda was the coming SSA Christmas Party. Several committees for the party were selected and are as follows: John Klusek, chairman of Santa's gifts, Van Cartwright and Charles Schiferl, co-chairman of clean-up, Bob Spinti, chairman of decorations, Katie Ziehm, chairman of punch, and the girls dormitories are to furnish some musical entertainment.

After that a discussion was held concerning the social life at Stout or the lack of it.

The group will meet again the following Wednesday.

JACK LUY STARS IN NEW PUBLICITY BOOK

The Stout Institute is producing a pictorial story of a boy who attends Stout. The forty-page booklet is the story of a typical Stout student and it follows him from registration in his freshmen year through the important events of the next four years and graduation. This bulletin, the first attempt along this line, will be used to answer questions of prospective students.

Jack Luy, the main character, is supported by Bob Spinti, Fred Bahr, and other student and faculty members. Pictures for the bulletin are being taken by Bill Wensel and Tom Van Devanter, under the direction of the audio-visual department. The cover is a beautiful four-color picture of the school reproduced from a pastel drawing by Ray Cornwell; and construction is being done by the printing department.

About eighty of the pictures have been taken and, if nothing interrupts the schedule, the rest are expected to be completed by December 15.

Jack Luy's black eye disrupted it once. The photographers attempted to cover the "shiner" with eraser chalk, but it still showed through. If everything goes well the bulletin should be ready for printing in February.

Santa To Visit Stout Tonight At All-School Christmas Party

Tonight Christmas will be celebrated in the Stout way at the all-school party sponsored by the SSA. There will be dancing from 8:30 to 11:30 to the music of George Soderberg's Royal Blackhaws.

During intermission, if we've all been real good, Santa Claus will honor us with one of his pre-Christmas visits. Santa is bringing with him appropriate gifts for deserving persons. After distributing his gifts he will lead everyone in community singing.

The sophomores are trimming the gym for this event to the theme of "Twas the Night Before Christmas". The seniors have the most distasteful job, for their lot is to clean up afterward. Representatives from each of the dormitories got together to produce some entertainment. Arrangements aren't completed yet, but they are planning something very novel.

Oh, yes, best of all, the whole party is free, and what's more there's free punch, too. So, everybody grab your hat, get out your best Christmas spirit, and bring your girl friend or boy friend and have a big time at the SSA Christmas party.

APO MEMBERS TRAVEL TO NATIONAL MEET

The Alpha Phi Omega's sectional conference, held at Peoria, Illinois was attended by three representatives of Stout's Eta Kappa Chapter. The conference was held on December 1 and 2. It opened Saturday afternoon at 2:00 and Stout's representatives, Dean Merle Price, Robert Adkins, and August Bell, took part in discussion groups; talking over organizations and problems with other chapter representatives. Saturday's activities closed with a successful banquet. Sunday's session was a review of the previous day's reports, a dinner, and a closing meeting.

Stout's representatives traveled by car to Peoria with three members of Eau Claire State Teachers College chapter of Alpha Phi Omega.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity composed of Scouters and former Boy Scouts who see the need for service activities and wish to continue their college life along Scouting's high principles.

HOME EC. CLUB TEA IN HARVEY DECEMBER 19

Everyone is cordially invited to the annual Home Economics Club Christmas Tea, which will be held in the Harvey Memorial between 3:30 and 5:30 on Wednesday, December 19.

Each year the Home Economics Club sponsors this tea for the entire student body, faculty members, and other persons connected with Stout. Amid the cheery holiday decorations and gay Christmas music everyone gathers to exchange the happiest of seasons greetings. Oh yes, and we can't forget the delicious holiday cookies and beverages.

We hope to see you there next Wednesday afternoon.

DR. ANDERSON HAS ARTICLE IN JOURNAL

Have you noticed the article on pages forty-eight and forty-nine of the American School Board Journal? If not, you will be interested to know that it was written by one of our own professors, Dr. Stuart Anderson, associate professor of Education in the division of graduate studies.

The article was written about one of the administration problems of the industrial arts program, concerning the payment for materials used by the students in shop courses. It presented the prevailing practices in charging pupils for materials used in shop courses, as revealed by a sampling of teachers in Wisconsin.

Dr. Anderson found that all but one high school in the group charged for the materials used. In most of these the fees were made on the basis of materials used, in the rest there was either a flat fee or a combination of the two methods.

It was also found that nearly half of the teachers collected when the objects were completed, and the rest have either devised some other plan or else they collect the flat fee at the beginning of the course.

The average charge made was $2.00 a semester. This amount was determined from charges listed for 138 shop courses. These charges depended on the course taken, and the different shops. On the average, printing was the least expensive shop and cabinet making the most expensive course to take.

FOUR CHOIRS JOIN IN XMAS CONCERT SUNDAY

Four choirs of Our Savior's Lutheran church will join in the presentation of two identical public concerts Sunday, December 16, at 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. Besides the choirs, several smaller groups, such as the junior girls sextet, the senior choir ladies' sextet, the youth male quartet, and two groups of the Madrigal singers will participate.

Many of the Stout students are in the Senior choir directed by Mrs. E.T. Boe. This concert has become known for its moving Christmas message and will provide a wonderful setting for this Christmas season.

GUESTS TO BE PRESENT AT DORMITORY PARTY

President Fryklund and Dr. and Mrs. Iverson will be honored guests of the girls of the dorms on the evening of December 20. The evenings festivities will start with cocktails served in the living room of Tainter Hall. These will be followed by the regular annual dinner.

After dinner the girls will each go to their respective dorm where they will have their dorm parties. These will consist of entertainment, an exchange of gifts, and refreshments. At 10:00 the girls from Eichelberger and Tainter Hall will gather in the Tainter Annex Court where they will sing Christmas carols until 10:25. They will return to their respective dorms to anxiously await the dawning of the day.

SYMPHONICS CONCERT TUES. FOR STUDENTS

The Stout Symphonic Singers will present an annual Christmas concert for the Stout students at a special assembly on Tuesday, December 18, at 11:00 a.m.

The concert should be especially interesting to the students this year because the choir is featuring five sections of the original "Nutcracker Suite" by Tchaikowsky.

The suite starts with a lively overture as a curtain-raiser on four scenes from fairyland. The first is the sprightly "Dance of the Sugar Plum"; then the brilliant, exciting dance, "Trepak." Next on stage is the gay and colorful "Dance of the Toy Flutes." The final scene depicts a troupe of flowers—magnolias, lilies, daffodils, and violets in the merry, swirling "Waltz of the Flowers."

10th GRADE CLASS VISITS AREA HOMES

The 10th grade Homemaking class is studying a unit on House Furnishings in which they have studied first hand the traditional styles of architecture in local houses, and learned to recognize some of the most common adaptations of period furniture.

Interesting field trips included an inspection of one of the Federal Housing Units in North Menomonie, a hike over town in which many characteristics of traditional styles of architecture were identified and a visit to the home of Mrs. Wm. Baker to see the many pieces of beautiful period furniture she has.

CHRISTMAS VACATION TO BEGIN DECEMBER 21

Christmas vacation will begin at noon on Friday, Dec. 21. Classes will resume again on Monday morning, Jan. 7. We realize that we will all be anxious to "get rolling" on Friday and perhaps a bit weary on Monday morning, but let's not forget that both of these days are "no cut" days. I think that we all know what that means by this time. Let's all come back refreshed and invigorated?

Two Girls Attend 4-H Congress in Chicago

Carol Bredlow and Joanne Peterson are shown looking over some of the material obtained while at the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago Nov. 25-29. Over 1500 attended this Congress.

TWO FRESHMEN GIRLS ATTEND 4-H CONGRESS

Carol Bredlow And Joanne Peterson Win Trips For Outstanding Work

Two of our fellow students were fortunate enough to win trips to the National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago from November 25 through 29. Carol Bredlow and Joanne Peterson, both Freshmen, had the honor of meeting for a week with about 1500 other 4-H members from all over the United States. The girls said that they couldn't possibly describe it sufficiently. They both felt that meeting young people from all over the United States was the most impressive experience they had at the gathering.

Carol won her trip for outstanding work in junior leadership. She won the county award and then won first in the state for which she received a gold wristwatch. Then she was considered for the sectional and was one of eight in the United States who won trips for junior leadership. Other projects she carried this year are foods and nutrition, and clothing and home improvement.

Carol says the thing she remembers most from the sessions is a panel discussion on life in foreign lands. The members of the panel were a boy from Denmark, a girl from England, and four exchange students who had been to other countries.

Joanne had the honor of building a booth, together with another girl from Wisconsin and four others from two different states. The booth, 100 feet long, was on the meaning of the 4-H's and gave any information desired about the organization of 4-H clubs. Joanne remembers most a discussion at the final assembly on the year's "Working Together for World Understanding."

The girls have had a wonderful experience which they will never forget.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Wednesday morning the assembly-lyceum committee distributed a question form to the students asking them to rate the program planned by the committee. In our opinion this is a good practice. The committee will find out the type of convocations preferred by the students and will help them plan the programs for next year.

On the other hand, the students must be honest in filling out these forms. They must realize that the purpose of convocations planned by the assembly-lyceum committee is not entirely entertainment. We are supposed to be maturing and with maturity comes responsibility. We must have a background of the important happenings in the world so we can better understand them. In this way we will become better citizens of our cities and our country.

The assembly-lyceum committee has a difficult task in picking speakers or programs that will interest the large majority of the students most of the time. If you have ever tried to interest a class of say 16 or 17 in the same program you know the problems which arise when trying to please 700 students. The committee has done a commendable job so far this year, and we as students can do much to help them by expressing our opinions. They are planning next year's program now so let them know what you think will be interesting to many of the students.

SSA MESSAGE

No doubt everyone is thinking about Christmas vacation. Just one more week to go, and then a nice long rest until January 7. Gee, that sure does sound wonderful.

Tonight we can all get in the Christmas spirit by attending the SSA Christmas dance. You had better be good for Santa Claus is going to honor us with his presence. I hear he has some gifts to hand out, and they should prove to be very interesting.

Saturday night our basketball team tangles with La Crosse. We sure wish them loads of luck. Tuesday at eleven we hear the annual Christmas concert and in the afternoon we can all attend the Home Economics Club Christmas Tea in the Harvey.

This last week before vacation is going to be a very busy one so we had all better be on our toes. Don't forget about school work, but have fun.

Your SSA Officers,
Rowena, Charlie,
John, Louie

KEYHOLE

Hi Kids,

By this time most of us should have settled down to the grim realities of school life after the magic of the Interschool ball, "Melody in Mistletoe." Everyone seemed to be having such a wonderful time.

Although the illumination wasn't too distinct we did manage to see a few couples through our starry eye.

Some of the couples there were Joyce DeVries and Corky Collette, Joan Braun and "Snuffy" Smith, Gerry Erickson and Dave Bieniasz, Jeanette Oetting and Don Seaberg, Joyce Appelgren and Joe Stebly, Mary Lou Bohrnstedt and John Widmar, and Betty Kleist and Francis Oberpriller.

Some of the married couples there were Mr. and Mrs. Burt Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Ryder, and Mr. and Mrs. John Cook.

Nadine Brown, Charlie Schiferl, Rowena Christen and Chuck Jorgenson were invited to the Ryder's after the ball. We heard that Chuck was out chopping Christmas trees in his tux.

We heard the tree made a pretty decoration for the P.A. Christmas party Monday evening. Wonder why Dorie Beyer refused to wear her present home as the advisor suggested.

Some of the girls imported their "special" dates for the dance. Ann Rossmiller and Carolyn Schauf were happily engrossed with their fellows from the U. of Wisconsin. Jean Parsons, Jeanette Smith, and Dot Krushas also had their specials here.

Other couples dancing under the mistletoe were Dorie Beyer and Fred Fischer, Fran Soulek and Herb Markley, Grace Laudon and Bob Nessler, Pat Pagel and Harter Peterson, "Boots" Subitch and John Houle, Char Winslow and Tom Williams.

Liz Kasson's fiancé was driving up for the dance from Indianapolis, Ind. He made it here about 12 p.m. so they missed the dance but they were both happy to be together. Liz plans to join him in Waukegan this week end.

Jan Waseen is one of the happiest girls at Stout this week. Larry Johnson, her one and only, just got home on a leave from the Navy Sunday night.

That's about all for now, but we'll be seeing you tonight at the all-school Christmas party in the gym. Don't miss it; sounds like a lot of fun.

Faithfully yours,
Key and Hole.

YWCA IS BUSY WITH CHRISTMAS WORK

The Y.W.C.A. has a busy two weeks before vacation. They are currently sponsoring the sending of a Christmas box to the Sparta orphanage. The dates that the box will be packed will be announced on the bulletin board.

On Tuesday, December 18, the Y.W.C.A. is having a Christmas vesper service in the Harvey. All Stout students are welcome to attend.

By the way, have you noticed the two large Christmas trees in the main hall? The "Y" girls decorated them Tuesday night. Nice work!

EPT TO HOLD PARTY AT METHODIST CHURCH

Theta Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau will hold its annual Christmas party on December 17 at 5:45 p.m. in the Centenary Methodist Church basement, corner of 6th and Wilson streets.

The plans for the party have been completed by the committee consisting of Neil Maxa, Gerald Holman, Walter Parsek, Robert Vilman, John Wilson, and James Zeasman.

The dinner will consist of turkey with all the trimmings. Following the dinner there will be singing and games.

HYPs TO WEAR YELLOW LETTER SWEATERS

The flashy yellow cardigan sweaters with the black Greek letters, are the official garb of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority commonly known on the Stout campus as the Hyperians.

Each girl will be wearing her yellow letter sweater on the Thursday's that the sorority will hold their meeting.

Miss Clara Carrison is the Eta Sigma Omega advisor.

PHILO XMAS SALE BEGINS DECEMBER 16

Only eight more shopping days until Christmas! Only eight more days to send those Christmas cards to far away friends!

Are you all scratching your heads and wondering when you'll ever, ever find the time to shop for Mom, Dad, Sister, and Brother? Are you wishing that you could get to the Cities to purchase some of those shiny, bright, and cute Christmas cards that you've seen advertised?

Ah, yes, there are problems, problems, dozens of little Christmas problems!

But wait! Don't give up now! I'll let you in on some good news -- be sure to tell your friends about it, too!

The Philos have decided to help you with that last minute Christmas shopping. Instead of your tramping the streets of Menomonie or St. Paul, they have brought the things you'll see there right into the main corridor of The Stout Institute. Think of it -- all you'll have to do is to walk up to the table where a Philo member will be happily waiting to help you choose from among the wonderful display of shiny Christmas cards, and hand-painted ones, and such cute and colorful wrapping paper and ribbon -- and all at wonderfully low prices! Has Mom always wanted a frilly organdy apron to wear when she entertains her bridge club; and how little sister or brother or niece or nephew will hug and love the cuddly little animals. Did I hear some one say they have too many toys now? Well, in that case your problem is still solved -- look over the wonderful display of play clothes and sweaters and dresses for the toddlers.

So, come one and come all to the big and wonderful Philo Christmas Sale which starts December 16th! You'll be glad you did when you see the wonderful bargains!

P.S. You'll not only save more time to get in those last minute projects before semesters; you'll also save on shoe leather!

These groundless rumors -- cover a lot of ground.

INTERESTING FACTS OF OUR REGISTRATION

Have you ever wondered how many of Stout's total enrollment this year are natives of this state? Upon examination, we find that the students from Wisconsin are in the majority by a large margin. There are 580 Wisconsin students attending Stout out of the total enrollment of 735, leaving only 155 out-of-state students. The largest number of the out-of-state students comes from Minnesota. Michigan follows with 16 students and Illinois with 11.

Stout also has representatives from the following 13 states: California, Indiana, Washington, Maryland, Ohio, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, West Virginia, New York, South Dakota, North Dakota, and Montana.

The student who is the farthest from home is Hilario Nundas, a graduate student from the Philippine Islands. This year at Stout we find Alaska represented by Donald Steele, a freshman from Seward.

It is also interesting to note that Stout has married students although there are only five couples attending school together. According to the student directory, we find they are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baehm, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ryder and Mr. and Mrs. John Cook.

NEW BOOKS ARE ADDED TO THE STOUT LIBRARY

Among the new books in our library are three interesting accounts of George Washington all of which are based on reliable sources.

George Washington and American Independence, by Curtis P. Nettels, is an account of the colonists' attitude toward England's aggressiveness immediately preceding the Revolutionary War. The book shows how Washington influenced the political and military character of the period from the beginning of the American Revolution to the Declaration of Independence. The author, a professor of history at Cornell University, has made the book a readable but still authentic history.

The Private Life of George Washington by Francis R. Bellamy, is not a debunking story for scandal lovers. It is a complete account of Washington's life right to his last breath, and is based on Washington's own letters and on other reliable sources. The book presents his motives and feelings and makes us realize that he was a very human man rather than the austere gentleman most of us picture him to have been.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR LSA, WESLEY, CONGO

A Christmas Party was held at the Congregational Church for the LSA, Wesley, and Congo groups Sunday, December 9, at 5 o'clock.

The party started with supper which was eaten by candlelight. The menu was: scalloped potatoes and ham, corn, gelatin salad, ice cream and milk.

The worship service was conducted by the LSA group under the leadership of Joanne Buboltz.

Recreation was under the leadership of Jan Benedict from the Wesley group. Jan had some very clever games and stunts.

The meeting ended with the singing of Christmas songs.

WAA TO CAROL MONDAY DEC. 17

The monthly meeting of the WAA was held at 7:15 p.m. on Monday, December 10, in the clubroom.

A report was given by the three members of the organization who attended the convention at La Crosse on November 16.

It was decided that the organization would go Christmas caroling on Monday night, Dec. 17. Refreshments will be served after the hike to members who participate.

Deck Tennis Play-Off

The play-off from the deck tennis was played after the WAA meeting. Teams II and IV played. Members of Team II are: Margie Fitzgerald, Bernice Gunderman, Val Bloom, Catherine Magee, Marlys Larrabee and Dorothy Hilton. Winners of the play-off were the members of Team IV: Carol Bredlow, Jody Bain, Myla Bock, Deanne Krueger, Arlene Chapman, Kay Wedin. Congratulations girls!

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS PARTY DECEMBER 16

The Newman Club is planning a Christmas Party to be held Sunday evening, Dec. 16, in the St. Joseph's School Auditorium.

Mary Ann Smith is general chairman of the party with Mary Ann Heimerman as co-chairman.

Those in charge of decorations are Chuck Weber, Barney Syer, Joe Stebly and John Jacobson, while those on the entertainment committee are Jo Gritt, Ed Prah, and Carol Tickler.

The group will be served a lunch afterward which will be prepared by Marge Fitzgerald, Pat Pagel, and Bernice Gunderman.

KFS COMPLETES PLANS FOR NEWSLETTER

The newly appointed Publicity Bureau of the Kappa Phi Sigma has completed its first step toward the issuance of the yearly newsletter.

The committee has sent out a short letter informing each alumni member of the newsletters plans with a request for information to be published. Alumni members not receiving such a letter are urged to forward any and all news to: Howard Vetter, Lynwood Hall, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

The newsletter committee has established as a goal the compiling of an immense twenty-five page newsletter with approximately fifteen pages being devoted to alumni news.

Another project recently completed was the revising and revamping of the alumni roster. This was carried out under the direction of James Cook.

Arrangements have been made for the Orchid Dance on January 26th presenting such a gigantic bargain that all other previous bargains will be dwarfed in comparison. More information on this matter will be forthcoming.

PA-CHRISTMAS PARTY HELD IN TEA ROOM

On Monday night, December 10th, the Pallas Athenes met for a six o'clock supper in the tearoom. After the meal, their annual Christmas party was held. Rowena Christen and Jan Benedict were in charge of the event.

The room was decorated with miniature Christmas trees to bring out the Christmas spirit. The girls all drew names, and an exchange of gifts was featured. The rest of the evening was spent singing Christmas carols and reading a Christmas story.

Mrs. LaPoint sent her Christmas greetings to the girls as she was unable to attend the party.

HYPs AT WORK ON TOY PROJECT FOR CHILDREN

Amid the hum, hum of sewing machines, the members of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority created elephants, dogs, cats, turtles, and bunny stuffed toys. This is one of the sorority's main social projects for the year.

The girls held a work meeting in the sewing laboratory on second floor of the home economics building.

June Keefer is the chairman for this years Christmas toy project. She will send the toys to the Children's Home at Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin.

BLUE DEVILS TO MEET LA CROSSE TOMORROW

Coach Johnson's Squad In Hard Practices As First Conference Game Looms

Saturday night Stout plays host to a strong La Crosse team in its conference opener. Although La Crosse has lost two of its three non-conference games they are figured to be tough. They have eight lettermen back from last year's squad.

Thus far this year they have lost to St. Norberts and Ripon. That means little, because those two teams are beating just about every team they play. Even in getting beat La Crosse has been averaging 73 points a game.

A tough break hurt Stout chances when all three of the Blue Devils out for guard position were forced to drop out of the squad. Ed Fandry left school, and Glenn Tobias, another freshman, dislocated his shoulder in the St. John's game last week. Then veteran Blue Devil hard courtier Hilary Janikowski sprained a muscle badly in the second tilt with Saint Mary's and is not expected to be able to return to action until the end of the semester at least, and by then he will have graduated. Coach Johnson has been breaking several newcomers in at the guard slots in anticipation of this big conference opener.

Looking down through the records of past years Stout-La Crosse series, it seems we fared little better against the Indians in basketball than we did in football.

Total it up and you will get 11 wins against 37 losses for Stout. Only twice has Stout been able to sweep the year's series, once in 1943 and again in 1947. Lets all get out there Saturday and see if we can help the boys dump La Crosse.

Sports Rundup

Well, here it is basketball season again, almost before we realized it. The Blue Devils have got a rough season ahead of them in the conference which is tougher than it has been for many years. Blue Devil hopes are slim for conference aspirations in a league which should show a sharp cleavage between very good first division teams and teams which are good, but hardly in the same class as the power laden top four or five.

All four of the teams slated for the top, Whitewater, Eau Claire, La Crosse, and Superior, are loaded with veteran material and should be fighting it out between themselves for top loop slots. Platteville, who will play the only 11 game card this year should manage to stick right up there too, by virtue more of their avoiding too many meetings with strong northern teams than through having a particular powerhouse themselves.

Among those four teams generally slated for conference top, Superior is at present the one to watch. Most sports authorities figure them for third or fourth, but with big guns Walker and Whittier back, they might go lots further than expected. For those of you who are looking for teams that might upset all the calculators and really get red hot, watch the River Falls Falcons. With a new coach and high scorer Roger Kuss back for more points, those boys just might go hog wild and run right up to the top.

But with conference play opening tonight, with Stevens Point playing host to Oshkosh, that time of the year has come again when sports writers go out on a limb and predict conference standings for the end of the season. This reporter is not immune to the disease, so here is my theory on conference standings as they will look when play ends next March:

Whitewater	12	0
Eau Claire	11	1
Superior	9	3
La Crosse	7	5
Platteville	7	4
Stevens Point	5	7
River Falls	5	7
Milwaukee	3	9
Stout	1	11
Oshkosh	0	12

This might seem a bit brutal towards dear old Stout, but a fair and impartial examination of the statistics show that it is hard to hope for much more. The Oshkosh Titans, who lost all but four of last year's players, all of whom are sophomores now, should provide the only sure win for the Blue Devils this year. Stout came within three points of beating the Titans last year when they took sixth place. Stout games to see will be the one against Milwaukee, where coach Johnson's boys might pull an upset, and the Stevens Point tussle, which might also turn into a Stout victory.

On the top end of the prediction, Whitewater has got a real powerhouse back, having lost only two of their lettermen from the squad which tied for second place last year. Eau Claire also has most of their big guns back, and could well take the loop top but for their one game with Whitewater, which to me looks just a little bit stronger. Superior and La Crosse are both strong and might well upset these figures too.

14 BLUE DEVILS RECEIVE FIRST VARSITY "S"

Fourteen members of the Stout Blue Devil football squad received their "S" letters for the first time.

The freshmen letter winners are: Bob Roloff from Wausau; Myron Sheban, Cudahy; Dick Wagner, Thorp; Al Wegner, Sheboygan; Clarence Lamers, Kaukauna; Bob Moe, Chetek; Bob Schmidt, Menasha; Art Goglin, Sun Prairie; and Ed Wiklie, from Chippewa Falls.

The sophomore letter winners are: George Van Buran from Superior; Paul Christopherson, Marinette; and Jerry Henderson from Glenwood City.

The junior letter winners are: Cornelius Mahoney, from Rochester, Minnesota; and assistant student manager, August Schultz who hails from Oshkosh.

The veteran letter winners who also received their letters this year include: seniors, John Debrauske, who hails from Sheboygan, and Gale Woelfler, who hails from Stevens Point, and head manager, Wally Christensen, Neenah.

Juniors, Herb Markley, who hails from Bruce, Ronald "Red" Walker from Durand, George Krall, Mt. Iron Minnesota; Bill Keefe, Hastings, Minnesota; T. Hein, Marshfield; K Turk Aurora, Minnesota, Louis Lausted, Cofax, and Willis Bogenhagen, Sheboygan.

Sophomores: Wayne Weiler, Marshfield; Mark Reimers, Menomonie; John Widmark, Crosby, Minnesota; Al Hoppe, Wausau, Joe Stebly, Milwaukee, and Jerry Krall, Mt. Iron, Minnesota.

Players who received numerals this year are: Lyle Root, Siren, Wisconsin; Neil Hoepfner, West Allis; Gary Buback, Chippewa Falls, Gene Feuling, Sun Prairie, Ronald Wilhelm, Piquette, Illinois; Richard Kassel, Hastings, Minnesota; Don Beran, Comstock, Milan Loch, Mashwaak, Minnesota; Lloyd Woodmansee, New Auburn, and Allan Loew, Rice Lake, Lawrence Styer, trainer from Menomonie, and Gino Casucci, manager from Beloit.

CONFERENCE CHANGES BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Since the Stout basketball schedules have been published, the Wisconsin State College conference has affected a slight change in the scheduling of some games so as to avoid unnecessary conflict with test weeks in the various schools.

This general change moves ahead by one week the traveling to the north of most of the southern schools. The only place this will affect Stout's schedule is in the game with Whitewater. This game will be moved up from January 21st at Stout to January 14th at Stout.

Alcohol will preserve everything but secrets.

BLUE DEVILS TO PLAY N. MICH. HERE MONDAY

On December 17th Coach Ray C. Johnson's fighting Blue Devils will meet the Wildcats of Northern Michigan College of Education from Marquette, Michigan. The game will be played, starting at 8:00, in the Menomonic high school gymnasium.

The Green and Gold of Northern Michigan, co-champs in their league last year, are strong as ever this season. Returning letter winners are big George McCormick, pepper-box Jack Schills and the two gold-dust twins, the Taccolini brothers. "Tac" and "Lini" better known as Fred and Louie Taccolini, developed into a combination with burning speed and scoring punch last year, and should give the Blue Devils a real run for their money when the two teams meet on the seventeenth for the first time in several years. McCormick and Schills are finishing their fourth season on the Cat Squad, and in preliminary games this season have shown promise of being able to team up with their team-mates to give the Wildcats a real scoring punch.

Probable starters for the Wildcats, says CV Money, their coach, will be the Taccolinis at forward, McCormick at center, and Schills and Brigran at the guards. Brigran, a sophomore letter winner at the Michigan school last year, has stepped up to take the only place left open by graduation on the five.

Census-Taker: "How many people work here?"

Office Boy: "About one out of every ten."

Is There A Santa Claus?

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among our friends.

DEAR EDITOR:

I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says if you see it in the newspaper it is so. Please tell me the truth. Is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon

VIRGINIA:

Your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence.

We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies. You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God! He lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Note: The foregoing, reprinted from the New York Sun of September 21, 1897. It was written by F. P. Church, but his identity was not disclosed until after his death in 1906. It has probably been reprinted as the classic expression of Christmas sentiment, more millions of times than any other newspaper article ever written.

"PAPA IS ALL" TO BE HERE JANUARY 11

University Theatre To Bring Famous Pennsylvania Dutch Play To Stout Auditorium

The University of Minnesota Theatre-on-Tour will present Patterson Greene's comedy, "Papa Is All," Friday, January 11 at the Stout auditorium as the third lyceum program for this year.

"Papa Is All" is produced by the University Theatre and staged by Dr. Frank M. Whiting, Director of the theatre. The cast is composed of outstanding graduates of the theatre and the tour is directed by the University of Minnesota Department of Concerts and Lectures.

An unusual comedy with a unique plot, the play is based on a background of Mennonite manners. The title, "Papa Is All," means, in the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect, "Papa is dead," and the fun of this agreeably disrespectful fable lies in the fact that the audience delights with his family when the ogre is undone.

Papa is a tyrant, ugly tempered and brandishing a whip. He has religious scruples against machinery, motion pictures, and conveniences or pleasures of any kind. But his son and daughter suspect that his scruples are merely a way of keeping them on the farm as forced slave labor, and his wife is inclined to agree with her children. No one has any use for Papa. And so his death turns into a gay romp. The audience thrills with Mama and the children as they talk into their hard won telephone and listen with shivers of delight to their new doorbell. But this is only the beginning of a comedy which has many more laughs and surprises.

In addition to the unique plot and some charming characters, much of the fun in the play comes from the preposterous turns of the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect.

JAPANESE EDUCATORS VISIT HERE

Several Japanese educators visited The Stout Institute last month during which time the picture below was taken.

Mr. Haruo Takechi, Principal, Tokyo Metropolitan Commercial Secondary School, and Mr. Yoshio Kobayashi, Supervisor of Vocational Guidance, Osaka Prefecture, arrived at The Stout Institute on November 5th, and remained on the campus through November 16th.

Mr. Gore Fujishima, Superintendent of Education, Shimane Prefecture, and Mr. Itsuo Kagami, Supervisor of Agricultural Education, Yamagata Prefecture, were at Stout from November 12 to November 16. A Japanese prefecture is similar to a state in the United States.

Pictured above with Dr. Verne C. Fryklund are the following Japanese educators who visited this school a short time ago. Shown left to right are: Mr. Haruo Takechi, Mr. Yoshio Kobayashi, President Fryklund, Mr. Itsuo Kagami, and Mr. Gore Fujishima.

SEVEN IE MEN ARE TEACHING OFF - CAMPUS

Mr. Chinnoek, director of student teachers, Industrial Education Division, has announced the names of seven I. E. students who are doing off campus cadet teaching.

Don Landsverk is teaching at New Richmond High School.

La Crosse Central High School has had five Stout fellows doing student teaching on its campus. Dick Van Duzee, Kenneth Arnetveit, and Ray Stasieluk are teaching woodworking. Drawing classes are being taught by is teaching classes in metal work.

La Crosse Logan High School is Donald Plale, while John Steinmetz the school at which John Meyers has done his off campus teaching. John taught classes in woodworking.

At present there are not any girls doing off campus cadet teaching.

SANTA CLAUS TO STOP "400" AT JUNCTION

The "400" will make its annual stop at the Menomonie Junction for Stout students who are going home for Christmas.

The east bound "400" will leave the Menomonie Junction at 1:31 p.m. on December 21, and the west bound "400" will arrive at 8:09 p.m. on January 6.

The City Bus Line will transport passengers to and from the Junction. Students who plan to ride on the "400" are urged to buy their tickets at the City Depot to avoid possibility of being unable to purchase them at the Junction due to the shortage of time.

NON-RESIDENT TUITION

Non-resident tuition is to remain at $100.00 per semester. Contrary to rumors, no increase is contemplated.

GUIDANCE CONFERENCE TO BE CONDUCTED HERE

Noted Specialists To Be

Here January 9 To Discuss Prominent Problems

A Guidance Conference will be held at The Stout Institute Wednesday, January 9, 1952, according to information released recently.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. with the general session beginning at 9:30. Dean Clyde A. Bowman will preside at this session, and President Verne C. Fryklund will present the welcome.

After President Fryklund's welcome, Dr. Clifford P. Froehlich will speak on "The Organization and Administration of Counseling Programs in Secondary Schools." Dr. Froehlich is a specialist for training guidance personnel with the United States office of education, Washington, D. C. After his speech there will be questions and contributions by the conferees.

Another general session is planned at 11:15 with Dr. E. R. Oetting, head of the department of Psychology and Education, presiding. "What constitutes an adequate testing program and how much does it cost?" will be discussed by Mr. Arthur Larsen, counselor, schools of Vocational and Adult education, Sheboygan.

A 12:30 luncheon is planned, and a brief business session will occur at the luncheon to decide if guidance conferences are to be continued in the future. If those in attendance desire another meeting next year, an advertisement will be placed in the Stoutonia.

CHRISTA SENDS XMAS WISHES FROM GERMANY

(Editor's note: Christa Erwin, one of the German girls who were at Stout last year, has asked the Stoutonia staff to relay this Christmas greeting from her to the entire student body.)

"I want to wish a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all the members of the faculty and to all the students of The Stout Institute. Sending you lots of greetings and wishes for your happiness from Germany, I am always your Christa.

SEMESTER GRAD PLACEMENTS RELEASED

Miss Gertrude O'Brien, registrar, has announced the names of several semester graduates who have obtained positions which they will fill in a short time.

Eleanor Ushijima will be returning to her home in Hilo, Hawaii, where she will serve as an assistant hospital dietitian.

Three girls will be teaching home economics. Lavern Ablard Senn will be teaching at Wabeno, Wisconsin, while Natalie Gehri Stapleton will be teaching at Port Edwards, Wisconsin. Eau Claire senior high school will have Dorothy Krushas added to its faculty.

Kathleen Welch Heller will continue here at Stout as a post graduate student, taking required education courses.

Two industrial education graduates will assume teaching positions upon graduating at the semester. They are Bruce Arntson who will teach industrial education at Rochester, Minnesota, and Reinhold Bents, who will teach at Racine Vocational school.

John Brant will act as a personnel worker with the Oliver Mining Co. of Hibbing, Minnesota.

We wish these students much success in their new undertakings.

CHRISTMAS VACATION TO BEGIN DECEMBER 21

Christmas vacation will begin at noon on Friday, Dec. 21. Classes will resume again on Monday morning, Jan. 7. We realize that we will all be anxious to "get rolling" on Friday and perhaps a bit weary on Monday morning, but let's not forget that both of these days are "no cut" days. I think that we all know what that means by this time. Let's all come back refreshed and invigorated?

SSS PRESENTS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The Stout Symphonic Singers presented their annual Christmas concert in the Stout auditorium Thursday, December 13 for the towns people and Tuesday, December 18, for the students.

Preceding the singing, Christmas music was offered by Dorothy Messerschmidt on the organ and by Betty Johansen on the chimes. The organ music included Yon's "Gesu Bambino," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Johann Sebastian Bach, and "Christmas Medley." "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "Joy to the World" were played on the chimes by Betty.

Next, members of Stout Symphonic Singers and the Girls' Ensemble came into the auditorium bearing lighted candles and singing "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing"

Mr. Charles U. Frailey invited the audience to join the choirs in the singing of Christmas carols. The carols sung were "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "The First Noel," and "Silent Night." For the recessional "O Come All Ye Faithful" was sung.

The first scene depicted a church window and altar, and the S.S.S. sang a group of religious selections.

After a short intermission, the Girls ensemble presented some lively Christmas music.

The next scene was that of a fireplace with the members of the S.S.S. informally grouped around it. The numbers sung in this scene were "Christmas Song," "Winter Wonderland," and "White Christmas."

The final numbers were the most thrilling of the concert. They were "The Nutcracker Suite," and "Hallelujah Chorus."

Acknowledgements are gratefully made to Mr. Norman Ziemann and the Manual Arts Players for the staging and lighting, to Dorothy Messerschmidt for the playing of the organ, to Betty Johansen for the playing of the chimes, and to Minnie Becker for the programs.

PHILIPPINE EDUCATORS VISIT STOUT

Shortly before the Thanksgiving holidays, The Stout Institute was visited by Dr. Pantaleon Regala, Superintendent of the Philippines School of Arts and Trades in Manila. Dr. Regala is visiting the United States under the Educational Exchange Program. He arrived in Menomonie on November 13 and remained at Stout until November 17.

Dr. Hilario G. Nudas, Principal of the E. Rodriguez Vocational School in Manila, is attending the Stout Institute during the present college year. Dr. Nudas is at present on special detail as Pensionado of the Philippines.

The United States Department of State is bringing leaders from many countries for short periods of time, in an effort to enable educational leaders of both countries to exchange information, and to acquaint the visitors with our country, our people, and our way of life.

A CHRISTMAS STORY

The following is taken from the Motive magazine, December 1951. It is written by Kim Rogers for publication in Motive.

And there were in the same country children keeping watch over their stockings by the fireplace. And, lo, Santa Claus said unto them, 'Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people who can afford them. For unto you will be given tomorrow, great feasts of turkey, dressing, and cake; and many presents; and this shall be a sign unto you, ye shall find the presents wrapped in bright paper, lying beneath a tree adorned with tinsel, colored balls and lights.'

And suddenly there will be with you a multitude of relatives and friends, praising you and saying, 'Thank you so much, it is just what I wanted.' And it shall come to pass as the friends and relatives have gone away into their own homes, the parents shall say to one another, 'Damn it! What a mess to clean up.' ...I'm dead tired, let's go to bed and pick it up tomorrow'...

Thank God, Christmas only comes once a year! And they go with haste to their cold bed and find their desired rest."

Is someone missing? No, I think you can see Him back in the shadows, not that He matters. Or does He? This is Christmas isn't it? Shouldn't we change it to Familymas or Giftday instead of Christ's day? We were too busy to attend church this morning. Are we too busy? Too busy to seek rest from this war-tired world? Too busy to look for peace in a peaceful world? Too busy to think about an "out-dated" God? Can we be living too fast to live that which is life? Can we continue to exist if God is not the center of our existence? Are we superintelligent animals or men with eternal souls? Wherever we turn, "Hell Bombs," "Germ Warfare," "Third World War." A lot of hope for a supernatural isn't there. Let us put Christ back in Christmas. Let us hear again an angel's voice, "For unto you is born this day, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Tomorrow noon most of the Stout students will be leaving Menomonie for their respective homes. Many will be going by bus and train, but a greater majority will be traveling by automobile. With weather conditions as they are this means that greater care than ever will have to be maintained by all who drive.

The millionth death by auto accidents in America since the invention of the automobile has been forecast for this month of December. It is impossible to prevent the reaching of this mark, but we send out this plea to drive carefully. We do not want to have to print any sad news in The Stoutonia about any of our students.

We all know the weather conditions at this time of year make driving very hazardous, so take a little more time and care—be sure you get to your destination safely. While at home over the holidays be doubly careful. Many feel that these coming holidays are for hilarity and enjoyment. They are, but that does not mean careless, reckless enjoyment.

Be doubly careful. By this we mean watch your own driving and watch other drivers. Many times a very safe driver is involved in an accident simply because a reckless driver expected to get by without being careful.

This is our plea to you, have a very merry Christmas but, make it a safe one.

HOME EC. CHRISTMAS TEA HELD WEDNESDAY

The annual Home Economics Tea was held Wednesday in the Harvey Memorial. Doris Beyer was general chairman.

The room, decorated with pine boughs, and other Christmas decorations, took on a holiday air. Music was furnished by carolers and several pianists. Gaily decorated Christmas cookies, coffee and cranberry punch were served.

Those who poured coffee and punch were Dean Antrim, Dean Kirk and the Home Ec. club officers.

Chairmen of the committees were: Iris Ruf, music; Lois Peterson, decorations; Jan Benedict, clean-up; Joyce Callen, publicity; Lou Wenger, equipment; Edna Graffron, food; and Marietta Thomas, hostesses and dishwashers.

Correction printed in small town paper: "Our paper carried the notice last week that Mr. John Jones is a defective in the police force. This was a typographical error. Mr. Jones is really a detective in the police force."

POSITION OPEN AT STATE HOME FOR WOMEN

Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, placement chairman of The Stout Institute has informed the Stoutonia that she has received notice of Civil Service positions at the Wisconsin Home for Women at Taycheedah.

This home has an educational program, and the superintendent is desirous of obtaining applicants with an educational background. The duties of these positions do not require actual teaching, but rather to organize and supervise all activities. For these positions they require mature persons with deep understanding of people—their needs and problems.

Anyone who might be interested should notify the Bureau of Personnel at Madison at once, as applications must be in by December 28.

The salary range starts at $308 per month. There are two immediate vacancies. Desirable qualifications include three years of teaching experience preferably in homemaking, trades, or industry.

WHY DON'T THEY LIKE US?

The following article appeared in the November issue of the magazine EDUCATION. It is written by Dr. Stuart Anderson, Associate Professor of Education, Graduate Studies at Stout.

Social agencies dependent on public support are vitally concerned with maintaining good public relations. Public schools are no exception. Being one of a number of worthy services supported by taxation, schools in a sense are in competition with the police department and the fire department for financial support. Because of this highly competitive position, it is important that teachers recognize their responsibility to the community.

To be more specific: Satisfied customers, students, represent one of the best public relations media teachers can cultivate. A boy who likes school is a tremendous salesman. His own life seems worthwhile; his parents are proud of his success; and his community, too, senses that the school must be doing a good job.

People of all ages tend to resent authority. For the greater part of twelve years teachers have been cast in a role of "authority" for most boys and girls. How wisely this position of responsibility has been used will determine, to a large measure, the subconscious attitudes which are being acquired by youth. Thoughtless, arbitrary, or dictatorial teachers have undoubtedly caused many scars on the minds of impressionable youth. The use of fear as motivation for learning in the elementary school has done little in developing a kindly feeling toward schools.

People of all ages like to succeed. Little people in the primary grades, adolescents in junior high school, and youth in senior high school: all enjoy the pleasant experiences associated with success. But how does the girl feel who drops out of school, or the boy who does not pass in a subject? Despite the cause in each case, the school has failed to meet the needs of that girl and boy. Boys and girls who attend the public schools should be given an opportunity to enjoy a measure of success within the limits of their abilities and interests—that much we owe youth.

Youngsters do grow up; they do become tax paying members of an adult society. Yes, they even are elected to the board of education. Does it matter that these young adults acquire a deep-seated fear of a teacher back in grade school? That they look back on an incomplete high school record or a subject failure with a feeling of resentment and disgust? Just how much it matters we teachers will probably never know. And yet make no mistake that this feeling is not pleasant in a community. Not all of the unkind remarks made about teachers are said in jest. Some adults still feel uncomfortable in a social gathering when teachers are present. In certain communities teachers live as a group apart.

Teachers have a powerful public relations tool at their disposal. Used wisely, untold good can result, both to youth and to the schools. The teacher who cultivates a genuine democratic atmosphere in his room and who helps each student gain a measure of success in his class, does a real service to youth. Satisfied "customers" will leave school with a sympathetic feeling toward this institution and later as adults will probably remain loyal to public education.

MR. FRAILEY TALKS TO WESLEY GROUP

"To appreciate music, you must understand it," Mr. Frailey said. He told the story of the record Tills Merry Pranks, then played it and explained it. Everyone enjoyed Mr. Frailey's talk very much.

George Stolp's committee served a delicious supper of: chicken pie, mashed potatoes, peas, carrots, jello and cake.

Barb Sherwood's committee gave a Christmas worship service. Rev. Reece continued the Bible study.

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Amid a festive setting the Newman club held its annual Christmas party in the St. Joseph's parish hall Sunday, December 16.

After an evening of dancing and singing Christmas carols, Santa Claus ((Dick Kasel), arrived to distribute the gifts. A very nice lunch consisting of Christmas cookies, ice cream, and cocoa, was served by those on the food committee who were: Marge Fitzgerald, Bernadine Gunderman, and Pat Pagel.

Phil Johnson's STANDARD SERVICE

Hi kids,

Golly, here it is Christmas vacation almost. Time surely does fly. The Christmas party last Friday seemed to be one of the most successful dances of the year. Everyone seemed to feel so good and Christmassy. We saw Jack Luy, master of ceremonies there with Dorothy Brownell. Wally Hinterberg was with Jody Bain.

Some of the other couples there to see Santa Claus, alias Alex Pribish, were Rosemary Raymer and Jim Zeasman, Ruth Feldt and Ray Burkhalter, Diane Klemme and John Christensen, Phyl Allman and Gay Boyer, Bernie Gunderman and Dick Kasel, Jo Fritz and Bill Anderson, Marilyn Eckstein and Lewie Precourt, and Arlene Chapman and Dave Greisch.

Ann Sipple and Jim Leader, Nancy Elam and Dick Duthler, Val Bloom and Dean Cornwell, Jane Davies and Gerald Jeffery, and Ken and Leone

HYPERIAN XMAS PARTY HELD AT ADVISOR'S APT.

On Wednesday evening, December 19, the members of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority met at the apartment of their advisor, Miss Clara Carrison, for their annual Christmas Party.

The girls sang Christmas carols as they sat in front of a roaring fire in the fireplace.

After several games were played Katie Ziehm played Santa Claus and distributed the exchange gifts which each of the girls brought. "Santa" then gave Miss Carrison a lovely gift from the sorority girls.

Refreshments for the party consisted of a hot lemonade, and cupcakes decorated with Christmas trees.

Girls serving on the refreshment and entertainment committee included Katie Ziehm, chairman, Mary Ann Heimerman, Lois Feggstad, Betty Kleist, and Nancy Bunger.

Dederer were a few other couples.

Santa Pribish visited the party too. My, what a charming mop he had. He gave gifts to several students.

At Saturday night's game we saw "Boots" Subitch with Bob Asman, Carl Anderson and Rose Peper, Jerry Henderson and Dorothy Gargulak, Jim Olds and Iris Ruff, and Jim Behling and Phyllis Horning.

Also seen around the campus Saturday night were Don Beran with Mary Ann Heimerman.

Nancy Cealgske and Dick Jung, Mary Lee Ott and Myron Sheben, were also at the dance Friday night.

A group of girls got together Tuesday evening for a bridal shower for Pat Krause. Pat and Eugene Traxler plan to "tie the knot" December 29. Good luck and congratulations.

Guess we've come to the end of this year, have a very Merry Christmas. We'll see you all next year.

It looks like Ruthie Feldt and Ray Burkhalter are getting to be a steady couple. They were seen together three times this past week.

Janet Kumbier and Chuck have been monopolizing the phone lately. Janet doesn't mind though; neither does she mind the open car.

Tom Tsuji has been dating Barbara Wormer, and Pat Manthei seems to be hitting it off fine with Tom Connell.

The girls at the dorm have formed an Old Maid's Knitting Club. At least until after Christmas. Either it is because the fellows are saving their money for Christmas or the girls want to finish their knitting of Christmas presents. Which is it? (We hate to think of having an Old Maid's Club on campus.)

Rose Peper and Diane Klemme had an enjoyable week end in Centuria. What did John Christensen do for excitement?

P.S. Every so often we get a hint of opposition. If some of you would like to suggest ways of improving this column, we would appreciate it. Or if there is anything you would like discussed here, just drop a note in the top basket in the Stoutonia office. Thanks.

MANAGEMENT HOUSE HOST TO FACULTY

On Tuesday evening, December 18, the girls in the Home Management House entertained Pres. Fryklund Dean Kirk, Dr. and Mrs. Iverson, and Miss Meiller at a Christmas dinner.

The menu for the occasion consisted of rolled roast of lamb, twice baked potatoes, asparagus garnished with buttered bread crumbs, Noel salad, assorted rolls, butter slices, a flaming steamed pudding with hard sauce, and coffee.

The main course was served in the living room with the desert course served from a buffet table in the dining room.

A very pretty Christmas tree (decorated by the girls, poinsetta plants, and other Christmas decorations) provided an appropriate yuletide atmosphere for the dinner.

After dining, the group climaxed the evening playing canasta.

Isabel Iverson, hostess for the evening, also served as general chairman for the entertainment.

ASSEMBLY PROBLEM IS DISCUSSED

The assembly lyceum committees held a joint meeting in the auditorium Wednesday afternoon, December 12. All organizations on the campus were invited to send a representative to this meeting; the purpose of which was to try and find a solution to the problem of arousing interest in student assemblies.

Among the suggestions offered were: a minstrel show, a talent scout show sponsored by the students, having movies of an educational type, changing the hour from 10:00 to 11:00, thus including the students who make 10:00 their breakfast hour, and having each organization take over the program for one period.

A suggestion was made that perhaps assemblies should not be required unless they were of unusual value because some of the students miss an hour of shop which they must make up at a later date.

It was finally decided that the representatives should go back to their respective organizations and discuss with them the idea of taking over one of the remaining five assemblies. The dates are: Feb. 27, April 2, April 9, and May 14.

If any organization decides that it is interested in putting on a skit or some other type of entertainment during one of these periods it is asked to state this fact along with a preferable date on the letter it received and return it to the S.S.A. office as soon as possible.

Mildred: "I suppose you've been to see a sick friend — holding his hands all evening."

Johnny: "If I'd been holding his hands I'd have made a mint of money."

THE OPERATORS CORNER

The telephone operator was instructing a new girl on her job. "No, my dear," she corrected, "you say 'Just a moment, please,' not 'Hang on to your pants, Bub!'"

Came the day of their 25th wedding anniversary and the man of the house started out to do his work in the fields as usual.

"John," his wife called. "Don't you know what day this is?"

"Yes, indeed I do," said John smoothly.

"Well, how are we going to celebrate it?" persisted his wife.

"Sure and I don't know, Maggie," said John, scratching his head in puzzlement. "How about two minutes of silence?"

Reporter: "I understand you have a special chaplain for the football squad."

Coach: "That's right."

Reporter: "I'd like to talk to him."

Coach: "Which one—the offensive or defensive Chaplain?"

FURNISHING CLASS COMPLETING LAMPS

Lois Peterson is shown putting finishing touches on the base of her lamp she is making in Home Furnishing Class.

LAMP BUILDING
BIG PROJECT

One of the busiest times of the year for the sophomore girls seems to be the planning, assembling, and finishing of a lamp in House Furnishings class. If you happened to pass by the art room you would see them hard at work amid a large assortment of various kinds of lamps most of which are still in the making.

We find that the majority of lamps which the girls are making this year have wood bases but there is quite a variety in them. Some of these are definitely on the "rustic" side and are made of driftwood, birch logs, and pieces of tree branches. Most of them have their "natural" appearance and have been given just a "gloss" finish. The other wood bases, which range in a variety of different sizes, have a more "polished" appearance. Some of these have also been covered with a plaster mix to give a different texture effect.

Besides the wood bases there are some lamps made of materials such as glass blocks and table legs.

With this glimpse of the 'lamp' project we can be assured of an interesting display when the lamps are done.

If you still believe that Mother Nature is never wasteful in her gifts, stop and consider the hippopotamus, with a hide one and one-half inches thick, and not the slightest interest in politics.

SANTA VISITS SSA
CHRISTMAS PARTY IN GYM FRIDAY

The SSA Christmas party was a real success last Friday night and from all indications everyone had a good time.

The dorm's novel surprise turned out to be a little shock for three couples. Someone was spying on the dancers until intermission with these results: Bertie Harris and Dick Cheke got a prize for dancing the farthest apart, Pat Pagel and Harter Peterson were rewarded for dancing the slowest, and Ruthie Feldt and Ray Burkhalter dipped the lowest and kicked the mostest.

As master of ceremonies, Jack Lay presented Dean Price with a token of appreciation of his dexterity in manipulating cards. Dean Price was given a plaque and a pair of roller skates for always being a good skate.

Little Beverly Hedlund, with the help of her Mommy, learned and presented for our enjoyment "Twas the Night Before Christmas." When Santa arrived right after her "piece" he brought her a gift for being such a good girl and doing such a fine job.

Santa brought with him, besides presents, a parody on "Twas the Night Before Christmas." In his bag he had presents for deserving people to fulfill heartfelt requests. He brought Diane Clemme a jet plane for John so he can get over to the Annex on time. Jo Gritt received a box of cough drops so she can keep up with the bases in symphonics. Johnny Jacobson got some cock'scomb so he would be able to make a good impression at the party. Charlie Schiferl got a pair of rubber ducks in return for his request for visual aids for the student body.

JOHN METZ, LAVE EDITOR,
SPEAKS HERE

On Monday evening, December 10, at seven forty-five, Mr. John Metz Editor of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education magazine, gave an address at The Stout Institute. The subject of Mr. Metz's address was, "Preparation of Professional Material for Publication."

He named four main points for the writing of professional articles. First consider what the magazine is for. The objective of the Industrial Arts magazine is "To help the teacher in the field." Second; how long should your article be. As the average shop teacher doesn't care to read more than 3000 to 3500 words at one sitting, that is the suggested length. Third; use simple language. Don't try to show people how big your vocabulary is. Fourth; be careful not to violate the copyright law. If you wish to copy some other writer, obtain permission from his publisher before you do so and footnote all entries.

Mr. Metz also gave a few pointers on writing for the project section of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education. First, a drawing and a 300 word text are usually sufficient for most projects. Avoid repetition of dimensions in both the drawing and the text. Second, Ink all drawings and keep the drawing as near to perfection as possible. Insist on high standards so as to set a good example for anyone who might see it. Third; take into consideration the fact that the drawings will need to be reduced when lettering and dimensioning is done. Make all drawings in proportion to 7 1/2 inches by 10 inches so that they will fit properly on the page. Fourth, when submitting photographs for the magazine, make sure they are clear, glossy and at least four by five inch prints with full notes on the reverse side of the picture. Fifth, Be sure all pictures submitted portray safe practices. In concluding, Mr. Metz stated that writing is not easy but that anyone can write if he tries hard enough. He encouraged anyone who had any interest in writing to try it.

Following the address, a discussion and question period was held to clear up any points that were vague.

This address was the first of a series arranged by the professional topics committee of Epsilon Pi Tau and sponsored by the fraternity. These addresses are open to all faculty members and upperclassmen.

DORM XMAS PARTIES TO BE HELD TONIGHT

During the past two weeks the girls at the dorms have been very busy preparing for the Christmas dinner and party. Tonight, the honored guests and the girls from the dorms will gather in the living room of Tainter Hall where cocktails will be served. This will be followed by the Christmas dinner in the candle-lighting dining hall. The girls will then return to their own dorms and hold their Christmas parties.

The girls from Eichelberger and Tainter Hall will gather at Tainter Annex at 10 p.m. and sing carols until it is time to return to their respective dorms.

MEET "UNCLE AL" MANAGER OF UNION

One of the most popular spots on the Stout campus is the union, managed by Al Swan. Al has been working in the union for two years and has been managing it since the summer session this year. According to Al, the biggest trouble in the job is trying to satisfy everyone with the T.V. set. His pet peeve is seeing women pretend they are smoke stacks. Students often come to him for advice, and because of this he is called Uncle Al or Papa.

Al was born in Chicago and soon moved to Barron. Here he attended rural school and high school, graduating in 1948. His activities at Stout include band, Stout Christian Fellowship, Alpha Phi Omega, and taking part in M.A.P. His favorite hobby is letter writing. We have been informed that he has a girl in Minneapolis.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR U.S. STUDENTS ABROAD

Under the Fulbright Act, the U.S. Government is providing opportunities for 700 Americans to undertake graduate study and research abroad this year. Awards for study abroad for the 1952-53 academic year are now being made. Details can be obtained from the Institute of International Education, 2 West Forty-fifth Street, New York City.

SCF CAROLS AT HOMES, HOSPITALS HERE

Stout Christian Fellowship went caroling Thursday night at 8:15.

They carolled at the Dunn County Hospital, Menomonie Hospital, homes of various faculty members and other places around town.

After the carolling they went up to the club room and had a short discussion and refreshments.

visory committee will be elected to assist in planning the conference.

Guided visits to laboratories and shops will be at 1:30 with faculty members available to guide the conferees through selected laboratories and shops. Due to limitations of time, the visitors will have to make a choice between seeing the home economics laboratories or the industrial arts shops. If there are those who wish to spend additional time in the laboratories and shops after the final session of the conference, such desires will be accommodated.

Dean Alice J. Kirk will preside at the general session at 2:30. Miss Barbara H. Wright, senior consultant in Counseling, Minneapolis public schools, will discuss the practical group guidance practices. The conference will close at 3:30.

Dr. Clifford P. Froehlich obtained an A.B. degree from Macalester college, St. Paul; an A. M. degree from the University of Minnesota; and a Ph. D. degree from George Washington University, Washington, D. C. He also attended McCormick Seminary, Chicago, for one year. In addition to his present position, his professional experience has included the following positions; personnel worker in private industry and in the Minnesota State Employment service, director of the Community Guidance center, Fargo, North Dakota; Supervisor of occupational information and guidance service, State of North Dakota; and a staff member of the A.A.F. Psychological Research program. He has written numerous articles for professional journals and is the author of a recent book entitled, "Guidance Services in Smaller Schools."

Mr. Arthur C. Larsen earned both the B. S. and the Ph. M. degrees at the University of Wisconsin. He taught general subjects in the Sheboygan Vocational school for several years and was also principal of that institution. During the war, his duties as Director of the Instrument and Survey school at Ft. Bragg, N. C. included the training and supervision of personnel workers. In his present position, he directs a counseling service and provides testing and advisory services to industrial and business firms. He is a professional member of the National Vocational Guidance Association and serves as secretary of the Wisconsin Association of Educational and Vocational Guidance.

Miss Barbara H. Wright holds an A. B. degree from Simmons College, Boston, Mass. In addition to her duties with the Minneapolis public schools, she has frequently served as a part-time instructor at the University of Minnesota and as a summer school instructor at the Northwestern University. Further evidence of her professional stature is provided by her election to the vice-presidency of the National Vocational Guidance Association and to the Yearbook committee of the National Association of School Administrators. She is the author of the book, "Practical Handbook for Group Guidance."

PHI UPSILON OMICRON GROUP CAROLS AT DORMS, HOSPITAL

LARGE GROUP AT CHORAL CONCERT

A large number of people gathered at Our Savior's Lutheran church Sunday, December 16, to hear the four choirs under the direction of Mrs. E.T. Boe present their Christmas concert. Two performances were given; one at 4 p.m. and one at 8 p.m. The church was filled for both concerts.

The Christmas story was illustrated by the singing of appropriate songs while a pantomime was enacted by members of the choirs in the front of the church. Rev. Boe narrated the Christmas story which was truly a moving introduction to the Christmas season.

THE BOY WHO SCOFFED AT SANTA CLAUS

William Wallace Whitlock

"I don't believe in Santa Claus. There ain't no such a man! It's all a fairy tale, because I know from Cousin Dan"—'Twas thus spoke Henry Lucius Stout, A boy aged eight I knew. His mother said, "You'd best watch out. You're standin' near the flue." Now, Santa happened just to be Upon the roof, right pat, A-peekin' down if he could see What Lucius Stout was at. He heard those words with angry frown And up and shook his head, And took his book and wrote 'em down. Exactly what he said. When Christmas Mornin' came around, And Lucius ran to see What he had got, alas! he found His stockin' quite empty, Except a note that he pulled out. Instead of some fine toy: "I don't believe in Lucius Stout. There ain't no such a boy!"

CHRISTMAS SEALS BY POSTAL CLERK

It was a Danish postal clerk, Einar Holboell, who conceived the idea of attaching stamps to Christmas packages and letters in 1903 to begin the idea of Christmas seals for worthy organizations.

Mr. Holboell, at work in a Danish postoffice thought of the plan of attaching decorative stamps to packages sent at Christmas time. He thought the proceeds from the sale of these seals should go to some worthwhile groups.

When he mentioned the plan to his fellow workers, they thought it would be a great help in the cost of fighting tuberculosis. The idea eventually reached King Christian, who approved, and the image of Queen Louise was placed on the first seals in 1904.

A Danish-born American, Jacob Riis, heard about the idea and brought the idea before the American public in 1907 in an article written for Outlook magazine. Miss Emily Bissell, a Red Cross worker, began the first sales in America that year.

THE NIGHT AFTER CHRISTMAS

'Twas the night after Christmas— and, boy, what a house! I felt like the devil! And so did the spouse. The eggnog and candy and turkey were swell. But ten hours later they sure gave me H—! The stockings weren't hung by the chimney with care,— The darned things were sprawled on the back of a chair. The children were nestled all snug in their bed, But I had a large cake of ice on my head. And when at long last I dozed off in a nap The ice woke me up as it fell in my lap. Then for some unknown reason, I wanted a drink, And so, started feeling my way to the sink. And I got along fine till I stepped on the cat, But I just don't recall what occurred after that. When I came to, the house was all flooded with light, Though under the table, I was high as a kite. While visions of sugar plums danced in my head I somehow got up and got back into bed. Then what, to my wandering mind should appear, But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer. Then the sleigh seemed to change to a red fire truck And each reindeer changed to a bleary-eyed buck; I knew in a moment it must be old Nick. I tried to cry out but my tongue was too thick. Then the old devil whistled and shouted with glee While each buck pawed the earth and looked daggers at me. Then he called them by name and the names made me shudder. When I heard them I felt like a ship without a rudder. "Now Eggnog! Bacardi! Four Roses! and Brandy! Now Fruit Cake! Cold Turkey! Gin-Rickey and Candy! To the top of his dome to the base of his skull, Now whack away, crack away, with thumps that are dull!" And then in a twinkling I felt on my roof The prancing and pawing of each cloven hoof. How long this went on I'm sure I can't say, Though it seemed an eternity, plus a long day. But finally, the Night After Christmas had passed And I found I could really think straight at last. So I thought of the New Year a few days away And I've made my vows that no tempter can sway. I'm sticking to water—don't even want ice, For there's nothing so tasty, there's nothing so nice. The night after New Year may bother some guys But I've learned my lesson—yes, brother, I'm wise. You can have your rich victuals and liquor that's red, But what goes to my stomach, won't go to my head. So a big "Happy New Year" to you and to all, I'm back on the wagon, and I hope I don't fall!

JOHNNY FINDS THE GOLDEN GIFT

by Frederick Laing

Four ago Johnny had gone half-way downstairs in his pajamas and had seen the bright packages piled neatly under the tree. But now, as he lay waiting for the end of that nearest thing to eternity, the night before Christmas, he didn't feel happy.

This year, for the first time, he had bought presents out of his own savings, and he had followed the Golden Rule. For Dad there was a pen that wrote in red and in green ink, and for Mom an automatic calendar. And for Grannie—there was a present in a long cardboard box. It was Grannie's present that had Johnny worried.

He recalled the presents she had given him in the past. Grannie had said they were things she would like to own—a woolen muffler, six white handkerchiefs, a dictionary. Things, she said, he needed. This year there was something he not only needed but wanted. He had hinted, of course, but from experience he knew his family was not too quick at picking up hints.

Trying to be fair, he thought about the times Grannie had bought him sodas and had taken him to see cowboy movies. Then his mind jumped back to last week, when he had been in Grannie's room and she had opened a drawer. She had sighed and said, "Oh, dear, I've used up all that nice lavender soap."

Johnny turned over on his pillow, but he kept hearing the words, "Lavender soap—lavender soap." He fell asleep for a while and then he woke up. Was it morning? He looked out the window and saw the light in the store down the street and he knew it was still night.

He sat there feeling bad, for he had dreamed that Grannie had opened the present he had bought for her and started crying. In the dream he had told her she had no kick coming. Hadn't he followed the Golden Rule and given her something he would really like for himself?

He looked out the window again at the store and remembered that the store would be open late tonight. He tiptoed down the hall and saw that everybody was in bed; then he dressed quickly. He went softly down the carpeted stairs. The living room was dark except for a light that came from the street, but he was able to make out the long cardboard package. He picked it up and sneaked out of the house.

He went down to the Merkle store, where they sold stationery, toys, and sporting goods. The man behind the counter raised his brows. "Aren't you up rather late, Johnny?" he asked.

"I want to bring back a present," Johnny told him. "And I want to get some lavender soap."

"You'll have to get that in the drug-store across the street," the man said. He opened the package Johnny handed him and took out a baseball bat. Unable to bear it any longer, Johnny turned his eyes away. He sure would have made a hit with the fellows if he could have shown up with that bat. He took the money and was leaving to buy the lavender soap for Grannie when the shopkeeper called him back: "Don't you want the envelopes in the box?"

Johnny hadn't remembered any envelope. He took it and looked at the card inside, and then, suddenly, he recalled that other long package he had seen under the tree as he had hurried out.

"What's the card say?" he asked the man. And, remembering an excuse he sometimes heard around the house, "I haven't got my glasses."

The storekeeper chuckled. "The card says," and he peered closer to make sure of the words, "To Johnny, with lots of love, from Grannie."

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

NATIONAL OFFICERS SEND CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO ALUMNI

As we enter the holiday season and begin a new year there is excitement and anticipation at the thought of vacations and festivities. The student body here at Stout, as you know from experience, spends the week previous to vacation preparing to go home and the week following vacation in recovery. Those of us who are teachers experience the same sensations-or is that common only to teachers.

Many of you may be travelling during the holidays. If you are near Menomonee stop in and pay us a visit. Things have changed rapidly here in the last few years and there will be much for you to see.

This may be a little early for New Year's resolutions, but it is our last chance to make them publicly. May we resolve to make your Alumni Association more active and of more service to you in the coming year. From your national officers, a very merry Christmas and a hopeful new year.

STOUT IN FIRST WIN TOP N. MICHIGAN 76-51

Freshmen Play Second Half As Blue Devils Outplay Weaker Michigan Team.

Coach Ray C. Johnson's Blue Devils opened up for the first time Monday night in a non-conference go against Northern Michigan College of Education in the Menomonie high school gymnasium, to dump the Michigan team by the decisive score of 76-51. This put the Blue Devils on the long end of a score for the first time this season.

The Blue Devil starters, which consisted of Al Wegner, Bill Kieffer, John Debrauske, Bob Erickson, and Herb Markley, after a slow start, piled up an early lead of seven points at the end of the opening quarter, which rapidly widened to 24 points at the end of the first half. Coach Johnson then threw in a team consisting entirely of freshmen, by the addition of Dick Wagner, Dennis Hawkes, Ed Wilkie and Bob Moe, leaving in first string freshman Al Wegner. It was mostly this team which finished the game for Stout.

The freshman team, which suffered some from expected inexperience, put in a fine display of basketball, and held their own for the remainder of the half and then proceeded to outscore the Wildcats by one point in the last half.

High point man for the Blue Devils was Herb Markley with 13 points which he piled up in the opening sixteen minutes of the game. Next in line were Bob Moe, freshman from Chetek with 11 points, and Dennis Hawkes, from Madison, with ten points.

Jack Schils, veteran guard for the Northern Michigan aggregation, dumped in 12 tallies to lead his team in the scoring column.

Biggest factor in the initial Blue Devils win of the season was a red hot shooting average, which added up to a comparatively high 35% for the game, as contrasted against the lower 20% for the Wildcats. An optimistic viewpoint for the Blue Devils is seen when it is noted that Stout dumped in 62 of its 76 points from the floor and depended on only a slight percentage of their score from the free throw line.

BLUE DEVILS TO PLAY RIVER FALLS IN GYM TONIGHT

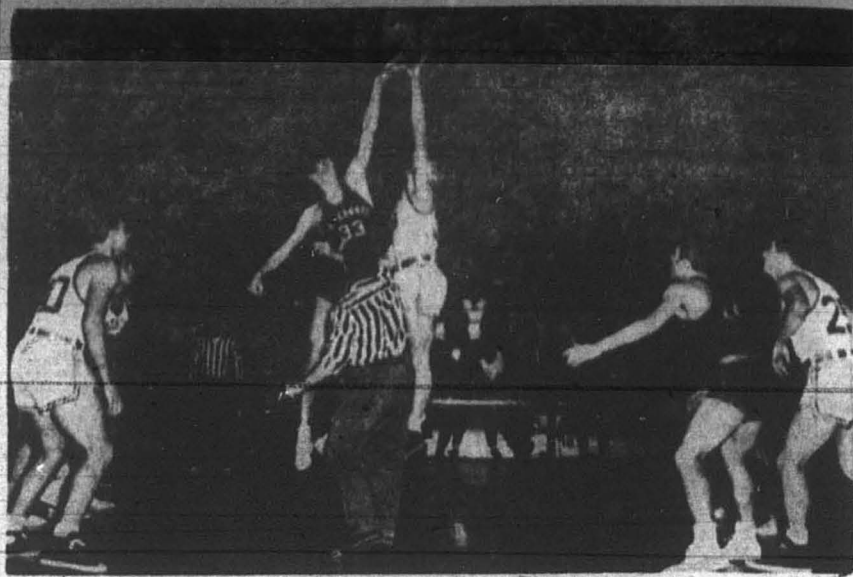

The Blue Devils travel to River Falls, Thursday, December 20, to face Roger Kuss and company. In the Falcons, Stout will find a team which is in the process of rebuilding. River Falls lost two regulars from last year. The Falcons will be plenty tough this year if they can get someone who can score from the outside to help keep the pressure off Kuss, last years individual scoring champ.

Besides Kuss, the Falcons have Carver Foukes, Ray Czech, and Jack Shield, veteran forwards. Returning guards are Don Barlow and Harley Harkness. Jim Belisle from Menomonie is considered a promising prospect. Reserves from last year's squad such as Barry Waller, John Mills, and "Nook" Dahl complete the squad.

So far this year River Falls has won one of three games. In defeating St. Olaf 84-80, they showed that they have plenty of scoring punch once it breaks loose. Bug Kuss dumped in 31 points followed by Ray Czech with 20 and Don Barlow with 10.

River Falls is Stout's oldest basketball rival. Stout played and beat the Falcons 47-17 in 1910. Since that time they have met 69 times; Stout winning 23 games while losing 46.

1951-52 CONFERENCE SEASON UNDERWAY

Erickson of Stout and Kempf of LaCrosse stretch for the opening tip-off of the 1951-52 State College Conference basketball season.

LA X TOPS BLUE- DEVILS 67-51:

The La Crosse Indians, defending champions in the Wisconsin State College Conference, handed Coach Ray C. Johnson's Stout Blue Devils their initial setback in conference play for the 1951-52 season Saturday night in the Menomonie high school gymnasium by the score of 67-51.

Thruout a nip and tuck first-half which saw the Indians take their biggest lead at the first quarter mark, 19-12, the Blue Devils held their own and even seemed to outplay the powerful LaCrosse five who were able to end the half with only the narrow margin of 30-27. Big Ed Wilkie, a 205 pound, 6'4" freshman from Chippewa Falls, who started at center for the Blue Devils, dropped in the initial score of the game from the free throw line to put Stout in the lead for the only time in the game.

The Blue Devils showed surprising capabilities throughout most of the first half and managed to keep the score even for the first five minutes of play. Bill Kieffer, now in his third year in Stout uniform, paced the Blue Devils throughout the whole game, but showed up exceptionally well in the hard fought first half. Bill pumped in a total of 23 points from his guard position to pace both teams in the scoring column.

VOLEYBALL SEASON ALMOST OVER FOR '51

Here are the standings for Intramural volleyball, as of December 12, 1951:

	W	L
Sigma Tau	3	0
FOB No. 1	3	0
FOB No. 2	2	1
Lynwood Hall	1	2
KFS	1	2
Sigma	0	5

The official volleyball schedule is now finished, but two games have been held over to be played at a later date by mutual consent of the teams involved. Both games involve Sigma Tau's defending champions from last year. Sig Tau has yet to play KFS and FOB No. 1.

With KFS holding down a meagre one won and two lost record, a victory is expected for the Sig Taus when these two teams meet. However, the game yet to be played, that may, if Sig Tau beats KFS, determine the championship, or at least determine the co-holders of first place, will be the big one between Sig Tau and the FOB first team.

The volleyball championship has for the past several years passed between these two teams with few outsiders getting hold of the crown, so this big tussel should prove to be quite a grudge match.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING STARTS FOR THIS YEAR

The 1951 intramural bowling season is now underway. This important intramural sport is one of the most popular among the men at Stout now and sees the participation of 45 to 50 each year. Last year's champions, the Graduate Men's Club, have entered a strong team this year and should be title contenders again. FOB team number one, comprised of Maxa, Janikowski, Fleming, Bogenhagen, and Markley however, should give the graduates a good run for their money. Members of the Graduate Men's Club team are Breja, Winek, Digerness, Frey, and Norris.

Other organizations with teams entered in the league are Sigma Tau, KFS, Sigmas, Lynwood Hall, and several independent teams.

Teams this year are composed of five members and an alternate. League rules give a player ten minutes leeway from the time he is scheduled to bowl or his average for the year is used.

Watch the Stoutonia for further developments in the bowling department.

WHITE FRONT CAFE

Christmas In Other Lands

Let's heap another log on the fire and settle back for an armchair cruise to distant lands to see how Christmas will be celebrated around the world this year. Our first stop will be in Merry Olde England.

ENGLAND

Christmas in England will be celebrated in much the same way as it is here, with exchanging of gifts and the singing of carols. Queen's College and a few of the leading hotels still observe the old feast ritual of bringing in the head of a boar. Christmas Mummers, England's holiday dramatists, are still in existence presenting the same old plays every year. The day after Christmas, called Boxer Day, is observed very widely. It was originally the day when the priest opened the poor box and distributed the money. Now public servants ask gifts as they make their rounds. There is one disillusionment, however. England does not have a white Christmas.

FRANCE

In France there will be a midnight feast and a boisterous Christmas Eve celebration during which time gifts will be distributed among the children. The greatest festival of the year in France, though, is New Year's Day. It is a great family day with presents for all of the family and close relatives. At this time, the greeting card is used extensively and the average person feels slighted if he does not receive at least a hundred cards.

BELGIUM

Christmas in Belgium has a deep religious significance. Carols are sung on Christmas Eve and services are held in the churches. St. Nicholas Eve, rather than Christmas, is the time for gifts in Belgium. On this day the children leave their shoes on the hearth for presents.

BRAZIL

Santa Claus, called "Papa Noel," will visit Brazilian children, coming in his sleigh drawn by reindeer just as he does here. At 11 o'clock on Christmas Eve everyone will go to church, and afterwards, family suppers will be held in the homes. Manger scenes are set up in the churches and homes and the Christmas celebration will continue until January 6.

Christmas In Many Languages

Brazilian	Portuguese
Boas Festas (Good Holidays!)	Boas Festas! (Good Holidays!)
Feliz Natal! (Happy Christmas!)
Danish	Rumanian
Glaedelig Jul! (Glad Yule!)	„ria Lui Christos Sa Va Die de solas!
Dutch	(May the birth of Christ bring you happiness!)
Hartelijke Kerstgroeten!
English	Spanish
Merry Christmas	Felices Pascuas (Happy Christmas)
Finnish	Swedish
Hauskaa Joulua! (Merry Yule!)	God Jul! (Good Yule)
French	French
Joyeux Noel! (Joyous Christmas!)	Joyeux Noel! (Joyous Christmas)
German	Swiss
Froehliche Weinachten!	Same as French, German, and Italian
Italian	Italian
Bono Natale! (Good Christmas!)	Bono Natale! (Good Christmas)

GERMANY

Christmas will be celebrated for three days in Germany. Work is suspended the day before Christmas, and on Christmas Eve the whole family gathers around the tree and presents are exchanged. Great emphasis is placed on the giving of toys, as toy-making is still a great industry in Germany.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

In the Dominican Republic, the traditional Christmas dinner will be held after midnight Mass on the eve of this feast, and carols will be sung in the streets. The children must wait until January 6 to receive their gifts because that is the anniversary of the Wise Men's visit to the Christ Child.

RUMANIA

In Rumania, the Christmas rites will lean toward paganism, yet they are known by the saint days of the Gregorian calendar. On December 22, St. Ignatius Day in the Eastern Church, a pig is killed and dressed for Christmas. A play, depicting the birth of Christ and the flight into Egypt, is given continuously from Christmas Day to Epiphany, January 6th.

SWEDEN

In Sweden, Christmas festivities last for a whole month. Celebration begins on December 13 a pageant story of St. Lucia and many other traditions will be observed from that time until January 13. The tree is brought in on December 22 and presents are placed under it. On Christmas Eve, family reunions are held. While everyone is enjoying the tree and the good things to eat, the Gnome of Good Luck brings in more presents. When these presents have been opened, everyone joins hands and parades through the house singing Yuletide tunes. Festivities continue until January 13 when Christmas officially ends with parties and small gatherings.

SWITZERLAND

Switzerland is the true Christmas Land with its snow, frosty air, and merry sleigh bells. St. Nicholas has been replaced in many parts of Switzerland by the Christkrindli who travels over the land in a beautiful sleigh full of Christmas trees, fruits, cookies, and toys for the children. In the country districts, Santa Claus, a great favorite, visits the children on St. Nicholas Eve.

FINLAND

In Finland, everyone will go to the steam bath on Christmas Eve and then don clean clothes for the Great Christmas Eve feast. Gifts will be given out before or after dinner by Santa himself who is often accompanied by several Christmas elves. The tree will be decorated on Christmas Eve with fruits, candies, tinsel, and candles. On Christmas Day everyone will go to church and then spend the remainder of the day quietly with family visits and reunions. The festivities continue for two more days.

ITALY

On Christmas Eve in Italy, families will gather around the fireplace and reminisce as they watch the glowing logs. Late in the evening they will sit down to a meatless supper, Christmas Eve in Italy being a fast day. The meal ends just before midnight and all go to midnight Mass. On January 6, in commemoration of the Three Magi, the kind old lady Befana flies in through the window and leaves presents near the manger for the good children.

MEXICO

A pinata bowl will be decorated, filled with fruit and candy, and hung in the patio for the Mexican Christmas. Someone will break the bowl and everyone will scramble for sweets. It is customary in Mexico to have a party each night on the nine days preceding Christmas. At each, the people will dance and receive a small present from the host. The Christmas dinner is held on Christmas Eve, usually after 10 o'clock.

DENMARK

At 5 o'clock on December 24, everyone in Denmark will go to church and join in beautiful Christmas caroling. A lavish Christmas dinner will be served followed by the most exciting moment for the children—the opening of the door to the Christmas tree and all of the gifts. In Denmark no one is forgotten at Christmas. The poor and the sick are all provided with food and toys. Even the animals are fed generously for Christmas.

Just repeating
MERRY CHRISTMAS

Gay spirits are more commonplace during the Yule season than at any other time of the year. We hope you're fitting in.

May you prosper in the wealth with which Christmas abounds...

Peace, love of life, kindness and the brotherhood of all people.

The Night Before Christmas

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a Creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads;
And mamma in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap,
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,

"THE STOCKINGS WERE HUNG BY THE CHIMNEY WITH CARE!"

I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutter and threw up the sash.
The moon, on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave a lustre of midday to objects below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donner and Blitzen-
To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!
Now, dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So, up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
With a sleigh full of toys, - and St. Nicholas too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His eyes how they twinkled! his dimples how merry-
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry:
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face, and a little round belly
That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump, - a right jolly old elf
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head

"WHILE VISIONS OF SUGAR-PLUMS, DANCED THROUGH THEIR HEADS"

Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,

NOW DASH AWAY! DASH AWAY ALL!

And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle;
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight:
"Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"

THEATRES HAVE NEW PLAN TO ADMIT STUDENTS

Effective January 14, 1952, all students between the ages of 12 thru 17 years and all Stout student, who desire to be admitted to the State and Stout Theatres at a reduced student admission price of 40c including tax, must possess and show a "Student Identification Card" to the cashier upon purchasing their ticket. It was announced today by L. J. Thompson, local theatres manager.

The identification cards for grade school and high school students are now on sale at the State Theatre in the lobby for a two week period, and continuing through January 26, 1952. The hours for purchasing these cards on those nights will be from 6:30 to 9:30 P.M. A fee of 25c will be charged each student for their card. The Stout Student Association will handle the distribution of Student Identification Cards to all students enrolled at The Stout Institute at registration Jan. 20-21. After January 26 cards may still be purchased at the State Theatre Box Office during the regular operating hours. Those students who DO NOT have the identification cards WILL BE CHARGED ADULT PRICES.

All cards will expire on September 1 of each year, or on the holders graduation or release from school. New cards for each year will go on sale one week prior to September 1 and continue to be available for a period of two weeks.

Any student who has experienced the loss of a card may purchase another at anytime at the State Theatre. He will be charged 50c for each additional student card.

A student identification card will admit him to the theatres listed thereon and offer him a savings of 20c each time he attends the theatre. This card is subject to cancellation and being picked up by the theatre manager if the student price privilege is abused or if unnecessary noise or other disruption is caused by the holder during the time he is in the theatre.

ROMONA GERHARD TO PRESENT PROGRAM HERE

The Romona Gerhard Quartet will give a concert at The Stout Institute auditorium on Monday, February 18 at 8:00 P.M. The American Association of University Women is sponsoring the program to raise money for their scholarship fund. Each year this organization gives a scholarship to a Menomonie high school senior who is planning to attend The Stout Institute.

The program is in charge of the Fellowship committee, Miss Eleanore Cox, chairman, Miss Margaret Harper, Miss Ann Noble and Mrs. H.W. Rudow.

NEW LAMPS ADDED TO UNION EQUIPMENT

Recently the Union has been benefited by the new gooseneck lamps. At the present time there are only four of them in use, while two more are still at Goodrich's Furniture Store where they were purchased. These lamps are floor models with metal bullet shaped shades of all different colors, and they are non-breakable. These lamps can be borrowed by any group on campus. They are in use in the Union for the lack of storage place. The first time they were used was at the Christmas Dance held before our recent vacation.

BEWARE OF ICE

Students and teachers, BEWARE! This warm weather has caused the ice to start melting. There are lower icicles hanging from the roofs of some of the buildings at Stout and they may fall any instant. Someone may get hurt unless they are careful. One man narrowly escaped injury a few nights ago when a large amount of icicles came crashing down from the roof of the I.E. building. So, look before approaching a building or you may be next.

DUTTON CONCERT TRIO IN CONVO JANUARY 23

At convocation on January 23, the Dutton Concert Trio will be the performers. This is a concert marimba duo augmented by a concert pianist. It is headed by James Dutton, one of the few great marimbists in this country. The concert includes unaccompanied marimba duets, piano solos by Miss French as well as the ensemble numbers. The programs cover the works of such masters as Chopin, Bach, Scarlatti, and contemporary composers who are writing original composition for the marimba.

80 ATTEND GUIDANCE MEET HERE WED.

The guidance conference held here Wednesday under the supervision of Dr. Iverson was attended by 80 people from all over the state. Many of our own faculty members and some of our graduate students attended, making a total of about 110.

The participants seemed very enthusiastic about the conference and decided to have another next year. It will again be arranged by Dr. Iverson. Mr. John Kubiak will co-operate in planning it, and an advisory committee will be chosen to help, too.

Strong points of the meeting were excellent speakers, efficient organization, and good facilities. Participants thought that a real spirit of friendliness was shown by the Stout faculty and that the topics of the talks were very appropriate. Dr. Clifford Froehlich talked on "The Organization and Administration of Counseling Programs in Secondary Schools", "What Constitutes an Adequate Testing Program and How Much Does it Cost?" was discussed by Mr. Arthur Larsen, and "Practical Group Guidance Practices" was the topic of Miss Barbara Wright's talk.

A very delicious lunch was served by the cafeteria. After the conference closed at 8:30, a coffee party was given for the participants by two test publishers.

Mr. Arthur C. Larsen earned both the B. S. and the Ph. M. degrees at the University of Wisconsin. He taught general subjects in the Sheboygan Vocational school for several years and was also principal of that institution. During the war, his duties as Director of the Instrument and Survey school at Ft. Bragg, N. C. included the training and supervision of personnel workers. In his present position, he directs a counseling service and provides testing and advisory services to industrial and business firms. He is a professional member of the National Vocational Guidance Association and serves as secretary of the Wisconsin Association of Educational and Vocational Guidance.

Miss Barbara H. Wright holds an A. B. degree from Simmons College, Boston, Mass. In addition to her duties with the Minneapolis public schools, she has frequently served as a part-time instructor at the University of Minnesota and as a summer school instructor at the Northwestern University. Further evidence of her professional stature is provided by her election to the vice-presidency of the National Vocational Guidance Association and to the Yearbook committee of the National Association of School Administrators. She is the author of the book, "Practical Handbook for Group Guidance."

Dr. Clifford P. Froehlich obtained an A.B. degree from Macalester college, St. Paul; an A. M. degree from the University of Minnesota; and a Ph. D. degree from George Washington University, Washington, D. C. He also attended McCormick Seminary, Chicago, for one year. In addition to his present position, his professional experience has included the following positions: personnel worker in private industry and in the Minnesota State Employment service, director of the Community Guidance center, Fargo, North Dakota; Supervisor of occupational information and guidance service, State of North Dakota; and a staff member of the A.A.P. Psychological Research program. He has written numerous articles for professional journals and is the author of a recent book entitled, "Guidance Services in Smaller Schools."

STS SPONSORS OPEN HOUSE IN PRINT SHOP

In cooperation with the International Graphic Arts Education Association, the Stout Typographical Society of The Stout Institute, in honor of Benjamin Franklin's 246th birthday anniversary, is holding an open house in the Stout printshop on Tuesday, January 15, from one till five o'clock.

The Stout Typographical Society, an organization composed of printing teaching majors in the field of Industrial Arts extends a hearty welcome to all Stout students, faculty and administration to visit the school shop and get a first hand view of the tremendous progress the graphic arts industry has made since the days of Benjamin Franklin. Donald Sargent, president of the S. T. S. has appointed a committee to work out plans which should prove to be both interesting and educational. Refreshments will be served to all visitors at the shop during the above hours.

Highlight of the tour through the shop will be the printing of a personalized card for each visitor stating he or she was a visitor at the Open House at the Stout Printshop during Printing Education Week.

Members of the S. T. S. will be on hand to explain and answer all questions possible. Men wearing hats made of newspaper comics and plain white paper are your servants for the tour. Take advantage of this chance to see a department of the Industrial Arts Division where much is done and very little heard about. Here is your opportunity to trample on grounds which are considered reserved only to printers. Don't miss this chance to Attend the Open House on Tuesday, January 16, from one till five o'clock.

"PAPA IS ALL" TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

University Theatre To Bring Famous Pennsylvania Dutch Play To Stout Auditorium

The University of Minnesota Theatre-on-Tour will present Patterson Greene's comedy, "Papa is All," tonight, January 11 at the Stout auditorium as the third lycium program for this year.

"Papa is All" is produced by the University Theatre and staged by Dr. Frank M. Whiting, Director of the theatre. The cast is composed of outstanding graduates of the theatre and the tour is directed by the University of Minnesota Department of Concerts and Lectures.

An unusual comedy with a unique plot, the play is based on a background of Mennonite manners. The title, "Papa is All," means, in the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect, "Papa is dead," and the fun of this agreeably disrespectful fable lies in the fact that the audience delights with his family when the ogre is done.

Papa is a tyrant, ugly tempered and brandishing a whip. He has religious scruples against machinery, motion pictures, and conveniences or pleasures of any kind. But his son and daughter suspect that his scruples are merely a way of keeping them on the farm as forced slave labor, and his wife is inclined to agree with her children. No one has any use for Papa. And so his death turns into a gay romp. The audience thrills with Mama and the children as they talk into their hard won telephone and listen with shivers of delight to their new doorbell. But this is only the beginning of a comedy which has many more laughs and surprises.

IE SUPERVISOR VISITS STOUT LABS, SHOPS

Following a recent visit to The Stout Institute, Merton Wheeler, supervisor of Industrial Education, City of Jefferson, Missouri, sent the letter below.

"It was a particular pleasure to me to have an experience which I have long desired, that of visiting Stout Institute. Naturally, after we visited the various classrooms, laboratories, and shops we formed impressions of your school. We are particularly interested in the modernization that has been taking place in your school plant. We were impressed by what had taken place in a number of your home economics laboratories and in certain of your shops.

"We had already formed some rather definite opinions about Stout graduates based on the observation of their work in this state and at the University. The men that we have known have given excellent accounts of themselves. They have been high type individuals, and have made excellent contribution to the cause of Industrial Education.

"I want to take this means of wishing for you and your great school every success."

Sincerely yours,
Merton Wheeler, Supervisor
Industrial Education

NEW BOOK IS ADDED FOR PRE-INDUCTEES

Fears are often the result of lack of information. A common fear, or at least an anxiety, among men between the ages of 18 and 26 concerns induction into the armed services. "The Inductees Handbook" (Library Call No. 355.02, R. 36) has been added to the library for the purpose of providing information that may serve as an antidote for such fears or anxieties. This volume is a general orientation to 35 aspects of service life arranged in chronological order. It is recommended reading for anyone who may be faced with induction or who may be concerned about someone who has already been inducted. The book may be obtained at The Stout Institute Library.

"SNOW BRAWL" TO BE HELD TOMORROW

On Saturday night, January 12 the Snow Brawl, an annual dance sponsored by the Pallas Athenes, will be held in the Stout Gym.

George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawkes will furnish the music for the dance from 9:30 till 11:30 p.m.

There will be special entertainment provided during intermission.

General Chairman of arrangements for the dance are Laverne Sonn, Doris Beyer, and Carolann Hammersten. Lois Peterson is in charge of decorations.

BRIDAL FEVER TO HIT HOME EC. STYLE SHOW

The Home Economics Club is going to present a style show sometime in the month of February. The show will consist of a review of bridal costumes from the years gone by. The girls taking part in presenting this show were busy during Christmas vacation looking through old trunks for any costume they can salvage. More definite information about the time and place of the style show will be given at a later date.

NINTH GRADERS PLAN SCHOOL LUNCH MENUS

What type of lunch did you eat today? Was it adequate? The ninth grade Home Economics class of the Menomonie High School is especially interested in planning good school lunches. On Tuesday, December 11, the class planned and prepared a school lunch which they served the following, December 12.

Why are school lunches a problem? The girls felt that it was ~~difficult~~ to plan a menu which was nutritious and yet easy to carry. They also wanted something which was not difficult to prepare and something which would keep well.

Student teachers for the class are Mrs. Wayne Coleman and Doris Haldeman. Sumi Doi has been the assisting methods student.

1S AND 2S
DEFERMENTS EXPLAINED

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, today announced that Selective Service will not make any special provisions to give students 30 days after the end of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice. General Hershey explained that such arrangements are not necessary this year as the 1951 amendments to the Selective Service law provide that students are henceforth to be deferred instead of having their induction postponed. They will, therefore, have ample opportunity after the completion of their academic year to enlist in the service of their choice.

The Selective Service Act of 1948 provided that any student who, while satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course, was ordered for induction would upon presenting the facts to his local board have his induction postponed until the end of his academic year. At the end of the year, the student became liable for immediate induction. The 1951 amendments to the Act changed this, General Hershey pointed out, by providing that any student pursuing a full-time course who was ordered for induction would, if he had never before been deferred as a student, be deferred in Class I-S until the end of his academic year, but he could receive only one such deferment.

A student who is entitled to a statutory I-S deferment must be ordered for induction, General Hershey pointed out, before he can be deferred by his local board. The law says that he shall be deferred "upon presenting the facts" that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course at the time the order for induction is issued. A student who is ordered for induction should not be thrown into a panic, General Hershey explained, all that is necessary is for him to request the Dean or Registrar to immediately give his local board official notice that he is a full-time student doing satisfactory work and that such work actually commenced prior to the date the order for induction was mailed. Enrollment, acceptance and registration do not count, actual attendance at classes is the prerequisite.

SSA MESSAGE

Welcome back after your two wonderful weeks with its work or loafing, love or lonesomeness, which ever it was.

Right now we would like to let you in on a little deal which will save all you movie goers a little money—a 1-most twenty cents each time you go to the show. With the cooperation of the State and Stout Theatres we have been able to set up the bargain. When you get your SSA and Athletic privilege cards during registration, all of you who are interested will be able to purchase for only two bits, an identification card, which, when shown at the ticket office of the Theatre will entitle you to a twenty cent deduction on each ticket.

Tonight the University of Minnesota Theatre on Tour will present Patterson Greene's delightful comedy, "Papa Is All," as the third lyceum program of the year. Tomorrow night our Blue Devils will play the Winona Teacher's basketball team, and after the game, don't forget to drop over to our Gym for the P. A.'s Snow Brawl.

Your SSA Officers,
Louie, Charlie, John, Rowena

The Selective Service law places upon each registrant the obligation of keeping the local board advised of his current status. It would therefore be a wise move, General Hershey suggested, for each student to have his school send official notice to the local board as soon as the student has been notified that he has passed his pre-induction physical examination. If the local board has been put on notice that the student is pursuing a full-time course, General Hershey advised, there will be little danger of a last minute mix-up which might result in the induction of a student legally entitled to a statutory I-S deferment.

The new Selective Service law provided for the Class I-S statutory deferment and gave the President authority to prescribe regulations governing the deferment of students in such numbers as he deemed necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety or interest. The President subsequently prescribed a Class II-S student deferment program. Students may be placed in this classification, General Hershey explained, at the discretion of their local boards. To assist the boards in determining which students should be given II-S deferments, a method was set up whereby students who are in the prescribed upper portion of the male members of their class or who made a score of 70 or better on the Selective Service - College Qualification Test may be considered by their local board for deferment. The law provides, however, that local boards are not required to defer men who meet one or both of the criteria. This is still discretionary on the part of the board. General policy is that students meeting either or both criteria will be deferred.

Students who meet one or both of the criteria for II-S deferment have a right of appeal if their local board does not defer them, General Hershey reminded students. The law provides that a student may appeal to the State Appeal Board within 10 days from the date the local board mails the notice that they have placed him in Class I-A. There is no particular form for taking an appeal, General Hershey explained, a letter to the local board setting forth the student's name and Selective Service number being all that is necessary. If the State Appeal Board sustains the local board but it is a split decision, General Hershey pointed out, the student then has a right to appeal to the National Selective Service Appeal Board. An appeal to the National Board is taken in the same manner as an appeal to the State Board, General Hershey explained. All that is necessary is another letter to the local board.

Hi Kids,

Welcome back to Stout and the new year.

Yes, girls, this is the one year in four that you have a good excuse for hooking your man. There are only 354 more shopping (hunting) days left this year.

Many Stout gals and guys are getting engaged and married without the girls doing the pursuing. (Or are they?) (Pursuing that is.)

Some of the lucky girls who brought back those precious stones on their third finger, left hand, are Jeanette Smith, Barb Sherwood, and Winifred Waite. Carol Zuege received hers when Lee Flanders was home on leave. June Higgins also got hers when her fellow from home was on leave.

Nancy Ceaglske and Dick Jung are another pair who have become engaged. Jean Parson received her diamond for Christmas and will be married in February. Another to become engaged was Jane Martinson, a Menomonie girl.

Jean Van Liew surprised most of us by getting married to Russ Boettner, a Stout graduate, during the holidays. Kenny Lantto's marriage to his Barbara back home surprised many of us too, although he has been going steady for quite a few years.

Pat Krause and Gene Traxler were married December 29, and Donald Landsverk and Donna Gardiner will be married very soon.

In the alumni news we find that Al Brown and Mary Lou Groom were married just before Christmas. They both graduated last spring.

Good luck and loads of happiness to all of you.

The holiday vacations were strenuous for many Stout students. Bob Anderson attended two formals at home. We also heard that Bob Miller went out in 1951 and didn't return until the next year. Happy New Year Bob.

Jody Bain was happy to return to school. Of course she had extracurricular interests to look forward to. We're sure Walter was happy to return too.

We'll leave now but we'll see you tonight at the lyceum and tomorrow night at the game and the P. A. Snow Brawl.

Briefly yours,
Key and Hole.

TOWER CLOCK GIVES TIME FOR 54 YEARS

Have you ever wondered about the clock in the Tower of the Industrial Education building? Well, we did, so we checked with Mr. H.O. Strozinsky, Chief Engineer of The Stout Institute.

He informed us that the clock has been there ever since the building was built in 1897. The bell was installed at that time too, for many years the bell rang the time of day. The mechanism has been out of commission since before 1919, but many of the older citizens of Menomonie can remember the ringing of the Tower clock every hour on the hour.

At one time here at Stout "hazing" was practiced by the fraternities, and one year a group of fellows cracked the bell a little and each succeeding year made the crack larger.

The clock is air and electrically driven with relays. It is controlled by a master clock in Dean Bowman's office.

The Tower itself is 140 feet high, and the bell weighs 7000 pounds. In case some of you may have wondered about the height of the flag pole, too, we found that it is 102 feet high from the concrete base to the ball which is 18 inches in diameter.

The engineering staff under Mr. Strozinsky, services the clock and keeps it in running order. The Tower lights are also maintained and replaced by his staff.

INTER-RELIGIOUS COUNCIL ELECTS FIRST OFFICERS

The Inter-Religious Council, a new organization on our campus this year is composed of representatives from the various student religious groups. These groups have as one of their primary objectives, service to the religious needs of the Stout students.

The Council is a composite group of students, faculty, and clergy. They intend to promote understanding among these three, to administer religious activities that are officially approved by the Council and The Stout Institute and to recommend policies to The Stout Institute for the stimulation of student religious development.

The members of the Council are representatives from the following church and other religious groups: Wesley Student Fellowship, Newman Club, Stout Christian Fellowship, Congo Club, Lutheran Student Association, YWCA, Baptist Youth Group and the Canterbury Club. The representative from The Stout Institute, appointed by the president is Dr. Iverson.

The activities of the Council so far this year have been directed toward setting up this new organization. The constitution was approved and ratified and the first officers were elected. For the 1951-52 term they are President Jean Van Liew; Vice President, Fred Kajihari; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Mary McCalmont.

A committee composed of the officers of the Council, The Stout Institute representative, and one clergyman have been at work to propose an agenda for the Council, for recommendation to the participating organization.

TWO GRANDMOTHERS ENROLLED IN HE HERE

Interesting news articles have been written in the past few years and lately of men and women who re-entered or entered college in their older years. Here at Stout we have two such people. Mrs. Francis Schneider and Mrs. Alice Gibson who interestingly enough, are both grandmothers.

These two women are both from Menomonie. Mrs. Schneider received a two year diploma from Stout in 1925 before her marriage, and this fall she decided to finish her last two years. She is still undecided between an Institutional Management or Educational major and is at present taking subjects which will help her decide between the two. These are: Institutional foods preparation, Educational Psychology, General Economics, and Methods of Teaching Home Economics.

When asked if she found school more difficult now she said that she definitely did and that it is difficult to apply herself to studying now and it isn't as easy for her to remember what she reads. She does, however, enjoy her classes extremely and finds them very interesting.

Mrs. Schneider is the mother of four children. Mary Lou, who is Personnel Director for Kimberly Clark Paper Co. at Menasha, George, a junior at River Falls State college, Peter, who runs her store for her while she attends school, and Phillip, who is in the fifth grade. She is the grandmother of one granddaughter, Kathy, eight months old, who is the daughter of her son and his wife, George.

Mrs. Schneider said that she always had a desire to return and finish school and since she now has that opportunity, she is fulfilling her desire.

Mrs. Gibson, who will graduate in June, has a double major in Institutional Administration and Dietetics. Before her marriage she attended Eau Claire State college and Wisconsin University for a period of one year at each. After her husband's death in 1941, she moved to Menomonie and took over the ownership of the Anchor Cafe. In 1943 she decided to enter Stout and obtain her degree. Due to circumstances, Mrs. Gibson was unable to finish more than a year than so she waited until this fall to start her last year.

Mrs. Gibson has two daughters, Betty who is married and lives in Menasha, and Phoebe, who is the wife of Lauren Larson, a junior here at Stout. She is the grandmother of four, Dwight, 18 months old, and Gibson, three months old who are Betty's children; and Cheryl, three years old, and Larry, one, Phoebe's children.

"As far as studying is concerned," Mrs. Gibson said, "I find it harder to get down to books and reference work but I appreciate general lectures and understand them better, having had a chance to obtain a wider knowledge of things during the years since my early college days."

KFS REPORTS

Prior to the Christmas vacation Kalpa Phi Sigma sponsored their first annual caroling party. Guest at this event were members from the four social sororities: Hyperians, Philos, SMAs and PAs.

The evening's program consisted of caroling at the Memorial and County hospitals, and Lynwood Hall. Following this cavalcade of songs, a buffet luncheon was served in the Stout Union clubroom. Each girl was presented a small memento. Approximately 60 students were in attendance.

Word from reliable sources informs us that there is movement in the underground. We cannot divulge the information as of now, but if you remember "Oh, you lucky kids," you can expect more of the same.

WHITEWATER TO INVADE MENOMONIE MONDAY

BLUE DEVILS MEET STRONG SOUTHERN TEAM 1 WEEK AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

Coach Ray C. Johnson's harried Stout cagers will play one of their toughest games of the season this Monday night at 8:00 when they take the floor against the Whitewater Quakers in the Menomonic high gym. This will be the third conference game for the Blue Devils who will be going after their first victory against league foes.

The strong Whitewater squad, 17 point victors over Stout in their only encounter last season, pulled in second in conference play, and were third in offensive and defensive records last year. They lost only one letterman via graduation and have ten returning lettermen to form a nucleus of one of the strongest teams in the conference this year.

The returning lettermen, who average about an even six foot, and include 6'-5" center Wesley Herbst and 6'-4" forward, Bob Polzin, comprise the team least hurt by graduation in the league. Herbst, third high scorer in the conference last year, is a dead-eye on hook shots and, together with Dick Noonan, first in conference scoring last year, have kept their opposition going in circles most of this year too.

Whitewater will come to Stout two days after their only meeting of the season with Eau Claire, another conference power, in what may well be the most important game in the conference this year. If the Quakers are fired up for their big game against Eau Claire, they couldn't help but be either a victory, strong squad or a vengeance happy five out for Stout blood to make up for an Eau Claire win.

The Blue Devils too, however will just have finished a tough tilt against Winona and should be right in there to give the Quakers lots tougher opposition than expected. Coach Johnson has been prepping his boys for this tough one and is hoping for an upset victory. Starting lineup for this game will be the same as against Winona.

MICHIGAN TECH. S. DAKOTA BOW TO RIFLE CLUB

The Stout Institute Rifle Club team concluded its pre-Christmas match schedule with a win over the varsity team of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, 1892 to 1811. This is the second time in six years that this trick has been turned.

The individual scores for the Stout rifle team are: Clarence Poling 282, Stan Meyer 278, Ed Praeli 277, Glenn Vosis 274, and Joe Luetkemeyer 271. For Michigan Institute of Technology: Johnson 280, Dahlberg 268, Jamar 262, Larson 261, and Berry 250. While the Stout team won this match easily, Michigan Tech showed that they are losing no time in replacing the losses suffered via graduation last June and will prove to be a formidable foe in the future.

In previous matches the Stout team defeated the ROTC team of the University of South Dakota and lost a close one to the varsity squad of the University of Connecticut 1859-1878.

The Stout Institute Rifle Team returns to competition on the 12th of January with a postal match against the ROTC team of Parks Air College, East St. Louis, Illinois.

RIVER FALLS DOWNS STOUT BY SCORE, 81-62

With Stout's two top scorers benched on fouls, the River Falls team exploded with a final period scoring spree to down the Blue Devils 81-62 in a Wisconsin State College conference game played at River Falls on December 20, the night before school let out for Christmas vacation.

Despite the 19 point difference that showed up in the final score, the game was a nip and tuck battle throughout the first three quarters with Stout trailing by only one point, 32-33 at the half time. In the third quarter the Blue Devils took the lead, only to lose it when Markley and Erickson left the game on fouls.

Big Roger Kuss, center for the River Falls five dumped in 26 points via ten field goals and six free throws to lead both teams in the scoring column.

Erickson led the Blue Devils with 16 tallies, Markley dumped in 11, and Kieffer 10.

Sports Roundup

With one win and six losses behind them, the Stout Blue Devils get into the post-Christmas basketball swing this Saturday night when they meet the Winona Warriors in a non-conference game.

Coach Johnson said today there is a possibility that Hilary Janikowski, who pulled a leg muscle earlier in the season, may be back in the lineup for the Winona game. He said the senior guard, who graduates at the end of this semester, has been working out during Christmas vacation in an effort to get the injured leg in shape so he can play his last games for Stout.

Glenn Tobias, a freshman, who suffered a dislocated shoulder in the second St. Mary's game, Johnson said will definitely not be back in the lineup Saturday. There is a possibility that he will not see action again this season, the cage mentor added.

Johnson also announced a change in the schedule which moves the Whitewater contest from January 21 to January 14, giving the Blue Devils three instead of two games before the semester ends on January 18. The other game will be against Stevens Point on January 19, but Johnson said those freshmen who are eligible the second semester will not be able to play in that game.

Three cagers who become eligible for second semester play are Don Steele, Dick Cheke, and Olka. They will lend strength to Johnson's squad of 13 players. He said Janikowski is the only player he will lose in first semester graduation.

But the big question on tap now is, "How are we going to do against Winona and Whitewater?" That is a good question, and not a very encouraging one. For this reporter, who was lucky on his last two score predictions—I called the La Crosse score as a fifteen point win for the Indians and they won by 16, and predicted a 10 point Stout victory against Michigan College of education which widened into about 25 points—the Winona game looks almost like a tossup. The Warriors, who dropped their last game with Eau Claire by a whopping thirty points, and came up with only a 15 won and 8 lost record last year, lost four of their first stringers and don't have the power they had last year. I call that one pretty even, although the Warriors seem to have about a five point edge.

Whitewater, as most of you remember, I called for top in the conference. Their record so far this year seems to point that way, so I will give them a 15-25 point edge over Stout.

However, next Saturday is the Stevens Point game. This looks like a chance for the Blue Devils to go places. Watch the Stoutonia for further developments on that game.

BLUE DEVILS TO MEET WINONA

HERE SATURDAY

The Blue Devils will open their post-vacation basketball season tomorrow night when they meet Winona of the Minnesota State Teacher's College Conference in a non-conference game in the Menomonic high school gym, starting at 8:00 P.M. This will be the first game for Coach Johnson's cagers since their 81-62 setback at the hands of River Falls on December 20.

Coach Lyle Arns' Winona Warriors, co-champs of their conference last season, have a strong team again this year. Although they lost four first stringers through graduation, they have six lettermen back, including five who tip the six foot mark, and including high scorer Rod Lingenfelter.

The Blue Devils, who sport a 1 won, 6 lost record so far this year, will be out to win this one and get on the winning boat for their tilt with Whitewater, a conference championship contender, on the following Monday. Johnson's cagers, in hopes of a victory Saturday, have been working out hard for the last week and are hoping for the return of veteran guard Hilary Janikowski, who has been out most of the season with an injured leg.

Possible starters for the Blue Devils will be Markley, Debrauska, Erickson, Wegner and Janikowski.

FOB AND SIGMA TEAMS TOP BOWLING LEAGUE

FOB fraternity team number one and the Sigma aggregations are the red-hot squads in intramural bowling circles at the time of this Stoutonia publication. Both squads, who have not yet met, have 8 won and 0 lost records and lead the league. Both squads were contenders for the crown last year, and this year are far outclassing the Graduate Men's Club who boast only a 5 won and 7 lost record. The FOB squad is also possessor of the high three game total, with a 1839 point record. "Flip" Fleming and Ed Steinike are tied for the top in individual three game series, with 487 points each.

ALOHA! ENJOY THE BALMY ORCHID BREEZE

"Boy, was that a gem!" Yes, That was the statement on the tongue of every Stout student last week. In case you don't remember, last week was exam week.

This week we will not attempt to place any pressure upon that over-worked brain of yours. Instead, it is the aim of Kappa Phi Sigma to present a scintillating weekend of entertainment. Once again, KFS will sponsor its annual Orchid Dance. The choicest of Hawaiian orchids will be presented to each of the first 150 girls attending the dance (if Northwest Airlines comes through).

In addition, the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity will present a famous Harvester cigar to the first 25 men to reach the door.

Furthermore, the bargain of all bargains is yet to come. By special arrangement, KFS will award to some lucky person—whose choice it will be to select a friend, male or female—an evening of free entertainment. This will include a trek to the movies and a steak dinner at an outlying establishment.

Music will be furnished by George "Orchids" Soderberg. Dancing will start at 9:30 in the Stout gym and will continue until 12:00. This dance will start immediately following the final whistle of the Stout-Eau Claire game.

Intermission entertainment will be furnished as a farewell gesture by Paul Kokubun who is a graduating member of KFS. He will be assisted by a semi-secret troupe. Jack Luy will be master of ceremonies.

Also, by agreement with the Stout Student Association, all first semester freshmen and transfer students will be admitted absolutely free of charge.

CHORAL GROUP TO PRESENT PROGRAM HERE

The Macalester College Choral Readers, under the direction of Prof. Mary Gwen Owen, will present a program of choral readings in the Stout auditorium on the evening of January 30 at 8 p.m. Admission to this program, sponsored by the Federated Women's clubs of Menomonie, will be $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students. Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at the Anchor Cafe.

"Slumber Songs of the Madonna" will be out of action for tomorrow by the Macalester Choral Readers. The group will also do both serious and humorous numbers from the works of Max Shulman, Walt Whitman, Stephen Vincent Benet, Vachel Lindsay, James Thurber, Dr. Seuss, Carl Sandberg, E. B. White, and Euripides.

In 1930, Prof. Owen organized the first choral reading group in the northwest at Macalester College, and has been its director ever since. The group does both humorous and serious readings and accomplishes its main results by rapid changes of facial expression, voice changing, and gesturing.

Prof. Owen has studied speech at the University of Oxford, England, The University of London, and worked one summer with the Art Players of New York City. She is the author of a number of articles on drama and verse reading and is the founder of the St. Paul College Theater. She also holds a master of arts degree from the University of Minnesota.

STOUT CAFETERIA IS REDECORATED

On returning to school Monday morning, many students were surprised and pleased to find the cafeteria repainted. The bottom half of the walls are painted red and the top half are a snowy white.

I have heard many students commenting that the improvements marvelous. It really does give a cheery atmosphere and a large number of students seem to be enjoying it.

MAP TO SEE "GENTLEMEN PREFER BLONDES"

The Manual Arts Players are going to Minneapolis tomorrow to see the stage play, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." This is an annual trip which the MAP and their advisor, Mr. Norman Ziemann take each year. During the winter season outstanding plays are brought to Minneapolis and the MAP members are quick to take advantage of the opportunity to see them.

It seems that there is a certain type of challenge each year to see who doesn't get lost going through St. Paul to Minneapolis.

SURVEY REVEALS ENROLLMENT FALLS

The following is taken from Higher Education, the bulletin of the Office of Education, Washington, D.C. December 15, 1951.

"The number of students enrolled in the Nations colleges and universities has continued to decline for the second straight year, although the drop in the number of students registering for the autumn session this year was considerably less than had generally been expected. Approximately 2,116,000 students are attending higher educational institutions this fall. This number represents a decline of 7.8 percent from last fall. The number of first-time students attending college is down 8.7 percent from last fall. Veteran students now number 388,747 — 32.1 percent fewer than in 1950.

"These dates are based on the annual survey of opening session enrollments conducted each fall by the Office of Education.

"Teachers colleges sustained greatest losses in total enrolment — 11.0 percent. These institutions reported 18.5 percent fewer males and 4.0 percent fewer female students this year than last year.

"There has been much discussion in the last several months concerning the effect that the lowering of the draft age would have on the male freshman class of 1951. Although the decline of 12.3 percent in male students initially entering college is somewhat greater than might have been expected under normal conditions, it is, nevertheless, surprisingly small when considered in the light of the dire forecast widely made last spring. Two factors are suggested as contributing to the relatively small decline in the number of new male students: (1) The average age of college entrance is still below the induction age regulations require that men in older age groups be inducted before younger men are inducted. Thus a 19-year-old freshman may not be called up so long as older men are still available for selection.

Veterans of World War II, who in 1946 comprised more than half of the entire student body of colleges, have now decreased to less than one-fifth. This fall, only slightly over 18 percent of all students are veterans. Considering only the male students, however, the veterans still form a sizable component. About 27 percent of the male students currently enrolled are veterans.

"The loss of veteran students is greater in publicly controlled institutions than in those under private control. In the former group, a loss of 37 percent was registered as compared to 28 percent in the latter. Ardent hit among the publicly controlled institutions by the loss of veteran students are the teachers colleges, where 41 percent fewer were enrolled this year than last.

"The survey shows that the total number of male students has declined 10.5 percent, while the number of women students dropped only 1.3 percent."

L. BLACKBOURN SPEAKS AT JOINT BANQUET

After a delicious dinner of turkey stuffed with sage the athletes of The Stout Institute, Menomonie high school and the Dunn County Agriculture school sat back and listened to a sage stuffed with turkey. The sage being the Head Football coach of the University of Marquette, Lisle Blackburn.

The Athletic Recognition Banquet, sponsored by the Menomonie Chamber of Commerce was held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church last night. Jim Solberg was the master of ceremonies. Guests for this banquet were Verne C. Fryklund, President, The Stout Institute; C. A. Bowman, Dean of Industrial Education, The Stout Institute; William G. Ballentine, Superintendent and Ralph Bongey, Principal, Menomonie high school; Francis Haugh, Principal, Dunn County School of Agriculture; and Rev. H. A. Pankow, who gave the Benediction. Mr. George E. Sipple, President of the Chamber of Commerce gave the welcoming address to the athletes, guests, and Mr. Blackburn.

General chairman of this banquet was Lee Score. He was ably assisted by Peter Jeatran, Les McKay, R. C. Johnson, Jim Palmer, Gus Bakke, Winston Vasey, Al Lelstico and Harold Halvorsen.

INFORMATION GIVEN ON GRADUATE WORK

Since January of 1946 the graduate program at Stout has been operating on a year round basis. Prior to that time this work was offered only during summer session. At the present time twenty-five students are taking graduate work, seventeen on a full time basis. The others are seniors who are on a split program.

Seniors who graduate at end of the first semester and seniors who do not have a full program second semester will find that the graduate program offers them an opportunity for further professional training.

Ray A. Wigen, Director of Graduate Studies, will be glad to talk to interested seniors in the Graduate Office in the IE Building.

HE CLUB TO SHOW WEDDING GOWNS FEB. 8

Members of the Stout Home Economics club are busily preparing for a style show of wedding gowns which will be presented Friday evening, February 8, in the Stout auditorium. Members of the script committee have chosen "Through the Years" as the theme for the show which will be presented with typical settings to correspond with the date the dress was used.

As of this writing, the oldest dress dates back to the Civil War. It was obtained by Nancy Bunker who will model it. Another old one was obtained by Carolyn Schaff. This one was used in 1905. More dresses are being obtained all the time with letters going out to friends and grandmothers asking the use of theirs.

Committees and chairman at work include the script committee headed by Joan Fairweather; properties, Jean Baker, costumes, Carolyn Schauf; make up, Ann Rossmiller tickets, Beverly Henderson; staging, Carolann Hammersten; and publicity, Gerry Erickson. Ginny Jacobson is general chairman for the event.

A small donation of 25c will be asked for the tickets which may be purchased from members of the club or at the door.

FACULTY MEN ATTEND WEA AREA MEETING

Tuesday, January 8, Mr. Harbour and Mr. Betterley attended a Wisconsin Educational Association sponsored Public Relations conference and workshop in Eau Claire for officers and teacher representatives in the WEA northwest district. Mr. Harbour and Mr. Betterley, President and secretary respectively of Stout's local WEA organization represented Stout Institute at these meetings.

The meetings and luncheon were held from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the Holiday Room of the Hotel Eau Claire. The program was introduced by Mr. Henry Weinlick, WEA Locals Field Representative, and featured Dr. Stewart Harrol, Director of Public Relations Studies at the University of Oklahoma and L. W. Ashby, National Education Association Representative. Dr. Harrol was particularly impressive and gave many constructive suggestions for the promotion of the public relations of educational institutions. Having written several articles and books and spoken throughout the United States and Canada on this subject, he is an outstanding, authoritative, humorous and dynamic speaker on public relations. Mr. Betterley, a member of Stout's Assembly-Lyceum committee was very interested in the possibility of having him appear at convocation some date.

Mr. Ashby gave informative material on the activities of the NEA and the growth of the organization. He also led a very revealing discussion on the factors controlling and influencing membership. Mr. Weinlick conducted a typical WEA organization local meeting to improve procedure and methods of handling successful meetings for WEA locals.

Mr. Harbour and Mr. Betterley unanimously reported a very beneficial conference and a day well spent.

MR. FRAILEY ACCEPTS WEA POSITION

Charles Frailey, director of music at the Stout Institute during the past two and a half years, has resigned to accept the position of Director of Research with the Wisconsin Education Association at Madison, announced President Fryklund of The Stout Institute.

Since Mr. Frailey came to Stout, he has taught classes in music, and has been directing the band, the Stout Symphonic Singers, and the Girl's Glee Club.

Mr. Frailey has a Bachelor's and Master's degree from the University of Wisconsin earned in 1940 and 1948 respectively, and he is now near the completion of the work for his Doctor's degree. He is a member of three honorary fraternities, Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Delta Kappa. He won both Sophomore and Senior honors at Wisconsin.

Before coming to The Stout Institute, Frailey directed music courses in Wisconsin and Montana high schools. He spent four years, 1942-1946, in the U.S. Army. After his years in the service he taught instrumental music part time at East High School in Madison, and also acted as critic teacher in vocal music at the University of Wisconsin.

Both students and faculty members wish Mr. Frailey much success in his new undertakings.

RADIO FOR INFIRMARY WELL LIKED

A number of weeks ago the Governing Board appropriated funds to buy an experimental radio for the infirmary. The model purchased was a Stromberg-Carlson with a detachable speaker. This feature allows the speaker to be removed from the regular cabinet and placed under the pillow of a bed. This makes it especially useful for hospitals or sick rooms where noise must be kept down to a minimum.

Beverly Wiseman, the school nurse, reports that the radio is being well received by the students who are forced to stay at the infirmary. The radio helps to reduce the monotony of the long days. Miss Wiseman has stated that the radio works well and that she personally likes it a great deal.

The governing board originally planned to buy two radios of this type but then decided that one should be purchased as an experiment. With all the excellent reports, it should not be long before the second radio is added to the equipment at the infirmary.

STOUT LOSES 4 TO ARMED FORCES

Stout's male population on the campus will be slightly reduced the second semester because of letters certain lucky people have received from their Uncle Sam.

Lee Carlson, Stout junior from Fence, Wisconsin, and his brother, Laurence "Stub" Carlson also a Stout junior will be entering the Army by the end of February. Their plans were not too definite when they were last contacted.

Bill Sherman, a sophomore from Beloit, Wisconsin, will also be joining the ranks of the U.S. Army.

Tom Miller, a sophomore from Neenah, Wisconsin, has joined Uncle Sam's Air Force and will report to Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Texas.

We are all sorry to see these boys go and hope that they will be back with us in the near future.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

"What's the matter with the team?" shouted the cheerleader. "....." was the reply. We can't fill in the blank because there weren't enough students at the last two games to answer back. Where are you, the supposedly staunch supporters of the Blue and White?

Any athletic team will strive to the utmost if backed by an enthusiastic cheering section. So if YOU, the students, desire to place blame of the thus far dismal showing of the Blue Devil basketball squad, just look into the nearest mirror and you will see the reason. Apparently you want nothing to do with any athletic team, unless it wins all.

You, the students, do not seem to have the courage to face defeat by another athletic team. So if you have that attitude why should the team strive to the utmost to win? Yet the team shows up for all games and practices. The students don't even show up for the games unless they think it will be a lead-pipe cinch.

Tomorrow night the Blue Devils will meet the Bluegolds from Wisconsin State College Eau Claire. It is possible that there will be more students driving down from Eau Claire than Stout students walking several blocks to the game. And, unless the students in attendance at Stout don't show some pride in their school, it will be quite probable. Remember win, lose, or draw, it is your team in action. Let's back them to greatest extent of our capabilities.

WHAT'S COOKING?

"What's cooking?" This was the comment heard in the Stout corridors preceding the dinner made by the ninth grade homemaking class on January 17, 1952.

Swiss steak, porcupine meat balls, and pot roast all cooked in pressure sauce pans headed the menu, while mashed or rice potatoes, frozen peas, jello salad, and yeast rolls served as the accompaniments. The dinner was brought to a close with cake topped with chocolate sauce and whipped cream.

The girls who planned their own menus, and prepared and served the food were: Marlys Bakke, Bonnie Beckwith, Geraldine Berger, Janet Bertelson, Jean Hibbard, Joan Hobick, Ramona Jensen, Marlys Johnson, Shirley Jorgenson, Beverly Nerison, Donna Neubauer, Jeanette Rogers, Peggy Ryder, Mavis Schultz, Pat Stocklyn, Lavera Stratton, and Mary Weissinger.

We all enjoyed the company of our guests who were: Mr. Bongey, Miss Moede, Miss Elliott, Miss Anderson, and the teachers of the class, Mrs. Senn, and Miss Krushas.

GIVE! GIVE TO THE MARCH OF DIMES NOW

Polio is definitely on the increase in America. Four successive years of tripled incidence make this observation inescapable. The march of Polio is outpacing the March of Dimes.

Because this upsurge is of such vital interest to the young people of the nation, I would like to present you with some of the facts that lie behind the urgency of the 1952 March of Dimes campaign this January.

Mounting polio cases indicate a final total of 28,500 patients for 1951. Coming after three record-breaking years of high incidence, this leaves us with a four-year polio total of 132,000 cases as compared with 113,000 for the entire previous decade.

Add up these figures and you will see that we have averaged 33,000 cases annually in the last four years in comparison with slightly over 11,000 a year during the previous decade.

Here is another way of putting it: During these last four years we have spent $79,000,000 in March of Dimes funds on patient care throughout the United States in contrast to $41,000,000 spent for the same purpose in the entire previous decade!

All of this has posed a staggering problem—particularly in view of rising costs and the increasing backlog of expensive long-term cases that must be carried over year after year.

In 1951 your March of Dimes helped provide care for 45,000 children and adults stricken with polio on prior years—in addition to the four out of five current cases that needed and received help.

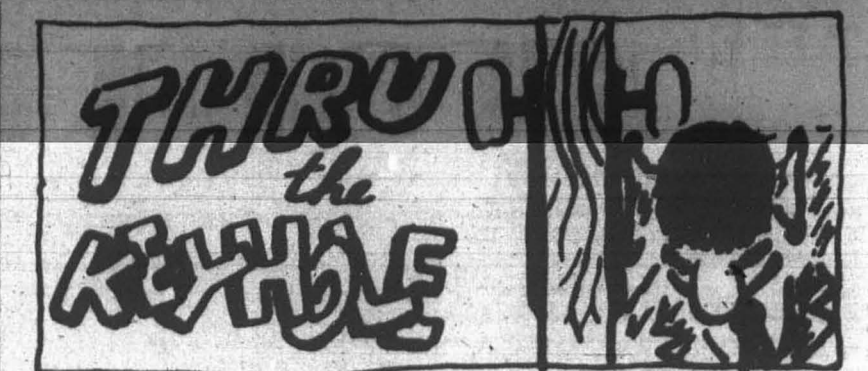

Everyone touched by polio benefits in some way through services made possible by the March of Dimes, but in 1951 there were more than 67,000 patients who received direct financial aid from the National Foundation. This included carry-over patients and four out of five new cases reported in 1951.

All of this will explain why the National Foundation finds itself in debt for the fourth year in succession as the books are closed on 1951. The current debt is estimated at $5,000,000. It is only through the help of every person in the country that this devastating disease can be whipped. Stout students are urged to wholeheartedly contribute to this worthwhile organization.

Remember, the next person to benefit from the March of Dimes may be you, or your sweetheart, or your brother or sister.

Hi again,

Here we are at the start of a new semester. We know you have all made some resolutions for these next 18 weeks so stick to them.

Since the Stoutonia hasn't been printed for two weeks, we'll have to refresh your memory on the happenings since then.

We looked around between the acts of the play, "Papa Is All," but we didn't see very many couples. We saw rows and rows of girls and rows and rows of fellows, but why couldn't they get together - especially for a FREE lyceum?

A few of the couples we did see were Bill Wensel and Pat Peterson, Cornelius Mahoney and Audrey Porter, Charlie Schiferl and Nadine Brown, Loren King and Shirley Lepien, Howard Vetter and Doris Heil, John Jacobson and Muriel Roffers, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry LaBorde.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Landsverk who were married December 12 at Our Savior's Lutheran church.

Other events which occurred that week end include the pinning of Pat Allard by Danny Gordon, and of Nancy Elam by Dick Duthler. Dan Cupid must have been busy lately.

At the P. A. dance that Saturday we saw Larry Mosher with Nancy Hanshus, Al Wegner with Jo Gritt, Swede Larson with Phyllis Patch, and Milan Huley with Rose Pepper. Other couples were Phyllis Horning and Jim Bailing, Gene Sawyer with Donna Appel, and Mimi MacLachlan with her Stan.

The P.A.'s were out in full force at the dance. Some of them there with their dates were Bertie Harris and Dick Cheke, Bev and Bub Ryder, Nordeen and John Cook, Pat and Gene Traxler, Rose Grzadziewski and Wally Christensen, Jan Benedict and Paul Kokubun, and Charmaine Chopp and Augie Schultz.

It looked like most of the students "took off" after their last finals because the town of Menomonie was pretty deserted last week end. We did notice Ray Burkhalter and Ruth Feldt and Phyllis Lumby and Warren Tiede in the otherwise empty Union Friday night.

We'll see you at the game and dance tomorrow night. Get out and cheer for the team.

We remain faithfully yours,
Key and Hole

THE OPERATORS CORNER

In the dark of night two safe-breakers entered a bank. One approached the safe, sat down on the floor, took off his shoes and socks, and started to turn the dial of the safe with his toes.

"What's the matter?" said his pal, "let's open this thing and get out of here."

"Naw, it'll only take a minute longer and we'll drive them fingerprint experts nuts."

Removing his shoes, the husband climbed the stairs, opened the door of the bedroom, entered, and closed it after him without being detected. Just as he was about to get into bed, his wife, aroused from slumber, turned and sleepily said, "Is that you, Fido?" The husband, relating the story later, said, "For once in my life I had real presence of mind. I licked her hand."

A revenue officer was assigned to investigate some Kentucky characters. As he entered the house, a bright-looking young lad greeted him.

"Where's your pappy?" the officer asked.

"Pappy's up at the still."

"I'll give you a dollar if you'll take me up there," offered the officer.

"All right," said the boy. "Give me the dollar."

"I'll give it to you when we get back."

"No sir, mister give it to me now, insisted the youngster "You ain't a-comin' back!"

A wealthy farmer decided to go to church one Sunday. After services he approached the preacher with much enthusiasm. "Reverend, that was a dammed good sermon you gave."

Reverend: "I'm satisfied that you liked it, but I wish you wouldn't use those terms in expressing yourself."

Farmer: "I can't help it Reverend, I still think it was a dammed good sermon, and I was so impressed that I put a hundred dollar bill in the collection basket."

Reverend: "The hell you did!"

A young fellow applied for a job delivering milk, and the manager of the milk company asked his name.

"Jefferson," said the young fellow.

"And your first name?" inquired the manager.

"Thomas."

"Well," commented the manager, "that's a pretty well known name, isn't it?"

"I suppose so," said the applicant. "I've been delivering milk in this town for over three years."

"I want an E string for my violin," said the customer at a London music shop.

The girl clerk ducked behind the counter and came up with all the violin strings in stock. "Pick it hout yourself," said she. "I can't tell the blinking 'es from the shes."

Army recruit Eddie Giencke, of Milwaukee, tells of the tough sergeant who gave him a lecture on how the new army tried to keep brothers together in the service.

The sergeant asked the recruits: "Anybody here got a brother he wants to be with?"

Giencke held up his hand.

"Where is your brother?" the sergeant asked.

"Home," said Giencke.

The sergeant put him on K.P.

SNOW BRAWL DANCE TERMED A SUCCESS

Three life sized snowmen presided over the highly successful Pallas Athenes Snow Brawl dance held Saturday night, January 12, in the Stout gymnasium. Musical notes hung from the ceiling and wall silhouettes consisting of bass fiddles completed the decorations. George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks furnished the music. Entertainment consisted of singing by a group of Pallas Athene girls.

SKI CLUB HOLDS TWO OUTINGS

Saturday afternoon a group of members of the Ski Club went to Mt. Telemark. Then on Tuesday about 20 of them went to Deepwood.

On Saturday, February 3, the Ski Club will sponsor a dance. There will be further announcements on it. The Ski Club meets every 1st and 3rd Tuesday at 7:15 in room 122. Anyone interested in skiing is urged to come to the meetings. (even if you aren't a very good skier)

HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTS STYLE SHOW

The girls in the one o'clock eighth grade home economics class entertained their mothers at a style show and tea Thursday, January 17, at 4:00 in the Stout Auditorium and Harvey Memorial.

Making the garments for the style show took a great deal of work and patience. At times the task appeared almost too great, but near the finishing of the garments the girls began looking pleased and satisfied. Garments modeled included: pajamas, skirts, tommy coats, a blouse, and a jumper. Karen Kuester, as mistress of ceremonies, introduced the style show as a "young girl's dream." As each girl modeled her garment, Audrey Brietzman proceeded to describe her dream.

Immediately following the style show the girls served refreshments in the Harvey Memorial. Datebars, Chocolate chip cookies, mints, nuts, coffee, and punch were served. Jean Goehring and Gail Miller acted as door hostesses, while Sandra Miller and Velva King poured. All the refreshments were prepared by the girls. The goal of the style show and tea was the improvement of pupil, teacher, parent relationships. The student teachers in charge were Miss Christen and Mrs. Traxler.

CORRECTION

In a story which ran in last week's Stoutonia the list of married couples attending Stout was incomplete. During that week we found that Mr. and Mrs. James Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cartwright and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Coleman are also attending Stout. We ask their pardon in this error.

GLENN BROOKS TELLS OF MONTANA POSITION

Mr. Glenn Brooks, January 1952 graduate, is teaching in the High School at Whitefish, Montana. He recently wrote:

"I am enjoying my teaching here at Whitefish. I have two classes of drawing and one of woodwork. The shop is one year old. The wood equipment is all new Delta machinery."

"The town of Whitefish has about 5000 people. It is situated at the head of a long narrow horseshoe valley, and the mountains come right up to the edge of town. Skiing is the big sport here."

MENOMONIE HIGH HE STUDENTS PRESENT STYLE REVIEW IN HARVEY

January eighteenth was a big day for the eleventh and twelfth grade homemaking classes of Menomonie High School. They presented their "Around the Clock" Style Review. of The Stout Institute to parents and friends.

The script committee, composed of Vera Dale, Anne Holden, Lila Knopps, and Jean Sommervold, cleverly carried the theme throughout the show. Alice Peterson, the narrator, introduced each girl and told something about her ensemble. She moved the hands on the big clock in the front of the room as the girls modeled garments to be worn at different times of the day. Carol Sager's piano music furnished a pleasant background throughout the review. A display table showing the garments the girls made for others proved to be of great interest to everyone. Betty Homer and Bernice Jacobson were the door hostesses. Immediately following the style review, coffee, cookies, mints, and nuts were served to the guests. Marlene Nichols poured while Ann Townsend and Elaine Kistner replenished the table. Lorraine Lemke, Marna Tiller, Dorothy Zahrones, and Anne Holden were room hostesses. The clean-up committee consisted of Beverly Bemis, Janice Christensen, Donna Otto, and Audrey Reinecke. Miss Blaser, Miss Young, and Miss Anderson were the instructors for these classes.

MORE NEW BOOKS PLACED IN LIBRARY

Among the new books that have just been put on the shelves for our use and enjoyment are the following books that will be of interest to many readers:

The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover is the first volume of ex-president Hoover's autobiography. It covers the period from 1874, when he was born in Iowa of Quaker parentage, to 1920 when he was appointed Secretary of Commerce. Much of the narrative was written years ago and so has an immediacy it would not have if written from memory.

The Peron Era, by Robert J. Alexander, is an account of the rise of Peron and Peronism in Argentina. The book shows how General Peron took over Argentina and brought the country under neofascist domination. It is not a biography, but an account of Peron's rise to power.

Man of the Family, by Ralph Moody, is a continuation of the Moody family's story, begun in Little Britches. After his father died, eleven-year-old Ralph became the chief bread-winner of the family.

BLUE DEVILS TO MEET FAVORED EAU CLAIRE

To Play Blue Golds
Saturday Night in High School Gym

Tomorrow night, January 26th, the Blue Devils will meet Jim Bos and company from Eau Claire State College in the Menomonie High School gym. The Blue Golds, who have a 3-2 record in conference play this season, who have dropped to Whitewater and River Falls th conference darkhorse.

Don Galuske and Lyle Bulmer, two of the Blue Golds strongest reserves, will be out of action for tomorrow night's game with a bad case of the measles, so Blue Devil hopes are increasing. However, other Eau Claire regulars, Stan Dufur, Bob Howard, Cornell Torgesen, and George Billmeyer, in addition to Mister Bos, will be in action as the Blue Devils face one of their roughest opponents of the year.

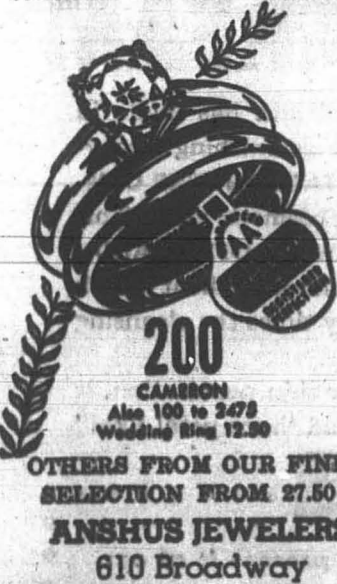

Two Eau Claire freshmen, who will probably be seeing a lot of action tomorrow night are Greg Green and Mike Hanson, who stand 6' and 6'2" respectively. They are both candidates for the center slot next year when senior Bos graduates. Green looked very good in action against Roger Kuss of River Falls when that aggregation dumped the Blue Golds.

Dufur and Billmeyer are the main scoring threats so far this year for Eau Claire. Du Frane is the set-shot artist for the Blue Golds who gave Stout so much trouble last year, and Billmeyer specializes in drive ins.

BADMINTON AND SWIMMING NEW WAA ACTIVITIES

Badminton and swimming will be keeping the girls in shape during the next month as the Womens Athletic Association begins two new sports.

Each month has meant a new type of activity for the athletically minded women of Stout Institute. During the month of October the volleyballs were flying in the two tournaments held. November brought in Deck Tennis, a team sport and shuffleboard, an individual sport. December and January were the most exciting of all with the basketball tournament.

Bernie Gunderman will be sports head for Badminton with assistance from Nyla Bock.

Swimming is a new sport on the WAA roster, so everyone is urged to sign up to make a success of it. You don't have to be able to swim.

This is the beginning of a new semester so any girls who are tired of sitting all day and would like to let off a little steam may join the organization. Just sign up for swimming or badminton and come to the next meeting.

FEHRENBACH PLANS FOR 5 YEARS ??????

This past quarter in Mr. Barnard's Elementary Composition class, Neil Fehrenbach paved the way for the making of a five year diary. Dufur Peters and Tom Bombinski seemed interested in this project and soon joined ranks with Neil. What we still haven't been able to find out is whether they were just pace setting in Elementary Composition or whether they have sweethearts who like to record their fond memories.

As we have said, we don't know which it is, but we can guess. Nevertheless, they put a lot of time and work into this project. We would like to describe briefly the procedure entailed in the making of this project.

This project involved a press run of 9,250, all of which were hand fed and required three different form lockups. The first form consisted of a double form for the printing of the large numbers that appeared on the center of each page. The big problem involved in this form was to sort the cut stock so that 315 impressions of different number combinations, with three such combinations for each of five different colors and an extra run on one color.

The second form run consisted of the rules with the year dates cast specially on the linotype. Likewise, this was a double form run in that each month was set twice on each form. This required twelve different lock-ups.

The third form was the title page which was set by hand and run on a hand press.

After the press runs were completed, they gathered the sheets in proper order and bound them in regular book form. The book contained 366 pages plus a title page and is really some book. If any of the readers are curious to see this five year diary, we are sure that if you will ask Neil, Dufur, or Tom, about it, they will be more than glad to show it to you. They are sure to have one left, for they printed twenty five copies.

Recently one of the single girls in our office came in early one morning and began passing out cigars and candy, both with blue ribbons. Somewhat puzzled and more than a little surprised, we asked the occasion. Proudly she displayed the solitaire on her third finger, left hand, and announced: "It's a boy— six feet tall and 185 pounds."

RIFLE CLUB SEIZES WINS NOS. 3 AND 4

The Stout Institute Rifle Club completed the match schedule for the first semester with victories over Parks Air College and Monmouth College, defeating Parks Air College by a score of 1878 to 1299 and riding roughshod over Monmouth College by a convincing score of 1882 to 1180. These wins give the Rifle Club an impressive record of 4 wins and 1 loss thus far this season.

The individual scores for the Stout Rifle team are Poling, 283; Prahl, 279; Schmall, 279; Voels, 272; and Luetkemeyer, 269. For Monmouth College, Young, 254; Speer, 237; McFaddin, 231; Frobish, 231; and Smith, 227.

Individual averages for the first five matches show that Poling is high average shooter with a sparkling 279. He is followed by Schmall with 276, Prahl with 274, Meyer with 273, Voels with 272, Luetkemeyer with 271, and Nevin with 258 despite a 244 opener in the match with South Dakota.

The Stout Institute Rifle Club returns to the firing line on the ninth of February with a postal match with the varsity team of Central Washington College rifle club.

BLUE DEVILS DROP TILT TO STEVENS POINT

The Blue Devils of The Stout Institute dropped their fourth Wisconsin State College Conference basketball game to Stevens Point by a score of 74 to 62 in a game played in the Menomonie high school gym last Saturday night. Despite the slim representation of the student body the Blue Devils acted as if they were a first division ball club for the first three quarters of the game, but near the end of the third quarter they seemed to run out of gas and lost the five point lead that they held at one time. Before they regained their poise the Pointers had a ten point lead and the final result was never in doubt from then on, although both teams traded baskets for the remaining six minutes.

The starting lineup for Stout was Debrauske and Moe at the forwards, Erickson at center, and Kieffer and Chinnock at the guards.

Acting captain, Bill Kieffer, led the scoring for both teams with 18 points on six baskets and six freethrows. Forward, John Debrauske potted six baskets and a pair of free throws for fourteen points and Ed Wilkie tossed in five baskets and three free throws for thirteen points.

The Pointers came up with a balanced scoring attack with four men hitting the double figures. A pair of Bobs, Bostad and Blomiley, each contributed fourteen points and Chet Polka and Les Thompson each threw in thirteen.

Neither team exactly shone on the foul line with Stevens Point making good on 12 of 26 and refusing one while Stout did little better, making good on 14 of 22 and refusing 4. The fouls called were even up, 22 on each team.

STOUT DROPS TWO TO WINONA WHITEWATER

Coach Ray C. Johnson's Blue Devils dropped two games on the hard courts, one a conference tilt, and one a non-conference drill. In non-conference play, the Warriors from Winona picked up a thirteen point, 60-47 victory on January 11 by way of a sadly weak Blue Devil third quarter which sent the Warriors into a decisive lead for the first time in the game and took the game by holding the Stout five even throughout the fourth quarter.

In a conference tilt against Whitewater, the league leaders, on January 14th, the Blue Devils showed up surprisingly well by only losing by 12 points by a score of 74 - 62. The Whitewater Quakers gained strength steadily as the game progressed, and fed little Dale Noonan, the Quaker hot shot forward to the tune of 16 field goals and three free throws for a total of 35 points in an uncanny display of hardcourt deadeyeness.

The Stout offense perked up a trifle in the third quarter as they scored only three points less than the Quakers. In the final frame Whitewater again outscored the Blue Devils and brought home the final victory.

TEAM 5 IS WINNER OF WAA TOURNAMENT

Team number V is the winner of the WAA basketball tournament which was just completed. Members of the winning team are Arlene Chapman-Captain, De Anne Krueger, Jean Baker, Joanne Aasmundrude, Jody Bain, Ann Switzenburg, Evelyn Rosentiel, and Jean Moore. Team five had a 4 won, 0 lost record as compared to a 2 won 2 lost for the second place team.

Mary Ellen Orme, sports head and referee for the tournament, states that the teams were all good with a lot of skill on each team and probably the deciding factor was that team five had a perfect attendance at nearly all of their games with only one person being absent only once during the entire tournament.

DR. STUART ANDERSON TO LEAVE STOUT

Graduate School Educator
Announces Acceptance Of South American Position

Dr. Stuart Anderson, Associate Professor of Education, has accepted a position in Lima, Peru where he will serve as director for the industrial education phase of the cooperative education program sponsored jointly by the Institute of Inter-American Affairs and the Peruvian Ministry of Education. Dr. Anderson will have the responsibility, with the help of many Peruvians and a few North Americans, for developing a modern program for the preparation of trade and industrial teachers in the new Central Normal School. In addition to this responsibility, technical assistance will also be given to the Ministry of Education in designing and equipping modern vocational schools and in the in-service training of teachers for these schools. Prior to leaving for this two-year assignment, Dr. Anderson will attend a five-week orientation program which is given by the Department of State in Washington, D.C.

Before coming to Stout in the fall of 1946, Dr. Anderson taught in the Milwaukee Public Schools for eleven years. His instructional program at Stout includes graduate courses in Research Procedures, Administration, Survey Procedures, Coordination, and Curriculum III. He is an advisor for the Graduate Men's Club and the K.F.S. fraternity.

Dr. Anderson's writing include nearly thirty articles in seventeen different professional journals. He was also co-author of two state curriculum bulletins: "Philosophy and Objectives for Industrial Arts in Wisconsin Schools," in 1949 and "Resource Units for Industrial Arts in Wisconsin Schools," in 1951.

A graduate of Menomonee High School and The Stout Institute, Anderson received the M.Ed. degree from Marquette University in 1933 and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1948.

In the spring of 1949 he won the primary election for the nomination of Mayor for the City of Menomonee, over six other candidates, but was defeated by the late Si Bakken in the final election.

He was a member of a local civic group which urged the city and county governments to jointly own and operate the new Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Anderson is Menomonee's representative on the Dunn County School Committee which is charged with the responsibility of proposing a plan for county-wide school reorganization.

"NOBODY SLEEPS" TO BE ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

"Nobody Sleeps", a comedy in one act, will be presented in assembly on Wednesday, February 6 by the Manual Arts Players chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega. This play is given in order to provide an opportunity for the members and prospective members to obtain experience in acting, directing, and working backstage.

The play takes place in the library in the Busby home around midnight. Spike, the burglar, encounters a situation which no burglar would ever wish to have happen.

The cast for "Nobody Sleeps" includes Charles Russell as Spike the burglar, Joan Gritt as Daisy Busby, Mary Betzel as Ada Busby, Joeline Chryst as Glory Busby, and Harriet Homer as Mrs. Busby.

Sam Mikitarian is director for the play and Carol Zuege is assistant director. Robert Adkins is the stage manager and the electrical technician is Richard Duthler.

New Building To Be Of Most Modern Design; To Have Ample Storage, Work Space

Construction of the Stout Institute library will start in the spring according to information given out by President Verne C. Fryklund Monday. Plans are being drawn by Foeller, Schober, Berners, Safford and Jahn, of Green Bay, Wisconsin and will soon be ready for bids.

Necessary allocations of steel for construction were released in Washington on Saturday. Cost of the building will be $500,000 and will provide for 60,000 volumes. The building is to be located on the block south of Ninth Avenue between Second and Third Streets.

This work along with construction of city elementary schools will provide considerable building activity and employment in this area during the coming summer and winter.

According to President Fryklund, the new Stout library will be of brick and steel construction and of the most modern library arrangement. The architects are specialists in library planning.

Facing Second street, the front of the building will be 30 feet from the curb and the north wall will be 40 feet from Ninth avenue. The front of the building will have an overall width of 121 feet and depth of 128 feet.

Entrance will be through a vestibule into a lobby, to the right of which will be a Memorial room and to the rear of which will be the circulation lobby with the card catalogue files and the main desk.

To the left of this lobby will be the entrance to the combined main and reserve reading room seating 250 persons. On the second st. end of the reading room there will be the periodical room. The main book stacks will be to the rear of the circulation lobby and running along the south side of the reading room.

These stacks will provide space for 45,000 volumes. The librarians' offices and work room will open off the south west corner of the stack room.

Immediately above the first floor stack room will be a mezzanine stack room of equal size with space for 42,750 volumes, a sound-proof typing room and a staff lounge.

On the ground floor will be the stack room for text books with a book repair area and typing area, four large seminar rooms, audio visual room, a receiving and storage room, two other storage rooms, a text book exhibit room, special work room, building service room and toilets.

It is anticipated that it will take about a year for the construction of the building and the installation of furnishing and equipment. It is believed possible that the building will be ready for use sometime during the fall of 1953.

SCHIFERL AND SARGENT WORK FOR RINK

Through the efforts of Donald Sargent and Charles Schiferl, a community skating rink, located at the Red Cedar bathing beach on Lake Menomine, will be open to the public some time Saturday (weather permitting). The hours that the rink will be open has not been definitely established.

Don and Charles realized the need of a large skating rink in Menomonee that could be used by young and old alike. The four small rinks that Menomonee has are on school grounds for the use of the children in the surrounding area. Don and Charles contacted a firm to see if they would plow a section of the lake and the firm referred them to the city council. They attended last Monday's meeting and obtained results. The street commissioner was authorized to plow at least a half block of the lake and the city park commission will attend to the flooding of the rink. Then Don contacted Mr. Reuhl about lights and music with the help of Stout students. Don is now in the process of obtaining fuel for the heating of the warming house. He is also in the process of arranging for a caretaker for the rink. Don stated that he is not positive the warming house will be in operation by Saturday, but he is striving to obtain it. The hours that Don and Charlie establish for the warming house will be posted as soon as they can be arranged.

NEW STUDENT TEACHERS OF HE ANNOUNCED

With the beginning of the new semester, twenty four senior girls began their student teaching on campus in the Menomonee High School classes. New student teachers and the grades which they are teaching are as follows:

Ann Grutalik, Doris Hall, Samie Dol, and Joan Schwaneman, 7th grade; Jean Pengilly, Marge Hedberg, Donna Kristik, and Rose Gradszewski, 8th grade; Loretta Woolen, Mariys Larrabee, Joan Braun, Kay Heller, and Katie Ziehm, 9th grade; Dorothy Hardies, Joan Mithy, Jane Martinson, 10th grade; Pat Schreiner and Dorothy Hilton, 11th grade; Gerda Ravenholt, Pat Allard, Donna Heike, and Beverly Hedlund, 12th grade.

Noreen Cook and Beverly Ryder are teaching a class of thirteen high school senior boys. Each year one semester is open to boys who wish to enroll in Home Economics. These boys will study foods, etiquette, and clothing selection.

NEW GIRLS OCCUPY MANAGEMENT HOUSE

This past week the home Management house was a busier place than usual when the ten new girls moved in to replace those leaving at the semester.

The girls who will work together, sharing and undertaking the different jobs at the House for the next six weeks are; Rose Young, Rita Ziegweid, Elaine Blaser, Dorothy Gulbrandson, Jo Staehle, Shirley Bendixen, Rowena Christen, Pat Peterson, Karn Anderson, and Ruby Larson.

BARNARD HEADS AUDIO VISUAL COMMITTEE

Mr. D. P. Barnard, Assistant Professor of Audio-Visual Education, was recently appointed chairman of the Committee on Publications for the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction, by the state association of audio-visual directors. Other members of the Committee are Mr. Aaron Mickelson, Audio-Visual Director for the Eau Claire Public Schools and Mr. Gilbert Tanner, Eau Claire State College. The Committee's function will be to "pass upon all materials to be disseminated as official publications of the organization." Mr. Barnard is also Northwestern District Chairman for the organization.

The national Department of Audio-Visual Instruction of the NEA has invited Mr Barnard to participate in a panel discussion on College and University programs at the national convention of the organization to be held in Boston during the first week in February.

YWCA PLANS BIG-LITTLE SISTER REUNION FEB. 6

The Y.W.C.A. is planning its annual mid-year party for February 6, 1952. It is to be called "big and little sister reunion. In the Harvey Memorial from 7:30 to 8:30 P.M. enjoy popcorn, pop and mixed nuts. Come and look up your little sister and meet her friends. It's a good chance to become re-acquainted with your freshman upper classmen friends.

Special music will be furnished by Mariys Larrabee at the piano and by the blended voices of Irus Ruz, Vivian Barnhart, and Jan Benedict. Hear the Freshmen give their impressions of Stout after their first semester is over.

The committee in charge of the event is headed by Jean Boettner, assisted by Michiko Okada, June Higgins, Ann Switensberg, and Sumie Dol.

MAP HELD SUCCESSFUL OPEN HOUSE JAN. 29

"Open House" was held in the Stout auditorium by the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega on Tuesday evening, January 29. This open house was held to enable more Stout students see and learn what the MAP does.

Those visitors who came early had an opportunity to see part of the rehearsal for the one act play, "Nobody Sleeps," which will be given in convocation Wednesday, February 6. The visitors were then shown the stage, the dressing rooms, and the lofts. Some saw a make-up demonstration and others learned how the switch board worked.

Refreshments, consisting of donuts and apple cider were served.

If there is anyone who was unable to attend the open house and who would like to work towards membership in the MAP, watch the MAP bulletin board for a notice for the next workday. Anyone interested is invited.

HOME EC. TO HOLD STYLE SHOW FEB. 8

Brides galore is what you'll see next Friday night in the Stout auditorium at 8 o'clock. The Home Ec. Club will take us "Through the Years" in wedding gown fashions.

Members of the Club and people in Menomonee have responded wonderfully, so be sure to see the beautiful outcome of all the enthusiasm that has been shown. The tickets for the style show are now on sale at Lee's Drug Store and the Jones Pharmacy. The price is a twenty-five cent donation.

The dialogue for this style show will be enacted by Charles Russell, who will play the minister; Harriet Homer, who plays his wife; and Noreen Cook, who will be the bride-to-be. The three scenes will take place in the rectory, in the garden, and in the church, respectively. Dorothy Messerschmidt will play the organ accompaniment.

A variety of present day gowns will be shown and should be of special interest to those who will be choosing one for themselves in the near future.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Menomonie now has a community skating rink for Stout students as well as residents of the city. Through the efforts of two Stout students, the city council has agreed to plow a portion of the ice on the lake and the park board has consented to flood this area. Besides this, a warming house has been obtained and a promise of at least a ton of coal from one of the lumber yards. With community cooperation such as this, Stout students should feel very fortunate.

There has been much discussion about the lack of facilities for group activities, and this skating rink will answer this at least in part. With a warming house and music a very enjoyable evening of fun can be had very inexpensively by everyone.

Much appreciation is due to Mr. Ruehl and one of his classes for lights and music. We must also thank the others who have worked so hard to make the rink a reality. We have a rink so let's enjoy it and show we appreciate it.

SSA MESSAGE

Here we are again after having missed a few editions because of our own lack of time. Will you forgive us on the basis of semesters ending and registration?

The student loan fund is a reality, but it may be a few days before we get forms mimeographed.

We don't want to be chronic in our complaints, but when we make posters to hang in the halls, we should measure with a standard ruler and not a rubber scale. The maximum allowable size is 11" by 14". Let's try to keep posters in that size and give everyone a chance.

By now undoubtedly most of you should have used your student cards at one of the theaters. We all owe Mr. Thompson a vote of thanks for his efforts.

The Governing Board voted Tuesday night to authorize a contribution of $100 to help provide for a skating rink on the lake by the boathouse. We hope to have the rink soon.

The Governing Board also authorized the payment for transportation, fees, and lodging for people to attend the Education Conference at the University of Minnesota on February 29 to March 1. Anyone who is interested should contact one of the SSA officers or watch the bulletin board for a notice.

We'll see you next week if we get to press this week.

MEILLER IS CO-AUTHOR OF TWO FOOD ARTICLES

Miss Ella Jane Meiller of the Department of Food and Nutrition is co-author of two articles published in the December 1951 issue of the Journal of the American Dietetic Association. The articles are concerned with research in the field of maternal and child health and report a study which was done during the time Miss Meiller was a member of the staff of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Chicago. The other authors are all associated with the University of Chicago.

The articles are titled "Observations on Protein Intake and the Health of the Mother and Baby: I. Clinical and Laboratory Findings. II. Food Intake. These articles are a part of a series reporting a study of the relationship between food intake and clinical findings relating to the health of the mother and baby. The articles report observations on over 600 women who were patients at the Chicago Lying-in Hospital.

One of the observations which received considerable attention was that women who ate diets rated low in protein were much more apt to lose their babies by abortion than were those women who ate better balanced diets. It was also evident that women with poor diet ratings had a greater tendency to become anemic during pregnancy.

It has long been a common belief that no matter how inadequate the mother's diet might be, her infant would be normal and suffer no ill effects but carefully controlled studies have shown that if the mother's diet is poor, the condition of the infant is likely to be poor. This study reports a striking relationship between the nutrition rating of the mother's diet and the health rating of the baby and provides more evidence that proper nutrition is extremely important to both the mother and infant.

LAMPS NOW ON DISPLAY IN THE ART ROOM

A variety of lamps are now being displayed in Miss Amon's Art Room. These lamps were all designed and made by the girls in last semester's house furnishings classes.

The bases made of wood blocks, which have an original designed pattern carved on them, have attracted the attention of many observers. A few lamp bases are made of driftwood; these make an interesting and attractive lamp. Several girls made lamps out of birchwood, one of these is being displayed on the display case on the second floor of the HE building. Two lamp bases are of cypress wood, which was obtained in Florida by relatives of the girls who made them. One of the girls, Vivian Barnhardt, wove her shade out of long pine needles for her cypress base. An old lamp base refinished now makes an attractive lamp. These and many other kinds of lamps are being shown.

Practically all of the girls made their shades this year. Many of them are wrapped with yarn, others are covered with a variety of different colored and kinds of drapery fabrics. Several of the girls even did their own wiring on their lamps.

Several house furnishing file boxes are also being displayed at this time. Most of these boxes are covered with denim and other patterned material.

Greetings fellow students:

We notice that a lot of you are taking advantage of your student admission cards for the movies. This will be a big savings to students but why can't they be in effect Saturday and Sunday nights too.

Some of the couples we noticed at the movies Friday night were Betty Johansen and Gay Roe; (we heard Gay gave Betty a very useful Birthday gift; we could use one ourselves), Bernadine Gunderman and Dick Kassel, Mary Lou Bohrnstedt and Bill Sipple, and Mary Klaus and Jerry Score.

At the Stout-Eau Claire game Saturday night there were quite a few couples. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sorenson, Jerry Schmanske and Mary Betzel, and John Kluzek and Harriet Fardal were a few of them there.

At the K.F.S.'s orchid-less orchid dance after the game we spotted Lewie Lausted and Joanne Peterson, Wayne Olson and Connie Anderson, Jerry Krall and Mary Ann Timmerman, Joe Luetkemeyer and Katie Ziehm, and Jim Zeasman and Rose Mary Raymer.

Ed Prah's fiancee from home was at the dance with him Saturday night. Gay Boyer had a blind date from Minneapolis. He certainly drew a lucky card.

Some others we saw at the dance include Jack Luy and Dorothy Brownell, Jo Gritt and Augie Schultz, and Dorothy Danzinger and Elmer Lemke.

Diane Klemme and John Christiansen are pretty busy lately with their dating bureau. Two results were shown at the dance: Rose Peper and Loren Pract, a former Stout student now in the armed forces, and Rose's cousin Jo with Gay Boyer seemed to be hitting it off very well.

We also noticed Dick Hanson from the U. of Minnesota, and Carol Tick-ler playing cards in the Union Saturday night.

During the intermission, Paul Kokubun sang "Aloha" to The Stout Institute in general and, we're certain, to Jan Benedict in particular. Paul, a January graduate, left for his home in Hawaii last Monday. We'll miss Paul and we hope someday we will see him again.

Guess we'd better close before we get in a melancholy mood but we'll see you this week end.

Bye for now.

41 YEAR PANORAMA OF STOUT REVEALED

Past History Of Stout Reveals Growth Of Start Buildings, Curriculum

Forty-one years ago Stout Institute became a part of the Wisconsin state school system. The school bore little resemblance to the Stout we know today.

Turning the clock back to the year 1911 would find a young growing campus. The IE Building, newer and shiner then, with its familiar tower housed the class rooms and labs of both men and women. Across the street stood the gymnasium and natatorium where physical fitness was the order of the day. A small office building stood on the other corner, for the IE Building was only a dream. The rest of the block held a home making cottage and tennis courts.

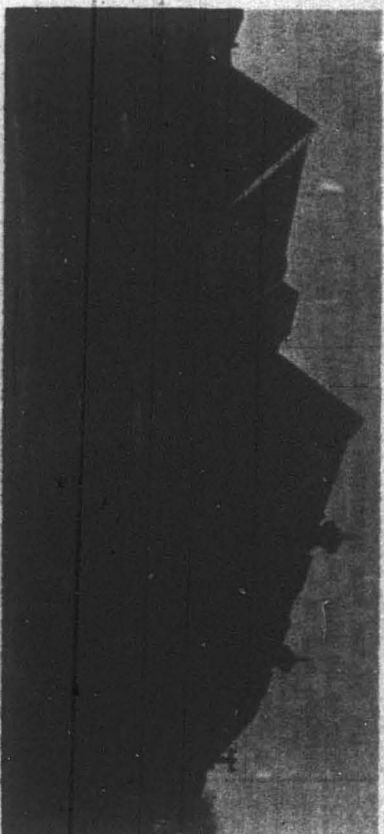

On this campus girls wore blue and white striped gingham uniforms while the men, very much in the minority, wore white or brown overalls and jumpers, depending on the class. Extra curricular activities included picture, canoeing or movies at the Grand. Good times were cut short by curfew—7:30 in those days.

Bikes were used for transportation and the parking area was a bicycle rack. One familiar note enters into the picture. Students even then were warned to keep off the grass.

The curriculum too, has changed since then. Way back there a diploma was obtained either in the training schools for teachers of manual training or in the school for teachers of domestic science in two years. In addition a homemaker's department, also a two year course, had been recently added. Classes all directly pertained to one of the three fields with very few electives offered.

The enrollment was small with a total of 408 students. Of these 78 men were in the "manual training" department and 308 women were future domestic science teachers. Needless to say the man shortage was acute. In spite of its small size Stout spread its influence through its graduate teachers in 35 states.

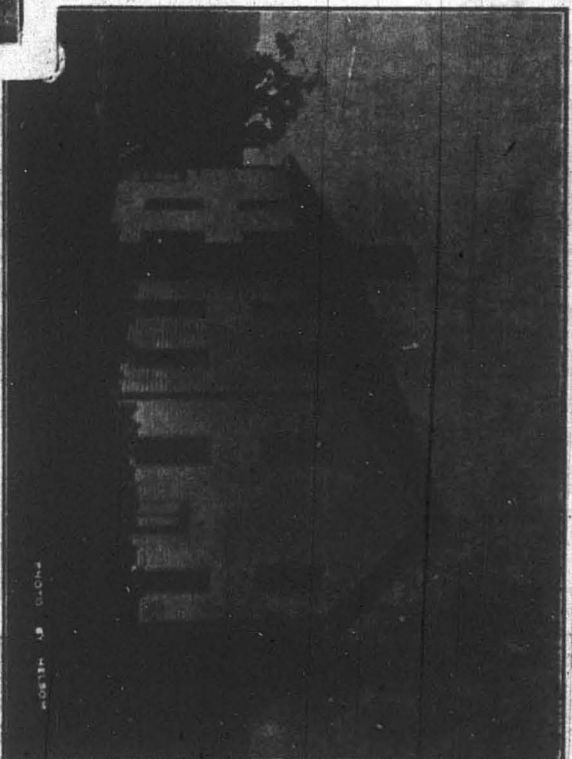

Tahter Hall and Annex housed the girls then as today. In addition two homemaking cottages furnished accommodations for the girls taking the homemakers course.

training and domestic science. This structure stood until 1897 when fire destroyed it. Senator Stout was a man of vision. The fire had destroyed a building, but not his firm belief and faith in education for young people. A new building was built on the site of the old one. In 1901 he added a gymnasium and natatorium to the campus.

In the following years Senator Stout founded the Stout Training Schools dedicated to the training of teachers. Stout property increased with the purchase of two large houses for dormitories and a third for the president's residence. Dr. Lorenzo Dow Harvey became the first president. A homemakers school was added.

In 1908 the training schools were incorporated and control vested in a board of trustees. Two years later Senator Stout's sudden death came as a shock to the school and community. Stout was by no means a self supporting college. The pending plans for expansion were put to an end. Taking steps towards the only solution, Mrs. Stout offered the Institute to the state. A special legislative committee visited Menomonic and made its report. The state legislature, having the vote on this report, accepted.

DEEPWOOD OUTINGS

Skiers !!! The snow that some stunally arrived. Now is the time to enjoy it.

A trip was planned for Saturday,
January 26. The bus left from school at 8:30 a. m. for Deepwood Ski Area at Colfax, Wisconsin.

Reports say that many Stout students had a most wonderful time skiing Tuesday, January 22, at Deep-wood in the fresh new snow.

Some of the students who enjoyed the trip to Deepwood Saturday were: June Keefer, Ruth Kelly, Herb

Jane Shadewald, Joan Staehle, Herb shirts will be of two colors, some will be a bright red, with white emblems, while others will be white with red emblems.

Nadine Brown is in charge of ored Mrs. Stout's gift almost unanimously.

President Harvey was responsible for the progress of the next few years. He obtained an appropriation for further construction resulting in the building of the HE building. Enrollment grew and Stout received more recognition and praise.

Campus fashions changed with trends of the times. The girl's stripes became a garb of the past. The Stou-tonia took its first wobbly steps as a baby in 1915 and grew and developed into a full grown newspaper. The green frosh caps were adopted and discarded.

During his administration Burton
E. Nelson, Stout's second president, helped acquire Lynwood and Eichelberger Hall. Athletics were advanced with the obtaining of Nelson field.
Extensive remodeling was done to the dorms, infirmary and the Home Management House.

The years passed. Stout Institute gained a new president, Dr. Verne C.
Fryklund. He is responsible for the shiny new labs and new equipment.
He, the faculty and students are the present and form the gateway to the future.

UM! UM! WHAT A TREAT THIS WAS

Beautiful potted plants and candles gave a formal air to the birthday dinner at the dormitory dining room January 24th. A delicious meal of baked ham, sweet potatoes, creamed cauliflower, lime jello with cottage cheese, rolls, mint ice cream and birthday cake, and coffee was served.

Girls having birthdays were Carol
Koch, Carol Tickler, Marilyn Freedeen, Lois Owen, Janet Kumbler, Carol Banner, Shirley Brask, Shirley Duel, and Mimi Echert.

LET'S TAKE AN ART TOUR

In the following weeks the Stoutonia reporters will conduct a tour of the HE and IE buildings, giving you a quick glimpse of the various departments on campus.

First let's take a quick trip up to second floor HE to the Art Department. Freshman girls come here for their first art courses, Fundamentals of Design and Clothing Selection.
They learn the principles of design and how to apply them on paper and in the selection of clothes. Before leaving the Fundamental Design room you should meet Miss Hinkley. Watching her demonstrate with either pen or brush makes the progress look oh, so easy.

Crafts class keeps the show case in the hall filled with leather goods, weaving and pottery. A quick look inside this room shows looms and kiln for the construction of the articles.

The attractive room across from the elevator is the House Furnishings room. It forms a suitable setting for the study of balance, proportion and such in the decoration of a home. Out of this room come lamps of all sizes and shapes. Anything goes for a base: coconuts, tree trunks, or wine bottles. Miss Amon shows us around here.

There's the bell, and most of us have classes to make. Meet in the same place next week for a look at one of the departments on the other side of the campus.

Jim Brown, S.T.S. member explains the method of lock-up for a printing job performed by the S.T.S. to two visitors during print shop open house.

MANY ATTEND PRINT SHOP OPEN HOUSE

Open house in the print shop. Yes, indeed. January 15 was a date that will be remembered by many of the students and faculty of Stout.

For the past several meetings of the Stout Typographical Society, the issue of an all school STS sponsored activity has been battered back and forth. Many moons ago the STS sponsored a free formal. Due to available dates and dance conflicts the idea hit the "hell box" (printers expression for trash can). Then a few union made printers hit on the idea of "A Day in the Union" sponsored by the STS. That idea began to take shape when out of the clear blue sky old Ben Franklin came along with a birthday anniversary.

Ben Franklin, known mostly as a prominent statesman and inventor to the average person, is recognized as one of America's first great printers by present day printers. In honor of this fact America has established Printing Education Week on his birthday anniversary.

So when Printing Education Week appeared on the scene, members of the STS swung in to action and opened up the portal to that old mysterious corner on the first floor of the IE Building and declared an open house.

Members of the STS are very pleased and thankful to all of the faculty and students who made the open house a success. Over 200 persons passed through the print shop doorway that afternoon within four hours time. It is interesting to know that thirteen gallons of coffee were consumed by visitors and members. And as for donuts--well, someplace along the line we lost count.

Open house hospitality began when a visitor entered the door. It was then that he signed his name upon a card. Not for security reasons nor the traditional red tape, but only for the reason of showing the visitor how a piece of copy becomes a piece of printed material. Names written upon the cards were set on the linotype from which they were sent to the compositor. The compositor used the linotype slug to print the name upon a souvenir memo booklet presented to each visitor. As a result visitors saw in actual operation the procedure of turning a piece of copy into printed material. All of the other related operations in printing such as the different printing processes, folding, making stereotypes for picture reproduction, round cornering, printing on the presses, etc. were explained and in most cases demonstrated by members of the STS acting as guides for small groups, or even personal conducted tours through the entire print shop.

Members of the STS hope that all who toured the shop during open house enjoyed the excursion and refreshments, and profited in becoming acquainted with the printing industry.

Enthusiasm shown by our visitors has prompted us to open even wider our door for open house next year.

HAWAIIAN STUDENTS GRADUATE HERE

Semester graduates include two of our Hawaiiin students, Eleanor Ushijima and Paul Kokabun.

Eleanor, who majored in dietetics, left January 18 for Los Angeles and from there she will sail on the U.S.S. "Larline" for her home in Hilo, Hawaii. Her plans were not altogether definite when she left Stout, but she hopes to secure a dietetics position in a hospital at Hilo.

Paul is also going to his home in Hawaii where he will spend a few months before going into the Armed Service. He left by plane on January 28th.

GAMMA DELTA TO GO ON TOBOGGONING TRIP

A Gamma Delta meeting was held Sunday evening at St. Paul's Parish Hall. The meeting began at 5 p.m. with singing and a short devotional service lead by Rev. Pankow.

Entertainment for future meetings was discussed. Several suggestions were hay rides, sleigh, and toboggoning. Bible discussion, lunch and entertainment followed the business meeting.

WSSF DRIVE TO OPEN HERE FEBRUARY 6TH

The annual WSSF drive will open on the Stout campus on Wednesday, February 6 immediately following the assembly. Everyone is urged to contribute financial aid which will be used by WSSF to help students of foreign countries.

In an article taken from the WSSF news the purpose of this organization is summed up. "WSSF never was just a relief agency. Because of America's great resources and the greater needs abroad, WSSF's major task has been, and will continue to be, the campaign for funds to help needy students live and study. But this appeal has never been the unconscious arrogance of those whose resources placed them in positions of power. This was possible only through the most insistent efforts to understand each other. Both Asian and American students were confronted with the fact that the giving and the receiving of relief in the wrong spirit may be degrading to the giver and demoralizing to the receiver'.

CANDLEMAS DAY?

If the sun was shining Saturday you can be pretty sure the ground hog saw his shadow, and that, according to legend, means that we are in for six more weeks of winter weather. This custom of predicting the weather in such a manner was brought over from England and Germany.

In Germany the badger was the celebrated weather forecaster. The Germans had an old saying that goes like this: "The shepherd would rather see the wolf enter his stable on Candlemas Day than the sun."

Here is the English and Scotch version:
"If Candlemas Day be dry and fair,
The half o' winter's to come and mair;
If Candlemas Day be wet and foul,
The half o' winter's gone at yule."
If Candlemas Day be fair an bright,
Winter will have another flight;
But if it be dark with clouds and rain,
Winter is gone and will not come again.
The hind had as lief see
His wife on the bier
As that Candlemas Day
Should be pleasant and clear."

A group of men from Quarryville, Pennsylvania, have organized the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge and every February 2 they don silk hats and carry canes. They go into the fields, find a woodchuck's burrow, and watch 'till it makes its appearance. From its actions they interpret the weather forecast. The Lodge predictions have been correct eight times, indefinite five times, and wrong seven times.

BLUE DEVILS IN NEAR UPSET OVER ST. CLOUD

Erickson, Kieffer In Scoring Spree As Stout Falls 2 Points Short

The weather outside was 20 below zero but inside the field house at St. Cloud, Minn., a torrid scoring duel was being waged as the Huskies of St. Cloud State Teachers tipped the Stout Blue Devils 75 to 73 in a non-conference game played last Monday night.

The Blue Devils, showing promise of beginning to jell as a team of primarily freshmen, played headsup basketball for all but the first few minutes of the third quarter but came out for the second half almost as cold as the weather. The Huskies rang up four quick baskets and one free throw before the Blue Devils managed to get a shot to stay inside the hoop.

A late rally in the last four minutes wasn't quite enough as the final whistle showed Stout behind by two points.

Forward John Debrauske opened the game with a medium range basket and then proceeded to toss in a total of eleven points in the first quarter. Bill Kieffer and Bob Erickson carried on in the second quarter and the half-time horn found Stout in the lead 41 to 40.

St. Cloud opened the second half with four quick baskets and assumed a lead that they never relinquished. Kieffer and Erickson carried on where they had left off in the first half from then on and the final winner was in doubt until the gun finally went off.

Erickson and Kieffer of Stout were the big guns with 22 and 21 points respectively. Borgert of St. Cloud tossed in 15 to lead the Huskies balanced attack which found all of the starters and one substitute with 10 to 13 points. Forward John Debrauske was the only other player to hit the double figures with 14 points. A bad leg bruise in the second quarter cut down on his speed and he was unable to drive in as he did the first quarter.

As a whole the Blue Devils looked like a team all through the game. Coach Johnson started the same line-up that started the Eau Claire game with Debrauske and Hawkes at the forwards, Bob Erickson at center, and Bill Kieffer and Larry McCarty in the guard slots. With the second division of the conference on the schedule, excepting La Crosse, things look a little brighter for the second semester.

NEW CHEERLEADER'S UNIFORMS NOW IN USE

The new cheerleader's uniforms, purchased recently from a sports wear supply company in Eau Claire, were worn at Stout's first basketball game after Christmas vacations. The uniforms—white sweaters with Stout letters, and royal blue cotton-twill slacks replace the white slacks and blue sweaters formerly worn by the cheerleaders.

11 FIRST SEMESTER STUDENTS IN SERVICE

With the close of the first semester, we discover that some of the old familiar faces are missing. Among various reasons for withdrawal, the armed forces is the primary one. Some of the men who have left for service this first semester are:

Lowell Billiard, Elwood Bilse, Le-lan Carlson, Renald Chapak, George Fletcher, Palmer McIvor, James Mau, Wallace Melting, Myron Sheben, David Wingert, Maurice World, and Lawrence Carlson.

As yet, we do not have the addresses of these men. If you know where they are, won't you let them know that they may receive copies of the Stoutonia if they will send their addresses to us.

SKIERS ENJOY SECOND TRIP TO DEEPWOOD

The Stout Ski Club has taken to the hills again! Last Saturday, January 26, thirty some Stout representatives covered the trails at Deepwood in many varied, interesting positions. The many skiers for whom this was the first venture on the "boards," were quite surprised to see those who had been skiing for years untangle themselves from the same kind of positions they were watching from. Despite a few temporary sprains, numerous black and blue marks, a pair of broken skis, a neck with a gash on it, and aching muscles galore, everyone hated to leave—to wait for another Saturday of skiing.

Deepwood is the newest, and many think the best, ski area around this part of the country. It is very convenient—only eighteen miles from here. The trails are excellent, and are serviced by three rope tows. All equipment needed may be rented at very reasonable rates in the ski chalet, which is one of the largest and most modern in Wisconsin.

Ski Club members have been skiing at Deepwood quite often this year, and two special trips have been held so far. These trips will continue as long as there is snow to ski on, and anyone who would like to try skiing once (so they'll understand what's wrong with all those crazy people!) is welcome to come along on a trip. At present, a bus will leave from the east end of the Home Economics Building at 8:30 a.m. on Saturdays, and will return by about 5:00 p.m. Bus fare is only $.50, and tow charge at special club rates is only $1.00. Trips may be planned for Sunday afternoons later on if enough are interested. Watch the main bulletin board for notices of trips, and why don't you sign up for the next excursion too?!!

EAU CLAIRE IN 74-51 WIN OVER BLUE DEVILS

Last Saturday night the Stout Blue Devils dropped their fifth straight conference game to arch-rivals from Eau Claire by a score of 74 to 51. Neither team looked to be impressive despite the onesidedness of the score.

The first quarter of the game ended with Eau Claire leading by one point, 20 to 19. The officials were calling them very close as eight of the ten men who started the game had at least one foul called on them. The scoring tempo slowed down considerably in the second quarter with Stout making two baskets and two free throws, while Eau Claire managed to dump in five baskets and a pair of free throws to lead at the half by a score of 32 to 25.

In the third quarter Eau Claire pulled away steadily as the parade to the free throw line continued, Eau Claire making good on eleven of fourteen free throw attempts. Erickson and Debrauske each threw in a pair of field goals along with one from Moe and Hawkes but it wasn't enough to offset those charity tosses and so the lead was stretched to eleven points, 51 to 40 at the end of the third period.

The fourth quarter found the Blue-golds running away from the Blue Devils, fastbreaking down the court to outscore the weary, but game Blue Devils, 23 to 11 and winning by a final margin of 74 to 51.

Jim Bos, center for Eau Claire, took the scoring honors for the evening with 25 points on 8 buckets and 9 free throws. For Stout, senior Bob Erickson was the high scorer with 11 points on 5 baskets and 1 free throw.

The roughness of the game between these two rivals was evinced by the large number of fouls called; 25 on Eau Claire and 35 on the home team, Stout. Stout was outscored from the field by only eight points but lost the battle of the free throws 30 to 15.

Score by Quarters:

Eau Claire	20	12	19	23	74

LUCKY STUDENTS WIN PRIZES AT DANCE

Last Saturday night the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity held its annual Orchid Dance. Special features included free cigars to the first 25 males to enter, door prizes, and intermission entertainment.

The members of the K.F.S. are extremely sorry that the orchids were not here and would like to extend apologies for this inconvenience.

The door prize which was an "Evening on the K. F. S." included two passes to a local movie and two steaks at an outlying establishment. The lucky winner of the door prize was Gerald Henderson. Other prizes donated by Lee Thompson, manager of the State and Stout theaters, were free passes to the local movie establishments. The winners of these prizes were Pat Peterson and Dorothy Dazinger.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THIS GROUP?

Have you heard about the Inter-religious Council of Stout Institute? What do you know about it? In the next few issues of the Stoutonia there will be some articles to help you understand the background, purposes, functions, projects, and membership of this organization.

First of all, how did such an organization get its start?

During the twenties education and science were expected to solve all problems. In recent years educators as well as other people have come to realize that problems can not always be solved by the sciences of man alone. They have begun to put more emphasis on religion in education.

Conferences have been held at frequent intervals to explore possibilities of coordinating education and religion in our state colleges. Last November all Wisconsin colleges met at the University for a conference on Christianity and Scholarship. In December, a national conference on religion was held at Yale University. Some of the influential educational organizations have organized committees working on education and religion.

Stout Institute began to show its interest last summer when President Fryklund authorized Dr. Iverson to contact all local clergymen to obtain their reactions to the formation of a religious council. The purposes of this council would be to recommend policies to Stout Institute for the stimulation of religious development, to carry out any religious activities that are officially approved, and to promote an understanding among clergymen, faculty, and students as to the relationship that should exist between education and religion.

The reaction of the Menomoneie clergy to this proposal was very favorable and as a result a meeting was held with the college representatives. At this meeting it was decided to include students on the council. Student religious organizations were invited to send representatives to the next meeting.

At this meeting, attended by President Fryklund, faculty members, clergymen, and students, our Inter-Religious Council was created.

The members of the council and the organizations they represent are: Wesley—Fred Kajihara, Rev. Ralph Reece, and Dr. Salyer; Congo—Miriam MacLachlan, Rev. John M. Buran, and Dr. Agnew; Newman Club—Joe Luetkemeyer, Miss Callahan, Rev. Vincent E. Schwartz, Rev. Matthew Molinare; Canterbury Club—Ernest Colette, Rev. Roy Rawson, and Joan Fairweather; YWCA—Phyllis Horning, Miss McCalmont, Dorothy Messerschmidt; LSA—Jean Boettner, Rev. E. T. Boe, Miss Strand; Baptist—Rev. Sanasac, Mr. Charles Tibbets, Hazel Nelson; Intervarsity—Ken Lantto, Alan Swan, and Miss Haine.

DR. G. S. WALL APPOINTED AS I.E. INSTRUCTOR

Dr. G. S. Wall, formerly associate professor at the University of Maryland in the Department of Industrial Education, has been appointed to fill the position of associate professor of industrial education at The Stout Institute recently vacated by Dr. Stuart Anderson, who left last week to take a position with the Peruvian Ministry of Education.

Dr. Wall received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Minnesota in December of last year. He did his undergraduate work at the Teachers College in Winona, Minnesota and his master's study at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Wall's early teaching experience was in the schools of Minnesota and South Dakota. Later he was supervisor of Teacher Trainees and student personnel at Dunwoody Institute in Minneapolis. He was also an instructor in shop work at the Minneapolis School of Art and taught part-time at the University of Minnesota while he was taking graduate study.

He entered the Navy in 1942 and was a lieutenant commander, air technician, instructor and training officer. Later he served with the United States Veterans Administration at the University of Minnesota as instructor and training officer.

MEAT COOKERY DEMONSTRATION TO BE HERE

Practical down-to-earth suggestions on meat cookery, of value to young brides as well as experienced homemakers, will be presented at 1 p.m. and at 3:30 p.m. in Room 301 Monday, February 11, by Miss Neva Skoog of the field staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Miss Skoog, a nationally known authority on the preparation of meat for the table, will demonstrate up-to-the-minute ideas not only in meat cookery, but also in menu planning, labor-saving practices and other practices which will enable the homemaker to carry on her kitchen tasks more efficiently.

"A great number of cooking tests conducted under expert supervision," says Miss Skoog, "have shown that from 10 to 20 percent more meat is provided when it is cooked at low heat, as compared to the results secured with high temperatures.

STYLE SHOW TONIGHT

The Home Economics Club's Bridal Style Show will be held in the Stout Auditorium tonight, February 8, at 8:00. The style show will feature wedding gowns of the past century. There will be a twenty-five cent donation.

DEAN BOWMAN PRAISED IN BOARD CITATION

Dean Clyde A. Bowman, who recently received The Ship's Citation, received a letter from Lloyd E. Berroy, secretary of the Board of Trustees of The Stout Institute, in which Mr. Berroy congratulated Mr. Bowman and stated, "Personally, I think the Ship's crew displayed excellent judgement in selecting you for this high honor."

Attached to this letter was a resolution of commendation upon the citation recently awarded Mr. Bowman by "The Ship."

The resolution is as follows.

A RESOLUTION

WHEREAS: Dean C. A. Bowman having received high honor by being awarded "THE SHIP'S CITATION" at the annual convention of the American Vocational Association held in Minneapolis, November 26-30, 1951; and

WHEREAS: This citation recognizes Dean Bowman's contribution to educational leadership in the advancement of teacher training, as teacher, soldier, consultant, and civic leader; now therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That the members of the Board of Trustees in a regular quarterly meeting, held at Madison on December 17, 1951, by unanimous vote, extend to Dean Bowman their sincere congratulations for having received this outstanding recognition, and be it further

RESOLVED: That the members of the Board, by unanimous vote, express to Dean Bowman their sincere appreciation for his untiring devotion to those attributes which reflect credit and glory to The Stout Institute.

Be it further

RESOLVED: That a copy of this resolution be presented to Dean C. A. Bowman on behalf of the Board and that it be made a part of the recorded minutes of this meeting.

Signed Lloyd E. Berroy
Secretary
Board of Trustees
The Stout Institute

In reply to this letter, Dean Bowman stated, "I regard the citation from the Ship as one of the finest things that has ever happened to me. The recognition from the Board of Trustees, through its resolution, is a further honor which is appreciated, indeed."

In the accounts written about the American Vocational Association convention which was held at Minneapolis November-26-30, 1951, the January issue of the American Vocational Journal and the February issue of the Industrial Arts and Vocational Education magazine also paid tribute to Clyde A. Bowman, Dean of Industrial Education at The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

The Stoutonia and staff would like to express their congratulations to Dean Bowman for his outstanding contributions to the field of Industrial Education and upon receiving "The Ship's Citation."

HYPs PRESENT CUPID CAPERS DANCE FEB. 9

Join the enthusiastic crowd for the "CUPID CAPERS" dance to be held on Saturday evening, February 9, after the Stout-River Falls basketball game. The Eta Sigma Omega Sorority is sponsoring this annual dance.

Valentine hearts and cupid's will adorn the walls. There will be surprises for everyone at the door climaxed by a bigger surprise during the intermission.

George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhaws will be on hand to present their sentimental rhythms.

FRESHMAN ELECT NEW CLASS OFFICERS

The Freshman Class met January 28th to elect new officers to replace Ed Fandry, president, and Bob Pophal, treasurer, who have left school. The class voted to make Gloria Voight, vice president, its new president. Eunice Hokensee was elected vice president. The new treasurer is Jerry Sommers.

C. MC WILLIAMS, LECTURER TO BE AT CONVO.

Carey McWilliams, an eminent sociologist, author and lecturer, will evaluate various minority groups when he analyzes "America's Problem" at Convocation at 10:00 a.m., February 13, in the Stout auditorium.

A graduate of the University of Southern California, Mr. McWilliams has served his native state as Commissioner of Immigration and Housing. He has twice been awarded Guggenheim Fellowships, has appeared four times on the Town Meeting of the Air and twice on the Chicago Round Table.

Although primarily a lecturer, and student in his field, Mr. McWilliams has authorized ten widely read volumes, including Prejudice, Brothers Under the Skin, and Ill Fares the Land. Bernard De Voto, in his review of Prejudice, said: "This is a shocking, an appalling book—and a public service of inestimable value."

Mr. McWilliams has been on the staff of The Nation as a contributing editor since the beginning of 1945. He has contributed to The North American Review, The Atlantic Monthly, Harper's, The New Republic, PM, The Saturday Review of Literature, and many other publications.

PRES. FRYKLUND CONGRATULATES MR. SODERBERG

President Verne C. Fryklund is shown congratulating George Soderberg, Assistant professor of Industrial Education in woodworking and finishing, author of a new text book entitled Finishing Materials and Methods.

PLAY TRYOUTS TO BE HELD MONDAY, TUESDAY

Tryouts for the spring production of the Manual Arts Players chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega under the direction of Mr. Norman Ziemann will be held Monday and Tuesday evening, February 18 and 19, at 7:15 in the Stout auditorium.

"Mr. Barry's Etchings," a three-act comedy is the play that will be given. The cast includes seven women and six men. Both straight and character roles are included.

Lee Tracy starred in "Mr. Barry's Etchings" on Broadway during the 1950 season.

Everyone is welcome to try out for the play or work on the production staff, regardless of being experienced or inexperienced in dramatics or working on the plays.

"Mr. Barry's Etchings" will be given Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 3, 4, and 5.

ALL JANUARY GRADUATES ARE IN POSITIONS

Stout Institute, at semester's end, continued its 100 per cent placement record as all available mid-year graduates accepted positions, Miss Gertrude O'Brien, chairman of the placement committee, said today.

Four of the men graduates expect to be called into service shortly so they did not accept teaching positions. Seven of the industrial arts graduates re-entered Stout to take graduate work during the second semester.

The following from Menomonie received the Bachelor of Science degree with majors in industrial or home economics education have accepted positions:

Bruce Arnston is teaching in Rochester, Minn.; Harry Halvorson has accepted a position in Minneapolis; Richard Hencley will be at the University of Minnesota in the experimental metals laboratory.

These Milwaukee residents are also teaching: Robert Berg, Milwaukee public schools; Gerald LaBorde, Siren consolidated school; Dorothy Krushas, Eau Claire high school.

Other Stout graduates and residents of Wisconsin are Reinhold Bents, Comstock, who is in the Racine vocational school; Glenn Brooks, Pepin, is teaching in Whitefish, Mont.; Ruel Fleming, Viroqua, is at the Bayless school in St. Louis, Mo.; Hilary Janikowski is teaching in the senior high school in Fond du Lac; Raymond Stasieluk, Racine, is now located in a junior high school in Madison; Roberta Hutchison, New London, is at the Bear Creek high school. Mrs. Leverage Ablard Senn has gone to Wabeno high school; she was from Campbell sport. Mrs. Natalie Gehri Stapleton of Whitewater, will be at the John Edwards school at Port Edwards.

Donald McIntyre, New Richmond, has accepted a position at the University of Minnesota in one of the research laboratories; Charles Norris, Oshkosh, is a processing engineer with Parker Pen company at Ames. See PLACEMENTS page 4

G. SODERBERG AUTHOR OF NEW I.E. TEXT BOOK

Fresh off the presses of the McKnight & McKnight Publishing company of Bloomington, Ill., is a new industrial education textbook, written by an assistant professor of industrial education at The Stout Institute.

The book is entitled "Finishing Materials and Methods" and was written by George A. Soderberg.

The 31-chapter text is written in two sections; one dealing with finishing materials and the other with finishing methods. In the foreword, Dr. Homer J. Smith, industrial education professor at the University of Minnesota, described the distinguishing features of the book as "the range or breadth of its content and its teacher-learner approach, with strong emphasis upon the immediate requirements and eventual joy of problem solving." Dr. Smith said the book will be both an attraction and satisfaction to the industrial arts and trade instructors at several levels.

"Adults bent upon recreation, home upkeep, or occupational improvement will find here a valuable aid. Thoroughly indexed, the volume contains a wealth of technical information and manual direction for the novice, the teacher, and the craftsman."

Dr. Smith reviewed the original manuscript.

Professor Soderberg gives special mention to David P. Barnard, assistant professor of visual education at Stout, for his work in taking many of the photographs found throughout the book.

Another Stout professor whose assistance Soderberg acknowledges is Thomas Fleming, assistant professor of English, who reviewed the whole manuscript. Special acknowledgement is also given to a host of manufacturing firms for their advice on technical information, and to Mrs. Soderberg for typing the manuscript.

GERHARDT QUARTET TO BE HERE FEB. 18

The Ramona Gerhardt quartet, sponsored by the local chapter of A.A.U.W., will give a concert at the Stout Auditorium on Monday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m. The proceeds will go toward a scholarship which the organization gives each year to a Menomonie high school senior girl.

The quartet consists of Miss Gerhardt at the Hammond organ, Bert Hanson, tenor, Bob Bass, Bongo drummer and Ed Beilman, master of ceremonies.

Miss Gerhardt and her music is well known to the many listeners of her program over WCCO. Her concert here will be very informal, including a varied program of classical numbers, selections from South Pacific, Cuban numbers, and a bit of nonsense interspersed in the show.

Tickets are on sale at Lee's Drug Store and may also be purchased from members of the A.A.U.W. for $1.00 tax included.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Every so often the coach of a team that is more in the lost column than in the win column is asked by the students, and alumni, to produce or else. It would seem that the students in this school are not above this pastime either.

May it be suggested that those of you who are dissatisfied with the present athletic setup read the article in the Saturday Evening Post that came to the newstands last Wednesday. It was written by a coach who compiled an outstanding record against all comers in the field of basketball, Claire Bee of Long Island University. Bee gives the reasons why bigtime basketball belongs to the professional teams and the colleges should keep the sport down to the intercollegiate level that the students deserve.

Let us all bear in mind that to win is the main object, but to win at any cost, regardless of who gets stepped on, is only asking for the complete abolishment of intercollegiate competition in all sports.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL IN SPECIAL CAMPAIGN

Go To Church Sunday on February 10th will be the first campus activity sponsored by the newly organized Inter-Religious Council. All denominations are joining together to urge each and everyone of you to "go to church Sunday."

It is hoped that through this special drive to welcome students to church someone else will become a familiar face among the church goers. Church doors are never shut to anyone seeking fun and fellowship with God and fellow men.

The Inter-Religious Council has taken the responsibility of a "Go to Church Sunday" campaign. They have received cooperation from the individual organizations and churches who are each extending a special welcome.

The committee that has been working on this project is Ernest Collette, chairman, Miss Hain, Fred Kajihara, and Reverend Sanasac.

P.A.'S TO CELEBRATE ANNUAL FOUNDERS DAY

On February 14, members of the Pallas Athenes will celebrate their "Founders Day" A red rose will be worn by each member of the sorority to mark their day.

A Founders Day party will be held to help celebrate the occasion. Mrs. Jane Betterley and Mrs. Weinkauff who are former alumni, will be present to give short talks. Refreshments will be served afterwards.

Pat Traxler and Dorothy Gargulak are in charge of the party.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The first meeting of the Student Governing Board for the second semester was opened by Charles Schiferl.

The purchasing of a band flag, which was tabled, information concerning the whirlpool, making punch ladies, and cheerleading outfits, came under the heading of old business.

Auggie Schultz passed a leaflet around to the members of the Board to acquaint them with information concerning a whirlpool.

The board decided to table the motion concerning the purchase of a band flag until a new band director was obtained. Lewis Lausted was appointed to look into the band situation to see if someone could be appointed to direct a "Pep" band for the three remaining home games.

Mr. Kranzusch consented to make some punch ladies from plastics to be used for school activities.

NEW BUSINESS

Donald Sargent brought up the fact of the urgent need for a large skating rink in Menomonie. He had checked with city officials and found that they would clear about a half a block on the lake near the boat house and would flood it free of charge. On the grounds that the Stout students would be using it a great share of the time, and also that it would be a great gesture on the part of The Stout Institute to return thanks for the many things that the city has done for them, Don asked the board if they would like to contribute to this cause. Fuel for the warming house and money for the paying of the caretaker is yet needed. The Board authorized a contribution of $100.00 toward the warming house and caretaker.

The SMA's appeared before the Board to ask permission to affiliate with the national sorority of Alpha Sigma Alpha. The board reviewed them and then moved that the SMA sorority be allowed to affiliate with the national sorority of the Alpha Sigma Alpha.

An Education Conference at the University of Minnesota is being held February 20 and March 1. The Board decided to pay registration fees, transportation, and lodging for a maximum of 20 students who decide to go. All students wishing to go should sign their names on the list on the Home Economics bulletin board.

Sam Mikitarian announced that the movie Macatte will be presented this Sunday or next Sunday depending upon the time of arrival of the film.

THRU THE KEYHOLE

Hello there!

Here it is just two more days until Sadie Hawkins week. The boys are at the starting line getting ready to run, and the girls are getting out their track equipment in readiness. As most of you know, Sadie Hawkins week gives the girls a chance to catch their man.

There really are a lot of things to do for recreation when you stop to think about them. For example, there are the school dances, swimming, (in the pool of course), bowling, ping pong, pool, card playing, movies, watching television, skating, basketball games, and church parties. Now, don't let us catch anyone saying they can't find anything to do.

Last week end proved to be a rather quiet one; we didn't see very many couples, but we did see Dufer Peters and Hazel Nelson at the movie Friday evening.

Everyone must have been stiff from skiing because there weren't too many at the Ski Club dance Saturday evening. Rita Hack and Gale Woelffer were back together again. Fern Naedler and Herb Pringle, and Ronnie Anderson and Joanne Buboltz were also at the dance. Ron and Joanne have been together a lot lately. It's getting to be a steady affair.

Mary Klaus was out with Jerry Score last week end for the last time for a while. Jerry had to return to the service the first part of the week.

Word has it that Mary Ellen Orme is getting married to Stub Carlson

PHI U FOUNDERS DAY CELEBRATED TONIGHT

The annual Founders Day dinner of Phi Upsilon Omicron is being held this evening at the Hotel Marion at 6 p.m.

Dean Alice Kirk, Ann Rossmiller, and Dorothy Hilton will present short talks about Phi U., and its history.

The menu will consist of fillet of walleye pike with tartar sauce, baked potatoes, green buttered beans, perfection salad, hot rolls and butter, lemon pie, and coffee.

The anniversary of Phi Upsilon Omicron falls on Saturday, February 16, but the group chose to celebrate it today.

a former Stout student, February 23. Stub is soon to leave for the Navy.

Jack Myers was married last Saturday in Milwaukee. Quite a few of the Sig Tau members made the trip to Milwaukee to attend the wedding.

Jim Leader escorted Ann Sipple last Saturday. It's pretty good for the morale, isn't it, Jim? Pat Peterson and Bill Wensel certainly appear to be going steadier than just steady lately. We'll have to do a follow up on this.

A lot of the students were watching television Friday evening. In fact the Union was so blue with smoke one would think the fellows were having a smoker.

There has been exchanges of class rings lately around our ivied halls. Shirley Carlson is wearing Gary Gore's and Katie Ziehm has Joe Luetkemeyer's.

Liz Seifert's fellow from home was here to visit her last week end. So that is why she doesn't give the fellows a break here. We wondered.

Another freshman girl has become engaged. Norma Jean Schlottman, a local girl, received a beautiful ring from her fellow from Menomonie.

Jo Gritt is having difficulties trying to make up her mind between Augie Schultz and Harold Woodworth. Lucky girl to have two to make up her mind about. (Whew, that was quite a sentence).

Faithfully yours,
Key and Hole

MRS. NELSON TELLS OF TRIP THROUGH EUROPE

Rev. Ryder, Home Economics Club President, called the meeting to order in the Stout cafeteria on Monday evening, January 28. After a short business meeting, she introduced the main speaker for the evening — Mrs. Rebecca Nelson, head of the dormitories.

Mrs. Nelson spoke on her summer trip through the various countries of Europe. She mentioned many interesting and laugh-provoking incidents that happened to her and her daughter, Jean Sterner, during their travels through France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. Her picturesque and detailed descriptions of the countryside, and the peoples' customs and manner of dress (including an account of a German wedding party) made most of us feel that we were right there with her on that lovely trip.

She showed us many lovely hand-painted china plates, and hand-painted wooden plates, a pair of German-Austrian shorts with the decorated suspenders, silver spoons, and several Norwegian dolls.

WOW! DO WE NEED HELP

A meeting of the Stoutonia was held in room 122 Tuesday at 5:00. Many of the old reporters and production staff turned out, but new help is still wanted. If you are interested in writing for the paper be sure to attend the next Stoutonia meeting which will be held next Monday.

FELLOWS BEWARE!! SKEET FER DE HILLS

Hear ye, hear ye all guys and gals of Stoutpatch. On this day the SMA's of this here campus give forth to the following official proclamation.

Know all Stoutpatch men what ain't married by these presents, Whereas there be inside our campus limits a passel of gals what ain't married but craves something awful to be and Whereas there be in Stoutpatch plenty of men what could marry these gals but acts ornery and and won't and Whereas we deems matrimony's joys and being sure of eating regular the birthright of our fair Stoutpatch womanhood,

We hereby proclaims and decrees, that February 10 thru February 16 is SADIE HAWKINS WEEK.

To start the week off in a delishus fashion, these SMA gals are having a candy sale Monday to give all you women a chance to sweeten up that man of yours. Fetch him to the tea Wednesday and fill him plum full of good things to keep him happy, for any Stoutpatch gal knows that the way to a man's heart is thru his stomach.

The big event of the week is a whiz bang shindig. Gals dig down in yo wallet, grab yo Li'l Abner, and come on. There'll be prizes for the best dressed folks, natchery.

To them as are new to our campus there are a few rules to follow.

1. All gals should go courtin' and if a guy is ketched he's gotta co-operate.
2. The gals have gotta go after guys, but the males have to fetch the gals home.
3. Females has gotta open the doors, walk on the gutter side of the sidewalk, help the guy with his coat, and do all other male courtesies.
4. Gals have gotta keep the men happy and amused.
5. Remember gals that the little things count too. Compliments as -- "My yore hair looks purty"
6. Pay for all entertainment, which includes his chewin' terbakker and Kickapoo Joy Juice.

DR. FRYKLUND TO BE SPEAKER AT LSA

President Verne C. Fryklund will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Lutheran Student Association Sunday, February 10, which is Go-to-church Sunday. He will show slides of Japan which he obtained during his year in Japan. This program will prove to be very interesting and the LSA extends its welcome to all students who wish to take advantage of this opportunity. A supper is served at 5:30 and the program will follow. The meeting this Sunday will be held in the church parlors of Our Savior's Lutheran church on Ninth street and Tenth avenue.

ARTS AND CRAFTS TO INSTALL NEW MEMBERS

The initiation of the new members of the Arts and Crafts Club on the campus, will take place on February 11.

For the benefit of any students on the campus who do not know what this organization is, it is a group of a limited number of students (about thirty five usually), who meet every Monday night in the Mechanics Shop in the IE building. The organization is composed chiefly of men, but at present there are two women members who are called "honorary" members.

Students who have a hobby are particularly interested in this club as they can further their interests in it by making and learning more things about it. There are a variety of courses included in the club such as leather working, plastics, wood working, and finishing, electricity, photography and metallurgy.

The club also sponsors social events and is now making plans for its annual card party which will be held in the Stout gym on March 29. The officers of the organization are: Dean Cornwell, President; Roman Weinzerl, Vice President; Don Plale, Secretary; Al Spanheimer, Treasurer; and Carl Anderson, Librarian.

NEWMAN CLUB SUPPER SUNDAY EVENING

The Newman Club is planning to have a supper Feb. 10, at 6:00 p.m. at the St. Josephs School Auditorium. A dance will follow the supper along with other entertainment.

Those on the entertainment committee are Mary Lou Bohrnstedt and Rita Hack. John Widmar, John Debrauske and Mary Ann Smith are on the decoration committee. Betty Kleist is chairman of the food committee with Delores Dusek, Dorothy Gargulak, Alice Kelly and Mary Ann Heimerman assisting her.

WSF ENJOYS SPAGHETTI SUPPER, FELLOWSHIP

The regular meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship was held Sunday, February 3, at 5:30.

Eileen Haskins served a delicious supper consisting of spaghetti casserole, molded vegetable salad, bread and butter, cup cakes and milk.

The worship service, conducted by Fred Kajihara, was centered around the theme of Youth Sunday, "United! Committed! In Christ!"

Margaret Ort took charge of the recreation.

Next week the meeting will be based on "Brotherhood Week". Mrs. Allen, one of our counselors, will speak on "Southern Accents."

SOCIAL COMMITTEE MEETS, DISCUSSES WINTER CARNIVAL

The social committee met last Wednesday evening. The topic of discussion at the meeting was a winter carnival which was planned for February 23. No specific plans were made and the idea may be discarded. The committee met again on the night of Wednesday the 6th.

Drop a tear for the woman who went insane trying to have the last word with an echo.

The Bake Shoppe

Pictured above is just one of the functions of WSSF. It is a picture taken at the Combloux International Rest Center which is supported by WUS. The caption which accompanied the cut read: "Draw up and sing! It's after supper and completely spontaneous. The songs will be from the Viet Nam and Denmark from Rumania and England and Siam. But from ten o'clock at night until nine in the morning all will be quiet here because it is the WUS International Rest Center for students those who come need long hours of sleep and rest.

The drive for funds is being made right now. The YWCA at Stout is sponsoring the drive here. Wednesday they sponsored a movie, "Answer for Anne" at convocation.

BLUE DEVILS LOSE BATTLE TO SUPERIOR

The Blue Devils of Stout dropped their sixth straight conference game at Superior last Friday night by a score of 74 to 64.

Showing almost a complete reversal of the form that they displayed at St. Cloud on the previous Monday, the Blue Devils were caught flatfooted as the Yellowjackets from Superior stung them with a devastating fast break attack that was good for 29 points in the second quarter.

Superior rolled up a 7 point lead before the Blue Devils were able to break into the scoring column, and were never in the lead after that. Except for the second quarter scoring spurge Stout was in the ball game all the way, outscoring Superior 38-29 in the second half.

For the third straight game the final margin of defeat could be traced to the Blue Devil inability to make the charity tosses. Stout had a miserable night, making only 10 of 24 while Superior made 18 of 27.

Walker and Whittier led the scoring for the evening with 21 and 16 points respectively for Superior. Bob Erickson had 11 to lead Stout's scoring followed by Bill Kieffer with 10.

Score by Quarters:

Stout:	11	15	19	19	64
Superior:	16	29	18	11	74

"SCHMITTY'S" NABS TOP SPOT IN BOWLING

"Schmittys," the red-hot Stout bowling team taking high honors in local Menomonic competition, are the winners of the Stout intra-mural bowling season for 1951-52. The independent group turned in a consistently sparkling performance throughout the season and ended up with the top record of 23 won and 9 lost.

The nearest competitors for top honors were the Delta Kappas. With second place in the league, and were the only dangerous competitors for the title throughout the season.

The FOB team number 1, which tied for third place, got hot on one night and turned in the high three game series with a score of 1869. Wayne Olson, playing for fifth place Sigma Tau Gamma, took top individual honors with the high single game scored in the league of 222 and the high three game score of 512.

Last year's champs, the Graduate Men's Club, met with the same trouble as many of the teams; it was forced to forfeit games so members could compete in the basketball league. As a result, the strong organization of last year finished last this year.

Final standings were:

	W	L
Schmittys	23	9
Delta Kappa	20	12

BLUE DEVILS SCALPED BY INDIANS

At La Crosse last Monday night the La Crosse State College Indians scalped the Blue Devils of Stout by the convincing margin of 77 to 51.

It was the 7th win without a loss for La Crosse and kept them in a tie for first place with Whitewater. For Stout it was the 7th consecutive loss in conference play to give the Blue Devils undisputed possession of the cellar.

The La Crosse five jumped off to a 23 to 12 lead at the end of the first quarter and increased the margin as the game wore on, as La Crosse had too many guns on the floor and bench for the travel weary Blue Devils to cope with. The Indians outscoring Stout by 2 in the 2nd quarter, 5 in the 3rd quarter, and 8 in the final frame.

Again, it was Bill Kieffer and Bob Erickson carrying all the scoring punch for the battered Blue Devils. Bill Kieffer was high point man for the game on 4 baskets and 10 of 12 free throw attempts for 18 points. Bob Erickson tossed in 5 baskets and 4 of 7 free throw attempts for 14 points.

Center Lee Kempf was the high man for La Crosse with 6 baskets and 1 free throw for 13 points. However, thirteen of his teammates threw in from 1 to 9 points to roll up the 26 point margin of defeat for the Blue Devils.

Score by quarters:

Stout	12	15	12	12	51
La Crosse	23	17	17	20	77

SIGMA TAU SMOKER IS HELD IN STOUT GYM

Sigma Tau Gamma's Annual Smoker was held in the Stout Gym last Wednesday evening at 8:00. A large crowd of men took advantage of this opportunity to have an enjoyable evening. Cigarettes, cigars, and popcorn were provided free of charge to add to the evening's enjoyment. The feature event of the Smoker was the showing of the 1951 World Series. Another movie, "The Umpire in Baseball" was also shown.

Each year the Alpha Kappa Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma offers this all-school Smoker to the men at Stout. Plenty of smokes, popcorn and entertainment always combine to make the smoker an event worth while.

John Cook, social chairman of Sigma Tau Gamma was in charge of the smoker. The members of Sigma Tau Gamma would again like to say thanks to those who attended for making the Smoker a success.

DELTA KAPPA TO PLAY EAU CLAIRE CHAPTER

Delta Kappa is in the process of arranging a series of basketball games with the Eta Phi Fraternity of Eau Claire State College. It is their contention that such meetings would do much to cement a closer relationship with our very close neighbor.

Five men of Delta Kappa were graduated January. They are: Harry Halverson, Dirk VanDuzee, Jerry La Borde, Ray Post, and Don Sargent. Don has decided to remain at Stout and work on his Master's. Eleven of the present twenty-one members will graduate in June.

Delta Kappa is presently working on plans for the forth coming initiation of new pledges, the first influx of candidates since the nationalization. There are openings for fourteen men, although it is doubtful if the full number will be taken.

CANADIAN NATURALIST GIVES LECTURE HERE

Mr. Baird, a Canadian naturalist, gave one of the years most interesting convocations on January 30. He showed a colored film of his trip to British Guinea and of his stay there in the jungles and accompanied it with an interesting and witty commentary on the film.

The film gave one an excellent idea of British Guinea and of what one would encounter if he were to spend three months in the jungle, far from civilization. The photography was excellent and the scenes varied and very interesting. Mr. Baird's commentary was never dull and he did an excellent job of explaining as the film progressed.

WAA GROUP ENJOYS SQUARE DANCE PARTY

Tuesday, January 29th the Stout W.A.A. held a square dance party. Nancy Kurath was chairman of the party and did a nice job in planning this activity. Miss Erditz, W.A.A. advisor, called the squares and other folk dances. After a strenuous hour refreshments were served. The hot dogs, potato chips, and hot chocolate were enjoyed by all. Many of the Stout fellows were surprised and pleased at the invitation to help us clean up the leftovers. We were promoting good will among men.

W. C. GIESE SPEAKER AT BROTHERHOOD CONVO.

February 17 to 24 has been designated as Brotherhood Week. This annual observance week will be focused on the need for sharing the civilian blood with our Armed Forces.

A special speaker, W. C. Giese, has been obtained to speak at convocation Wednesday, February 20. Mr. Giese, a good platform speaker, is well-versed in the topic.

The emphasis this year will be toward pledges for blood donations, not actual donations.

STOUT RADIO PROGRAMS TO BE OVER WMNE

The Stout Institute will originate a series of radio programs to be presented over WMNE. The first program will be given Saturday, February 16, from 12:45-1:00 p.m. when Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, President of The Stout Institute, will answer a number of the typical questions received at the college from interested high school seniors who are contemplating their college programs.

The purpose of the radio broadcasts is to acquaint the people within this listening area with the local college and the services it offers. It is hoped that all citizens of the community will be interested in becoming well acquainted with the instruction available in higher education at The Stout Institute. The general plan will be to provide answers to the many questions of those anticipating college. The programs should be of special interest to youth and their parents who are planning to enter college in September, or to those who are nearing military draft age.

The college consultants for the radio series production are Mr. David Barnard, of the Bureau of Audio-Visual Education and Mr. Norman Ziemann, Head of the Speech Department. The programs will be presented by faculty and students at the college and will cover the following topics on succeeding Saturdays: "The purpose and function of The Stout Institute in the Community." Are you ready for the next step - Military service, work, or college." "Student social, religious, cultural and recreational life at Stout." "Pre-professional and general education opportunities at Stout." "Careers in Home Economics." "Careers in Industrial Education."

MISS HELEN RODGERS

FOODS EXPERT TO LECTURE HERE MONDAY

"Serving interesting breads is an easy and thrifty way to make meals more appealing," says Miss Helen Rodgers, regional home economist of the Wheat Flour Institute, Chicago.

Miss Rodgers will illustrate her statement in a baking demonstration for home economics students of Stout Institute on Monday, February 18. The announcement was made by Miss Clara Carrison of the Foods Department. The demonstration will be held in Room 301 at 1 o'clock p.m.

Miss Rodgers will prepare a basic yeast batter which requires no kneading. From this beaten yeast batter, she will fashion marmalade coffee cake and crumble squares. You'll like them for breakfast, brunch or lunch," suggests Miss Rodgers.

GERHARDT QUARTET TO APPEAR HERE MONDAY

The Ramona Gerhardt quartet, sponsored by the local chapter of A.A.U.W. will give a concert at the Stout Auditorium on Monday, February 18 at 8 p.m. The proceeds will go toward a scholarship which the organization gives each year to a Menomonie high school senior girl.

The quartet consists of Miss Gerhardt at the Hammond organ, Bert Hanson, tenor, Bob Bass, Bongo drummer and Ed Beilman, master of ceremonies.

Miss Gerhardt and her music is well known to the many listeners of her program over WCCO. Her concert here will be very informal, including a varied program of classical numbers, selections from South Pacific, Cuban numbers and a bit of nonsense interspersed in the show.

Tickets are on sale at Lee's Drug Store and may also be purchased from members of the A.A.U.W. for $1, tax included.

STUDENTS URGED TO FILE NOW FOR SS TEST

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1952 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration, Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight March 10, 1952. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

RED SCARFERS REUNION TO BE HELD HERE

Stout will be the scene of the annual winter reunion of the "Red Scarfers" 4-H delegation this week end. This group, which is composed of 4-H members who attended the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in either '48, '49, or '50, have been holding their reunion at the University of Wisconsin but decided to hold it at a state college this year and Stout was the college chosen.

The "Red Scarfers" received their name at the National Congress at which all Wisconsin 4-H representatives wear red scarfs to distinguish themselves as all of the states represented must have some distinguishing mark. Each year there are twenty-eight to thirty outstanding 4-H members from Wisconsin as delegates at the congress in Chicago, and each member represents about 2,000 4-Hers in the state. There are seven "Red Scarfers" at Stout: Dorothy Hilton, Carol Bredlow, Lois Bredlow, Gloria Voigt, Mary Dettler, Marjorie Eckert, and Marilyn Klusmeyer.

Approximately thirty of these club members are expected at Stout for the week end as many of them are unable to attend. Most of these expected are students at the University or other colleges and average in age from 20 to 21.

The delegates will arrive on Friday and will have a busy week end to look forward to. Friday night they will attend the Lyceum and afterwards a "get-together" at one of the houses. On Saturday morning they will tour the campus and in the afternoon have a business meeting at which slides will be shown and arrangements made for another reunion this summer. A banquet is planned for Saturday night at the Marion Hotel at which Dean Price will represent the Stout faculty. After the banquet a square dance will be held in the Methodist church basement. The group will attend church together on Sunday morning and then a farewell dinner in the Stout tea-room will end the week end reunion.

IVAN KORTKAMP

IVAN KORTKAMP APPOINTED TO MUSIC POSITION

Ivan Kortkamp, a director of musical champions, arrived here Friday to take over direction of music at The Stout Institute.

He directed Iowa Champion High school acapella choir and boy and girl glee clubs for six years. Kortkamp has composed three choir numbers and is author of a book for the guidance of musical directors. He has also written magazine articles and for two years was associate editor of Choir Guide Magazine.

Kortkamp is a native of Moline, but for 17 years he has been teaching music in schools in Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin. He had gone to Red Oak, Iowa, to take over the work in Red Oak High School and had been there only two weeks when he was released from his contract to take the position at Stout.

For six years prior to going to Red Oak Kortkamp was in charge of the choral work at Nevada, Iowa, where the organizations he directed carried state honors for six years, were chosen to appear before the governor and state legislature and appeared on national broadcasts.

Kortkamp received his early training in music at Augustana College, Rock Island, Illinois, where he earned his bachelor degree in music. He took his master degree in music at Wesleyan University. Later he taught at Oshkosh, Decatur, and Fairbury, Ill. and Wayland, Iowa.

While Kortkamp has been sought for his vocal music qualifications, he has also directed bands for six of his seventeen years in the field, and he hopes to have the Stout Band going again in a couple weeks.

He will meet with the Stout Symphonic Singers for the first time Monday afternoon. He said Saturday that several of the members of the choir have already called on him in his office to express their eagerness to have the choir rehearsals resumed.

Kortkamp has written and marketed a booklet called "A Choir Members Bible," a handbook for members and directors.

His compositions are "Shadows in the Night," "The Hour of Night," and "I Arise from Dreams of Thee."

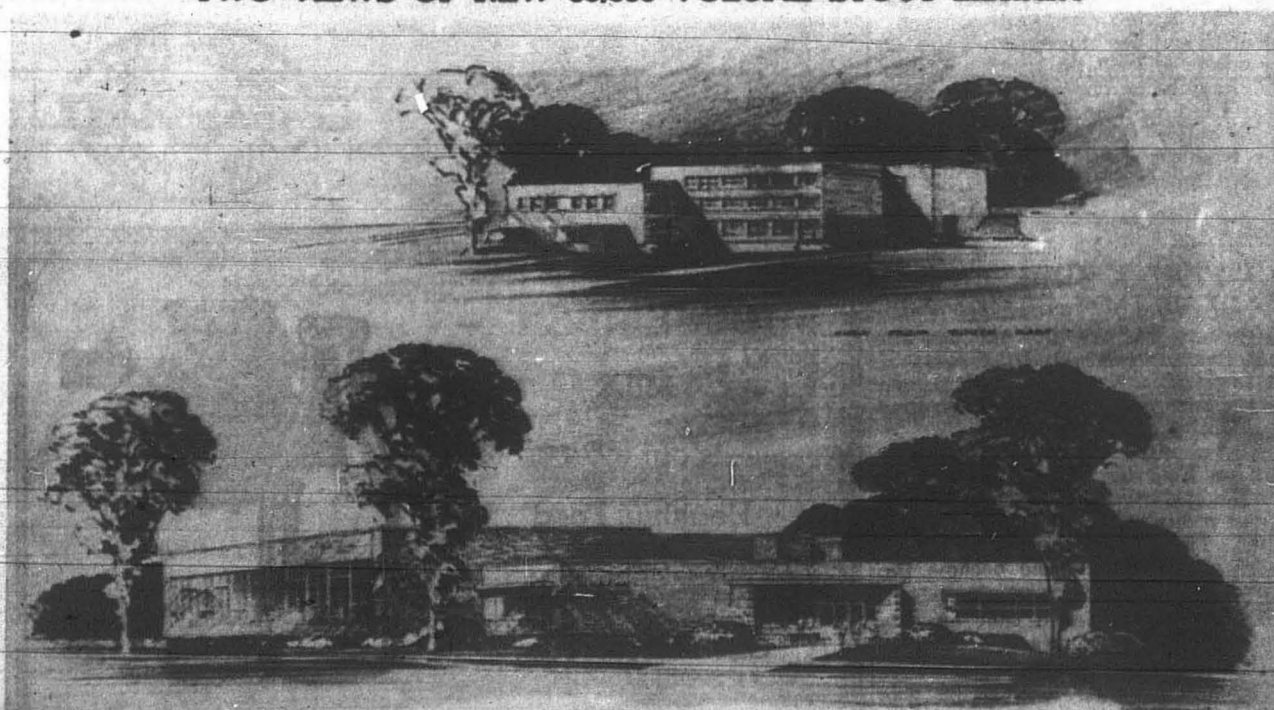

Recently the Midland Schools Magazine had an article on the Nevada schools in which the chorus work was featured.

STUDENTS HERE ENJOY "NOBODY SLEEPS"

"Nobody Sleeps" was presented Wednesday evening, February 6, by the Manual Arts Players under the direction of Sam Mikitarian. The play offered an opportunity for the members and prospective members to obtain experience in acting, directing, and working backstage.

The cast included Charles Russell as Spike, the burglar, Joan Gritt as Daisy Busby, Mary Betzel as Ada Busby, Joeline Chryst as Glory Busby, and Harriet Homer as Mrs. Busby.

MENOMONIE GREENHOUSE

on Broadway Across from High School

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

What is being done to further the interest in our college? How can we stimulate students to attend Stout? In this issue of The Stoutonia, two such methods have been brought out. First there is the new series of radio programs over the local Menomonie radio station. The purpose of these programs is to interest the people of the surrounding area in The Stout Institute. This will do much toward cementing relations for our school. The first of the series will be broadcast tomorrow at 12:45 so, if possible, try to listen to it.

The other method of stimulating interest in prospective students are the two annual alumni scholarships. Dewey Barich, chairman of the scholarship committee this year has written a letter in this weeks paper to alumni asking their interest and support in publishing these scholarships.

The winners of these awqrd's will be called upon to write their reactions to Stout and the scholarships in future issues of the paper. Through these we will see the value of such awards.

These are just two of the methods used to stimulate interest in The Stout Institute, but they are important, and they deserve our support.

TEA ROOM TO TOUR THROUGH THE STATES

The theme for the tea room meals this semester will take us traveling through the North, South, East, and West section of the United States. States such as Mississippi, Maryland, New Hampshire, and New Mexico which have never before been covered will be included in this semester's plans.

The menu cards will again be made in Miss Hinkley's department. Motiffs for the cards will be the state flower of the state being visited at that time. Food served will also be the characteristic foods of that state.

The same plan as usual will be followed this semester, and the reservation board will be posted one week in advance opposite the Dean's office. Prices will be $.75 for the usual luncheon, $.85 for the heavier luncheons and $1.00 for the smorgasbords.

Because there is a large class this semester, there will possibly be one or two more tea rooms. The girls will also have an opportunity to cover the various duties of the manager, hostess, waitress, cooks, bakers and others.

CONGO CLUB MEETING HELD FEBRUARY 3

The regular meeting of the Congo Club was held Sunday, February 3. A supper of toasted cheese sandwiches, jello salad, relish tray, and cocoa was enjoyed by everyone.

Jan Waseen, in charge of the worship, directed the reciting of the 23rd Psalm. Audrey Goodell conducted a discussion of "Christianity in the Home."

Congo's next meeting the "World Day of Prayer," will be held at the Methodist Church on February 17.

DIETETICS CLUB URGES ALL TO ATTEND MOVIES

Attention Movie Goers!

Do you want to see one of two first class movies and support a Stout organization? A pleasant way to do this is to buy a ticket from a member of the Stout Dietetics Club for "The Red Badge of Courage" which is showing at the Stout theater Monday and Tuesday, or "Bright Victory" at the State theater the same days.

These movies both have excellent reviews. The following are excerpts from each:

"Red Badge of Courage"

"Some of John Huston's superior craftsmanship is displayed in 'Red Badge of Courage' the film version of Stephen Crane's classic novel of the Civil War..."

"...exceedingly well-acted by the principals Audie Murphy, Bill Mauldin and John Dierkes."

"What Huston has done in writing the screen play is to draw a kind of introspective picture of what goes through the mind of the youth, Murphy, as he is prepared for battle. He takes the audience as a participant rather than an onlooker through the initial sounds of gunfire as the battle field is approached; the first battle with the dead falling on all sides; his defection from the ranks; remorse, return to his comrades; and his heroic leading of the soldiers to victory..."

"...deserves special mention for effective musical score."

"Some of the battle scenes are among the most impressive seen on the screen in many a long day..."

"Bright Victory"

"Written and produced with a fine understanding by Robert Buckner, and directed with his heart in soldier's experiences with life and love is tremendously satisfying for man, woman and child."

"...these combined with sterling performances by Arthur Kennedy, Peggy Dow and an extremely well chosen cast, set the picture apart from other war-inspired stories in point of validity, human interest and universality of appeal."

"The picture, by and large, stacks up as primarily a love story, and a very good one, told by some extraordinarily gifted story-tellers."

The tickets for these movies are .60 for adults and .40 for Stout students. They may be purchased from any Dietetics Club member and will be on sale in the hall of the Home Ec. Building. The business establishments will be personally contacted.

DO YOU KNOW THE VALENTINE STORY?

February 14, was the day the ancient Romans celebrated the feast of the Lupercalia. Then the young people drew names out of urns to determine the identity of their true love.

St. Valentine was brutally martyred on February 14, and to honor him the early Christians set aside that day as a day of Christian feast in his honor. The Lupercalian custom persisted and St. Valentine became the patron saint of lovers.

It was also believed that on this day the birds and animals find their mates.

The first rhymed love letter was written by the Duke of Orleans when he was imprisoned at Agincourt. The comic valentine is probably a survival of the old Roman celebration.

LSA TO PRINT PAPER NAMED LSA LANTERN

This is the first report from L.S.A. in this new semester but do not get the idea that this is a sign of inactivity. At the last regular meeting previous to vacation several planning committees were formed to formulate special activities and carry out old functions. The time has come to announce that several of these committees have completed their work and are to be commended on their fine work.

By this time many students who signed their religious preference cards as Lutheran have received a copy of the L.S.A. Lantern. This was Vol. 1, No. 1 of an actual L.S.A. publication. This small but informative, well balanced paper will be a regular publication that will inform its recipients as to what is going on at L.S.A. as well as contain other special news items and messages that might be of interest and inspiration.

The program committee has drawn up a tentative schedule for the remainder of the school year that appears to be very interesting and should put L.S.A. number one on your list for what to do on Sunday evenings. Read your copy of the Lantern which will carry program schedules several weeks in advance and then make plans to attend a meeting that looks interesting to you if you are not a regular attendee, the chances are that you will become a so called regular within a short time. As was stated above about the programs being tentative; your attention is called to the fact that the pancake supper for February 17, has been postponed until February 24; see all pancake fans then.

If you are interested in Bible study or have wondered just what goes on at a Bible study take a look at the new Bible study program poster on the library bulletin board. It will tell you the study topics for several months in advance so all you have to do is pick a topic that looks interesting and present yourself at the parsonage at Our Saviours Church, Rev. Boe's house at 10:00 any Sunday morning. You will be more than welcome and you too will probably come to appreciate your Bible as the best and most wonderful book you have or have ever used.

See you in church on go to church Sunday the 17th.

THREE STOUT MEN TO SIGMA TAU GAMMA MEET

Stout's delegates to the bi-annual Northern Province conclave of Sigma Tau Gamma left yesterday on a 1600 mile round trip to Ypsilanti, Michigan. At Ypsilanti they will meet with delegates from seven other schools in the northern province. The purpose of the meeting is to promote closer fraternity relations and discuss current fraternity problems. The northern province is one of the smaller of Sigma Tau Gamma's seven provinces. Other chapters of Sigma Tau Gamma are located in almost every state in the union from New Hampshire to California.

David Bienaze, Jim Brown and Sam Milkitarian are Stout's delegates to this conclave.

TRYOUTS PLANNED FOR SPRING PRODUCTION

Everyone with or without previous dramatic experience is invited to come to the tryouts for the spring production of the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, "Mr. Barry's Etchings," under the direction of Mr. Norman Zieman. The tryouts will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 18 and 19, at 7:15 p.m. Monday evening the tryouts will be held in room 29, and on Tuesday evening, they will be held on the stage in the auditorium.

"Mr. Barry's Etchings," a comedy, requires a cast of seven women and six men. If there is anyone interested in working on the production staff, stop in and tell Mr. Zieman.

DEWEY BARICH OPENS SCHOLARSHIP DRIVE

Chairman Of Alumni Scholarship Committee Writes Letter To Alumni

Mr. Dewey F. Barich, the chairman of the alumni scholarship committee, is now manager of the IAA program of the Ford Motor Company. Mr. Barich has received several honors since he left Stout besides writing, demonstrating, and giving lectures. Following is a letter received from Mr. Barich concerning the annual Alumni scholarships.

No activity of the Stout Alumni Association is more enjoyable to be a part of than our annual search for the boy and girl who will receive the Alumni Scholarships.

It has been my happy privilege to be a member of the Scholarship Committee for three years. Each year the members of this Committee have the heart-warming experience of looking over the hopeful letters of the applicants, all having good reasons for wanting to attend our Alma Mater. Naturally it makes us feel proud of our school. On the other hand, there are always very worthy students who must be denied scholarships because there are only two granted. Last year through the media of the Stoutonia I attempted to stimulate some interest among you to do something about increasing the amount and number of scholarship awards. The response has not been encouraging. However, I am

GRADUATE EXPRESSES THANKS FOR AWARD

Mrs. Marvel Oelke Thiede, who was one of the Stout Institute Alumni Association Scholarship winners in 1946, writes:

Now that I am a Stout graduate I can better express my appreciation to the Stout Alumni Association for the scholarship awarded to me. If the scholarship had not been received, possibly Stout would not be my alma mater. Also, meaning that I would not be a home economics teacher.

At the present time I am teaching in Abbotsford High School which is fourteen miles from Medford, where I taught last year. It has a small, but convenient department. My enrollment is 65 girls; three freshmen classes, one of each sophomore, junior, and senior.

not easily discouraged. Certainly there are enough Stout Alumni sufficiently interested in doing something to promote this cause. Can we start by having this question discussed by our several Alumni Chapters? It seems of sufficient importance to be a matter for our national officers to consider. They will, I am sure, if we show them we are willing to cooperate in any move to see this project made a reality. It has been my observation that we as Alumni of The Stout Institute, do not have many demands made of us. Here is a worthy cause and one that will give us real personal pleasure. If you want to help, bring the matter up in your Alumni Chapter. If you do not belong to a chapter, send a letter to our Alumni secretary giving him your assurance that you want to help.

Dewey Barich

DOES YOUR FRIEND NEED A SCHOLARSHIP

To the Students of Stout:
Stout's fine reputation throughout the world has been gained by the fine work done by its graduates. In order to produce graduates of high caliber it is essential that we encourage students with good high school records to come to Stout. You know from personal experience that many good students are discouraged from attending college for financial reasons. We realize this in the Alumni Association, and some years ago, set up a scholarship fund. Each year two students, one boy and one girl, are awarded scholarships amounting to free tuition and sixty dollars. This amount certainly will not carry a student through his freshman year; but it does help. This week we have begun to accept applications for next fall's scholarships. If you know of anyone from your hometown who is interested in industrial arts or home economics will you please encourage him or her to apply for the scholarship? We have set up the following qualifications for entry:

1. Awarded to incoming freshmen only.
2. Scholarship — upper third of high school graduating class.
3. Show interest in industrial education or home economics.
4. Character, good citizenship and health.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE URGED FOR SUNDAY

Have you heard the call? Yes, the local churches and The Stout Institute Inter-Religious Council are calling each and everyone of you to come to the church of your choice.

When? Well, especially, not only but especially, on February 17th, 1952. Yes, this is the date that has been officially proclaimed "Go to Church Sunday," for Stout students.

Why don't you visit one of the local churches? Many of them are having a special service for the college students. This is your opportunity to become acquainted with some new friends and a new satisfaction.

CANTERBURY CLUB IS NEW CHURCH GROUP

Have you ever heard of the Canterbury Club? This is one church organization at Stout with which many of us are unfamiliar.

Assuming you have never heard of the church group before, you might associate "Canterbury" with England, and if you did, you would be on the right course because this is the church organization of the English Episcopal Church.

A small but active group, the club has twelve members and meets every other Sunday. These are supper meetings after which is usually held some form of entertainment such as playing cards.

The advisors of the Canterbury Club are Dean Price, Miss Hain, and the church's pastor, Father Rawson.

WSSF DRIVE COMES TO SUCCESSFUL HALT

The WSSF drive under the able direction of Mary Dettlor and sponsored by the YWCA and other campus organizations came to a successful close Friday.

A collection was taken Wednesday after the assembly and following that a table was set up in the H.E. corridor for the purpose of getting further donations.

The YWCA wishes to thank all those who helped to make the drive successful.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

When the question of the week: "Do you plan to make use of leap year and especially Sadie Hawkins week?" was asked various answers were given. We have listed some of them here.

Marilyn Schwants: "No, not of leap year, but perhaps of Sadie Hawkins week."

Meg Nisen: "I hadn't thought about it, but-----"

Marietta Thomas: "I'll make use of leap year but not of Sadie Hawkins week."

Ginny Hoppe: "Well-----"

Catherine Magee: "Sure do, can't let a chance like that go by."

Nancy Kurath: "I made good use of last leap year, guess I'd better stay home."

Dee Dee Danzinger: "My answer to that question is a secret."

Jo Brehm: "I've been looking, but I'm bashful."

Olive Coe: "Perhaps."

BLUEDEVILS POCKET FIRST LOOP VICTORY

Showing the scoring balance expected all season, but a little late in arriving, the Stout Blue Devils won their first conference victory this season with a 70 to 66 upset over favored River Falls.

Forward Bob Moe led the Blue Devils to victory with 16 points. Center Bob Erickson and guard Bill Kieffer proved to be valuable assistants as they tossed in 15 and 14 points respectively to aid the cause.

Don Steele and Dennis Hawkes, the other two starters, also helped with 10 and 9 points apiece.

The game started out with the old familiar pattern of Stout falling behind in the opening minutes. This pattern was abruptly reversed midway thru the 1st quarter when Stout was trailing by a score of 8 to 1, and the boys made 7 of 8 free throws and began to hit the basket. The quarter ended with the Blue Devils still behind, but only by 3, 12 to 15.

As the second quarter opened the Blue Devils kept right on rolling and built up a 10 point halftime lead by outscoring River Falls 24 to 11. The 24 point spree was well divided with all five scoring, no one man having more than 6 points for the quarter.

The boys were a little tired in the second half as River Falls started to come from behind but they had enough gas left to get the points when they were needed, leading by 7 at the end of the third quarter and by 4 for the final margin of victory.

The score by quarters:
STOUT 12 24 16 18 70

BLUE DEVILS LEAVE FOR FOUR DAY TOUR

Today the battered Blue Devils leave on a four day road trip in which they will meet the Milwaukee Green Gulls and the Oshkosh Titans on foreign courts.

Both Milwaukee and Oshkosh are in the second division of the conference and there is the possibility that the Blue Devils can lift themselves out of the conference cellar with a double victory on this trip.

Coach Johnson is taking a squad of 13 players and 2 managers on this trip, the 13 players consisting of two seniors, 1 junior, 1 sophomore, and 10 freshmen.

The probable starting lineups for both of these games will be Bob Moe and Dennis Hawkes, both freshmen, at the forwards; Bob Erickson, a senior, at center; and Bill Kieffer, a junior, and Don Steele, another freshmen, at the guards.

The team will return from Oshkosh about noon on Tuesday morning.

FIVE GIRLS EARN WAA LETTERS IN SPORTS

The following girls earned the Stout "S" award this past semester: Catherine Magee, Val Bloom, Margaret Fitzgerald, Lois Bredlow, and Mary Ellen Orme.

To receive this award the girls had to earn 8 organized and 50 unorganized points. An organized point is earned by participating in 3 games of one organized sport such as basketball, volleyball, bowling, badminton, etc. An unorganized point is received for each hour of an outside activity such as hiking, swimming, skating, boating, etc.

These girls did it, so can the rest of you!

WSF HOLDS MEETING, HEAR BIBLE HISTORY

The regular meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship was held Sunday, February 10, at 5:30 o'clock.

Ardith Garrison's committee served the supper. The menu consisted of scrambled eggs and ham, mashed potatoes, relish tray, muffins, and cherry cobbler.

The worship service was conducted by Eileen Haskins' committee. In Rev. Reece's absence, a tape recording which gave the history of the Bible, was played.

DO YOU LIKE SKIING? DEEPWOOD'S CALLING

Almost any Saturday morning will find a group of Stout students boarding a bus at the South door of the Home Economics building headed for Deep Woods the new ski area north-east of Wheeler. Last Saturday was no exception with fourteen going by bus and others going up in the afternoon.

With the consent of the owners of the area, four of the members of the Stout ski club, "Corky" Collette, Herb Pringle, Herb Riehe, and Wayne Olsen have formed a ski patrol.

Members of the Stout club are happy to give beginners instructions. Boots, skis, and poles may be rented, providing an excellent chance for beginners to learn to ski.

The hills at Deep Wood are excellent especially for beginners.

CANDY SALE, TEA FILL BUSY WEEK FOR SMA

The SMA's were busy people this week. A candy sale was first on the week's calendar. Piles of fudge, sea-foam, and penoche tempted students to forget that diet, and try some. Marilyn Eckstein was in charge of this phase of the activities.

A tea on Wednesday honored St. Valentine. From 3:30 to 5:30 faculty and students found the Harvey Memorial a pleasant place to be. A red heart with a white carnation center and red candles formed the main point of interest on the table. Officers of the sorority poured. Betty Worthington and Ardith Weber were co-chairmen of this event.

LIBRARY ADDS MANY INTERESTING BOOKS

The History of Painting is written by David M. Robb, who is Professor of the History of Art at the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. Robb discusses the development of painting in the Occidental Tradition from its primitive beginning in the Old Stone Age right up to contemporary work. Color Plates and numerous illustrations emphasize the points the author makes.

The Hobby Book of Stenciling and Brush-Stroke Painting by Raymond F. Yates deals authoritatively with this art. Mr. Yates gives, Step-by-step, the processes that are used to restore the designs on old furniture, tinware, glass, and clockfaces.

How to Build Games and Toys by B. W. Pelton gives instructions for providing a wide variety of amusements. After first giving the basic processes, the author tells how to make games and toys for children of all ages as well as easily constructed things for "convalescents and rainy day prisoners."

MIGHTY CARLS SCORE EASY 64-43 VICTORY

Tuesday night the Blue Devils absorbed a 64-43 defeat from the mighty Carls of Carleton.

The Blue Devils scored first on two baskets by center Bob Erickson to lead for the only time in the game, 4 to 0. The Carls began to find the range and ran the 4 to 0 deficit to a 13 to 4 lead. By the end of the first quarter the score was Carleton 23, Stout 10.

From there on the Carls coasted as the Blue Devils tried to work the ball in thru the stiff defense that Carleton threw up. This was hard to do as shot after shot from close in was blocked as the man tried to get the ball into the basket.

At the halfway marker the Carls led Stout by a 40 to 19 margin.

Using substitutes freely in the second half Carleton was just barely able to keep up as the Blue Devils began to solve the Carleton defense. The scoring pace slowed down with both teams shooting erratically and sporadically.

For the Blue Devils Don Steele was the high man with 15 points on 7 baskets and 1 free throw. Bob Erickson and Bob Moe also helped with 13 and 10 points respectively.

Score by quarters:

MY ACHING BACK! HELL WEEK'S COMING

Hell Week will soon be here again! Twice each year Stout's four social fraternities select their pledges who go through Hell Week before becoming official members. Those who remember the Hell Week of last fall know that it is an interesting, active week for everyone on the campus.

Possibly the week is hectic for the fraternity pledges, but it is an excellent test of a man's ability to stand up under adverse conditions, his willingness to serve others, and his interest in supporting the fraternity.

The social fraternities on the Stout Campus are: Delta Kappa, Kappa Phi Sigma, Phi Omega Beta, and Sigma Tau Gamma. Pledges for these frats can easily be recognized by the special pledging equipment they wear. The future members of the Sigma chapter of Delta Kappa wear red fezzes and a red sash. Kappa Phi Sigma's don fraternity sweaters, straw hats, and carry canes. Future Phi Omega Beta's sport black derbys, T shirts, and Bow ties. Pledges to Alpha Kappa chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma are clad in blue and white helmets, blue and white shields, and carry gold swords.

Keep your eyes open for pledge activities for there will assuredly be many of them.

SSA RECEIVES STORY OF NEW FOSTER CHILD

The students of The Stout Institute will be interested in hearing that we have a new Foster Child, a Greek girl by the name of Stavroula Kourpetsoglou. The foster child that we previously had, Lazzaro Castelnuovo, the cruelly mutilated Italian boy, has been assigned a government pension of the equivalent of $15 a month for life. He has left the colony and is now working.

To acquaint you a little with your new foster child, Stavroula Kourpetsoglou, we will give a brief case history below.

STAVROULA
KOURPETSOGLOU

The war and subsequent civil strife brought great misery, tragedy and sorrow to this child's family. Stavroula and her sister, Evangelia, who is a year older, are the children of Elias and Efrossini Hatzinikolaou Kourpetsoglou and were born in Salonica, the father was killed in the street by the explosion of a German land-mine. The young widow was left without protector-provider, no resources and two little girls for whom she must provide. When their home was destroyed during an air-bombardment and everything they possessed was lost, the frantic, distraught mother sought shelter with her brother. Since that fateful day they have struggled miserably for mere existence.

Stavroula, Evangelia and their mother, still live in the two rooms of the girls' uncle. The mother works when she is physically able and they never have enough to eat. When first entering PLAN care, Stavroula was ragged, thin and weak but in the years of PLAN care thru the help and interest of her Foster Parents, she has improved considerably. Your adoption makes certain continued PLAN aid during the period of your adoption pledge.

Stavroula is an attractive, intelligent, bright eyed little girl, most appreciative of the PLAN help she receives. She is extremely proud of the plaid jumper-dress in which you see her pictured—given her from PLAN warehouse in Greece. When asked what she wanted to be when she grew up, Stavroula replied, "A good wife."

SPEBSQA PARADE OF QUARTETS SATURDAY

Saturday evening, February 23, at 8:15, the Menomonic SPEBSQA and the Menomonic Barbershop Chorus will present a program of Barbershop singing in the Stout auditorium. Tickets are $1.20 and all the proceeds will go to the Menomonic high school band.

The quartets you will hear are: Four More 4 and The Cardinals from Madison; The Elksters; The Four Tones, Mama Tones, Leinenkugel Four, and Medieval Meletones from Menomonic; The Barbershop chorus and the Sweet Adeline chorus from Menomonic will also sing.

The Madison singers recently appeared in the Minneapolis Barbershop parade and proved to be very entertaining.

SSA PETITIONS MUST BE IN NEXT FRIDAY

Petitions for prospective SSA officers must be filed with the SSA of fice by February 29. These petitions can be obtained at the SSA office any time.

The rules regarding petitions are: A student may sign only one petition for each office, each petition requires twenty-six signatures; the president must be a junior now and the vice president a sophomore; the other officers can be from any class except seniors.

The election for the SSA officers for 1952-53 will take place March 13. Preceding the election, on March 12, a campaign assembly will be held.

CONFERENCE PANEL TOPICS ARE LISTED

The College of Education, at the University of Minnesota is holding its Fourth Annual Student Education Conference at the university February 29 and March 1, 1952.

One of the purposes of the conference is to stimulate a feeling of professionalism among education students as well as stimulate thinking on major issues.

Some of the proposed panel discussion topics are:

1. Should sex education and family relationship courses be included in the public school curriculum?
2. Is discipline a problem in the school?
2. How much freedom and responsibility does the teacher have within the classroom?
4. What is the school's responsibility toward juvenile delinquents?
5. What is the role of the teacher in the community?
6. What should be done about individual differences and the changing curriculum?
7. What should the school's attitude be toward minority groups?
8. Should religion be taught in the public schools?
9. What is the school's responsibility for providing counseling or student guidance services?
10. What can be done to prevent students from leaving school when they reach the age of sixteen?
11. What should a prospective teacher know about unions and professional organizations?
12. Is tenure an asset or a liability?

If any of the students are interested in the above proposed panel discussion topics and would like to attend this conference, they should sign the sheet posted on the HE bulletin board. The Governing Board has authorized payment of transportation, lodging, registration for up to 18 students and two chaperones. There will be two days of luncheons, coffee hours, and panel discussions.

The schedule of events for this conference is as follows:

- February 29, 1952 Friday
- 9 - 12 Registration at the Union.
 - 12 - 1 "Kick-off" Luncheon
Speaker: Dr. W. W. Cook
speaking on Teaching Personality
 - 2 - 4 Panel Discussion
 - 4 - 6 Coffee Hour
 - 9 - 12 Entertainment; Barn Dance
- March 1, 1952 Saturday
- 9 - 11 Panel Discussions
 - 12 - 1 "Round up" Luncheon

FOB STUNT NIGHT TO BE HELD MARCH 1

The Annual FOB Stunt Night is scheduled to be held March 1 at 7:30 p.m. in The Stout Auditorium.

At a meeting held Monday evening, numbers were drawn by chairmen of the various groups for their order in the program. The skits will be judged on originality, smoothness of presentation, and good acting. Ten minutes will be allowed for each skit with points taken off for the number of seconds over time.

Jerry Henderson, who is in charge of ticket sales, has announced that the price will be 30c a ticket. Eleven organizations thus far, plan to take part in the program.

DELEGATES ATTEND HE CLUB WORKSHOP

The Home Economics Club of The Stout Institute sponsored two student delegates to the eighth annual National Home Economics Club Workshop which was held at the Allerton Hotel in Chicago beginning Thursday, February 14, and ending Saturday, February 16. Nadine Brown, a junior from Manitowoc, Wisconsin, president elect, and Joan Fairweather, a sophomore of Milwaukee, social chairman of the club were chosen by the club's council to represent The Stout Institute Chapter. They left for Chicago on Wednesday.

Home Economics Club members attending the Workshop were from Iowa, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. The theme of the Workshop was "The heart of the world is in the home; the heart of the home is in the woman." Chairmanship of the discussion group on "Professional or general education in training Home Economics Majors", was assumed by Joan Fairweather. Nadine Brown was a member of the Evaluation Committee. The girls gained much from the whole context of the Workshop which fitted in with the general theme, and brought back new ideas and suggestions for the club's benefit.

SUMMER CONVO SPEAKERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Plans have recently been completed for the summer schedule of convocation programs. Five outstanding speakers have been chosen to speak on subjects related to education. The first will be Dr. M. D. Mobley, executive secretary of The American Vocational Association. Dr. Mobley has had a wide range of experiences teaching, advising Future Farmers groups, and working in state and national vocational associations. He will be at Stout June 18 through 20. During this time he will act as a consultant in classes and speak on "Today's Education."

June 25, Mrs. Margaret Calkin Banning will speak on "Current Social-Economic Interests." Mrs. Banning has written numerous short stories and essays for magazines on phases of American life and activities of women.

Dr. J. C. Wright, former assistant U. S. Commissioner of education, will be at Stout July 7 through the 10. Dr. Wright received his science degree in education at The Stout Institute. He served as chairman of the U. S. delegates to the 2nd Inter-American Conference on Education, Santiago, Chile, and on several conferences in Mexico. The topic of his speech will be "American Education in Other Lands—Point Four Program."

Wednesday, July 16, Mr. Clarence Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education for Wisconsin, will be at Stout. Mr. Greiber's speech is entitled "Where Goes Vocational Education?"

The final address will be given by Mr. Earl L. Bedell. Mr. Bedell will be at Stout acting as a consultant July 23 and 24. July 24, he will be speaker for the Graduate Recognition Dinner.

SSA SPORTS SPREE IN UNION, GYM SATURDAY

PRES. FRYKLUND MR. WIGEN TO ATTEND MEET

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, Menomonic, Wisconsin, and Mr. Ray A. Wigen, director of Graduate Studies, will represent The Stout Institute at the Fourth Annual Meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE) in Chicago February 21-23.

The AACTE is a national organization for the improvement of teacher education, and acts as an accrediting agency for its member institution. There will be representatives from 253 colleges and universities throughout the nation consisting of presidents, deans, and professors of teachers colleges and university schools of education.

President Fryklund will participate on a panel, discussing current issues in teacher education. Mr. Wigen will attend the special meeting called to discuss the problems of accreditation of industrial arts teacher-education programs. On the panel he will discuss dual preparation of industrial arts, vocational trade and industrial teachers.

President Fryklund will also attend the Regional Vocational Education Annual Meeting called by the U.S. Office of Education in Chicago for February 25-28. Problems on trade and industrial education will be the topics for discussion.

FAMILY LIFE WORKSHOP TO BE HELD HERE

The Stout Institute is sponsoring a Family Life Workshop on March 13 and 14. Invitations have been extended to 80 instructors and professors in all colleges and universities in Wisconsin and Minnesota where home economics departments exist.

The Workshop will include sessions as well as small conference groups, during which there will be demonstrations in the use of films, discussions, counseling and socio-dramas. Participating members are urged to bring their specific problems for consideration.

This two-day conference will feature Dr. Esther McGinnis, former director of the Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit and now field worker on a special project in Family Life Education for the American Home Economics Association. Dr. McGinnis is the author of several books and many articles in the fields of psychology and home economics. An article entitled "Family Centered Teaching" is now appearing in the January issue of the JOURNAL OF HOME ECONOMICS.

DEAN KIRK MISS ELLIOT GO TO CONFERENCE

The Central Regional conference of Home Economics Education, which is to be held from February 25 to the 29 at the Congress Hotel in Chicago, will be attended by Miss Marjorie Elliott and Dean Alice Kirk.

This convention is sponsored by the United States Office of Education and has for its objectives: 1) increased understandings of ways in which home economists can work with others in education and in meeting problems of individuals and families; 2) increased interest in research, and in ability to use the findings in program planning.

Dean Kirk, a leader of one of four special interest groups at the convention, will direct a group on curriculum in Teacher Education on Friday. On Monday, Miss Elliott will act as a reporter at the meetings.

The Chief of Home Economics of the United States Office of Education, Miss Edna P. Amidon, and Dr. R. W. Gregory, Assistant Commissioner of Education, in charge of Vocational Education in U. S. will be at the convention.

Free Games, Coffee, Doughnuts in Afternoon; Free dance in Evening

What 'cha doin this week end? Are you looking for some excitement that doesn't leave you thinking you must have had a hole in your pocket? Well then just listen to this!

The S.S.A. is sponsoring a sports spree and dance Saturday, February 13 and for us Stout students it is all free!! !!! !!!!

Activities begin when the union opens at 2 p.m. From 2:00 until 7:00 there will be bowling, pool, ping pong, cards, swimming, and maybe volleyball or badminton. This should be an excellent opportunity to meet new friends and get reacquainted with the old ones. If you just didn't know who to ask to that dance, this is your big chance to find someone. And, of course, if you are not interested in this angle you still may enjoy a free game of ping pong or a dip in the pool.

But that isn't all! At 8:30 the orchestra of the Melodiers will get us right in the mood for the sock hop. So if you haven't been practicing your dancing steps lately this is the time to do it. No one cares if you step on his toes when you are all in your stocking feet anyway. There will be no hard feelings, in the feet that is.

Now if you get a little exhausted with the dancing, why, just hop up to the union and get in on the 50 doz. donuts and cups of coffee that are being given away. Yes, we said given.

This is nearly enough but this isn't all. No, to top everything off there will be door prizes. Yes, there will be $40 worth of door prizes given away to some lucky individuals. What the prizes are to be has not yet been announced, only that they are to be of various nature.

W. C. GIESE ASKS FOR RACIAL BROTHERHOOD

The Communists today are using the racial unrest in America as their main propaganda against the United States. This was the main theme of the message delivered by Mr. W.C. Giese, former Superintendent of Washington Park High school in Racine, Wednesday at convocation.

Mr. Giese brought out that a few years ago the lynching of 60 negroes would not have received much attention other than in the United States, but today any little unrest or riot is played up by the Communists in Europe and Asia.

Mr. Giese was a very able speaker well versed on the topic of Brotherhood. He is now a member of the committee for Christians and Jews, and last year he was Wisconsin's representative on the "Flying classroom", a group of educators who toured eleven countries of Europe to view conditions there.

A little progress has been made toward true brotherhood, but there is a long way to go. Members of the Caucasian division of mankind must realize that there is no anthropological difference between them and the negroes or any other race.

WCCO QUARTET WELL RECEIVED MONDAY

The Romona Gerhardt concert, sponsored by the AAUW, was presented Monday evening, February 18, at the Stout auditorium. The audience was unusually responsive and thoroughly enjoyed the concert.

Miss Gerhardt charmed her listeners by her grace in adeptness in the piano-organ numbers. Several favorites were the Gerahwin selections, "The Sabre Dance," "The Minute Waltz." In her sparkling interpretation of Latin-American music, she was assisted by Bob Bass, the staff drummer at WCCO, who displayed his skill on the bongo drums.

Burt Hanson, tenor, thrilled the audience with his versatility in handling sacred, classical, and popular numbers with complete ease.

The most informal part of the program was provided by Ed Viehman, master of ceremonies who was a natural entertainer.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The Student Governing Board meeting was opened on February 12, 1952 by President Charles Schiferl. First on the agenda was a report from the various committees.

John Christensen announced that the SSA is sponsoring a Sports Spree and Sock Dance on Saturday, February 23 from 2 P.M. until 12 P.M.

The Union will be open for various activities and the pool will be open from 2 P.M. till 7 P.M. Free coffee and donuts will be served to all who attend. There will be a dance immediately following the program put on by the Barber Shops in the evening. Milt Benner and Ernie Christensen are in charge of publicity; the seniors are in charge of decorations; the juniors in charge of clean-up; the sophomores are in charge of prizes and the freshmen are in charge of the Sports Spree and refreshments.

The assembly committee reported that they could not obtain the movie Mikato because of cost but will obtain Fantom of the Opera for Sunday, February 24.

It was brought to the attention of the board that students who receive negative grade points due to the absence from convocation in access of two, that if these grade points put them on probation they receive the full measurements of probation. That is, they carry the credit load given to students on probation.

It was brought to the attention of the board that Stout students have a new foster child by the name of Stavroula Kourpetsoglov. A picture of her and more information will be given in another article in this paper. The board voted that they give this foster child $180.

Charles Schiferl told the board that Phil Ruehl suggested that we get a three-speed record player. He stated that we need one to go with the amplifiers that we now have. The record player that we now have is getting old and worn out. Petitions for SSA officers must be in February 23rd at five o'clock. This petition must be signed by thirty students. Petitions may be obtained from any SSA member. The student election will be held Thursday, March 13th.

The board decided to investigate the trouble we are having on our television set. It was recommended that we try out new sets and find out the sizes available and the costs.

DAUGHTER IS BORN TO THE LLOYD MATTHEWS

On December 26, 1951, a daughter, Louise Ann was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mattson, 11627 Wayburn, Detroit 24, Michigan. Lloyd got his B.S. in '43 and his M.S. in 1951. Mrs. Mattson was the former Ruth TeBeest, B.S. 1945.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Election time is again near. With petitions due just a week from today, the students of The Stout Institute must think about their choices for the candidates for the positions of SSA officers.

In the coming week many petitions will be circulating around the campus to be signed. Various people will approach you to sign this sheet so that the required number of signatures may be obtained to put the individual on the ballot for election.

Signing any one of these petitions does not mean that you are voting for this certain individual, but we should think about for whom we are signing. We surely do not want someone incapable of holding the office, or who will neglect his duties in office. By signing the ballot, we take the chance of having them put into office by sheer neglect on our part. Remember that these offices to be filled are important ones. They represent you as the student body of this institution. By putting your name on the petition you are saying that he is qualified to be put up for these important offices.

Remember this when they come around and ask you to sign a petition for someone. Is he qualified? Will he represent you as a student to the administration? Will he serve you as well as the present officers have?

KING, QUEEN CROWNED AT "CUPID CAPERS"

"Cupid Capers" dance sponsored by the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority was well attended by Stout students.

Candy kisses with appropriate valentine verses were given out at the door to everyone who attended.

During intermission Pauline Jaeger, president, acted as Mistress of Ceremonies. She asked for volunteers to draw the name for the King and Queen of Hearts. Dean Antrim crowned Iris Ruf the Queen of Hearts and George Stephenson the King of Hearts. The royalty then led the Grand March.

Guests for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Iverson, Miss Antrim, and Miss Clara Carrison, Eta Sigma Omega advisor.

Music was furnished by George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks.

STUDENTS ABLE TO ENLIST IN NAVAL RESERVE

Applications are desired from physically-qualified freshman, sophomore, and junior college students in good standing in accredited schools, both men and women, for the Navy's 1952 Reserve Officer Candidate program. Male applicants must have passed their 17th birthdays; women their 18th. All must be less than 27 years of age on graduation. Women with dependents under 18 are ineligible. All applicants must be members of, or enlisted in the Naval Reserve, and if otherwise qualified, may enlist in the Naval Reserve to become eligible.

Applications for enlistment and enrollment in the ROC (Reserve Officer Candidate) program should be made through the Inspector - Instructor of Naval Reserve, at the nearest Naval Recruiting Stations, Offices of Naval Officer Procurement, Professors of Naval Science, or the Commandant, Ninth Naval District, Great Lakes Illinois.

The Naval Reserve Officer candidate program provides an opportunity whereby college men and women students may enlist in the Naval Reserve, attend a six week training period for two summers and, upon graduation, receive a commission in the Naval Reserve. No additional military studies or activities are required as part of their academic work. Those awarded commissions may be required to serve two years on active military duty.

Selection of applicants will be made by the Chief of Naval Personnel. Those selected are entitled to a 1-D classification by their local Selective Service Board.

Each applicant will be individually informed of his or her selection for ROC training prior to July 1952.

Women applicants who enlist in the Naval Reserve for the purpose of entering the ROC program, and who are not selected for such enrollment may request discharge from the Naval Reserve, if requests are submitted prior to August 1, 1952.

Application should be in the hands of the Commandant, Ninth Naval District by February 15, 1952.

Political war—One in which everyone shoots from the lip.

24 HE STUDENTS CADET TEACHING

During the next four months, twenty-four Stout senior women will be participating in the cadet teaching program. These people will be doing their practice teaching in the high schools of Baldwin and Medford, and at the School of Vocational and Adult Education in Eau Claire.

Those going to Baldwin are Joan Schwanenmann, Feb. 4-15; Pat Allard, Feb. 18-29; Doris Hall, Mar. 3-14; Donna Heike, Mar. 17-28; Sumie Dol, Mar. 31-April 11; Joan Braun, Apr. 21-May 2; and Dorothy Hilton, May 5-16.

Rose Grzadziewski, Feb. 4-15; Kathryn Ziehm, 18-27; Joan Mithy, Mar. 3-14; Mrs. Kathleen Heller, Mar. 17-28; Gerda Ravenholt, Mar. 31-Apr. 11; Donna Krisik, Apr. 21-May 2; and Jean Pengilly, May 5-16 will be at Eau Claire.

Medford H.S. will be the practice center for Beverly Hedlund and Pat Shreier, Feb. 4-15; Marlys Larrabee and Mrs. Noreen Cook, Feb. 18-29; Marjorie Hedberg, Mar. 3-14; Loree Woolen and Mrs. Beverly Ryder, Mar. 17-28; Ann Grutsk, Mar. 31-Apr. 11; Jane Martinson and Dorothy Hardies, Apr. 21-May 2.

These two week periods provide valuable experience in teaching and opportunities to apply the principles of secondary education.

LIBRARY NEWS

Our library has several new books on the Far East that will be of interest to many of us at this time, when our relations with that part of the world are strained.

The Voice of Asia is a report of what people think and feel today in the trouble spots of Asia, as reported by James Michener, who traveled from India to Japan, talking with people in all walks of life. This informative book is intended for the general reader.

Modern Far Eastern International Relations, by H. F. MacNair, late professor of Far Eastern History and Institutions, and D. F. Lach, assistant professor of modern history, University of Chicago, gives us a wide background for understanding the attitudes of these countries toward the rest of the world. This is accurate and objective.

Two Years with the Chinese Communists, written by Claire and William Band and published in 1948, is an "on-the-scene" report of how communism grew in China. The authors were caught in China when war between the United States and Japan broke out.

The Far East, by Paul H. Clyde, professor of history at Duke University, tells about the impact of the West on eastern Asia. It is objective, well-organized history.

The author of Southeast Asia, by E. H. G. Dobby is professor of geography, University of Malaya, Singapore. His chapters on the natural landscapes of these countries are considered the best in the book.

A History of the Pacific Area in Modern Times, by Osgood Hardy and Glenn S. Dumke, brings us up to post-war times in the history of the countries of the Pacific. The book is an out-growth of a course given for many years by Professor Hardy at Occidental College. Its aim is to help students understand the problem of the Pacific area.

Hi Kids,

We've been off-campus for a while, but it hasn't taken us long to get back into the swing of who goes with who. We noticed you gals were mighty busy last week a-chasin' your best fella. Good for you!

Friday night at the lyceum we saw Betty Worthington with Bob Cseh and Carolann Hammersen with Carl Berthlein. Carl seems to have done pretty well for Sadie Hawkins week. He was also at the dance on Saturday night with Rita Ziegewald.

Some other couples last Friday night were Audrey Porter and Correllus Mahoney, Fran Soulek and Red Walker, Pat Peterson and Bill Wensel, Jan Frahl and Howie Knop, and Muriel Roffers and John Jacobson.

Gerry Erickson was one lost girl last week end. It seems that Dave was out of town for a fraternity conference. At least she could save some money.

Ann Sipple must have had an exciting week end. Friday night her date was John Houle, and Saturday night she was out with Herb Pringle. Wasn't it pretty expensive, Ann?

Some of the couples at the dance Saturday night were Jeanette Oetting and Don Seaberg, Pat Pagel and Harter Peterson, Joan Mithy and Bob Brunswick, Betty Kleis and Francis Oberpriller, Loree Wollen and Chet Lange, Louise Zirbel and Karl Turk, Jan Wurtz and Ray Steves, and Jackie Kling and Claude Klein.

Some of the couples there who surprised us were Vivian Barnhart and Gay Boyer, and Jo Hosford and Joe Stebly. We were glad to see you there Joe, you ought to give these Stout gals a break like that a little oftener.

Some of the other couples we saw at the dance were Carole Tickler and her fellow from home, Mimi Machian and her Stan, Bob Nelson, who was here for the weekend, and Barb Schabacker, Bev Peterson and Bob Spinti, Ginny Lathrope and Jim Wallesverd, Dorothy Brownell and Jack Luy, Ginny Jacobson and Paul Christopherson, Leone and Ken Dederling and Noreen and John Cook.

Others there were Joyce DeVries and Corky Collette, Swede Larson and Phyllis Patch, Pat and Gene Traxler, Rose Grzadziewski and Wally Christenson and M. C. Connie Anderson and Wayne Olsen. Connie has been wearing Wayne's fraternity pin for quite some time now.

IVAN KORTKAMP BUSY IN NEW POSITION HERE

After a brief vacation and an attempt by Herb Pringle to lead singing, the Symphonics Singers as well as the other students and faculty of Stout gladly welcome Mr. Ivan Kortkamp as the new music director.

Mr. Kortkamp is nationally known in the field of music for articles and music which he has written. Among other things he is the author of the Choir Bible, "100 Things a Choir Member Should Know," he was secular music editor of "Choir Guide" and he has set to music such things as "I Arise from Dreams of Thee" by P.B. Shelley, "Shadow in the Night" from Beowulf, and "The Hour of Night."

Besides being a musician, our new director is also a family man. He is anxiously looking around Menomonie for a place to live so that his wife and two children will be able to join him soon. Boating will help fill in any free time after the ice breaks and later he is looking forward to the opening of Lake Menomine for swimming.

After the choir has gotten underway, voices will be tested so that the director will be able to become acquainted with the qualities of tone, pitch, etc., of the individual members. Plans for the annual tour are again under way, and the band and the glee club will soon find their place in the busy schedule.

The first impression that Mr. Kortkamp got was the anxiety of the Symphonics members to sing, and the friendliness of students and faculty. Perhaps his impression was a reaction of his friendliness toward them.

Elwin Amyx, a former Stout student now in the army, visited Stout for a few days. He was here just a short while, but he was out with Jan Benedict then.

We've been watching the River Falls school paper, but we can't seem to find out exactly what happened when Darlene Neas and Lois Owen were at the college one week end, but we heard rumors that the Durand boys really showed them the town.

We notice that Colleen Cernisky has been watching the sports page of the Minneapolis papers lately. Could the the St. Thomas basketball scores be the cause?

Jean Moore and George Van Buren had a little misunderstanding last week, but we're glad to see them back together again.

Shirley Carlson really surprised us Saturday night. She was at the Sadie Hawkins dance with Don Beran.

Eunice Hohensee and Bob Anderson made a cute couple at the dance. They even got a loving cup for their costumes.

Ann Switzenberg and Charles Schanach and Betty Appel and David Gresh were also at the dance.

Another couple to watch is Barbara Wormet and Ed Steineke. They were seen at the dance Saturday, and Sunday afternoon out driving.

Jack Luy and Dorothy Brownell have hit it off swell. They were at the lyceum Friday night, the dance Saturday night, and the movies Sunday night.

Some other couples at the dance were Jo Gritt and Floyd Jolliffe, Mary Smith and Jim Olds, Iris Ruf and Neil Hoephner, Pat Manthei and Tom Connell, Ruth Feldt and Ray Burkhalter, Nan Etchief and "Moose", Diane Klemme and John Christenson, and Jo Fritz and Bill Anderson.

We also saw Elinor Soetebeer and Bob Wong.

Valentines day proved to be pretty eventful. Roses seemed to be blooming in the dormitory rooms of Marilyn Schwantes, Mickey Klusmeyer, Marilyn Kressin, Rose Peper, and Jo Brehm.

Wednesday night Lois Meyer, Diane Klemme, and several of the "steadies" made use of Sadie Hawkins week and took their fella's out. Lucky fella's.

Faithfully yours,

Key and Hole

Two little boys came into the dentist's office. One said to the dentist, "I want a tooth took out, and I don't want no gas, because I'm in a hurry."

Dentist: "That's a brave little boy. Which tooth is it?"

Little boy: "Show him your tooth, Albert."

Patient: "Doctor, are you sure this is pneumonia? Sometimes doctors prescribe pneumonia and the patients die of something else."

Doctor (with dignity): "When I prescribe for pneumonia, you die of pneumonia."

MARY DETLOR, 4H CLUB GIRL OF THE YEAR!

Outstanding 4H Achievement Girl in Wisconsin for 1951 is Miss Mary Detlor, a sophomore at The Stout Institute at Menomonie. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Detlor of Plainfield. She was selected out of 45,000 4H members in the state.

Miss Detlor was formerly the Outstanding Home Economics Girl in Wisconsin for 1950 and went to the National 4H Congress in Chicago last year. This is her tenth year in 4H Club work and during this time she has completed 40 project years in the areas of home economics and agriculture. She has collected over $1500 in prizes and sales on her dairy and beef cattle projects, thus financing her college education through her 4H achievements.

As valedictorian of the class of 1950 of Plainfield High School, Miss Detlor was also president of her senior high school class.

Last year Miss Detlor received the 1951 Philomathean Sorority twenty-five dollar award, which is made annually at The Stout Institute to a freshman Home Economics major. She was selected on the basis of her desirable personal qualities, her excellent scholarship, and her loyal participation in college activities.

At The Stout Institute Miss Detlor has been active in the Women's Athletic Association, the Band, the Home Economics Club, and the YWCA. She is world service chairman of this organization.

SIGMA TAU FORMS ALUMNI CHAPTER HERE

The charter for the long awaited alumni chapter of Alpha Kappa Chapter, Sigma Tau Gamma has recently been received. Extensive ground work for the alumni chapter was laid last year under the direction of Milan Huley and Warren Barberg. Plans solidified at Sigma Tau Gamma's annual Homecoming Breakfast when the petition for the chapter was signed, officers for the chapter were elected, and a constitution, prepared by Warren Barberg, was accepted.

In the future, this alumni chapter will be a great aid to Alpha Kappa Chapter and will unite the alumni brothers for social and professional benefits. The 26 charter members deserve much credit for seeing the need for the alumni chapter and making it a reality. Sigma Tau Gamma here at Stout welcomes the alumni chapter and looks forward to close association with it in the future.

The officers elected are as follows: President, Earl Dehne, who is now teaching at Stewartville, Minnesota; Vice President, Henry Roesler, who is now employed by the Chain Belt Co. of Milwaukee; Secretary-Treasurer, Warren Barberg, who is a graduate student here at Stout, and Advisor Robert Swanson, who is a member of the Stout faculty.

The charter members of the Alumni Chapter are: Warren Barberg, Robert Crowley, Earl Dehne, Donald Fahrman, Lee Flanders, Donald Gee, Steve Grudichak, Russell Larson, Bohumil Holub, Charles Jorgensen, Irvin Lathrop, Richard Hogstad, Milton Miller, Robert Morris, Charles Mowbray, John Poellinger, Paul Partridge, Henry Roesler, Douglas Sherman, Robert Swanson, Henry Tall, Warren Thomas, Marilyn Tibbets, George Zimmerman, and Lorton Layman.

DO GIRLS NEED DIET TABLES?

For the first time in many years there isn't a diet table for the students who feel they need it, at the women's dorms. Is this because the freshmen girls are so willowy waisted that they don't need a diet table, or is it that with these girls, the house mothers haven't time to plan special diets?

ARTS & CRAFTS TO INITIATE SEVEN MEMBERS

The initiation of the new members of the Stout Arts and Crafts Club will take place on February 25.

Seven new members will be initiated this semester. They are James Zeasman, Deforest Bergvall, Phillip Burkhalter, Robert McBride, Dufur Peters, Walter Westenberg and Kenneth Pietenpol.

A written exam for initiates will start at 7:30 to be followed by an oral analysis. Regular members other than initiating team, will come at 8:00. Refreshments will be served for initiates and members.

The following committees, with their respective members, have been formed to cover the initiation. Food; Norm Schultz (chairman), Bill Anderson, Ronald Johnson, and Ralph Ballinger. Initiation; Bob Rustin (chairman), Jim Anderson, Bob Pakko, Fred Bahr and Jim Wallesvird.

The Arts and Crafts Club would like to call your attention to the fact that plans have been laid for the Annual All School Card Party to be held in the Stout Gym March 29. A well worth while door prize will be given away and in addition numerous small prizes will be given for the game winners at each table.

DISTANCE

A motorist stopped his car on a country road and asked a native-looking individual how far it was to Millerstown. The reply was:

"It's 24,999 miles the way you're headed, but if you just turn around, it ain't but four."

"BIG and LITTLE SISTER" REUNION HELD IN HARVEY MEMORIAL

About ninety-six "Big and Little Sisters" gathered in the Harvey Memorial Wednesday evening for refreshments and conversation. The meeting was the annual reunion sponsored by the YWCA. Jan Benedict, Iris Buf, and Noreen Cook sang, Mariys Larabee played several numbers on the piano. Refreshments consisted of popcorn, candy, and pop.

STOUTPATCHERS WIN SADIE HAWKINS PRIZES

John Cook, left, and Carole Tickler, right both received a bottle of genuine Kickapoo Joy Juice as the best dressed guy and best dressed girl at the annual Sadie Hawkins dance last Saturday. Eunice Hohensee and Bob Anderson, center received tin loving cups as a reward for being the best dressed couple.

SADIE HAWKINS WEEK CLOSES AS A SUCCESS

Blue jeans and plaid shirts made their appearance Saturday night when the gals took their guys to the Sadie Hawkins Dance. This dance marked the high point and end of the week of turnabout Girls opened doors, held coats, and paid the way for the last time until next year.

The SMA's based the decorations on characters from Dogpatch. Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Li'l Abner and Daisy Mae were there with other of Al Capp's famous people. Miss Hinkly, advisor, planned the murals for the walls.

Bobby Bryan and his band furnished the music for dancing, with a few polkas throughout for the more energetic couples. At intermission the president, Connie Anderson awarded the prizes. Best dressed guy John Cook, and best dressed gal Carole Tickler each received a jug of genuine Kickapoo Joy Juice carefully inscribed in honor of the event. Eunice Hohensee and Bob Anderson received tin loving cups as a reward for being the best dressed couple.

THE FAIR STOREQUESTION OF THE WEEK

This week the question was: "What do you think of Hell Week?" Some of the answers we received are:

Carol Koch—"It is a lot of fun for everyone but the fellows."

Don Sargent—"That's a good question."

Gerry Erickson—"It's lots of fun for those participating, I think: It is also fun to watch them."

Katie Garvin—"It wouldn't be college without a Hell Week."

Mike Huley—"It's just what the words say."

Jim Brown—"Ditto."

Donna Harvey—"Fun and entertaining."

Bob Spinti—"It's a good deal."

Celia Fritz—"It's one time the boys are funny."

Bob Marshall—"It's fun as long as it is done in an orderly way."

Ken Lantto—"It's a lot of work and fun if taken with the right attitude."

GEORGE WASHINGTON
NOT ONLY A HERO

Today, on February 22, we honor George Washington, general, patriot, and our first president. Legends and myths have sprung up around his name, placing him among the immortals. In haste to revere his memory, people forget that he was also a man.

Let us remember that in addition to being a national hero, he liked fishing, hunting, cards and the circus. His tastes and amusements were not too different from those typical of that day and age. In spite of being a somewhat cold and formal man, he filled his house with guests and liked friends around him. Yes, even he liked to dance. During the Revolution he broke the long weary hours at winter headquarters with this pleasant diversion.

General Washington was brave in war, but struck with stage fright when confronted by the Assembly, for he was no speechmaker. His sound judgment, rather than flowery words, made him a leader of men.

31 SCARFERS
ENJOY ANNUAL REUNION HERE

If you saw anyone wearing a red scarf on campus this past weekend, you could be almost certain that person was a participant in the annual 4-H Red Scarfer's reunion. Thirty one 4-H Club members from all parts of Wisconsin who had been delegates to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago in '48, '49, or '50 were represented at this get-together.

The weekend began with the group attending the college lyceum, "In Operetta Time", on Friday night. This was followed by a renewal of acquaintances at one of the houses. Saturday morning the group was taken on a tour of the campus, conducted by the SSA officers. University of Wisconsin and River Falls State Teachers College students were especially interested in the clothing, foods, and physiology labs and in the print shop in the IE building.

At a business meeting Saturday afternoon, letters, telegrams, and cards were read from absent members in the armed forces.

Speakers at the banquet held at the Marion Hotel Saturday night were Dean Price representing Stout and Bob Sumnicht and Shirley Young of the Dunn County 4-H club office. The banquet was followed by square dancing in the Methodist church basement.

Farewells were said after church and dinner on Sunday. The group will meet again this summer at the Wisconsin State fair in August.

The delegates expressed their gratitude for the kindnesses shown them during their brief visit here and many expressed wishes to be back for a return visit sometime in the future.

BLOOD DRIVE
BROTHERHOOD

An old American custom is the idea of getting along with people. However one week out of the year it is announced publicly that we don't care what a man's creed, color or national origin is; he's our neighbor. That is Brotherhood Week.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews is now engaged in the celebration of Brotherhood Week. It is an annual observance, built around Washington's birthday.

This year the observance is focused on the need for sharing the civilian blood with our armed forces, with men who are fighting for the kind of world perhaps the only world, in which true brotherhood can grow. You can pledge a pint of your blood in Brotherhood Week. A nationwide campaign for gifts of blood to our fighting men is one very practical way of implementing the ideal of brotherhood. Give a pint of blood for your neighbor, for someone caught in a disaster, for a soldier in Korea -- an American boy, a Greek, a Canadian, or Britisher. Whoever he is, needs blood because he has been fighting so that there can be peace in the world.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Remember when one year ago..... Stout's dogpatch men were warned to "take to the hills?" Sadie Hawkins' Week began February 11th and ended on February 17th, with a Sadie Hawkins' Dance sponsored by the SMA's.

The water safety course began; those who passed were qualified to become Red Cross lifeguards?

Dr. Oetting wrote an article "Who's Interviewing Whom?" which appeared in the December, 1950 issue of the American School Board Journal?

Recollection day was held by the members of Newman Club?

Applied dress design was offered; Miss Van Ness was the instructor.

SIG TAU MEET ENDS, PARTY IS PLANNED TONITE

Stout's three delegates to the Bi-Annual Northern Province meeting of Sigma Tau Gamma returned from Ypsilanti, Michigan after a weekend meeting on the campus of Michigan State Normal College. The conference was devoted to discussions of fraternity problems, and many new ideas on pledging were brought home, some of which will be adopted this year. Other fraternity activities discussed were community projects, inter-fraternity relations, and fund raising campaigns. The host chapter climaxed the eventful meeting Saturday night by sponsoring a dance for the more than 80 delegates.

Sam Mikitarian's car functioned well and the three delegates made the trip in fine shape. The other Stout men who attended were Dave Bieniasz and Jim Brown.

Sig Tau is currently hoping for good weather tonight when the organization is holding an ice skating party on Lake Menominee for their members and dates. Refreshments will be served after the party. This is one of Sig Tau's scheduled social functions. Those heading the arrangements for the party are Dave Bieniasz and Norm Schultz.

PHYSICS LAB REMODLED,
NEW CABINETS

Why don't you take a look at the remodelled physics lab?

The old physics lab had a shortage of space for storing equipment and there was much waste space.

Mr. Harbour and Mr. Rich, physics teachers, designed cabinets for the room. They were made in Baldwin, Wisconsin and installed with the help of some Stout students.

The cabinets are made of oak that is not stained. They are nearly three times as wide as the old cabinets, they reach to the ceiling and have partitioned drawers. Each drawer and sliding door will have a separate lock.

Each piece of equipment in the lab will have a specific storage place where it will be protected. This will also make the lab neater. There will be a sliding ladder which will be used to reach the highest shelves.

The lab also has a new coat of paint which really makes the room look like a neat, modern laboratory.

DANIEL COBB

STUDENTS HERE
ENJOY FOURTH
LYCEUM FRIDAY

Miss June Brown and Daniel Cobb presented a very enjoyable lyceum Friday in the auditorium which consisted of selections by Gershwin and other contemporary writers. They also sang a few selections from light operas.

The audience was responsive to the duo and also to the pianist. Unseemingly so, the pianist entertained the audience with his manner of playing; he seemed to "attack" the piano with gusto; and his way of cleaning his glasses before each song by Miss Brown and Mr. Cobb, but when he played a medley from "Oklahoma" he didn't wear his glasses at all.

Miss Brown selected such numbers as "My Hero", and "Why do I Love You" and one of the outstanding numbers was the medley of songs from "Oklahoma" which Mr. Cobb sang.

Mr. Cobb was the star of the musical show "Oklahoma", and Miss Brown is the soprano star of "The Northerners" a radio program.

DE KING'S ENGLISH

You see a beautiful girl walking down the street. She is feminine, of course. If she is singular, you become nominative. You walk across to her, changing to the verbal and then becoming dative. If she is not objective, you become plural. You walk home together. Her mother is accusative and you become imperative. Her brother is an indefinite article. You walk in and sit down. You talk of the future and she changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine. Her father being present, you become a past participle.

MIKE & OTTO'S

Sport and Appliance Shop
5th Avenue at Broadway

THE STOUT PRINT SHOP FULFILLS MANY VARIED SCHOOL NEEDS.

During the next few months, the Stoutonia plans to take you through the departments of Home Economics and Industrial Arts with word pictures of each. Today, we would like to take you through the doors of the IE building into the Printing Department where you will undoubtedly see Mr. Lloyd Whydowski, head of the department, and his assistant, Mr. Ray Cornwell. You will recognize the Printing Department by the many presses, the linotype machines, lithograph machines, the composing room and the Graphic Arts room.

The printing department fulfills four functions at Stout. It teaches classes in printing and graphic arts, publishes the Stoutonia, and does the administrative and publicity printing for the school, and, through the Stout Typographical Society it cares for the printing required by various school societies and organizations.

Some of the various courses taught in the printing department are:

Elementary and advanced composition which deal with the elements and problems in composition, stonework, and platen press work. Problems in straight composition are given involving basic operations of job printing and an insight to commercial problems and jobs.

Machine composition is the study of the mechanism, care, and operation of intertype and linotype. An hour lecture is given daily to orient the students with the moveable parts of the machine, followed by an hours practice of running the machine.

Printing design is the study of type design, commercial layouts, colors, papers, cover design, folders, and booklets. It is an application of design in printing.

The general graphic arts course teaches the basic graphic arts reproductive processes. Lectures and demonstration on letter press, stereotype, wood and resilient block cutting, lithography, etching, silk screen, stencil, ditto, engraving, papermaking, and bookbinding constitute the general phases of this course.

Offset lithography takes in units in plate making and multilith press work.

Printing economics is designed to give the students the basic fundamentals of shop organization and management, purchasing of equipment and supplies, shop layouts, and cost estimating.

Problems in graphic arts is a course offered to students of graduate standing and involves advanced individual projects in graphic arts. These projects must contain approved factors of educational significance, technical accuracy, and be of a type not previously covered by the individual.

The second function of the Printing Department is the publishing of the Stoutonia. Stories that are written by the reporters on the staff are set in type by the linotype operators. The type is then proofed for errors, corrected, then sent to the composing room where the page make up is made. One entire page is locked up and proofed for errors before it goes to press. Two pages are then run on the press at one time. The first copy that comes off the press is proofed for errors and corrected. When all corrections are made, the press begins to roll. From the press, the Stoutonia is cut, folded, and delivered to the students.

The third function of the Printing Department is to print the various administrative and publicity material for school. At least four bulletins are printed each year, the regular session bulletin, the summer session bulletin, regular session directory, and summer session directory. Some of the publicity material that was printed is the Home Economics bulletin, and the Open House program. The registration blanks, record cards, program cards, fee slips, and SSA cards are a few examples of the administration material printed by the Printing Department.

The fourth function of the Printing Department is fulfilled thru the Stout Typographical Society which cares for the printing required by the various school societies and organizations. All the football, basketball, play and choir posters and programs plus invitations and tickets and many other things are printed by the STS.

Teachers of printing go all over the country into junior and senior high schools and many colleges. Many of them go into industrial plants, both civilian and military printing establishments.

BOOKS

Among the latest additions to our library are some books on literature. These books might be of special interest to the freshmen English students as they gather information for their research papers.

The Modern Novel in America written by Frederick J. Hoffman, gives an interesting picture of the development of the modern novel in America from 1900 to 1950. Mr. Hoffman tells of the technique and method as well as the philosophical groundings of the modern writers. The major concern in this book is that of the novelist's views and methods.

Fifty Years of the American Novel edited by Harold C. Gardiner, discusses novelists most of whose writing has been done in the 20th century. The book contains appraisals of the important novelists of this period including such noted ones as Edith Wharton, Ellen Glasgow, Willa Cather, Sinclair Lewis, F. Scott Fitzgerald, and Ernest Hemmingway.

Augustans and Romantics, by H. V. D. Dyson and John Butt, will probably be of value in research, also. The authors discuss the poetry, novels, diaries, letters, journalism, biographies, drama, and criticism of the period from 1689 to 1830. The book is the third volume of Introductions to English Literature.

NEW SYSTEM FOR CONVO. SIGNS GIVEN

Convocation or no convocation? Required or not required?

A System has been worked out so that everyone can tell at a glance what goes for that hour from 10 to 11 a.m. each Wednesday.

This system is as follows: A yellow poster saying "Convocation Today" means that there will be a required assembly with checked attendance. A green poster saying "No Convocation Today" means that the scheduled convocation has been cancelled or postponed.

A red poster saying "Student Assembly Today" means that there will be a student assembly which students should attend, but attendance will not be checked. A blue poster with the words, "No Student Assembly Today" means that the scheduled student assembly has been cancelled.

Watch for these posters in the first floor corridor of the home economics building.

Here is an easy way to remember:
Yellow — convocation, your presence is required;
Green — convocation cancelled or postponed;
Red — student assembly, attendance will not be checked;
Blue — no student assembly.

CHET PLEWA INSTRUCTOR AT BOYS TOWN

In the winter issue of Linotype News, a printing magazine, there was a story about the print shop at Boys Town entitled "Linotype Plays Important Part in Boys Town Printing Program. A picture accompanied the story, and included in the picture was Chet Plewa, a Stout graduate who is instructor of printing at Boys Town.

The story outlines the printing program at the home and brings out that Boys Town has a well-equipped shop including a wide variety of foundry type, several composing stones, four hand-fed presses, and three automatic presses.

ARNOLD LIEN RECEIVES DOCTOR'S AT WISCONSIN

Arnold J. Lien, Stout graduate of 1942 and Life Member of the Stout Alumni Association, is among the graduates of the University of Wisconsin at the end of the first semester receiving a Doctor of Philosophy degree in the field of education.

Mr. Lien has been at Whitewater State college since 1948 serving in the capacity of Dean of Men. He also teaches courses in education at the college and is director of its news bureau.

The title of his dissertation was "A Comparative-Predictive Study of Students Enrolled in the Four Curricula of a Teacher Education Institution."

AL HODGES SELECTED FOR OFFICERS SCHOOL

Private Alfred Hodges, Jr., a former student here at Stout, was one of the men who were recently selected to attend officers candidate school at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas.

Al recently presented his girl, Alice, with a diamond. The date of the wedding will be announced later.

JAMES COOK WRITES OF ALUMNI AWARD

Another Alumni Scholarship winner, James Cook, a junior here at Stout and one of the 1949 Alumni Scholarship winners, writes:

"In the fall of 1949, I was honored by receiving The Stout Institute Alumni Scholarship. Needless to say, this $60 cash award helped me greatly in reducing some of my financial problems. It also made me feel that I had many unknown friends both here at Stout and out across the nation. I would like to take this opportunity to once again thank the alumni for their kind consideration, and I hope that this worthwhile project will have every possible success in the future.

SELMER DROLSUM STOUT GRAD AWARDED PRIZE IN CONTEST

Cpl. Selmer E. Drolsum '50, recently was awarded a $25 defense bond for taking second place in a safety poster contest sponsored by his Engineers division in Germany.

Cpl. Drolsum was given the award by Col. Willis Teale, chief of engineers, European Theater of Operations. Col. Teale said that the poster may prove beneficial in enabling the command to reduce accident injury.

HAROLD RICHTER VISITS FRIENDS AT STOUT

A visitor walked into Mr. Kransusch's office in the I.E. Building Friday last week and said, "I'll bet you don't know me Mr. Kransusch." Mr. Kransusch looked at him closely and said, "Well I sure do, Harold Richter." It certainly must be admitted that "Ric" doesn't look much like the raucous, blue-sweatered fellow who used to make us yell our heads off at football and basketball games, or the guy who used to keep Lynwood Hall from getting too dull. He has acquired all dignity that comes from several years of teaching and keeping bees. Hal taught in Mason City, Iowa, for several years, but the call of the bees beckoned and he left. As he puts it, "If we want to fish or hunt, we just take off—beats teaching just a bit." The Richters (Adeline Schaefer, 1949) were visiting the Jack Wenstadt's here in Menomonie during a "dormant bee period". It could be said that the Richters have a honey of a life.

SUPPORT YOUR ALUMNI AWARD PROGRAM NOW

This is the time of the year that many high school seniors begin to think of the possibility of going to college. Many students of college caliber may give up the idea of furthering their education because of financial barriers. Perhaps in some cases the offer of some financial assistance would stimulate them to consider college attendance.

You as industrial arts and home economics teachers can play a very important part in helping these seniors make an intelligent decision. If you have any promising seniors in your classes or schools why not encourage them to apply for the alumni scholarship?

We are offering two annual scholarships to freshmen (one boy and one girl) of sixty dollars each and free tuition. Last year we had about thirty-five applicants. If this number increases, there is the definite possibility of offering more scholarships. We plan to bring this up at the next annual meeting.

Scholarship blanks have been mailed to all active alumni. Additional blanks may be obtained by writing to the national office. All applications must be submitted no later than April 1 to the scholarship chairman, Dewey F. Barich, Manager, Industrial Arts Awards, Ford Motor Company, 3000 Schaefer Road, Dearborn, Michigan.

Let's help some worthy student to come to Stout.

Your Nat'l Secretary
Bob Swanson

STOUT ALUMNI! LET'S ALL BE STOUT SCOUTS

The following letter is from Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Erickson, who are both members of the Alumni Scholarship committee. Mr. Erickson graduated in 1947 and received his Masters degree from Stout in 1948. He taught metals in the senior high school, Grosse Pointe, Mich., from 1949 to 1951. He was a critic instructor for Wayne University, Detroit, Mich., in 1951. In 1949 he married Miriam TeBeest who graduated from Stout in 1948. They are presently located at Green Bay.

"Spring is approaching, and graduating high school seniors are asking themselves, 'Where do we go from here?' Are you encouraging students to choose the fields of home economics and industrial arts? Have you mentioned Stout recently?"

"We have been asked to serve on your scholarship committee and are happy to do so, but we need your help. You, through your daily contacts, are the best salesmen and saleswomen Stout has. You are aware of the many advantages of attending a small college. You know that Stout graduates are recognized in education, industry, and in business for their excellent training. Will you share your enthusiasm for Stout with your students? Encourage those who do not need financial aid, and send the names of worthy students who do need help to Mr. Barich, your committee chairman.

UNIQUE STYLE SHOW GIVEN HERE FEB. 8

A unique bridal style revue, "Through the Years," was presented Friday at The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin, by members of the Stout Home Economics Club, which is affiliated with the national and state home economics associations.

One hundred fifty participated in this program as one of their public relations projects. Wedding dresses from the Civil War period to the present day were displayed to a wide-eyed audience. The garments shown had actually once constituted the bridal attire of mothers, friends, and relatives of club members. Some gowns, worn by the chic young women in their day, caused spectators to rock with laughter.

The antiquated gowns were featured as a flashback of an elderly minister and his wife who were helping a young bride-to-be plan her wedding. The program consisted of three scenes: the parsonage, the pastor's garden, and the church. Included in the cast were: Noreen Cook, Menomonie, the Bride-To-Be; Charles Russell, Menomonie, the Pastor; Harriet Homer, Galesville, Wisconsin, the Pastor's Wife; Joan Gritt, Black Creek, Wisconsin, narrator; and Audrey Goodell, Antigo, Wisconsin, soloist; Dorothy Messerschmidt, Dale, Wisconsin, provided the organ accompaniment.

HYPERIANS CELEBRATE VALENTINE'S DAY

Amid the red and white streamers and cupid hearts on Thursday, February 14, the Eta Sigma Sorority gathered together for a dinner at the Anchor Cafe to commemorate St. Valentine's Day.

Miss Martha Ruth Amon, Dean Antrim, and Miss Clara Carrison, Eta Sigma Omega advisor, were the honored guests.

The tables were decorated with large red hearts. Valentines with individual verses comprised the place cards.

Entertainment for the dinner consisted of the reading of the history of St. Valentine by Bev Henderson, and original satire poem by Hat Homer, and a quartet singing appropriate valentine songs.

Dot Knutson and Lois Feggestad were co-chairmen for the dinner.

INFIRMARY PATIENTS ENJOY NEW RADIO

During the month of February the Infirmary has had several "visitors". Lois Bredlow, Colleen Ceminsky, Charles Hayward, Phyllis Spaulding and Barbara Wormet each spent several days there. The radio which was purchased by the SSA certainly helped to pass the time and was greatly appreciated by everyone who had to spend some time in the Infirmary.

FACULTY OPINIONS RECEIVED ON NEW CHURCH COUNCIL

The world is in such a turmoil today because of its loss of the spiritual life. This, the opinion of many of us, was recently expressed by one of our faculty members during a short interview on the Stout Inter-Religious Council.

This week we visited members of the faculty who are deeply interested in not only the academic but the ethical value of education. The questions we asked were: "What is your opinion of the Inter-Religious Council?" and "What do you think we, as students can do to help make it a success?"

Here are some of the thoughts we heard. They are worth thinking about. As to our world turmoil - if world leaders would look at problems from a spiritual angle we could have a peaceful world. We leave God out.

Any movement on campus, which helps to develop the spiritual life of the students, to make them realize that God ought to be the center of their lives, is good.

"Every educator and everyone planning to be an educator might consider the thought of a distinguished writer, 'We give not what we have but what we are, and what we are may be measured by our closeness to the Great Teacher.'"

Dr. Guy Salyer, a faculty representative on the council believes that this is the first step in the right direction. We need to do something that is beyond the individual denominations, some thing that will work together for the good of all.

He suggested that we, as students, can help to make it a success by being co-operative in our own denominational group which is represented on the council.

Miss Juanita Hain, who has been putting much of her time into the work of the council, gives us her ideas in a summary.

"When last October, the clergy of Menomonie, student representatives of the various young people's organizations and faculty sponsors met for the first time here at The Stout Institute, a very important organization was born.

Important because the clergy, our college president, representative students, and faculty sponsors officially and publicly said, "We believe not only in the work of our own organizations, but in the planning and working together for the successful promotion of religious activities in the community."

To create an awareness of the importance of religious education is a responsibility of public education, and the Stout Institute has recognized and done something about that responsibility in organizing the Inter-Religious Council. Much credit for the forming of this organization goes to Dr. Iverson who consulted with the clergy of all faiths, faculty sponsors and representatives of many organizations before calling the first meeting. The Inter-Religious Council has met several times since then, and is planning a program which will be accepted by all faiths and beneficial to ALL.

Each and every college student can aid in the work of this organization by being an active participant in the activities of his own church groups, by giving enthusiastic support to the activities of the Inter-Religious Council, and by accepting assigned tasks and doing them well.

By supporting activities of the Inter-Religious Council the student not only lends support to that group but says, "Though I am occupied with learning techniques, and with many tasks and duties, and with a multiplicity of social responsibilities, I have not lost vision of the Ultimate Reality, of GOD WHO OVERARCHES AND GIVES MEANING TO ALL HUMAN LIFE."

Give these words a little thought and watch for another issue where we talk to the students of Stout Institute regarding this matter.

FORMER INSTRUCTOR REPEAT MARRIAGE VOWS

On last December 29, June Miller became the bride of Milton Goemer of Litchfield, Minnesota. Miss Miller will be remembered by many of you as Miss Antrim's friendly assistant in the physical education from 1946 to 1949. She left Stout to teach at South Dakota State College in Brookings, South Dakota. She plans to continue teaching after her marriage.

Someone said the other day that there is no difficulty in the world that cannot be overcome. Wonder if he ever tried putting toothpaste back into the tube.

DR. FRYKLUND TALKS TO LSA ABOUT JAPAN

L.S.A. was honored by President Fryklund who showed a large collection of slides on his trip to Japan in the summer of 1948. Previous to the showing of his slides President Fryklund gave a brief talk on how he traveled to Japan, why he went and some of the things he did during the three months he spent in the Oriental country; he also talked about the people, their homes, their beliefs, their economic status and the very important part Japan plays in the world today.

President Fryklund said that the Japanese are a happy, industrious, hard working people, that they have done very much with the very little they have in the way of resources and especially land area. Just imagine eighty-five million people crowded into the state of California and you have the picture of Japan's population.

Just as the United States stands for and believes in democracy so Japan has practiced and believed in Bushido. It was this political belief under corrupt leadership that entered Japan into the previous war. One of our biggest jobs in Japan today President Fryklund says is to reeducate the people so as to replace Bushido with democratic thinking and acting. This must be done in the schools because you cannot change the older people from what they believe. The education system in Japan works under the burden of a huge population and a very limited budget. The average teacher salary in Japan was about eight dollars per month, this included all levels of teachers from the elementary schools to the university.

President Fryklund stated that the United States was spending four hundred million dollars a year, over a million dollars a day, to keep up our occupation duties and uphold the country's economy. Because of this large financial burden we have endeavored to get the country's industries producing which is the only way Japan can become anywhere near self sufficient.

Today, two and a half years since President Fryklund has been in Japan and six and a half years since the close of the war, Japan is now about ready to conclude a peace treaty. This, President Fryklund points out is a time the United States must be very foresighted. We must keep some control, regardless of the costs so as to prevent the possibility of the Reds taking over all that has been accomplished to re-establish Japan as an industrial nation.

PRAYER DAY OBSERVED AT WESLEY MEET

World Day of Prayer was observed Sunday, February 17, at the Methodist Church. The groups participating were Congo Club, Wesley, L.S.A. and Y.W.C.A. The meeting began at 4:00 o'clock.

The worship service was conducted by the Congo Club. Dr. Fred Jordan, ex district superintendent, of Eau Claire was the main speaker of the day.

He spoke on the theme "Prayer". He said that it wasn't how we pray but why we pray and the uses we make of prayer. He said we also should observe the results of prayer.

Wesley served the supper. The menu was as follows: Baked ham, Sweet potatoes, peas, cole slaw, hot rolls and butter, lemon tarts and milk.

The meeting ended with fellowship singing and the friendship circle.

"CARETAKERS" FURNISH MUSIC FOR SKATING

Bud Ryder is pictured putting another record on the record player for the skaters. Watching him are Charlie Schiferl, S S A president, and Don Sargent. Don and Charlie are largely responsible for the rink, Don having contacted the City Council, the Menomonie Womens Club, and the Park Board. The students of Stout Institute wish to express their thanks to the City of Menomonie for the interest and cooperation shown in preparing the rink.

STOUT STUDENTS ENJOY NEW SKATING RINK

Shown above are a few of the Stout students who have taken advantage of the new skating rink on Lake Menomin. They are in the warming house which was put up by the city and is heated with coal furnished by the lumber yards in Menomonie. The skating rink is the product of cooperation between the City of Menomonie and Stout students.

MR. WIGEN ATTENDS KENOSHA MEETING

Mr. Ray Wigen, director of Graduate Studies at The Stout Institute at Menomonie, returned from the in-service teacher training meeting held last week in the new million dollar Kenosha Vocational School. The conference was held under the leadership of Max Clark, director of the school who received his master's degree from The Stout Institute. The purpose of the meeting was to give industrial arts teachers the opportunity to discuss the problems of new trends in their educational fields. Mr. Wigen will leave Wednesday for Chicago to attend the Fourth Meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

STOUT DROPS TWO TO MILWAUKEE, OSHKOSHBlue Devils Lose To Milwaukee 77-63: To Oshkosh 86-51.

The Stout Blue Devils last weekend came out on the short end of a two game invasion of the southern end of the Wisconsin State College conference losing to Milwaukee by a score of 77 to 63 and to Oshkosh 86 to 51.

Milwaukee led all the way in ringing up their loop win in the "battle for the Basement. The Green Gulls used a pressing defense from the opening whistle to the end. That and the glass backboards didn't help the cause of the battered Blue Devils.

The boys were "cold" in the first half as many shots rolled off the rim or disallowed because the player had traveled. The Gulls, used to the floor and the officiating, rolled up a 17 to 9 lead in the first quarter and continued to score in the second. The half-time score was 46 to 29.

In the second half the Blue Devils began to get the feel of things and started to find the range but there was too big a lead to overcome. Stout outscored the Gulls 24 to 10 in the 4th quarter but the lead was too big and the final whistle showed Milwaukee ahead 77 to 63.

As in previous games the Blue Devils failed to convert a good share of the freethrow attempts and this led to the final outcome as Stout missed 10 of 15 in the first half and so refused all single shots in the second half in hopes that the average from the field would improve.

Center, Wayne Krueger of Milwaukee took the scoring honors for the evening with 19 points on 9 baskets and one free throw. Guard Bill Kieffer was high for the Blue Devils with 17 points on 7 baskets and 3 free throws.

An idea of the officiating can be gleaned from the statistics which show that only 24 fouls were called on the two teams in the first half while in the second half, with no change in the style of play twenty-nine were called on the Milwaukee team alone. This was more than called on the Blue Devils in the entire game.

The Oshkosh game was a case where everything the boys tried to do ended up wrong. It didn't start out that way, though, as Denny Hawkes hit the first three attempts from the field. The only thing wrong with the beginning was that Oshkosh also hit on their first attempts from the field. Then the lightning struck and nothing seemed to work right.

The quarter ended with Oshkosh out in front 25 to 14. The second quarter left the game with a total of 4 baskets, 1 free throw and 5 fouls.

The big gun in the Oshkosh attack in the first half was John Butrymowicz with fifteen points. He got only 1 in the second half but Dick Spaulding, the other starting forward, tossed in five baskets and a pair of free throws to take up the slack.

Free throws again played a big part in the final score as Russ Tiedemann dropped in 11 in a row before missing his last two attempts. Incidentally this same Russ Tiedemann has made 27 out of 31 in his last two games.

SKI CLUB MEMBERS FORM SKI PATROL

Six members of the Ski Club went to Telemark last Sunday. Snow conditions were good.

Four members of the Ski Club are the Ski Patrol at Deepwood every Saturday and Sunday of skiing weather. The Patrol supervises the area and helps the injured or those who need help. They keep the hills cleaned up and pack in holes. Tobaggon are used to transport the injured.

This is not a paid job. The members of the Ski Patrol receive free admission to the skiing area when on duty.

Members of the Ski Patrol can be identified by the red flags on their ski poles. The flags were made by Joyce DeVries.

The Ski Club is planning to go skiing Saturday if the weather is satisfactory. Interested skiers are encouraged to come.

WAA WORKING ON PLANS FOR WATER BALLET

The Women's Athletic Association held its regular monthly meeting February 11. Several new members were present and we would like to welcome them to our organization.

The W.A.A. members interested in swimming are practicing under the direction of Roberta Harris. They are trying to work up a water ballet which may be presented to interested students.

President Lois Bredlow has been enjoying (?) a few days stay in the infirmary, suffering from a student ailment. Thanks go to our vice president for taking over for Lois.

All girls interested in the organization are invited to come and join in the activities.

DR. IVERSON ATTENDS MEET IN MICHIGAN

The newly opened Kellogg Conference center located on the Michigan State College Campus at Lansing, Michigan was the meeting place of the adult Education Conference on February 18, 19, and 20.

Representative of twelve states attended the conference and three included state supervisors of guidance services and counselor trainers. Dr. Iverson, who was invited because the Stout Institute has been designated as a counselor training center of Vocational and Adult Education in Wisconsin, and John A. Kubiack, Supervisor of Occupational Information and Guidance in Wisconsin were the only two representatives at the conference from Wisconsin.

The conference was sponsored by the Guidance and Personal Services Branch of the U. S. Office of Education in co-operation with the Michigan State College and has for its theme "counselor trainers and guidance supervisors take a look at their work." Such keynote topics as the following were discussed: "How to develop a program of supervised practice in counselor training"; "Revising State Guidance Plans"; "The Short in Service Institute"; "Relationship of counselor trainers and State Supervisors"; and the "Certification of Counselors — a stimulus to professional development."

PHILOS TO BE NEW CHAPTER OF TRI SIGMA

Early Saturday morning Lois Subitch, president of the Philos, received a telegram. She nervously opened it, and then dashed excitedly down to the Intersorority Rushing Party. Lois kept the contents of the letter hidden until the fatal moment when the Philos were introduced to the rushes. She then proudly announced that the national sorority, Sigma Sigma Sigma, had accepted the Philomathean Sorority.

In 1912 the Philomathean Society was the first sorority to be organized on the Stout Campus, and now forty years later it is the first sorority to become affiliated with a national organization. The members feel that this affiliation strengthens the bonds of friendship between the past and present members and also affords them the opportunity of meeting new friends through association with many chapters of Sigma Sigma Sigma throughout the United States.

The history of Sigma Sigma Sigma begins in April 20, 1898, when eight girls who were enrolled in the Virginia State Normal School (now Longwood College), a growing teacher's college for women, represented a new departure from the old tradition that was Virginia. By 1903 Tri Sigma was reorganized as a national sorority, the coat of arms and banner were designed, the original skull and crossbones pin was changed to the present triangular badge. The first national convention was held in 1904, and the Triangle of Sigma Sigma Sigma was inaugurated in 1935.

Tri Sigma has helped to establish, improve, and defend the teachers college field. Standards in self improvement, scholarly attainment, and social service compare favorably with any Greek-letter organization.

From two chapters in 1911 to 50 in 1952, with 95 alumnae chapters and a membership of over 145,000 is a long trek. Tri Sigma chapters are presently located at Milwaukee State College and Whitewater State College.

The local chapter of Tri Sigma will be installed sometime this spring when dignitaries of Sigma Sigma Sigma will visit the Stout campus.

PLEASE KIDS! KEEP THOSE SIGNS SMALL

The halls of the Home Economics building are beginning to look like one big bulletin board. If we would all remember to keep our signs small, our halls would appear much less cluttered to ourselves and to our visitors. Let's all remember that no sign in the hall should be larger than 11" by 14".

TODAY IS DEADLINE TO FILE S S A PETITIONS

Today is the deadline for filing petitions for any S.S.A. office. Campaigning will be carried on next week and during part of the following week. Votes will be cast in the hall on March 13.

In order to run for an S.S.A. office a student must have a grade point average of 1.5 and must file in the S.S.A. office a petition signed by 25 people who will back him.

Petitions were filed early by Dick Duthler for president; George Stephenson for treasurer; and Jack Luy for vice-president.

UN CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN MADISON

The National - International Commission of the Student Board is holding its Sixth Student United Nations Conference at the University of Wisconsin on March 28, 29, 30, 1952.

The speakers this year will be: Mr. Henry Bloch of the department of Economic Affairs of the United Nations Secretariat, Mr. William Epstein of the Department of Security Council Affairs, and Governor Walter J. Kohler.

Twenty-five out-of-state delegations are already planning to attend, plus an unusually large number of campus delegations. This year, they plan to have foreign students from the countries represented on the respective delegations to provide first hand information. This is made possible since the University of Wisconsin has 53 countries represented on its campus.

The University will provide housing at $1.50 a night, and a registration fee of $1.00 will be required of each delegate.

Listed below is a tentative agenda followed by a list of the countries to be represented.

11 STOUTITES ATTEND UOFM CONFERENCE

Nine students and two advisors left for the University of Minnesota this morning to attend the Fourth Annual Student Education Conference being held today and tomorrow.

One of the purposes of the conference is to stimulate a feeling of professionalism among education students as well as to stimulate thinking on major issues.

A "Kick-off luncheon will be held today from twelve to one with Dr. W. W. Cook speaking on Teaching Personality. This will be followed by a panel discussion from two to four. A Barn Dance will highlight the evenings entertainment. Starting at nine tomorrow morning will be a panel discussion followed by a "Round up" luncheon.

The students attending this conference are: Francis Oberpriller, Gerry Erickson, Donald Sargent, George Stephenson, Bea Anderson, Charles Schiferl, Charmaine Chopp, and Lloyd Anderson. The chaperones attending this conference are Dean M. M. Price and Dean K. Antrim.

PHILIPPINE EDUCATORS VISIT I. E. DEPARTMENT

Recent foreign visitors to the campus of The Stout Institute at Menomonie, Wisconsin were two Filipino educators enroute to Manila after spending six months in study in the United States under the Smith-Mundt Act. Felizardo S. Camilon, critic teacher of the teacher training department of the Philippine School of Arts and Trades, and Isaias G. Gervasio, assistant director of Feati Institute of Technology in Manila visited the Division of Industrial Education, viewing the laboratories and shops and holding interviews with the professors in charge.

Mr. Camilon was a guerrilla and also served in the intelligence service during World War II, and Mr. Gervasio fought with Generals Wainwright and MacArthur and participated in the infamous Bataan Death March.

BEGIN PRACTICE ON "MR. BARRY'S ETCHINGS"

Play practice for "Mr. Barry's Etchings", the spring production of the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega Fraternity, is now underway. The complete casting, however, is not yet finished.

Last Saturday Mimi MacLachlen suddenly decided not to continue with her part in the play. It appears that Mimi has another role to play for awhile since she broke her leg while skiing Saturday.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The Student Governing Board held a short meeting last Tuesday evening in the basement of the H. E. building.

Sam Mikitarian reported for the movie committee stating that a movie will be given Sunday, March 2 and March 9. Either Ala Baba and the Forty Thieves or Salome Where She Danced will be presented March 2 with the other one to be presented Sunday March 9.

The committee reported on the investigation of a new TV set for the Union. They priced various sets and came to the conclusion that they would like to try some out before purchasing one. They stated that a G.E. 20" set would be delivered to the Union as soon as one comes in.

The assembly period Wednesday, March 12, is set aside for campaigning for SSA officers. The election will take place on Thursday from 11:30 to 4:00.

The board voted that they will pay registration, transportation, and housing for up to 10 people who are interested in attending the United Nations Conference March 28, 29, and 30, 1952.

ANNUAL STUNT NIGHT IN AUDITORIUM SATURDAY

FULL-LENGTH MOVIE TO BE PRESENTED SUNDAY

A full-length movie will be presented Sunday, March 2, in The Stout Auditorium for all students. This movie will be either Ala Baba and the Forty Thieves or Salome Where She Danced. The one which is not shown March 2 will be shown March 9.

These two movies are presented by the SSA and have been obtained by Sam Mikitarian, chairman of the movie committee. These movies are free so be sure to take advantage of them. The time for their showing will be 2 p.m.

FILE NOW FOR SS TEST ON APRIL 24TH

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, today reminded college students that applications for the April 24 Selective Service Qualification Test must be postmarked not later than midnight March 10.

The deadline is necessary to allow the administrators of the test, the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, N. J., time to process the applications and assign each applicant to the testing center requested by the student—or to the closest possible alternative center—also to make administration arrangements consistent with the number who will take the test. There are more than 1,000 testing centers throughout the United States and its Territories.

National Headquarters estimates that upward to 100,000 will make application to take the April 24 test. This will be the last test given during the current academic year.

Application blanks may be obtained by students from the nearest local board. They do not have to return home to the local board which has jurisdiction over them.

To be eligible to take the Selective Service Qualification Test, an applicant, on the testing date (1) must be a selective service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student; (2) must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course—undergraduate or graduate—leading to a degree; (3) must not previously have taken the test.

INTER-RELIGIOUS COUNCIL REPORTS

In the past few issues of the Stoutonia we have tried to give you a glimpse of the organization and purposes of the newly organized inter-religious council.

A brief summary of some of the things that have been discussed will bring you up to date.

The idea of bringing religion and ethics back into education has been worked on and discussed by many of our American educators. It was introduced to Stout Institute through the cooperation of the community and the school. Some of the faculty members who have worked with the group of students, pastors and faculty members, which make up the inter-religious council, have stated that they believe this to be a step in the right direction even though there will be many barriers to overcome.

This week we are talking to some of the students on campus to see how much they know about the council, their opinion of the program and their suggestions as to projects they would like to see the council work on.

DUTTON CONCERT TRIO AT CONVO. MARCH 5

The Dutton Concert Trio, who were unable to be here January 23 because of a storm, will entertain us at convocation next Wednesday, March 5.

This is the same trio who's picture was in the Stoutonia last January.

We have long awaited the arrival of this group since their engagement was cancelled in January.

This trio of talented musicians and adept marimba player will be warmly welcomed on the Stout campus this Wednesday.

FOB Presents Eighth Annual Stunt Nite At 7:30 Tomorrow Evening. 11 Skits.

Tomorrow night the F O B Fraternity will present the eighth annual Stunt Nite. Eleven skits will form the entertainment which is scheduled to start at 7:30. Those participating will be the S M A, Hyperian, Pallas Athene, and Philomathean Sororities, the K F S, Sigma Tau Gamma, and Delta Kappa fraternities, Tainter Annex, Tainter Hall, Eichelberger Hall, and W A A.

Prizes of $20, $15, and $10 will be given to the three winning skits. Judges will award these prizes on the basis of smoothness of presentation, originality, and general acting. The F O B's have reserved the right to select the judges.

Tickets are 30 cents this year and can be obtained from any FOB member. Tickets will also be on sale in the corridor and at the door Saturday night. The fraternity has given each participating organization eight free tickets.

Willis Bogenhagen and Jerry Henderson are the hard working co-chairmen. Stunt Nite is one of the biggest functions of the year and credit is due to the F O B Fraternity for a job well done.

This is an activity no Stout student should miss, for it is one time during the year that Stout talent can shine. Make Stunt Nite a "must" on your weekend list.

CAREERS TO BE DISCUSSED ON RADIO SHOW

"Careers in Industrial Education" will be the title of the third in the series of radio broadcasts originating at The Stout Institute in Menomonie Wisconsin. The program will be presented over WMNE Saturday, March 1, at 12:45 p.m.

This program will be of special interest to high school students contemplating college entrance, for the skit will describe the experiences of a typical college freshman as he enters The Stout Institute to begin his career in industrial arts education. There will be a discussion of the curriculum and of some of the courses in particular that a freshman in that field would study. High school seniors will also be interested in the reception that a freshman receives when he enters Stout and the type of living and social accommodations that are provided for students at the college.

College students participating in the broadcast are Phillip Burkhalter, a sophomore from Watertown; Ernest Collette, a junior from Wausau; Richard Duthler a junior of Freeport, Illinois; George Stolp, a sophomore of Kenosha; Mr. Robert Swanson, instructor in mechanics and woodwork and Mr. Philip W. Ruehl, instructor in industrial education and electricity are program directors.

OLD HEIDELBERG TEA IN HARVEY

The Eta Sigma Omega, or Hyperian Sorority, will hold its annual all-school Old Heidelberg Tea in the Harvey Memorial on Wednesday, March 5, from 3:30 to 5:30.

Now, don't let the word "tea" scare you fellows away. This "tea" really isn't a tea. When you walk in you will notice little tables with re-checked table clothes, rustic candlelight, and a bar.

Pretty bar maids will serve you (root) beer, or (ginger) ale. You won't miss these Hys because they will be wearing their bar-maid aprons to their classes on March 5.

PHI U TO SELL CANDY IN CORRIDOR MONDAY

Do you need quick energy between your strenuous classes? Candy will do just that for you. Stop at the table in the Home Economics corridor Monday, March 10, and buy some of those homemade, "yummy" delicacies being sold by the Phi Upsilon Omicron Fraternity.

THE STOUTONIA

The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin

Member
Associated Collegiate Press

Printed and published by the students at The Stout Institute every Friday morning during the school year except on examination days. Entered at the post office, Menomonie, Wis., as 2nd class matter.

The Stoutonia is a little more than just a newspaper—it is an educational experiment. It is written to inform, enlighten, and to give its staff members experience that conforms to good journalistic principles and practice.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Each year at this time the students of The Stout Institute decide who shall lead them in all-school activities for the coming year. Elsewhere in this issue there is a partial list of the candidates for SSA offices. It is suggested that you acquaint yourself with these people and the duties of the aspired office sometime during the next week-and-a-half. It is nice to know whom and what you are voting for.

Monday night is the last basketball game of the season. This hasn't been the most glittering season for the Blue Devils but the team is still trying. As we overheard a student on another campus say about their team (they haven't won a game yet) "It could be worse. So far we have scored against every team we have met." Let's see if you can't cheer the boys on to victory in the finals.

PRACTICE CLASS RECOVERS UNION CHAIRS

Royce Meyers, Student Teacher, demonstrates the process of reupholstering chairs to four members of his Consumer Mechanics Class.

LARGE NUMBER ENJOY S S A SPORTS SPREE

The sport spree given by the SSA Saturday, February 23rd, was well attended and enjoyed by many students. From two to four during the afternoon bowling, swimming, pool and all the other games in the Union were free. Free coffee and doughnuts were also served. At 8:30 in the evening, a sock dance was given by the SSA. The feature attraction of the evening was when several shoes were drawn from a large pile and prizes were awarded those whose shoes were drawn. Judging by the number that attended, the sports spree was certainly a success.

WESLEY DISCUSSES BROTHERHOOD PROB.

The regular meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship was held February 24, 1952 at six o'clock.

The supper was served by Margaret Ort's committee. The menu was as follows: creamed potatoes, weiners, tossed fruit salad, ice cream and milk.

Ardith Garrison's committee gave the worship. The theme was "Brotherhood," with selection given on Racial Prejudice. The poem "Little Black Boy" was also read.

Two members were elected from the organization to be on the nominating committee. These members are Ann Switzenberg and Nancy Kurath.

CONSUMER MECHANICS IS NEW ADDED COURSE

Patrons of the Stout Union were given a little side show the other day. It seems that Dean Price pulled up a chair to sit down but as he gracefully lowered himself into the chair it folded under him. A few folding chairs have been put into service while some of the others are being fixed.

Royce Myers is teaching an upholstery unit in his practice teaching class and has removed those worn-out, old, green chairs from the union with a promise that he would bring them back looking like new.

The chairs have had the frames fixed, new webbing put on, more stuffing material added and now are being covered to match the chairs already in the union.

The class, Consumer Mechanics, is new to the high school curriculum this year; the interest in the course seems to be growing as at the present time there are eight girls and seven boys enrolled this semester compared to one girl and three boys who were enrolled last semester.

The purpose of the class is to teach the students to be better consumers of industrial materials and methods. The units in the course are those a person would be apt to do and could do at home. Finishing and upholstery have been the big units taught this quarter. Last semester units such as refrigeration, plumbing, electricity, bricklaying, home planning, and wall construction were taught.

FELLOWS BEWARE. TODAY IS FEBRUARY 29

Do you young ladies know what day this is? Have you heard of the great honor that is yours on this, the 29th day of February?

Yes this is the day you have been waiting for for four years. If there is a man in your life but he is too shy too pop the fatal question now is your chance. Or is there some one you have had your eyes on but the despicable creature just doesn't know you exist? Today is your big opportunity to get to know him.

Now we wouldn't want this big news to leak out to the members of the male sex, for surprise may be the best weapon, so don't any of you gals give out this top secret information.

P. S. It was none of your business, "sir."

THRU THE KEYHOLE

The SSA Sports Spree and Sock Dance last Saturday were certainly successful. The students really enjoyed them.

Some of the couples dancing in their stocking feet were Carolann Hammersten and Carl Berthlein, Jo Hosford and Barney Styer, Rose Mary Raymer and Jim Zeasman, Val Bloom and Dean Cornwell, Avis Reschenberg and Don Sargent, and Jan Wurtz and Ray Steves.

Other couples enjoying the music of the Melodiers were Bea Anderson and Bill Banks, Charmaine Chopp and Bob Rustin, Nancy Hauser and Dick Sorenson, Muriel Roffers and John Jacobson, Barb Sherwood and Don Hiller, Nadine Brown and Charlie Schiferl, Gerda Ravnholt and Warren Barberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kieffer.

One of the Annex Girls seems to have shifted men. For further information see Donna Harvey.

Jeanne Cabalek has been seen with someone quite a bit, but she won't say who. How about it Jeanne?

We are glad to hear that Betty Kleist is wearing Francis Oberprillers class ring. Another piece of good news can be observed on Grace Laudon's wrist. She is wearing Bob Nesler's identification bracelet.

Mary Ellen Orme and Stub Carlson took a trip to her home in Union Center this weekend where they became man and wife. The wedding was attended by several of our Stout students too.

Jo Gritt was with Sam Mikitarian last Friday night. Hmm, those one act plays surely do help.

Phyllis Allman and Gay Boyer, Joan Fritz and Bill Anderson, Mary Betzel and Jerry Schemansky, Betty Johansen and Gay Roe, Gerry Erickson and Dave Bieniasz, and Corky Collette (minus Joyce) enjoyed the Sig Tau swimming-party Friday-evening. After the swimming they and other Sig

It's funny how a tree will stand in one place for years and then suddenly jump in front of a lady driver.

It was a very windy day at a mountain resort. A visitor asked a native, "Does the wind always blow this way up here?" Came back this drawing reply. "Nope; sometimes it blows the other way."

A modest girl never pursues a man; nor does a mousetrap pursue a mouse.

She had lost the art of conversation, but not, unfortunately, the power of speech.

"Why won't you marry me?" Wayne demanded. "There isn't anyone else, is there?" "Oh Wayne," Sandra sighed. "There must be!"

"But, Dear," Carl protested, "if we buy a new car, how will we pay for it?"

"Well," his wife responded, "let's not confuse the issue by considering two problems at one time."

Darlene explained bowling to Pat: "Be careful not to knock down all the pins with the first ball, because if you do you get cheated out of a second throw."

"Sometimes," confided Mrs. White-side to her best friend, "I think my husband is the patientest, gentlest, best-natured man that ever lived; and sometimes I think he's just lazy!"

The old engineer pulled his favorite engine up to the water tank and briefed the new fireman. The fireman got up on the tender and brought the spout down all right but somehow his foot caught in the chain and he stepped right into the tank.

As he floundered in the water, the engineer watched him with a jaundiced eye.

"Just fill the tank with water, Sonny," he drawled. "No need to stamp the stuff down."

PRIDE

A census taker asked a woman how many children she had. "Well," she began, "there's Willie, and Henry, and Martha, and —"

"Never mind the names," he said impatiently, "just give me the numbers."

His tone aroused the mother's indignation. "They haven't got numbers," she said sharply. "they all got names."

ALUMNI PRES. SEEKS ALUMNI COOPERATION

To The S. I. A. A. Alumni:

Recently in the mail you received application blanks for the annual scholarship award to be made by your Alumni Association. Here is an opportunity for you to assist in selecting a worthy boy or girl for these annual awards.

Your Alumni Association has been building up the scholarship fund so that perhaps in the near future more than two prospective students of The Stout Institute may receive these awards. A large number of applications sent in by you in the fields provide a better selection for your scholarship committee.

As soon as your applications have been received they are forwarded immediately to the scholarship committee who in turn select the outstanding boy and girl for these awards.

This letter is an appeal to you to assist in this outstanding work of the Stout Institute Alumni Association.

Very truly yours,
Carl J. Hasse,
National Alumni Pres.

KFS ELECTS NEW OFFICERS AND ADVISORS

On February 21 the members of the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity met for the purposes of electing officers for the coming year and also for the installation of Mr. Edwin W. Siefert as advisor to replace Dr. Stuart Anderson, who has left Stout for a position in Peru with the State Department.

The new officers of the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity are Howard Heigl, a junior from Green Bay, president; James Cook, vice-president Francis Oberpriller, secretary; Dale Anderson, treasurer; Dan Jeastran, Sgt.-at-arms; and Joe Luetkemeyer as historian.

After the short speeches by the newly elected officers, Mr. Betterley officially welcomed Mr. Siefert as an advisor to the fraternity with a firm "handshake". Other niceties of the installation were also carried out with rare good will.

SUPERIOR AT STOUT IN LAST GAME OF SEASON

Erickson, Debrauske and Mosher End Basketball Career With Blue Devils

On Monday night the Stout Blue Devils will meet the Yellow Jackets of Superior State College in the final game of the season for Stout. This is the second meeting between the two teams this season, Superior State College winning the first game by a score of 74-64 at Superior.

This will be the last appearance of center Bob Erickson, and forward Larry Mosher for the Blue Devils on the hardwood. John Debrauske, the remaining senior on the team, also completes his collegiate career this season, but John has been out of the

POLING SHOOTS RECORD AS RIFLE TEAM WINS

The Stout Institute Rifle Club continued its winning ways with a decisive 1374 - 964 victory over the rifle team of Central Washington College of Education. It is the fifth straight win since the Rifle Club dropped its first match to the University of Connecticut ROTC team.

A highlight of this match was the firing of a new range record for the three position total by Clarence Poling. He finished his competition for the rifle team by firing a 100 prone, 97 kneeling, and 92 standing for a total of 289/300.

Other scores fired by the team are Glenn Voels, 274; Stan Meyer, 272; Ed Prahl, 271; and Joe Luetkemeyer with 268.

High for Washington was Bob England with a score of 219.

The Stout Institute Rifle Club has two matches left on the postal match schedule. March 1 they face Coe College ROTC and on March 15 they will shoot against the varsity squad of the University of Cincinnati.

lineup for the last four games with a bad muscle pull in the leg and will probably not suit up.

Most likely Coach Johnson will start Bob Erickson, senior at center; Bob Moe and Dennis Hawkes, freshman at the forwards; another freshman, Don Steele, and Bill Kieffer, a junior, at the guards.

For Superior the probable starters for Coach Leo DeMarco's Yellow Jackets will find Walker and Whittier at the forwards, Hulmer at center, and Polgiase and Hennessy at the guards.

As one little sieve said to another little sieve, "Gee, its almost time for the Lone Strainer."

The swimming seems to be doing fine-more girls come out with that "dampish-looking" hair. Roberta Harris seems to be doing quite well with her instructing. Many thanks to her for helping us out.

Last week's badminton was postponed to practice for the skit, but will get rolling again after Stunt Nite.

STOUT TEAM TRAVELS TO EAU CLAIRE

Tonight the Blue Devils will be seeking their second conference victory as they journey to Eau Claire for a tilt with the Blue Golds. The Blue Devils will be heavy underdogs in the game but when these two schools get together in an athletic contest anything is apt to happen.

Eau Claire needs this game to have a better than 50-50 season while it will give Stout a chance to climb out of the conference cellar.

Coach Johnson will take the entire squad of 11 men on the trip. The probable starting lineup for the Stout Blue Devils will have Bob Moe and Dennis Hawkes at the forwards, Bob Erickson as center, and Bill Kieffer and Don Steele at the guards.

SIGMA TAU, FOB MEET FOR VOLLEYBALL CHAMP

Next Thursday night the Sigma Tau Gamma and the Phi Omega Beta volleyball teams will meet for the championship of the Intramural Volleyball league. Both teams are undefeated thus far this year and this should be a humdinger of a match.

INTERSORORITY PARTY HELD IN STOUT GYM

The annual Intersorority Rushing Party was held in the gym Saturday morning February 23, at 9:00 a. m. The purpose of the party was to help the freshmen and transfer girls and the members of the four sororities to become better acquainted.

After singing and playing games, everyone went up to the Union for coffee and assorted cookies.

The Philos were general chairmen; Pallas Athenes, invitations; S M A's, entertainment; and Hyps, food.

A young couple sent a friend of theirs—an Australian woman living in this country—a playpen upon the arrival of her fourth child. Her thank-you note left them somewhat astonished. "The pen is a perfect godsend," she wrote, "I sit in it every afternoon and read—and the children can't get near me."

WINONA DOWNS BLUE DEVILS 64 TO 52

The Stout Blue Devils, showing the best balanced scoring attack this semester, hit a cold spell from the middle of the second quarter into almost the end of the third quarter and lost to the Warriors of Winona State Teachers by a score of 64 to 52.

The freshmen in the starting lineup began to hit from the field as Bob Moe, Dennis Hawkes, and Don Steele put in 22 of the Blue Devils 27 points in the first half.

In the second half center Bob Erickson came alive and proceeded to toss in thirteen points as Bill Kieffer fed the ball beautifully off his drive-in layup shot. Unfortunately Moe and Hawkes picked up their fifth personal in the third periods and this loss of scoring power hurt the Blue Devils chances of getting back into the ball game as Winona hit a streak and tossed in six straight baskets.

Chuck Heywood showed signs of losing his stiffness on the court during the game and looked fairly good during the time he played in the fourth quarter.

As in the past two games that Stout played on foreign courts the officiating has not been of the best caliber. Not that the officials called them one sidedly, but the officials didn't call fouls.

If the boys can put together four quarters like the first one against Winona they will cause some trouble to the two remaining teams on the schedule.

The loss was the 17th in 19 so far this season.

LAST LYCEUM TO BE GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT

The last entertainment in the current semester Lyceum series will be presented Monday, March 10, in the auditorium. This program will be the Pedal Marionette Theater of Coffey and Miller.

Coffey and Miller will present "The Rivals" by Richard B. Sheridan. "The Rivals" was first produced at Drury Lane Theater in London in 1775 and has long been considered one of the most delightful comedies in English literature. The most alluring role in the comedy is that of Mrs. Malaprop whose use of select words so ingeniously misapplied without being mispronounced makes her a delight to any audience.

To produce "The Rivals," Mr. and Mrs. Jess Coffey speak some 6,000 words of dialogue from memory, manipulate the figures, and give vocal characterizations to nine characters in the play. The pedal marionettes are operated by pedal attached to tiny platforms upon which the various figures are mounted in contrast to the usual manipulation by strings visible to the audience.

The Coffers welcome backstage inspection and will hold an informal question and answer period for those interested in puppetry.

11 ATTEND FOURTH ANNUAL ED. CONFERENCE

Attending the Fourth Annual Student Education Conference sponsored by the College of Education at the University of Minnesota last weekend were nine delegates and two faculty advisors from The Stout Institute at Menomonie, Wisconsin.

One of the purposes of the conference was to stimulate a feeling of professionalism among education majors and to encourage thinking on major issues in the field of education.

The "Kick-off" luncheon was held on Friday with Dr. W. W. Cook of the faculty of the University of Minnesota speaking on "The Teaching Personality." A panel discussion followed in which student leaders from the participation colleges took charge. That evening a Square Dance was given in the Armory. Saturday morning panel discussions were held on the need for counseling and guidance services in the schools. The "Round-up" luncheon followed.

Students attending this conference were Francis Oberpriller, Gerry Erickson, and Donald Sargent from Menomonie; George Stephenson from Galesburg, Illinois; Ben Anderson from Blair; Charles Schifferl of Fort China; Charmaine Chopp from Kohler; and Lloyd Anderson of Stanfield, Minnesota.

Miss Keturah Antrim, dean of women and Mr. Merle Price, dean of men, accompanied the students.

PLACEMENTS OF SENIORS RELEASED

Recent Senior placements, all of which are in Wisconsin, have been released by the Registrar's office. They are: Dorothy Hardies, Menomonie; will teach in the high school at Hudson; Doris Hall, Cuba City; will teach Home Economics in the high school at Luck; Dorothy Gulbrandson, Cloquet, Minn.; will teach in the junior high school in Superior; and Patricia Allard, Wausau; and Joan Staehle, Oshkosh; will teach Home Economics in the Manitowish junior high schools.

Omer Croydt, Watertown, has accepted a position as appliance salesman with Van's Appliance company in Menomonie. Theodore Hein, Marshfield, will teach electricity and radio at the Plymouth high school.

Home Economics teachers' salaries have taken a step up again this year. The range for beginners is from $320 to $360 per month with contracts for nine, ten, or eleven months.

SUMMER SESSION COPY READY FOR PRINTING

Copy for the Stout 1952 summer session bulletin has been completed. The first copy has gone to the print shop to be set up and printed.

The summer session bulletin is edited by Dean Bowman, Director of Summer Session.

If present plans do not go awry and if the work continues as planned the bulletin will be ready for distribution in the middle of April.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB TO GO ON SPRING TOUR

Did you realize that there is a Boy's Glee Club composed of thirty-two members here at Stout? This group has recently been organized by Mr. Kortkamp, the new music director. They are now preparing three numbers which will be used on the tour with the Symphonic Singers. They are: "On Great Lone Hills" by Sibelius, "Ezekiel Saw de Wheel" arranged by Ken Darby, and "Mood Indigo" by Duke Ellington. A quartet will sing several novelty numbers. The big problem of the moment is deciding "what to wear." The decision is between black tuxedos or summer suits with white jackets and dark pin striped pants and maroon ties.

Included in the tour will be Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Ottumwa, Iowa; Kansas City, Missouri; Manhattan, Kansas; Storm Lake and Spensor, Iowa; and Albert Lee, Minnesota. They may also visit some service camps. The women of the Symphonic Singers will also sing several numbers.

If any men would be interested in just singing with the Men's Glee Club and not Symphonics, there are still vacancies. Come to practice Tuesday at 5:00.

MARCH 23 IS EASTER TREAT IN TEA ROOM

Food of the rugged New Englanders was featured in tea room on Thursday, March 6, as the tea room took its guests to the state of Vermont as one of their series of luncheons which features menus from states in all parts of the United States. Some of the food served on the typical Vermont menu was ham, the traditional baked beans, steamed bread, and Indian pudding with real, honest-to-goodness Vermont maple syrup.

Next week a St. Patrick's Day luncheon will be featured in tea room. After that the next state to be visited will be Florida. This menu will feature southern food, including lime pie.

There is something coming up in tea room you surely won't want to miss. On Sunday, March 23, there will be an Easter Smorgasbord. This brunch will be a combination breakfast and luncheon, and will be served shortly before noon. You will be treated to such mouth watering foods as apple rings, Canadian bacon, tiny pancakes, and different kinds of coffee cake. Of special prominence will be a table of assorted fruits.

The people responsible for tea room luncheons feel the attendance so far this semester has been gratifying, and your patronage is appreciated.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS CLASS PLANS ROOMS

The House Furnishings classes recently trekked out to North Menomonie to visit the government housing projects. They were shown a four-bedroom house and two and three-bedroom duplexes. The girls made sketches of the unfurnished rooms and are now planning how they would furnish these rooms. This should prove to be very interesting for the room is already planned and finished, and it is up to each girl to plan how she would like to furnish that room.

Everyone agreed that in such nice weather it was much more fun than the ordinary classroom. A couple of girls from one class missed the bus, and it seems they couldn't find the rest of the group even though they took a taxi out. That's too bad, they missed a very interesting trip.

Mid-week Lenten services will be held at Our Savior's Lutheran Church every Thursday night throughout the season of Lent. The services start at 7:30 o'clock.

The class in "Churchmanship", conducted by the pastor, Rev. John Buran will be held at the Congregational Church every Thursday evening during the Lenten season. The one-hour sessions start at 8 o'clock.

There will be Special Lenten services at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church every Thursday at 8 p.m. during Lent. The general theme of the services is entitled, "Why We Believe, What We Believe."

Peace Lutheran Church will hold mid-week Lenten services every Wednesday at 8:00.

Rev. Reece is conducting Lenten services at the Methodist Church every Thursday evening at 8:00, the theme of which is "Jesus' Homelife and Childhood."

ART CLASS DISPLAYS STUDIES IN COLOR

Have you noticed the pictures in the corridor on second floor of the HE building? The freshmen girls in Fundamentals of Design class have been studying intensity and value in color, and these pictures are their newly acquired knowledge put on paper with paints and brush. Intensity is the brightness and darkness of a color. The Fundamentals classes have been mixing colors to obtain variations in value and intensity. Each girl made two pictures exactly alike, only varied the colors so that one picture illustrates the use of intensity and one picture illustrates the use of value. There are some very interesting pictures in this exhibit. Why don't you stop a minute and look at this exhibit?

PHI U CANDY SALE MONDAY, MARCH '10

Save your pennies and spend them for your sweet tooth Monday at the Phi Upsilon Omicron candy sale which will be held in the Home Economics corridor all day Monday, March 10. The girls are professionals when it comes to candy making so sample some to help a worthy cause and to fill that empty spot.

JUNIOR GIRLS TO LIVE IN HOUSE 6 WEEKS

Eight junior girls are now living in the home management house. This group moved in Monday, March 3 and will leave April 11. These eight are Shirley Lepien, Ruth Kelly, Fern Naeffler, Carolann Hammersten, Beverly Henderson, Mary Ann Moore, Hazel Nelson, and Dorothy Messerschmidt. Mimi MacLachlen, who was scheduled to be with this group had to postpone her stay there when she broke her leg skiing a few weeks ago.

S. S. A. CANDIDATES PREPARE FOR CAMPAIGN

SKI CLUB RECORD DANCE SAT. NIGHT

Choose your partner and come to the Ski Club record dance tomorrow night in the Stout gym. Price for a couple will be just 25¢ and you may be the lucky person to win the sweater at the drawing at intermission.

Members of the club have been selling tickets for the drawing this week. They may also be purchased at the door.

For an evening of enjoyment and a chance to win a beautiful sweater, make your plans to attend this dance tomorrow night.

FAMILY LIFE WORKSHOP TO BE HELD HERE

The Stout Institute is sponsoring a Family Life Workshop on March 13 and 14. Invitations have been extended to 80 instructors and professors in all colleges and universities in Wisconsin and Minnesota where home economics departments exist.

The Workshop will include sessions as well as small conference groups, during which there will be demonstrations in the use of films, discussions, counseling and socio-dramas. Participating members are urged to bring their specific problems for consideration.

This two-day conference will feature Dr. Esther McGinnis, former director of the Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit and now field worker on a special project in Family Life Education for the American Home Economics Association. Dr. McGinnis is the author of several books and many articles in the fields of psychology and home economics. An article entitled "Family Centered Teaching" is now appearing in the January issue of the VANDALS BREAK BENCH SOUTH OF H.E. BLDG.

Sometime last Saturday night either a college prankster or a town prowler tipped over, and destroyed, one of the stone benches that mark the Stout Campus. This was not a case of an intentional accident since the benches are out of the way of foot travel and vehicle travel.

Whatever the source, it is not credit to the people responsible. Nor does it help the reputation of the city of Menomonie and The Stout Institute for the daily action of their residents. Please be responsible and report any damaging matter.

No Contest For President, Vice-president; Three For Secretary; Three For Treasurer

Campaigning for S.S.A. offices begins tomorrow noon. At this time posters may be put up in the halls and the Union. Candidates will present their platforms at the campaign assembly next Wednesday, March 12, and Thursday from 11:30 to 4 voting will take place.

Richard Duthler, a junior from Freeport, Ill., is the only candidate for president. Dick is very active in school activities being president of M.A.P., a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, E.P.T., A.P.O., and Wesley.

Jack Luy, the only candidate for vice presidency, is a sophomore from Milwaukee. He was president of his class last year and is vice president this year. He belongs to KFS and E.P.T.

There are three candidates for the position of secretary. Ann Rossmiller, from Burlington, Wis., is a junior. Ann belongs to Phi Upsilon Omicron, Home Economics club, and L.S.A. She is president of the Pallas Athene Sorority, and a member of the Symphonic Singers. At present she is state secretary of College Home Economics clubs.

Mary Lou Bohrnstedt, a junior from Arcadia, Wis., is a member of the Philomathean Sorority. She also belongs to the Home Economics club and the Newman club. She is Student Publicity director for The Stoutonia.

The other candidate for secretary is Dorothy Messerschmidt, a junior from Dale, Wis. She belongs to Home Economics club, Y.W.C.A., L.S.A., and Symphonic Singers. Besides being secretary of the junior class, she is on The Tower staff, the Inter-religious council and the assembly committee.

There are three candidates for the job of treasurer too. George Stephenson, a junior, is from Galesburg, Ill. George belongs to E.P.T., A.P.O. and M.A.P. He is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, and is secretary-treasurer of E.P.T.

Beverly Henderson, New Auburn, Wisconsin, is a junior. She belongs to the Hyperian Sorority, the Phi Upsilon Omicron, and the Home Economics club. She is treasurer for the Hys.

Marilyn Eckstein, from Neenah, Wis., is a sophomore. She is a member of the Home Economics club and of the S.M.A. Sorority.

BAND MEMBERS TO PLAN SCHEDULE

A brief but important meeting of all band members is scheduled for 5:00 Thursday afternoon in room 20, H.E. Remember the date, Thursday, March 13. At that time a poll will be taken to determine which time would be up for the year. Folders and music will be provided for those who are registered.

Prospective members are also invited to be present, as this is the time when the permanent membership will be set up for the year.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

What has happened to our spirit of competition? Doesn't anyone want to run for SSA offices? When the petitions for candidates for the SSA elections were filed last week there was only one eligible candidate for the office of president; one for vice president; three for secretary; and three for treasures. With the exception of secretary and treasurer, there will be no contest.

Surely there are other students who are just as capable as those who are candidates. We don't mean that these two won't be good officers, but they themselves said that they would rather be competing with others.

This is a democratic election, and in the past it was an active one. This year will find closely fought contests in just two offices. In the future remember that everyone has a chance and more should be given the opportunities to run if for no other reason than the experience of participating in an election of this type.

INTERESTING LAMP IS MADE BY HE STUDENT

There are two very interesting things on display now in Room 206 done by Mary Betzel. One is an oil painting. Mary had a small painting, but she wanted a larger replica; she couldn't buy the larger one, so she made it herself. It isn't everyone who has the talent to do that!

Mary also made a lamp which is on display in Room 206. The most striking thing about this lamp is the curved wood base. Mary even cut the wood herself, and she finished it with wax. Along the rough edges at the bottom, a fungus growth has been worked in, something unusual and interesting.

The minister's daughter returned at three o'clock from a dance. Her father greeted her sternly. "Good morning, child of the devil." Respectfully and demurely, she replied: "Good morning, father."

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The Student Governing Board held a three hour meeting last Tuesday evening in room 29 of the HE building. The following is a motion that was made, seconded, and carried.

The secretary of SSA reported the candidates that are running for the SSA office.

Two candidates filed for president; one was declared scholastically ineligible. One candidate for vice president, three for secretary, and three for treasurer have filed and are eligible scholastically.

The Board discussed the situation of only one candidate for president and one for vice president on the ballot.

The Board agreed that the constitution's provisions should remain in force. The Board further agreed that the setting of dead line for filing of application for Friday of the sixth week is not unreasonable and is in agreement with section 3 sub-section 3 of the by-laws of the SSA constitution since the notice was published in the Stoutonia two consecutive weeks before the dead line.

This motion is interpreted to read that any names written in on the ballot will be considered illegal.

Other business included the carrying of a motion that the Community Chest fund be divided evenly five ways after the $180 is taken out for the foster child. They are referring to CARE, salvation army, Red Cross, March of Dimes, etc.

The Board also moved, seconded and carried that they purchase another radio for the infirmary.

ALL-SCHOOL CARD PARTY MARCH 29

The Stout Arts and Crafts Club at a regular business meeting on Monday, March 3, completed the initiation of new members and formulated plans for the All School card party on Mar. 29.

It was voted to keep the tickets at last years old price of thirty-five cents per admission.

Ann Sipple, chairman of foods, gave a tentative report on the progress of her committee and the proposed lunch menu. Roman Weinsierl, chairman, for obtaining tables and chairs reported progress on his committee. With the final vote on the ticket price, Dufur Peters, publicity chairman was instructed to order the tickets and for the publicity committee to make plans for promotion and sales.

A committee consisting of senior members was formed to work out a slate of candidates for election of officers on March 10.

On March 10th, after election of officers, the entire club is to meet in the General Mechanics Shop and work at making the prizes for the card party. Joe Hainault is in charge of the prize projects.

Hi kids,

Well, we didn't see too much last week end. Either we didn't watch closely or else there weren't very many to watch.

Friday night in Menomonie was unusually quiet. Most of you more fortunate people with cars must have gone to the game in Eau Claire.

Saturday night at the FOB Stunt Night we saw a few couples, but most of the students were in skits or helping with them. We did see Bob Brunswick with Joan Mithy, Rita Hack and Gale Woelfer, Nancy Han-shus and Larry Mosher, and Betty Kleist and Francis Oberpriller.

We saw Carl Berthlein walking Carolann Hammersten home after Stunt Night. These two make a very nice couple.

Danny Foltman was a happy fellow last week end. Jerry Pleszcynski, his fiance, was here. It certainly seemed good to see her again after her operation a few weeks ago. She is teaching in Wisconsin Rapids.

Donna Kriek surprised a lot of Stout students last Monday morning when she returned to school with a beautiful sparkler on her third finger left hand. The lucky fellow is a January graduate, Bruce Arntson, who is teaching in Rochester. Congratulations both of you.

We hear that a few of Tom Williams' friends from St. Paul were down for the week end. For further information contact Bev Henderson or Mary Ann Moore.

We saw Barbara Clemons at Stunt Night with Bob Anderson. She finally accepted. Are we right, Bob?

George McGowan who transferred to Stout this semester seems to be doing pretty well. He was with Marilyn Kressin last Saturday.

This is all for now. We'll see you at the Ski Club dance tomorrow night in the gym. "Till then,

SIG TAU MEMBERS STUDY STUNT NIGHT BREW

SIGMA TAU SEIZES FIRST IN STUNT NIGHT

Last Saturday night Stout talent came out of hiding and put on a show. To the audience it was two and participants it was 10 minutes of eternity preceded by last minute jitters. To the stage crew, recruited in part from the FOB fraternity, it was fast scenery changes, plus other backstage details. These boys deserve credit, for in spite of the confusion they worked smoothly and fast with only an occasional slip.

Judges based their decision on smoothness of presentation, originality, and general acting. First prize of $20 was awarded to Sigma Tau Gamma for their portrayal of the perplexing life of an inductee. The P.A.'s won $15 for their skit "With Strings Attached". Third prize of $10 went to Tainter Annex for their rhymed skit "Beaux and Beau Nots".

Judges were Mr. Ralph Betterly, Mr. Edwin Siefert, Mr. Ernest Rawson, Mr. Guy Salyer, and Mr. Ray Kranzusch.

KFS PLEDGES BEGIN ATROCIOUS 'HELL WEEK'

Once again, it is time for Kappa Phi Sigma's semi-annual Hell Week. Eight pledges have been selected. They are: Richard Bilse, a sophomore from Ridgeland, Wisconsin; Richard Brooks, freshman from Chippewa Falls; Gary Gore, sophomore from Spring Valley; Charles Houge, sophomore from Houston, Minnesota; Richard Jung, a junior from Fond du Lac, Wisconsin; Richard Kassel, a freshman from Vermillion, Minnesota; Chet Lange, sophomore from Houghton, Michigan; Alfred Ochs, freshman from Peshtigo, Wisconsin.

The KFS pledges will be distinguished throughout Hell Week by their Panama straw hats, canes, and blue Greek letter sweaters.

Hell Week will begin Thursday, March 6, and will continue through the following Thursday. Highlights of the week include the scavenger hunt Tuesday evening, the skit night and serenading Wednesday evening, and the informal initiation on Thursday evening.

GLEE CLUBS ARE NOW BEING ORGANIZED

Can You Sing, and if so, are you interested in singing with the men's or women's glee club? There are still openings in the men's group and you may join even if you would rather not join Symphonic Singers. Come to practice Tuesday at 5:00.

The Women's Glee Club is again being organized. Practices will be held Tuesday evening at 7:00.

Question of the Week

Do you think the students at Stout take an active part in the operations of the Stout Student Association? Bev Peterson: The majority of the students do not take part actively and a few are doing most of the work. Rita Hack: The students are interested when something is being done for them, but they don't usually take the initiative in doing things themselves in the SSA.

Dr. Salyer: The rank and file turns over to the selected representatives all the responsibilities—possibly they do not check up as to what is being done, or help assume some of the responsibility by offering opinions. Interest in the student government doesn't seem to continue after election time, and the average student doesn't always appreciate the huge amount of work done by the officers.

Joan Fairweather: Generally, I think the students take a fairly good interest in the SSA, but I think it could be improved if more students would regularly read the Governing Board news. Also the students should report their gripes to their representatives rather than holding them back.

Nadine Brown: More committees should be set up to lighten the load for the officers and to get more of the student body to participate in the SSA. The social committee has done a good job this year in furthering this interest.

Jo Gritt: As far as the games and dances which the SSA provides, are concerned, I feel that we do get enough out of it, but as far as understanding and taking a part in the SSA, is concerned, I do not.

John Christenson: Too many students take the SSA for granted; actually the SSA is the Stout Student Association which is each and every one of us. The more students who will pitch in and help, the better the SSA will function and represent all of the students.

"OLE HEIDELBERG TEA" HELD WED.

Merry noisemaking greeted Stout students as they strolled down the Home Economics corridor on Wednesday, March 6, from 3:30 to 5:30. It was coming from the "Ole Heidelberg Tea" which was held in the Harvey Memorial. This tea is sponsored annually by the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority.

The rustic atmosphere was created by the swinging doors; gracious door hostesses, and waitresses who were dressed in cotton peasant blouses, prettily decorated aprons, and cotton skirts; the tiny tables covered with red-checked tablecloths; the candlelight; and appropriate polka music.

Char Winslow and Nancy Bunker were the co-chairmen for the tea.

PALLAS ATHENES TAKE TWO NEW MEMBERS

Two new members were pledged to the Pallas Athene Sorority this semester. They are Avis Reschenberg and Louise Wenger. Avis is a transfer student and lives at Eichelberger Hall. Louise is a sophomore. Informal pledging took place at the sorority's advisor, Dr. Anne Marshall's apartment last Thursday.

FULL LENGTH MOVIE AT L.S.A. SUNDAY

L. S. A. is on the move so keep your Sunday evenings open.

Sunday evening at 5:30 L. S. A. will meet in the church parlor of Our Saviors Lutheran Church for supper to be followed by a full length movie. This movie titled, South The Clouds, has been specially obtained for showing in connection with the program which is to be of a missionary theme. Election of officers will also be held, be sure to bring your vote.

River Falls L. S. A. group, of our sister Wisconsin State College at River Falls, has extended a special invitation to our Stout L. S. A. to be their guests on March 16. We would like to have a large delegation to go over for the Sunday evening meet, so make plans to attend what should be an especially eventful meeting. More details about the trip over and the program will be in next weeks Stoutonia.

WSF GROUP MEETS FOR SPAGHETTI SUPPER

At the Methodist Church morning worship service, March 2, fourteen Stout students were given Commitment cards signifying their desire to join the Methodist Church here in Menomonie. The students are uniting with the church in three different ways: 1. transfer of membership, 2. affiliation, and 3. confession of Faith.

Some of the students took part in the worship service and Rev. Reese gave a sermon on "Discipleship."

In the evening the Wesley Student Fellowship met.

Preceding the meeting, a supper of spaghetti and meat balls, muffins, carrot and celery sticks, chocolate cake, jello, and milk was served by Ellen Russell and her committee.

Ruth Feldt's committee presented the Worship Service built around the theme "My Life Work." Rev. Reese continued the Bible study and also led the group in a discussion of Courtship.

The meeting ended with the Friendship Circle.

Shapely shopper: "Do you have any notions on this floor?"

Floorwalker: "Yes, but we suppress them during working hours."

BLUE DEVILS DROP CLOSE GAME 66-65

In the final game of the season the Blue Devils almost turned in the upset of the year in Wisconsin State College Conference play as they missed by 9 seconds of defeating Superior State College. The final score read Superior 66, Stout 65.

It was a nip and tuck ball game all the way thru with neither team ever showing a decided advantage in the score. The biggest lead of the game was held by the Blue Devils at the end of the third quarter, 6 points.

The Blue Devil five, composed of three freshmen, a junior, and one senior, finally jelled on the last appearance to thrill the student bodies of both Stout and Superior with some good basketball.

The Blue Devils started like the game against River Falls as they led from the opening whistle for most of the first half. The score at the end of the first quarter was 22 to 20, Stout.

In the second quarter Superior pulled ahead on a basket and free throw by Dix Walker and then the lead changed hands every time the ball swished thru the cords. Eight times to be exact. Possession play by the Yellow Jackets at bay dulled their attack.

The free throws of both teams were practically even. Stout made 7 of 9 and Superior made 8 of 10.

RIFLE CLUB VICTORY STRING SNAPPED

The five match win string of the Stout Institute Rifle Club was snapped by the variety ROTC team of Coe College last weekend as Coe College defeated Stout 1880 to 1878.

The team totals show that Stout picked up 3 points in the prone position, dropped 6 points in the kneeling position, and regained 1 point in the standing position to fall just 8 points short of their sixth straight. Coe won the match from the kneeling position as four men shot 92's in this position and the other shot an 88 while Stout had a 92, a 91, two 90's, and an 88.

For Stout Rifle Club the scoring was well bunched with Stan Meyer leading the way with a 282; Glenn Voeltz followed with a 278; Ed Prahl with 274; Joe Lukenmeyer with 273; and Hugh Schmall rounded out the scoring with a 271.

P. Kosok and Rosenburg tied for high team honors for Coe College when each fired a 280. S. Kosok had a 278; J. Love fired a 274; and C. Coy completed the team scoring with a 268.

The Stout Institute Rifle Club has only one more match on the schedule. On March 15 they will fire a postal match against the variety rifle team of the University of Cincinnati.

Pending trophy from Madison, the team may enter the intercollegiate sectional championships in Madison on March 22.

The Blue Devils pulled ahead from a 33 to 36 halftime deficit to a 65 to 49 lead in the third quarter as Bill Kieffer tossed in 5 baskets and passed off to teammate Bob Moe for 2 more. They also made 6 of 8 free throw attempts.

In the fourth quarter the Yellow Jackets came alive with four buckets by forward Jim Whittier and three by guard Don Polglase to catch the Blue Devils just at the wire when Don Polglase dropped in a basket with 9 seconds on the clock to give Superior the lead 66 to 65.

V. A. REPORTING—

NEW RELEASES BY
THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Payments to veterans for benefits administered by the Veterans Administration are tax-free and need not be considered in computing Federal tax. J. P. Cullen, Manager of VA Regional Office, reminded veterans today.

Also, Cullen added, dividends which veterans have received on their GI insurance policies are exempt from taxation, and need not be reported.

Among the tax-exempt V.A. payments are the following:

Subsistence allowances for veterans training in schools, on farms and on the job under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 (for the disabled).

Payments by VA to be applied to veterans' GI loans. Under the GI Bill, VA pays the lender an amount equivalent to four percent of the guaranteed portion of the loan, which is credited to the veterans' account.

Disability compensation and pensions paid to veterans for both service and non-service-connected disabilities.

Grants for seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for wheelchair living.

World War I emergency officers' retirement pay.

Death benefits to families of deceased veterans are also exempt from taxation, VA said. These include compensation, pension and all GI insurance payments.

EAU CLAIRE DOWNS STOUT FIVE 73-52

Last Friday night the Blue Devils absorbed their 10th conference loss as against only one victory on the court of the Blue Devils of Eau Claire by a rather overwhelming margin of 73 to 52.

Stout opened the scoring on a basket by Erickson for their only lead of the game, 2-0. Eau Claire came back to assume a lead of 13 to 7 in a slow ragged quarter to open the game.

Neither team was too effective from the field as only Stan Dufrene of Eau Claire could find the basket. He tossed in 5 baskets and a free throw to lead the Blue Devils to a comfortable 34 to 19 half-time score.

In the third quarter the Stout hopes began to rise as the Blue Devils made as many points in the third quarter as they did in the entire first half. Bill Kieffer led the assault with 3 baskets and a free throw. Stout closed the gap to 37 to 30 before center Jim Bos finally scored in for 5 baskets and 4 free throws in the third quarter alone.

Score by quarters:

Stout:	7	12	16	15	52

G. TOBIAS AUTHORS NEW RECORD BOOK

A project started in printing composition is paying off for Glen Tobias. The project is "The Tobias Basketball Shooting Chart Book." Glen, a transfer from River Falls, designed the book as a class project. When he showed it to several coaches they liked the charts and encouraged him to publish it. He had it copyrighted and published by the "Spring Valley Sun." It is now being sold by Tasker, Henderson, and Van Anten Company which works out of DeKoven, Iowa, covering sixteen central states. Lowe and Kampbell Company have also shown interest.

The shooting charts in the book enable the coach to chart detailed progress of the game. At any moment he has available information on where his team is shooting from, their percentage of hits and misses, and other vital statistics.

DR. ESTHER MCGINNIS FAMILY LIFE WORKSHOP IN SESSION HERE

Dr. Esther McGinnis, field worker in family life education of the American Home Economics Association, of Washington, D.C. is the director of the two day workshop in family life education being held here yesterday and today.

"This workshop is the first in a series to be sponsored by the Division of Home Economics" announced Dean Alice J. Kirk. This service is being provided without expense to colleges and universities in Wisconsin and Minnesota and invitations for the conference have been extended to all those institutions of higher education in which there are home economics departments.

This workshop has been planned to assist young people who are asking for help. They wish to know how to meet crowded housing conditions and how to make a stationary income stretch for the essentials of family life in an inflationary period.

The program for this afternoon is: 1:30-2:30 - General Session 2:45-4:30 - Summary of special interest, Evaluation of workshop, Plans for the future.

NEW BULLETIN ABOUT STOUT COMPLETED

"Answers to Questions Frequently Asked About The Stout Institute" is the title of a bulletin which has just been completed. This publication is designed to give basic information in the briefest possible way to prospective students. It answers the nineteen questions which are asked most frequently about our college.

A great deal of occupational information is included in some of the answers. For instance, in the President's letter to students on page one the imbalance which frequently exists between teacher supply and demand is described. As critical shortages exist in most of the areas for which Stout prepares candidates, an appeal is made to strong students for entry into these fields. For those who must plan to enter the Armed Forces in the reasonably near future the answer to this question may be of interest: "What Value Does Training at Stout Have in Military Positions?" The bulletin states:

"The Stout Institute graduates have played a vital part in the technical program of the Armed Forces. For instance, at one time during World War II more than 75 Stout alumni were serving as instructors at Chanute Field, Illinois. Other defense positions frequently occupied by Stout men include training responsibilities in war production plants; supervisory assignments, including instructor training; and curriculum specialists for training programs. The present military preparedness program is intensifying the demand for Stout men."

Copies of the new bulletin are being sent to all high schools in Wisconsin and Minnesota, as well as selected high schools in other states. Alumni are also receiving them. Friends and alumni of Stout are urged to request additional copies of this bulletin for distribution to prospective students.

NEW CHARGING SYSTEM SET UP FOR LIBRARY

Beginning Monday, March 17, a new charging system will be used in the library. The patron will sign his name on the book card, which will be filed by call number. There will be no file by the date the book is due. A pink call slip will not have to be filled out if a student gets a book for himself. Slips must be made out for books to be obtained by the library staff.

Pink call slips for magazines to be collected will be necessary. The record for the library file will be made out on a salmon card when the magazine is issued.

In order to renew a book, the patron must bring it to the library or have the call number of the book.

The overdue list will be posted without checking the stacks to see whether the book is in. If anyone sees his name on the overdue list and thinks he has returned the book, he is urged to stop in the library to check on it.

Faculty books will be charged as before, with both a pink call slip to be filed by name and a book card.

CHEM III TRAVELS TO CITIES COKE PLANT

Recently a group from the Chemistry III Class, and a few others, together with Miss McCalmont journeyed to Kopper's Coke Plant in St. Paul where metallurgical coke is prepared for use in industry. The group arrived at 9:30 a.m. and stayed till 12:00.

The manager of the plant gave a brief outline of what they would see before they started out. This helped them to understand better the things they saw. While there the group saw two coke ovens unloaded into a track car. The coke was red hot when unloaded; the car was then run down the track and sprayed with water to cool it. Then the coke was graded.

Some of the products of this plant are benzene, toluene, and ammonia gas. The ammonia gas is purified and then sold or turned back to be used for fuel in the coke ovens.

Other field trips are being planned for the future.

GEORGE JASON

FAMOUS STAR TO BE PRESENT AT CONVO

Mr. George Jason, actor, pianist, and magician, will be featured at convocation Wednesday, March 19, at 10 a.m.

Mr. Jason comes with excellent reviews from Universities and clubs throughout the United States.

He was born in Tiflis, capital of the Republic of Georgia in the Caucasus of Russia. When he was in high school, some magicians from the Orient taught him magic. He also took lessons at the piano at a very early age. He left Tiflis in 1921.

As a television star, Mr. Jason makes frequent appearances on NBC, CBS, and GE at Schenectady. He is a star of stage, screen and radio. He is a comedian who uses magic as a vehicle for his humor besides being a concert pianist.

MR. J. KUBIAK HERE TWO DAYS THIS WEEK

Mr. John Kubiak, Supervisor of Occupational Information and Guidance, was here Wednesday and Thursday for 2 full days. He is from the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education and comes three times each year. He checked experience and training records to determine eligibility for vocational certification.

Wednesday morning he gave a vocational major exam. Wednesday afternoon he participated in a conference to make plans for next year's guidance conference. He had some individual conferences with students on Wednesday and all day on Thursday.

MARY DETLOR AWARDED TRIP TO WASHINGTON

It was announced during National 4-H Club week by Dr. Robert C. Clark, State 4-H Leader in Madison, that Miss Mary Detlor, a sophomore at The Stout Institute, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Detlor of Plainfield, had been selected to attend the National 4-H Club Camp held in Washington, D.C.

Mary will leave Wisconsin early in June with three other state representatives on the Corn Belt Special, a tour bus which will take all the winning 4-H club delegates from Iowa, Minnesota, and other Middle Western states to the national capitol. Enroute they will visit places of outstanding historical significance, and stop in Canada. While in Washington, they will tour the federal buildings, have an interview with President Truman, and spend a day at the U.S. Department of Agriculture farm in Maryland. On their return trip the group will visit the battlefields of Gettysburg.

Last month Mary was selected as outstanding 4-H Achievement Girl in Wisconsin for 1951. This is her tenth year in 4-H Club work and during this time she has completed 40 project years in the areas of home economics and agriculture.

SENATOR ROBERT TAFT HERE WED. MARCH 19

Classes will be excused at 9:20 a.m. next Wednesday, March 19, to give Stout students the opportunity to hear presidential candidate, Senator Robert Taft speak at 9:30 a.m. in the Stout auditorium. The regularly scheduled convocation will be held at 10:00.

ELECT DUTHLER, LUY, STEPHENSON, AND ROSSMILLER

409 Students Cast Votes
In S-S-A Elections
Thursday. 61%

RICHARD DUTHLER

Dick Duthler, Jack Luy, Ann Rossmiller, and George Stephenson were elected to the positions of SSA officers in yesterday's elections. There being no contests for the office of president and vice president, attention was centered on the competition for secretary and treasurer with three candidates for each of these offices.

A total of 409 students voted in yesterday's elections—61%. This is regarded as a good turnout for this election with only 65% voting in last year's elections.

The usual hard fought race for the offices of President and Vice president was missing entirely with only one candidate running for each position. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer took on added importance as the students spent time and energy in support of their favorite candidates.

Dick Duthler, Jack Luy, George Stephenson, and Ann Rossmiller will form the administrative body of the Stout Student Association. They will begin their duties starting the fourth quarter.

TAINTER ANNEX TO HOLD GALA PARTY

The girls at Tainter Annex have planned a Dorm Party for Saturday, March 15. They are inviting their favorite fellows to the affair and plan to entertain them royally. Refreshments will be served too; after all, isn't the way to a man's heart through his stomach?

PHI U CANDY SALE IS HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

The members of the Phi Upsilon Omicron honorary fraternity, reported that their candy sale held Monday, March 10, was very successful. An unusually large variety of candy consisting of such kinds as dreambars, fudgebars, date rolls, apricot-orange balls, chocolate covered marshmallows, peanut brittle, sea foam, and chocolate fudge was sold.

Beverly Hedlund was chairman of the sale, and Joan Mithy worked with her as co-chairman.

Dick has been active in his 3 years here at Stout. As president of SSA he will have ample opportunity to use his experience in working with fellow students and faculty. His job will not be an easy one, but with the help and co-operation of the students, the year of 1952-1953 may prove to be a very successful one for Stout.

Jack's qualifications need not be listed here, but as vice president, he will need to draw on the very qualifications that gave him this office. He will be an important member of the team working for the betterment of The Stout Institute, and he with the rest of the officers will need our support.

Ann, a junior from Burlington, Wis., is well qualified for the job of secretary being secretary for the state home economics association this year.

ANN ROSSMILLER

She is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Pallas Athene Sorority, SSS, and the Home Economics club.

George, a junior from Galesburg, Ill., is very active in school activities, being a member of Sigma Tau Gamma, E.P.T., M.A.P. and Alpha Phi Omega. He is secretary-treasurer of E.P.T.

GEORGE STEPHENSON

DOCTOR AND AUTHOR IS STUDENT HERE

One of the busiest people on our campus is Dr. Hilario Nudas. Outside of attending classes eight hours a day and lecturing from time to time, Dr. Nudas is busy writing a book.

Vocational Education is a relatively new subject to the curriculum in the Philippines and up to this time they have not had a text book for this course. The Bureau of Public and Private Schools asked Dr. Nudas to write a text book that could be used in the normal schools. The book, Fundamentals of Vocational Education for Philippine Students is now in the process of being approved by the bureau and will be published shortly by the McGraw Company.

Dr. Nudas has written two other books. The New Philippine Teacher, which is used by all teachers and students in normal courses, and The Standard Project Planning which is used by students in Vocational Education.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

In the past few weeks a poll was taken to determine the interest the students have in the one force that gives them a hand in the governing of the school. The results were both shameful and disgusting. Not only do we not have an interest in putting students up for the various offices of the Stout Student Association, the majority of students do not even know who is running or what the qualifications are those who are candidates. Many do not even care.

Of 85 students asked the question, "Who is running for school governing offices?" only eight could name all of them, 45 some of them, and 33 none. Many of those asked were the supposed leaders in the school. Despite this, almost everyday there can be heard a comment on why the students don't have more control over activities. Words never did anything when then were not backed up by some force. Let us all get behind our student association, find out what it is all about and help make something better of our school and ourselves. We can never get anything out of a situation unless we put something into it.

SSA MESSAGE

The old SSA officers should like to take this opportunity to congratulate the new officers and wish them all possible success and best wishes. We know they will do a good job.

We should also like to thank you people who put us into office last year. The things we have learned this year should prove invaluable in the future. We certainly appreciate the opportunities which we have had and are sure that the new officers shall use them to better advantage than we have.

The new officers take office the fourth quarter. For the rest of the year we shall act as advisors. We hope we can be of help to the new officers and make their orientation easier wherever we can.

Thanks again for a splendid opportunity and learning situation.

Your retiring officers,
Charlie, John, Rowena, & Louie.

PRACTICE CLASS IS HOST AT TEA PARTY

Every semester seniors take a deep breath and plunge into student teaching. With this course they gain new experiences and a definite challenge.

Pat Allard and Gerda Ravenholt chose foods for special occasions for their first unit in their 11th grade class. They tried to draw into the course practical experience which would prove helpful and interesting to their students.

Capitalizing on the necessity for after game functions, they opened the unit with the preparation of after game snacks. Each kitchen prepared a different dish: sandwiches; corn chowder; or tuna casseroles. The girls then gathered in the living center much as any group of teenagers would gather in someone's living room after a game.

The learning processes gained here paved the way for teas. In addition to the actual cooking involved, Pat and Gerda conducted discussions on proper etiquette and invitations. The girls invited three classmates and Miss Elliott, supervising teacher, to the living center for this function. Here they served them a punch composed of strawberry, ginger ale and ice cream.

The last special occasion was a buffet with a Chinese motif. The menu consisted of jello molded salad, chow mein, rolls, lemon fluff and coffee. This meal gave the girls the experience of an informal dinner party. A Chinese boy and girl as the centerpiece, and chop sticks, and bamboo place mats were in harmony with the Chinese theme.

SEVEN NEW MEMBERS ADMITTED TO TRI SIGS

The Philomathean Sorority held an informal pledging of its members in to the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority on Monday, March 3, in the Harvey Memorial. Miss Jeanne Diefenbach, the advisor for the Sorority, and Miss Marjory Elliott, a Tri Sigma member, pinned each girl with the purple and colors of the Tri Sigmas. The pinning was followed by talks by Miss Diefenbach and Miss Elliott and the singing of Tri Sigma Songs.

Seven new members were also taken in the Sorority at this time. They are Catherine Magee, Marguerite Nisen, Janet Peter, Janice Prahl, Margaret Ramsey, Bonnie Retzlaff, and Janice Wurtz.

Hi Kids

Well, the Philo Dinner Dance was the biggest Stout event last week end, followed by the KFS record dance which came up rather unexpectedly.

Some of the couples at the dinner dance were Phyl Allman and Gay Boyer, Carolyn Schauf and Bob Wong, Rita Hack and Gale Woolffer, Muriel Boffers and John Jacobson, Mary Klaus and Claude Klein, Phyllis Amacher and Stu Smith, and Mary Lou Bohrnstedt and Ralph Hetzel.

Catherine Magee was a happy girl this week end when Bob Morris came from Michigan to attend the dinner dance with her. We haven't seen him since Homecoming last fall.

Nancy Hauser is another Stout girl who just became engaged. She received a diamond from Dick Sorenson after the dinner dance last Saturday. Congratulations both of you. We hear the jewelers gave Dick a ring two sizes smaller than he ordered. Things are straight now though.

Mary Lou Bohrnstedt was also a happy one Sunday when Dave Randall, a former Stout student, was here.

We saw Mary Ann Heimerman with Howard Vetter Friday night after the movie. This is a swell couple.

Alice Kelly was out with Jim Seitz Saturday night. We also saw Dennis Brooks and Ann Sipple Saturday evening.

It might be well to keep track of these new affairs.

We'll be seeing you this week end.

WHERE'S THE IRISH?

March 17th is the anniversary of saint of Ireland, in the year 493 A.D. the death of Saint Patrick, the patron. The day is celebrated by parades, musical and social events, and balls. On St. Patrick's Day everyone makes it a point to wear something green.

Saint Patrick converted many Irish people to the Christian faith. He built churches and organized parishes for them. His good work was resented by Druids of a heathen faith. They took him captive twelve different times and even sentenced him to death. He always escaped from them.

Don't forget now, Monday is the day for green; green shirts, green sweaters, green scarves, green socks, green ties, or what-have-you that is green.

STOUT ISA TO TRAVEL TO RIVER FALLS

This Sunday night several cars will leave Stout at 4:00 in the afternoon to bring an evening of entertainment to the River Falls ISA. We have charge of worship, recreation, program, and singing. They are looking forward to this deputation so let's have a big turnout. Sign in the HE corridor by 4:00 Friday afternoon, March 14, if you wish to go. We will leave from the Union.

THE OPERATOR'S CORNER

A shoulder strap is a piece of ribbon that keeps an attraction from becoming a sensation.

Sorority girls most-pleasing
Will soon start wheezing and sneezing,
Cold weather is rough
They're finding it tough
To show off their pins without freezing.

We have word that the department of buildings and grounds now includes a pre-med school. Only last week they removed an organ from the Student Union.

When he discovered what a drip he really was, it was too late to call a plumber.

Many men seem to keep that schoolgirl complexion on their shirt collars.

A visitor at the asylum saw a man sitting at a desk writing. Wishing to be friendly he remarked, "What are you doing?"
"Writing," replied the inmate without looking up.
"To whom are you writing?"
"To myself."
"Writing to yourself?" said the visitor, smiling. Well, what are you telling yourself?"
The inmate looked up with an annoyed air, and exclaimed, "How do I know? I won't get the letter until tomorrow."

One good way to have a clean mind is to change it occasionally.

Two noises that always make a man's head turn: the rattle of money and the rustle of a petticoat.

The aged mourner slowly limped to the bier and for a long time stood there staring at the face of his departed friend. The funeral director approached him.
"How old are you, sir?" he asked.
"I'm 98," came the whispered reply.
Holding him by the arm the funeral director said, "Hardly worth going home, is it?"

Old age is the period when men pay more attention to their food than they do to the waitress.

A wealthy and extremely popular bachelor decided to reform and mend his ways.
The first day he cut out cigars.
The second day he cut out liquor.
The third day he cut out dates with women.
And the fourth day he cut out paper dolls.

Now I lay me down to sleep,
The subject's dry, the subject's deep,
If he should end before I wake,
Give me a poke, for goodness' sake.

In the good old days, a man could be down to his last buck and still know where his next 3 meals were coming from.

DIETETICS CLUB PLANS TRIP TO TWIN CITIES

The Dietetics Club is planning a trip to the cities this Sunday, March 16. They will stop at the St. Paul Hotel at 6:00 p.m. for the Smorgasbord dinner. This will be the annual senior dinner honoring the graduating members of the club.

In the afternoon the group plans to attend the Sunday Matinee of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. This ballet company is one of the best and its appearance in the cities is a "once a year" event.

The Dietetics Club is looking forward to this trip; it should prove to be a very exciting week end.

At their last Monday evening meeting the club held a business session and initiation. New members who have joined Dietetics Club include Ardith Garrison, Ann Ritzinger, Joyce Callen, Elinor Lehmann, Iris Ruf, Jeanette Oetting, Jo Hosford, Mary Ann Heimerman, Elaine Hansen, Roberta Harris, Marilyn Eckstein, and Grace Laudon.

DISCUSS "PROBLEMS OF MARRIAGE" AT WESLEY

"Problems of Marriage" was the topic which Rev. Reece discussed at Wesley Student Fellowship Sunday, March 9.

The supper was served by Betty O'Connor's committee. The menu was baked potato, creamed chipped beef, cole slaw, baked apple and milk.

"Do you think of God?" was the theme of the worship service, conducted by Ellen Russell's committee.

The group had fellowship singing and the meeting ended in the friendship circle and singing of "Blest Be the Tie."

Next Sunday, March 16 there will be a St. Patrick's Party. Everyone is invited to come and have Fun-Food-Fellowship at Wesley.

LSA OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN AT MEETING

LSA elected officers for the next year at the annual election meeting. Ray Burkhalter is the new president; John Christianson, vice-president; Carol Koch, secretary; Jerry Sommers, treasurer; Rose Deuber, missions secretary; Dufer Peters, study and witness secretary. A movie called "South of the Clouds" was then viewed by the group. It concerned a Christian women's college in the Tigre-Euphrates valley and two girls who attended this college. The meeting was closed with a worship service led by Ray Burkhalter and the friendship circle.

SIX PLEDGES SELECTED BY ETA SIGMA OMEGA

On Thursday evening, March 6, at 7:30 the girls of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority met at the Trisko residence, where Katie Ziehm rooms, for an informal pledging party.

This semester the sorority has six pledges who are as follows: Mary Betzel, from Prescott; Lois Bredlow, from Watertown; Joan Fairweather, from Milwaukee; Phyllis Horning, from Maiden Rock; Colleen Mitchell, from Cadott; and Phyllis Schlotfeldt, from Wisconsin Rapids.

After the pledging ceremony, each pledge was given a pledge pin to wear for two weeks. The pledges were also given a list of duties which they must follow for the two week period.

The regular business meeting followed.

Katie Ziehm, Betty Kleist, and Lis Kasson prepared the refreshments which consisted of barbecues, dill pickles, and coca cola.

After lunching the girls sang from their sorority songbook.

You can't enjoy the cream of life if you bottle up the milk of human kindness.

Ardis Manderscheid, a junior at Stout, is shown in the crafts laboratory working with the clay in the ceramics unit.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER IN '49 GIVES VIEWS

It seems strange when I think of it but I came to Stout just because of a chance remark of a friend. She said the school specialized in home economics so I decided to send for a catalog. I came from a small high school so I thought a small college would be more like what I was accustomed to. I also thought that in a small school the students received more individual attention. Menomonie is in an entirely different section of the state so I thought this would provide a new experience.

I read about the alumni scholarship in the catalog and decided to apply for it. I was very surprised to receive one of the scholarships. I cannot express fully my sincere appreciation for the scholarship.

Time has gone so fast since I've been here. It seems like just last September I started instead of nearly three years ago. I like the friendly attitude of the students. Being a small school the classes are mostly in one building so there is no mad dash to reach a class on the other end of the the campus like there would be in a large school.

Yes, I'm glad I came to Stout. The knowledge and experience I have gained are invaluable. I still marvel that such a chance remark influenced my life so much.

BOY! DO WE HAVE MARCH TROUBLES

The place is Menomonie, the time tomorrow, Saturday, March 15. A Stout skier wakes up with a start, rushes out of the house only to slip on the icy walk, gets into his car which won't start, and then finally arrives at school only to find that the ski trip has been cancelled.

These incidents did not just happen; they were planned by some evil force. It all started out way back in ancient times when Caesar met a bitter end at the hands of his friend Brutus. Since then of all the days of trouble the Ides of March have become worse. It can hardly be compared to Halloween when witches ride and goblins are out, for on this day unseen spirits roam the world to plague it with accidents which are credited by the unsuspecting public to fate or chance.

Besides being the deadline for income tax payments, this year the Stout faculty is doing its part by scheduling mid-term exams so that their poor students will have to spend an otherwise leisurely Saturday cracking the books.

For anyone who cannot afford to buy a fur coat the U.S. Treasury Department has thought up a way to get rid of the rest of their money. Many a man and woman will be making out income tax reports and signing checks before the mysterious hour of midnight arrives.

Be careful when you step, the day is approaching. "Beware of the Ides of March." "Et tu Brute?"

PHILOS TURN IRISH FOR DINNER DANCE

Twenty-eight couples in gay, swishing gowns, dress suits, and bow ties attended the annual spring Philo dinner dance which was held March 8 at the Marion Hotel. Place cards, dance programs, and other decorations were centered around the St. Patrick's Day theme of green and white. Dancing to the strains of Bobby Bryan and his orchestra followed the dinner which consisted of steak with all the trimmings.

Special guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Barnard, Miss Marjory Elliot, and Miss Jeanne Diefenbach.

HYPES TO OBSERVE FOUNDERS DAY

On Wednesday, March 19, the Eta Sigma Sorority will observe the twenty-ninth anniversary of their founding.

The sorority members may be distinguished on that day because they will be wearing dark dresses and a yellow rose, the Eta Sigma Omega flower.

A dinner in the evening in the evening will climax the commemoration of their Founders Day.

DELTA KAPPA INSTALLS TEN NEW MEMBERS

For the past week ten men have roamed the campus wearing the traditional red fez and sash which marks them as pledges to the Sigma Chapter of Delta Kappa. They are: Clarence Lamers, Kaukauna, Wis.; William Van Valsah, Racine, Wis.; Paul Wegman, St. Louis, Mo.; James Kichefski, Rhinelander, Wis.; Gary Grainger, Reeseville, Wis.; Darrel Radle, Arkansas, Wis.; Donald Hogan, Clintonville, Wis.; DeWayne Nevin, Cumberland, Wis.; Gerald Quilling, Menomonie, Wis.; and Richard Stutz, Ft. Atkinson, Wis.

Hell week for these men terminated on Thursday evening with a very tasty turkey dinner at the Anchor Cafe. Immediately following the dinner the formal initiation took place followed by a short business meeting. Plans are underway for the informal initiation which will be held a little later in the Spring.

NEWS NIBS GIVES VIEWS ON VANDALISM

The following article is taken from Wednesday's issue of the Dunn County News. It appeared in the weekly column "News Nibs." We thank the writer of the column for his interest in this matter.

The editor

Who busted the stone bench on the Stout campus, we touched on last week, is still a deep, dark, unsolved secret. Perhaps it will always be that. We doubt that you have lost a wink of sleep over it—it could be you didn't even read News Nibs' little thrust on it in the last issue.

That was a sort of what is called an eleventh hour effort—just getting in before the deadline, so we couldn't say much for lack of time.

But we've been thinking a good deal about that inexcusable wrecking that, it is believed, was done between two days. Yes, if you will, under cover of night, the favored time for most misdeeds.

While you may not have been losing any sleep over this incident, we are wondering if maybe the "still small voice" isn't pecking away at the conscience of the person or persons, who went on this wrecking job with a strong back and a weak mind.

For it certainly couldn't have been child's play. That slab of stone is heavy and fairly well anchored to the uprights on which it rested. Yet it was torn from its mooring by someone who dotes on destruction. Now, after all, isn't that a cheerful way to go through life—always bent on wrecking!

Perhaps News Nibs is unduly disturbed over this breaking of the stone bench. It might easily be passed up as a matter of minor concern and not worth all these words that might be termed "sob stuff."

But, you may not know it—there's a lot of sentiment saturating this stone. It was a gift of the class of 1950 to its alma mater. Now, the class of 1950 may be no better than any other class that finishes at Stout. But its members thought well enough of their school to leave what they thought might be a lasting memorial, as a token of their appreciation of their college days and what they meant to fit them for a life of service.

But it was not to last on its mission as a memorial. Along comes the wrecker. In the short drop to the ground this heavy stone is broken in three pieces—mute evidence of the disregard of someone who cannot be classed with the builders as he goes through life.

Now, of course, there are more stones in the quarry. But that's a poor excuse. Nothing can wipe out the insult to the memory of the class of 1950. That is beyond repair. We don't presume the members of the class of 1950 will shed big tears over this fate of their memorial. In firm faith, they may replace it, trusting that it might not happen again. News Nibs doesn't know the answer to that one. The class of '50, now scattered, must make that decision.

More could be written on this, for there is more that could be said about it. Before we wind up this yarn and

REMEMBER WHEN?

Remember When One Year Ago. . . . Student elections were held for SSA officers? Schiferl was voted to be our new SSA President; and John Christianson, Rowena Christen, and Lewis Lausted took the remaining student office posts?

Stout students left the campus for a week's Easter vacation.

The Junior Class chose "Dancing in The Dark" to be their prom theme?

The SCF presented the inspiring film "Reaching From Heaven" in the Stout auditorium?

The annual college fashion show was staged by the Stout department of clothing, textiles, and fashions?

BOYS HOME EC. CLASS VISITS CLOTHING STORE

Sixteen Menomonie high school senior boys enrolled in a boy's homemaking class, visited the St. Clair-Billehus clothing store Wednesday to apply their knowledge of the wise selection of men's clothing.

How should a suit fit? What style should I wear. How will I get the most for my money? These were some of the questions answered as the students examined and tried on a variety of the garments displayed. In their homemaking class, these boys have studied the effects of color and line on the individual and how to buy clothing wisely; soon they will study the proper care of their clothing—how to iron shirts, press trousers, remove stains, and make simple repairs.

The teachers of the class, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Lawrence Ryder, and the supervisor teacher, Miss Maragret Harper, accompanied the class in its excursion to the clothing store.

Previous to their study of clothing and grooming, the boys were busy planning, preparing and serving breakfasts and studying good nutrition.

toss the ball to you, let us tell you about a similar misdeed. When we look out of our window to the east entrance of the Home Ec. building, one large vase for flowers is missing. It shared the same fate as the stone bench on the campus.

Not being too well versed in motives of the mind, we might be permitted the suggestion that this could be a good problem for the psychology classes to decipher. They might come up with the right answer.

If they frown on this hint, the incident of the broken class memorial on the Stout campus could be destined to go down through the ages as a deep, dark secret—a mystery unsolved.

NEW LIGHTS INSTALLED IN OFFICES, LIBRARY

The old expression "Let's put some light on the subject," has certainly been applied at Stout during the past weeks. Have you noticed the new lights in the registrar's office, the business office, and, especially, in the library? We can bet the people working in those places really appreciate this addition.

CIVIC VOTING PROCEDURES CLARIFIED

Those students who have attained the age of 21, and who will be voting for the first time this year may not be familiar with the voting procedures they must go through. For this reason, the Stoutonia assigned a reporter to check with the City Clerk of Menomonie. The following situations may confront you:

1. A student of voting age whose family home is in Menomonie may register and vote here.
2. A student who considers himself a permanent resident here, both during and after his education, may, by so declaring to the city clerk, register and vote here.
3. A student who is temporarily here for educational purposes, but who has no other legal residence, either his own or his parent's may declare himself a resident here for voting purposes.
4. A student who is dependent to any degree upon his parents and who returns to the family home elsewhere in Wisconsin or other states during his college vacations is a legal resident of his home city and must vote there.

Point four pertains to most students at The Stout Institute, in-state or out-of-state, but further information will clear point four.

1. Students must register at home. If the town population is over 5,000, a permanent registration is required. A registration blank may be filled out at home almost anytime during the year with the city clerk. Note: Two weeks prior to any election registration is closed. The city clerk may mail a blank to an individual if the distance is far to great to be traveled.

2. Write for an absent voter's ballot prior to an election. When it is received, call on a Notary Public or Justice of the Peace or any county, city, village, or town clerk. Fill in the ballot in this person's presence and have it signed by him and notarized and mail it to the city clerk in your home town.

14 TO ATTEND UN CONFERENCE IN MADISON

Fourteen students signed up for the United Nations Conference which is being held at the University of Wisconsin on March 28, 29, 30, 1952.

The speakers of the conference this year will be: Mr. Henry Bloch of the department of Economic Affairs of the United Nations Secretariat, Mr. William Epstein of the Department of Security Council Affairs, and Governor Walter J. Kohler.

They plan to have foreign students from 53 countries represented on the respective delegations to provide first hand information. This is made possible since the University of Wisconsin has 53 countries represented on its campus.

The conference starts with registration from twelve to seven Friday and a keynote speech by Mr. Henry Bloch at 8:00 P.M. At ten, there will be a reception and meetings with foreign students Round Table Union. They will continue Saturday and Sunday with various meetings.

The students attending this conference are: Don Sargent, Willis Cappe, Bill Banks, Rubie Larson, Jackie Kling, Jeanette Smith, Colleen Mitchell, Jacqueline Frisbie, Harold Woodworth, Edna Gaffron, Mary Smith, Ann Rossmiller, Beverly Hedlund, and Hugh Schmahl.

CARPENTRY, PHYSICS III BOYS TAKE FIELD TRIP

On March 14, the Carpentry and Physics III classes went on a field trip to the Forest Products Laboratory at Madison. The students were brought nearer to the related information pertaining to their courses. Several tests were being conducted on materials used by the armed forces, and special tests, such as tensile, impact, compression, repetitive, and bending were demonstrated on various machines.

FAMILY CONCERT IS WELL LIKED HERE

If student applause is a gauge of the success of a convocation, it can safely be assumed that the program presented by the Dungill Family Wednesday morning is one of the outstanding convocations given during the past two years.

Encore after encore was demanded and fulfilled by the eight members of this family which is so musically inclined. The parents with their six children, two boys and four girls, presented a wide variety of selections which included "Hawaiian War Chant," "Tico Tico," "Summertime," "The Song of India," "Drums of Egypt," "By the Waters of Minnetonka," "Old Man River," and many others.

All these selections were presented either by the whole group or by different members of the group with a variety of presentations.

Instruments played by the group include trumpet, cornet, clarinet, piano, vibra harp, bass horn, drums, and castanets.

ROOM 204 HE NOW BEING RENOVATED

Work is now underway in room 204 to remodel the room into a combined textiles laboratory and clothing selection room. The room is being modernized. Scientific testing equipment, such as a fadometer and laundrometer, will be installed so that students will be able to do scientific testing of textile materials. Special clothing units are also planned to be installed in the room.

AUDIO-VISUAL DEPARTMENT AT WORK ON FILM

An instructional film is being produced in the audio-visual department by an advance audio-visual class under the direction of Mr. Barnard. This film is designed to be used in the teaching of simple block printing where students will be shown the steps in preparation and color printing of blocks. The film is in color and will be about ten minutes in length.

The script for the motion picture has been written by Mr. Barnard and Mr. Whydowski. Mr. Cornwell does the demonstrating throughout the film. The film was started during summer session this year, during which time approximately two-thirds of the pictures were taken. The complete shooting has just been finished recently. The rough editing is now being done, and a sound recording is planned to be made in April. The film should be ready for release by May. It is hoped the film can be marketed for use in art and printing classes in high schools.

This educational film is being prepared by the Production of Audio-Visual Materials class, an advanced class which some students are taking for graduate credit. Members of the class are Larry Bohn, Amond Balingier, Bill Wensel, and Ed McMahon. One of the projects for this class is motion picture productions which affords an opportunity for each to get experience in all phases of this work. A script is also being written for an Industrial Arts Education film which will parallel the HE film "Design Your Future." This film will be produced in the future.

INFIRMARY DOES RUSHING BUSINESS

The Stout Infirmary certainly has had its share of visitors in the last couple of weeks!

Bernie Gunderman was there for almost a week with the measles. Mary Peake and Marilyn Klumeyer both had a case of the mumps. Gerald Krall, Esther Rasmussen, and Diane Klemme were all suffering from bad colds. Delores Saucy had sinus trouble.

Let's all hope that we don't hear of any more illnesses from the infirmary for a while.

CONTEST OPENS FOR THEME FOR JUNIOR PROM

Hurry, hurry, ladies and gentlemen, rack your brains! It is once again that time when every student at Stout has the opportunity to do the school a service, to go down in history as one of the cleverest individuals of 1952, and instead of being expected to pay for the privilege, will receive absolutely free a ticket to the biggest dance of the school year, the Junior Prom.

Write a theme for this grandiloquent event; produce a glowingly descriptive phrase indicative of the gala atmosphere that will reign over this most important of Spring affairs, and drop your marvelously witty extravaganza in the box in front of the Library in the Home Economics Building corridor.

This contest will last from today, March 21st to one week from today, Friday, March 28th at 12:00 noon. Here is what you must do to win: 1—write a theme. This theme should be short, and easily adaptive to inexpensive decorations. 2—drop your theme entry into the box in the Home Ec. building corridor. Here is the form: My (our) name is: _____ My (our) suggestion for the theme of the Junior Prom is: _____ Suggestions for appropriate decorations: _____

The prom will be held on May third. A committee of Junior class members will judge the entries, choose the one most satisfactory, and announce the winning theme and its author in the Stoutonia two weeks from today. The award of a couple's ticket will be made as soon as possible after that time.

Committee chairmen for the Prom are, Bob Asman, general chairman, Milt Benner, decoration chairman, Mary Bohmstedt and Phil Amacher, publicity chairmen, and Jim Brown and Corky Collette, ticket and program chairmen.

EKO RECORDER IS ADDED TO FACILITIES

A new Eko tape Recorder has been added to the Visual Education Department of Stout Institute. The recorder was purchased for use in producing radio programs from the campus.

Purchase of a new recording machine was necessitated by the production of programs on campus for radio broadcast.

The new recorder has a 7 1/2 tape speed per second and is a single channel, which is the type used for the radio broadcast. It will be used primarily for these radio broadcasts and other places where it is needed. It may be used for preliminary sound recording in the production of films.

General classroom recording, speech play backs, student teacher needs and such will be taken care of by the Revere recorders. The Eko tape will be reserved for use where a better machine is needed.

SSA-KFS TO SPONSOR FREE RECORD DANCE

Stop. Don't put this paper down until you read this. This is what you have been waiting for. Get out your overalls and jeans and come to the free RECORD DANCE sponsored by the Kappa Phi, Sigma fraternity and the SSA tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Stout gymnasium.

The KFS and SSA realize that there isn't anything socially scheduled for this week-end and have decided that it is about time for a record dance. The SSA is going to supply refreshments and the KFS is going to supply the music. It is all free. You can play cards, dance, and come and go when you like. Give it a try. Show up for the BIG RECORD DANCE tomorrow night.

YWCA TO HAVE EVENT OF THE DAY APRIL 5

The annual YWCA Mother Daughter Banquet will be held on Saturday, April 5, at 5:15 at the Congregational church. Tickets, costing $1.35, will be on sale in the HE corridor on March 27 from 10 to 4.

Each year the YW sponsors this dinner to acquaint the mothers with each other, and to bring them in closer contact with The Stout Institute. The banquet is scheduled for April 5 so they will be able to attend the MAP play later in the evening.

STOUT SUMMER SESSION INFO IN FOLDER FORM

"Enjoy the Summer Session." This is the greeting on the front of the 1952 summer session stuffer. This is a four page folder used to create interest in The Stout Institute summer session.

A photograph of the Stout Tower viewed through a framework of trees is the main feature of the cover page of the folder. The inside gives a very brief summary of the courses offered by The Stout Institute by devoting a paragraph to each of the subjects, location, housing, program and facilities, graduate program, fees, and recreation. The back page is a blank which may be filled out and sent in to Dean Bowman for additional information.

The stuffers are mailed to any place where there might be someone interested in summer session. All principles, superintendents, guidance instructors, home economics and industrial arts departments of high schools receive these folders; they are enclosed in all correspondence from Stout that goes to any source of possible interest. The mailing list of last fall's guidance conference is also used to send out the invitations to summer session.

After looking over the folder, anyone who is interested may fill out the back page and send it in to Dean Bowman, Director of Summer Session. They will then receive a summer-session catalog containing an enrollment blank for their use.

MISS HINKLEY TELLS OF HER ENGAGEMENT

We are sure that anyone who has seen Miss Hinkley lately has noticed the beautiful ring on her third finger, left hand. The lucky man is Donald J. Loomis. They will be married at the end of May. She will teach summer school here before leaving for their home in Iowa.

Miss Hinkley would like to know who or what Amos Oswald is. A note was left on her bulletin board congratulating her with this name signed. The Stoutonia staff would like to join Amos in offering its congratulations.

APRIL FIRST IS FINAL DAY FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

April first is the last day for the filing of application for Alumni scholarships. The alumni are reminded that this is the last chance to contact those who are interested in applying for these scholarships.

DR. RUOY SIBLEY

ASTRONOMER TO LECTURE AT CONVO.

America's greatest adventure film-lecture, "The Universe of Palomar," a trip into boundless space through the world's largest telescope, will be presented by Dr. Ruoy Sibley at 10:00 March 26 in the auditorium.

Dr. Sibley's experience as a public lecturer extends over a period of more than 40 years. During the past 18 years he has directed his efforts particularly to the interpretation of Astronomy for general audiences. His scientific career has included the study of Geology as well as Astronomy.

"The Universe of Palomar" is something entirely different and unusual in the film-lecture field. It will give the audience the first glimpse of what can actually be seen through the "Big Eye" of Palomar. It opens the very depths of space and time.

The tremendous undertaking in making this film is reflected in the fact that Dr. Sibley, for one particular sequence, had to check over 40,000 slides made by scientists across 22 years. It took his five months of research to piece together, in this instance, just a few minutes of film in order that it would be absolutely perfect from the presentation standpoint.

Audiences will visit through this film the major observatories of Lowell, Mount Wilson, and Yerkes, as well as Mount Palomar. They will see the first great close-ups of Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, the Sun, the Moon and galaxies of stars extending out a distance of five hundred million light years.

They also will witness an island universe two billion, five hundred million light years from the earth in one of the most spectacular sequences ever made.

"The Universe of Palomar" was made in cooperation with America's greatest observatories and the assistance of noted scientists.

Dr. Sibley's tour of this area was arranged by the University of Minnesota Concert and Lecture Service.

3 PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES SPEAK HERE

Stout students had a rare opportunity to partake in national politics during the past week when three candidates for presidential nomination were in Menomonie. Harold Stassen spoke at the Stout auditorium Thursday evening, March 13 at 8:30. More than 800 students and Menomonites crowded the auditorium to hear the first candidate to come to Menomonie this year.

Robert A. Taft, Ohio senator, appeared in the auditorium Wednesday, March 19, at 9:30 a.m. before a crowd of more than 1,000 persons including many high school students excused from classes to see and hear the senator.

Immediately following Senator Taft's speech, Senator Estes Kefauver appeared at the State theater before a similar crowd. Many students left the Stout auditorium immediately to be able to hear Senator Kefauver.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

In another part of this issue we have printed the procedure a student who has become 21 years old must go through in order to vote in this fall's presidential elections. This election may prove to be one of the most important in our country's history and it is our duty to use our vote wisely.

Follow the candidates and study their platforms before making your decision and casting your ballot. It is your privilege as a citizen of the United States to choose your leaders, so choose wisely.

We at Stout have had the opportunity to hear three avowed candidates for president. We have been much luckier than others in this respect, but we must not base our decision on just their appearance; study their beliefs—then cast your vote.

2 WISCONSIN CHAPTERS ADDED TO DELTA KAPPA

The past weekend saw the Delta Kappa Fraternity officially spread to two Wisconsin State College campuses. On Friday evening the Chi Delta Chapter was installed at Whitewater, and on Saturday the local Sigma Chapter had the distinct honor of installing a fine representation of Eta Phi chapter of Eau Claire. A five man delegation of the Sigma men: Earl Willmarth, Robert Braun, Ralph Hetzel, Daniel Gordon, and James Tomita, conducted the ceremony which was witnessed by the National President, National Vice-President, three members of Gamma Chapter of Oswego, New York, and the President of the new Chi Delta Chapter of Whitewater.

Sigma Chapter is very glad to welcome the two new Wisconsin chapters.

GOVERNING
BOARD NEWS

The Student Governing Board held their last meeting with the present officers of the SSA last Tuesday evening. Charles Schiferl thanked the Board for their fine cooperation throughout the year. In return the Board members thanked Charlie for his fine efforts and for the things that he has accomplished in his term of office.

Then the Board moved to the business at hand. The Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity asked the Board for permission to affiliate with the national fraternity of Phi Sigma Epsilon. The Board reviewed them and moved that the KFS fraternity be allowed to affiliate with the national fraternity of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

It was brought to the attention of the Board that the United Nations Conference is the 28, 29, and 30 of March and that fourteen signed up to attend this. The Board previously voted to pay transportation, lodging, and registration fees for three car loads.

There is an Inter-Religious Conference meeting being held at Wayland College in Beaver Dam, Wisconsin this week end. The Board discussed this and authorized $20 to enable the Stout Inter-Religious Council to attend this meeting at Beaver Dam.

The Board noted that there aren't any social events happening this week end. A discussion followed to see if anything could be done about this. It was moved, seconded, and carried that the SSA pay the cost of the janitors fees and refreshments contingent upon whether the KFS fraternity will take care of the music.

The writer would like to express at this time to the officers of the SSA and to all graduating members of the Student Governing Board his appreciation for the wonderful job they have done this past year.

LSA MEETING IS HELD WITH RIVER FALLS

Last Sunday evening, March 16, three car loads of Stout L.S.A. young people and advisors journeyed to our sister state college at River Falls. The Stout group presented the evenings entertainment and program and the River Falls L.S.A. group provided an enjoyable supper. Carol Koch was in charge of entertainment, Dufur Peters directed a discussion session and Ardy Olson lead the worship.

The joint meeting is the second of its kind to be held by L.S.A. groups during the past year. Due to the enthusiasm shown by the members from the different schools these meetings undoubtedly will become more numerous and eventful.

It is through meetings like this that better relations can be built up between our schools and that the L.S.A. groups can share ideas and grow to be more effective organizations.

An official who had occasion to write to member of the Chinese colony, mindful of the Oriental's appreciation of flowery language, and of his own duty to the cause of good public relations, ended his letter with the wish: "May heaven preserve you always."

To the delight of the official office staff, the chinaman responded with: "May heaven pickle you too."

A professor of English had a very pretty secretary. One day his wife, entering his study unexpectedly, discovered the secretary sitting on his knee.

"Eustache," she said, "I am surprised."

The professor turned around. "No, my dear," he said. "We are surprised; you are astonished."

He—Pardon me, but you look like Helen Green.

She—So what? I look worse in red.

A vivacious young Texan shocked her Boston-reared beau by drawing on her own gloves as they started down the street on their first date. "Where I come from," chided the young man, "people would as soon see a woman put on her stockings in public as her gloves."

"Where I come from," retorted the young lady, "They'd rather."

ANNEX PARTY IS DECIDED SUCCESS

The party the Annex girls held for their boy friends last Saturday night was a real success according to all reports. Card playing was a popular entertainment along with dancing.

All afternoon Saturday the girls worked with the decorations and the preparations for lunch. They also made paper carnations which were pinned on the fellows as they arrived.

The girls served a delicious lunch of sandwiches, ice cream, cake, and coke or coffee.

Everyone had a good time, proved by the fact that the party didn't break up until 12:30—dorm hours.

GAMMA DELTA ELECTS SLATE OF OFFICERS

Sunday evening, March 16, Gamma Delta organization of St. Paul's Lutheran Church held election of officers for the coming year. The new officers for the coming year are: David Gresch, president; Lois Meyers, vice-president; Avis Reschenberg, secretary and Rose Deuber, treasurer.

Tentative plans were made for attending a convention at Stevens Point State Teachers College on April 26th and 27th.

A Bible study and discussion was held at the meeting and a report on the past hayride was read to those present.

L S A TO VIEW FILM AT SUPPER MEETING

A full length movie titled "Bible On The Table" will be shown at L.S.A. this Sunday evening. This movie is on the theme of family devotion and will be followed by a discussion period.

The meeting will be held at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church and everybody is invited to come at 5:30 to enjoy an inexpensive supper.

WSF OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED AT MEETING

The regular meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship was held Sunday, March 16, at 5:30 o'clock.

A supper of chile, ham salad and peanut butter sandwiches, cookies and jello, and milk served by Eileen Haskins and her committee.

The worship service, "Ways to Use Prayer," was presented by Betty O'Connors' committee, followed by a continuation of the Bible studies series by Rev. Reece.

Jan Benedict led the group in a number of games which constituted the celebration of St. Patrick's Birthday.

The election of officers for the coming year will be held next week. We want everyone to attend this very important meeting so that you can choose the officers you want.

Come to Wesley next week!

WALTER ESTABROOK'S TELL OF BIRTH OF SON

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Estabrook announce the birth of a son, Richard Allan, on February 19. Mrs. Estabrook is the former Jane Seyforth, '42.

LOCAL GIRL WORKING IN ALUMNI OFFICE

Much of the actual work concerned with the details of the Alumni Association is done by our stenographer, Goldette Wold. Goldette, a Menomonie High School student, began work for us last spring. It is she who addresses the Stoutonia wrappers, conducts daily searches of the files for lost or changed addresses, and types your correspondence. She is the "gw" of the "RSS:gw" at the bottom of our correspondence.

Goldette is in her junior year at Menomonie High. She is majoring in commercial work and plans to work in an office after graduation. She is active in school affairs as a member of the newspaper's staff and as a salesman for the school annual. Goldette enjoys sports and likes to play the piano. At the moment she is sporting a smashed thumb but a speedy recovery is expected by all.

ALUMNI AWARD WINNER REPEATS MARRIAGE VOWS

Miss Donna Franken, 1946 Alumni Scholarship winner, was recently married to Mr. Ralph Yannutz of St. Louis, Missouri. Miss Franken was a staff dietician at St. Mary Hospital in St. Louis.

WILLIAM PETERSON IS AIR FORCE LIEUTENANT

William R. Peterson, B. S. 1947, of Stout basketball fame, is now a Lieutenant with the Air Force in Weisbaden, Germany. Mrs. Peterson and their two children are sailing this week to join Bill.

KFS-FOB GRUDGE GAME TO BE THRILLER

Would you believe it? Once again the stalwart members of the Kappa Phi Sigma and Phi Omega Beta fraternities will meet on the field of battle.

Ah! Ah! Don't be alarmed! The battle being referred to is that annual classic, the Grudge Game. The cage mentors of both fraternities trot out their old, unused, oftentimes moldy basketball talent and then the fun begins.

Any of the upperclassmen at Stout can vividly recall some of the previous Grudge Games and most of them will tell you that "Grudge" is hardly the word for it. When the blood, fur, and feathers begin to fly, the spectators begin to ask, "What next?"

For the answer to this pertinent question, plan on attending the 1952 Grudge Game at the Menomonie High School gymnasium on March 27. The game (using the term loosely) will begin at 8:00 and from then until the end, you will find yourself a spectator at some of the best entertainment of your college career.

Gossip is like muddy water. Let it pass and it'll settle in a hurry.

EGAD! SKI CLUB PRAYS FOR SNOW

Sunday, March 16, six members of the Ski Club spent the afternoon skiing at Deepwood. Since the warm weather had melted much of the snow on top of the hill, the skiing situation was not too good.

Before the skiing weather is gone for the year, the Ski Club members are planning on another trip to Telemark this Saturday, March 22. So, everyone, get out your skiing equipment and let's pray for more snow.

24 GIRLS PARTICIPATE IN BADMINTON TOURNAMENT

The final games of the WAA badminton tournament were held in the gym Monday evening, March 17. The championship game was won by Michiko Okado and Jane Shwald. Consolation honors went to Marys Larrabee and Doris Hell. Sports managers, Bernie Gundersen and Eileen Haskins, report that twenty-four girls received organized points for participating in this tournament. A great deal of enthusiasm was displayed throughout the entire activity.

Two sports have been organized for March and April. The first games were played Tuesday evening. Colleen Mitchell is directing the bowling activities and Winifred Waite is sports manager for archery.

DUFUR PETERS SURVIVES TWO HELL WEEKS

The strange looking person seen walking around during Hell week, the one that didn't seem to belong with any of the other pledges, was Dufur Peters. Dufur had a private Hell week as he pledged for two organizations at the same time.

He wore the traditional garb of the Sigma Tau Gamma, the helmet, sword and shield. Besides the Sig Tau outfit which pledges have found to be slightly inconvenient at times he wore a printers apron, funny paper hat, placard saying "I am an STS pledge," and one day he carried a line of type that spelled his name and a can of ink. All of the week he carried line gage, tweezers, and make up rule.

His list of duties was equally a long one. It included getting the signatures of each member of each organization. This was rather difficult particularly for STS, as he had to get the signatures on his placard which was to be free of finger marks or other soil at all times. He had gong duty twice one day. From Monday to Friday he did these things at one time or another; sentry duty, door guard duty, water duty in the cafeteria and cleaned up an especially arranged piece of type. He attended the box lunch in the cafeteria where they kept the diners entertained with their choral arrangements. Then they took faculty women to dinner one evening.

He attended one formal, two informal, and one informal informal initiation.

Previous years the Stout Typographical Society, a professional organization has held their Hell week one week later than the social fraternities but this year the fraternities moved their initiation ahead one week and Dufur was caught in the shift. He says that he probably has the time and place mixed up in this article but he knows he did the duties. Evidently the fellows believed he was capable of handling the situation for he was elected president of the Sig Tau pledges, in charge of keeping track of who had to do what, when, and how.

He was questioned everytime he turned around. If there wasn't an STS member firing them it was a Sig Tau.

V. A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASES BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

The 1952 dividend on National Service Life Insurance will not be available to eligible veterans in cash or for use as premium payments before the anniversary date of the policy in 1952, the Veterans Administration warned.

This point was stressed today by Charles G. Beck, Manager of the VA District Office, Fort Snelling, Minnesota, in reply to many inquiries from veteran policy-holders who were under the impression the dividend is already due and is being applied to their premium payments immediately because they did not request cash payment.

The VA announced recently that it will pay a regular dividend of $200,000,000 to approximately 5,000,000 policy holders whose policies were in force under premium-paying conditions for three months or longer between the 1951 and 1952 anniversary dates of their policies. Payments on policies with January anniversary dates are scheduled to be made in March.

Under Public Law 36, 82nd Congress, policy holders who wish to receive their 1952 dividend in cash must notify the VA on the special card recently mailed them. If cash payment is not requested, the dividend will be used by the VA to pay the premiums becoming due after the policy anniversary date on which the dividend is payable, if the policy holder fails to pay such premium.

In lieu of receiving the dividend in cash, any policy holder may request the VA in writing to apply his 1952 dividend as an advance payment on premiums falling due after the 1952 anniversary date of his policy.

Also, the NSLI Act of 1940 provides that on permanent type policies only, the policy holder may request the VA in writing to place the dividend on deposit at interest, with the aggregate to be included in the calculation of cash value at time of lapse or maturity.

NINE PLEDGES ADMITTED TO PHI OMEGA BETA

The FOB formal initiation was held Thursday, March 13 at the "Hide-a-way." The nine pledges who were sworn in for this semester are: Jim Toms, Herb Tamanaka, Joe Beland, Guy Shramm, Don Conaches, Lyle Schultz, Joe Stebly, Bob Popovich, and Milan Lolich.

OFFICERS FOR A P O ARE ELECTED AT MEETING

At a supper meeting held in the Tea Room on March 11, the members of Alpha Phi Omega elected their officers for the school year of 1952-53. Retiring president John Wilson conducted the meeting.

The new officers are: President, Robert Adkins; Vice-President, Bob Spinti; Treasurer, Robert Brunswick; Recording Secretary, Charles Weber; Sargent at Arms, William Buckley; Historian, Fred Kajihara; Corresponding Secretary, August Bell; Alumni Secretary, John Wilson.

KFS ADMITS SIX AT FORMAL INITIATION

Last night at the Hide-A-Way cafe, the members of the Kappa Phi Sigma staged their formal initiation. Following a delicious chicken dinner, six pledges were installed in a colorful ceremony.

President Howard Heigel officiated at the ritual that saw six pledges admitted to the fraternity. The new members of KFS are: Richard Bliss, Richard Brooks, Richard Kasel, Richard Jung, Alfred Ochs, and Chester Lange.

After the formal ceremony, the group sang songs over their coffee. The singing was highlighted by Ralph Betterley's rendition of "The Preacher and the Bear."

"I'm about all in," said the worm as the chicken took the last swallow."

ARTS AND CRAFTS WOK ON PRIZE PROJECTS

On Monday evening, March 17, The Stout Arts and Crafts Club held a brief business meeting followed by all the members adjourning to the General Mechanics Shop to work on the card party prize projects.

The door prize for this Third Annual All School Card Party arrived and was shown to the club by its keeper, Fred Bahr. The door prize is really six prizes in one as it is a set of six hand painted glasses. The glasses will be set in a special tray to be made by Carl Anderson and Jim Anderson, two qualified wood workers. These glasses are the work of a commercial artist from Milwaukee who conveniently happens to be Fred Bahr's cousin. The glasses are painted with various wild animal pictures that are very realistic.

MAP PRESENTS "MR. BARRY'S ETCHINGS"

"Mr. Barry's Etchings" will be presented on April 3, 4, and 5 by the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega under the direction of Mr. Norman Ziemann. "Mr. Barry's Etchings" is a carefree, fast moving, somewhat fantastic comedy.

The story centers around Judson Barry, an attractive and thoroughly human fellow. Mr. Barry is an artist and an enthusiastic etcher, simply as a pastime he has made a marvelous imitation of the U.S. $50. bill. Things really start popping when Susie takes on the "masterpieces."

The cast for Mr. Barry's Etchings" includes Jeanette Oetting as Susie, a young girl of thirteen or fourteen; Harriet Homer as Mrs. Taylor, motherly in her forties; Mary Lou Bohrnstedt as Evelyn Taylor, about nineteen and pretty; Charles Russell as Judson Barry, in his forties, attractive, athletic; Eugene Sawyer as Mary Pritchard, about 27, a young stuffed shirt; Olive Coe as Carrie Stanwick, an old maid busybody in her forties; Clarice Zarling as "Fifty Ferris", in her thirties, a vivacious, hard boiled blonde; Herb Pringle as "Sawbuck Sam", short and tough, about 35; Bev Hedlund as Mrs. Griswold, about 50, hard, firm, and sour faced; Robert Brunswick as Sam Jordan, ex G.I. about 30, Ernest Collette as Tom Crosby, good looking about 28; Maryann Smith as Daisy, dum-dora type, attractive; and Robert Asman as Kenneth Plunkett, short, fat, prosperous, not too bright.

Included in the production staff for "Mr. Barry's Etchings" are Norman C. Ziemann, producing director; Gloria Voight, assistant director; Robert Brunswick, stage manager; Richard Duthler, lighting technician; Avis Reschenberg, Nancy Hanshus, Verna Dunn, and Mary Betzel on properties; Janice Wurtz, Roberta Harris, and Dorothy Brownell on make-up; Mary Betzel, Jim Brown, Robert Spinti, Jolene Chryst, Ann Sipple, Miriam MacLachlan, Jacquelyn Kling, Elmer Lemke, and Carol Tickle on stage crew; Joyce DeVries and Donna Anderson on sound effects; James Brown, Elmer Lemke, and Miriam MacLachlan on publicity.

EASTER SMORGASBORD TO BE HELD THURSDAY

"Easter" will be featured as the theme of the Smorgasbord to be held on April 3 in the tearoom. The tables will be appropriately decorated with centerpieces of lavender tulips and yellow jonquils.

Foods, such as the traditional baked ham, colored egg salad in green jello nests, and fresh strawberry pie will be among the selections offered.

Students and faculty members are cordially invited to make their reservations early for this Smorgasbord, which is the last one of the year.

L. BOROSAGE LECTURER IN VOC. ED.

Lawrence Borosage, who began his teaching career at The Stout Institute and the public schools of Menomonie, Wisconsin, has been appointed Lecturer in Vocational Education in the Department of Vocational Education and Practical Arts of the School of Education of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Since 1945 Mr. Borosage has been Assistant Supervisor of Trade and Industrial Education Service for the State Department of Education in Ohio. During 1946-47 he also served as Supervisor of the Veterans Training in educational administration and supervision as industrial personnel and training. Besides his work experience in industry and agriculture he has done college and adult teaching.

Mr. Borosage received his early professional training at The Stout Institute from 1939-42. After that he attended Ohio State University where he received his B.S. degree in Industrial Education in 1945 and the M.A. degree in 1947 in Industrial Arts and Vocational Education.

SOUND AND COLOR MOVIE TO BE AT CONVO.

Is there any sound under the sea? This age old question has been answered once and for all in the film "Voice of the Deep". You can hear some of these sounds as well as see the marine creatures that make them.

This thirty minute sound and color film will be presented at convocation April 2. It is another film in a series produced by the Moody Institute of Science. One of the movies in this series, "Dust of Destiny", was shown for an assembly at Stout last year by the Stout Christian Fellowship.

The film reveals that fish have a definite language of their own plus many other interesting discoveries. Be sure to come and see this interesting and educational film.

MARY DETLOR PRES-ELECT HOME EC. CLUB

Mary Detlor was elected president elect of the Home Economics club at its meeting Monday evening, March 24, in the Stout cafeteria. Other officers chosen were Lois Bredlow, vice president, Ann Switzenberg, secretary, and Gloria Voight, treasurer. Nadine Brown who was this year's president elect, will be president of the club next year.

The retiring officers are Bev. Ryder, president; Kay McGee vice president; Katie Ziehm, secretary, and Dorothy Hilton, treasurer.

The Home Economics club has a unique election set-up in that the president elect is a member of the cabinet for a year before she takes the office of president. In this way she can take over smoothly and has a better idea of the functions of the cabinet.

Following the election Nadine Brown and Joan Fairweather, Stout delegates to the Province 7 workshop which was held at the Allerton Hotel in Chicago, gave a very detailed and interesting report of their experiences at the Workshop. They reported on the meetings and of the speakers. The theme for the Workshop was: "The heart of the world is in the home; the heart of the home is in the woman." This theme is very appropriate in these days of strife.

TOWER DEADLINE SET AT APRIL 1

The deadline for the 1952 Tower is drawing near. Hazel Nelson, the editor, said: "Tuesday, April 1, we are taking the remainder of the copy for the Tower to Grantsburg. The few remaining pictures are being sent to the engraver in the Cities. We hope that it will be ready for distribution the middle of May."

The Journal Publishing Company, owned by Mr. Darvey Carlsen, is publishing this year's Tower. Mr. Carlsen was on the staff at Stout until January 1949. Last summer he bought out two newspapers in Grantsburg and organized the Journal Publishing Company.

STUDENT GOVERNING DEADLINE TODAY

Who are your student governing board representatives? Today is the deadline for the selection of eight student representative candidates from each of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes. Monday the candidates will be notified and given forms to fill out. These will be handed in Tuesday. The governing board will narrow them down to four from each class Tuesday night. At a later date the student body will vote on two from each class.

400 TO STOP FOR EASTER VACATIONISTS

Word was received Wednesday that the 400 train will stop at the Junction for Stout students leaving for Easter vacation Friday, April 11 at 1:24 and will also stop in Menomonie April 20 at 8:03, to accommodate the students returning from vacation.

To facilitate the buying of tickets students must get their tickets before April 11 at the local depot. This is to avoid the rush which usually ensues at the Junction depot.

ARTS & CRAFTS CARD PARTY SATURDAY

Tomorrow night, Saturday March 29, at 8:00 one of the unique all school functions of the Stout school year will take place at the Stout gym—the third annual all school card party sponsored by the Stout Arts and Crafts Club. Unique because there will be thirty-five small prize projects given to the game winners at the individual tables and every prize is hand made by club members. All these smaller but worthy and crafty prizes plus a very special door prize and the admission is only thirty-five cents.

The door prize for this years event will consist of a set of six beautifully hand painted glasses. Each glass has a different picture of some wild animal scene and each is very realistic. The artist represented by the glasses is that of a commercial artist from Milwaukee who is Fred Bahr's cousin. Fred is the new club secretary. The set of glasses will be enhanced by a special serving tray made by some well qualified club members. To add to the natural effect of the glasses the serving tray will be made from grained cherry wood finished with a french polish. If anybody has not had the pleasure of looking at this beautiful door prize you are urged to stop at the glass show case at the Wilson Avenue entrance of the H.E. Building.

Also included in the show case is representative samples of the numerous small prizes that includes hand tied fishing flies made by Albert Spanheimer, ceramic articles, plastic salad sets and coin purses.

Admission for a full evenings entertainment is only thirty-five cents. Any and all card games will be played so no one need worry about this being a tournament of experts.

In addition to a chance at the door prize and the smaller table prizes a tasty lunch will be served including, not one but two cups of coffee for everyone.

Bring your girl friend, boy friend, wife or husband; you will not find a more enjoyable and inexpensive evening anywhere. Also bring your own cards if you wish, there might be need for them, maybe you know the marks and especially do so if the only game you can play is old maid.

SSA CARDS USED TO RESERVE PLAY SEATS

All Stout students may attend the play "Mr. Barry's Etchings," the MAP's Spring production under the direction of Mr. Norman C. Ziemann, free of charge by presenting the SSA cards at the reservation table which will be in the HE corridor one week before the play. By so presenting his ticket each student will receive a reserved seat ticket for one of the 8 performances.

TWELVE STUDENTS ARE ELECTED TO WHO'S WHO

2 Graduates, 8 Seniors,
2 Juniors Are Recipients of National Recognition

Twelve Stout students were elected to the honor of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. As you already know, Who's Who is composed of distinguished students selected from the college and accepted by the organization. Also, Who's Who is designed to render greater, though less conspicuous service:

As a means of compensation for outstanding effort and achievement. As a standard of measurement for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.

Each of the twelve following students elected to Who's Who will be awarded a certificate at the Senior Recognition Assembly in May.

Leverne Ablard is a senior who claims Campbellsport, Wisconsin as her home town. During her four years at Stout, she has been active in many extra curricular activities. She belongs to Pallas Athene Sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, and Home Economic's Club. She was secretary of Pallas Athene and Home Economic's Club, librarian for Phi Upsilon Omicron, program chairman of Home Economic's Club, treasurer of Women's Athletic Association, and vice-president of her junior class. She is also a leader in the 4-H Club.

Bill Banks is a June graduate from Chetek. He is secretary of the Stout Typographical Society, Business Manager for the Stoutonia, and vice-president of his senior class. Also, he is serving his third year on the Student Governing Board. Bill is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma of which he was sgt.-at-arms and recording secretary.

Rowena Christen is a senior who hails from Brooklyn, Wisconsin where she attended Belleville high school. She has been very active at Stout in Pallas Athene sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Home Economic's Club, band, orchestra, and the Women's Athletic Association. She was vice-president of band and also of her junior class and is presently the secretary of the SSA.

John Christensen, is a tall junior from Elgin, Ill. He is active in Epsilon Pi Tau, Alpha Phi Omega, Phi Omega Beta, and the SSA. He was president and vice-president of his sophomore class, historian of Phi Omega Beta, and is now vice-president of the SSA.

Dennis Foltman is a graduate student who hails from Amsterdam, New York, where he attended Wilbur H. Lynch Senior high school. He is active in the Stout Typographical Society, Sigma Tau Gamma, The Tower, The Stoutonia, and Rifle Club. He was news editor and editor of The Stoutonia, Business Manager for The Tower, corresponding secretary of Sigma Tau Gamma, and a representative to the Stout Student Association for Lynwood Hall.

Rose Grzadzilewski is a June graduate who comes from Menomonie. She is active in Pallas Athene Sorority, Home Economic's Club, Women's Athletic Association and was on the Intersorority Council. She was president of Pallas Athene Sorority last year. Rose is the only girl to become both Homecoming queen (1950) and Rose of Sigma Tau Gamma (1950). Also, she was a counselor at the girls dormitory for a year and a cheerleader for two years.

Beverly Hedlund is a June graduate from Amery. She is active in Phi Upsilon Omicron, MAP, Pallas Athene Sorority, Dietetic's club, and Home Economic's club. She was vice-president of Home Economic's Club, historian, secretary, and vice-president of MAP, treasurer of Pallas Athene sorority, and librarian of Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Pat Traxler is a senior from Neenah, Wisconsin. She is active in Pallas Athene sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Home Economic's Club, and Newman Club. She is president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, and was secretary and treasurer of the school orchestra, vice-president of Tainter Annex, secretary of Newman Club, and a representative of the Stout Student Association.

Lewis Lausted is a junior who hails from Colfax, Wisconsin. He is active in the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity, S-Club, The Stout Symphonic Singers, and SSA. He is treasurer of the SSA, and S-Club and was sgt.-at-arms in Kappa Phi Sigma. He is on the varsity football team and has also participated in 4-H Club. He is also a member of the Evangelical Youth Fellowship.

Charles Schiferl is a June graduate who comes from Fort Atkinson. Charlie is holding down the most important office on the campus namely the presidency of SSA. He is also active in Epsilon Pi Tau and Sigma Tau Gamma. He was a representative of the Student Governing Board, junior class president, and secretary-treasurer of Epsilon Pi Tau.

Allen Swan is a senior from Barron, Wisconsin. He is active in Alpha Phi Omega, the school band, Stout Christian Fellowship, and the Student Governing Board. He is treasurer of Stout Christian Fellowship and historian of Alpha Phi Omega. He was vice-president of his junior class and has participated in two school plays. Al now holds down the important job of managing the Student Union.

Eugene Weigel, a January graduate hails from Aberdeen, South Dakota. He was active in S-Club and the Stout Typographical Society. He was president and historian of S-Club, and held the degree of Journeyman in the Stout Typographical Society. He was a field correspondent for the Minneapolis Tribune, the St. Paul Pioneer Press, the Eau Claire Leader, the Associated Press, the United Press, the Milwaukee Journal, and the Milwaukee Sentinel. Eugene was director of Sports Publicity for two years and manager of the Stout baseball team for four years. He was make-up man for the school paper and also the official scorekeeper for all Stout athletic events. He spent four years in the service, part of which was spent in the South Pacific in the United States Army Medical Corps. He is presently in Silver City, New Mexico with his wife, where he is employed.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

We have been hearing murmurs that there aren't enough activities for students to participate in as extra-curriculars. For some reason or other many of the students cannot seem to find things to keep them occupied when studies are completed for the current work. But, if you will turn to the back of the Student Directory and count the number of organizations, you will find that there are 45, yes, forty-five, organizations on the campus for student participation.

Why are most of the organizations on the campus having difficulties in existing? Perhaps it is because there are too few students in too many organizations. If about 75 selected students were to be removed from the campus overnight all but three or four of these organizations would fail.

What does this mean to you? It means that when an organization goes to the trouble and expense to bring an evening of relaxation and entertainment your way the least you could do is to be a spectator. Student activities are worthless unless all the student body participates in some form.

LSA JOINS IN FINAL
PROGRAM AT OSLC

Last Sunday evening the LSA met at Our Savior's Lutheran Church for a supper served by Joan Buboltz and her team. At the business meeting Jerry Sommer was elected as the LSA Interreligious Council representative. Miss Fardall accepted an invitation to become an LSA advisor. The coming Spring Workshop at St. Cloud on the week end of April 25-27 was also discussed. The group then sang hymns until the cleanup committee got through with the dishes. A movie "The Bible on the Table", based on the theme of family worship period, preferably at a meal which is unhurried and at which all can be present. We should begin now by having private devotions or with our roommates. There is a definite need for a place at the dorms where students can be alone to meditate or pray such as a small room reserved as a chapel. The group ended the evening by singing the Friendship Circle Song.

This Sunday the LSA is invited to join the congregation of Our Savior's for the final in the series of Lenten Christian Life programs. The worship will be led by one of the youth groups.

SSA MESSAGE

This is the first SSA message from your new officers. We are proud to serve you, and we hope you will drop around and see us in the office if you have any problems.

Prom time is coming up again soon and the Junior Class is looking for a theme. Let's rack our brains and figure something out. Remember, the person whose theme is selected receives free tickets to the Prom.

This week end thirteen students are attending the U.N. Conference in Madison. They left this morning and will return Sunday night. This group is in for a wonderful time, and they will gain an abundance of first-hand information.

Tomorrow evening is the Arts & Crafts Card Party. The club has a display of the door and table prizes in the H.E. corridor, and the sight is enough to induce all of us to attend. Let's all turn out and support organization sponsored activities.

The Phi U Tea is Wednesday in the Harvey Memorial. Don't forget to attend, and remember—fellows—you're invited to.

Next week end, April 3, 4, and 5, the Manual Arts Players will present their spring production "Mr. Barry's Etchings." There is no charge for this, but you must exchange your SSA card for a reserved seat ticket. Don't miss this!

In closing we would like to say again, we are here to serve you, make use of us.

Your new officers,
Dick, Jack, Ann, and George

SIX MEMBERS ARE ADDED AT HYP FORMAL

An impressive formal ceremony formally initiated the six pledges into the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority on Thursday evening, March 27. The sorority sisters, their advisor, Miss Clara Carrison, and Miss Antrim met at the Brewer residence where Hat Homer and Jan Waseen stay.

Amid the soft glow of candlelight and the swish of formals, Mary Betzel, Jean Fairweather, Lois Bredlow, Vilis Hoenig, Colleen Mitchell, and Phyllis Schlotfeldt became sorority sisters of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority.

Each new member was given the sorority pin which she will wear for two weeks.

Hat Homer and Jan Waseen, hostesses for the evening, served cake, nuts, mints, and coffee. Miss Carrison poured the coffee at the buffet table.

REMEMBER WHEN?

5 years ago the fraternity pledges were going through Hell Week. Our band went to hear a Fred Waring show. Iva Kitchell, a dance humorist, captivated her audience at a lyceum here.

10 years ago the election of SSA officers had the headlines. Alvin Wutti was elected president; Roland Krieb, vice president; Anita Bronken, secretary; and Ralph Onarheim, treasurer. Stout had two members on the all-conference basketball team. The men were Harland Hesselman, a forward, and Bill Peterson, a guard. The WAA was putting on a water carnival.

15 years ago two events shared the headlines. A tie occurred in the SSA election. After a careful recounting Robert Ritter and Ingmar Barbo each held 180 votes for treasurer. Eugene Newbauer was elected president; Margaret Amundson, vice-president; and Jeanne Myron, secretary. At that time plans were announced for open house which was to be held in the latter part of April.

Young Smithers was feeling off-color, and consulted a specialist. The specialist examined him and said:

"All that is wrong with you, young fellow, is that you smoke too many cigarettes. Here is a way to cure yourself of the habit. It is quite simple. Whenever you light a cigarette, put a stone into your pocket. Soon the discomfort of carrying the stones about will cure you."

Young Smithers nodded and departed. Three days later the specialist received a postcard from his patient.

"Dear Sir," it said, "I am following your advice, but I look darned funny pushing a wheelbarrow!"

KP Pusher: "Where have you been all morning?"

Tired KP: "Filling salt shakers, like you told me."

KP Pusher: "All that time?"

Tired KP: "Well, it ain't easy pouring salt through all them little holes!"

A hug is energy that has gone to waist.

A young man was being examined by a psychiatrist to see if he was mentally fit to join the army.

"Do you ever hear voices and not know who is speaking or where the sounds are coming from?" asked the doctor.

"Why, yes, often," said the young man.

"Ah!" said the psychiatrist, leaning forward in his chair. "When does this happen?"

"Practically every time I answer the telephone."

Prof. to Sophomore: "Your work is terrible. Your themes lack interest, unity, coherence, logic. What do you do in your spare time?"

Student: "I'm a reporter for Stoutonia, sir."

LEE BEDSTED TEACHING AT AUSTIN, MINN.

Mr. Robert Swanson

Dear Bob:

Thank you for your letter of February 25. I hope that I will get this answered in time for your deadline. I had a little difficulty getting a picture. This is my second year of teaching and also my second year at Austin,

Minnesota. I like teaching very much and also like our fine school system here in Austin. Last year I had a somewhat "Jack of all trades" teaching load with two hours of Auto Mechanics, one hour of General Metals, a double period of Sheet Metal and one study hall. This year I consider myself more fortunate in having four hours of Auto Mechanics and one hour of Painting and Decorating not quite as many preparations.

This is the first year that we have had a Painting and Decorating course in our shop system. I set up the course last spring and built storage cabinets, a spray booth and tables during the summer months. I started out the year with 19 boys and 5 girls, this is also the first time that girls have taken any Industrial Arts. My course follows the lines of Mr. Soderbergs' except that the students work on actual jobs, such as painting one of the rooms in the building and wallpapering another. I am very grateful to Mr. Soderberg for the information that he has sent me.

This year Austin is setting up an Area Vocational School and in the not too distant future will construct a vocational building across from the high school.

Sincerely yours,
Lee Bedsted

HYPRIANS CELEBRATE
FOUNDER'S DAY

Members of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority wore the yellow rose, their sorority flower, on Thursday, March 20, their Founder's day. That evening the sorority sisters and their advisor, Miss Clara Garrison, gathered together to commemorate the 29 anniversary of their founding with a dinner at the Harbor. Guests for the occasion included Miss Antrim and Mr. and Mrs. Phalen.

Pauline Jaeger, president, gave a short talk on the sorority's founding in 1923.

Mr. Phalen, principal of Coddington School, was the guest speaker for the evening.

The menu for the dinner consisted of roast chicken served family style, mashed potatoes and gravy, jellied carrot salad, assorted relishes, rolls, butter, and coffee.

Pat Pagel was the chairman for the Founder's Day Dinner.

WSF ELECTS OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

The regular meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship was held Sunday, March 23, at 5:30 o'clock.

Ardith Garrison and her committee served supper of baked potatoes, fish sauce, carrot and raisen salad, chocolate cake, and milk.

Nancy Kurath's committee presented the worship service. Because this is "You Can Smile" week, the theme was based on "Happiness."

Election of officers was as follows: president, Bob Spinti; vice president, Mary Detlor; secretary-treasurer, Winnie Waite; state student representative, Fred Kajihara; food chairman, Bev Peterson; worship chairman, Ellen Russell; recreation chairman, Catherine Magee; publicity chairman, Ann Switzenberg; mission chairman, Ruth Sipple; membership chairman, Pat Jensen.

There will be no meeting of Wesley next week end because the members are attending the Spring Conference at Whitewater.

MSM CONFERENCE TO BE ATTENDED BY WSF

The annual spring conference of the Methodist Student Movement of Wisconsin will be held at Whitewater State College, March 28-30. The theme of the conference is "What God Hath Joined Together." The main speakers will be Bishop Northcott, resident-bishop of Wisconsin, and Dr. Irwin, who will speak on marriage and divorce. Following the talks will be discussions by the students.

Representing the Wesley Student Fellowship will be nineteen Stout students and advisors.

SIG TAU PLAYERS TO PRESENT COMEDY

On April 9 at 10:00 a.m. the Sig Tau Players will come to the Stout Auditorium where they will present a one-act play for the Stout Students.

The Play, Dress Reversal, by John C. Gerber, is justly described as a farce in one act. The cast of nine men portray the dress rehearsal of a group of amateur actors. Odd incidents and an uncooperative spirit soon turn the rehearsal into a mild riot.

The Sig Tau Players have been rehearsing since March 5 under the direction of Sam Mikitarian.

MAP PLAY TO BE GIVEN NEXT WEEK

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 3, 4, and 5, at eight p.m. are the three big nights that the play, "Mr. Barry's Etchings," the spring production of the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega, will be presented. The play will be given under the direction of Mr. Norman C. Zieman.

SMA SORORITY TO AFFILIATE
NATIONALLY

After weeks of patient waiting the SMA Sorority received by telegram the official OK for nationalization into Alpha Sigma Alpha. This good news was the result of much planning and correspondence with national headquarters. With this big step behind them, the SMA's are now going ahead with preparation for the initiation occurring sometime in April.

Taking a backward glance at SMA history, we find that the Sorority was formed in 1922. As it grew through the years, it developed traditions and started activities which are now an important part of campus life. The SMA's sell those colorful Mums that are seen everywhere at Homecoming. They are also responsible for the Valentine Tea and of course give all the girls a break when they sponsor Sadie Hawkins Week and the dance which highlights this week of turnabout.

With the final acceptance from national headquarters the SMA Sorority becomes the 38th chapter of ASA. They will receive the heritage and customs handed down since five girls formed the sorority in 1901 at Longwood College in Virginia, and will create a little history of their own by becoming the first Alpha Sigma Alpha chapter in Wisconsin.

ARTS AND CRAFTS
ELECT NEW OFFICERS

At a regular meeting Monday evening March 24 the Stout Arts and Crafts Club held election of officers. The newly elected officers are: Joseph Hainault, president; James Wallevard, vice-president; Fred Bahr, secretary; Robert Rustin, treasurer and Carol Zuege, librarian.

It was also voted that all the club officers would serve on the key point evaluation committee. Two additional members Kenneth Pietenpol and Dufur Peters, were elected as members at large to serve on the evaluation committee.

The various committees reported on the card party progress and final plans were completed for the party.

RIFLE TEAM DEFEATS U. OF CINCINNATI

The rifle team of The Stout Institute Rifle Club concluded its most successful season since the reorganization of the club after the war by defeating the Varsity rifle team of the University of Cincinnati by the decisive score of 1389 to 1344.

The season record shows 6 wins and 2 losses for the Stout riflemen.

In winning their last match the team scored its highest match total of the season, 1389. Ed Prah had 283 to lead the assault, and was ably supported by Glenn Voelz with 278, Stan Meyer with 277, Hugh Schmall with 276, and Joe Luetkemeyer with 275.

For the University of Cincinnati Bob Welti was high with a fine 278. Hill contributed 270, Dosser 269, Buhrmaster 265, and Salyers with 262.

Range records for the club were spread all over the targets as only the prone score failed to be topped. It was already at 100, a perfect score. It was tied by three men this year. Clarence Poling set new records for kneeling and three position totals with a 97 and 289/300 respectively. Ed Prah holds the record for the standing position with a 93/100.

GIVE FINAL BASKETBALL FIGURES

Final figures released by the Wisconsin State College Conference show that the championship Whitewater Quakers lead only the defensive statistics.

Eighth place River Falls Falcons, paced by Roger Kuss, held most of the offensive honors. In 12 games the Falcons rolled up an impressive 871 points, an average of 72.5 points per game. However their defense was somewhat porous as it yielded only 2 points less than cellar-dwelling Stout.

Roger Kuss garnered most of the individual honors with most points in the season, 315; most points in a single game, 45; most field goals for the season, 126; and the most field goals for one game, 20. Both of his single game marks were set against Eau Claire on Feb. 23.

Jim Whittier of Superior made the most free throws for the season with 70, and the most free-throws in a single game with 13, against River Falls Feb. 29.

Dick Spaulding of Oshkosh had the somewhat dubious honor of picking up the most personal fouls with 52 for the season.

The final conference standings are something like this:

	Won	Lost	Off.	Def.
Whitewater	11	1	828	695
La Crosse	9	3	807	731
Superior	7	4	740	723
Stevens Point	7	5	807	780
Eau Claire	7	5	851	814
Platteville	5	6	721	738
Oshkosh	5	7	736	777

V. A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASES BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

This letter is to clarify Veterans Administration policies regarding the enrollment of teachers as veterans in the 1952 summer session.

1. Enrollment for those in attendance at the 1951 summer session may be made on VA Form 7-1909 accompanied by a statement signed by an official of the school (principal, superintendent or board member) disclosing that the veteran was a teacher during the full school year. VA Form 7-1909 should not be used if the veteran is changing from his previous courses or has been enrolled in any other school since the 1951 summer session. In these cases, or where a doubt exists as to the validity of his enrollment under Public Law 346, a "Certificate of Eligibility", VA Form 7-1953, should be required.
2. Students who will receive an undergraduate degree at the end of the current semester and who desire to go on for graduate study must apply to the Veterans Administration before the end of this semester. If they expect to be teachers during the 1952-1953 school year they must attend a 1952 summer session, to have further eligibility.
3. Summer session work toward a graduate degree must be taken in an institution which grants such degrees.
4. A teacher during the 1951-1952 school year who now desires to discontinue teaching and attend school full time to complete his degree work, may do so but must attend the 1952 summer session. He will then be eligible to continue in school during the next regular school year. Once he reverts to regular student status from a teacher status, he may never revert back to teacher status (attending only summer sessions) again.
5. A teacher who attends consecutive summer sessions may accelerate his course by carrying on part-time study by residence or correspondence during the normal school year in addition to the summer session study, however, without putting his remaining entitlement in jeopardy.

Careful consideration of these matters in enrollment of veteran teachers into the 1952 summer session will prevent undue delays in Public Law 346 benefits. Any questions regarding the policies covered by this letter should be referred to W. D. Robinson, Chief, Registration and Research Section.

Very truly yours,
J.P. CULLEN, Manager

PHILOS ARE INSTALLED IN TRI SIGS

The members of the Philomathean Sorority became formally initiated into Sigma Sigma Sigma, a national social sorority, on Saturday, March 22. At this time, the initiating team consisting of Mrs. Helen Marie Kissinger, National Ceremonial Director, and Misses Norma Schroeder and Ruth Thiel, delegates from Whitewater Teachers College, conferred the Arc Degree upon twenty-eight former Philo members. These girls are now official pledges of Tri Sigmas until the installation of the local chapter in two weeks when they will become active members. A buffet supper was served in the Stout cafeteria at the conclusion of the initiation ceremony.

On Sunday morning the pledges of Tri Sigma and their guests attended church services in a body at the Methodist Church.

WAA BEGINS ARCHERY AS A NEW ACTIVITY

Archery and Bowling are the present sports activities being carried out by the Stout Women's Athletic Association.

Winifred Waite is the sports head for archery. This is a new activity for the WAA—one which hasn't been tried before. Regular practice will be held every Monday and Tuesday evening. The first meeting was held Tuesday, March 18, at which time Miss Erdlitz, the WAA advisor, gave the girls some help with their shooting form. They started from the beginning by learning how to hold the bow, how to handle the arrow, and how to stand correctly. After that they were taught the correct procedure for sending off the arrow. This week they continued to work on form and learned how to keep score, they also began to aim for the bullseye and are counting their scores.

While some of the girls are learning the art of archery in the gym, others are competing in the bowling tournament up in the Union alleys. Colleen Mitchell, sports head for bowling, has organized the bowling tournament. She has worked with Miss Erdlitz to set up a set of rules for the tournament. At the WAA meeting the girls voted to accept these rules unconditionally, which should help to make this a very successful tournament. The rules are posted on the WAA bulletin board in the H.E. Building.

Some of the girls are really working for their varsity letters by participating in both archery and bowling.

DEAN BOWMAN DR. MARSHALL TO GO TO MEET

Dr. Anne Marshall, Head of the Department of Science and Mathematics of The Stout Institute, and Dean C. A. Bowman of the Division of Industrial Arts, will attend the meeting April 4 in Milwaukee called by the city superintendent of schools there, Harold P. Vincent, to discuss problems which the colleges and universities face as a result of the present college preparatory type of education in our secondary schools.

This conference on college preparatory education will take place at the Girls' Trade and Technical High School and will consist of the administrative staff of the Milwaukee city schools, teachers from the high schools, and selected representatives from colleges and universities in Wisconsin. Dean Bowman will participate in a panel discussion on current problems which the colleges find face high school graduates on their entrance to colleges. Both Dr. Marshall and Dean Bowman will take part in the group meetings which will follow:

Superintendent Vincent says, "We in the Milwaukee public schools are vitally concerned with the kind of secondary school program which should be provided for our young people. Since approximately 25 per cent of the 20,000 now enrolled in our high schools will attend college, we are arranging a conference for the discussion of ways and means of improving the college preparatory aspect of our program."

"EVENING IN PARIS" CHOSEN PROM THEME

In one of the most hotly contested battles since the great French dictator Napoleon Bonaparte, Dufur Peters and Augie Shults came out co-winners of the theme contest for the 1952 Junior Prom as they submitted identical suggestions.

"Evening in Paris" was chosen as the theme by a committee of Junior class officers and members as preparations for this greatest of all spring social events swing into high gear.

Under the direction of Robert Asman, class president, the multitudinous committee members are hard at work making posters, printing tickets, preparing decorations, and attending to all the details that will go to make this the biggest dance of the 1951-52 school year, a dance that no one will want to miss.

And as this Stoutonia goes to press, an air of hushed tension reigns over a considerable percentage of the Stout populace as they anxiously wait for His Majesty, King Asman, to announce who the lucky woman will be who is to be Queen of the 1952 Junior Prom.

GOVERNING BOARD ELECTIONS APRIL 10

Student Governing Board elections will take place Thursday, April 10. Pictures of the candidates will appear in the Home Economics corridor outside of the Harvey Memorial next week. Pictured are four candidates from each class. Your job is to select two from each class to represent you on the Governing Board. Study each candidate's qualifications, which are printed in this issue of the Stoutonia, carefully and then vote for the candidates of your choice on Thursday. Let's have a large turnout of voters. Those that you select will decide the outcome of next year's problems.

PLAY TO BE PRESENTED AT NEXT ASSEMBLY

Remember next Wednesday's Student Assembly, it's one you don't want to miss. The Sig Tau Players are presenting to the students a colossal one act play, Dress Reversal, by John C. Gerber. The play is described as a farce in one act and the Sig Tau Players hope you enjoy watching it as they do acting it.

The cast of nine men portray the dress rehearsal of a group of amateur actors. Odd incidents and an uncooperative spirit soon turn the rehearsal into a mild riot. The actors are Robert Adkins, Bill Anderson, Fred Bahr, Jim Brown, Richard Duthler, Bill Hinterthuer, Sam Mikitarian, Charles Schiffler and George Stephenson.

BAND REORGANIZED, MAY GIVE CONCERT

The Stout Band has just reorganized under the direction of Mr. Kortkamp. At the present time practice is devoted toward music for the football games so that marching practice may begin earlier than usual next year. If interest continues to mount as it has in the first two meetings a spring concert may be scheduled. It looks like we may have the makings of a good band.

If you play an instrument be sure to see one of the band members or better yet come out to practice on Tuesday night at 7:00. Support your school and enjoy the fun of playing an instrument.

Dr. J. G. HOOPER TO BE AT CONVO APRIL 23

Dr. J. Gerald Hooper, a man of many interests and with an outstanding record of achievement in many fields will present the convocation April 23. His artful skill with a camera and his natural gift for telling a story have won for him the enviable reputation as the travel lecturer who weaves a magic spell with words and pictures.

Dr. and Mrs. Hooper are inveterate travelers and together they constitute a superb photographic team. Lands of legend and romance have been captured by the Hooper cameras.

IMPORTANT MEETING

There will be a staff meeting of the Stoutonia on Monday, April 7 at 5 p.m. It is necessary that all reporters, production staff, and editorial be present.

12 ATTEND UN MEETING AT MADISON

Twelve students attended the United Nations Conference at the University of Wisconsin March 28, 29, 30, 1952.

The speakers of the conference were Mr. Henry Bloch of the department of Economic Affairs of the United Nations Secretariat, Mr. William Epstein of the Department of Security Council Affairs, and Professor Graham Hovey, Asst. professor of Journalism.

There were foreign students from 53 countries represented on the respective delegations to provide first hand information. The Stout Institute represented Greece and Cuba. Greece and Cuba had one vote on the Disarmament Commission. After the first general assembly, Greece was seated on the Security Council for the next three years.

The main purpose in attending the conference was to acquaint the students with the various aspects and functions of the real United Nations Conference.

The students as a whole thought that the conference was worthwhile as it gave them an idea how the UN is run, and they thought that they learned more from this conference than they could have by reading a book about it.

Those who attended this conference were: Don Sargent, Bill Banks, Harold Woodworth, Hugh Schmahl, Willis Capps, Dean M.M. Price, Maryann Smith, Jacqueline Frisbie, Bev Hedlund, and Jeannette Smith.

MOVIE "GOLGATHA" TO BE SHOWN SUNDAY

This Sunday, the film "Golgatha" will be shown in the Stout Auditorium at 1:30. This film portrays the life of Jesus Christ. It has been a very popular film ever since its release. You won't want to miss it. The film presentation should be over in time to let those that wish to go to the concert at the Lutheran Church to do so. A free will offering will be taken to help pay the cost of the film. Don't forget April 6, Palm Sunday, at 1:30 in the Stout Auditorium.

REGISTRATIONS FOR SUMMER SESSION OPEN

The 1952 summer session catalogs are out now and registrations will be accepted any time. The summer session begins Tuesday, June 17 and goes through July 25. June 16 will be registration day, but it would be wise to register in advance because the number of students in each class is limited. Classes will begin at 7:30 each morning.

NOMINATE GOVERNING BOARD MEMBERS HERE

Election of Two Members From Each Class To Be Held Next Thursday.

Next Thursday, April 10, is the day when all students should vote for the representatives of Student Governing Board. To aid students in the wise selection of candidates, we have listed them below according to classification with their individual qualifications. Your job next Thursday is to vote for two candidates from each class.

The Junior class candidates are: Charmaine Chopp, who is a junior from Kohler, Wisconsin where she attended Kohler high school. She has attended Stout three years and belongs to Stout Symphonic Singers, Pallas Athene Sorority, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Student Governing Board, and Home Economics Club. She was secretary of the Stout Symphonic Singers and her Sophomore class and president of Tainter Hall. At present she is a representative of the Student Governing Board for the Junior Class and a dormitory counselor. Charmaine held offices in high school such as president, secretary and treasurer.

John Christensen is a Junior from Elgin, Illinois where he attended Elgin high school. John has been very active in such organizations as Epsilon Pi Tau, Phi Omega Beta, and Alpha Phi Omega. He was vice president of SSA this past year and has been vice president of Epsilon Pi Tau, and LSA. He was also president of his sophomore class.

Joe Luetkemeyer is a junior from Broadview, Illinois where he attended Proviso Township high school. He has attended Stout three years and belongs to such organizations as Epsilon Pi Tau, Kappa Phi Sigma, Rifle Club, and Inter-religious Council. He was president of Rifle Club and Newman Club this past year and is now the historian of Kappa Phi Sigma. Joe is also the assistant scout master of Troop 47 in Menomonie and has been since his freshman year.

August Schulz is a junior from Oshkosh, Wisconsin where he attended Oshkosh high school. He has been active while attending Stout in such organizations as Epsilon Pi Tau, Kappa Phi Sigma, "S" Club, and Student Governing Board. He is now Head Athletic Manager in the Athletic Department at Stout. Augie has spent two years in the U.S. Army.

The sophomore class candidates are:

Curt Gehling is a sophomore from Suring, Wisconsin where he attended Suring high school. He has attended Stout 1½ years and belongs to such organizations as Epsilon Pi Tau and Alpha Phi Omega. At present he is corresponding secretary in Alpha Phi Omega. Curt also belongs to the American Legion of which he was commander in 47-48. In high school, he was vice president of his sophomore and junior class and treasurer of his senior class. He spent three years in the Air Corps.

Maryann Heimerman is a sophomore from Chilton, Wis. She has been active while at Stout in the Hyperion Sorority, Stout Symphonic Singers, Band, and Dietetics club. This past year she was secretary of Newman Club. While in high school, Maryann was on the Student Governing Board three years, and was a state officer of FHA, and secretary of her class.

Marilyn Eckstein is a sophomore from Neenah, Wis., where she attended Neenah high school. She has attended Stout two years and belongs to the SMA Sorority, Home Economics club, and Dietetics club. She was on the student council in high school for two years.

Howard Vetter, a sophomore from Kasota, Minn., has attended Stout two years and belongs to Kappa Phi Sigma, Newman club, and is now a pledge for Epsilon Pi Tau. At present he is treasurer of Lynwood Hall.

Freshmen class candidates include:

Dorothy Brownell, a freshman from Grand Meadow, Minn., where she attended Stewartville high school. She belongs to Home Economics club and Girls Glee club. She was president of the Glee club last semester and is vice president of Tainter Hall. While in high school she was president of her freshman class, vice president of her sophomore class, and of the student council. She was co-editor of the school annual and a member of the student council three years.

Verna Dunn is a freshman from Janesville, Wis., where she attended Janesville high school. She is a member of the Home Economics club and a reporter for the Stoutonia. Verna also belongs to LSA and has participated in MAP plays. While in high school, she was on the student council for two years, treasurer of Drama club, chairman of the recreation committee, and president of the Y-Teens.

Jerry Sommer, a freshman from Milwaukee, is a member of the inter-religious council for next year. At present he is the treasurer of the freshman class and also treasurer of LSA. While attending high school Jerry was on the student council 2½ years, president of 4-H club, and active in Boy Scouts.

STS INITIATES 5 WEDNESDAY EVENING

Formal initiation for the Stout Typographical Society took place Wednesday evening at the Harbor. Five STS pledges were formally initiated into the society and other members advanced in rank.

Highlights for the STS formal initiation this semester were the chicken dinner at 6:30 p.m. followed by the initiation ritual. New members initiated into the ranks of apprentice in the society were Raymond Burkhalter, Ronald Johnson, Dufur Peters, Donald Walters, and Charles Weber.

Following the initiation of the new members, the members advancing in rank were formally initiated into their respective ranks. Those advancing from apprentice to journeyman printer were James Brown, Phillip Mann, Francis Oberpriller, and Lawrence Smith. Those advancing in rank from journeyman to master printer were Edward Prah, Arthur Scheldrup, and William Wensel.

Donald Sargent, president of the Stout Typographical Society, presided over the candlelight ceremony.

The two committee chairman in charge of the initiation organization were Donald Walters, program chairman; Bill Banks, cafe and menu chairman.

Advisors present at the initiation and supper were Mr. David Barnard, Mr. Raymond Cornwell, and Mr. Lloyd Whydetski.

YWCA MOTHER- DAUGHTER MEET SATURDAY

Saturday, April 5, is the date set for the annual YWCA Mother-Daughter banquet. It will be held at the Congregational church.

"God Bless Her and Keep Her — My Mother" is the motto of the banquet. The tables will be gaily decorated with a spring theme.

The program for the evening includes a short talk by Mrs. Rebecca Nelson in which she will tell some of her experiences on her trip to Europe this past summer. There will be a vocal solo by Audrey Goodell.

The plan is to have the banquet completed in time for the girls and their mothers to attend the play, "Mr. Barry's Etchings."

The banquet is being prepared and served by the ladies of the Congregational Church. Beverly Peterson is in charge of decorations, Lois Feggestad and Virginia Jacobson are taking care of publicity, and Zoe Muehlauer has charge of ticket sales. Phyllis Hornung, President of YWCA, is the general chairman of the event.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

In the approaching week you, the students of Stout, will be called upon to select your representatives for the Student Governing Board. The people who are chosen will act as your voice in dividing the school functions and student policies. These positions should not be treated lightly because the people in them control somewhat the destiny of your school functions, activities, and other matters. If you want a representative and functioning board, you will have to select those who will voice the students viewpoint on all matters. Remember that they are representing you as students, and they should be feeling the same reactions as the majority. In the coming elections, let's all take part and insure a sound and functioning student government.

The members of the Manual Arts Players are presenting their annual spring play this evening and tomorrow evening in the Stout auditorium. They have spent many hours practicing the play and getting the stage settings together.

This all requires time and energy from the cast and the MAP members, and we as students should turn out to support this activity which is presented for our enjoyment.

This play is a comedy, and we are sure all students and faculty will enjoy it.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The first meeting of the Student Governing Board with the new SSA officers was opened last Tuesday evening at 6:30 by President Dick Duthler.

The social committee reported that the new radio in the infirmary was well received. They also discussed the securing of an orchestra for the SSA dance which is to be held the weekend of the S Club Carnival April 26 and 27.

Bill Banks reported that the two punch ladles for the SSA punch bowl are now being made by the Arts and Crafts and will be available soon. A discussion followed on the purchasing of punch cups to be used for social occasions at Stout. It was moved, seconded, and carried that the Board purchase six dozen glass cups for this purpose.

Some of the students who attended the United Nations Conference last Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at Madison gave a report on what occurred there. The purpose of the UN conference was to learn more about the function of the U.N. They actually had no power. The students attended various committees and discussed various problems such as the Suez Canal, what was meant by 100% disarmament, voted on whether they should have 100% disarmament, etc. More about this will be given in another article in this paper.

Some students came to the Board meeting to express their desire to attend the NSA conference April 4, 5, and 6, at Milwaukee. The Board discussed this and moved to subsidize one carload of delegates to the NSA conference at Milwaukee April 4, 5, and 6 to the extent of lodging, registration, and transportation.

The matter of a broken bench on the campus was brought to the attention of the Board. They moved that they purchase a bench top to replace the broken one. They amended the motion by adding "and devise some way of fixing the bench tops in some way so that they may not be removed." The motion was passed.

The Board passed a motion that the treasurer be authorized to set up a new system of bookkeeping including the purchase of a new type of check book.

The Board then read the qualifications of the eight candidates from each class for Student Governing

MISS MEILLER GOES TO MEET APRIL 7-9

On April 7-9, Miss Meiller will go to Milwaukee for a meeting of the Middle State Public Health Association. Those attending this conference will include doctors, nurses, dentists and nutritionists from 12 states.

Miss Meiller will participate in a panel discussion "The Prenatal Period — A Challenge to Public Health" and will present information on the influence of nutrition during the prenatal period. She is well acquainted with this problem from her work as Research Associate, Dept. of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of Chicago, where she participated in the study of the effect of the prenatal diet on the health of the mother and infant. Some of the findings of this study were published in the articles in the Dec. 1951 number of the Journal of the American Dietetic Association.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS DRAWINGS DISPLAYED

Have you noticed the large drawings of room sketches on the second floor of the HE building?

The girls in the House Furnishing classes have just completed a study of one and two point perspective and the drawings are a sample of some of the work done. The drawings were all done in pencil first and drawn on a smaller scale before drawing them on the 17 x 24 inch size.

The purpose of doing this type of work, is to learn the principles of "Perspective" and then be able to apply them when it might be desirable to draw a room plan for the placement of furniture or even to design a piece of furniture. It is of value in being able to draw the furniture so it looks level in the room sketch.

Board. Then they voted on four from each class. The outcome of the vote is as follows: freshman class candidates: Jerry Sommer, Don Steele, Verma Dunn, and Dorothy Brownell; sophomore class candidates: Howard Vetter, Curt Gehling, Mary Ann Heimerman, and Marilyn Eckstein; Junior class candidates: August Schulz, John Christensen, Joe Luetkemeyer, and Charmaine Chopp.

Hi fellow students,

We were rather busy last week end checking up on you. We did find out quite a bit, but the best item we found was about Don Sargent and Bill Banks who won a three-day old little chick at the U.N. conference in Madison. We hear that Bill still has it and has built an incubator for it. Could be he plans to keep it until next Thanksgiving.

We went to that show "The Return of the Texan" last Friday night, and who did we see enjoying it but Dolores Dusek and Bob Miller and Ann Grutzik and Mike Huley.

Two couples we have been neglecting in this column are Joan Hooford and Barney Styer and Dorothy Gargulak and Jerry Henderson. They are seen together quite a bit and are really wonderful kids.

Ann Rossmiller and Joan Fairweather, counselors at Tainter Annex, were both happy girls last week end. Ann's friend from the University of Wisconsin was here for the week end. We saw them at the card party Saturday night. He flew back to the U. with a Menomonie fellow. Joan's Hank Tall was here from Thorp.

Although this news is almost three weeks late, Mimi MacLachlan is now wearing a diamond. Congratulations to you and Stan.

There was a big turn-out at the Arts and Crafts card party last Saturday night. Everyone was sorry Mike Pavlicin and his wife were there when they won the beautiful door prize. Oh well, I guess we can't win all the time.

Some of the couples there for an evening of cards were Jan Prahl and Howie Knop, Don Pale and his girl, Jim Brown and Carole Tickler, June Keefer and Ken Pietenpol, Jim Zeasman and Rose Mary Raymer, and Pat Pagel and Harter Peterson.

Deaple Brown and Charlie Schiferl doubled with Ann R. and her fellow

We also saw Carplann Hammersten and Carl Berthlein, and Dean Cornwell and Val Bloom.

Fern Naedler's sister was here last week end and went to the card party with Cornelius Mahoney. Fern was with Herb Pringle.

Don and Elaine Straw were here for the card party. Don, many will remember, is a graduate of last spring.

Dick Jung was a little lonely this past week with Nancy in the infirmary with the measles. Dick will probably be there pretty soon with them, who knows?

We saw Nancy Hanshus and Larry Mosher at Convocation Wednesday. This is a couple which has been going together quite steady all year.

Another couple to watch is Donna Harvey and Fred Kneisler. They have been faithful to each other for about two months now.

Guess we had better run along now, we'll see you at the play tonight or tomorrow night.

Key and Hole.

ELECTRICITY II CLASS TO TAKE FIELD TRIP

The Electricity II class will take a field trip Wednesday afternoon, April 9, to the Wissota Power Plant, which is located on Lake Wissota about five miles east of Chippewa Falls.

The plant is of interest because it is the master plant of all the Northern States Power plants in this area. It has six vertical generators which are controlled by remote control. These generators furnish power for many cities and rural areas in Wisconsin and in Menomonie.

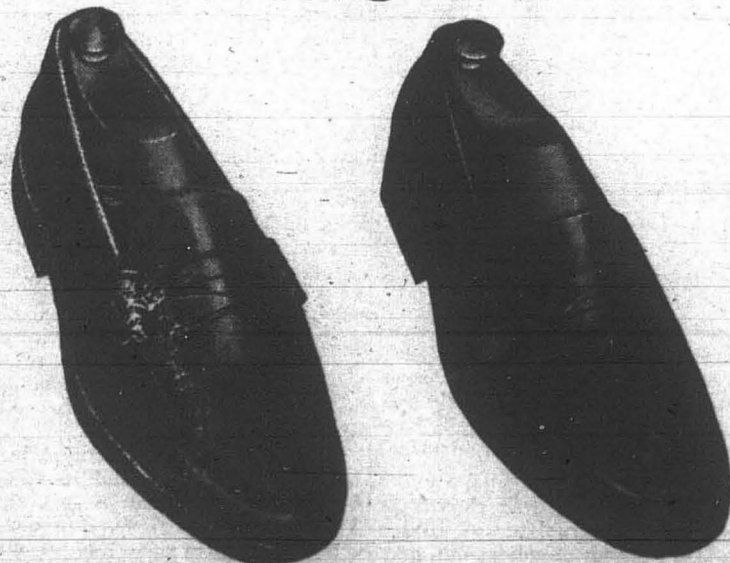

This is the first year the class is going to Wissota as in former years they visited the Menomonie plant or the one in Cedar Falls.

"I have been a fool all my life," the violinist, Fritz Kreisler, once told a friend, "but a progressive one. When the phonograph became popular I decided I must resist this medium because it would kill concerts."

"Then came the radio," he added, "and I fought that for a long time. But as I said, I'm progressive. Now I'm resisting television!"

Wife: "How do you like my new gown? I got it for a ridiculous price."

Hubby: "You mean you got it for an absurd figure."

Mrs. McTavis (looking out of the window): "Sandy, here comes company for dinner."

Mr. McTavis: "Quick everybody run out on the front porch with a toothpick."

That big gold watch outside old man Jensen's watch repair emporium, reminds me that men should be like a good watch. . . open face, busy hands, pure gold, well regulated and full of good works.

In a country newspaper appeared the following ad: "The man who picked up my wallet on Main Street was recognized. He is requested to return it."

In the next issue the reply was published: "The recognized man who picked up your wallet requests the loser to call and get it."

You know, since we call professors "profs," there ought to be a similar name for assistants.

Willie put his baby brother in the ice box. When his mother found the little darling there he'd become a frigid heir.

When a diner complained that he couldn't eat the soup that had been brought him, the waiter called the manager.

"I'm very sorry, sir," said the manager. "I'll call the chef."

When the chef arrived, the diner still insisted that he couldn't eat his soup.

"What's wrong with it?" demanded the chef.

"Nothing," calmly answered the diner. "I just don't have a spoon."

A charge of assault was being tried in an Irish police court. The husband, a very meek little man, was put in the box and his wife, a big woman almost twice his size, stood by her solicitor's table.

The magistrate adjusted his glasses and turned to the defendant. "You are accused of beating your wife," he said. "Do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

"Guilty, my lord," said the little man without hesitation.

"Twenty-five dollars fine or ten days," came the magistrate's verdict.

After the court had closed the magistrate was approached by one of the other court officials. "Weren't you a little severe with that little man?" said the latter.

"Not at all," returned the magistrate. "I had to give him something for bragging."

The judges expression was not unkind, as he leaned over the bench and addressed the mousy little man before him.

"So you're a locksmith?" his Honor mused. "And pray tell, what was the locksmith doing in a gambling dive when he was arrested?"

TAKE A LOOK AT S.S.A. BULLETIN BOARD

How many students have noticed the bulletin board outside the S. S. A. office? If you have not noticed it before, now is a good time. When you look at the bulletin board you will see that it contains short witty statements and/or verses of poetry.

Stanley Russell, a junior from Menomonie, is behind this attraction. He found these sayings and thought he would like to share them with the rest of the Stout students. He started this board at the beginning of this semester with just short ideas. He may change it later to include longer thoughts.

The main source from which Stanley obtains 'this information is a paper bound booklet called Pastings. This booklet is made up of selections which appeared in the Bulletin Board in the Administration building of E. M. College at Berrien Spring, Mich. which were compiled by Barbara Anne Evans. Other sources of information are the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society Bulletin.

Mr. Russell would welcome any contributions to his project. If you have any clever sayings, thought, or verses which you think the rest of the students would enjoy reading, write them on a slip of paper together with their source or origin, and leave them in the S. S. A. office.

JUST FOR TODAY

Just for today . . . I will try to live through this day only, not to tackle my whole life problem at once. I can do things for 12 hours that would appall me if I had to keep them up for a lifetime.

Just for today . . . I will be happy. This assumes that what Abraham Lincoln said is true that "most folks are about as happy as they make up their minds to be." Happiness is from within: it is not a matter of externals.

Just for today . . . I will try to adjust to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my family, my work, and my luck as they come and try to fit myself to them.

Just for today . . . I will try to strengthen my body. I will exercise it, nourish it, not abuse it, nor neglect it, so that it will be a perfect machine for my bidding.

Just for today . . . I will exercise my mind. I will learn something useful. I will not be a mental loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought, and concentration.

Just for today . . . I will exercise my soul in three ways: I will do somebody a good turn, and not get found out. I will do at least two things I don't want to do, just for exercise.

Just for today . . . I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress as becomingly as possible, talk low, act courteously, be liberal with praise, criticize not at all, nor find fault with anything and not try to regulate nor prove anyone.

Just for today . . . I will have a program. I will write down what I expect to do every hour. I may not follow it exactly but I will have it. It will eliminate two obnoxious pests, hurry and indecision.

Just for today . . . I will have a quiet half hour all by myself and relax. In this half hour sometimes I will think of God, so as to get a little more perspective to my life.

Just for today . . . I will be unafraid, especially I will not be afraid to be happy or to enjoy what is beautiful, to love, and to believe that those I love, love me.

Lately our attention is called to foreign policy. Foreign policy is an important issue in a presidential election year such as this. Our library has some new books that will give the reader a good picture of what is going on and a basis for forming opinions.

"The Story of U.S. Foreign Policy," by Dexter Perkins and James B. Conant, appears in the Headline Series of the Foreign Policy Association. This pamphlet gives an unbiased history of our American policy from isolation, the first policy, to participate in the United Nations.

The Foreign Policy of the United States is written by Felix Morley. Mr. Morley developed this book from talks that he gave on foreign policy at Wesleyan University. This is an authoritative and up-to-date discussion of our foreign policy. The author believes that our relations with other nations have a scientific content and that our foreign policy is not really bipartisan.

Master Plan U.S.A., by John Fischer, is "an informal report on America's foreign policy and the men who make it." Mr. Fischer has made a detailed study of just what our foreign policy is, in order to present valid information on the most important issues to the average American who hasn't the time to study these matters closely.

In A Foreign Policy for Americans, Senator Robert A. Taft discusses his views on what our foreign policy should be and points out the defects in our present policy.

Recent events have turned our thoughts to Great Britain. Two books about famous British people have just been added to our library and will probably be of interest at this time.

Mother and Queen, the story of Queen Mary of England was written by Marion Crawford, who had the privilege of serving as governess to England's present queen and to Princess Margaret. The author writes this warm biography out of gratitude and love. It is an endearing story of a family that is very close to the hearts of the British people, and the very human story of a great queen who is now in her eighties.

A Sailor's Odyssey is the autobiography of Viscount Andrew Browne Cunningham of Hyndhope, Admiral of the Fleet. Admiral Cunningham tells of his naval experiences of almost 50 years, giving a great deal of emphasis to the part played by the British Fleet in World War II. This is a picturesque account of a man's life work.

"I think," the new stenographer announced triumphantly, "that the boss has decided to keep me!"

"Has he said anything?" her friend asked.

"No, but this morning he bought me a dictionary!"

STOUT ON THE AIR

Hello, ladies and gentlemen. I welcome you to listen to another in a series of broadcasts to acquaint you with The Stout Institute and opportunities available at this state owned college. These programs are presented to help you, as high school students or proud parents, in planning for the future.

As you remember in our first broadcast we introduced you to our college. In succeeding meetings we have covered such topics as "Careers in Industrial Arts", "Student Life at Stout", "General Education Opportunities at Stout", and in future meetings we will be discussing opportunities for Careers in Home Economics.

The script for our programs is written by Stout faculty members. The Radio Program Coordinator is Mr. Norman Ziemann; Technical advisor is Mr. David Barnard. Mr. Phil Ruehl helps with the sound effects and in the running of the sound recorder. For the most part the dialogue is carried on by Stout students. Some of the students taking part in past broadcasts are "Corky" Collette, Ray Burkhalter, George Sampson Stolp, Roberts Harris, Beverly Hedlund, and Gaylord Boyer. The announcer for our programs is Richard Duthler.

In presenting these broadcasts we have seen into many problems and difficulties some of which are in script writing, matching of the musical background with the script, and in producing sound effects such as doors closing, foot steps and running machines. These problems all add to the opportunities of the student at Stout and are attacked with the same vigor as more rewarding endeavors.

We invite you to turn in on our next Saturday and every Saturday at 12:45 over WMNE, your Red Cedar Neighbor in Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Don't forget to give us your reactions to our broadcast.

JEROME ALT TELLS OF WORK AT SOUTHERN

The following is a letter received from Mr. Jerome Alt:

My past three years have been spent at Southern State Teachers College, Springfield. Springfield is a small South Dakota town located along the banks of the mighty Missouri River.

Southern is a small teachers college which is devoted to the training of liberal arts and industrial arts teachers. In 1949, an extensive building program began. Since that time two new Industrial Arts buildings have been constructed and a third is in progress. Much of my time these past three years has been spent in shop planning and the purchase of equipment.

My teaching assignment has been entirely in the field of trades and industrial arts. Auto mechanics, general metals, woodwork and drawing have been some of the courses I taught. In addition to my teaching load, I am faculty advisor for two fraternities.

When I left Fair Oaks in 1949, the family count was one wife, Rosa Mary and two boys, Tom and Jerry. The count remains the same.

We're looking forward to another summer in Menomonee at which time I will continue work toward my Masters Degree.

Sincerely,
Jerome J. Alt

MR. AND MRS. WARREN THOMAS ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thomas announce the birth of a daughter, Christine Ann, on February 22. Mr. Thomas, M. S. '50, is teaching at Wausau, Wisconsin. Mrs. Thomas is the former Verena Price '48.

JOHN M. BROPHY, CLASS OF '38 HOLDS INTERESTING JOB

Professor John M. Brophy, 1938 grad, of personnel administration at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, has an interesting job which keeps him busy traveling. Mr. Brophy attends various conferences at which he holds sessions dealing with industrial training.

AHLFS WRITE OF TEACHING POSITIONS

Dear Bob,

After graduating from Stout in '49 I began teaching in Sheboygan. We have a nice set-up. I'm teaching industrial arts in the elementary level. My classes are made up of seventh and eighth grade boys. At present we are organized for teaching a three area general shop. This includes drawing, woodworking and bench metal. More areas are being planned and will be added in the future.

I've spent the past two summers at the University of Minnesota working on my Masters degree. If all goes well, I should receive it this summer.

My wife, the former Marjorie Thull '48, is also teaching in the Sheboygan School system. She teaches home economics on the elementary level.

At the present time there are about a dozen Stout grads here in Sheboygan. We get together occasionally and chat over the good old days at Stout. We, Margie and I, would like to send "greetings" to all those who might read this in the Stoutonia.

Sincerely,

Tex.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

LYMAN BERG IS TEACHER AT MILWAUKEE

Dear Bob:

I taught Industrial Arts in the high school at Ladysmith, Wisconsin for a little over a year before being annexed by the armed forces for three and one-half years. While in service I was also annexed by a former Stout Home Ec. student Gladys Frogner, who consented to help me to change her last name to mine.

After severing all connections with Uncle Sam's Air Force in 1946, I resumed teaching in Ladysmith. Our first child, Kristine Jo, was born there in October, 1946. In January, 1948, I resigned my position and returned to The Stout Institute to complete my graduate work. While we were living at Fair Oaks, my wife gave birth to our second daughter, Karen Diane. As I look back on that event, I can recall that the poor baby remained nameless for a week because our "Organization" and "Travel and Flow" charts called for a he-baby and no female names had been selected.

After mixing graduate courses and diapers, research papers and fuel oil shortages, part-time work and field trips, coffee conferences and discussion groups, the Berg team finally cornered an M. S. degree and accepted a job in the Milwaukee Public Schools in the fall of 1948.

During the first two years in Milwaukee I taught Industrial Arts in two grade schools, spending one-half week in each school. After this "apprenticeship" period I was assigned to my present location the Solomon Juneau High School, near the western edge of Milwaukee.

The building is a beautiful one, about 20 years old, and has been kept in excellent condition by mutual cooperation among the maintenance force, the students, and the faculty, (for instance, during inclement weather everyone removes their overshoes at the doors to help keep the nicely waxed corridors clean.)

The cabinetmaking shop at Juneau is my responsibility and is quite large, consisting of four rooms and a machine area along almost the entire side of the building. The power equipment consists mostly of heavy-duty production machinery—Yates-American, Oliver, and some Delta. The various units are as follows: ten woodworking lathes, two drill presses, a 12" jointer, a 24" planer, a mortising machine, a tool grinder, a 30" bandsaw, a 16" double arbor circular saw, a 4" belt sander, a jig saw, a shaper, a portable router, and a 2 1/2" portable sander.

In addition, there are 40 woodworking benches and hand tools enough to operate at capacity. Usually the Junior High classes come close to filling every work station, but the Senior High classes are somewhat smaller.

In addition to five or six shop classes a day I have a home room, am responsible for assigning and repairing all the student lockers, and carry a load of extra-curricular activities such as clubs, sports, etc.

In order to obtain a better background for my shop work, I have been taking extra courses at various night and in-service training schools. Right now I'm spending six hours a week in a Patternmaking class at the Milwaukee Vocational School. It is interesting work, but it does consume a lot of free time.

Sincerely, Lyman J. Berg

STOUT BECOMING POULTRY COLLEGE?

We have some poultry men on campus this quarter. Bill Banks and Don Sargent have taken up chicken raising since the weekend of the U.N. conference in Madison.

It seems they were attending the carnival at the University and tried their luck at the booth called a duck or a date. If they could ring the ducks head they could have their choice of a date with a sorority chick or a bout with the real farm type baby chick. Since the fellows were already accompanied by two women they accepted with open arms the 3-day old Rhode Island Red chicken.

This chick has really seen the world. After spending one night in a girls dormitory it boarded a car, along with its two caretakers for Menomone and The Stout Institute.

Someone named the chick Beverly after some blonde who also chirps a lot without saying anything.

Mama Banks, so called because of the slight favoritism shown him by Beverly, has prepared a home made incubator with controlled heat. If any poultry raisers would like to learn the method you may see Mr. Banks at anytime.

They purchased 5 cents worth of chicken feed and it has a special waterer, compliments of Jan's restaurant in Maunston.

At first Beverly woke the boys at 6:30 every morning but now she is trained so they can awaken her at 7:00.

Bill says that Beverly is very lonesome, just loves attention, and would welcome visitors at any time.

This chicken is strictly legal since it was chaperoned by Dean M. Price.

WOODMANSIE PRES. OF SCF, ELECT OFFICERS

Stout Christian Fellowship elected its officers for the coming year at its last meeting. Officers for the coming year are President, Lloyd Woodmansie; Vice President, Betty Johansen; Secretary, Nancy Kurath; Treasurer, Ellen Russell; Historian, Ruth Feldt; Librarian, Deloris Sauvey; Inter-Religious Council representative, Bob Marsh.

The group is looking forward to a good year and invites you to come to any of its meetings. Everyone is welcome.

The train pulled into the station and a traveler on the platform called to a small boy and tossed him a coin. "Son," he said, "Here's 50 cents. Get me a sandwich and get one for yourself."

Just as the train was pulling out, the boy ran back to the platform where the passenger was waiting for him.

"Here's your quarter, mister," he called. "They only had one sandwich."

SUMMER POSTS OPEN FOR DIETICIANS

Home Economics students who wish to secure experience in the field of dietetics during the summer will have an unusual opportunity to obtain valuable experience in a number of Wisconsin hospitals. Dean Kirk announces that the Professional Education Committee of the Wisconsin Dietetic Association has contacted Dietary Departments in Wisconsin hospitals to learn where food and nutrition majors can get practical hospital experience next summer.

Listed below are hospitals which would like to have college students to assist their vacation relief program:

- Salaries for these relief positions will vary. Students who wish to contact the hospitals can obtain further information for doing so in Dean Kirk's Office.

MSM CONFERENCE IS ATTENDED BY 200

The Methodist Student Movement of the state of Wisconsin held its annual spring conference March 28-30 at Whitewater, Wisconsin.

The theme of the conference was "What God Hath Joined Together." The main speaker was Dr. Irwin of Garrett Bible Institute at Evanston, Illinois who gave several topics on marriage. Bishop Northcott attended the conference and spoke on several occasions to the group.

There was a record breaking attendance of nearly 200 students from 18 colleges in the state of Wisconsin.

Stout was represented by 19 students and advisors which included Miss Harper and Dr. Salyer. Fred Kajihara and Wayne Coleman represented Stout on the state council.

LSA INVITES ALL TO EASTER CONCERT, FILM

An Easter Concert and full length sound movie both at one meeting is what L.S.A. has to offer this Palm Sunday, April 6.

At 3:30 p.m. the annual Easter Concert presentation of the "Seven Last Words of Christ" by Our Saviour's Church Choir will be given at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church. Also present will be the St. Olaf String Quartette which will furnish accompaniment and special numbers.

At the close of the concert an LSA supper will be served in the church parlors. Following the supper a sound movie titled "With This Ring" will be shown. The movie is on the theme of marriage and following its showing a short discussion will be held.

Plan to attend this special afternoon and evenings events and grow in the spirit of this Easter season; enjoy the special music of the very able groups presenting the concert, also a noted L.S.A. supper and the fellowship of the group.

Your attention is called to the attractive posters by the library entrance concerning these Palm Sunday events and please sign the supper list.

DON'T FORGET THE P. A. EASTER SALE

Have you done your Easter shopping? Here is your chance to do just that before you leave for home. Everything from delicious delicacies to place mats to eat them on will be sold by the Pallas Athene Sorority in the Home Economics corridor on Monday and Tuesday, April 7 and 8.

For only a nickel you may be the lucky winner of the traditional Easter Basket filled with candy, fruit, and nuts, so don't forget to purchase sticks of gum from the P.A. girls. Who knows? You may be the lucky one!

FOB CREW WINS GRUDGE GAME

"Last Minute" Turk Nabs Hook Shot For 67-66
Score Over Game Kafoos

On March 27 the Kappa Phi Sigma and the Phi Omega Beta basketball teams met for the annual "Grudge Game". The FOB's pulled the game out of the fire on a basket by Karl Turk with 5 seconds left to win by a score of 67 to 66.

The FOB's started out as though they would run the Kafoos into the next state running up an early 16 to 4 lead. Then "Stretch" Arnetveit and "Radar" Mosher found the range and cut the deficit to 17 to 11 at the end of the first quarter.

The KFS boys kept whittling away at the FOB lead and tied the score at 30 all with 2 minutes left in the first half. Neil Hoepfner and "Stretch" Arnetveit each hit a basket to give the KFS a 34 to 30 lead. Bob Erickson countered with a hook shot to make the half time score read KFS 34, FOB 32.

Opening the second half the KFS hit two quick buckets and took their longest lead of the game 38 to 36. The FOB team led by Turk surged back strong to take a 48 to 47 lead at the end of the threequarter mark. Midway thru the third quarter Denny "Dennis the Menace" Chinnock twisted an ankle and was helped from the floor. This was a blow to the hopes of the KFS as his ball handling was sorely needed in the last stages of the fourth quarter.

The fourth quarter saw the lead see-saw back and forth as the teams traded baskets and free throws. With three minutes left the KFS took a three point lead on a basket by Ochs and a freethrow by Oberpriller.

At this point Turk took charge of the game as he tossed in the last two baskets to give the FOB's a one point lead with 5 seconds left. A shot from the middle of the floor went over the backboard as the gun went off giving the FOB's their first victory over the Kafoos in the last five games.

Bob Erickson was high point man for the evening's activities with 21 points on 10 baskets and 1 free throw. "Radar" Mosher had the screen tuned in for 16 points to pace the KFS team with 6 buckets and 4 free throws.

In the pre-game warmups Bob Erickson stole the show as he looked more like a basket and backboard than a ball player as he wore a miniature basket tied to his neck and a big bonnet to cover his curly locks. The rest of the "Team" was similarly attired from "Bubbles" Jacobsen to "Diapers" Seaberg. Any relation to this team and the Globe Trotter was purely a figment of someone's imagination. Hats off to the FOB's for a good pregame show.

Let us pause to give "thanks" to Joe "Cheerleader" Stebly and his crew. The coaches for this event were John Christensen for the victorious FOB five and "Bones" Schultz and Roundy Asman for the courageous defenders of the Blue and Gold KFS.

Co-chairmen for this event were John Christensen of Phi Omega Beta and Jim Cook of Kappa Phi Sigma.

TEXTILES CLASS VISITS WOOLEN MILLS TUES.

The Textiles Class visited the Chipewa Woolen Mills and garment factory on Tuesday morning. The class was shown the processes by which wool is woven into material. A guide explained the complete processes from dusting and washing to the final rolling and decanting. Later they visited the garment factory where they saw how garments are cut out, sewed, inspected, and pressed. The class was under the leadership of Miss VanNess, instructor in Textiles. Friday the second class will make this trip also.

FURNISHINGS CLASS TRIP TO CITIES

On April 8, all the members of the Home Furnishings classes here at Stout will take a field trip to St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The group will stop at the city building in St. Paul to observe the Indian statue by Carl Miller and the St. Paul Gallery and School of Art. Then they will go to Dayton and see the dishes, silver and glassware, and the various furnished rooms Dayton has for display.

Other places of interest that will be visited are the Modern Center, a small shop in Minneapolis that features the most modern furniture and dishes, and the Walker Art Center which has many valuable and lovely paintings by prominent artists.

Every semester Miss Annon takes the girls of her Home Furnishings on a comparable field trip. We're sure many girls remember the field trip and that many are looking forward to when they can have this enjoyable experience.

WAA BUSINESS MEETING DISCUSSES TEA

The WAA held a business meeting Monday evening before the bowling game.

A tea for April 23rd was the main topic of discussion. Ardis Mandercheid, general chairman for the tea, presented her tentative plans and suggestions. She asked for some committees to take care of food, decorations, music, and other things.

The tea will be given in the Harvey Memorial and will be decorated with an athletic theme.

ARE YOU GOING TO THE JUNIOR PROM?

And here are the reactions of several typical Stout Students when asked by the Galloping Barber Pole, "are you going to the prom?"

Martha Van Twerp: "Well, if that lughead doesn't take me, I'll beat his head in!"

"Woody" Birdball: "Wal, I don't know, out Montana we didn't associate with girls."

Pluggy LaRue: "If someone will lend me his car for the evening I'll go."

Harold Highha: "I don't know, no girl has asked me yet."

Piledriver MacHooks: "Yeah I'll be a little late, my gal's rasslin in the cities that afternoon."

Mithter Leroy Throngheart: "Thure bitther, if you'll. . . Editor's note: Leroy stated that if he is in town that evening he will probably go to the prom."

Lulu LoFlirt: "Oh, of course I'll go, but I haven't decided whether to let Harry, Jack, Joe, Bill, or Arthur take me yet."

Harry, Jack, Joe, and Arthur: "Naw we're going fishing."

Well, folks, go to the prom, and you, too will see for sure which of those boys turns out to be the fish instead of the fisherman.

STOUT CLASSES TO CONSTRUCT MILK HOUSE

To assist the thousands of Wisconsin farmers who are required to construct a milk cooling house on their farm premises by November 1952, The Stout Institute is building a milk house which will embody new materials, adequate construction, and exceed the new minimum regulations set by the Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture.

Dahn County through the county agent, Wilfred Phillipsen and the local Carpenters' Union with the assistance of their business agent, Louis Larson, are cooperating with The Stout Institute, Division of Industrial Education. The college students in General Woodwork and Carpentry classes under the supervision of K. T. Olsen, assistant professor of industrial education, woodworking and carpentry, are drawing plans, developing the model, and building the structure.

BILLY—"But darling, why are you so distant? Last night you told me there was something about me you could love."

LILY—"I know but you spent it."

MEN URGED TO EXAMINE NAVAL CADETS

College men with no immediate plans for their post-graduate future except a tour of military duty have an opportunity for a Naval Reserve commission and an aviator's wings in the Naval Aviation Cadet program, the Navy announces.

The enlisting office for North Dakota, Minnesota, and the Northwest part of Wisconsin, is at the Naval Air Station, Wold-Chamberlain Field, Minneapolis, Minnesota. Interested men can procure applications by mail from that office but they must report there in person later for physical examination. However, qualified Aviation Cadet applicants living at a distance from Minneapolis will be furnished free government transportation, according to Lieut. Comdr. R. E. Tonrey, Cadet procurement officer there.

To be eligible to fly with the Navy, an applicant must have 60 semester hours or 90 credit hours, must be unmarried and remain so during training, must not have received induction orders, and must pass physical and written aptitude examinations.

Flight training requires approximately 18 months, after which Cadets become Ensigns in the Naval Reserve or Second Lieutenants in the Marine Reserve and are assigned to operating squadrons, either on carriers or ashore, depending on their specialty. Commissioned aviators receive $355.00 monthly, if single, $430.00 if they have dependents.

They are obliged to serve a total of four years, which includes time in training. They may then seek a lifelong career in Naval Aviation, or revert to civilian life as Reserve aviators.

BUD RYDER COMPLETES NEW DISPLAY CASE

Stout Institute now has a display board that can be used at conventions and conferences. Bud Ryder planned and assembled this display case which is now almost completed. It contains the Stout tower with a foreground of trees and a background of sky and clouds. The display is three dimensional and lighted indirectly. The lettering over the picture is from Olson's Plastic Shop. This display is simple, attractive and pleasing to the eye.

SIG TAU INITIATION HELD AT THE HARBOR

Sigma Tau Gamma's formal initiation banquet was held Thursday evening, March 27, at The Harbor. The old members and the seven new members enjoyed a meal of family style chicken. The banquet completed three weeks of pledge duties.

The new members are: Tom Connell, David Gresch, Louis Kort, Dufur Peters, Lawrence Smith, Edward Steineke, and James Wallesverd.

As a climax to their pledge duties, a well planned program of entertainment was provided by the initiates, after the meal. Much new talent was discovered in this pledge class. An original production entitled "The Baby" was presented. The evening was climaxed by singing the fraternity song "The Rose of Sigma Tau."

AUDIO VISUAL REPRESENTATIVES HOLD WORKSHOP

Lloyd Whydotski, head of the printing department, and David Barnard, audio visual education director, are shown above conducting a production workshop Friday evening for the audio visual education representatives of the Eau Claire Public Schools, Eau Claire State Teachers College, and River Falls.

AUDIO VISUAL WORKSHOP HERE APRIL 11

Audio visual education representatives of the Eau Claire Public Schools, River Falls, and Eau Claire State Colleges attended a production workshop conducted Friday evening by David Barnard, audio visual education director, and Lloyd Whydotski, head of the printing department.

Louis Schlock, director of audio visual education and principal of the campus school, Eau Claire State College, attended with his associate, Gilbert Tanner, and Aaron Mickelson, director of audio visual education for the Eau Claire Public Schools. River Falls State College was represented by its audio visual director, Robert Fiesler.

After an examination of Stout's audio visual production facilities, the group attended a showing of the home economics film, "Design Your Future," and the "Job Analysis" film-strip. A discussion of methods used in their production followed.

Actual problems encountered in the development of educational films were studied through viewing a work print for the block cutting film now being produced co-operatively by the Audio Visual and Printing departments.

A highlight of the meeting was a demonstration, by Lloyd Whydotski, of the Hot Cell method for producing film titles.

"CONCERT IN SONG" TO BE AT CONVO APRIL 30

"A Modern Concert in Song" presented by Ralph Nielsen and Audrey Paul will be held at the convocation on April 30.

Ralph Nielsen, Chicago's brilliant young tenor, and Audrey Paul, glamorous contralto, assisted by Cornelius Vleugel, widely known soloist and accompanist, at the piano will present everything from grand opera to the most popular tunes from current Broadway musicals. A feature of their program will be a popular operatic scene in costume taken either from grand opera or light opera.

Ralph Nielsen has made more than 600 solo appearances over radio networks and has been featured soloist in WGN-Mutual's "Chicago Theater of the Air"; regular guest soloist on "Treasury of Music"; and soloist on his own program, "Songs of the Heart." In 1949 he made his operatic debut in two performances of Puccini's "Madam Butterfly" at the Grant Park concert, Erich Leinsdorf, Conductor.

Audrey Paul was acclaimed the best woman singer at the Chicago and Musical Festival in 1947. With the Chicago Opera Company she sang the role of the Sandman in "Hansel and Gretel." She was Mercedes in "Carmen" for the Grant Park Opera Guild. Other appearances at Grant Park include "Midsummer-Night's Dream" and "Merry Widow." She has also toured as guest artist with Wayne King's Orchestra.

CHARMAINE CHOPP IS PRESIDENT OF PHI U

Charmaine Chopp, a junior from Kohler, Wis., was elected president of the National Honorary home economics fraternity, Phi Upsilon Omicron at their meeting Monday, Mar. 31. Other officers elected at that time were: Geraldine Erickson, vice president; Hazel Nelson, recording secretary; Nancy Hauser, corresponding secretary; Betty Johansen, treasurer; Ardis Olsen, Candler editor; Ardis Manderscheid, Chaplin; Ann Rossmiller, historian; Beverly Henderson, librarian; and Nadine Brown, marshal.

These new officers will work with the old ones for the remainder of the year.

FIVE ATTEND NSA MEET IN MILWAUKEE

Five Stout students, Ann Rossmiller, Gerry Erickson, Harold Woodworth, Milan Huley, and Hugh Schmall, attended the regional conference of the NSA held at the Milwaukee State College last week end.

Although Stout is no longer a member of the National Student Association, the officers of the organization invited representatives from Stout to attend the conference which began Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The conference was divided into 3 workshops: one discussed student government; another discussed "Why NSA?"; and the other was for editors of college newspapers.

Representatives from Beloit, Platteville, Eau Claire, Milwaukee Downer, Mount Mary, Milton College, Mission House, and the University of Wisconsin were there besides those from Stout.

PRES. FRYKLUND GUEST SPEAKER AT MANKATO

President Verne C. Fryklund was the guest speaker at the second annual industrial arts conference held at Mankato State Teachers college, Mankato, Thursday, March 20.

Industrial arts teachers from 30 southern Minnesota communities were guests of the Industrial Arts club of the college for dinner in the college cafeteria, and after the dinner, Dr. Fryklund presented his talk, "Only the Free Can be Educated." Pres. Fryklund was introduced by Maurice J. Nelson, professor of industrial arts education and long-time friend of Dr. Fryklund.

Dr. Fryklund included in his speech that the United States is strong because it has both academic and technical education supplementing each other. He defined technical education as including engineering education, vocational education, and industrial arts education.

Dr. Fryklund based his talk upon experience gained in 1948 when he served as a consultant on vocational education in Japan.

S CLUB PICKS APRIL 27-28 FOR CARNIVAL

April 27 and 28 is carnival time at Stout. Under the supervision of the S Club, the various organizations on campus set up stands and concessions to provide fun for students and towns people and to raise funds for the athletic department. This year the proceeds will go for a much needed whirlpool.

Things begin to pop in the gym Friday night and will continue Saturday afternoon. Come at any time and stay as long as you want. Mr. Knight will take over at 8:30 as auctioneer for the white elephant auction in the auditorium. S Club members have collected articles from local business men for this particular phase of the weekend. A SSA dance following the auction will wind up the night in fine style.

Those of the S Club who deserve special credit are Chairman Bob Ohm, and his assistant Bob Roloff. Joe Stebly, Mark Reimers and John Widmar are responsible for the auction, while the whole organization has contributed time and effort for the carnival's success. To raise the necessary amount, the boys need the cooperation of the whole student body.

DR. J. HOOPER TO PRESENT CONVO APR. 23

Dr. J. Gerald Hooper will be the April 23 Convocation speaker at The Stout Institute. Dr. Hooper's illustrated lecture is entitled "Tramp Steamer To Trinidad" and will recount his experiences of his trip to Jamaica, Curacao, Venezuela, Haiti, and Trinidad.

Dr. Hooper received his degree, Doctor of Dental Surgery, with scholastic honors from the Chicago College on Dental Surgery and taught at Loyola University and practiced dentistry in Chicago. He is the designer of special laboratory equipment used by the United States Army and Navy and large industrial concerns.

In addition to his professional activities he is active in photography and enjoys telling stories of his travels. During his lecture at The Stout Institute he will include much of the history and legends of the countries he has visited.

COACH STORTI ACCEPTS MONTANA POSITION

Leaves May 1 To Accept Position With Montana State College.

Tony Storti announced today he will resign as head football coach at Stout Institute to accept a position with Montana State college at Bozeman. His resignation is effective May 1.

The 29 year-old grid mentor will leave for Bozeman some time early in May to start a 20-day spring practice there. He is expected to return to the University of Wisconsin this summer to complete work on his master's degree. His wife and two children will remain in Menomonie until early summer.

During his four years at Stout, Coach Storti pulled the Blue Devil gridders out of the cellar and built them into a major power in the college conference. The Blue Devils, under Storti, chalked up 20 victories from 1948 through 1951, which is more games than the school won in the entire period preceding the advent of Storti.

In his first year Storti's team took second place in conference standings. The following year it went on to cop the conference crown, and in the succeeding two years, second place honors.

Storti's record at Stout is 20 wins, 6 losses and two ties.

Storti came to Stout from the University of Delaware where he played collegiate football for three years. While in service he played for two years with Camp Grant and was a member of the College All-star team which met the Chicago Bears in the summer of 1944.

A native of Eveleth, Minn., Storti was an outstanding high school athlete. He played for Stout two years before entering service.

Storti was selected to take over the reins of Montana State football team from among 57 applicants. He was one of three asked to appear for an interview and received official notification from the school by telephone Tuesday night.

"It was a difficult decision to make," Storti remarked. "I hate to leave such a fine school as Stout and, moreover, such an athletically-minded community as Menomonie."

"However," he added, "I feel this a great and challenging opportunity for me."

Dale Diggeress, who has been Storti's right-hand man as line coach here, will accompany the grid mentor to Bozeman.

Montana State college is a member of the Rocky Mountain conference which includes such schools as the University of Wyoming, University of

BALLENTINE SPEAKS BEFORE EPT MEETING

Mr. Ballentine, Superintendent of Menomonie schools, spoke to EPSILON PI TAU Monday, March 31, at 7:30 p.m. His topic was the relationship between the superintendent and his prospective teacher. He asked for questions before his talk to get ideas on the particular interests of the group. Some of the questions asked were: What are some of the things looked for in a letter of application? What are some of the chief reasons for losing a position? How much does first impression count toward obtaining a position?

Mr. Ballentine said that the superintendent is a hurdle which all prospective teachers must get by. Two things which he looks for in a letter of application are if his name and Menomonie are spelled correctly. He feels that people who have not developed exactitudes will misspell names. He emphasized that we should do things right. Other points which he looks for are that the letter is businesslike, straightforward, and in correct form. It need not be sensational. He looks for continuity in the candidate's service record because he feels that a person who has moved a lot probably isn't too stable.

The superintendent frequently knows quite a bit about the candidate prior to the interview. He may talk about seemingly irrelevant things in order to learn how the applicant's mind works, what kind of person he is, and something about his poise and self-control. Appearance of the candidate is also taken into consideration.

Superintendent Ballentine offered some information to assist the candidate. Be yourself. Don't try to put on an act because it usually falls flat. Play straight-forward. If you don't know the answer, say so, and, if asked an opinion on a hypothetical problem, venture a solution.

Mr. Ballentine is interested in the preparation and grades in the subjects which the candidate expects to teach. He likes a teacher who gets a long well with others. The teacher should also be willing to accept assistance from his supervisors.

The beginning teachers should have a professional rather than a personal attitude toward the job. Mr. Ballentine states that discipline causes the most trouble for beginning teachers. He said that very few teachers start out the year with a good disciplinary class. A good teacher should never convey an attitude of uncertainty.

In conclusion, Mr. Ballentine stated that he feels there are two types of teachers — those that should be paid more and those that should be fined. The only thing a teacher teaches is what the student learns.

"CAREERS IN H.E." TOLD ON RADIO PROGRAM

"Careers in Home Economics Education" was the title of the radio broadcast Saturday, April 5, over WMNE by the students of The Stout Institute, division of Home Economics.

This program was of special interest to high school seniors who are contemplating college entrance, for it discussed the high school subjects required for entrance to The Stout Institute, accreditation, some of the professional home economics courses, including those in art and tea room management, and recreational activities provided for the students.

Richard Duthler of Freeport, Illinois, and president of the Stout Student Association was narrator. Harriet Homer, a senior of Galesville, discussed college life with Jolene Chryst, a freshman from Menomonie. Joan Schwennemann, a junior from Grove City, Minnesota, talked about student teaching with Olive Coe, a freshman from Whitewater.

Additional information concerning The Stout Institute and its offerings in Home Economics, Industrial Arts, or preprofessional education may be obtained by writing to the college. A helpful bulletin, ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS FREQUENTLY ASKED ABOUT THE STOUT INSTITUTE may be had for the asking.

Most of the snow and ice has melted making the ground soft and wet. This soft ground combined with warm days will make the grass grow, but we have to give the grass a chance—keep off the grass.

There are many bicycle tracks and footprints on the new campus. We realize that most of these were not made by Stout students, but we should all do our best to keep those people off the grass who are responsible for them.

"Keep your boots off the roots," "Keep off the grass," or whichever way it may be said, holds a lot of meaning this time of the year.

MISS MEILLER TO ATTEND
DIETETIC MEET

Participating in the Middle States Public Health Association meeting in Milwaukee on April 7, 8, and 9 was Miss Ella Jane Meiller, Head of the Department of Food and Nutrition of the Division of Home Economics of The Stout Institute at Menomonie.

Those attending the conference included doctors, nurses, dentists, and nutritionists from twelve states. Miss Meiller took part in a panel discussion entitled, "The Parental Period—A Challenge to Public Health" on Wednesday.

Before coming to The Stout Institute Miss Meiller was head of the Nutrition Clinic and Research Associate of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, University of Chicago. Here she participated in the study of the effect of the parental diet on the health of the mother and infant. On the findings of this research the JOURNAL OF THE AMERICAN DIETETIC ASSOCIATION December, 1951 published an article, "Observations on Protein Intake and the Health of the Mother and Baby—Part I Clinical and Laboratory Findings: Part II Food Intake" by W. J. Diechman, N.D., E. J. Meiller and others.

Miss Meiller will also attend the state convention of the Wisconsin Dietetic Association at Madison on April 18 and 19 and serve on one of the committees.

WEA SECTIONAL MEET

Dr. Dwight L. Agnew, Head of the Social Science Department of The Stout Institute at Menomonie, Wisconsin, last week attended a special sectional meeting of the Wisconsin Education Association held at Milwaukee.

The International Relations Committee, of which Dr. Agnew is a member, has been making plans for an International Relations Session to be held on the first day of the Wisconsin State Education Association Convention next November in Milwaukee.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER
BANQUET A SUCCESS

Mothers of the girls of The Stout Institute were warmly welcomed last weekend at a banquet in their honor Saturday evening. Highlight of the banquet was a talk by Mrs. Rebecca Nelson, Director of Dormitories. She spoke of her trip to Europe and touches of the mother daughter relationship in other countries as well as here at home.

Congregational ladies prepared and served the banquet which was held in the basement of the Congregational Church. The menu included juice cocktail, baked ham, sweet potatoes, lime horseradish salad, green beans, homemade rolls and butter, preserves, angel food cake with lemon topping and coffee.

In the mother's corsages emphasis was on yellow daffodils and varied colored daisies. The tables were decorated with potted flowers and bright colored place cards.

The dinner was opened by a prayer by Miss McCalmont, who is one of the YWCA advisors. Toastmistress for the evening was Edna Gaffron, president elect of YWCA. Phyllis Horning, present president, gave the Toast to the Mothers. She outlined the many services of our mother using the letter "M" as her theme. She was followed by her mother who gave the Toast to the Daughters. She began the toast in this manner, "One score and one year ago I brought forth into this world a new daughter, conceived in love and". She closed with the phrase "your son's a son until he takes a wife, but your daughter's your daughter for life."

Following the toasts Audrey Goodell sang "Loves Old Sweet Song." She was accompanied at the piano by Iris Buf.

Mrs. Nelson's talk on her trip to Europe was a climax to the impressive program. She brought in many stories which related to a mother-child relationship. These heart touching incidents were intermingled with humorous anecdotes making very interesting listening. She told of visits to Paris, where she was impressed by the palace of Versailles and the sidewalk cafes where "if you sat long enough you could see everyone in the world go by". She visited Geneva Switzerland and Rome, Italy. While in Germany she visited the mother of Maria West, one of the German girls who attended Stout last year. She was impressed by the serenity of the Scandinavian countries, Norway and Denmark, which she visited. The journey ended in Scotland and England. Mrs. Nelson made the trip with her daughter. She said that she hoped everyone of the mothers would have an opportunity to share a similar experience with their daughters.

An Englishman was conversing with the clerk in the Ambassador hotel.

"Here's a riddle," said the clerk. "My mother gave birth to a child. It was neither my brother or my sister. Who was it?"

Englishman: "I can't guess."

Clerk: "It was I."

Englishman: "Ha, Ha! Very clever. I must remember that."

The Englishman then told the story at his club. Said he: "Here's a riddle, old top. My mother gave birth to a child, and it was neither my brother or my sister. Who was it? What! You can't guess? Do you give up?"

"Ha, ha! It was the clerk at the Ambassador hotel."

The night was dark and the hour late when the lone merry-maker advanced unsteadily toward the lone lamp-post. Gingerly touching the rough surface, he felt about until assured of a strong support and then leaned back, resting.

After a few minutes, deciding again to pursue his alcoholic path, he turned and felt carefully about the surface of the post.

Round and round he walked, never taking his hands off the concrete. Amusement gave way to despair, and at last, sinking down on the pavement, he gasped, "My Gosh! I'm wall-ed in."

A mild little man walked into an income-tax inspector's office, sat down and beamed on everyone.

"What can we do for you?" asked the inspector.

"Nothing, thank you," replied the little man, "I just wanted to meet the people I'm working for."

People talk of change of opinion as if it were a disgrace. To me it is a sign of life. If you are alive, you must change.

A contractor went out to look over one of his postwar homes. Walking up to a house in which a carpenter was working, he whispered: "Can you hear me through this wall?"

"Yep!"

"Can you see me?"

"Not very well."

"That," said the contractor jubilantly, "is what I call a darned good wall."

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

H. BERGHUIS TEACHES AT TAMPA, FLORIDA

In response to a request sent out by Robert Swanson, national secretary-treasurer of the Stout Alumni Association, for material concerning the alumni for the Stoutonia, many alumni have sent letters explaining their positions held since graduating. Following is another of the letters which Mr. Swanson has recently received.

Dear Bob,
I received your request for some information pertaining to my present teaching position. Since your letter arrived only a few days ago, I found it impossible to meet the deadline you had set.

This is my first year in the Tampa school system, and I can say I like it very much. In fact my whole family is keen on Florida, especially Tampa. Tampa is a city with a population of nearly 200,000, but it has that small city atmosphere.

I am teaching in the Woodrow Wilson junior high school which has a total enrollment of about 1,000 students. At present, I teach mostly woodworking, but expect to expand into a general shop gradually. My equipment includes six four-place woodworking benches, two wood lathes, a drill press, a tool grinder, one band saw, a jig saw, and an old table saw. We acquired the band saw and one of the lathes this year, and we plan to replace the old table saw next year.

I teach five classes a day, three eighth grade and two ninth grade. The classes run between 15 and 24 boys which is the maximum. Classes begin at 8:50 in the morning and end at 3:00 in the afternoon. There is also one other shop teacher at Wilson who teaches Mechanical Drawing, but he also teaches two classes in Mathematics.

Hello to all the instructors and our friends at Stout.

Sincerely,
Harvey V. Berghius, M.S. '51.

GAMMA DELTA MEMBERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

A meeting of Gamma Delta was held Sunday evening at the parish hall. Supper was served and games were played. It has been planned that about six students will attend a conference at Stevens Point the 26 and 27 of this month.

There was also a discussion about a hike and plans for church nite next fall.

PHILOS BECOME MEMBERS OF TRI SIGMA

The Philomathean Sorority of The Stout Institute was formally installed as Beta Pi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma, national social sorority at ceremonies at The Stout Institute, April 4-6. Beta Pi is the 50th chapter to be installed into Tri Sigma and the third chapter to be installed in Wisconsin. The other two Wisconsin chapters are located at Whitewater and Milwaukee. In 1912 the Philomathean Society was the first sorority to be organized on the Stout campus and now forty years later it is the first sorority to become affiliated with a national organization.

The installing officers of Sigma Sigma Sigma were Mrs. W. M. Dunham of Muskego, Okla., Executive Secretary Council member; Mrs. Robert C. Kissinger of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Ceremonials Director; Miss Donnalee Lissaman of Wausau, Wisconsin, Alumnae Chapters' Editor of the Triangle; and Miss Marilyn Schmitt of Davenport, Iowa, Music Director.

Also participating in the installation ceremonies were Misses Mary Jean Blesener and Marilyn Walker of Minot State Teachers College, Minot, N. D.; Misses Carolyn Flechenstein and Pauline Kapmann of Milwaukee Teachers College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Misses Mary Lou Hickcox and Nancy Karns of Whitewater Teachers College, Whitewater, Wisconsin.

Election and installation of chapter officers took place Saturday afternoon. The newly elected officers are president, Phyllis Allman of Phillips, Wis.; vice-president, Janice Wurtz of Elmwood, Wis.; treasurer Catherine Magee of Pulaski, Wis.; corresponding secretary, Phyllis Amacher of Medford, Wis.; and recording secretary, Donna Anderson of Britt, Minn.

At the installation banquet held Saturday evening at the Methodist Church Mrs. W. M. Dunham, Executive Secretary, presented the charter of Sigma Sigma Sigma to Phyllis Allman, president of Beta Pi chapter. Guest speakers for the evening were Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute and Miss Keturah Antrim, Dean of Women.

Following the final meeting of the weekend on Sunday morning the new Beta Pi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma and their guests attended church services at the Episcopal Church.

JERRY HOGAN RECEIVES M. S. DEGREE

Jerry Hogan, a Stout graduate, attended summer sessions at the University of Minnesota and completed his M. A. during the fall quarter last year. He married Jean Welch, B. S. 1949. Jerry has gone to the state of Washington to take a job in industry, following several years of teaching at Norfolk, Va., '48-49, and at Three Lakes, Wis., '49-50. His home town in Kenosha, Wis.

SMORGASBORD HELD IN TEA ROOM APRIL 3

The Smorgasbord held in the Tea Room April 3 was well attended, and it was noted that many Stout men were present.

A large variety of Easter food was served, and an Easter theme was carried out in the table centerpieces. An unusual relish tray consisting of relishes placed in a green ice water ring mold set on endive was served. Relishes will keep in this ice cold ring at ordinary room temperature for forty-five minutes. Colorful Easter eggs, which were edible, were dyed in beet juice and used as garnishes.

WSF HOLDS LAST MEET UNTIL APRIL 27

The regular meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship was held Sunday, April 6, at 5:30 o'clock.

Ruth Feldt's committee served the supper. The menu was as follows: pancakes and syrup, pork sausage, creamed peas, ice cream and milk.

A collection was taken for "Meals For Million." Rev. Reece conducted the worship service before the group partook of the communion service.

The next Wesley meeting will be held Sunday, April 27. Be sure to come to Wesley for fun, food, fellowship!

A P O HELD SEMI-FORMAL DINNER DANCE

The Alpha Phi Omega held a semi-formal dinner dance at the Hotel Marion Saturday evening after the initiation of the pledges at 5:00. The dinner was held from 7:00-8:00, followed by the dance from 8:00-11:30. George Soderberg's orchestra provided the music for dancing. Dean Price and his wife, Dr. Salyer, Mr. Chinnock, and approximately eighteen couples attended the dance.

ARTS AND CRAFTS PARTY A SUCCESS

The Stout Arts and Crafts Club wishes to extend its sincere thank you to everyone who helped make their third annual all school card party a success.

Initial credit must go to the many club members who worked on projects and to those who planned and promoted the event. But very important also were all the card playing enthusiasts who supported the party by their attendance.

The popularity of this annual event was made evident by the large attendance and by the many prizes given to the individual table game winners.

Mike Pavlicin was the lucky winner of the special door prize which consisted of six hand painted glasses and a specially made tray. Let us hope his wife is one of those careful dish washers who never breaks a glass and that it will not be too long before Mike will have a mantle to set the glasses on.

The Stout Arts and Crafts Club also wishes to thank most sincerely Mrs. Ray Kranzusch for her most generous assistance, the Stout Student Association for card tables and the following persons for the loan of their card tables: Dwight Agnew, Ralph Betterley, Dwight Chinnock, John Jarvis, Floyd Kieth, Ray Kranzusch, Harold Milnes, E. R. Oetting, K. T. Olson, Ernest Rawson, Edgar Ray, C. L. Rich, Philip Ruehl, Edwin Siefert, George Soderberg, Dean Antrim and Ray Wigen.

SIG TAU PRESENTED ONE ACT PLAY

Dress Rehearsal, Sigma Tau Gamma's recent presentation, provided a riotous half hour of entertainment for the assembly program in the Stout auditorium Wednesday morning.

The play, termed a farce in one act, turned out to be just that as the Sig Tau Players portrayed the dress rehearsal of a group of amateur actors. Unforeseen incidents and uncooperative attitudes turned the rehearsal into an uproar.

Rehearsals for the production have been going on for over a month as, the Players, all novices at acting, needed extra time to prepare for their debuts.

Actors in the play were Bob Adkins, Bill Anderson, Fred Bahr, Jim Brown, Dick Duthler, Bill Hinterthuer, Sam Mikitarian, Charlie Schiferl, and George Stephenson.

Production crew was Sam Mikitarian, director, Dave Bieniasz, assistant director, Dick Duthler, lighting, Bob Spinti, stage crew, chairman, and stage crew members, Fred Kajihara, Louie Kort, Bill Banks, and Larry Smith.

NINE TEAMS JOIN IN WAA BOWLING TOURN

The WAA bowling tournament is now in full swing. There are forty girls participating in the tournament and the captains of the teams are: Betty Jacobsen, Marlys Larrabee, Catherine Magee, Ardis Mandercheid, Phyllis Amacher, Pat Jensen, Nyla Bock, Joanne Aasmundrud, and Marilyn Fredeen.

At present the competition is very close with four teams tied for the first place and no one out of the running as yet.

V. A. REPORTING—

NEWS RELEASES BY THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Veterans Administration regulations provided that a veteran, after his delimiting date, could be approved by the Veterans Administration for another course if the course is "progressive" over the previous course, and if he applied to the Veterans Administration before the completion of the previous course.

The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs has now authorized a 30-day period after completion of the previous course for such applications. The veteran's application must be received by the Veterans Administration within this 30-day period to be valid.

Many veterans have been denied additional benefits based on the previous regulations. The Veterans Administration desires to make adjustments if the veterans so denied will make the request.

The changed directive applies to denials of further education and training benefits as explained in this letter and to no other type of situation.

Please inform any veterans you know or believe to be so circumstanced in order that they may request action by the Veterans Administration.

Any clarification of this letter you desire should be referred to Mr. W.D. Robinson, Chief, Registration and Research Section.

Our library has some new fiction books that will interest many readers.

Davey, by Rebylea Hall, is a book that would surely be of interest to young people. Davey is a twelve-year old boy from a large family of share croppers. This story of his struggle to stay in school is brightened by the interesting little incidents that seem bound to happen to a boy.

The Complete Novels of Jane Austen, is a new addition to our library. This book contains the following novels: "Sense and Sensibility," "Pride and Prejudice," "Mansfield Park," "Emma," "Northanger Abbey," and "Persuasion."

Relentless Tide is written by D. A. Bonavia-Hunt, the author of a sequel, written 100 years later, to Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice." The story of "Relentless Tide" takes place in a small English village and concerns the village's leading family. The marriages of their son and daughter set off a chain of events that ends in tragedy.

The Grand Crevasse, by R. Frison-Roche, takes place in the Alpine country which the author knows well, having been a mountain climber himself. The hero of the story is a guide who falls in love with a city-bred girl vacationing in the mountains. They share the dangers of the Alps. Their marriage is affected by the call of the Alps and "leads the guide to his last crevasse."

Storti's successor at Stout has not as yet been decided.

Angus McTavish watched his small son going upstairs, three steps at a time.

"Why are you taking such big steps, son?" he asked.

"To save wearing out the carpet," the boy replied.

"Good boy," replied Angus "but don't split your trousers doing it."

MR. WHYDOTSKI MR. BARNARD TO ATTEND MEET

Mr. Lloyd Whydotski and Mr. D. P. Barnard will attend an audio-visual aids conference at Stevens College in Columbia, Missouri, April 21-25. The trip will include visits to a few high schools enroute.

Stevens College of Columbia is sponsoring its fourth annual conference on Utilization of Audio-Visual Materials in Solving Specific Educational Problems. This national conference is attended by invitation.

Mr. Whydotski, head of the Graphic Arts Dept. and Mr. Barnard, Asst. Professor of Audio-Visual Education, will be representing The Stout Institute and the state of Wisconsin. They will be featured on the program in a demonstration of the utilization of audio-visual aids in teaching graphic arts.

Last years conference was on the theme of Visual Aids in General Education. Mr. Barnard and Dr. Guy Salter, Associate Professor of Psychology and Education, attended. They brought back tape recordings of many of the sessions to be played to members of the faculty and used in a study of general education being conducted here at Stout.

There were 39 colleges represented at last year's conference, Stout being the only Wisconsin college represented.

Mr. Whydotski and Mr. Barnard will leave two days early to visit some high schools on the way. They will visit with Stout alumni in these schools and counsel any perspective Stout students. These schools include Rochester, Minnesota; Waterloo, Cedar Rapids, and Attumwa, Iowa.

EIGHT STUDENTS VISIT INFIRMARY

The following students have been patients at the infirmary in the past week: Nancy Ceagiske, measles; George Yeda, measles; Joan Peterson, cold; Dufur Peters, flu; Mary Ellen Carlson, kidney infection; Mary Asp, appendicitis; Marilyn Fredeen, cold; and Jack Luy, measles.

WHYDOTSKI, BARNARD TELL OF CONFERENCE

Mr. Lloyd Whydotski and Mr. D.P. Barnard spent last week in attending an Audio-Visual aids conference at Stevens College in Columbia, Missouri. The first part of the week was spent visiting a few high schools enroute.

This was the fourth annual conference on Utilization of Audio-Visual Materials in Solving Specific Educational Problems. The conference is attended by invitation.

Mr. Whydotski, head of the Graphic Arts Department and Mr. Barnard, Asst. Professor of Audio Visual Education, represented The Stout Institute and the state of Wisconsin. There were 40 colleges and Universities present, representing 17 states.

Stout was one of the nine colleges which set up exhibits at the conference. The exhibit included a series of cuts illustrating the steps in making a half tone engraving. There was also a mock-up of insulators and conductors which was prepared in one of Mr. Ruehl's classes. A part of the exhibit which attracted attention and many favorable comments was a three dimensional display of The Stout Institute tower which was lighted with colored lights. Literature of The Stout Institute was given out at the exhibit. This included Home Economics bulletins, Regular session catalogue, Summer Session catalogue, and the Question and Answer bulletin.

The keynote address of the conference was given by Godfrey Elliott, Vice President of Young America Films. The topic of his address was, "Developing a Philosophy Concerning the Effective Utilization of Audio Visual Materials."

Mr. Whydotski gave an illustrated lecture on the principle of color printing as a part of the afternoon program. He used the window shade chart, sketch board, color slides and opaque projection cards to illustrate the principles. He was introduced and assisted by D. P. Barnard.

That evening Mr. Barnard presented the Stout Home Economics film. He told some of the history of the film and how it had been produced, showed about 15 minutes of the film and then answered questions about it. Out of the many available films, Stout's was one of the six chosen to be used on the program.

GUAM GIRL PLANS TO ENTER STOUT

Entering the Division of Home Economics of The Stout Institute in Menomonie, Wisconsin, in September will be Maria Quichocho, of Guam. She is now a senior at the George Washington High School at Mongmong, Guam.

Recently Miss Quichocho was picked as Girl-of-the-Month by her classmates and is rated as a superior student by her teachers. She received first prize for the best essay in the Arbor Day essay contest and also placed fifth in a U.S. Merchant Marine essay contest. Miss Quichocho has chosen home economic as her major field.

MR. WIGEN PRESENT AT CHICAGO MEET

Mr. Ray A. Wigen, Director of Graduate Studies at The Stout Institute in Menomonie, Wisconsin, attended the Midwest Conference on Graduate Study and Research, and the Fifty-Seventh Annual Meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held last week in Chicago.

Mr. Wigen reports that considerable discussion took place on the problem of accreditation of athletics on the college level, and that new accreditation standards have been set up for the control of athletics in colleges and will be effective September 1952. This meeting also emphasized the importance of professional education courses; for with the new developments taking place in secondary education, it becomes more and more important that prospective teachers be well prepared in professional education.

The Midwest Conference Committee on Graduate Study and Research panel discussions included topics such as the place of non-technical and non-specialized work for graduate study, certification requirements for graduate study, admission credits, and continuation policies, and a sixth year program for a graduate degree.

JACK WINK IS NEW FOOTBALL COACH AT STOUT

The new football coach at The Stout Institute, Jack S. Wink was announced Tuesday by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college.

From many applications of very capable men and coaches with excellent records Jack S. Wink was selected to replace Tony Storti who has resigned and will go to Montana State College at Bozeman. Wink has been head football coach at Nebraska State Teachers College at Wayne for the past three years. Under his direction he had 21 wins and 6 losses to his credit in football. Prior to his coaching in Nebraska he taught physical education at New London, Wisconsin for one year, after he completed his work for the Master of Science degree at the University of Wisconsin.

JACK WINK

While attending the University of Wisconsin, he played varsity football for three years and was quarterback of the great team of 1942. In recommending him Harry Stuhldreher said, "He is an outstanding young man in every way, possessing a pleasing personality and appearance, filled with industry and desire to do a good job."

Jack Wink is a graduate of Boys' Technical High School in Milwaukee, where he was captain of the football team. Later he attended the University of Michigan.

A veteran of World War II, Wink is married and has one child. He expects to be at The Stout Institute in time for the summer session.

HYP DINNER DANCE AT HOTEL MARION MAY 10

On Saturday evening, May 10, the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority will hold their annual dinner dance at the Hotel Marion.

Music for this gala occasion will be furnished by George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawks.

Betty Kleist and Katie Ziehm, co-chairman, have appointed the following committees: decorations, Mary Betzel; invitations, Colleen Mitchell and Phyllis Schlotfeldt; and flowers, Pat Pagel.

ROBERT ASMAN

Margaret Ramsey and Bob Asman to Reign At Junior Prom May 3

Bob Asman, president of the Junior class and prom king, has selected Margaret Ramsey to reign as queen of the annual Junior Prom on May 3. The high school gym will be transformed into the atmosphere for an Evening in Paris, by the decoration committee, directed by Milt Benner. Dancing will begin at 9:00 p.m. to the strains of music played by Gene Mark and the Starlighters from Mankato, Minnesota.

Marge is a sophomore from Goodman, Wis. She is a member of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

MARGARET RAMSEY

The Junior class has invited President Fryklund, Dean Antrim, Dean Kirk, Dean Bowman, Miss Elliott, and Dr. Iverson to be their guests.

The organization, planning, and efficient directing of the prom should be credited to the committees that made it possible. Bob Asman directed the prom in general. Jim Brown is chairman of the publicity committee. Punch will be served by a committee directed by John Christensen. The social committee is under Dorothy Messerschmidt, and Corky Collette and Jim Brown were in charge of tickets and programs. Tickets can be purchased at the door for $1.50 per couple. Bob Asman, chairman of the cleanup committee would like all juniors to help out on cleanup.

HOURLONG MOVIE AT CONVOCATION APR. 23

On April 23, the Stout students were taken on a colorful and highly entertaining pleasure trip in the Caribbean area conducted by J. Gerald Hooper. The trip, in the form of movies and lectures, started at New Orleans and took in such spots as Jamaica, Curacao, Venezuela, Haiti, and Trinidad. It included beautiful scenery, excitement and adventure, amusing incidents such as a lesson in saying "hello" instead of "jello", and experiences aboard a tramp steamer. The history and legends of the countries made them seem more real. Our Caribbean cruise was cut short by the ringing of the next bell.

Then as the fighters came out in the last and final round there was a deafening cry for the operator.

DORM CELEBRATES APRIL BIRTHDAYS

The girls dorms celebrated for the April birthdays on Thursday the twenty-fourth. Colleen Ceminsky, Dolores Long, and Marietta Thomas had birthdays.

An April shower idea was used for decorations using a paper umbrella over a dish of floating daisies for the center pieces and umbrella place cards.

Most important, the dinner consisted of cranberry cottage cheese salad, asparagus, mashed potatoes, roots, and for dessert ice cream and cake.

MISS FROGGAT FIRST VP OF KAPPA CHAPTER

Miss Lillian Froggatt, librarian at The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin, was installed as first vice president of the Kappa Chapter at the meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma, National Honorary Society for Women in Education, held last week following the dinner in the Tea Room of The Stout Institute.

After the business meeting Miss Dorothy Dunn entertained the members by discussing life in present day Japan and illustrating her remarks by colored slides, which she took during her stay in Japan. She appeared before the group wearing a colorful Japanese kimono complete with obi, tabi, and zori, which are the sash, stockings, and shoes of a Japanese woman. Miss Dunn stressed the need for appreciating and understanding other cultures for better world relationships. She explained many of the customs of the orientals and spoke with sympathy and farsightedness for many of their economic and social problems.

SMA SORORITY JOINS ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA

On April 26, the conversion of the SMA Sorority to the Beta Phi chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha became complete. National officers arrived from Kansas City, Mo. and Cleveland, Ohio to officiate at the initiation, and girls came from DeKalb, Illinois to assist in the ceremony.

The weekend was full for the new Alpha Sig. A luncheon in the Tea Room broke the busy day's schedule on Saturday. That evening a formal banquet was held at the Marion Hotel. Faculty guests were Dean Antrim, President Fryklund, and Dr. and Mrs.

Ralph Iverson. Group attendance at church and a luncheon at the Marion Hotel completed the two day's calendar. The Beta Phi chapter is the 38th to be installed in Alpha Sigma Alpha. It is also the first chapter in Wisconsin.

Installing officers were: Mrs. Fred M. Sharp, National College Editor; Mrs. Vera Salyer, Chapter Organizer. The other guests were representatives of Beta Rho chapter from Northern Illinois State Teachers College.

New officers of the local chapter are: Ardith Weber, President; Betty Worthington, Vice-president; Marilyn Eckstein, Secretary; Joyce DeVries, Treasurer; Joan Christensen, Registrar; Edna Gaffron, Editor; and Fran Soulek, Chaplain.

ALPHA SIGMAS PLAN DINNER DANCE

"A Garden in the Rain" will be the theme for the S. M. A. Dinner Dance to be held May 9, at 6:30 p.m., with Bobby Bryan providing the music.

Alumni members are cordially invited, and would please write to Joan Christensen at 1009 - 9th Street. The cost is $2.00.

SENIOR LUTHERAN FAREWELL BANQUET

All the Senior Lutheran students at Stout are extended a special welcome to be at the Senior Farewell Banquet, sponsored by underclass Lutheran students who are also invited. The speaker is Roger Rotrig, whom many will remember from the Fall Kick off Banquet held last fall. He is the retiring vice president of the region and is now a pre sem senior at Gustavus Adolphus College. The banquet is at 6:00, Sunday, May 4, at Our Savior's Lutheran Church. Let's all turn out in a body to show our appreciation.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

With next week's Stoutonia, a new editorial staff takes command. This staff was chosen after much deliberate thought and planning, and we feel they are well-qualified for the difficult tasks which will face them next year.

There is not much glory or recognition for the workers on the school paper, in fact complaints seem to be the order of the day, but those who have been publishing the paper feel they have received valuable training which will help them in many ways.

We, who edited the paper this year, want to thank everyone for their co-operation. We also wish the new staff the best of luck in the coming year

BOY'S CLASS STUDIES
FAMILY RELATIONS

The Boy's Homemaking class of Menomonie High School, recently completed a study of personal and family relations as part of their program this semester.

Personality, the individual in relation to his family, his friends, and his job, dating, going steady, and preparing for marriage are some of the topics the boys studied and discussed. The movies "Junior Prom" and "Marriage Today" added interest and new ideas to their discussions.

Culminating the discussions on preparing for marriage, Reverend Ralph Reece acted as a resource person and answered such questions as "What are the problems involved in mixed marriages?" and "How can we decide when we're ready to go steady?" Reverend Reece also discussed such aspects of married life as religion, love, money, attractiveness of mate, children, and the importance of developing the right attitudes.

Dr. Iverson, guidance director at The Stout Institute, came at the boys' request for information concerning vocations. In discussing "This World at Work" Dr. Iverson stressed the importance of exploring one's interests and level of ability before deciding on an occupation.

For the remainder of the year the boy's homemaking class will prepare dinners using the basic principles of meat cookery, carving, and serving. A unit on etiquette will also be included.

Members of the boys class are Donovan Wagner, Eugene Lehman, Richard Debee, David Blank, Rolf Rodlyn, Clarence McClellan, Merlin Halverson, Maurice Halverson, Bill Karns, James Froeschle, Marvin Hillman, Caryll Millerin, James Schroeder, Jerry Mense, Ken Johnson, and Ronald Tyler.

Miss Margaret Harper, supervising teacher at Stout, Mrs. Beverly Ryder and Mrs. Noreen Cook, student teachers are in charge of the class.

TRAIN STOPS—
CORN POPS

"Every cloud has a silver lining." This saying was proven true last week end when a train wreck at Menomonie junction cost the railroads thousands of dollars.

Yes, it was a dark cloud for the railroads but a few Menomonie residents and Stout students took advantage of the situation. The local popcorn truck was one of the first vehicles on the scene. The owner of the ball park soon realized that people could just as well pay for parking on his property.

There were Stout students shoveling grain to get in on the emergency wages and we noticed some freshmen girls in the popcorn wagons.

The shuttlebugs were among the first observers. These were Stout students and otherwise. We noticed one of the faculty members taking pictures for the railroad company.

Yes, the wreck was a tragedy but being human we soon forgot the cloud and found the silver lining.

MHS SENIORS STUDY JOB OPPORTUNITIES

"Have you a job?" That is a familiar question at any school this time of the year. With graduation only a month away, the seniors are interested in permanent jobs, and with vacation so close, the underclassmen are viewing summer prospects.

The senior girls of Menomonie high school enrolled in the Home Economics' Class taught by Donna Heike and Beverly Hedlund are studying just that—jobs. Many of the girls plan to begin permanent jobs upon graduation. Others are just interested in locating summer employment because they plan to enter college in the fall. There are also a few for whom the wedding bells will toll, and they will soon assume the positions of homemakers.

The girls were surprised to learn what a long list of occupations was open to them and of all the different sources where they can receive help in locating jobs. Want ads, employment bureaus, chamber of commerce in the city, personal contacts with employers, application letters, information in trade journals and in occupational magazines are just a few of the ways that the girls learned about job possibilities.

The girls realize that many jobs are available; however, in order to locate the one best suited for themselves they are undertaking the investigation of jobs immediately. In case you haven't begun, it is not too early to start. Best of luck to you in your job hunting!

JACK BEERS TEACHES IN ST. LOUIS

Pictured above is Jack Beers teaching a class in woodworking at Hadley Technical high school.

JACK TEACHES ELEMENTARY WOODWORK

Dear Bob,

Well, here is that letter from St. Louis that you have been waiting for. As you know, this is my third year here at Hadley Technical high school, and I really enjoy it. The preceding two years I have been teaching ninth grade shop but starting September of last year I began teaching elementary vocational woodwork. My new shop has the following woodworking equipment: 20 inch thickness planer, 6 inch jointer, 36 inch bandsaw, 30 inch patternmaker's disk sander and 16 inch circular saw. We are fully equipped having veneer presses and a large glue room. I have two classes each day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. We are in the process of renovating the shop which will eventually include larger work benches and a finishing area to enable the boys to finish their projects.

The duplicating department has a photography class so I had some of the students take some action shots in the shop. I hope they will give you an idea of some of the work being carried on. Concerning my time outside of school—I am still doing remodeling work and building houses. Of course I still have my basement shop in which I make kitchen cabinets, lawn ornaments, furniture etc. My three sons, Jim, John, and Jeff are a big help when it comes to cleaning up the shop as well as helping dad make shavings. Some recent home projects have been circular outdoor chestnut table to fit around a tree, and an ornamental garden fence. I hope this year to finish the center of interest in our yard, a barbeque pit.

Sincerely,
Jack Beers, '48.

STOUT ALUMNI CHAPTER HOLDS DINNER DANCE

The Milwaukee Chapter of The Stout Institute Alumni Association will hold its annual spring dinner dance at the Chalet on the lake on May 24, 1952. Festivities begin at 7 o'clock in the evening, with dress optional. All alumni will receive reservation cards which must be in by May 19, 1952. By filling in the card, you too, can enjoy an evening of relaxation and good fellowship among your friends and old acquaintances.

FIVE LSA'ers ATTEND SPRING WORKSHOP

At the Seventh Annual Spring meeting of the Wisconsin Home Economics Association at Green Lake, Wisconsin, on April 25 and 26, Miss Clara Garrison, assistant professor of food and nutrition of the Division of Home Economics of The Stout Institute, was again elected treasurer of the association.

Miss Donna Kragh, a 1949 graduate of The Stout Institute, was chairman of the local committee in charge of arrangements. Miss Kragh recently received recognition for outstanding achievement in home demonstration work in Wisconsin and was awarded a scholarship for a three-week training program at Colorado State College. At present Miss Kragh is County Home Agent at Wautoma.

Dr. Alice J. Kirk was vice-president of the association and Misses Ann Noble and Lillian Jeter are on the Home Economics Council for Wisconsin. Others from the college faculty who attended the meeting were Misses Margaret Harper, Jeanne Dieffenbach, and Hazel Van Ness. About 225 women were present for the conference.

LSA RETREAT HELD AT ST. CLOUD APR. 26

On the weekend of April 26-27 the Stout L.S.A. officers attended a regional L.S.A. officers retreat at St. Cloud, Minnesota. This retreat is held each year so that plans and ideas of other L.S.A. groups as well as the National L.S.A. group can be brought back and be put into practice in each of the local college groups.

At the last meeting the L.S.A. spring service project was discussed and plans are being made for the group to do the spring handy work at the parsonage residences of both Reverend Boe, pastor at Our Savior's Lutheran church, and Reverend Woerth, pastor at Peace Lutheran church. Plans were also made for a special dinner in honor of the senior L.S.A. members; this dinner is planned for May 4th.

L.S.A. Bible study group for the first time Sunday April 6, used the fellowship room of the new church parlor at Our Saviour's Lutheran church is the first of two new L.S.A. meeting places that is to be used by the group. The second will be at the new parlors of Peace Lutheran church now under construction and which will be ready for use next year. These new meeting places for L.S.A. will be the ideal but many graduates and older members will always hold fond memories of the old meeting places.

DELTA KAPPA ELECTS WILLMARTH PRESIDENT

On Thursday evening, April 3, the members of the Delta Kappa Fraternity elected new officers for the coming year. The new officers are: Roy Willmarth, president; Dick Lenhardt, vice-president; Gary Grainger, recording secretary; Tom Williams, corresponding secretary; Darrel Radle, alumni secretary; Don Leach, treasurer; Bill VanValzah, historian; Don Hogan, sargent-at-arms; Jim Kichefski, publicity; and Clarence Lammers, chaplain.

Plans were made for the informal initiation which will be held in May, and two softball teams were organized.

1952 TOWERS TO BE ISSUED MAY 19-20

The Tower for 1952 will be released to students Monday and Tuesday, May 19th and 20th.

Hazel Nelson, editor, and her entire Tower staff are at last relaxing a bit as they wait for the completed Towers to come back from the National Book-binding Company at Stevens Point, where they are being bound.

Everyone may obtain their Tower on the 19th or 20th between 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. To get the Tower you must present your second semester SSA cards and sign a receipt. Everyone must get their own annual and no one may receive more than one. Anyone who has only attended Stout for one semester, either first or second, must pay $2.00 for their Tower. If anyone other than students would like a Tower it may be purchased for $4.00.

Covers for this year's annual will be something new. They are the type of hard covers. They were designed by some of the staff members and drawn up by the artist of the Durand Manufacturing Company, which made the covers.

The Tower was printed at the Journal Publishing Company, Grantsburg, Wis. By Mr. D. E. Carlsen, who is a former Stout faculty member.

STOUTONIA BANQUET MONDAY, MAY 12

On Monday, May 12, the Stoutonia staff and production staff are having a banquet in the River Room at the Stoppe Cafe in Durand. There will be six car loads with approximately thirty three students going. They will leave following the regular meeting.

PRESIDENT, DEAN, JARVIS AT MADISON

President Fryklund, Dean Bowman, and John Jarvis are attending the Wisconsin Association for Vocational and Adult Education conference this week end at Madison, Wisconsin.

They will attend a vocational directors meeting with groups affiliated with Home Economics and Industrial Arts.

They plan to have a display booth in the exhibit area which will include a three dimensional display of The Stout Institute tower which is lighted with colored lights.

MISS COX GOES TO RIPON FOR MEETING

Miss Eleanor H. Cox, associate professor of chemistry of The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin, attended the meeting of the Wisconsin Academy of Science held at Ripon College on Friday and Saturday, of April 25 and 26.

The Wisconsin Academy of Science is an affiliate of the American Association for the Advancement of Science of which Miss Cox is a member. Scientific reports of achievement were read at the Friday Senior Academy meeting. The Wisconsin Junior Academy meeting was held on Saturday and reports of scientific discovery were given by high school students in the state. This activity is part of the search for talent sponsored by the AAA of S. These students were awarded memberships in the AAA of S. Miss Cox is a member of the Wisconsin Junior Academy Committee and attended the luncheon at which plans were made for district meetings for next year.

BACCALAUREATE SUNDAY, MAY 25

Baccalaureate exercises for Stout graduates will take place Sunday evening, May 25, at 8:00 in the Stout Auditorium. The graduates of Menomonie high school, Dunn County Normal, and the Agriculture high school will also be present.

The seating of the graduates from the four schools is expected to be the same as other years with the Stout graduates occupying the center front section and the graduates of the three other schools on both sides and in the center back section.

The Rev. Mr. John N. Buran, Pastor of the Congregational Church in Menomonie will address the students. The title of his talk will be "Surprise in the Finals."

The Stout Symphonic Singers are to sing two numbers. The processional and recessional will be played on the organ by Dorothy Messerschmidt.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE MET AT STOUT

On April 24 and 25, the State Curriculum Committee on Industrial Arts met at The Stout Institute. This committee is one of several working committees in the Wisconsin Cooperative Educational Planning Program.

Members of the committee in attendance were G. W. Bannerman, Wausau; H. J. Shufelt, Racine; Ernst B. Nelson, Superior; H. A. Pederson, Platteville; Harvard C. Smith, Kenosha; B. C. Hagen, Manitowoc; B. H. Wulk, Green Bay; Leo Jenkins, LaCrosse; Reuben A. Charette, Milwaukee; Stewart D. North, Thorpe; and Leo R. Ebben, Kohler. Dean Clyde A. Bowman and Mr. Ray A. Wigen are co-chairmen of the committee. Mr. C. B. Walden of Madison, Curriculum Coordinator, was unable to attend but was represented by Dr. Gordon C. Boardman, Publication Supervisor.

Through the office of the Curriculum Coordinator of the Wisconsin Cooperative Educational Planning Program, two bulletins prepared work of the State Industrial Arts Curriculum have been published by the State Department of Public Instruction. The first bulletin, published in September 1949, was entitled Philosophy and Objectives of Industrial Arts in the Wisconsin Schools. The second bulletin, published in September 1951, was entitled Resource Units for Industrial Arts in Wisconsin Schools. The work of the committee at its recent meeting dealt with progress reports on the three bulletins now in preparation. These are to be in the fields of general electricity, general metal, and general woodwork and will carry resource unit material. A thorough questionnaire study involving participation on the part of Industrial Arts teachers throughout the state is underway. Several graduate students at The Stout Institute are participating in this study.

SENIOR DANCE WILL BE HELD FRIDAY, MAY 16

On Friday, May 16, one week from today, the annual all school senior recognition dance will be held. This yearly event is traditionally the last Stout dance for departing seniors, and is a notorious event in the school's social calendar for the seniors and underclassmen both.

Arrangements for the dance are made by the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen under the supervision of the SSA office. Jack Luy, Stout Student Association vice president, is general chairman for the event. The dance will be held in the Menomonie high school gymnasium.

The occasion provides one of the best and lowest priced dances of the year. The SSA has arranged to have perhaps the best known band in this area, George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhaws, to play for the evening. The SSA will foot the bill, and admit Stout students free upon presentation of their SSA membership card at the door.

Turnout for this gala event is expected to be great as many Stout students and their dates will enjoy the last dance of the school year in the free pre-test week atmosphere. The dance was specially moved up one week so as not to interfere with anyone's studies.

Jack Luy, speaking for the SSA officers, expressed a desire to see many students present for an evening of pleasure.

DR. FRYKLUND ATTENDS ED. MEETING

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute Menomonie, Wisconsin, attended the thirty-fifth Annual Meeting of the American Council on Education held May 2 and 3 in Chicago.

At the dinner meeting on May 2, Paul H. Douglas, United States Senator from Illinois, spoke before outstanding educators from all parts of the country. The title of his address was Education and the Larger Life.

Dr. Fryklund reported that the sectional meetings on Saturday consisted of reports and discussions on the following topics:

Financial problems of liberal education at the college level, coordinating programs for international understanding, education and manpower policies, developing effective college teachers, improving the administration of intercollegiate athletics, and education and television.

Just prior to the above meeting Dr. Fryklund also attended the annual meeting of the American Council on Industrial Arts Teacher Education held also in Chicago.

Take Positions of Editor-In-Chief, Associate Editor, and Business Manager

Francis Oberpriller, a junior from Menomonie, has been appointed editor-in-chief of the Stoutonia for next year. Colleen Ceminsky, a freshman from Montgomery, Minnesota, will be associate editor, and Ed Prah, a junior from Madison, Wisconsin, will take over the position of business manager.

Gerry Erickson, Ed Prah, and Bill Banks held these positions this year.

Francis was active in school publications in high school where he was circulation manager and reporter of the Menomonie high school paper. He has been on the Stoutonia staff for the past three years as a reporter and is a printing major at Stout.

Colleen, who graduated from Montgomery high school at Montgomery, Minnesota where she was a reporter for the school paper for two years and a copyreader and reporter her senior year. She has worked on the Stoutonia this past year.

Ed, who graduated from Madison East high school at Madison, Wisconsin, was associate editor this past year. He has been active on the Stoutonia for two years as a sports writer and reporter. He is also a printing major at Stout.

MOTHER'S DAY IS WIDELY OBSERVED

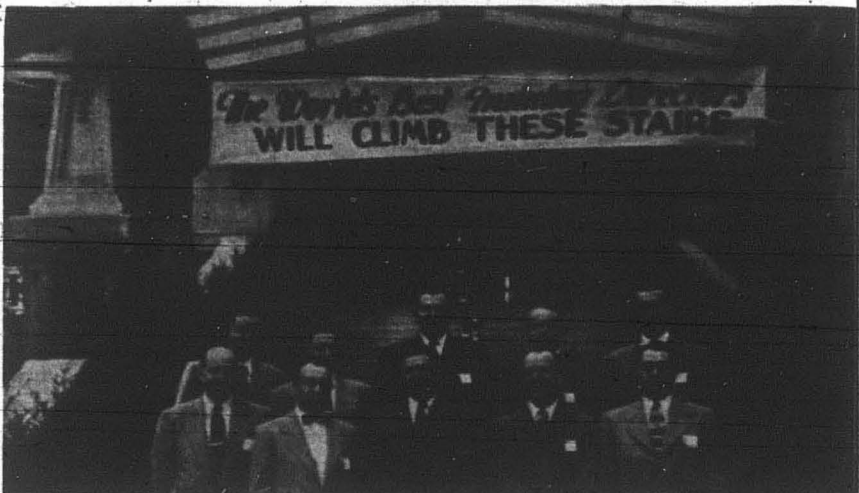

Sunday, sons and daughters all over the world will be honoring their mothers. The observance of Mother's Day was inspired in 1907 by Miss Anna M. Jarvis, of Philadelphia. She arranged with one of the churches to have a special service honoring the mothers and asked that everyone attending wear white carnations. This idea had wide appeal and was adopted in more churches the next year. The second Sunday in May was accepted as the day to honor the mothers of the nation. By 1911 special services were held in every state in the union and in Canada, Mexico, South America, Africa, China, and Japan.

In order to distinguish between those whose mothers are dead and those whose mothers were living the plan of wearing white carnations was changed. White carnations were chosen for those whose mothers are dead, red for those whose mothers were living. The custom of giving one's mother a small gift has also been developed.

PARENTS OF SENIORS INVITED TO RECEPTION

On the evening preceding graduation, May 28, President Fryklund and the faculty will be hosts at a reception honoring the seniors. The Harvey Memorial and the HE corridor will be used for this reception. It is at this time that the parents and families of the graduating seniors are especially encouraged to come to Stout to meet and visit with the President and the faculty.

STOUT GRADS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Pictured above are ten Stout graduates who attended The American Society of Training Directors annual conference last month at French Lick, Indiana. They are (Front-l. to r.): Hughitt Moltzau, Robert G. Brierley, Frank Mann, John Brophy, Harland Woodworth (Back-l. to r.): Lloyd H. Mattson, W. C. Christensen, Richard Brown, O. P. Stamstad, and Dean Brown.

STOUT GRAD ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SOCIETY

Bill Christensen, Grad Of '39 Elected Head Of Training Directors

Ten Stout graduates attended The American Society of Training Directors annual conference last month at French Lick, Indiana and one of the graduates, namely, Bill Christensen was elected president of the society.

When The American Society of Training Directors met for its annual conference last month at the French Lick Springs Hotel, French Lick, Indiana, some 900 men assembled for the three day program. Certainly it is not strange that in such a group Stout should be represented. It did seem somewhat significant, however, that an unofficial alumni group of 10 Stout men should assemble almost automatically.

A picture was taken as evidence of the unofficial alumni gathering and is shown above. Don't be disturbed if it seems that they are facing the wrong direction in relation to the sign overhead because to demonstrate their complete confidence, they made an about-face immediately after the picture was taken and climbed the stairs as a body.

These graduates are: (front row -- left to right) Hughitt Moltzau (B.S. '36), educational director of Parke Davis Company, Detroit, Michigan; Robert G. Brierley (B.S. '34, M.S. '42) manager of training for the Carbonyl Company, Detroit, Michigan; Frank Mann (B.S. '32), educational supervisor of Chrysler Corporation, Detroit, Michigan; John Brophy (B.S. '38), Associate Professor at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York; Harland Woodworth (B.S. '35), training supervisor at Dearborn Motors Corporation, Birmingham, Michigan; (Back row - left to right) Lloyd H. Mattson, training department, Carbonyl Company, Detroit, Michigan; W. C. Christensen (B.S. '39), director of training at the Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis, Indiana; Richard Brown (B.S. '46), training supervisor for the Desota Division Corporation, Detroit, Michigan; O. P. Stamstad (B.S. '33), training coordinator of the Union Electric System, St. Louis, Missouri; and Dean Brown (B.S. '39), training supervisor of the Chrysler Corporation, New Orleans, Louisiana.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI

BERT BOETCHER AT WISCONSIN BOY'S SCHOOL

Dear Bob,

I have intended writing sooner, but time flies so especially when one has an extremely interesting, varied and gratifying position, which I certainly think I have. I am an instructor at the Wisconsin School for Boys, at Waukesha, Wisconsin.

When I first arrived here in February, 1950, I was confronted with an empty cement block barn, 45' x 80', and no equipment, with the exception of a few small tools. I worked in the old blacksmith shop on the grounds, until our first area in Welding was completed, and then moved to my new quarters. The number of boys desiring to enroll in this class was overwhelming. We now have areas in Sheet Metal, Woodworking, Carpentry, and Auto Mechanics. Our department now employs three Industrial Arts Instructors besides myself. In our department are two other Stout Grads, Virgil Halvorson, and Donald

BERT O. BOETCHER

Beck, and also a Platteville Grad, Robert Wastion. We also have a River Falls Grad, Harry Peterson, who teaches classes in Welding. Besides courses listed, I have a crew of five and six boys at a time doing Maintenance and Repair work for the two farms operated in connection with the school. When a boy completes a course and is released from the school, our work does not always end there. We place boys in jobs, and continue trying to help them in every way possible. I really enjoy this type of work and the results, so far, are very gratifying. Our department is going over in a big way, but we cannot possibly accommodate all the boys wanting to take our courses. We hope that this will be remedied by enlarging our areas.

I have little time for outside activities or just plain "loafing." I am still very active in Co. G, National Guard, at Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. In January, we purchased a small home, and in spite of the fact that it is new, there always seems to be something to do. Sarah is proving very handy with paint brush and hammer, and does so many of the things I just don't have time to do at home. She also types all my school work and correspondence, and manages to keep busy and out of mischief.

There is so much I would like to tell, but this short note is getting longer by the minute and I think it is time to bring it to a close.

Sincerely,
Bert O. Boetcher, '50

REUNION ATTENDED BY DETROIT ALUMNAE

On Saturday, April 26, fourteen Detroit Alumni of The Stout Institute met at the home of Bernadette O'Meara for dessert and a social afternoon.

Co-hostesses were Karen Faldoes, Elvira West and Marion Arnston.

Others present were Helen Hooey Bartholomew, Frances Mulry Brandvold, Clarice Swanson Campbell, Mildred Baker Elvers, Lillian Falkenrath Gavic, Elda Johnson Houck, Orveta Braker Moltzau, Audrey Peterson Pollock, Marion Bull Stevens, and Beulah Todd.

Although Bernadette O'Meara's home is Detroit it is interesting to note that her guests came from seven surrounding communities: Dearborn, Farmington, Grosse Pointe Park, Ferndale, Birmingham and St. Clair Shores.

LSA FAREWELL BANQUET HELD FOR SENIORS

The LSA bid its seniors farewell at its first Senior Farewell Banquet under the co-chairmanship of Louise Zirkel and Joan Christensen. Master of Ceremonies Ray Burkhalter introduced Iris Ruff who sang "The End of a Perfect Day" and Jean Boettner who presented Miss Strand with a gift in gratitude of her ten years of service as an LSA advisor. The banquet speaker Roger Rotvig of Gustavus Adolphus, spoke on the theme, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds." The evening was closed with the worship service conducted in the new friendship room in the Parish House. Due to the success of the event, it is planned to make this an annual event.

INTER-RELIGIOUS ELECT OFFICERS

Representatives from nine religious organizations were present for the elections of the Inter-Religious Council held on Monday, April 28. Bob Spint, from Wesley, is the new president; Lloyd Woodmansee, representing SCF, was chosen vice-president; and Miss Callahan, from Newman Club, is secretary-treasurer.

The other organizations represented were LSA, Congo, Gamma Delta, Canterbury Club, Baptist Youth Group, and YWCA.

The meeting also included a business discussion and lunch.

SIG TAU HELD PRE-PROM DINNER

Sigma Tau Gamma's annual pre-prom dinner was held at the Methodist church on May 3 at 6:30. Approximately sixty alumni, guests, and members gathered for the dinner. Alumni traveled from as far as Milwaukee to attend the event.

Guests of the fraternity for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kortkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Rinehart, and Miss Mary McCalmont.

David Bienais, fraternity president, acted as toastmaster for the program which followed the dinner. Advisors Robert Swanson and John Jarvis entertained the members and their dates with comments appropriate to the occasion.

The after dinner program was highlighted by a short talk by Miss Mary McCalmont. Miss McCalmont spoke of some early events in the history of Stout Institute.

SPRING FLIRTATIONS AT P. A. DINNER DANCE

"Spring Flirtations" is the theme for the Pallas Athens dinner dance which will be held at the Country Club tomorrow evening. Nadine was assisted by Irus Ruff, Lois Peterson, and Mary Ann Smith. Guy Woodford and his orchestra from Eau Claire will furnish the music for the evening. Guests for the occasion will be Miss Anne Marshall, the sorority's advisor, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Betterley. Several alumni are expected to attend.

ARDITH WEBER TO REPRESENT BETA PHI

Ardith Weber, a Junior from Durand, Wisconsin, will be the Beta Phi representative to the Triennial Alpha Sigma Convention at Roanoke, Virginia in August.

Ardith, the new President of Beta Phi, formerly S.M.A., is majoring in Home Economics Education at The Stout Institute.

Most of the convention activities will be centered in Roanoke but tours of the picturesque "Natural Bridge" area of Virginia have also been arranged. The traditional Memorial Service of Alpha Sigma will be held in the famous Washington and Lee chapel.

SIGMA TAU ELECTS NEXT YEAR'S OFFICERS

Officers of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity were elected on April 3, 1952. The following were selected to fill the offices for the coming year. President, David Bienais; Vice President, Sam Mikitarian; Recording Secretary, Jim Brown; Corresponding Secretary, Norm Schultz; Treasurer, Kenneth Lantto; Sargent at arms, Bill Andersen; High Priest, Fred Kajihara; Historian, Fred Bahr; Saga Reporter, Lawrence Smith; Newsletter, David Gresch; and Alumni Secretary, Corky Collette.

HOFFMAN'S ARE PROUD PARENTS

A daughter, Julie Ann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stan Hoffman, '51, April 29, 1952. Since graduation Stan and Lu Hoffman have made their home at Libertyville, Illinois. Stan is at the Ninth District Navy Printing Shop at Great Lakes Training Station.

WAA SPORTS END OTHERS ARE PLANNED

The WAA Bowling Tournament is over, with Amacher's team coming up on top. Jacobson was the winner of the other league. Amacher won over Jacobson to take the championship. Jacobson's team had the highest team score—619—while Phyl Amacher's team, with Phyl herself having the highest individual score—171.

The archer's title was passed out to Margaret Ort with a score of 1329. Carol Koch—took second place with 596.

The officers and sportsheads met with Miss Erdlitz, April 29 to nominate officers for the following year. Sportsheads were decided upon at that time. Plans for a picnic and hike to Point Comfort were made for May 6.

STOUT TENNIS TEAM—BEATS ST. CLOUD

The Stout tennis team scored a fine team victory in rolling over St. Cloud 5-2 Saturday. In the first set of the afternoon Bill Stern, freshman from West Bend, defeated Schlader of St. Cloud 6-4, 6-2. In the number two singles, Gene Sawyer lost to Fernall 4-6, 6-4, and 6-1. Jim Olds won from Huffman 6-4, 6-4. Denny Hawks outpointed Hed of St. Cloud 6-2, 6-3, and Tom Stilp, in the number five position defeated Olson 6-0, 4-6, and 6-4.

Stout came back to take a split in the doubles. Stern and Sawyer lost to Fernall and Schlader 6-4, 6-3, but Stilp and Olds defeated Huffman and Hed 6-4, 3-6, and 6-4 in the final.

STOUT GOLFERS RUN OVER ST. CLOUD

The Stout golf team paced by player coach Bob Takasaki and Denny Chinnock ran over an outclassed St. Cloud team at the Menomonie Country Club Saturday. Both carded four over par 77's and combined with Claude Klein (83), Herb Tamanaka (84), and Ralph Hetzel (82) to sweep all fifteen points. It was the second win in three starts for the Bluedevils.

ALPHA SIG'S DINNER-DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB TONIGHT

Tonight Alpha Sig's and their guests will take over the country club for their yearly dinner-dance. The spring theme of "Garden in the Rain" has been chosen as a basis for decorations. Bobby Bryan's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing from 9:00 to 12:00.

HOME EC CLUB HEAR IDEAS ON MILLINERY

The Home Economics Club meeting was held April 28, at 7:15 o'clock.

The main event of the evening was a talk on millinery by Mrs. Duxbury. She showed how straw hats are made, gave suggested decorations that can be used on hats and pointed out the relationship of the hat to the shape of the face. She also suggested some materials to use for hats and how to cover hat forms.

Some of the girls who had been off campus teaching modeled the hats that had been made in their classes. Models included: Katie Ziehm, Joan Mitby, Kay Heller, Donna Krisik, and Rose Grzadziewski.

FOUR MEMBERS OF APO INSTALL NEW CHAPTER

Four members of Stout's Alpha Phi Omega chapter were on hand at La Crosse State College for the installation of Kappa Gamma chapter on May 4. Dr. Salyer, fraternity advisor, Robert Adkins, Fraternity President, Ed Steineke, and Tom Bombinski were members of the installation team. Four members of Alpha Phi Omega from Eau Claire State College completed the installation team. Dr. Doren F. Wehrley, Wisconsin State Chairman of Alpha Phi Omega, installed the new officers of Kappa Gamma Chapter.

At 5:30 a banquet was held at the colleges snack bar in honor of the new chapter. The forty-five APO men present watched George F. Cahill, a member of the National executive board present the chapter's charter. Dr. Mitchell, President of La Crosse State college gave the congratulatory message to the members of the Kappa Gamma Chapter.

This chapter was formed by men on the La Crosse campus who saw the need for a service organization. Eta Kappa Chapter here at Stout congratulates the new chapter and wishes them years of success.

ALL SCHOOL PICNIC TO BE HELD MAY 21

A full afternoon and evening of fun is in store for Stout students on Wednesday, May 21, the day of the SSA all school picnic.

The picnic will be held at Wakanda Park. Buses will leave the Home Economics building at 1:30 and return at 9:30. Joe Stebly is in charge of the recreation in the afternoon and has planned a series of softball and volleyball games.

Rumors say that an added attraction of a "tug of war" across the lagoon will take place between the senior men and the men faculty some time during the day. The food will be served around 4:30 and the sophomores, who are in charge, say there will be plenty to eat of the usual picnic food of hot dogs, potato salad, baked beans, pickles, pop, and ice cream.

All students should bring their SSA cards in order to get their food. Faculty and student's wives without SSA cards will be charged 50 cents. Children will be charged 25 cents.

The "S" Club is planning their "White Elephant" auction which they postponed at carnival time.

The evening will be taken up by dancing in the pavillion starting at 7:00. Be sure and plan to come out and join the fun at the picnic.

FOB DINNER DANCE IS SATURDAY NIGHT

The Country Club will be the scene of the FOB's annual dinner dance tomorrow evening at 7:00. The event will be formal.

The FOB members and alumni are invited to come and enjoy juicy tenderloin steaks and later, the music of George Soderberg's Royal Blackhaws. Special entertainment will be provided by Bob Wong and Jim Toms. John Debrauske is chairman of the food and decoration committee.

"S" CLUB WILL HOLD AUCTION, WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday evening, May 21, at 7:30, the "S" Club will sponsor an auction at the Wakanda Park pavillion. Mr. John Matula, a professional auctioneer, will donate his time so as to make this event a success. All proceeds will go to the purchase of a whirlpool bath for the athletic department.

HOME EC. CLUB HOLDS SENIOR BREAKFAST

The traditional senior breakfast sponsored by the Home Economics Club will be held Sunday, May 25, at 9:00 in the school cafeteria. All graduating seniors will be guests of the club. Tickets for the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen will be on sale in the H. E. corridor. Junior and sophomore tickets are 75¢, and freshmen tickets are 25¢.

The committee chairmen and their faculty advisors for the breakfast are as follows: general chairman, Edna Gaffron; Menu, Ardith Garrison and Miss Killian; food service, Lou Wenger and Miss Trillinger; table setting, Lois Dickman and Miss Harper; equipment, Ardis Mandersheid and Miss Grundmeier; invitations, Mary Betzel and Miss Diefenbach; finance, Gloria Voigt and Miss Noble; program, Iris Ruf and Miss Hinkley; cleanup, Joyce Callen and Miss Jeter.

This will be the last chance for all of the students in school this year to have a get-together. See you all there.

ALL STUDENTS

The 1952 Towers will be issued on Monday and Tuesday from 9:00 to 6:00 p.m. You must have your SSA cards to present at the Tower office in the basement of the H.E. building.

KFS TO BE INSTALLED AS OMEGA CHAPTER

This will be a busy weekend for the members of the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity. This evening, members of the national fraternity Phi Sigma Epsilon will arrive on campus for the installation of K.F.S. as the Omega chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

The highest of recommendations concerning Phi Sigma Epsilon was received from Dr. A. J. Lien, a KFS alumni member and presently Dean of Men at Whitewater State College.

They will begin the weekend by attending the SSA all-school dance this evening.

Saturday afternoon at 5:00 the installation and presentation of the charter will occur. This will be followed by a banquet at 6:00 at the Hotel Marion and entertainment will follow at 7:00.

FACULTY HONOR McCALMONT AND HANSEN

A recognition dinner was held Wednesday evening, May 14, in honor of Miss Mary McCalmont and Mr. H. M. Hansen of The Stout Institute, honoring their years of service to the school and students during the past forty years. The dinner was attended by members of the faculty and the wives of faculty members who were either friends of Miss McCalmont or were students in her classes during their college days.

A short program was presented. The "Flat Faculty Four" composed of George Soderberg, Ralph Betterly, Dwight Agnew, and Ivan Kortkamp sang several numbers of barbershop harmony. Dwight Agnew gave the keynote and presentation address. George Soderberg presented traveling bags to each guest. Following the presentation ceremony, short recognition addresses were given by Dean Bowman and Dean Kirk. The formalities were concluded with a short address by president Verne C. Fryklund.

Miss McCalmont, Associate Professor of Science and Mathematics, is a graduate of Westminster College University of Wisconsin, and has done graduate study at the University of Minnesota. She has been a member of the faculty since 1912.

Mr. Hansen, Associate Professor of Industrial Education, is a graduate of The Stout Institute and the University of Minnesota. He joined the staff of The Stout Institute in 1912.

No future plans were announced by Miss McCalmont or Mr. Hansen. Mr. Hansen will conclude his work May 29 and Miss McCalmont will conclude her teaching at the end of summer session.

GROUND BREAKING WILL BE CELEBRATED WED.

NEWMAN CLUB TO HOLD PICNIC

The Newman Club will have a picnic this Sunday, May 18, at Riverside Park. A shuttle service will be held at St. Joseph's school at 1:30 followed by the picnic.

Mr. Owen, Mr. Bakke, and Mr. Pierce will preside at new library ceremony

Immediately following the Honor Day convocation, members of the administration council and the librarian will go on stage with Mr. Owen, state senator; Mr. Bakke, assemblyman; and Mr. Pierce, president of the Board of Trustees, to begin the ground breaking ceremonies for the new library.

President Fryklund will introduce the speakers for this event. They are Senator Owen and Mr. Bakke. The presentation of the spade will be made to Mr. Pierce by Dr. Fryklund.

As a group, they will recess to the site of the new library. A prayer will be said followed by the ground breaking by Mr. Pierce.

The seniors will then return to the center doors south of the Home Economics building for the class picture.

DR. H. NUDAS SENDS BOOKS TO PHILIPPINES

Dr Hilario G. Nudas, Philippine educator attending The Stout Institute this year, is pictured above with Postmaster C. V. Porter while mailing 307 books to the Philippine Islands.

This is the second shipment sent by Dr. Nudas. He obtained these books from Mr. Ballentine, superintendent of Menomonie public schools, who gave him 207; the Stout library which gave him 31 plus several professional journals and magazines; and Catholic Women's circles which collected 69 for him.

The first shipment of 346 books were given by the Memorial library, and through the interest of the vice chairman of the board of trustees of the library, 400 more will be given.

Dr. Nudas explained that these books are badly needed in the Philippines because of the serious shortage there. He is sending these books to schools and libraries. The elementary social science books he obtained from Mr. Ballentine were sent to the elementary school which he attended.

Others are being sent to the vocational school in Manila where Dr. Nudas is the director. The professional books and journals were sent to the library of the city schools, Manila.

Before sending the books, Dr. Nudas must make an inventory listing each book. This inventory is typed and forwarded to the Philippine government through the Philippine ambassador in Washington. Dr. Nudas explained that everything which is not a gift must be taxed heavily when sent into the islands. Therefore, this list must be forwarded before the books are sent so they will not be taxed. A special label which Dr. Nudas printed in the Stout print shop is placed on each box explaining they are gifts.

In packing the boxes, care must be taken because each box may not weigh more than 22 pounds.

The cost in mailing the first set of 346 books was $14.50, and the second batch cost $19.00.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK
Beginning today, the students will be torn between the conflict of studying and attending the school events. Tonight is the senior dance; next Wednesday is senior recognition day, ground breaking for the new library, senior class photograph, and the all school picnic. Then, there is the school work to complete the semesters work in the various courses plus the fact that final examinations start next Friday. It is our hope that all of you students will be able to spare a little time from your studying to attend the social events of the week.

SSA MESSAGE
Many improvements have come to the Stout campus during the past five years. The long-awaited street closing project, designed to increase safety on the campus and to beautify the college grounds, was completed during the summer of 1950.
The auditorium stage facilities have been expanded. A completely safe and modern switch-board has been installed, the stage has been extended, new footlights, spotlights and floodlights have been added, and to complete the project, we have high hopes that the auditorium will be painted in the near future.
Sports fans now benefit from such athletic field improvements as a large electric scoreboard, enclosed press and radio booth concrete retaining wall, and new bleachers. A completely modern system of lighting for night football games has also been installed.
Although these past five years have brought about many worthwhile projects and improvements, next week Stout students will have a chance to observe the undertaking of one of the largest and perhaps most practical projects ever started on the Stout campus.
Its completion will bring to Stout a modern, completely equipped library. The library is to be erected on the present site of the Stout parking lot.
Immediately following the Honors and Senior Recognition Day Assembly, the entire student body will be asked to move to the site of the new library for the ground-breaking ceremonies. An elaborate program has been worked out, guest speakers and senators have been invited, and the success of this ceremony will depend directly upon the turnout of students to witness this event.
School spirit and loyalty are somewhat lacking at times on the Stout campus. Let's try to get back in the swing of things. Attend the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new library on Wednesday, May 21.

ARTS AND CRAFTS TO HOLD SPRING PICNIC
On Monday evening, May 12th, the Stout Arts and Crafts club held its annual spring picnic at Wakanda Park. The menu consisted of baked ham, baked beans, potato salad, buns, dill pickles, coffee, milk, cheerios and dixie cups.
Dean Clyde A. Bowman performed the honor of presenting the club key awards. Those members receiving the highest club award, the solid gold key are as follows: James Anderson, Carl Anderson, Dean Cornwell, Albert Spanheimer, and Roman Weinzerl. Those members receiving the silver key are as follows: Howard Knop, Royce Meyers, Donald Riale and Donald Sargent.
The committees in charge of the picnic are as follows: Food; Paul Wegman, chairman; Ralph Ballinger, Bob Miller, Norm Schulz and Miriam MacLachlan. Recreation; Walter Westenberg, chairman; Bob Rustin, Fred Bahr, James Andersen and DeForest Bergvall.

ART CLASS TO TAKE TRIP TO MINNEAPOLIS
Three special attractions will highlight the Art Appreciation field trip in Minneapolis tomorrow.
First on the agenda is a visit to the Walker Art Center where the group will view the special exhibits known as "Made in Sweden". These exhibits feature articles found in everyday art such as pottery. Also of interest will be a featured collection of Finnish Paintings. This art gallery has an exceptionally fine collection of permanent paintings also, one of which is the very outstanding and famous "Blue Horses" by Franz Marc.
From the Walker Art Center, the group will move on to the Minneapolis Institute of Art. Here they will see many fine examples of art from the different periods. "White Plumes" by Matisse will be of special interest to the art students.
A total of fifty-two students, thirty-seven of the Art Appreciation students will go on the two chartered buses.

WESLEY CABINET MET TO PLAN PROGRAM
The Wesley cabinet met at Tainter Lake on Saturday, May 10, to plan the program for next year. The new and old cabinet members had an enjoyable time talking over the Wesley organization and had a delicious dinner served by Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Cook.
The Wesley year was culminated on Sunday, May 11, with an inside picnic beginning at 3 o'clock. The members had organized recreation and a treasure hunt. Betty O'Conner's committee served the picnic supper of tuna fish salad, weiners and buns, grape nectar, cheerios and cake. Ellen Russell's committee presented the worship service. George Stolp was presented a Bible because he will be entering the armed services. The seniors and old cabinet members were thanked for their work in previous years. The meeting closed with the friendship circle.
The next meeting of the Wesley Student Fellowship will be church night, September 5. We hope you will come to Wesley next year and bring your friendship. You will have fun-food-fellowship if you come to Wesley.

Latest Fashion Note. There will be little or no change in men's pockets this year.
A small boy came hurriedly down the street and halted breathlessly in front of a stranger who was walking in the same direction.
"Have you lost a dollar?" he asked.
"Yes, yes, I believe I have!" said the stranger, feeling his pockets.
"Have you found one?"
"Oh, no, I just want to find out how many have been lost today. Yours make fifty-five."

Then there was the absentminded professor who sat down at the breakfast table, poured milk on his head and scratched his cornflakes.

"Look at that—cropped hair, cigarette and trousers. Is it a boy or a girl?"
"It's a girl, my daughter."
"Forgive me, my good fellow. I never would have been so outspoken if I'd known you were her father."
"I'm not. I'm her mother."

NEWS FROM THE ALUMNI IN HAWAII

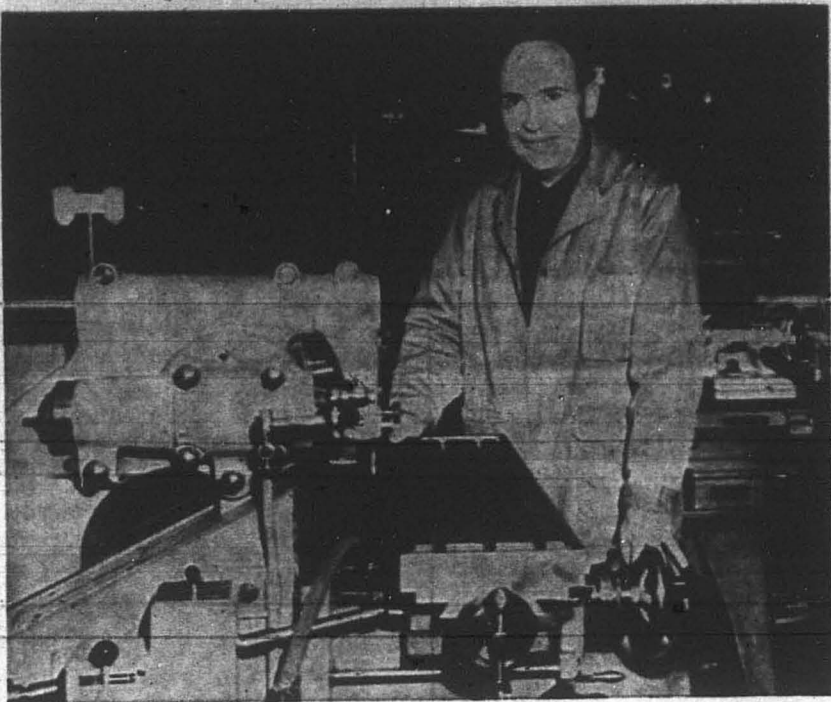

Mr. and Mrs. Tad Miyazaki, B.S. 1945, are planning to be in Menomonee next year. Tad is planning to take graduate work at the college.

Eleanor Ushijima, B.S. 1952, and Takeshi Hirano, B.S. 1951, were married on April 5 in Hilo, Hawaii, Eleanor's home town. She is presently employed as assistant dietitian at the Hilo Memorial Hospital on the "Big Island" of Hawaii.

Herbert Watanabe, B.S. 1950, who has been Field Executive with the Boy Scouts of America with Headquarters at Wailuku, is planning to teach Industrial Arts next year.

MR. CHERRY WRITES TWO BOOKS

Dear Alumni:

I guess that the best way to tell what I am doing or have been doing is to start from the time I graduated from Stout in 1933.

Having taught four years in northern Michigan before attending Stout, my wife and I decided to try the Southwest; so in the fall of 1933 we went to McAllen, Texas, where I taught Industrial Arts in the high school.

I returned to Stout for the 1936 summer session. Under the able instruction of Professor Ray Kranzusch and through his encouragement, I became very much interested in Leathercraft. In the fall of that year I went to the Nebraska State Teachers' College, Wayne, Nebraska, as Professor of Industrial Arts. Using the basic training I had at Stout, I developed instruction sheets in Leathercraft. These sheets along with plastics instruction sheets were used in my classes in mimeographed form for several years. In 1940 "General Leathercraft" was published, and in 1941 "General Plastics" came off the press.

In 1942 we moved to Lockport, Illinois, where I am now Head of the Industrial Arts Department. We have five unit shops here with five men in the department. This summer I will teach at Colorado A & M College, Fort Collins, Colorado, where I have taught the past three summers.

On May 3rd, I gave an illustrated talk entitled "Leathercraft in a Capsule" at the American Industrial Arts Association Convention in Chicago.

Enclosed is a picture of me standing by a new milling machine which we recently purchased.

Sincerely yours,
Raymond Cherry

Our library has recently added to its shelves some books on poetry and poets.

Elizabethan and Seventeenth-Century Lyrics was selected and edited by Mathew W. Black of the University of Pennsylvania. This book combines, with revisions, two collections of lyrics, "Elizabethan Lyrics" and "Seventeenth-Century Lyrics," that went out of print several years ago.

The Poetical Works of Edmund Spenser is edited with critical notes by J. C. Smith and E. DeSalincourt. This book contains, besides Spenser's works, a biography, a critical essay of his work, and a glossary.

The Mind and Art of Chaucer, by S. P. Tatlock, is a discussion of the works of Chaucer with emphasis laid on his personality. Dr. Tatlock is an ardent student of Chaucer's work and is deeply learned in the Middle Ages.

Wordsworth is edited by Gilbert T. Dunklin. It is composed of "Century studies presented at Cornell and Princeton Universities." This book is made up of seven parts, each written by a different author. The authors are: D. Bush, F. A. Pottle, E. L. Griggs, J. C. Ransom, B. L. Evans, L. Trilling, and W. L. Sperry.

GERRY RAISLER ENJOYS DIETETIC INTERNSHIP

Gerry Raisler, graduate of 1950, is thoroughly satisfied with her dietetic internship at Brook Army Hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. She has four hours of class weekly which includes medical lectures, presentation of case studies, reviews of recent research in food service, and field trips. She writes of the interesting wards, especially the septic surgery department which is one of the largest research centers for burn casualties.

On the staff is a Stout graduate, Captain Averill Stevenson, chief food production branch, who with the entire staff, Gerry writes, are very helpful and serve as excellent instructors.

Gerry sends greetings to all Stout students and faculty.

FALCONS TAKE BLUEDEVILS IN BASEBALL 8-3

In a game characterized by as many errors as hits, Stout's Blue Devils fell to the Falcons of River Falls, 8 - 3. Louie Kort, Clintonville freshman, started on the mound for the Blue Devils, but was relieved by Wayne Weiler during the Falcon's four run uprising in the third.

River Falls got off to a two run first inning lead on three walks and a double by cleanup hitter Tom Linehan. Linehan proved to be a big gun for the Falcons with a double, triple, and a walk in four plate appearances.

Stout came back to tally a run in the top of the third on singles by Don Beran and Jerry Henderson and a force play at second base. The Falcons tallied four runs and batted all the way around in the bottom half of the inning on singles by Troy Rudesill and Don Barlow, a walk to Burgoyne, a hit baseman, and a long three bagger by right fielder Linehan.

The Blue Devils got one run back in the fourth as "Lefty" Partch, fleet right fielder, walked, stole second, then third, and came home on an error by the second sacker, Mills. Weiler's wildness plus three errors gave the Falcons two more runs in the home half of the inning to wind up the River Falls scoring.

Stout managed to touch Southpaw, Barrows for their final counter in the fifth on singles by Henderson and Mel Zemplinski. Stout's six hits were equally divided among Henderson, Zemplinski and Beran with two each.

STOUT GOLFERS BOW TO THE INDIANS

The Stout golf team went down to the Indians of La Crosse 10 - 8 Saturday at Menomonee Country Club; as Captain Ted Levenhagen's combined scores of 40 and 36 paced all twelve participants with a three over par 76. Levenhagen, medalist winner for the State Teachers College Conference for the past two years, defeated Bob Takasaki, Blue Devil mainstay, one up. As a team, the Blue Devils showed considerable improvement over last week's match when they were defeated 11 - 4 at La Crosse.

STOUTONIA HELD SPRING BANQUET MON.

A very enjoyable time was had by all who attended the Stoutonia spring banquet. It was held Monday, May 12, in The River Room in the Stoppe Cafe in Durand, Wisconsin. Thirty three members and guests attended.

The menu consisted of a fruit gelatin salad, baked spring chicken with cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes, fresh buttered peas, hot rolls, coffee, and a fresh strawberry sundae for dessert.

Following the dinner, Francis Oberpriller, next year's editor of the Stoutonia, introduced the speakers for the evening. They were: Mr. Whydowski, advisor, Gerry Erickson, 1951-52 editor, Bill Banks, Dan Feltman, Ray Cornwell, Colleen Ceminsky, Ed Prah, and Donna Krisik.

ALL SCHOOL SENIOR DANCE TO BE TONIGHT

Tonight is the night of the annual all school Senior Dance. As the last all school dance of the school year a large turnout is expected. The Menomonee High School gym will be the location, admission will be by SSA card, and the music will be by George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhows.

Under the direction of Jack Luy and the SSA officers, plans for the dance have been completed, and all that is now needed is a large crowd at 8:30 p.m. when the dance is scheduled to begin.

ARDIE OLSON IS NEW LSA EDITOR

At the LSA Spring Workshop, held on April 26th and 27th at St. Cloud, Minnesota, Ardie Olson was elected editor of the Land O'Lakes Region.

Ardie is editor of the Regional monthly LSA paper called "Splashes" which will be printed in the Stout print shop. She will act as advisor to each of the local editors and will handle the publicity for the Land O'Lakes Region of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

CANTERBURY CLUB HAS LAST MEETING

The Canterbury Club of Grace Episcopal Church finished off the Prom weekend in grand style by holding their last meeting of the year on Sunday, May 4.

Cars driven by Miss Wauneta Hain and Rev. Roy S. Rawson, advisors to the club, left Menomonee at 2:00. The main purpose of this venture was to view one of the oldest Episcopal Cathedrals in this country at Faribault, Minnesota. The entire group appreciated the exquisite beauty both in symbol and coloring of the stained glass windows. The tradition and simplicity portrayed throughout its Gothic architecture were much admired also.

After short tours of the campuses of St. Olaf's College and Carlton College, the group climaxed the outing with a supper in Northfield. A tired but inspired group returned to Menomonee Sunday evening.

SEVENTH GRADERS SERVE BRUNCH

The Seventh Grade Homemaking Class of Menomonee Junior High School served a spring brunch to their mothers on Thursday, May 9, in room 320 at Stout.

A spring theme was carried out by using lilacs and apple and plum blossoms to decorate the new teaching lab. Lovely corsages, made from apple blossoms, violets, and tied with dainty pink ribbons, were made by Mrs. Weibert, Alice Price's grandmother. They were given to all the mothers and teachers.

The brunch menu consisted of fruit cups served in attractive grapefruit halves, egg salad sandwiches, relishes, lemon pudding, coffee, and cocoa. Hostesses were Virginia Schladweiller and Eileen Johansen.

DR. OTTO NITZ IS APPOINTED TO FACULTY

The most recent appointment to the faculty of the Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin is Dr. Otto W. Nitz of Louisville, Kentucky, as announced by President Verne C. Fryklund.

Dr. Nitz comes to the Stout Institute from a position as chief chemist for the Kentucky Synthetic Rubber Corporation of Louisville. Previous to this position in industry he was head of the Chemistry Department at Northern Montana College at Harve for eleven years. From 1936-40 he was head of the Chemistry Department at Parsons College at Fairfield, Iowa. During his summers he has been visiting instructor in chemistry at Washington State College.

After receiving his bachelor of science degree "cum laude" from Elmhurst Illinois, in 1929, he taught chemistry and mathematics there for three years and resigned to accept a graduate assistantship in chemistry at the University of Iowa and to study for his Ph. D., which he obtained in 1936. He has also attended the Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Dr. Nitz is a member of the American Chemical Association and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He has also been affiliated with Phi Lambda Upsilon and Sigma XI. He has served on the Accrediting Committee for Higher School of the Northwest Association of Colleges and Higher School.

On Monday Dr. and Mrs. Nitz visited in Menomonie and The Stout Institute.

GAMMA DELTA HEARS DELEGATES' REPORTS

Highlights of the regular Gamma Delta meeting on Sunday evening were the reports by Ann Holden, Lois Furgman, Betty Homer, and President David Gresh, who attended the Gamma Delta Conference at Stevens Point. The reports included suggestions made on education, recreation, and officer workshops and talks by a well known speaker.

After a cost supper at St. Paul's Church, the meeting was called to order by the president and committees were appointed to make plans for church night to be held next fall.

CONFERENCE ON COOPERATIVES HELD AT STOUT

Representatives of Teacher Training Institutions met for a conference on cooperatives Thursday and Friday, May 15 and 16. The conference was called by the State Department of Public Instruction—Objectives and orientation on the general subject of cooperatives for teachers of teachers, and a discussion of problems arising from the statutory provision in Wisconsin law for the teaching about cooperatives in the public schools and the preparation of teachers for instruction in that field. Main speakers were from the Department of Agriculture Economics in the School of Agriculture at the University, from the Wisconsin Association of Cooperatives from the Farm Credit Administration and from the American Institute of Cooperation.

MAGAZINE HAS ARTICLE BY DR. RINEHART

Appearing in the May issue of COLLEGE ENGLISH, is an article entitled "Teaching Freshman Composition" by Dr. Keith Rinehart of the English Department of The Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

In the article Dr. Rinehart surveys some of the problems facing the young college instructor in the teaching of English composition to freshman and reviews the practices used in colleges where he formerly taught. The main point of his discussion is the contrast between the importance of the course in college education and the inexperience of the people employed to teach it. He makes a strong plea for better prepared instructors who possess maturity and experience to teach this most important and demanding course in the English curriculum.

HIGH SCHOOL IS PRESENTING SPRING PLAY

Menomonie High School's drama department has chosen The Curious Savage by John Patrick, author of The Hasty Heart, as its spring play. The dates for the production are the 23 and 26 of May at the Memorial Theater. All student prices are 30¢ and adult prices are 50¢.

The play, the action of which takes place in an institution known as the "cloisters," is a psychological comedy that is fresh from Broadway. Lillian Gish, a prominent stage and film actress, played in the leading role for over a year on the New York stage.

The cast for the play is as follows: Mrs. Savage's family; Mrs. Savage—Barbara Bundy, Titus—David Blank, Lilly Belle—Marion Weber, Samuel—Jack Close; the guests at the "cloisters"; Fairy May—Faith Allbough, Hannibal—Mike Jones, Jeffrey—Ronald Salyer, Florence—Kathleen Ott, Mrs. Paddy—Ann Townsend; and the staff at the "cloisters"; Dr. Emmett—John Phelan, Miss Wilhemina—Ann Moe.

The plot revolves around the attempts of Mrs. Savage's family to secure her fortune. Through the craftiness of the guests, however, they do not succeed.

Mr. Harold Hansen is director of the play, and Judy Goehring and David Price are the student directors.

Tickets are on sale from all members of the cast and the directors. Reservations can be made at the Memorial Theater box office May 22 and 23.

TWO FACULTY MEMBERS GO TO MEETING

Miss Callahan and Dr. Agnew attended the second committee meeting on General Education held at Wisconsin State College, River Falls, Saturday, May 17. The conference was under the direction of Dr. Pooley of the Integrated Liberal Studies program at the University. Representatives of several of the state colleges and several of the private colleges in Wisconsin were present. Common problems were discussed, particularly the problem of transferring credits from school to school when general education courses were involved. Sectional sessions discussed problems in particular areas of general education.

MR. PIERCE BREAKS GROUND FOR LIBRARY

Mr. Robert Pierce is pictured above breaking the ground for the new library on second street and ninth avenue. Behind him from left to right are: Dr. Iverson, Dean Antrim, Assemblyman Bakke, Dean Kirk, Miss Froggatt, Senator Owen, Mr. Pierce, Dean Bowman, President Fryklund, Dr. Wigen, and Dean Price.

CEREMONIES HELD FOR GROUND BREAKING

EARTH IS TURNED DURING CEREMONY TO BEGIN THE CONSTRUCTION OF LIBRARY

On the site of the new library at second street and ninth avenue in Menomonie, Wisconsin, the first spadeful of earth was turned to begin construction of the new college library by Mr. R. L. Pierce, President of the Board of Trustees of The Stout Institute, at eleven o'clock Wednesday morning. Speaking at the ground breaking exercises was the Honorable W. E. Owen, member of the Wisconsin Senate of the 29th District, who reminded the audience of students, faculty and friends of the college that this new construction was another part of the fulfillment of the dreams of Senator Stout, founder of the Institute.

Also attending the ceremonies was the Honorable G. H. Bakke, member of the Wisconsin Assembly from Dunn County, who in his speech paid tribute to the late Earl W. Hanson who worked to get the money for the original appropriation and congratulated the members of the assembly for their interest and success in getting the funds for the new library.

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, gave the principal address in which he discussed the purposes of a college library. He spoke of the importance of a good library on a college campus, as the center of scholastic life and outlined the four main functions of a library as follows:

1. It provides a place for study by students and a source for reference materials.
2. It contains technical and special materials for professional faculty advancement.
3. It enables students and faculty to make use of materials for research.
4. It encourages the use of books and periodicals for independent study and enrichment of life.

Dr. Fryklund reviewed the appropriations of the various Wisconsin legislatures which were first made in 1944, when $200,000 was appropriated; in 1947, when the sum was doubled; in 1951, when the fund was boosted to $503,000; and now building costs have raised the amount to $596,622. Here Dr. Fryklund praised the former president of The Stout Institute, Burton E. Nelson, for his early efforts for this new construction.

The present library is now situated in one corner on the first floor of the Home Economics Building and was established there in 1916 as a temporary measure. The overflow of books and magazines has been extended to three other rooms for storage.

The new Stout library will be of brick and steel construction and of the most modern arrangement and will house 80,000 volumes. The front of the building will face second street and will be thirty feet from the curb, 121 feet wide and 128 feet deep; and the north wall will extend to within forty feet of ninth avenue.

At the entrance of the building will be a vestibule. To the right of the lobby will be a memorial room for browsing; circulation desk and card catalogue will be in the rear of the lobby. The main reading and reserve room will accommodate 250 persons and will be to the left of the lobby. The periodical room will face second street. To the rear of the circulation lobby and on the south side of the reading room will be the main book stacks, which will be capable of shelving 45,000 volumes.

In the southwest corner of this stack room will be the librarians' office and workroom. There will be a mezzanine which will contain stacks enough to house 42,750 volumes. Here also will be located a sound-proof typing room and a lounge for the staff.

The textbook library and stacks will be on the ground floor and will provide for approximately 24,000 books. Also on this floor will be four large seminar rooms, a storage and receiving room, an audiovisual room, additional storage space, a textbook exhibit room, a special work room, repair area and typing space. There will also be a building service room and lavatories.

The plans were drawn by Foeller, Schober, Berners, Stafford, and John of Green Bay. The general contractor is the Johnson Construction Company of Winona, Minnesota. It is expected that the construction of the library, furnishing, and installation of equipment will take about a year. The building should be ready for occupancy late in 1953.

Pictured above is Van Cartwright, the senior class president, passing the torch and all that it symbolizes to Robert Asman, the junior class president.

HONOR'S DAY PROGRAM HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

The annual Honor's Day program was held Wednesday, May 21, at 10 o'clock. Dorothy Messerschmidt played the professional, which was a march taken from the opera, Aida.

Following this, and a few words by President Fryklund, the conferring of awards took place. Among the societies, an award of twenty-five dollars was given by Phillis Allman of the Sigma Sigma Sigma to Barbara Clemens; Roy Willmarth of the Delta Kappa presented a subscription to Earl Herring; Bea Anderson of the Pallas Athenes gave a twenty-five dollar award to Mary Detlor; Milton Benner of the F.O.B.'S gave a twenty-five dollar award to Bob Takasaki; Maryann Heimerman of the Hyperians gave an award to Michico Okada; Pat Jensen and Delores Sauvey were presented the Phi Upsilon Omicron of twenty-five dollars by Gerry Erickson; Charles Schiferl received the Epsilon Pi Tau award of twenty-five dollars from John Wilson; Michael Pavlein from the M.A.P. chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, presented a plaque to Beverly Hedlund, and twenty-five dollars to Charles Russell. Beverly Hedlund was given a medical dictionary by Phyllis Horning of the Dietetics Club; Arthur Scheldrup, of the Stout Typographical Society, presented an award to Don Sargent and a honorary membership into S.T.S. to Ellen Russell; Francis Oberpriller presented Gerry Erickson and Donna Krisik the Stoutonia awards of pen and pencil sets; Hazel Nelson received the Tower award from Dennis Foltman; Dick Duthler presented the certificates for members selected to "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges". These are: Beverly Hedlund, Rowena Christen, Patricia Traxler, Rose Grzadzilewski, Bill Banks, Dennis Foltman, John Christianson, Lewis Lausted, Charles Schiferl, and Allen Swan.

Following the presentation of the awards several selections were sung by the women's radio ensemble.

Gerda Ravnhoft presented the senior gift of $150 to be used for the library browsing room to Dick Duthler. Charmaine Chopp then represented the students in a tribute to the graduating class. The faculty and board of trustees was represented by President Fryklund.

This was followed by the traditional passing of the torch. Van Cartwright the senior class president, gave the torch and all that it symbolizes to Robert Asman, the junior class president.

With the singing of the Alma Mater the Honor's Day program came to a close.

TURN IN TEXTBOOKS BEGINNING MAY 23

You may begin turning in your textbooks Friday, May 23. The Textbook library will be open Friday, May 23 from 8:15 to 12:00 and from 1:15 to 4:30; Saturday from 9:00 to 12:00; Monday, May 26 through Wednesday, May 28 from 8:15 to 12:00 and 1:15 to 4:30.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

As the school year draws to a close, it holds many memories for each of us as the bonfire, homecoming, dances, teas, and the prom. All of these events made this year a pleasant one. For most of us, we will be able to enjoy these Stout activities again, but for the seniors, they will be experiencing new activities and situations in their new lives. Good luck to the seniors and we hope to see all of you visiting the campus frequently next year.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

The last Governing Board meeting of the year met at 6:30, May 20.

Committee reports revealed that the program for Freshman Week has been set up. Also, the arrangements for the Homecoming orchestra have been completed.

August Schultz represented the "S" Club in the discussion of a whirlpool. A motion was passed that if the "S" Club would put up a minimum of $200 for the whirlpool, the SSA would contribute a balance of $200, with the provision that the cheerleaders' outfits must be paid for. The money from the "S" Club is a result of the proceeds of this year's carnivals, and the money from the auction Wednesday.

There was discussion on the adoption of ID cards. Action was postponed on this until next year.

The new business began with a discussion on enlarging the Homecoming coronation ceremony. It was proposed that music by the choir and/or orchestra be incorporated into the ceremony.

Along with the idea of music, came the discussion of getting a cover for the piano, under which circumstances it might be refinished by Mr. Soderberg.

This was followed by a discussion of the merits of several TV sets. A motion was passed that members of the Union Committee be authorized to purchase a set.

The next motion authorized one delegate, Dick Duthler, to attend a conference in Canada, Aug. 24-29, for a study of alcoholic problems. The meeting was adjourned.

DELORES DUSEK WINS
DAIRY QUEEN CONTEST

Delores Dusek, a junior at The Stout Institute, has won the Dunn County "Alice in Dairyland" contest. She is 19 years old and lives on a farm near River Falls.

Delores will compete with other area winners in this section's final. Both Menomonie and Eau Claire have asked the sectional to be held in their city.

JEROME SOMMERS IS DANFORTH DELEGATE

The nomination of Jerome Sommers as The Stout Institute delegate to The American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camp, Shelby, Michigan, has been accepted by that organization, Dr. E.R. Oetting, chairman of the Department of Education, announced this week.

The scholarship, offered to students who have actively participated in the social and religious life of the campus, and one who has held the esteem of both faculty and students, covers all expenses for a two-week period from August 11-24. During this time, courses are offered in various leadership and personal enrichment programs based on the needs of the individual.

The camp comprises 300 acres of land fronting on Lake Michigan and on Stony Lake, affording opportunities for sailing, swimming, and other recreational and social activities. Its primary purpose, however, is concerned with leadership training and all-around development of the individual.

The Stout Institute offers its most sincere congratulations to Jerome Sommers on his acceptance by the Foundation.

STUDENT TEACHERS MEET SUPERVISORS

The past week student teachers for next fall have been meeting with their supervisors. The following arrangements were made: the two sections teaching the seventh grade are Gunderman, and Folkestad, Allman and Messerschmidt; the three sections for the eighth grade are Pixley and Bendixon, Bredlow and McClachlan, and Keefer and Naedler. Those teaching the ninth grade city are Kling and Spaulding, Amacher and Magee. Hammerstein and Weber, and Nelson and Soulek are teaching ninth grade rural.

In the senior high school division the tenth grade teachers will be Winslow and Hardies, and Lepien and Chopp. Hauser and Brown, and Roffers and Erickson will teach the eleventh grade. The twelfth grade teachers are Rossmiller and Ebert, and Bohrnstedt and Klaus.

These girls will begin their student teaching the first day of school in the fall.

TENTH GRADERS
PREPARE DINNERS

Thursday, May 15, at 2 p.m., the high school tenth grade home economics class of twenty-five girls concluded their meal management with a dinner entertainment.

Each group planned, prepared, and served a dinner using a special occasion as a theme. May Day, a graduation, an engagement, and birthdays were celebrated. Decorations were in keeping with the themes.

Hostesses of the five groups were Geraldine Leach, Beverly Quaderer, Rose Mary Tardiff, Kate Elseth and Marjorie Schroeder.

Miss Harper, supervising teacher, Miss Martinson and Miss Mitby, student teachers of the class, Miss Higgins and Miss Ziegeweid were the guests.

PICNIC TOGETHER

The Sigma Sigma Sigma and the Alpha Sigma Alpha sororities enjoyed a picnic together at Riverside Tuesday evening, May 20.

The entertainment was provided by the Alpha Sigs and the Tri Sigs were in charge of the food which consisted of hot dogs, potato chips, relishes, and cake.

This joint picnic was an annual affair of the two sororities when they were the SMA and Philo's and is to be continued now under their new names as national organizations.

CHERNAK TEACHES AND COACHES ATHLETES

A. S. Chernak, B.S. '27, has been teaching in his hometown of Manitowoc, Wisconsin since 1937. After graduating from Stout he taught for 10 years at Wadena, Minnesota. Another Stout graduate, Kermit Anderson, took over for him. He has been teaching Industrial Arts and has been coaching athletics in both schools. He was on the famous basketball team when Stout won the state title. He is looking forward to the annual Stout dinner meeting and says he still enjoys the Stoutonia.

STAN KENDALL IS APPOINTED DISTRICT SALES MANAGER

Stan Kendall, M. S. '50, has recently been appointed district sales manager for Delta Power Tools Company. He has charge of the region which is made up of Montana, Idaho, Eastern Washington, Oregon, parts of Wyoming, South Dakota, and North Dakota, with headquarters at Spokane. He formerly was instructor in general woodwork and counseling at Trinity County High School in Weaverville, California.

SUMMER SESSION ENROLLMENT GROWS

The advanced enrollment for the summer session has risen to a total of nearly 300 with additional enrollments coming in daily.

Prospective summer session students who plan to attend and who have not as yet enrolled, would do well to hand in or mail in their enrollment blank as soon as a decision to attend is reached. Enrollment and housing application blanks are enclosed in the back cover of every summer session catalog.

DR. J. STROBEL IS APPOINTED TO NEW POST

An alumnus of The Stout Institute at Menomonie, Wisconsin, Dr. Joseph R. Strobel, has been appointed Assistant U.S. Commissioner of Education for Vocational Education, succeeding Raymond W. Gregory.

Dr. Joseph R. Strobel, now professor of vocational education at Ohio State University at Columbus, received his diploma in industrial education from The Stout Institute in 1923. That same year he began teaching woodwork and drawing in the Cleveland schools. His home had formerly been at Houghton, Michigan.

Later he attended Western Reserve University in Cleveland and received his bachelor of science degree from here in 1932 and his doctor's degree in 1948. His doctoral dissertation was entitled VOCATIONAL TRAINING FOR WAR PRODUCTION WORKERS.

WEIGEL'S OF NEW MEXICO ANNOUNCE ARRIVAL OF A SON

A son, Eugene Glenn Jr., was born Wednesday, May 7, to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Weigel of Silver City, New Mexico. Eugene graduated last June and started working in Silver City in February, 1951. Mrs. Thomas formerly Ruth Mathey of Medford, also graduated from Stout in 1951. Lynn Helen is the Thomas's second child.

CHUCK THOMAS RECEIVES 'ROTO' BEAUTY AWARD

We quote from "Scholastic Roto," a gravure supplement edited and distributed monthly by the National Scholastic Press Association of the University of Minnesota.

"According to cartoonists and comedians, plumbers are forgetful, Scotsman are stingy, and school teachers look forbidding. 'Scholastic Roto' has set out to show that faculty gags are way off the beam. Not only do we think teachers are just about the nations' most important group, but they are good to look at, too". For proof, meet the high school teachers on this page. Extra proof could be found in the difficulties which "Roto" judges found in choosing the most attractive among the more than 200 teachers' pictures submitted by school newspapers all over the nation."

"Chuck", and his wife, Ruth Mathey, graduated from Stout in '51. They reside in Colorado Springs and have two children.

R. SANDIN TEACHES IN TUCSON, ARIZONA

Robert Sandin, B.S. '47, instructor in Tucson High School, Tucson, Arizona, is in charge of instruction in the Vocational Machine Shop. This course explains the skills needed in operating machines of various types. In the course the students construct bolts, nuts, calipers, clamps, hammers, socket wrenches, and paper weights. Among the articles the class has turned out are a gear for a machine at the prison at Mt. Lemnor and a part for the classes milling machine.

After a years' work in the Vocational Machine Shop, students may go directly from school into industrial machine work. Experience is offered on eight different machines — the lathe, drill press, shaper, planer, milling machine, grinder, and contour saw.

It is a good rule to face difficulties at the time they arise and not allow them to increase unacknowledged.

KFS INSTALLED AS A NATIONAL CHAPTER

Saturday evening, May 17th, saw the long anticipated installation of the local Kappa Phi Sigma group as the Omega chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Coupled with the actual installation was a regional conference. The instal- lation ceremonies got underway at 5:30 in the banquet room of the Hotel Marion. This was followed by a beef dinner.

At the completion of the dinner, Ralph Betterley, Omega chapter ad- visor, officiated as toastmaster of the short program. Present and partici- pating in the program were: Francis Bremmer, National Secretary of Phi Sigma Epsilon; Dean C. A. Bowman; Dean M. M. Price; and the main speaker, Dr. Ralph Iverson. Howard Heigel, president of the local group, and Phillip Ruehl, speaking on behalf of the alumni of Omega chapter, also gave short talks.

Guests present were members of chapters at Eau Claire, and Whitewater. Other chapters in Wisconsin are at Milwaukee and Stevens Point.

Phi Sigma Epsilon was founded at the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas, in February, 1910. It was shortly incorporated as a national social fraternity. The installa- tion of Omega marked the growth of P.S.E. to 25 chapter. National head- quarters of the fraternity are main- tained at 606 Union Arcade, Daven- port Iowa.

The local chapters keep in contact with each other and with the national office by means of a newspaper which is published four times a year. This newspaper is distributed free to all chapter and alumni members. All alumni in the old Kappa Phi Sigma may become alumni of P.S.E. by simply sending in their name and current ad- dress to Howard M. Heigel, 205 9th Avenue, Menomonie. There are no dues or fees connected with an alumni membership in Phi Sigma Epsilon.

YWCA HONORS SENIOR MEMBERS AT PICNIC

The YWCA held their picnic Tues- day, May 20, at 5:30 o'clock. This pic- nic was in honor of the senior girls who are and were YWCA members. The usual picnic supper was enjoyed by the girls present. The advisors pro- vided transportation for the picnics to Point Comfort. This was the final meeting of the year but plans are be- ing made now for the Big-Little Sis- ter Tea which will be held September 7 in the Harvey Memorial. Come and bring your Little Sister. The second meeting will be a moonlight hike to Point Comfort, held in conjunction with the other church groups.

The YWCA also held a YWCA go- to-church Sunday on May 18. This event was held at Our Savior's Luth- eran Church. About 15 members at- tended the services.

SMA'S PLAN FOR SENIOR BREAKFAST

The regular weekly meeting of Al- pha Sigma Alpha was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Vera Sal- yer. Plans were made for attending the senior breakfast, church, and later having a luncheon at the Hotel Mar- ion on May 25. After the meeting, the Alpha Sig's presented Miss Hinkley, their advisor, with a gift of rever- ware. A lunch of cake and coffee com- pleted the informal party.

Say it with jewelry,
Say it with drink;
But whatever you do—
Don't say it with ink.

HYP SORORITY HONORS SENIOR MEMBERS

Thursday evening, May 15, the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority honored their graduating seniors with a dinner at the Menomonie Country Club.

The tables were decorated with li- lacs and a large Omega Greek letter.

The Omega Greek letters were also used for the place cards, with each graduate receiving one with a mortar board on the top.

The menu for the occasion consist- ed of fruit cocktail, sirloin steak, twice-baked potatoes, broccoli, fresh vegetable salad, rolls, butter, straw- berry parfait, and coffee.

After the dinner, the new president, Mary Ann Heimmerman, presented each senior with a lovely gold com- pact with "Hyperians" engraved on it. The June graduates are as follows: Hat Homer, Pauline Jaeger, Katie Ziehm, Donna Krisik, Dot Knutson, Louise Neumann, Loree Lange, Dor- othy Hilton, Joan Braun; and the Jan- uary graduates are Betty Kleist and Liz Kasson.

HYP'S HOLD PICNIC AT RIVERSIDE PARK

On Tuesday evening, May 13, the girls of the Eta Sigma Omega Sorority gathered together with their ad- visor, Miss Clara Carrison, for a spring picnic at Riverside Park.

Dot Knutson and Louise Neumann were in charge of the delicious lunch which included grilled hamburgers and buns, pickles, carrot sticks, potato chips, and limeade.

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS PICNIC AT RIVERSIDE

Members of the Newman Club met Sunday afternoon, May 18, at River- side to enjoy their annual spring pic- nic. Everyone participated in a kitten- ball game the major part of the after- noon. At 5:00 a picnic supper of hot dogs, potato chips, baked beans, marshmallows, and pop was served.

Father Molenoar, the club's advisor, was presented with a gift by the club in appreciation for his services and help during the year.
